Casey Jones is a confirmed believer in the fact that the power of the press is unlimited. He said since the paper came out last week carrying the pitiful but true tale of his escapade at serving in the capacity of kitchen K. P. and household maid, he was now known all over town as "Dishrag Casey."

He went on to divulge he had received a years supply of leading detergent to lighten this ever existing task, also 2 telephone calls and one letter asking for his favorite recipes, and many lovely dishes of salads and foods from sympathetic neighbors. . . Fourteen expressions of sympathy from local females. . . and last but not least 4 proposals of marriage. . . Casey remembered that the female species seemed very sympathetic over his dilemma, while all his male type friends, are complaining that he is an evil influence in the community. They complained that since their wives read the articles in which he declared all women should have help at home, they are now demanding cooks, maids and housekeepers.

I was glad to see Littlefield Chamber of Commerce join forces with the Olton Chamber in their efforts to petition the County Judge to call a county-wide election to tabulate the wishes of Lamb Counties in connection with the movement to abolish the County Superintendent's Office. . .

This vote by Littlefield Chamber Directors was brought about following a study by a special committee who had studied the situation and submitted a recommendation to the group to approve the petition asking for the elections. McReynolds, Olton's Chamber manager, said he had failed in his efforts to get an Accurate report from the county office, even though the office is a tax supported office. . . I only wish the Earth Chamber could have gone along with the movement. . . However, according to the president of our local chamber, the By-Laws of our chamber prevent this group from backing any Political movement. . . However, if when an election is called, it will allow countants the right to go to the polls and whack off a few tax dollars from the present staggering load, if they so choose. . . and since most schools are now independent districts the county office seems to have become unnecessary.

This letter was brought in last week by a reader, I thought it so timely that I wanted to pass it on to you. . . Dear Editor: I am not satisfied with the Democrats or Republicans. So I think we should start a new party.

I will nominate Bobby Baker for president, Billy Sol Estes for vice president and James Hoffa for attorney general. Please do not send campaign funds to me as these men have plenty of money.

I was surely beginning to feel completely alone in my convictions and a confirmed "Againster" until I read in Sunday's Avalanche Journal that more than 100 directors of the west Texas Chamber of Commerce, including a group from WCCC headquarters in Abilene voted unanimously in opposition to LBJ's War on Poverty and "Aid to Appalachia." They agreed the job should be accomplished on a local basis, not a national one.

Other national affairs opposed included the Civil Rights Act, Excise Tax Rate Extension, Medicine and Social Security proposals, wage and hour amendments, Public School Construction and teachers salaries, Urban mass transportation, and others. Especially disturbing the board was the report from W. H. Lance of Perryton, Agriculture committee chairman, and Jerry Sanders, President of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce as they described the growing demise of independent businesses who could not compete with co-operatives with their special government sponsored advantages. Word reached the executive committee, while in session Wednesday, that the New Orleans Cotton Exchange was closing after 73 continuous years of operation. The exchange credited pressure from government supported co-operatives as being the reason. A committee was appointed by President Beeman Fisher of Ft. Worth to study this matter and to report back to the board.

Another thing discussed was the House Resolution 1144 introduced by Congressman Seacrest of Ohio and Senate Bill 2849 introduced by Senator Alken of Vermont those were given special study. (And now to let you in on a deep dark secret. I never heard of the following)

Mayor Calls Town Meeting

Mayor Marshall Kelley has called a town meeting on Friday, July 17, at 8 p. m. in the Community Building to plan the big 40th anniversary celebration of Earth. At this time officers will be elected to handle details of the affair. Every civil organization and club in Earth is asked to see at least one representative to the meeting. Anyone with interest or ideas is asked to come. Only with the support of all the Earth residences will the celebration be a success. Everyone is invited to the meeting.

The celebration is scheduled for the third week in August, so plans must begin taking shape immediately. Mark the date now and plan to be present.

Fire Damages Springlake Elevator

A fire apparently starting from an electrical wiring short resulted in extensive damage, Monday night to the Springlake Elevator, Springlake. The fire, discovered by Johnny Aquaria, a little after 1:00 a. m., resulted in approximately $10,000 damage to the Elevator. Starting in the egg room, it destroyed eggs, egg cases and carts, along with large amounts of feed, then spread to both 40 x 160 feet barns on each side of the room. The capacity of the buildings are about 4000 hens, but luckily the poultry had been removed earlier.

Both Springlake Fire Department and Earth Fire Department were on the scene. Sport Byers, owner was called to the Elevator about 2:00 a. m., at which time the fire was well underway.

There were no injuries, but extensive property damage which Byers reports to be fully covered by insurance.

Dale Dent Involved In Accident

Dale Dent, Earth resident, was involved in a car-truck collision at the intersection of Highway 70 and 85 in Springlake, Friday night about 9:30 p. m. A Phillips 66 Tank Transport made an improper turnout of the left hand lane and struck the Dent auto that was attempting to pass the truck in the right lane. There were no injuries. The Highway Patrol Officer in Littlefield reported charges filed against the truck for an improper turn. Dent's car damage was estimated at $300.

Group Will Ask For County School Office Vote

The Board of Directors of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Thursday night to approve the recommendation, submitted to them by a special committee asking that the County Judge be permitted to call an election to vote on the abolishment of the office of county superintendent in Lamb County.

This is a move started recently by the Olton Chamber of Commerce when Melvin McReynolds manager, reported that they were not able to secure an exact budget from the present County Superintendent. In turn, the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce feels since the office is tax supported a budget should be readily obtainable. The State Legislature has made provisions whereby the counties can abolish the office and there is more in that direction in Lamb County.

However, the Earth Chamber of Commerce, L. K. Anderson, president, has issued a statement clarifying the group's stand on the issue, that local Chamber By-Laws require that the Earth Chamber of Commerce a loaf of Earth was somewhat misquoted on this issue earlier, but restrictions from the Olton papers connected the situation. I seems the general feeling is that since all Lamb County schools are independent a full time superintendent is no longer needed. McReynolds has reported the present salary of the Superintendent as $8,400, and ventures to say the office will be reduced to an ex-officer one at around a $2,600 salary or less. He has said as best as could be determined the office was costing tax payers of Texas from $27,000 to $30,000 a year.

Texas and The World Soybean Situation

World soybean production is expected to set a new record in 1964 if United States planting intentions materialize and weather is favorable. Since the U. S. produces 94 percent of all soybeans in world trade, the intentions of the U. S. producer set the pace for the world market. Communist China produced more than the U. S. in the 1950-54 period. However, U. S. soybean production in the 1955-59 period was not only greater than that of China but was 73 percent of the world market. It progressed steadily to a high of 94 percent in 1963.

Soybean stocks in the U. S. on April 1, 1964, set a record high of 376 million bushels, 10 percent above last year.

Soybean production in Texas for 1964 was estimated at 2,604,000 bushels which is a sharp increase from the 1,680,000 bushels produced in 1962. The harvested acreage last year was 40 percent greater than the 60 thousand acres harvested a year earlier. A large part of the 1964 increase can be attributed to acreage planted on the High Plains following the loss of cotton from late June hail and washing rains. About 90 percent of the soybean acreage in Texas is on the High Plains.

Some expansion in soybean production in the world markets seem likely; however, no spectacular rise is foreseen in the immediate future. The average price of U. S. soybeans, American No. 2 yellow, bulk, c. i. l., in European ports, was $3.17 in January, 1964. Prices have since declined steadily, reflecting the larger U. S. supplies. The average for April of this year was $2.93. Significant expansion in soybean production has occurred in Mexico, Columbia and Argentina in recent years.

Mexico's production has risen from a negligible quantity in 1958 to almost two million bushels in 1963. This increase was almost four times the 1963 amount and reportedly resulted from further use of new varieties.

Columbia has had a similar increase from a scant volume in the early 1950's to over a million bushels last year. In about the same period, Argentina's production has grown to almost 700 thousand bushels. However, none of these countries export a significant amount in world trade.

Brazil is the only other country in the western hemisphere besides country in the western hemisphere besides the U. S. that exports a notable amount of soybeans. Last year it shipped 1,229,000 bushels into the world trade which was a decrease from a high of 3,556,000 bushels in 1962.

Also a senior at Abilene Christian College, David Gatewood, spoke on "What Teenagers Can do to Evangelize the World." Gatewood has traveled throughout Europe and is the Chairman of the ACC Mission Study Class next year. The Youth Rally was closed by singing and refreshments.

Give Lawns Proper Management

Unightly weeds can invade and ruin a beautiful lawn when proper management is neglected, says Albert C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist, Texas A&M University. A vigorous turf is the best control for weeds and weedy grasses, but when they do infest a lawn, elimination and control with chemicals or by hand becomes an important management practice.

Some chemicals available for controlling lawn weeds include disodium methylarsenate, amine methylarsenate, naphtha, endothal, silvex, and 2, 4-D reports the specialist.

Crabgrass, Dallisgrass, goosegrass, sandbar, and other summer-growing weedy grasses in Bermudagrass turf may be controlled with disodium methylarsenate or amine methylarsenate. Novosad says these materials are most effective if applied to weedy grasses in the seedlings or young stages when growth is active.

Temporary browning or yellowing may occur when these materials are applied to Bermudagrass but this will disappear in seven to 14 days, Novosad points out.

St. Augustine is severely burned or even killed by these chemicals, but small bare spots should be covered by new growth in four to six weeks.

Weedy grasses should be mowed three to four days before treatment, adds the specialist. However, treated areas should not be mowed or watered within 48 hours after application. Retreatment or spot treatment is often necessary for good control.

Dallisgrass and other weedy grasses may also be killed by wetting the leaves and stems with naphtha, says Novosad. This material should be used for spot treatment only as it will kill lawn grasses to which it is applied. However, bare spots left by naphtha treatment will be new growths in a few weeks.

Figweed, spurge, foxtail, morningglory, and similar weeds may be controlled with 2, 4-D the specialist points out. Some weeds treated with this chemical may require two weeks to show the effects.

These chemicals must be diluted in water and can be applied as a spray or mop, says Novosad. Directions on containers should be followed closely since chemicals can be quite destructive if handled improperly. Many of them are toxic or highly poisonous.

Additional information on the chemical control of lawn weeds can be obtained from local county agricultural agents, adds Novosad.

An Adequate Breakfast Is Important

Skipping breakfast is not a good idea at any age and is particularly harmful for youngsters and teenagers, Extension Service food and nutrition specialists say.

children visited with Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Powell and family of Earth Sunday.

Gary Brown of Clovis brought his mother, Mrs. Stella Brown back to the John Spencers Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Brown visited in Lubbock Friday with Mrs. Bill Smith and Linda and also in Littlefield with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brown and family.

Mrs. Stanley Slagle was admitted to the Plainview Hospital and Clinic Sunday and dismissed Monday. His mother stayed with the children.

Seventy four attended Sunday School with 51 in Training Union Sunday. The G. A. Coronation was held during the evening worship hour. Mrs. M. D. Durham, G. A. Director, was in charge of the service. All past Queens were recognized and helped with the service and planned and served at a reception following the services.

Mrs. Roy Phelan opened the program. Mrs. Durham had charge of the questions. Mrs. L. B. Bowden gave the charges to the step up to Queen-with-a-cepter. Mrs. Phelan gave that charge and presented the scepter. Janet Elliott was the only Maiden, Terry Crisp was the only Lady-in-waiting and Ann Spencer was the only Princess. Bobby Jan Blackburn was the only Queen. She was crowned by her mother and Michelle Bollinger was her flower girl and Cris Eldas was her crown bearer. Sandra Crisp is the first G. A. to ever receive the Scepter in the Coronation here. One other member, Mrs. Carl Bradley is also a Queen-with-a-cepter. Rev. Durham gave the benediction. Janelle Haydon was Chorister. Julie Conard and Johnnie Holcomb were ushers and candle lighters. Molly Bradley played the Organ. Janita Blackburn had charge of the reception. All are Queens. Two other Queens were recognized although they were not present. They were Carolyn Holcomb and Janice Blackburn.

The human body needs refueling regularly, and breakfast is the meal that follows the longest stretch of non-eating. Research has shown that, without an adequate breakfast, fatigue sets in earlier, irritability is increased, work output is reduced, and virtually all reaction time slows down. School children do not learn as easily, for they lack energy and sometimes become behavior problems.

Lack of time is the most frequent reason given for skipping on or skipping breakfast, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, and Extension nutritionist. This shortage of time is mostly a habit and can be corrected by revising one's schedule and getting up a few minutes earlier. Breakfast should be a family affair. Then everyone has the advantage of a good breakfast and the young people form a habit that will stand them in good stead the remainder of their lives.

Mrs. Clyde Ray Davis and Andrea are in Floyada at the G. A. Conference attending with the Dimmitt G. A.'s.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park

Etched deeply in the high plains of the Panhandle, just south of Amarillo, lies a spectacular gorge, widely renowned for its scenic beauty. This is Palo Duro Canyon, a great 15,000 acre state park of Texas. You enter it on a road which winds for miles along the bottom of the vast gorge. You see many remarkable formations such as the "Lighthouse" and "Balanced Rock" which have been formed by centuries of erosion which created the Canyon. As you drive slowly along the Canyon's beauty is enhanced by constant changes in delicate coloring. Coronado explored the Canyon in 1541, and in 1876 Col. Goodnight drove the first wagon train down a huge rock slide into its great gulf. Palo Duro Canyon is easily reached on major highways through many of our towns, and is a high spot in places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

Sorghum Midge Showing Up In Several Plains Counties

The sorghum midge is showing up in several Plains counties, according to James Hardling, entomologist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock. Hardling says very light populations of midge have been found in a nine-county area -- roughly centered by Lubbock County.

The entomologist cautions, however, that midge danger is not expected on grain sorghum blooming this early in the season. He says research and observations in past years showing midge damage is usually not significant until about August 1. Application of chemical for midge control before this date served little useful purpose.

One important research finding was reported by Hardling. He says midge have emerged from grain sorghum florets (flowers) that were covered with soil last fall up to a depth of eight inches. This indicates land preparation measures have little effect on midge.

Two approaches to chemical control in late-planted sorghum may be followed.

1. Automatic or insurance method: Apply a recommended insecticide after 90 percent of the heads have emerged from the boot. A second and possibly a third application may be necessary at 3 to 4 day intervals if the field doesn't head uniformly.
2. As required method: Carefully check for midge in wild host plants and early sorghum in field. If midge are present in these early heads, control should begin when 90 percent of the heads are out of the boot. Heavy midge infestations will require two applications three to five days apart.

Deadline On Domestic Allotments August 15

The effects of bad weather may have caused some farmers to revert to the domestic allotment which in most cases is 67 percent of the farm's effective allotment. For farms with allotment of 15 acres or less, the domestic allotment is the same as the regular allotment.

The farmer who is within his domestic allotment will be eligible for a price support loan based on 30 cents a pound, middling 1 inch at average location plus 3.5 cents a pound x the normal yield x the planted acreage not in excess of the domestic allotment.

Acreage not planted to cotton because the producer chose the domestic allotment plan may be planted to other crops and harvested (except that the farmer's acreage of feed grain may not exceed the feed grain base if the farm has an effective allotment of more than 15 acres.) thus providing an additional source of income.

Any farmer that may desire this plan and is now in excess of the Domestic Allotment should let the ASCS Office know by August 15, 1964.

The American group will meet with European businessmen, will tour important plants, and will have free time for individual business negotiations.

Everybody benefits

when rural electric generate business in the billions

The seeds of our national prosperity take root in rural America.

America's rural electric do more than generate, transmit and distribute power to the nation's countryside. They also generate business in the billions for people who make and sell electrical equipment for the farm and home . . . and everybody benefits.

When rural electric were started nearly 30 years ago, with the help of Rural Electrification Administration loans, few people outside the cities had electricity. Today, thanks to the cooperatives and other consumer-owned electric systems, there are power lines everywhere. With the power lines has come a rising standard of living and increased purchasing power for everyone.

Rural power has also put the rural electric consumer in the market each year for more than a billion dollars worth of refrigerators, freezers, milking machines, washers, feed grinders, toasters, heaters and scores of other electrical appliances. This means jobs for hundreds of thousands of people in the cities and in rural communities . . . jobs in manufacturing, distributing and servicing those appliances.

And as the country's power needs keep growing, America's rural electric, with the help of REA, continue to raise living standards and increase purchasing power.

They generate business in the billions. And everybody benefits.

Lamb Farmers Request 3178A To Grow Cotton For Export

Farmers in the 23 High Plains counties have requested 39,046 acres on which to grow cotton for export in 1964--almost 45 percent of the estimated 88,000 such acres asked for in the nation and 95 percent of the 41,402 export acres requested in Texas.

Under new cotton legislation approved last April, each farmer was given the opportunity to sign up for and plant a maximum of 5 percent above his total allotment, provided the cotton production on the additional acres was sold for export at the "world price." In order that the additional acreage be approved by the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, farmers were required to furnish bond by July 1 guaranteeing export of the cotton with the benefit of government price support.

The acreage totals here, however, represent only the acres for which farmers "signed up," and are not necessarily the same as the total acres finally approved by ASC. By the same token, they do not represent the number of export acres planted because even farmers who signed and became bonded for export acreage were not required to plant all or any part of the acreage requested. Acreage actually planted for export will not be known until after ASC offices get the measured cotton acreage on all of the farms requesting export acres. Some of the farmers will probably drop out entirely, while others will not plant the entire maximum for which they were approved. Final figures will probably not be available until about October 15.

According to a USDA report, most of the export acreage requested was in three states--Texas, California and Mississippi--with Texas accounting for almost half. California was second with 19,553 acres and Mississippi third with 13,957. Percentage-wise, California's requests came to 2.6 percent of the state's total allotment, which far outstrips the .6 percent of total allotment for Texas and .9 percent for Mississippi.

The 39,046 export acres requested on the High Plains comes to about 35 percent of the 113,632 acres that would have been allocated here and each farmer asked for the full 5 percent allowances. And, since the total requests came from farmers with larger acreage allotments.

Boll Weevil Meeting Slated July 22-23

July 22 and 23 are the dates set for two meetings at which more definite plans will be laid for this fall's massive boll weevil control program.

The first will bring together the Boll Weevil Technical Advisory Committee, composed largely of the nation's top entomologists. This group is expected to lay down the guidelines for the area to be sprayed, chemicals to be used, rates of application and other phases of the program on which their experience will prove valuable.

The following day the Area-wide Boll Weevil Committee will meet. This committee, made up of one member from each of the 23 High Plains counties in Plain Cotton Growers territory, will consider Advisory Committee recommendations and is preferred, and rubbing is not necessary for a good gloss.

Guests in the Mike Dent home Sunday evening following church services were Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Newman and Nita, Plainview and the Lewis Faver family.

Dinner guests in the Lewis Faver home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin and daughter, Dumas and Col. Dudley Faver and son, Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock.

The Ladies Bible class of the Church of Christ met Tuesday at 10:00 a.m. Mrs. Winston taught the lesson, Mrs. Fay is next week's teacher.

Floor Care Can Be Made Easy

COLLEGE STATION, July—Research studies indicate that many homemakers dislike house cleaning, and floor care seems to be the most dreaded job, says Mrs. Eula J. Newman, Extension Service home management specialist.

Modern cleaning equipment used regularly and correctly gets rid of dust and soil the easy way, she adds. Increasing in popularity is the floor polisher. Sales for this time-and-energy saver increased about 28 percent in April, 1964 over the same period a year ago.

Saving the floor also saves money, besides conserving time and energy. Floor coverings and wood floors last longer when proper care is given.

Versatile cleaning equipment is designed to scrub, wax and polish floors. There may be two sets of brushes, one for scrubbing and waxing and another for polishing. Felt or lambs wool pads put on a fine finish and also help prevent slipping.

Mrs. Newman cautions that the electric floor polisher is not used with self-polishing wax. A long handled standard wax applicator or a clean dry cloth

Spot Market Quotations Announced

The announcement by the Secretary of Agriculture that beginning August 1 the price quoted for the base quality of cotton, Middling 1-inch, in each of the 15 designated bona fide spot markets will be the price at which this cotton is traded before Payments In Kind are made on the cotton is certainly good news to producers.

In fact, keeping these quotations at the domestic level instead of having them fall to the world level was the primary objective of producer groups who fought to have PIKs made to the last handler rather than the first buyer, all price quotations would be pulled down to the world price level, placing producers at a considerable disadvantage before the public and in legislative dealings.

It was announced on June 3 that the PIKs would be available to domestic users or other handlers in trade channels after the cotton leaves the hands of the farmer. Therefore, since all cotton will enter trade channels at the higher level, this will make prices available on a large number of transactions at the higher level, and these prices can be used by Quotations Committees and the Department of Agriculture in determining quotations.

Cotton Quotations are published daily by the Agricultural Marketing Service's Cotton Division, and if prices from which PIKs have already been deducted are used in developing these quotations, they will be adjusted upward to reflect the price before the PIK was made.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sanders had as their guests Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday last week their son Jim Sanders from Midland.

Controlled Atmosphere Apples Are Available

The latest puzzler for the food shopper is "C-A" apples, a product currently being advertised and promoted by the nation's food stores. The C-A apples look and taste like any other fresh apples, and consumers may wonder about the sudden interest in this particular variety. The letters stand for "Controlled Atmosphere," and are the trademark of a commercial process, the first of several being tested, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.

Scientists are attempting to create suspended animation by putting fruits and vegetables in a "Modified atmosphere"--the scientists' term for it--so that they will stay fresh for longer periods of time.

The theory behind the process lies in the fact that fruits and vegetables, like living things, continue to age through a normal breathing process. But changing the make-up of the air around them--mainly by reducing the amount of oxygen--can slow this aging.

Retarding of the aging process is nothing new, says Mrs. Clyatt. Homemakers and food handlers have been doing it for years by lowering the temperature with ice or commercial refrigeration.

Nor are modified atmospheres new. Experimental work dates back to 1917, but so far only apples have been stored commercially using these methods last year, nearly 20 percent of the fresh apple crop was C-A stored, with some fruit held for a full year.

The process sounds simple, but the technicians have found all sorts of complications in applying them because, appearance to the contrary, an apple is not just an apple. Under modified atmosphere, varieties of the same fruit and vegetables respond differently. The same is true for those grown in different seasons, in different methods of fertilizations and irrigation. The variations have led one company to a widely diversified program, seeking a total environmental control. This is a lengthy and expensive study, since each commodity must be tested on the basis of variety, region of production and length of time needed to retain good shelf life.

Another commercial method is the use of liquid nitrogen to lower the oxygen content in the air. To date, there have been short term tests of this method with a variety of vegetables, but little in the way of conclusive and economical results.

With all these experiments going on, the scientists agree that the time tested method lower temperature--is still best for most leafy vegetables.

However, breakthroughs have come about in the use of liquid nitrogen in polyethylene bags have been placed on the market by a leading frozen food processor.

Reports indicate that the tomato slices remain crisp, firm and fresh as if just picked. Consideration is being given to freezing strawberries with this flash freeze method. The use of nitrogen freezes the product in a few seconds and keeps the ice

County Semi-Annual Traffic Report Lists 6 Killed And 21 Injured

The Highway Patrol investigated 14 rural traffic accidents in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one death, two injuries, and an estimated property damage of $10,620.00.

The rural traffic accident summary in Lamb County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 62 crashes resulting in six persons killed, 21 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $59,878.00.

"As of July 3, there had been a total of 1,060 fatal crashes in Texas taking the lives of 1,288 persons," the Sergeant stated. This is 174 more traffic deaths than for the same period of 1963. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities, not only exceeding the 1963 all-time high of 1,060 deaths but going over the 3,000 fatality mark.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor stated, "This is not just a probability, but a possible reality, unless the motoring public becomes more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws which would break the rising trend."

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Simmons have been staying with his father, Mr. John Simmons of Olton who is ill. Visitors in his home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nix, Mr. and Mrs. Dessie Williams all of Lubbock.
