Middle School Concept Planned For WJHS

"We are starting something different next fall," Bob Graves, principal at Watson Junior High said at the public meeting held Tuesday night at the high school cafeteria. "We are planning a 'Middle School Concept'."

Following a five minute video, Graves stated that the teachers have been planning for the past five or six weeks. They have been visiting schools around the state and even a few in New Mexico. "We are enthused, all of these schools have a positive attitude," Graves continued.

"You ask, what is the difference in a junior high and a 'Middle School'? A junior high operates like a small high school. Sixth graders come into junior high and it takes a while for some of them to adjust.

A middle school is a school for a student who is changing from childhood to adolescence. They need something special. They are at a unique period in life and only a unique school will meet their needs while providing the transitional structure from elementary school to high school. Evidence from medical science show that students in six, seven and eight grades are passing through a very critical period in their lives. The change from childhood to adolescence is a tremendously important and difficult time. "We weren't doing too bad, but we weren't satisfied with the progress we were making, so we began looking for ways to improve. To improve the students achievement, we will be implementing academic teaming as a response to the needs of

Men Who Beat Their Wives

What kind of person beats up his wife? Are they naturally cruel people? Is this behavior learned? These are hard questions. The batterer rarely admits to having a problem much less being cruel. To most people he is a nice guy. The wife-beater can come from any walk of life.

The batterer often feels helpless, fearful, inadequate and insecure. He is normally angry with himself about his life. He may think he is a loser so beating his wife is one way to appear to be a winner. He thinks even though he can't control things around him, he will control his wife! Violence is usually a response to the stress in a person's personal life.

The practiced batterer knows how to aim his blows in places that will not show. I've heard of wives/partners being beaten for breaking the egg yolk while cooking, for not giving him the first piece of dessert, cooking a dish he didn't like, for something someone on the job did to him, and wearing her hair in a pony tail.

Battering husbands often have been battered children or witnessed violence between their parents as young children. Some think it is mainly the lower-class families who experience family violence. They may have fewer resources and less privacy, and are more apt to contact public agencies who compile statistics.

Some feel alcohol is the problem. It may be a factor, but not the problem. A person, who is potentially violent, can drink with the sole purpose of laying the blame for his actions on alcohol. The family and society will have the tendency to believe that the intoxicated person is not fully responsible for their behavior. Stopping the drinking will not stop the violence. Anything can release the trigger of violence in a batterer. It can be alcohol, a baby's cry, a bad day at work or a dog barking.

A batterer usually has a possessive view of things.

especially his wife. There's normally a male-dominated family system in operation.

Seldom does a batterer seek help without some type of mandate to do so. One of the best ways is for charges to be pressed and counseling be made mandatory for a lengthy period. The good news is that there is help available! (Some of the above came from a book "Battered Wives" by Del Martin.)

Gramm Announces Loans

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has announced that small businesses and agricultural co-ops in 24 Texas counties are eligible to apply for low-interest loans to help recover from agriculture damages.

The closing date for loan applications is December 10, 1992. The program covers small business and small agricultural co-ops which are without credit elsewhere. The interest rate available is 4 percent with a maximum of 30 years allowed for repayment.

The Small Business Administration provides these loans to small businesses which have sustained substantial economic injury resulting from natural disasters.

The 24 counties are Bailey, Baylor, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Foard, Gaines, Garza, Haskell, Hockley, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lamb, Motley, Parmer, Shackelford, Stonewall, Terry, Throckmorton and Yoakum.

New Drug Treats Hyperplasia

A drug to treat benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH), a disease that causes enlargement of the prostate gland and disrupts urination, is being tested by researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

The experimental drug changes the metabolism of the male hormone, testosterone, and shrinks the enlarged prostate, says Dr. Dov Kadmon, an associate professor of urology at Baylor and the study's principal investigator.

"One out of four men past age 50 experience BPH," Kadmon said. "We hope that prolonged treatment with this medication will reduce the number of people who need prostate surgery."

Volunteers are sought for the four-year, multi-center study.

Males ages 50 to 75 who urinate frequently, have difficulty urinating, or who have trouble delaying urination are needed for the study.

For more information, call 713-798-6354, 12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

ENMU Summer Music Programs

Eastern New Mexico University is tuning up its summer music programs. Beginning in July, the School of Music will offer students summer string, choir and band camps.

The ENMU Summer Strings Camp will be held on campus July 5-10. This will be the second annual Summer Strings Camp to be held at ENMU, however, this year the format will be slightly different.

This summer, instead of just senior high school students, participants of all ages are invited to attend. In additions to small chamber ensembles, there will be an orchestra.

Private lessons, group coaching and large ensemble participation will be available. Group workshop topics to be offered will include "Preparing for an Audition," "How to Rehearse in a Small Ensemble," and "Practice Tips for All Ages."

Teachers this summer will include Dr. Lynn F. Ledbetter, violin and viola; Robert A. Radmer, violin, viola, cello and bass; Walter B. Osadchuk, cello; and Dee Ann Cason, violin and viola.

Scholarships are available through the University Symphony League by contacting Dr. Lynn F. Ledbetter at 562-2374.

The ENMU Summer Choir Camp will be held on campus July 5-9. All junior high and senior high singers are invited to attend this week filled with music classes, sectional and large group rehearsals, individual lessons and a public concert. Choir camp participants also will have an opportunity to interact with band and string campers in supervised afternoon and evening recreational activities.

A choir director's workshop will be offered in conjunction with the camp. College credit is available for participating directors.

Camp faculty will include Dr. David Gerig, ENMU director of choral activities; Mary Joplin, choir director at Irons Junior High School, Lubbock; Wayne Anderson, choir director at Clovis High School; and Marsha Brandon, choir director at Yucca Junior High School. Assisting will be ENMU summer faculty and graduate students.

Registration will be from 2-3:30 p.m. June 5 in the Music Building lobby. Camp fee is $150 (includes all instruction, room and board). Camp fee is $140 if 10 or more students are registered from the same school before June 15.

More information is available by contacting Camp Director Dr. David Gerig, ENMU, Station No. 16, Portales, N.M. 88130, 562-2571.

The ENMU Summer Band Camp will be held on campus July 5-10. Three bands will be featured during this year's clinic, for beginning, intermediate and advanced levels. Camp Director Dr. Robert Lindahl is anticipating a large turnout due to the quality of the staff and the success of the 1991 camp.

Directing the beginning band will be Donald Young, director of Yucca Junior High School's award-winning band program in Clovis. Director of the intermediate band will be ENMU graduate Van Ragsdale, director of bands at Odessa-Permian High School. Professor Emeritus of ENMU Floren Thompson Jr. will direct the advanced band.

Also serving on the camp staff are Gordon Hart, director of bands at Clovis High School, and Rob James, professor of percussion at Eastern Kentucky University. Hart will direct the student leadership/drum major portion of the camp. James will be in charge of all percussion activities.

All students in attendance will receive large group instruction, chamber ensemble experience and music theory. Also, they will have a choice of various clinics to attend including leadership, jazz and instrumental master classes.

In addition to the musical opportunities presented during the week, students will have the chance to attend a faculty recital, a movie on campus and other recreational activities utilizing university facilities. There will be a full-time recreation director on the staff, as well as several student and professional staff members who will monitor recreational and dormitory activities.

In conjunction with the student camp, the School of Music and University Outreach are offering a director's workshop, which is available for graduate credit. The workshop will entail two to three clinics daily, participation in the university summer band for the week, and assistance in the operation of the band camp.

Distinguished visiting Professor of Music Robert Foster, Director of Bands at the University of Kansas, heads the list of clinicians for the director's workshop. Also presenting clinics will be Norvil Howell, supervisor of music in the Clovis schools; Pat Henry, director of bands at Portales High School; James Barnard, director of bands at Portales High School; James Barnard, director of bands at Clovis' Gattis Junior High School; and Dr. David Eisler, Dean of the College of Fine Arts at ENMU.

Clinic topics will include "Computer Software for the Band Director," "Intermediate Band Literature Review," "Developing an Instrumental Education Program for the Future," and "The Teaching of Woodwinds in a Large Ensemble Situation."

Fee discounts are available for early registration and groups of eight or more from the same school. More information is available by contacting Camp Director Dr. Robert Lindahl, 562-2671.

Methodist Hospital Offers Support Group

Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) is the leading cause of death in infants. More than 6,000 American babies are claimed by the syndrome annually.

What makes SIDS so devastating is that a seemingly healthy baby suddenly dies, usually in his/her sleep, of respiratory failure.

While there is no known cause for SIDS, research indicates some infants are more at risk than others:

- *Boys vs. girls;
- *Twins vs. single births;
- *Babies of teen-age mothers;
- *Afro-American babies; and
- *Babies with a low birth weight.

Many parents who have lost an infant to SIDS deal with guilt and depression. This is a common reaction because the parents look for answers that don't exist. A support group called SHARE, is facilitated by the Chaplaincy Department at Methodist Hospital for parents who have lost a child. SHARE, which stands for a Source of Help in Airing and Resolving Experiences, is a non-denominational, non-profit organization dedicated to aiding bereaved parents.

SHARE meets the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at Methodist Hospital.

Savings Bonds Rate Set

The semiannual market based rate for United States Savings Bonds, in effect from May through October 1992, has been set at 5.58%, the Treasury Department announced today.

Catalina V. Villalpando, Treasurer of the United States and National Director of the Savings Bonds program stated: "Today's guaranteed minimum rate is 6 percent. Today's purchaser is protected by this guaranteed minimum rate. Savings Bonds continue to be an outstanding instrument for a safe, protected investment."

The Savings Bonds interest rate is the greater of 85 percent of the average market yield on five-year Treasury marketable securities during the preceding six months or the guaranteed minimum of 6%. When bonds are held for five years or more, yields at redemption are the average of semiannual interest rates during the time held, or the guaranteed minimum rate, whichever is higher.

"The market-based program, introduced in 1982, has contributed to high bond sales—over four billion dollars worth of bonds have been sold already this year," the Treasurer stated.

Savings Bonds semiannual rates are set each May 1 and November 1. As of March 31, the total value of Savings Bonds held by the public was $142.014 billion. For information on current rates call 1-800-4US Bond.

Methodist Hospital's Monthly Diabetes Clinic helps the person with diabetes manage his/her disease. The next one-day clinic will be conducted May 16 from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Reservations are required and can be made by calling 793-4301.

Blood Donation Discussed

The Muleshoe Chapter of Rotary met at the Bailey County Civic Center May 12 with about 45 attending. Randy Field presided. Field introduced three visitors.

J.D. Cage announced that the President of Rotary International will be speaking in Big Spring May 28.

Charles Moraw introduced Jana Belew, Community Relations Representative at United Blood Services of Lubbock who spoke to the group about blood donation.

"More than half the population uses blood sometime during their lifetime," said Belew. This blood comes from volunteer blood donors through school and church drives.

The Lubbock office of United Blood Services serves over 500,000 people as well as 30 hospitals.

"Methodist Hospital needs 1500 pints of blood each month," noted Belew.

United Blood Services is the second largest blood provider in the nation serving cancer, burn victims and surgery patients.

"Whole blood is rarely used these days," said Belew. For instance, platelets are used for cancer victims.

"Researchers are working to develop a blood substitute but this is still years away from reality," she said.

"We have a great need for blood donors," Belew commented. She mentioned the success of the recent blood drive at Muleshoe High School where there was a lot of interest in donation and urged Rotary members to watch for schedules of other drives in this area.

"Blood donation takes only 45 minutes of your time and you can give blood every eight weeks," Belew concluded.

More Than A Pain In Neck

If you have been experiencing neck pains and headaches and can't seem to solve the problem, you might consider examining your telephone habits.

Many people pin the telephone between their head and shoulder to free their hands for other tasks. But, problems can arise from holding the phone this way. The unnatural posture used to cradle a telephone on your shoulder can cause muscle spasms, pinched nerves in your spine and even lead to a herniated disc.

According to Working Healthy, a publication of the American Hospital Association, you can cure this problem relatively easily. First, sit erect with your hand and chin level, just as if you were talking person to person. Be sure and hold the telephone with your hand. If talking for a long time, rest your elbow on the desk.

Some new technological advances, such as headsets and speaker phones, also can be beneficial in combating telephone shoulder.

Food Safety Survey

Energy Extension Service Provides Cooling Tips

Spring has arrived and it may be time for some simple cleaning and maintenance to protect your home from soaring summer temperatures and utility bills. The following low-cost tips from the Texas Energy Extension Service will help you prepare now for the summer months ahead.

You should start your spring cleaning outside by checking the exterior of your house for winter damage. This includes checking windows and doors for air leaks and the walls for any cracks or peeling paint. In addition, screens should be cleaned and carefully checked for rips and tears that may need patching or replacing.

The inside of your house also may need some spring cleaning and maintenance. Room fans should be dusted, and drapes and blinds should be cleaned and in good working order to block the sun's rays from streaming through your windows. Change the filter on your air conditioner and have the unit tuned up. If the air conditioner runs poorly, it may cost plenty but cool little.

Your spring house checkup should include implementing natural cooling methods that can lower your utility bills. Shading and proper ventilation can save you money by keeping your house cool as the weather gets hotter.

Plant trees, shrubs, or vines to shade the outside of your house, and install solar screens, awnings or shutters to block radiant heat from entering your house. On inside windows, use curtains, pull-down shades or venetian blinds to help cool your house.

Africanized Bees Found in San Antonio

A swarm of Africanized honey bees has been found for the first time in San Antonio, the nation's tenth largest city.

Officials with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's bee research laboratory in Beltsville, Md., confirmed the find Tuesday (April 28).

As a result, Bexar County has been added to the quarantine restricting commercial movement of honey bees in 25 South Texas counties.

"The intent of the quarantine is to prevent the man-assisted spread of Africanized honey bees," said Paul Jackson, chief of the Texas Apiary Inspection Service, a unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The swarm was found and destroyed on the city's south side on Wednesday, April 22, by an employee of the San Antonio Metropolitan Health District.

The bees were about 18 feet up in a tree at a residence in the 7100 block of Hobson Street, about one-half mile northeast of Interstate Highway 37 and Military Drive. There was no stinging incident involved, and the bees are destroyed with a spray of soapy water.

Following routine procedures, a sample of the bees was mailed to the bee identification laboratory at Texas A&M University. It was received on Monday, found to be Africanized in preliminary analysis, and sent by overnight mail to USDA's Agricultural Research Service laboratory in Beltsville.

The San Antonio find indicates that the leading edge of the insect's migration into the United States from Mexico has progressed 275 miles from when the first swarm was detected near Brownsville in October 1990.

Last week, six other counties south and west of San Antonio were added to a quarantine restricting the movement of commercial bee operations.

Added to the quarantine were Kinney, Frio, McMullen, Atascosa, Medina and Uvalde counties. The quarantine allows beekeepers to move bee hives within but not out of the zone.

Africanized honey bees look just like regular domestic honey bees, but they are more defensive in protecting their hives.

The apiary inspection service, the regulatory agency for the Texas bee laws, imposes quarantines based on the Texas Africanized Honey Bee Management Plan.

Eight counties across the southern tip of Texas—roughly a 100-mile radius from the U.S.-Mexico border—were quarantined after the first Africanized bee swarm migrating into the United States was detected near Hidalgo on October 15, 1990.

Since then, counties have been added as the bee continues to migrate northward. The other counties under quarantine are: Maverick, Zavala, Dimmit, Webb, Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, Jim Hogg, Kenedy, Starr, Willacy, Zapata, Nueces, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Duval, Val Verde and La Salle.

Texas A&M Establishes New Degree Program

Starting this fall semester, students at Texas A&M University can be part of a unique and much needed degree program to prepare themselves for the world's biggest business—providing food and fiber for society.

Although agribusiness is the world's largest industry, American universities have not done enough to prepare students for agribusiness careers, said Dr. Kerry Litzenberg, professor of agricultural economics at Texas A&M.

According to a 1990 study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, there will be approximately 17 percent more annual job openings than there will be college graduates with expertise in agriculture and business fields through 1995.

The USDA estimated there would be 22,650 job openings for managers, financial specialists and marketing, merchandising and sales representatives between 1990 and 1995—but only 13,700 graduates qualified to fill them.

Furthermore, the agency reported, only 8,000 of those graduates would be from agriculture programs. The remaining 10,700 qualified graduates would come from other programs, such as business schools.

Now, Texas A&M has instituted what is believed to be the first U.S. agribusiness degree jointly administered by two colleges—its College of Agriculture and Life Sciences and its College of Business Administration. Litzenberg will co-direct the new degree program with Dr. Clair Nixon, associate professor of accounting in the business school.

Litzenberg was a member of the National Agribusiness Education Commission during its two-year mission, started in 1987, to recommend improvements in agribusiness education in the U.S.

Dr. Vernon Schneider, Texas A&M agricultural economics professor, was also a member of the commission and worked with Litzenberg on a survey of agribusiness throughout the U.S. to identify the relative importance of 74 employee skills and attributes.

They later surveyed 1,400 graduates from agricultural colleges to determine how the graduates perceived the value of the education they had received, presenting data from the two surveys to the commission.

Their work also led to the new agribusiness degree, which was approved in January by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

Most of the coursework was already in place in the two colleges, and some students have already partially completed requirements, although they won't be official agribusiness majors until the fall semester.

Two new courses also were added: a class exploring the environment of agribusiness and a financial analysis case studies course.

"The first looks at the uniqueness of the agribusiness sector and defines what it is, and the financial course looks at specific cases in the industry, using the analytical tools learned from the business school," Litzenberg said.

The "tools" are business principles of management, finance, economics, and marketing learned in what are called "common body of knowledge courses."

"What we've primarily done is take the tool courses from the business school and add them to the basic courses from the agriculture school," Litzenberg said.

"We have students who will come in from both programs. I expect we'll have about 40 to 50 in September."

Dr. Gene Nelson, professor and head of the department of agricultural economics, said the new degree program should be welcomed by both students and businesses.

"This responds to the needs of the state's agribusiness industries for graduates with sophisticated business training, combined with an appreciation for the unique challenges in the food and agribusiness industry," Nelson said.

In Full Bloom

Flowers in full bloom provide beauty and are a joy to all who behold them, they can bring cheer to the ill, they express our feelings to those we love, they show our sympathy for those in bereavement. Flowers in full bloom say what we cannot always put into words. A child of God, serving the Lord, is like a flower in full bloom. "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing."

© Coleman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4887, Dallas, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

High Potential Tomatoes Now Available

Wind-tolerant, "fireproof" tomato varieties are what West Texas tomato gardeners pray for, and this year those prayers have been partly answered, says a vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Three superior new tomato varieties--Spitfire, Surefire and Santiago--which proved their merits in Extension Service tests here the last two years, are commercially available this season.

The new varieties were tested in Lubbock County Extension demonstrations in 1990 and 1991 as FMX-157, GS-12 and NVH 4465. "Now that these new introductions have names, and seed is available to plant growers at nurseries and greenhouses, gardeners can be encouraged to plant them," said Dr. Roland Roberts, Extension Service vegetable specialist.

"Concentrated fruit set, early maturity, heat-tolerant ability to set fruit, thick-walled small juicy fruit, good leaf cover to prevent fruit sunburn, and disease resistance are traits you will see in Surefire and Spitfire," says Roberts.

Surefire fruit weigh about three ounces and ripen a few days earlier than Spitfire fruit, which weigh four to six ounces. Spitfire is a replacement for the old favorite, Spring Giant, which is hard to obtain anymore, Roberts said. Spitfire makes dark red, flat-round fruit with thick walls, ample juice and flavor judged by local tasters to be truly superior. It also has good crack resistance.

Santiago produced the largest yield and fruit size, averaging nearly a half a pound, of any variety in the field tests. It is later maturing than Spitfire and has a strong plant to support the large fruit off the ground. Santiago combines large, deep-round fruit and excellent internal quality. It is resistant to Verticillium and Fusarium wilt, nematodes and tobacco mosaic virus.

"Ask your nursery, garden center or greenhouse for Surefire, Spitfire and Santiago and conduct your own trial of these high quality performers," Roberts suggested.
