WORK DELAYED AT NEW W. P. A. SEWING ROOMS

Lack of Machines Is Holding Up Work of Making Garments

Work is at a standstill at the newly-instituted WPA sewing rooms in Hall County. The full crew of 12 women in Memphis and 10 in Turkey are reporting each morning and afternoon for work, but because of the fact that sewing machines have not arrived, work is being delayed. The machines are expected to arrive within a day or two.

One thousand yards of cloth, prints, outing and shirting, was brought back from Lubbock last week by Mrs. L. C. Smyers, Memphis supervisor. The cloth will be converted into clothing by the relief sewing room workers, and the clothes will be distributed to the needy over the county by a county commodity board, to be set up shortly.

Why Amos 'n' Andy Missed Broadcast

For the first time since they became stars, Amos 'n' Andy, famous blackface radio comedians, missed a broadcast, recently. Here is their alibi—Freeman Gosden (right) and Charles Correll, their creators, were prevented from reaching the studios when delayed on a hunting trip near Hancock, Md. And it looks as though there'd be plenty of wild turkey on the menu.

MEMPHIS TO BE REPRESENTED AT CENTENNIAL

Will Have Panel in West Texas C. C. Exhibit at Show

Memphis will have space at the Texas Centennial in which to have a six-months exhibit, depicting the resources and possibilities of the town. The permanent display will be witnessed by the estimated ten million visitors to the Texas Centennial.

Six thousand square feet of space has been given the West Texas Chamber of Commerce by the Dallas Centennial authorities for the purpose of depicting the agricultural resources and development of the West Texas territory.

Each affiliated town with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be allotted a space two by six feet, in order to prepare a panel showing the development and resources of the town, which panels will serve as the background for the entire West Texas exhibit.

Enough lineal space is being provided (6,000 square feet) so that each of the 195 affiliated towns with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce can have one of these panels.

The subject matter in these spaces is not necessarily limited to agriculture, and towns may choose to display anything having a bearing on industrial and commercial development and growth.

Each of the 10 districts will occupy a space 35 by eight feet, with the back wall of the booth given over to telling the story of one particular West Texas product. In this way the complete story of (Continued on page 8)

SHORT COURSE IN BUSINESS MERCHANDISING

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 EA Service Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The new administrator of Federal Administration, is about to begin offering short courses in business merchandising to the farmers and business men of any community.

Years ago agricultural leaders have been offering short courses in agriculture to the farmers and business men of any community. He can make music of such service. He can make music of such service. He can make music of such service.

Manufacturers and wholesalers of Dallas, Texas, are now offering a short course in business merchandising to the merchants of the Southwestern Institute, which will be held in Memphis on Dec. 5-6. The course will be presented to the business men and women of Memphis without cost. All expenses of the speaker will be borne by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

 "Modern business is a battle. It's a battle of brains. Capital once had all the power of business, but that day is history. Brains are in the saddle now. The merchant who exercises good common sense and excels his competitor in service, is the man who gets the business today."

Among the interesting subjects to be discussed during the forthcoming Merchants Institute, will be retail salesmanship, advertising, display and merchandising problems.

The course will be presented to the business men and women of Memphis without cost. All expenses of the speaker will be borne by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Workmen are busy remodeling the interior arrangements of the Bullard Tailor Shop. Mr. Bullard is installing entirely new fixtures, and plans in the near future to put a new front on the building.

Klever Kraks of Plaska Knuts

Some people are going to be surprised to see this column appear again; but here we are, just to show you.

We hope everyone had a lovely Thanksgiving and got invited to a swell dinner, like some of our esteemed friends were. How do you do it kids?

We wonder if the Jones sisters ever went to Lakeview in a stolen car.

Katherine, we have been hearing something about a bright remark you made Sunday night, but as yet we haven't learned just what it was.

From information received, we learn that C. W. Jones and four other boys went after Violet Taquard Thursday in the course of the evening. We're still wondering why she didn't go with one or all of them.

We saw two of our ambitious home boys on the Plaska streets the other day, Swift Lindley and Burl Lowe. We know Burl's interest, but Swift has been too secretive. Come on, Swift, who's your girl?

We have been wondering why all the Plaska girls have been so eager-eyed and smiling of late, but we've just found out that it was because Wallace Smith has returned.

One of our official snoopers located R. L. Bently for us Friday, but they refused to give out any information. Where were you, R. L.?

Delora "Pig" Sherley was rather downcast and blue Thursday. All concerned would be much happier if Sleepy Wyatt would get himself a car.

We've all been walking around of tiptoes, for fear we'd catch the blues from Billie Fae Nabers, and we hoped she'd be over them by Thanksgiving. But, alsa, she is worse. Has Jim really quit you Billie Fae?

The Home Economics girls were peacefully having a good time in a loud way Wednesday night, when a mouse interrupted their fun making. Don't taks us too seriously, girls. We usually scare people worse than that. I don't think we did a good job, because in less than five minutes, they were singing again at the top of their

T-Anchor Boys Pleased

Special to The Democrat
 PLASKA, Dec. 2.—Word was received last week from one of the Canyon students that the T-Anchor Cowboys were well pleased with their visit in the Plaska community. They desired to convey their gratitude to everyone who had a hand in making their stay an enjoyable one.

Mr. T. M. Moore congratulated us on our school building, and had a lot to say about the hospitality of the Plaska citizens. Mr. Moore is a professor of agriculture at West Texas State Teachers College. He accompanied the T-Anchor Cowboys when they brought their program to this community.

On the same night, we saw a queer scene through a window. Mr. Howell was working on what looked like a chicken coop. But where are the chickens, Mr. Howell? Sometime about midnight we might get hungry.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE

HERE are some economical dishes so good that you don't even have to mention their low cost as a kind of apology.

Surprise Baked Potatoes

Four good sized potatoes, 1 1/2 cups cooked and diced liver, 2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup tomato juice, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt.

Bake potatoes and cut a slice from the top of each. Scoop out the inside and mash and season with salt, pepper, butter and milk. Beat until light and fluffy. Melt butter, stir in flour and when bubbly stir in tomato juice. Cook and stir until mixture boils. Season with salt and pepper and add cooked and diced liver. Heat to boiling point. Line potato shells with mashed potato and fill with liver in its sauce. Cover with mashed potato and put into a hot oven to brown the top.

Beef liver requires longer cooking than calves' liver. Put it into a sauce pan of boiling water and simmer twenty minutes. Then dice it or use it any way you prefer.

Corn Sticks

One cup cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup boiling water, 1-2 cup flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-3 cup milk, 1 egg, 5 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening.

Mix cornmeal, salt and sugar and stir in boiling water. Let stand until cool. Mix and sift flour and baking powder. Add milk, melted shortening and well

Cut in sticks and place on a baking sheet about 1-2 inch apart. Increase heat in oven to 500 degrees F. and put corn sticks in oven long enough to brown the edges slightly.

Apple Ring Salad

BEEVILLE — Wild persimmon, crepe myrtle, huajilla, agarita, amour river privet have been used by Mrs. William Jaschke of Bee County in making a screen planting for her home, according to Miss Lorena Yates, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Jaschke has spent two years on her yard improvement work and during this time she has made a permanent foundation planting, a senisa hedge, a native screen planting and a rose garden.

She started a grass lawn, but this was killed by the dry weather. She plans to plant a lawn of carpet grass during the fall rainy season, to add a walk in back of the house, to add native shade trees and to plant more rose bushes in her rose garden.

Mrs. Jaschke says that her shrubs have never been watered and that they have not suffered for water even during the dry, hot summer. She removes all the black tight soil and puts in creek soil and leaf mold which she says retains moisture longer.
