Sunnyside Pilot Injured In Crash

Ben Holcombe, 28, owner and operator of the A-A-A Flying Service of Sunnyside narrowly escaped serious injury Wednesday, July 9 when the landing gear of his plane caught in the thick corn he was spraying near Nazareth and caused the plane to flip. A tank holding Parathion, a highly toxic liquid insecticide, burst, drenching Holcombe with the poisonous fluid. Dickie Holcombe, wife of the pilot, was spotting the field for him and immediately got him to a shower. The attending physician later said her action "helped immeasurably" in controlling the effects of the Parathion.

The cropduster pilot is in satisfactory condition in the Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt. He is being treated for severe eye irritation and shoulder, head and back injuries.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

So shall my word be... it shall not return to me empty. (Isa. 55:11).

God is our guide to prosperity and success, and with Him new channels of good open up for us. As we turn to God, and identify ourselves with His work, it becomes more than just a prayer. It becomes the working principle by which we live. Prayer re-centers our attention on God, and in God every prayer of our heart finds perfect fulfillment.

Join the local Chamber of Commerce and be a booster and builder of the area.

There have been many explanations of how the dollar sign came into being.

One theory was that the initials "U. S." were placed before an amount. The "S" was written over the "U". This formed what resembled the dollar sign, like this "S" (US).

This is the explanation most widely accepted. Our dollar sign evolved from the Mexican or Spanish "Ps". "Ps" stood for pesos, piastres, or pieces of eight.

The theory is based on the study of old manuscripts. They revealed that the "S" eventually was written over the "P". It resulted in a close equivalent of the $ sign, like this "S" (SP).

The $ (SP) mark was widely used before the adoption of the United States dollar in 1785.

Let's Talk Turkey

The Texas Department of Agriculture's TAP program has opened a two-month promotional campaign to make Texas turkey a part of the summer diet.

"For too long turkey has been considered something special only for Thanksgiving or Christmas," Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said in announcing the turkey campaign.

"It is time Texans realized the delicious birds can be something special for the backyard cookout, Sunday dinner or just for the meal watching the afternoon ballgame."

The TAP program, a highly successful promotion started by Commissioner White to make Texas consumers aware of Texas Agricultural Products (TAP), will utilize its entire resources to promote turkeys and turkey products during July and August.

Included in the campaign will be placement of several hundred billboards along major highways across the state. Posters and recipes will be put up in some 10,000 grocery stores, and financial institutions and utility companies will include 1 million inserts in their monthly statements.

White said, in addition, home economists will travel over Texas speaking to housewives in person and on radio and television with tips for cooking turkey and making it part of the daily meal.

The billboards and posters urge Texans to try turkey as a barbecue favorite on the backyard grill, and emphasis will be placed throughout the campaign on buying turkey parts instead of whole turkey, whenever lighter meals are desired.

"Turkeys have always been considered something that has to be bought and prepared for several hours" White said. "It doesn't have to be that way. If you want to buy a turkey leg, you should buy it. The same goes for thighs, breasts and other parts of the turkey."

White said it was not long ago when chickens were purchased as whole birds only. "Now, it is accepted by everyone that they can be bought a piece at a time just as easily as not. Turkeys can be utilized the same way."

The Texas Department of Agriculture is joining with the Texas Turkey Federation and turkey processing plants in the two-month campaign, and will participate in several conventions with the organizations in promoting turkeys.

"Texas, America's Fun-tier," a film depicting recreation and fun-things to do and unusual events set against backdrops of the great diversity of scenery found in the state has been released by the Texas Highway Department.

Advertising Campaign Planned To Promote Greater Use Of Cotton

The greater use of cotton in linen supply services will be stimulated through an advertising campaign to be launched this fall by the Cotton Producers Institute.

According to CPI trustees from the High Plains area, the linen supply industry is currently using approximately 400,000 bales of cotton annually. Services include such items as rental sheets and pillowcases, towels, tablecloths, napkins, and uniforms.

In the towel field, cotton's position is being challenged by paper. In sheets and pillowcases--as well as tablecloths and napkins--hotels, restaurants, and other institutional users are turning to durable press blends. Blended uniforms are making inroads too.

CPI will feature full-page ads in national publications stressing the freshness, softness, absorbency, and hygienic qualities of cotton. The economy, efficiency, and convenience of linen supply services will also be emphasized.

The advertising messages will be directed to executives in the motel-hotel field, hospital and nursing home administrators, college and university officials, food and lodging managers, beauty and barber shop operators, and business management executives. CPI is coordinating its selling efforts with those of the Linen Supply Association of America, headquartered in Miami Beach.

The linen supply campaign is part of the $10-million CPI research and promotion program for 1969. It is financed by cotton growers through dollar-a-bale payments under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

CPI trustees from the Texas High Plains are Joe B. Pate, Jr., Lubbock; J. D. Smith, Littlefield; L. C. Unfried, Tahoka; and Roy Forkner and Howard Alford, Lubbock.

When Dr. Fisch's group monitored the hearts of 40 dental patients unconscious from an injection and the inhalation of halothane, irregular heart beats developed in 42 percent of the patients. Children and young adults proved particularly prone to highly chaotic heart beats.

Patients remained under anesthesia for about nine minutes.

Poison Ivy One Of Many "Bad Acting Plants"

Champagne, Ill. --Poison ivy has hogged the spotlight but chrysanthemums, daisies, feverfew, philodendrons, nettles and buttercups can be equally irritating, according to Dr. Albert H. Slepyan.

The University of Illinois dermatologist calls these plants "bad actors" botanical irritants which provoke skin and eye reactions in sensitized people.

The irritating chemicals may be anywhere in the plant, from leaf to tuber, and the poison capacity depends upon the weather, the season, the terrain and the stage of development.

Unfortunately, once you develop sensitivity to one plant, you're likely to become sensitive to other irritant plants as well.

Using Charcoal Fire Inside Maybe Death Trap

New York--The charcoal fire that whets everyone's appetite at a barbecue can convert a room into a death trap.

Burning charcoal gives off carbon monoxide, which is colorless, odorless and potentially lethal, warns Mrs. Marjorie B. May of the Greater New York Safety Council.

The only safe way to burn barbecues indoors is to make sure the room or tent is well-ventilated. A hibachi or barbecue stove should be placed in an outside draft near an open window or door.

If you build a charcoal fire in a fireplace, you should keep the damper wide open to encourage a free-flowing upward draft.

Beware particularly of cookouts disrupted by summer rainstorms.

The natural, dangerous reaction is to reconvene the barbecue inside in a room whose windows are shut against the rain. But there are only two safe courses, let in a bit of rain along with life-saving air or shift your cooking to the kitchen stove.

Insurance For Teenage Boys About Triples Regular Rates

College Station, --Parents of teen-age drivers, especially boys, should be prepared to pay up to triple their rates for auto insurance.

The cost of an under 20-year old boy who is the principle driver of a second or third car in the family runs about three times the adult rate, even though the car is registered in the parent's name, according to an Extension home management specialist.

The rate is about double the adult cost if he merely drives the family car "with permission" Linda Jacobsen adds.

Records show that youthful drivers are more careful of the family car than their own, and during this period they can build a good record which will be an advantage with later rates.

Girls aren't quite as expensive: a policy covering a 17-year-old girl as principle driver costs about 50 percent more than the standard adult rate, going down to 10 percent excess at age 20. But surveys indicate that girls are getting more careless at the wheel, the Texas A&M University specialist says.

For boys, penalty premiums start to drop at age 20, decreasing annually to 10 percent at age 29. Miss Jacobsen adds that teenagers who have taken an accredited driver education course save about 10 percent.

Texas Grain Producers Important Part Of Agricultural Economy

College Station, -Grains account for almost 25 cents of each dollar from Texas agricultural commodity sales. In 1968, cash receipts were second only to those for livestock and livestock products, reported John J. Siebert, Extension grain marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

By grains, grain sorghum was the leader and contributed more than $320 million; rice cash receipts were $142 million, wheat $106 million; corn $29 million; soybeans $19 million; flaxseed $2 million and broom-corn production was valued at $1.4 million, Siebert said. Thus, he noted, total cash receipts for these grains exceeded $620 million.

Export markets are also important to grain producers. During fiscal 1968, Siebert said, Texas share of grain exports exceeded $180.6 million. Feed grains accounted for almost two-thirds or $118.6 million of that total, he said.

Grain production, marketing machinery and facilities require large capital investments. By any measurable standards, emphasized Siebert, the industry contributes a great deal to the general well-being of the state's economy and especially to those involved in its actual operation.

Planning for months has been underway for an Open House and International Textile Research Symposium on the college campus October 30 and 31 of this year. Invitations are being mailed to some 5,800 people in the textile industry of 48 countries around the world.

The Symposium is being developed around the theme of "Marketing through Research," and it has been said that the Textile Research Center will become a "window to the quality of fibers produced in Texas." Expected at the Symposium are fiber processors, apparel makers and other textile manufacturers, all of whom will be made aware of this area's quality fibers and textile industry potential.

A committee of some 50 people, mostly West Texas agriculturalists and agri-businessmen, has been selected to assist with planning for the October affair, and this committee will be given a preliminary "walk through" tour of the Center's facilities on July 17 following its first meeting.

Also on hand for the July 17 meeting will be Texas Representative Bill Heatley, Chairman of the State Appropriations Committee; John White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture; members of the farm press and various other dignitaries.

Medical Schools To Share Their Teaching

THOSE TEXAS FAMILIES receiving commodity foods may soon receive a new form of corn meal, according to Extension Foods Specialists Jimmie Kay Ulton. The extra fine meal can be used like flour in cookies, biscuits and corn meal.

Washington, D.C. -Medical students will soon share their teaching hospitals with men and women from surrounding neighborhoods.

A new program called Family Planning via Medical Schools will train local residents as clinic aides, home visitors and other auxiliary medical helpers, as well as providing contraceptive services, infant and maternal care and premarital counseling. Twelve urban hospitals and two rural hospitals are enrolled.

Planned by the non-profit Population Council and financed by both the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity and the hospitals, Family Planning via Medical Schools seeks to establish and strengthen local ties.

"Medical schools are coming to recognize that they have a responsibility for improving health care in their communities," commented Dr. Gary London, CEO's Director of Family Planning.

Involved are university hospitals in New York, Chicago,

Timmy and Patty Ridings and Randy Gaston of Findlay, Ohio spent Wednesday in the home of their aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Harlan.

Spinning Plant Becomes Full-Scale Textile Research Center At TT

The advancement of $45,000 by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to Texas Tech in 1959 for the construction of 4,000 feet of floor space to be used for a "Pilot Spinning Plant" has blossomed over the years into a full-scale Textile Research Center with 45,500 square feet of floor space, worth $2.5 million.

The Center, which began with the bare capability of small-scale yarn spinning operations, now has the capacity to carry any raw fiber through the complete spinning, weaving, finishing and dyeing processes on a scale closely simulating conditions in a commercial mill. Its research and product development studies are carried out mainly in cotton and the other natural fibers of wool and mohair, including blends of the three.

Where its original research projects were almost exclusively those supported by Plains Cotton Growers, the Center now draws research funds from USDA, the Cotton Research Committee of Texas, Cotton Producers Institute and others in addition to the work it does for PCG.

The young men memorized 10-24 pages of script for the program.

Survey Of Employment Conducted Here This Week

A sample of residents in this area was included in a nationwide survey of employment and unemployment conducted this week by the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census, according to Francis H. Wilmer, Director of the Bureau's regional office in Denver.

The survey is made each month for the U. S. Department of Labor to determine the number of persons with jobs, the number looking for jobs, and the monthly unemployment rate. The survey furnishes a basic measure of the Nation's economic health.

Information obtained in the survey can be used only to determine statistical totals, and facts about each person and family are kept completely confidential.

The Bureau interviewer who visited households in this area was Mrs. Rosemary McNeese of Amherst.

4-H Leadership Lab To Meet At Lake Brownwood

College Station, - Learning and practicing the leadership skills needed for successful duty-youth teamwork will be a major objective of participants in the 20th annual Texas 4-H Leadership Laboratory. According to George McArthur, assistant state 4-H leader, the July 28-August 2 training session will be held at the Brownwood Christian Retreat on Lake Brownwood.

The 72 participating 4-H Club members will come from every section of Texas, representing the following counties: Dallam, Mitchell, Wilbarger, Clay, Gregg, Winkler, Tom Green, Correll, Leon, Guadalupe, Jefferson and Hidalgo. In addition to the three boys and girls from each county and district, two county Extension agents will also attend.

Training, McArthur said, will involve the basic problems of decision making in the real life situation of living together, planning and carrying out responsibilities as a group. Each delegate will be a member of a working committee with specific responsibilities for the successful operation of the laboratory. Plans for all activities of the week are made by the participants after their arrival at the camp. The adult advisers leave all decisions making up to the delegates, noted McArthur.

Sponsorship of the laboratory from its beginning has come from Pennzoil United Company of Houston. McArthur said that during the past 20 years, thousands of boys and girls have received training in leadership skills largely as a result of the state lab. Boys, girls and adults who have participated in the state lab in turn conduct similar training sessions in the counties and districts; thus, extending its benefits.

Young people and adults who have participated in the Labs consider them an outstanding source for leadership training information and experience needed in expanding 4-H Club work in the counties, concluded the state 4-H leader.

Congressman Price To Mail Questionnaires, Wants Help

Every family in the 18th District will be receiving in the mail in the next several days a two-page questionnaire from Panhandle Congressman Bob Price. Congressman Price announced today that he is sending a questionnaire to every home in the 18th District, in an effort to determine public sentiment on a number of major issues facing the 91st Congress.

"It is most important and helpful to me to know what members of my constituency are thinking on issues from space to farm problems and the way to settle the war in Vietnam," Congressman Price said. "We get mail on all these subjects, of course, which I read to keep in close touch with public sentiment in the district. At the same time, however, many people are often too busy to write. We have tried to design the questionnaire to make it as easy as possible to mark and return. No envelope will be needed; only a six-cent stamp. I am hoping for the largest possible response so that I can obtain the most representative sample possible," Congressman Price said.

Included are questions on the ABM system, inflation, taxes, crime control, electoral college reform, postal reform, the draft, as well as questions relating to agriculture and space which Congressman Price has a special interest in as a member of both the House Agriculture Committee and the House Committee on Science and Astronautics.

"As soon as they are received, we will begin tabulating the results and will make them available to the public," Congressman Price said.

Special space has been provided on the form to allow both husband and wife to respond. Costs of printing and paper are being borne by Congressman Price and contributions from residents in the 18th District.

The Navy's largest school on the west coast, it provides the student with a basic foundation of the field of electricity.

He will now report to another electricity school in his particular specialty.

"The one book that always has a sad ending is the check book."

SINCE THEIR DECLINE after the 1920's, Oriental rugs are back in high style. This return to fashion is due in part, according to Bonny Lay, Extension home furnishings specialist, to the increased use of all types of area rugs and because many designers are now using Oriental rugs in commercial interiors. This investment may increase in value rapidly.

Agriculture Appropriations Bill And Possible Limitations Farm Payment At Standstill

The Agriculture Appropriations Bill, together with the suspenseful controversy over a possible limitation of 1970 farm payments to producers of cotton, feed grains and wheat, is, in a word, nowhere at the moment.

Its next scheduled stop is the Senate-House Conference Committee where differences in the two versions are supposed to be worked out before the bill is again presented to both houses.

But as of Friday, July 11, neither house has appointed its Conference Committee members, and no one seems to know when they will be appointed. Moreover, it's almost a cinch the work of the conferees, whatever they do, will be strongly questioned in at least one and possibly in both houses.

The House in May adopted an amendment to the Appropriations Bill stipulating that the funds could not be used for payments in excess of $20,000 to any one producer under 1970 cotton, feed grains and wheat programs.

At the time some observers voiced the opinion that if the Senate turned thumbs down on a payment limit the House-Senate Conference Committee would accept the Senate version and the issue would be closed.

But such does not now appear to be the case. The Senate did, in fact, vote against payment limitations July 7. And it is still thought that the Conference Committee sooner or later will turn out a bill without a limitation of payments. But if this happens, Congressman Conte (R-Mass.) and Findley (R-Ill.) the amendment's original sponsors in the House, are bound and determined to see the bill sent back to Conference Committee with House conferees instructed to reinstate limitations.

House leaders at the moment think it's nip and tuck as to whether or not a motion to recommit would be successful. There is also another factor that may cause trouble. The House voted $340 million for the food stamp program. The Senate upped the amount to $750 million, despite the fact that the Food Stamp Bill passed by the House in 1969 specified a maximum expenditure of $350 million.

Consequently, if the House-Senate conferees go along with the higher figure set by the Senate, someone in the House is sure to yell "point of order" and say the House would be violating its own rules by legislating on an appropriations bill if it accepted a food stamp appropriation back to the House figure, the Senate is sure to kick up dust. The final outcome is anybody's guess. But it's certain the Agriculture Appropriations Bill is not yet out of the woods. Nor is the issue of a payment limitation of farm program for 1970.

Specialist Notes Major Changes In Texas Cattle Slaughter

College Station, -Dramatic things are happening in the Texas livestock industry! Among them, according to Ed Uvacke, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University, is the shift in the slaughter of cattle and calves during the past few years.

He cites as very important factors in the shift the tremendous increase in demand for feeder calves by feedlots producing heavy fed beef and rising incomes of consumers, particularly those in the South, and an increased preference for "beef" rather than "slaughter calf."

With these two overall effects acting on the market at the same time, the retail food stores have found less slaughter calf beef available for purchase and thus at a higher price, Uvacke explains.

During the first four months of 1969, the economist reports that commercial slaughter of calves in Texas was down 22 percent from the same period a year ago. These same months also recorded the smallest slaughter of calves on record for the state, he notes.

Another interesting part of the change in slaughter classification is the average weights of animals slaughtered, says Uvacke. Average liveweight of calves commercially slaughtered in the first four months of 1969 ranged between 493 and 528 pounds. The lowest weight recorded during this season of the year since 1960 was 516 pounds, he notes.

Feedlot requirements have dipped deeply into calf crops for their supplies of feeders; thus, drastically reducing the number of calves available for slaughter but increasing very materially total cattle slaughter in the state.

Uvacke says this trend can be expected to continue for the next several years and could mean a substantially changed demand for the type of calves required in the future.

Big Feet May Mean Baby Walking Earlier

Scott Air Force Base, Illinois Big feet may mean early steps, according to an Air Force Doctor, Col. Kenneth Shepard, who has been comparing the foot sizes of newborn babies with the dates they start walking. He says there seems to be a distinct connection. Babies with larger feet take their first steps at about one year of age whereas babies with smaller feet tend to start walking at about 21 months.

Colonel Shepard has solved the problem of separating large feet from small feet by dividing a newborn's foot length by body length from the crown of his head to his rump. The larger the ratio, the bigger the foot relatively.

Texan Ends Year As Leader Of World Lions

Tokyo, Japan: Amid a standing ovation of more than 12,000 international delegates in the Nippon Budokan Convention Hall in Tokyo, Japan, David A. Evans of Texas City, Texas ended his travel-filled year as President of Lions International at noon Saturday, July 5. Over 50,000 Lions and their families, including some 500 Texans, traveled to the 52nd Annual Convention of the world's largest service organization to salute Evans, the fifth Texas to lead the world Lions as their Chief Executive.

Within a short 365 days, circling the globe, visiting with Heads of State, and guiding the affairs of the one-million-member Association, Evans has witnessed an astounding growth in Lionism. Nearly 150,000 new members have dedicated themselves to its Ideals and Objects during his term of office. More than 1,300 new clubs have been formed, for an all-time record in the Association's history. With the aid of the Project-A-Month program, instituted by Evans to stimulate greater involvement in community and international service, over 25,000 new activities have been undertaken since June of 1968, in addition to the more than 500,000 annual Lions projects.

Texas, too, has experienced one of its greatest years during Evans' administration. Some 83 new clubs and 9,000 new members have joined Multiple District 2-Texas, making it the second largest district within the 145 countries and geographic areas in which Lions Clubs are located, with 1,000 clubs and 42,000 members. This year, eight new Leo Clubs, the young people's counterpart to the Lions Clubs, have been established in Texas. Again this year, the Texas Lions will engage in an international youth exchange with the countries of Sweden, Germany and Japan. And through the intercession of Lions Clubs, have been established in Texas. Again this year the Texas Lions will engage in an international youth exchange with the countries of Sweden, Germany and Japan. And through the intercession of Lions International and Evans, negotiations are now taking place to arrange for the exchange of the Texas and Mexican flags captured at the battles of the Alamo and San Jacinto respectively, a task which has been tried unsuccessfully for the last 25 years by the governments of Texas and Mexico.

Before turning over his duties and responsibilities to his successor, W. R. Bryan of Doylestown, Ohio, Evans was asked to recall the most rewarding event of his Presidential year. Without hesitation, he recounted the role played by Lions International in effecting the release of the crew of the U. S. S. Pueblo.

As Immediate Past President, Evans will remain an International Officer and retain much of his involvement in the policy-making decisions of the Association. He will continue to travel as an official representative of Lions International and is already planning an extended tour of Lions projects in India, following the International Board of Directors Meeting in Spain this fall.

Glue canvas down with fabric cement. To give the natural-colored fabric a bright look as well as more durability, paint each step a different eye-catching color.

R & D Spending To Stress Basic Research in 1969

U.S. industry plans to spend $19.2 billion on research and development in 1969, nine per cent more than last year, according to a survey conducted by the Economics Department of McGraw-Hill Publications Company.

"Business now expects to do $23 billion of R&D by 1972, 20 per cent more than in 1969," says Douglas Greenwald, the company's chief economist.

Greenwald said that the results of the survey suggest that recent inflationary pressures are leading companies toward more basic research which will provide new processes to reduce costs and increase capacity.

He pointed out that for industry as a whole, costs are expected to rise five per cent this year and 14 per cent between 1969 and 1972. "This means that the real gain in R&D will come to only 3.8 per cent this year and 5.3 per cent for the three years ahead. The balance will be inflation," he explained.

"If R&D is deflated to eliminate rising costs," Greenwald said, "the amount that will be performed this year expressed in 1968 dollars will be $18.3 billion, and the 1972 planned figure becomes $19.3 billion."

Industries that have traditionally been the largest performers of R&D expect to remain so over the next three years. Topping the list is aerospace with an R&D program of $7.4 billion in 1972, 32 per cent of all the R&D that will be done by industry.

Three Accidents In Lamb During June

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, no persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,080.

The rural traffic accident summary of this county during the first six months of 1969 shows a total of 55 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 17 persons injured, an estimated property damage of $33,915.

During the first six months of 1969 in Texas there were 1,470 traffic deaths, or two less as compared to the 1,472 traffic deaths for the same period of 1968. However, if past trends continue the last six months will probably far exceed the first six months; as a matter of fact, the last six months of 1968 there were 2,009 traffic deaths.

The Sergeant stated, "With an all time record of 39 traffic deaths over the 4th of July weekend, we are not only well ahead in comparison to the beginning of the second six months
