MISS SUSAN BRITTON

Susan Britton Named All-League By NGBL

Susan Britton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Britton was selected to the National Girls Basketball League's 1969 All League team. The presentation of the trophy was made at the American National Tournament in Gallup, New Mexico last weekend. Selections to the All League team were made by the coaches in the League. She also received an Honorable Mention to the All American Team of the Amateur Athletic Union. This announcement was also made at the National tourney. Members chosen to the All American team were selected by an A. A. U. committee.

Miss Britton, a life-time resident of Earth, began her ball playing career at the tender age of 11. Her talents first came under the direction of Eldon Davis, coach of the junior high Wolverettes. Susan boosted her eighth grade team to the district title.

As a freshman at Springlake Earth she developed her ball-handling talents under the guidance of Wolverette coach Dean Foshee. During the four years as a Wolverette the team won district, state runners-up, one year and were state champions for two years. Her superior shooting gave her an average of 25 points per game her senior year, and won her recognition as a member of the All State Team for four years.

Miss Britton's unquestionable talents, undying devotion to the game and her team and the enthusiasm she displayed both on the court and off won her to the heart of all who saw her play.

Harley Redin, coach of the renowned Wayland Baptist College Flying Queens, was among the many that realized her talents. She accepted his offer to play with the Flying Queens along with a scholarship. This year Miss Britton was a rover and at times the only freshman starter for the team.

Miss Britton is an elementary education major at Wayland. Four other Flying Queens received honors at the Gall up tourney. They were: sophomore Wanda Rose, Most Valuable Player; seniors Linda Tucker and Linda Price, All League Team; and Barbara McAninch, Honorable Mention.

$3,000 Taken In Burglary From Brown - Jordan

A Burglary at Brown-Jordan Ford Thursday around midnight resulted in the loss of approximately $3000 in merchandise and property damage according to estimates made by co-owners Gene Brown and Earl Jordan.

Taken in the burglary were tools and spark plugs valued at $300; two electric adding machines, two electric typewriters, a calculator and money and merchandise from the Coke and candy machines.

Also taken was a 1968 Ford Mustang, owned by Smythe Weaver. The car was in the service department for minor repairs and had been left in the shop overnight. Mr. Weaver has since regained his car. It was discovered abandoned and without damage in the east section of Littlefield by Littlefield authorities.

The co-owners theory is that the intruders gained entrance to the firm through two broken windows on the east side of the building. They further summarized the time of the burglary as being between 11:18 p. m. to 12:34 a. m.

Brown explained the reason for the theory was that an electric clock was unplugged at 11:18 p. m. and the time on the calculator was stopped at 12:34, indicating the intruders were on the premises one hour and six minutes.

Upon entering the store the vandals took all the wrenches on a tool board displayed in the lobby of the building.

An attempt was made to open the firm's safe located in Mr. Brown's office. Chisels and punches were used in the unsuccessful attempt to pry open the safe. Brown said, "Extensive damage was done to the safe but fortunately the contents were never reached." According to Brown the safe contained $100 in cash, in addition to several checks and valuable documents.

Discontented with their haul, the thieves entered the service department by breaking two windows on the west side of the building and made their get-a-way in a 1968 Ford Mustang owned by Smythe Weaver.

The overhead shop doors unlock from the inside, allowing the intruders to exit in the car.

The burglary was discovered at 8 a. m. Friday morning by Earl Jordan as he prepared to open the shop for business. He reported it immediately to city marshal Alvin Pittman.

Pittman began an immediate investigation. Though clues seem to be scarce, Pittman has doubled his efforts to solve the crime and recover the stolen merchandise.

Regular street patrol was not made that night, as Pittman was off duty. His contract calls for city patrol 6 nights per week allowing him only one night off. Last week Pittman was off duty Thursday.

In the firm's 19 year history at Earth only one other such incident has occurred, when in 1957 intruders took $160 from the firm. Brown stated that there was no insurance on the stolen goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Middleton and Phil visited relatives and friends in Tulsa and Holdenville, Oklahoma. Mrs. George Middleton, Holdenville, returned home with the family.

Since we are the only folks in this wide wonderful world who make mistakes I'm sure most of you will never understand why the Hospital District Election story did not see print last week.

It was written but somehow dropped from sight when making up the front page. We left for Oklahoma as soon as the paper was finished and did not discover until Monday after we returned from Oklahoma that it had been among the missing. However, (lucky us) one of the ardent readers of the News-Sun brought it to our attention in an unsigned note.

First of all let me say we sincerely appreciate interest in local news coverage. Without the tremendous cooperation of the area people we could never cover the news so thoroughly.

We are indeed glad when interested people bring to our attention the fact that a story of such interest to the area failed to see print. (But why, must it be accompanied by a sarcastic unsigned note???)

So often our youth are criticized for doing something without bothering to accept the responsibility for their acts. Yet, if we stopped to think we would know they were only walking in the foot steps of their elders, who mail unsigned, petty notes.

If we, who are of adult age would actually grow up before our children grow up, then delinquent problems would be few and far between. Our petty actions leave much to be desired. As model parents we are failures in so many ways.

Our THANK YOU'S and COMPLIMENTS to others for the good they do has seemingly been covered by cobwebs. Taking first place on the lips of multitudes and masses of people is gossip. For the benefit of all readers of the News-Sun, I extend an apology for the erroneous omission of that story of top interest to the community. We are hardly such poor losers as to play ostrich and stick our heads in the sand. However to you who wish to insult without using your name, we can only say, we're sorry for you.

A LARGE NUMBER OF COMMON household stains do not require special treatment except for a fifteen minute cool-water-soak period before garments are put in the washer, says Doris Myers, Extension specialist at Texas A&M. For fabrics which can be bleached, the addition of chlorine bleach to hot sudsy water will remove many common stains.

With less than one week remaining before the April 15 deadline for placement of 1969 inspection stickers Lamb County inspection stations are expecting a "last minute rush" of vehicle owners who have not taken care of the chore.

Steering wheels, rims and seat belts were added to the items to be inspected by the 1967 State Legislature. The old standards of windshield wipers and washers, head lights, turn signals, brakes, horn and stop lights must also undergo inspection. The inspection station in Earth is Brown and Jordan Ford. Busby Motor Company in Springlake has reported that so far they have inspected only 500 cars.

Financial Facts

By Norian Dudley

On January 1st, 1780, the state of Massachusetts issued paper currency in which both the amount and the name of the payee were written in ink in spaces so allotted. These notes measured 9" x 4-1/2", with eight square inches of type matter but no illustrations. One of the finest examples of the coiners' art is the decadrachma from ancient Syracuse. These were struck off during 405 to 335 B. C. and reveal art work of exceptional beauty. One side shows a profile while the reverse side depicts a chariot race. A triangular segment from a Spanish dollar was used as a coin. Called "one bit" it had a value of 12-1/2 cents. Two of them equalled 25 cents in our money, hence the term "two bits."

1970 Maverick On Display April 17 At Brownd - Jordan Ford

Maverick by Ford challenges the United States imported car market with a $1,995 suggested retail price, average gas economy of 22-1/2 miles per gallon, a peppy 100-horsepower engine, easy serviceability and the fun look of the '70's.

John Naughton, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said that the 1970 Maverick represents another Ford first, following in the wake of such successful car lines as Mustang, Fairlane, Falcon, Thunderbird and LTD.

In size, Maverick takes an independent stand between the sub-compact imports and domestic compacts. With a 103-inch wheelbase and 179.4-inch overall length, Maverick is 19 inches longer than its principal foreign competitor. It is nine inches wider and five inches lower than the import and has almost twice the trunk space.

years to come. It is proof that a small, inexpensive car can be beautiful. Maverick has virtually all of the advantages of the imported small car and none of the disadvantages," he said.

The standard 170-cubic-inch-displacement six-cylinder engine provides 105-h.p. for plenty of "go."

Maverick has a solid 12-month/12,000-mile warranty that transfers with the car, in contrast to some warranties that apply only to the first owner.

ECONOMY OF OPERATION
As to operating economy, Mavericks equipped with the standard 170-c. i. d. engine and manual transmission averaged 22-1/2 m. p. g. on regular fuel in Ford tests under simulated city-suburban driving conditions.

In addition to good fuel economy, an important aspect of inexpensive operation is ease of maintenance and repair, plus reliability.

Such features as external headlamp adjustment, an easily removable instrument cluster pod, drop-out heating and ventilation units and easy access to engine components, allow for quicker, lower cost servicing of the car.

A one-piece rubber seal cuts windshield replacement time from more than two hours for similar tape seals, to about one hour. A quick-disconnect speedometer cable cuts from about one hour for standard type connections, to less than one-half hour the time required to change the speedometer.

Working on the flipper quarter window does not require removal of the quarter trim panel, so repair time is cut from nearly an hour, for a rolltype quarter window, to under 30 minutes.

The car's simplicity of design means lower repair bills from the professional technician. It also means less repair time for the do-it-yourself mechanic.

Maverick will cost less to operate than the leading import because it has fewer routine maintenance requirements. In a Ford comparison of scheduled maintenance requirements as established in the owner's manuals for both cars, assuming an average of 12,000 miles, first-year costs for the import were found to be about $98 and only about $44 for Maverick.

Ford's 6,000-mile/six-month oil change and 36,000-mile/three-year chassis lubrication program help minimize these owner maintenance costs.

LOW PURCHASE PRICE
The manufacturer's suggested retail price for the 1970 Maverick is $1,995. This price includes the seven percent federal excise tax, but does not include state or local taxes, licensing, dealer preparation, or destination charge.

Although it is priced at about the same level as the original 1960 Falcon, it is actually cheaper in terms of the proportion of average family income required for purchase. With 35 standard features the original Falcon did not have, Maverick is an extremely well equipped car.

MRS. JERRY BEARD (nee Francis Davenport)

Frances Davenport - Jerry Beard Exchange Vows Saturday

In a beautiful double ring candlelight ceremony, Frances Davenport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Davenport of Bangs, became the bride of Jerry Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Beard of Snyder. The ceremony was read at 7 p. m. in the Concord Baptist Church of Bangs on Saturday, April 5, with Bro. Bill Hays of Dilley officiating.

The couple pledged their wedding vows before an altar centered with a large fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli, calla lilies and emerald fern, placed in front of a white wrought iron archway decorated with the same flowers. The altar was backed by four multi-pronged candelabra entwined with greenery and white gladioli. Four potted palms enhanced the front of the church sanctuary. Family pews were marked with lighted votive candles entwined with white satin streamers. Beautiful wedding music was provided by solist Clarence Dycus of Brownwood and pianist Mrs. Kenneth Herring of Odessa. Dycus sang "Always," "Whither Thou Goest" and the "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of pearl de soie fashioned with long sleeves and round neckline. Lace appliques accented with seed pearls decorated the bodice and a wide train which fell in one deep pleat from a bow at the waistline. The bride's shoulder length veil of white illusion, was held by a crown of white satin roses accented by pearls and lace covered petals. She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations, staphenotis, and miniature ivy which encircled a lovely white orchid atop a white Bible.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Vic Coker, matron of honor, Earth, Mrs. Wayne Fisher, Bangs, Miss Arla Jo Payne, cousin of the bride, Colorado City, and Mrs. Troy Pallette, Brownwood. They were attired in identical floor length g-line gowns of yellow shantung, fashioned with an empire bodice, and accented in the back with a floor-length train of yellow satin attached to the gown with a bow. Each attendant wore long white gloves, matching veils and shoes and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white frenched carnations with yellow and white satin streamers.

The bride's table was laid with net over satin and centered with the bride and her attendants' bouquets. A lovely three-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow rose buds and topped with a miniature bride and groom completed the setting. The groom's table was laid with yellow satin and centered with a chocolate cake.

From these tables guests were served cake, coffee, punch and nuts.

Miss Janice Rider, Santa Anna, presided at the bride's book. Others in the house-party were Celia Gage, Houston, Mrs. Stanley Harman, Santa Anna, Mrs. Rudy Patterson, Odessa, Mrs. Rex Bell, Arlington, and Mrs. Dalton Davis, Coleman. For the wedding trip the bride traveled in a coat and dress ensemble of yellow and white dacron knit with white accessories. Her orchid corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet. Following a wedding trip to Galveston and Houston the couple will be at home at Earth. The bride, a 1964 graduate of Santa Anna High School, received her Bachelor of

Salmon Used In Many Delightful Dishes

Salmon, a Lenten favorite, is found in several varieties at the grocery store. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, says the most expensive is red or Sockeye salmon. It had deep red meat and a considerable amount of oil and a firm texture.

For salads, sandwiches or scalloped dishes, the Texas A&M specialist recommends Chinook or King salmon. It has a very soft texture, is rich in oil and separates into large flakes.

Coho or Silver salmon is large flaked red salmon best for salads and open-face sandwiches.

The least expensive pink salmon, light to deep pink in color, is best for soups or scalloped dishes.

Spring Housecleaning Can Be Dangerous

Housecleaning and gardening, two rituals of Spring, are accompanied by whiffs of activity in which safety precautions are too often ignored or forgotten, warns the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"We must remember that this array of materials--aerosol cleansers and paints, garden chemicals, solvents, as well as the tools being used--are often objects of fascination to young children," reminds John W. Ferree, executive director of the Society. "They want to get into the act," says Dr. Ferree, "and our accident files tell us with tragic repetitiveness the results in serious eye injuries and even blindness."

According to the latest data from The National Health Survey, eye injuries are the leading cause of vision impairment in persons under 65--and more than 40 percent of the accidents causing vision impairment in the U. S. today occur in the home.

"Eye safety during Spring cleaning and gardening chores can include do's as well as don'ts," adds Dr. Ferree. "Giving a child a task of his own, replacing potentially hazardous substances with harmless materials, gives him a sense of participation, as well as keeping him out of danger."

Eye hazards extend to adults as well as children. The Society recommends that all members of the family wear all-purpose safety goggles when mowing lawns (especially with power mowers), burning trash, pruning bushes, spraying plants with insecticides or while using chemical fertilizers. Your local optical equipment center can recommend proper safety goggles for around the home and garden.

The Society warns that trash fires were high on the list of last year's causes of serious eye accidents. Glass

THE MODERN SUPERMARKET'S accurate name might be a variety store. Most sell shampoos, medicine, house shoes and car oil representing 26.6 percent of the value of grocer's sales in 1967 according to Extension home economists at Texas A&M University. This represents about $17.6 billion Americans spend at the grocery store for nonfood items.

Cocunut oil is often used as in filled milk. Cocunut oil is highly saturated and many nutritionists and medical doctors advise some persons to limit their consumption of saturated fats, using polyunsaturated fats instead.

This, she says, causes much of the controversy over the sale of the milk substitutes.

Therefore, Miss Springer continues, substituting filled milk for whole milk is not solving the problem. She says that filled milks made with corn, soy, safflower or cottonseed oils may be a real contribution to better health.

OF THE FOURTH OF THE FOOD dollar spent for non-food items, six percent for housewares and household supplies, five percent for alcoholic beverages, four percent for health and beauty aids.

Catching Doves Is A Blast

GOLDTHWAITE ---- Two Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game management officers were lent a helping hand recently while they were trapping and banding mourning doves.

The two men set up their drop net and placed the blasting caps used to part the trigger ropes which drop the net, when a raging thunderstorm moved in.

The men sought shelter from the storm some distance from the net. Suddenly, there was a brilliant flash of lightning followed by a blast-like report. Lightning had detonated the dynamite caps, and the net had dropped.

After the storm passed, the men went to set up the net again and found three doves enmeshed.

The birds were banded and released.

Specialist Explains Milk Substitutes

Imitation and substitute foods today have engulfed a large section of the grocer's dairy food cases. Some substitutes have been perfected to the extent they are hard to distinguish from the real products, according to Extension Nutritionist Sally Springer.

Substitutes include milk, margarine, whipped toppings, coffee whiteners and ice-cream.

Substitute milks fall into two categories: filled milk and imitation milk. Filled milks are illegal in Texas and cannot be sold in interstate trade, explains Miss Springer, but they are used today by military personnel overseas. Imitation milks are legal in Texas.

Filled milk is a combination of milk solids, from nonfat dry milk or Grade A skim milk, and fats or oils other than milk fat (butterfat), explains the Extension specialist at Texas A&M.

The fats or oils may be coconut, soybean or cottonseed oil. To simulate real milk nutritionally, filled milk is vitamin fortified, the specialist adds.

Imitation milk is a true dairy imitation; it does not contain milk solids as does filled milk. Ingredients, according to Miss Springer, are vegetable fat, sodium caseinate, vitamins, mineral coloring, an emulsifier and seaweed extract called carrageenan.

Imitation milk is still in an experimental state, according to Miss Springer, and is not sufficiently standardized to be recommended as a substitute for whole, skim nonfat or filled milk.

"Neither filled or imitation milk is milk as we know it," says the nutritionist.

"Research has not shown that coconut oil is a satisfactory substitute for butterfat."

Buying And Home Improvement Survey Here During April

Households in this area will be included in a nationwide survey during April of consumer expectations to make major purchases and to buy home repair services, according to Francis H. Wilmer, Director of the regional office of the Bureau of the Census in Denver.

Bureau interviewers will ask householders about their plans to buy a house, a new or used car, or major household appliances during the next year. In addition, the interviewers will ask about repairs and alterations made during the past three months and any planned for the near future.

The quarterly survey serves as a guide to national economic growth and is taken from a scientifically designed sample of U. S. households that serves as a measure of what families in the entire Nation are planning in the way of purchases.

The most recent survey-- made in January--showed that consumer expectations to buy cars and houses were close to the levels of last October but well below peak levels of July 1968. There had been a decline in expectations to buy new cars during the October-December 1968 quarter but an upswing in expectations to buy household durables. Expectations to buy houses remained virtually unchanged.

New Mailing Address For Wage, Excise Tax Returns

(Dallas, Texas)--Northern Texas employers filing wage and excise tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service should now send them to Southwest Service Center, 3651 S. Interregional Highway, Austin Texas 78740, instead of the district office. Envelopes addressed to the service center are included in the tax-forms package mailed to employers. Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said that mailing tax returns directly to the service center will save the government several million dollars a year in shipping and handling costs. Congress enacted the direct mail requirement in 1966 and IRS is introducing it in stages. Currently, the requirement applies to employers' wage and excise returns, Forms 941 and 720, in Northern Texas. Railroad retirement tax returns, CT 1 and CT-2 also should be sent directly to the service center.

The new mailing requirement will not disturb the relationship existing between the taxpayer and local IRS offices, Mr. Campbell said. All the services that have been provided taxpayers in the past from the district and local offices will continue to be provided at the same locations," he said.

26,000 Boll Weevil Traps In Area Counties

Some 26,000 traps have been set this year for Old Man Boll Weevil, ready to snare him the minute he rouses from his winter nap. Another 13,000 traps are ready for use at strategic locations later in the season.

The traps, bright yellow and sexily baited with live weevils, will be used this year in two separate but closely related projects. One is the largest-ever attempt at eradication, covering between 40,000 and 50,000 acres of cotton in an area 60 miles long by 40 miles wide. This eradication test run will utilize most of the total 40,000 traps. The remainder will be scattered along a zig-zag survey and detection line longer than the road from Lubbock to Houston. The line begins at the northern edge of Briscoe County, drops south along the rim of the Cap Rock through Floyd, Crosby, Lynn, Garza and Borden counties, then turns West Across Dawson county and follows the Gaines-Andrews County line to the New Mexico border.

Following the wandering route by auto, Dr. Dale Bottrell, Research Entomologist with the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, clocked an amazing 549 miles. Purpose of this project is to keep tab on movement of weevils into the High Plains area from weevil-infested cotton south and southeast of the High Plains Diapause Control Program that has successfully prevented significant weevil migration into the area for the past five years.

The pheromone traps, or sex traps as they are called, stand about a foot tall and are coated with a sticky substance which snares weevils when they approach to investigate the caged live-weevil bait in the center. Bait weevils are reared in the Federal Boll Weevil Research Laboratory at State College, Mississippi, and will be flown to the High Plains on a regular schedule throughout the season. The first shipment will arrive during the week of April 7. Cooperating in the eradication test, at a total cost of about $25,000 are Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the Plant Pest Control and Entomology Research divisions of USDA, Cotton Producers Institute and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Medicare Benefits Changing For Mentally Ill

What do the newer provisions of the Medicare laws mean for the mentally ill?

Under the 1967 changes in the laws, patients who use their 90 days' coverage for inpatient hospital care in a single spell of illness may now draw on a lifetime reserve of 60 additional days.

This is favorable for the psychiatric or mentally ill patient because it gives more time for recovery.

This extra time might mean the difference between victory and defeat in a siege with mental illness which, it is often forgotten, can come and go in its attacks just as do other illnesses.

Another provision of the law revisions provides reductions for psychiatric patients in hospitals. Patients who are in a psychiatric hospital on the first day they become entitled to their 150 days of coverage for a spell of illness are still subject to have all days of such care immediately preceding entitlement subtracted from their available

ONE OF TWO REMAINING 5-CENT ITEMS, the chocolate bar, may be doomed, according to Extension home economists. In the past three years, the chocolate cravers have gobbled up all the world's yearly production and most of the reserves. The result: increase in prices from 17 cents a pound in 1965 to 49 cents. Other factors which may jeopardize the nickel candy bar are the higher manufacturing and distribution costs.

New Mental Health Column To Start

Are you worried about mental or emotional troubles? What should you know and do about mental illness?

In a new series, beginning today in this newspaper, Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, Director of the government's National Institute of Mental Health will bring up-to-date and authoritative help to answer questions like these.

Called "Mental Health Matters," the series will appear once a week and will deal with a wide range of subjects.

Alcoholism, drug addiction, misuse of pills and sleeping pills, LSD, marijuana, depression, suicide prevention, racial tension, urban crowding, violent behavior, marital troubles, schizophrenia—all these and more conditions are part of the immense problem of mental illness and will be written about in the new series.

Personal medical or health advice cannot be given in the columns; this you should get from your doctor because it is not possible nor helpful for the columns to prescribe, treat, or suggest specific measures for any individual case.

Readers who have questions, however, which they would like to see articles about are invited to write to Name of Paper. The letters will be passed on to the National Institute of Mental Health, The National Institute of Mental Health, located in Chevy Chase, Maryland just outside the Nation's capital, Washington, D. C., was set up by law to support research, manpower training, and development of services to reduce mental illness and for "the improvement of the mental health of the people of the United States."

With some 6500 employees, the NIMH carries on a broad research program in its own basic and clinical laboratories staffed by 500 scientists and technical workers.

The Institute also supports research and training through grants in over 100 universities and research institutions.

Over 330 Community Mental Health Centers around the country are being set up by the aid of Institute grants. Expected to number 500 by 1970, these centers will provide mental health clinics, in and outpatient, emergency hospitalization, and other services to 50,000,000 people.

"Mental Health Matters," prepared for Earth News-Sun by the Institute, will bring you each week news and developments from all these fronts in the nationwide attack on America's No. 1 public health problem, mental illness.

4-H Horse Show At Sweetwater

The seventh annual State 4-H Horse Show will be held in the Nolan County Coliseum at Sweetwater, August 14-16, according to a joint announcement by John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Wade Forester, president of the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce.

Forestersaid, "We are proud to have the show, since Sweetwater has looked forward to hosting the event."

The Extension Service is looking forward to the show, noted Hutchison, due to a history of cooperation with Sweetwater in conducting various events at the coliseum. The director said the facilities were adequate for staging this event, and he indicated a sincere desire to make this show an outstanding one.

B. F. Yeates, Extension horse specialist at Texas A&M University, will serve as show manager, and will be assisted by Tom Davison, assistant state 4-H Club leader. County agricultural agents in the area will serve as ring stewards. A steering committee and other functional committees will be appointed in the near future by the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce.

Yeates noted the show has grown each year in both quality and prestige, and this year 400 participants are expected, representing the more than 10,000 4-H horse club members. The number of entries have been limited, but the addition of events has caused the show to increase in size. Last year the mounted drill team was added, and this year a cutting horse contest will become a new addition to the show.

Classes in addition to the above two, will be halter, showmanship, western pleasure, reining, barrel racing and pole bending.

Participants in the state show have been winners in county and district shows. This is a requirement of eligibility, said Yeates.

Other than the show, barbecues and parties for the 4-H'ers will be held in the annex building.

Hot Check Writers, Beware!

AUSTIN, (Special)—Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon guided Senate passage of a bill which will clamp down on hot check writers.

This bill will make it unlawful to give an employee an insufficient check for wages.

"In the past this has not been unlawful, and has caused a real hardship on many people who receive a check for work done. They go down and they spend the money for groceries, then the check bounces, the grocery man calls them, and they have to make it good," Senator Hightower said in explaining the reasoning behind the bill.

"I think that when a person gets their pay for work done that they should feel sure that this is a good check and that they can rely on it," he continued.

Hightower also said chances are good that the bill will win quick approval by the House and eventually become law.

Mrs. Floyd Bills is a patient in the Amherst hospital.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cole were: Carol and Jessie, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bills and girls, Denver City; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cole and daughter, Olton; Mrs. Alice Martin, City; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cole, Las Lunas, New Mexico; and Frances Davis and boys, City. The guests included all of Mrs. Cole's children grandchildren and in-laws.

Texas Has The Yellow Rose And More

Austin - "Flowers of Texas" a spectacle of bloom and blossom introduces some 60 species of Texas' most beautiful flowers, shrubs and trees in all seasons.

The Texas Highway Department, which released the lavish new color folder today, expects it to be one of the most popular items among the family of recreational and travel literature produced by the Department.

The new folder was designed for two purposes, to erase any notion held by out-of-State residents that Texas is an arid, barren wasteland, and to enhance the pleasure of both Texans and visitors by identifying some of the State's most common and colorful plants.

Far from being a wasteland, the folder points out that Texas leads the nation with an abundance of blossoming plants, more than 5,000 species of wild flowers a long. Closeup color photographs illustrate tropical plants of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, wild orchids from the Big Thicket, bright plains flowers, and vivid blooms of thorny cacti.

Flower fanciers and garden clubs have frequently asked that such a publication be added to the family of travel literature produced by the Texas Highway Department. In response to that demand the new folder lists 56 species by common and botanical names, including facts about blooming season and where they are usually found. Other species are illustrated in landscape views.

G-4697 is a medium maturity high-yielding, strong-standing hybrid producing grain of excellent quality. Yields of 179.5, 175, 154, and 143 bushels per acre have been recorded in 1968 in Castro county. G-4697 produces uniform wide leaves and girthy ears. Excellent threshability is reported. Plant early for highest yields and superior standability.

G-4333 is a short season high-yielding, strong-standing, single cross which established top yield records in 1968. At Tulla 185 bushels per acre was chalked up and 147 bushels per acre made at Dimmitt. G-4333 is very attractive with uniform stalk and ear height. It responds to higher plant population and narrow rows where fertility and water make top yields possible and does unusually well under average conditions. G-4333 has out-yielded competitors in this early maturing category. Be sure to plant G-4333 in 1969.

G-711A is a full season high tonnage silage hybrid with good grain content. G-711A was the highest yielding corn silage hybrid in the High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway, with 30.05 tons per acre at 70% moisture. G-711A tends to have higher protein content than many hybrids. This well known top yielding silage hybrid with many 30 ton yields to its credit is hard to beat. If you are planting for silage you should be planting G-711A.
