U. L. Rivers Gospel Choir to Appear at Lyons Chapel Sunday

Many people have talked about them, and many have seen and heard them. If you don't know who they are, they are the well known U.L. Rivers Gospel Choir of Fort Worth, Texas. This group will appear at the Lyons Chapel Baptist Church Sunday afternoon and evening, April 13, at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

This special program is being sponsored by the Senior Choir of Lyons Chapel Baptist Church, Rev. Floyd Perry, Jr., pastor; and the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity of Texas Tech University.

The director of the Fort Worth Choir, U.L. Rivers, and a few members appeared last Sunday afternoon at the New Hope Baptist Church and presented six selections. Mr. Rivers said, "After hearing the young people from Texas Tech (Black Voices), we want them to appear on the program Sunday afternoon."

The U.L. Rivers Gospel Choir is a group of dedicated young people who are dedicated to singing for the Lord. This choir was organized April 25, 1970 in the choir room of the Corinth Missionary Baptist Church of Fort Worth, and was formally presented to the City of Fort Worth in a spectacular gospel musicale the third Sunday in July, 1970, in the John F. Kennedy Theatre of the Tarrant County Convention Center in downtown Fort Worth.

At that particular service, many businessmen, civic leaders as well as ministers and lay persons were in attendance. The acceptance on behalf of the City of Fort Worth was made by Mrs. Bertha Collins, head of the Mayor's Council on Youth Opportunities.

Since the initial service, the U.L. Rivers Gospel Choir has appeared in many services throughout the state of Texas — in churches, schools, rest homes, hospitals, penal institutions and wherever called upon to render services. The group of more than 40 young people has also appeared numerous times on local radio and television programs in the Fort Worth-Dallas metroplex.

In August of 1971, the U.L. Rivers Gospel Choir applied for membership in the Gospel Music Workshop of America, whose founder and president is the Rev. James Cleveland, nationally known gospel songwriter and recording artist. During the same year, the founder-music director of the U.L. Gospel Choir, Mr. U.L. Rivers, was named as a representative for the State of Texas of the Gospel Music Workshop of America.

The motto for the U.L. Rivers Gospel Choir is "Putting God First." This is what the group has done since its existence, not only in Texas, but throughout the United States. Each year the choir leaves Texas, "Putting God First", and travels extensively throughout the eastern part of the United States. This year is no exception as the choir will leave in mid-August for stops in Dayton, Ohio; New York City (the site of the 1975 week-long session of the Gospel Music Workshop of America), and Nashville, Tennessee, where they will be guest of the Johnson Ensemble.

One of their musicians is Paul Sims, Jr., a student at Texas Tech University and member of the track team.

Roscoe G. Adams, president of the Senior Choir at Lyons Chapel, says: "We're going to have a real good time Sunday afternoon and evening, and hope many of our friends will come out to see and hear these fine singers."

Local Undertaker, Leo W. Sedberry, Dies Instantly in Home Here Sunday

Our community was saddened beyond words of expression last Sunday afternoon of the news of the death of Leo W. Sedberry, who was a longtime resident of Lubbock. He came to Lubbock with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Will Sedberry, in the 1920s. Franklin Bartley Funeral Home has prepared the body for services. Leon Melton will be in charge of arrangements and assisted by other funeral homes.

Mr. Sedberry collapsed at his home last Sunday while trying to get to the bed after complaining with a back ache. His sister, Mrs. Maude Hamilton, was present and summoned an ambulance. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

Survivors include three brothers, Almo and Charles of Lubbock and Douglas "Toots" of Houston; two children, Sheldon Leroy and Cynthia Yvette of Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Hamilton of Lubbock and Mrs. C.L. Barnes of Houston; a host of other relatives and many friends.

April 11th Marks 7th Year for HUD

April 11, 1975, marks the seventh-year milestone in the Nation's progress toward fairness and equal housing opportunities through Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968—the law that guarantees equal opportunity for all our citizens. Equal Housing Opportunity is the achievement of a condition in which individuals of similar income levels in the same housing market area have a like range of housing choices available to them regardless of their race, color, religion, national origin, or sex.

You can be helped if because of your race, color, religion, national origin, or sex, any of these things happened:

- You were denied the opportunity to buy or rent a house or apartment.
- You were told a house or an apartment wasn't available when it really was.
- You were offered different terms or conditions of sale or rental than someone else.

The musical theme for the month activity is "One Big Neighborhood."

It doesn't matter where you live or where you work, you have a right to housing in your price

Six persons will be elected to the newly created Community Services Commission Saturday, April 12. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. with the unofficial results being given at approximately 7:30 p.m. in the City Council Chambers at City Hall.

The election will be held in 6 areas of the City that constitute low-income areas according to the latest U.S. Census. Voting places are located in each area (one voting place in each area). Each area will elect one representative to the "Community Service Commission".

Those areas where the elections will be held are as follows: Voting Box 1, George Wood Community Center, Zenith & East Erskine; Voting Box 2, Rogers Community Center, 3200 Amherst; Voting Box 3, Central Fire Station, 1100 6th Street; Voting Box 4, No. 5 Fire Station, 918 Zenith; Voting Box 5, Mae Simmons Community Center, East 26th and Quirt; and Voting Box 6, Harwell Community Center, 107 40th Street. (See the map on page 12 for further instructions.)

Any resident of the area shown on the map may vote in this election if he or she is 18 years of age or older. You must vote in the area you live in. You will be asked to show identification with your address on it.

Persons voting are asked to bring some identification that will show your name and address. Such as your driver's license, voter registration or tax statement.

The ballot will show the names of the people who want to be elected to represent you. Make a mark by the name of the person you want to vote for or somehow tell of your choice. If you don't want to vote for persons listed on the ballot, you can "write-in the name of your choice."

Election judges and clerks for each area will be residents of the area.

According to an official, the person receiving the most votes will be elected as representative for his area. In the event of a tie, the selection shall be made by the casting of lots.

Twelve persons from the public and private sector have already been placed on the new board.

East 24th Street Overpass is Getting Worse

It has been mentioned many times in this newspaper how bad the condition on the East 24th Street overpass is becoming. It appears as though no one at City Hall gives a darn if the thing is taken care of or not. We, at the Times, are concerned about this situation as well as the entire city of Lubbock. But it seems as if the city is not concerned about this drastic situation in east Lubbock.

We've traveled over that overpass many times, and each time it becomes more scary than the last. The way the holes are developing, and the asphalt sagging, it's a wonder that someone hasn't had a major accident. It's a wonder the darn thing hasn't fallen down, as it appears to be, when it rumbles as cars are going over it.

East Lubbock has so many problems that it's hard to place priorities on any one thing. It is safe to say that this public transportation artery needs to be repaired so we can all feel safe when driving to church, work or school each God given day.

The West Texas Times is not only concerned about east Lubbock, but we are concerned about any area of the community where we feel as though taxpayers aren't being given the proper services they deserve. Although this is not an election year, we still believe that the lives of people are important, regardless of the socio-economic background.

We can remember in the late 1960's when a young lady lost her life at the corner of East 28th and Redbud Avenue, because there was no stop sign. After the young lady's life was taken by a speeding car, the city felt it necessary to place a stop sign in this area, across from Wheatley Elementary School.

We've written several articles to serve as preventive medicine in regard to the overpass on East 24th Street. We feel as though the City Council of Lubbock should instruct the City Manager to look into this matter and see what has to be done to make it safe for all citizens of Lubbock.

We Say Thank You Dunbar High Student Council

We would like to say thank you, Dunbar High School Student Council for working real hard to become the "Friendliest School in Town". This has been made known by an appreciation certificate to be presented to all substitute school teachers who fill the place of an absent teacher for a day or days.

It is always good to see young people who are willing to share their thoughtfulness with others. In a time when there is much turmoil throughout America, it is quite refreshing to see the students at the Maroon and White get involved to show how much they appreciate those who are willing to give their talent and knowledge for just a little while—the substitute teacher.

We are proud of all the high schools in the city of Lubbock, and hope that all of them, too, will become the friendliest schools in town. We appreciate our young people and are willing to work with them in any way possible.

Again, Dunbar High School Student Council, "thank you" for a job well done. Your leadership has inspired your entire student body. This is good for Dunbar, the Lubbock Independent School District and the entire City of Lubbock.

As I See It

by T.J. Patterson

It is refreshing to see that there are other people somewhere in America who think the same way you do. This was the case after hearing a well known professional politician speak last Sunday evening at the University Center on the campus of Texas Tech University. The man was Julian Bond, Georgia State Senator. He made a lot of sense as he told the black community, as well as other communities, where he thought we were.

This writer, by no means, is claiming to have the intellectual ability of a Julian Bond. What I'm saying is that what Brother Bond is talking about is seen from week to week on the editorial page of this newspaper. As we've said, as black people we are going to have to understand the political and economical situation of our community if we are going to get ahead.

In his forty-five minute speech last Sunday evening, concluding the week-long activities of Black Week on the campus of Texas Tech University, Brother Bond made it clear that there has to be some suffering if you're going to get ahead in your community.

He told the audience last Sunday evening that if you're not involved in the political situation in your community, you won't get any of the action. What he's saying is that if you don't vote and let those persons know what you want from them, you're in a world of trouble. It is good to note that he says the "by any means necessary" is still appropriate in this country.

The Student Organization for Black Unity (SOBU) is to be congratulated for a splendid job this year in assembling a fine program. Not only was the efforts of Julian Bond tremendous, but everyone who participated made the program a success this year. It is a must that this writer thank the Estacado High School group, the Black Muslims, Dr. William Shockley of Stanford University and Dr. Richard Goldsby of Yale University for their efforts. As well as Harold M. Chatman of the East Lubbock Business Association, the Black Poets, James McCormick and Eric Strong; the Royal Temps and Cold Fire, Black Voices and the Lubbock Federation of Choirs for helping these young people in their effort.

If SOBU starts working today, next year's program will also be another success. The special Black Week committee, Leonard Childress; Chairman, Chris Thomas, Tommy Gregory, Kalifea McGowan, Brenda Thornton, and Richard Lewis; has the experience to move forward again next year.

As Sen. Julian Bond asked the question: "Am I A Man..." Surely, programs as the one last week will make men out of some of us.

It was quite interesting to note that the "Honorary Citizenship" for Julian Bond, was not presented to him by the mayor or a member of the Lubbock City Council. Although Dr. Vivian Davis did a splendid job in filling in place of these elected officials, someone from the elected branch of city government should have been present.

Perhaps if city councilmen were elected from districts, someone would be out to welcome such distinguished men as Senator Bond. At least it's worth thinking about. Don't you agree? State Sen. Bond understood what was happening because he told me.

No matter what city one may live in, there are always some problems. It is good, however, to know that there are persons who are willing to do something to overcome those problems. A recent visit to my hometown, Wichita Falls, last week revealed some more problems of the place where I was reared.

Despite all the problems, it was good to see two of my dearest friends, Mrs. Bana Sue Christian and Mrs. Johnnie Mae Reece (sisters and subscribers to the West Texas Times) contribute their time to work with college students at Midwestern University. These sisters fed and dined these young fellows last Friday evening at their home.

The persons being fed and dined were the members of the Midwestern University Indians Basketball team. They did a splendid job and the sisters wanted to show their concern for what they are doing. Brother Robert Green, a neighbor, applauded them as this writer did. As I See It, it was a beautiful thing.

It is good to know that my former president of Bishop College, Dr. Milton K. Curry, has been elected as president of the United Negro College Fund. He will do a splendid job and UNCF can be proud to have a man of his caliber.

Dr. Curry is a busy man and has done a great deal for the UNCF. He's quite concerned about the educational opportunities for students in higher education. He will, without any doubt, contribute to this cause.

As a 1958 graduate of Bishop College, I'm happy to know of his new accomplishments. Good luck, Dr. Curry.

This writer had an opportunity to visit briefly with Jimmy Walker, the irrepressible J.J. of Good Times television fame, last Sunday afternoon at the Lubbock Regional Airport. A very interesting young man who is concerned about traveling around the country talking to young people on college campuses.

Jimmy tells me that he has just completed a movie recently and it should be out in the very near future. Keep looking for it, he says you'll dig where he's coming from. Like he says: "It's dynamite!!!" Why not check it out.

and Chile's Pinochet, for example. The U.S. image in Latin America, meanwhile, continues to deteriorate.

None of these problems are the fault of Congress. Indeed, all of them can be laid squarely on the White House doorstep.

Foreign Flavor: The Bicentennial celebration, ironically, is taking on a distinctly foreign flavor.

The French, for example, are planning a "sound and light" spectacle at George Washington's Mount Vernon home. And the Paris Opera will make a special tour of the United States.

The Italian government will be sending over the renowned LaScala Opera Company from Milan. Italy, Norway and Holland will also participate in "Operation Sail," a plan which calls for 25 to 30 large sailing ships to visit East Coast ports.

Japan is donating $5 million worth of dwarf bonsai trees to the National Arboretum in Washington, and Russia's Bolshoi Opera and Ballet companies will tour America later this year.

Overseas, also, the Bicentennial is receiving a lot of attention. A special American history exhibit will be presented in Warsaw. The German news magazine Der Spiegel is planning a 15 part series about our 200th birthday.

And finally, millions of American television viewers are being treated each evening to brief glimpses of U.S. history. The shows are sponsored by the Dutch owned Shell Oil Company.

Four More Years? The political pros are wondering whether President Ford is serious about seeking re-election. So far, he hasn't lifted a finger to form a campaign organization or to raise campaign funds.

This is strange behavior for a President who hopes to stay in the White House. His predecessors were scarcely settled in the White House before they began making preparations for the reelection campaign.

It would weaken Ford's authority, of course, if the word got out that he intended to be no more than a caretaker President. With this in mind, we checked our White House sources to find out whether he was bluffing when he announced his intentions to run in 1976.

These sources report that the President, in fact, has started laying plans for his 1976 campaign. He is putting together a braintrust, which will plan campaign strategy. As fast as the strategy is worked out, the President will select people to implement it.

He is also looking for a campaign manager who will take full charge of the re-election campaign. The President favors Rogers C.B. Morton, recently named Secretary of Commerce, for the job if his health will permit it.

Spook Scoop: The embattled CIA, which is trying hard to make friends on Capitol Hill, recently invited 17 freshman congressmen to their agency headquarters for a tour. They began with breakfast in the "Rendezvous Room". . . . The various committees and commissions investigating the CIA will take a close look at the agency's attempt to salvage a Russian submarine with equipment built by the reclusive billionaire Howard Hughes. The investigators, we are told, may subpoena Hughes as a witness. . . . Two decades ago, the CIA made an exhaustive study of flying saucers and concluded that the UFO's which had been sighted posed "no direct threat to national security...."

LOOKING FOR A SCAPEGOAT
by Jack Anderson

(From United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington—All at once, events are overtaking the United States. From the Middle East to Southeast Asia, U.S. foreign policy seems to be collapsing.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's peace efforts in the Middle East have broken down. South Vietnam and Cambodia, two of our most favorite allies, are losing to the Communists. Thailand and the Philippines are threatening to kick us out of our bases.

In Europe, the Communists are tightening their grip on Portugal, formerly a staunch ally. Spain is in danger of a Communist coup. Both Greece and Turkey are threatening to close vital U.S. bases.

In South America, the governments are scrambling to get on better terms with Fidel Castro. Only the hated military dictatorships continue to embrace the United States.

These events have already led President Ford to order a quiet reappraisal of American foreign policy. He has asked Kissinger to re-evaluate America's international role, to consider whether U.S. power is stretched too thin and to determine how the United States can better exert influences on world events in the 1970s.

Meanwhile, the President and Secretary of State are making a mighty effort to blame Congress for America's foreign policy failures.

The charges simply are not true. The White House is casting about for a scapegoat, and the lumbering, contentious assembly on Capitol Hill makes a convenient one.

Take a look at the record:
—Greece has pulled its troops out of NATO and is today a hotbed of anti-Americanism. Why? Because for seven years, the Executive Branch cuddled up to the colonels in Athens and became identified with them. Washington remained mute while the military dictatorship inspired a coup on Cyprus, and stood by again when the Turks invaded the island.

—In Portugal, a military coup by conservative officers threw Kissinger into a panic. Our ambassador in Lisbon reported back that Portugal was far from lost. He recommended that Washington support the new regime. But some prominent, retired Americans living in Portugal told Kissinger privately that Lisbon was surely going Communist. And that, apparently, was what the secretary preferred to hear. To this day, U.S. support for the new leaders has been minimal. While America dawdles, Portugal is tilting more and more leftward.

—The Latin American nations are rapidly tiring of Washington's "Big Daddy" approach to their affairs. They are showing a new spirit of independence. They need U.S. support and understanding. But the United States continues to prop up the bad guys—Nicaragua's Somoza

House Burglary

Terry Borens, 510 East 28th Street, was a mad brother one day last week when he learned that someone unknown ripped him off. He told Lubbock police that persons had opened his window to his apartment and reached inside to unlock the door for entrance.

The only thing missing from the apartment was a white purse which contained approximately $60 worth of medication and several credit cards.

House Burglary

Letha Buregess, 1810 East 2nd Street, reported to Lubbock police that someone gained entry to her house while she was away one day last week. Entry was apparently gained through a bedroom window.

Although there was nothing missing in the house, the unknown persons left the house in a down home mess. All the drawers to the dressers were completely ransacked.

Perhaps what makes people like Letha Burgess madder than anything is when some unknown person enters ones house and didn't bother to take anything, but leaves the house in a bad scene.

Theft of Drivers License

If you think this column is jiving, check out this theft last week to Chestine Collier, 2728 East 29th Street. She reported to Lubbock police that someone took her driver's license without her permission.

A very mad sister, she told police that she would file charges as soon as possible (wonder when that will be). She does, however, have a suspect in the theft of her license. She claims, according to the police report, that a relative took the license.

House Burglary

Ruby Henderson, 2716 East Baylor Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that while she was at work and her children at school one day last week, someone came into her house without her permission.

It is believed that the entry was gained through the front door as it appeared to have been tampered with.

Taken from the house was a television set valued at

Car Burglary

Shirley Bradley, 3007 East 3rd Place, reported to Lubbock police that someone burglarized her car one evening last week. Entry was apparently gained on the passenger's side by use of a coat hanger.

Taken from the car was a $37.66 8-track tape deck. The antenna was also broken off the car and the seat was damaged. This damage figured to $35.

Mrs. Mary Johns left last Friday afternoon via bus for her home in Arkadelphia, Arkansas to the bedside of her sister, Lillie, who was a patient at a local hospital there. She is reported much improved and has been released and is at home. Mrs. Johns will return this weekend if all continues to go well.

approximately $125. She also told police that one of her children's bicycles was missing several weeks ago. This bike cost approximately $125.

It looks as though unknown persons are ripping the Henderson home off in intervals of $125.

House Burglary

Luella Hall, 1804 East 2nd Street, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown gained entry to her house one day last week by sliding back her glass doors.

Taken from the house were several items, including a 19 inch television set, a .22 caliber pistol, three packages of steak (approximately $6.00 worth); and four cans of cold beer.

These items were valued at approximately $246.

Homemaker Health Aides Program Scheduled to Begin Here April 21st

A Manpower Training Program for homemaker health aides will begin April 21 at the Lubbock Adult Learning Center, 2013 13th St. Instruction for the new program will extend to May 16.

The course is scheduled for six hours of instruction per day, Mondays through Fridays, for a total of 120 hours. It is designed for adults 18 years of age or older who are unemployed or underemployed and who desire employment in homemaker-health aide work.

Qualified applicants will receive training allowances of $2.10 per hour under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. Applications will be taken at the Adult Learning Center from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., April 15 through April 17.

The course is an outgrowth of research by the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA, which determined that such a program would serve the dual purpose of training persons to make them employable or to improve their employment status, and to fill the need of furnishing trained personnel for homemaker as well as health care for the aged and ill.

The Texas Employment Commission and Manpower Training Services will provide job placement for trainees who successfully complete the program, according to Harvy Owen, coordinator of adult education for the public schools.

Persons desiring additional information may call 765-9338.

Mr. J.H. Wilson was rushed to Methodist Hospital last Thursday evening after having a seizure of convulsions at his home. His vital signs are reported stable, but tests are still being made to determine the cause.

Sports of The Times

by Joe Kelly

This is the season of the year, as has been written before, when the sports fan really doesn't know whether it is winter still, or spring. Not from a temperature standpoint, but from the great overlap in sports.

The college basketball season is over, but the pros are about to go into playoffs, as are hockey teams. They view, in person and on the tube, with the baseball season, track and, yes, football. You certainly have a wide choice.

As usual, the baseball season is underway and the number of postponements because of cold, rain and even snow are to be with us for two or three weeks.

And, before it is too late, let me hasten to join the "experts" in picking the division winners: Oakland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, with Oakland beating Baltimore and Cincinnati beating Pittsburgh. That prevents an all-West Coast World Series.

As Joe Garagiola showed on his special Sunday, there are several teams with a good chance to win, teams like the Rangers, the Yankees, the Pirates or Mets and the Cardinals.

The intangibles are the puzzling thing. You never know about injuries, sore arms, batting slumps, errors by the usually reliable, mental attitude, clubhouse feuds. They all play a part, so you stick your neck out and you're stuck with a choice.

Ran into Charley Richards at Levelland Friday. He's publishing a fine paper, things are looking up and he's happy. We had coffee together and I enjoyed talking sports with him.

Charles, of course, was a UPI sports reporter in New York and two interesting stories fascinated me. One had to do with union control over activities of reporters. The other concerned a feature he did on Arnold Palmer, at the latter's home in Latrobe, Pa.

Also, the other day I stopped for gas at a station in Tahoka. I had been in two or three times before, once when the owner became a member of NFIB. I like to trade with our members when I can, of course.

After talking with him briefly, he looked at me and said that I looked familiar and he'd been puzzling about it. Had I covered any fights (boxing) back in the 40s?

I said that I had and his face lit up. I thought so, he opined. I used to do a lot of boxing in the late 30s and early 40s, then turned to refereeing bouts. Maybe I remembered?

I did indeed. G.W. White was a pretty well known name, both in the ring as a boxer and as an official. He was one of the men who encouraged the fight game and took an active part in it.

We talked about the sad shape of boxing today and then he made a statement that could have been copied directly from Bill Henderson.

G.W. said that the best thing that happened to him was when he had turned down a chance to turn pro.

"I saw too often what happened," he declared. "They exploit you and the boxer generally winds up broke. And if they don't think you're a real contender, they forget about you."

Bill Henderson was a better than average featherweight, but he went up to New York with the late J.D. Kirkpatrick, in the then world light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich's camp.

The managers and handlers thought that J.D. was a possible champion. As a result, Bill was largely ignored and, after a few prelims and other fights, he saw the light and came home. J.D. stayed a while longer and then he also left.

Sorry about spelling John Wooden's name as "Woodin" in last week's column. Knew better, but an old fraternity brother's name was substituted for some reason or another.

Anyway, John closed out his career as expected, with a victory over Kentucky. And anyone watching the game knows that the old fox simply outcoached Joe Hall. It was a fitting climax to a great career, with a great game.

Unfortunately, I didn't get a chance to see the Tech scrimmage Saturday, but I talked with a couple of knowledgeable men in church Sunday and they were enthusiastic.

"Oh, they made a lot of mistakes," one said, "but they had a lot of enthusiasm and they hit hard. And I'll say one thing" — with a broad smile — "we're going to have some offense this year. I liked what I saw."

Although Steve Sloan was a quarterback, he played for a hard-nosed man, Bear Bryant, and much of it is bound to have rubbed off. Bear was a no-nonsense man. He wanted his teams to hit and keep hitting. Over the years, this has been a trade mark.

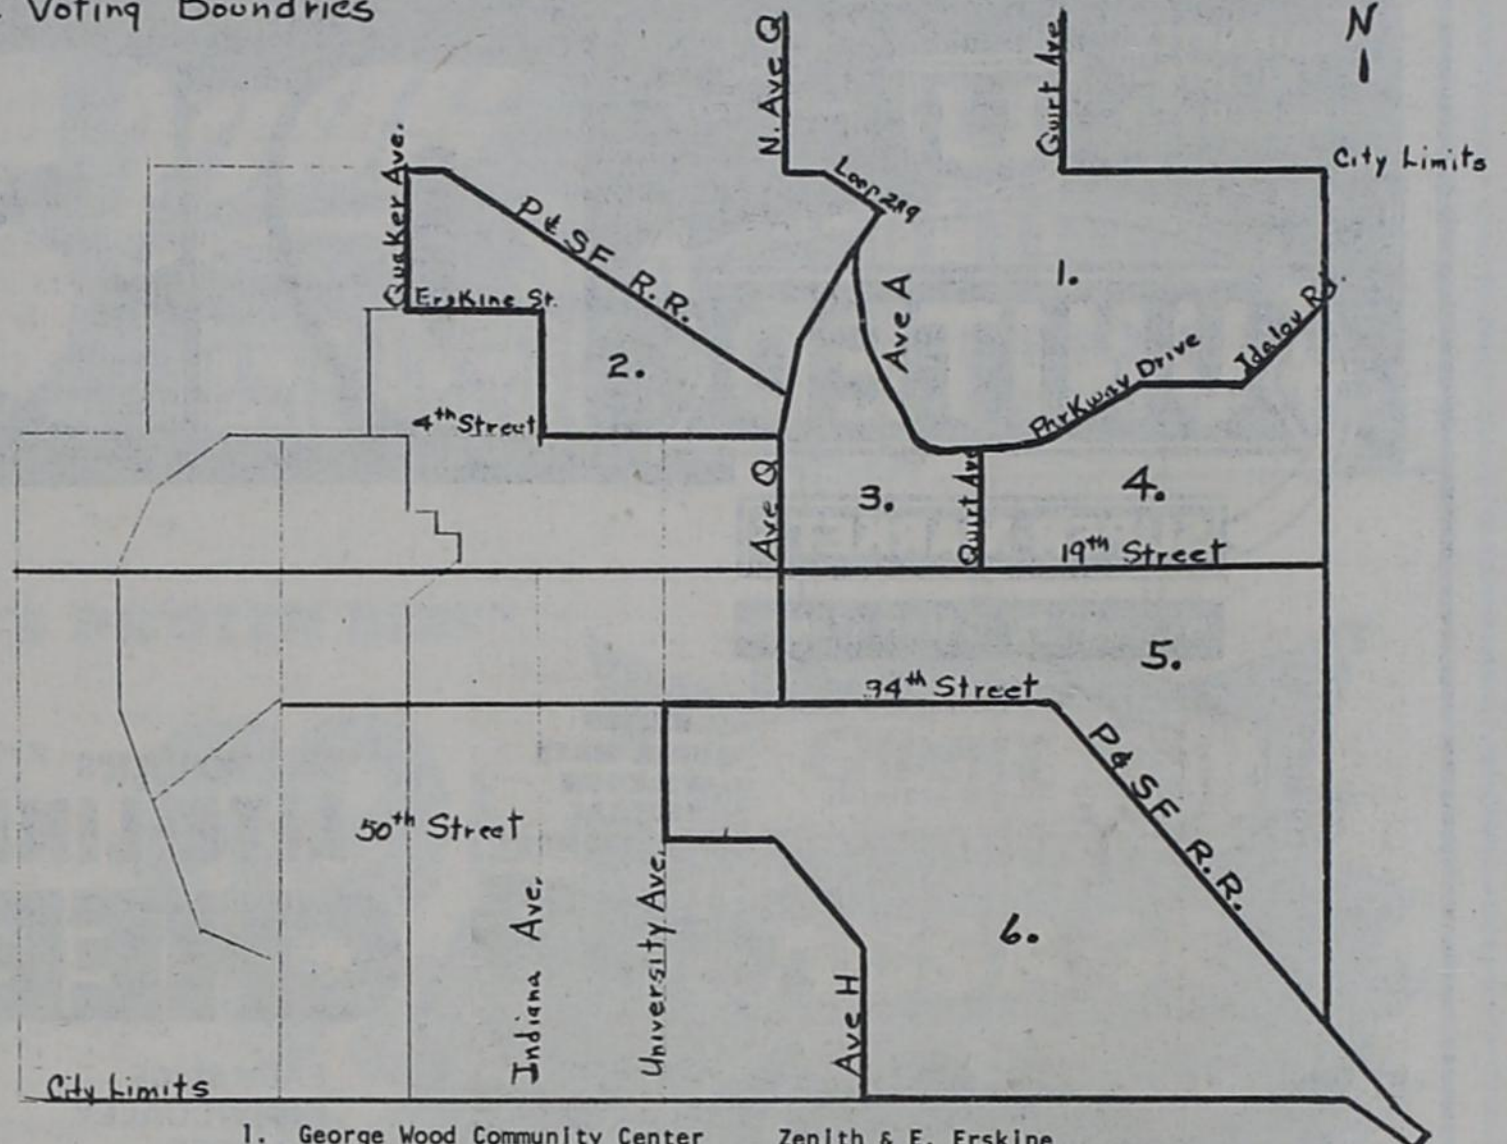

I remember well his first year at A&M. Tech beat the aggies, in College Station, something like 40-9, and made it look easy. After the game, Bud Sherrod told me "I'll bet you right now that no one else beats them that badly." And no one did.

It took time, but Bear's Aggie teams came of age and really rolled. I wasn't fortunate enough to be at the Junction camp that Bear conducted prior to his first campaign, but it was rough and the casualties ran high. Many players quit.

They tell the story about one reporter going into Jones Ramsey's tent about 5:30 p.m. and asking, "Say, Jones, has anybody else quit the squad?"

The brilliant SID's quick quip was: "I don't know. I haven't checked with Coach Bryant in the last five minutes!"

Lubbock Transit Announces New Service for South Avenue H Area

Lubbock Transit announced last week that service has begun in the South Avenue H area. The new route, Number 6, South Avenue H-Lyndale, will go from downtown south on Ave. H to 38th Street where it will turn east to Ave. D. The route then turns south on D all the way to 56th Street. It runs to Avenue A to the Circle to Ave. Q to 58th Street, where it turns east back to Avenue D. The run returns to downtown over the same route.

Service will be provided every thirty minutes, Monday through Saturday. The first bus will leave downtown at 6:17 a.m. and the last bus at 6:17 p.m.

This new service will enable a number of people to utilize transit who haven't been able to in the past. Although the route goes through predominantly residential areas, many commercial and industrial businesses will also be served. Areas in addition to the Avenue H merchants include the State Welfare Office, Harwell School, and the Tahoka Traffic Circle.

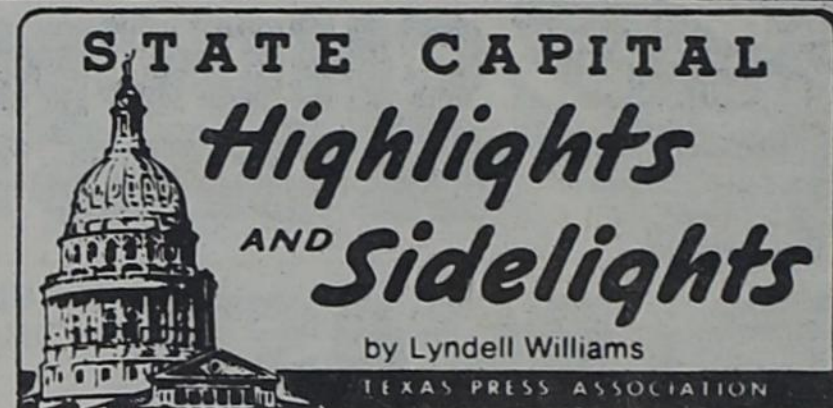

General Manager, Ernie Prenevost, announced that special fares for the elderly and handicapped are available for those who qualify and the Thrifty Two-Fifty weekly pass is still in use.

Austin—The great debate on school finance reform is shaping up in the House and Senate.

Major legislation to restructure education funding formulas has been heard before committees in both houses and is now being altered by sub-committees to meet revenue on hand and varying viewpoints of lawmakers and educators.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's weighted pupil plan would cost an estimated $744 million in additional state revenue and $1.033 billion in local contributions.

The Texas State Teachers Association plan would require some $2.2 billion in additional state money and $520 million in local funds.

Dr. Richard Hooker, Briscoe's education consultant, acknowledges 550 districts would have to increase ad valorem taxes to meet their "fair share" of school program costs under the governor's plan (HB 1083 and SB 478).

However, Hooker notes, those districts contain only 14 per cent of the state's population, and he contends these districts have an option as to whether they will produce their "Fair share."

TSTA Executive Secretary Callie Smith maintains HB 1083 would mandate minimum accreditation standards and teacher salaries, and 500 to 600 districts would have no choice but to increase taxes.

Rep. W.S. "Bill" Heatly of Paducah sent constituents in his district a detailed breakdown on how the Governor's bill would affect local taxes, and said he would oppose it.

Big county school officials generally supported the Briscoe bill at the Senate committee hearing, and claimed it should provide even more money per pupil.

Teachers jammed the Senate chamber in support of their bill—and a $10,000 a year starting pay scale.

Tax Warnings Issued

Comptroller Bob Bullock issued warnings that a record state tax bill ranging from $320 million to more than $2 billion seems inevitable for 1977 if lawmakers continue their spending ways.

House Speaker Bill Clayton urged his appropriations advisors to cut spending recommendations below Legislative Budget Board recommendations.

Merger Approved

The Senate approved merger of the Texas Highway Department and Mass Transportation Commission into a new State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Senators temporarily balked, however, at taking nearly $100 million in auto sales tax revenues during the next two years for a Public Transportation Fund to help finance mass transit projects and planning.

The Great American Experience: A San Angelo bellringer, Mrs. L.B., wrote recently: "It seems a long time since you have been in our town and here is hoping that you will soon pay a visit. There is much going on and a lot to write about. Suppose you saw in the papers where some of President Ford's top men in the energy administration are saying that Americans will be paying 75 cents a gallon for gas this summer? "If that is true, guess I'll put off that vacation trip, my little family had planned for this summer and wait until the prices go down some more, even tho there are reports oil is running out of our ears in this country already. The Southwest and a large portion of our nation, have built their economy on the broad availability of cheap fuel. And in West Texas, low priced gasoline opened the way for our great industrial expansion we have enjoyed the past few years. Just thing what affect 75 cents per gallon gas will have on us working stiffs in the Permian Basin, 5 any of whom have to drive hundreds of miles weekly to and from work. The 70 million motorists in this country should pull President Ford's coattail and hope he does something to see that it doesn't happen."

And in Washington, D.C., U.S. Congressman A. Hawkins, a black political and civic leader writes: "The phony oil boycott last winter doubled and tripled costs of oil products, and the cost of goods requiring oil as a source of energy for their production. So did oil profits skyrocket. Utility bills were so high for many poor and black consumers, that hard hit homeowners began selling their homes in order to cut spiraling costs.

"We need to explore for other sources of energy which are now available and would be cheaper, nonpolluting, and capable of lessening our need for foreign energy resources. No American corporation has the right to continue 'business as usual' when the very life of this nation is at stake", concludes the Congressman in the black oriented Eagle newspaper.

In the meantime widespread protest over the rising cost of electricity and natural gas is being reported from over the nation, reports The Tulia Herald. Several moves are underway to seek to have the "fuel cost adjustment" ruled unconstitutional and in the meantime reports circulate that a number of utility companies in the country are nearly broke.

In Dallas recently, we found the hottest issue to be the city council races. Ranking close was the issue of state regulation of utilities versus local regulation. There can be no doubt that the average Joe in Texas is worried to death over regular increasing prices in the utility field and some authorities state that "increases" will be the pattern for sometime to come. In the meantime, we predict "utility stamps" will be the "thing" for low income folks in the days to come. Got a gas stamp brother? My house is cold. Until later, Peace.

BSA Sees Active Summer

It will be a busy summer for members of the Boy Scouts of America in the South Plains Council who will be holding family picnics, going to Summer Camp and to high adventure bases.

More than eighty Scout troops and Explorer posts with over three hundred members will be attending Camp Post and Camp Tres Ritos, the summer training camps of the South Plains Council, BSA, located by Post, Texas and in the Carson National Forest, New Mexico. The Scouts and Explorers from this area will take part in canoeing, rifle range practice archery, forestry, conservation work, hiking, and survival skills, according to Jack Baker, Council President.

In addition, high-adventure program will be the features of summer travel by over ninety boys and young men who will attend Philmont Scout Ranch, located in northern New Mexico, and the Charles L. Sommers Wilderness Canoe Base by Ely, Minnesota.

Cub Scouts, 8, 9, and 10 year old boys, will be taking part in many types of outdoor activities with their families. One of the highlights will be the Cub Day Camp held one day during June, July, and August, at Camp Post. Also, the Lad and Dad overnight camp out at Camp Post will be held for the older Cub Scouts and their dads.

"The South Plains Council has many wholesome activities designed for every age and interest," Baker said.

Smart people don't do all the talking.

Ma Jones Missionary Society Sponsors Fete Last Monday Evening at Bethel

Last Monday evening, the "Ma Jones" Missionary Society of Bethel A.M.E. Church sponsored a "Penny Ante" contest rally to enlarge their finance status. Mrs. A.W. Wilson was crowned "The Penny Ante Queen" for raising the largest amount of money.

First runner-up was Mrs. C.E. Fair; second and third place was Mrs. M.E. McGowen. Mrs. Mable Carter and Mrs. Charlie Mae Johnson made contributions to this effort.

Mrs. M.E. McGowen made the presentation to the queen and also surprised the newly crowned queen with a delicious pound cake which was served to the group.

A special donation was given by Mrs M. Terrell in memory of the late Mrs. Estell Pierce.

The effort was of short duration, but quite a success with proceeds more than $50. The few ladies are doing a nice job and are enjoying their work. This organization does need more workers. The president of the organization, Mrs. Fair says: "Think about it, ladies."

Mrs. A.W. Wilson is teacher and Mrs. L.M. Knowles is secretary. Rev. A.W. Wilson, pastor.

natural energy HOME

CLEAN ENERGY FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses, natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource . . . natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.

The certificate states: "We'd like to welcome you to the friendliest school in town: Dunbar High School. We hope your day or days as a substitute here will be enjoyable and filled with pleasantness." Signed the Dunbar Student Council.

In Loving Memory of Our Dear Sister and Mother

A year ago today, April 10, 1974, your earthly house gave away to decay. The old roof began to leak and it became irreparable and unfit to house your soul any longer, and our Heavenly Father, who is always watching over us, was concerned. He remembered your soul had another building, not made with hands, and He sent the death angel to walk you home.

We miss you so much and thank God for the years we were together. We are not grieving for you, but just waiting when we will all be together again, and there will be no more. We'll say "Good Morning" up there where Christ is the Light. "Good Morning" up there where cometh no night. Just keep watching and waiting. We're on our way.

In Fond Memory,
Mrs. Maunita Terrell, Mrs. Ruby Jay,
Mr. Freddie Simmons and wife and family.

A.G. Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill held the Texas Constitution permits a statute providing for abolition of county school superintendent's offices on a local option basis.

In the same opinion, Hill said a school superintendent may not resign his position and terminate the operation of his office.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- A bill providing for cancellation of Texas Opportunity Plan Loans of students who work for certain state agencies after getting doctorate degrees in medicine or psychology is constitutional.

- Welfare Department files on child abuse investigations are not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.
