

Wool Hearing Delayed Until AAA Is Amended

Hearing Scheduled For Angelo Is Postponed For Indefinite Time

College Station.—A scheduled series of public hearings on a proposal to license dealers in mohair and wool has been postponed, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced. As Texas ranks first as a wool producing state, a meeting was planned for San Angelo on July 29 and 30.

The movement for a license, which concerned only fair trade practices and charges, had been initiated by growers of wool and mohair. Action on the proposal has been deferred until final Congressional action on proposed amendments, to the Agricultural Adjustment Act establishes the status of wool and mohair under the Act.

Methodist Men Enjoy Successful Banquet

With about thirty present, the monthly banquet for men was held at the Methodist church in Eldorado on Tuesday night, beginning at eight-thirty.

A feature of the occasion was a talk by Rev. N. P. Wilkinson, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, which was much enjoyed by his hearers. A number of others present also made talks.

A group of young ladies delighted the assembly with several songs which were appropriate and excellently rendered.

This was one of the most successful of the series of banquets being held for the men of the church under the direction of the pastor, Rev. S. P. Connell.

Lion Chairmen Meet To Plan Program

Meeting at the First Baptist church at eight o'clock last Saturday night, the directors and committee chairmen of the Eldorado Lions Club considered the suggestions made by members of the club at last week's meeting for the program of activities for the current year.

The suggestions made were assigned to the proper committees by the president, Glenn Ratliff, and the club is embarking on a full year's program which should result in marked achievement in Eldorado.

Local Boys Entered In San Antonio Camp

Three young men of Eldorado, John Alexander, Paul Davis and Sam Cloud, left Tuesday to be enrolled in the Citizens Military Training Camp at Camp Bullis, San Antonio.

The course of instruction will last thirty days, and is given by regular officers of the U. S. Army, under conditions much like real Army life.

The local boys are expecting a most enjoyable and instructive stay at the camp.

Meteor Seen Here On Tuesday Morning

J. M. Tuck, Eldorado night watchman, reports that about five minutes before one o'clock on Tuesday morning, July 2, an unusually brilliant meteor was seen to fall southeast of Eldorado.

Mr. Tuck describes the meteor as being apparently about the size of a gallon bucket, of a brilliant blue color, and followed by a trail of fire some six feet long.

The meteor, according to Mr. Tuck, created a bright flash of light for about a second, but it passed so rapidly that he would not have seen it had he not happened to be looking in that direction.

Vacation Bible Class Enrolls 50 Children

The Vacation Bible School being held at the Presbyterian church, under the supervision of Miss Martha Taylor, will continue thru next week. So far the school has enrolled fifty children under the age of thirteen years.

The program consists of instruction and supervised play each day from 8:30 to 11:00 a. m., excepting Saturday.

A group of efficient helpers from the Methodist and Presbyterian churches have been assisting Miss Taylor.

All children of the town of twelve years of age and under are invited to attend.

WOOL, MOHAIR INCLUDED IN NEW AAA MEASURE

Wool and mohair were included in the AAA amendments Wednesday as the Senate agriculture committee sent its draft of the farm administration program revisions to the floor of the Senate, but there were indications that they might not become part of the law.

Marvin Jones, of Texas, chairman of the House agriculture committee said he personally believed they should not be included unless a specific program was worked out.

WPA Head Confers With Local Officials

F. W. Callahan of San Angelo, manager for District 19 of the Works Progress Administration, was in Eldorado last Monday to confer with city authorities and local business men regarding application for federal funds for the purpose of local civic improvements.

Mr. Callahan stated that many cities have already made application for funds, and that work will probably start on some projects in this district in the near future.

Applications and cost estimates are being prepared for the project of installing a municipal waterworks, sewer system, and other public improvements in Eldorado, and will be submitted to district headquarters as soon as completed. It is hoped that this application will be rushed thru and that construction may begin before the end of the summer.

Mr. Callahan will be in Eldorado again next Wednesday, at which time he will discuss these improvements with the Lions Club at their weekly meeting.

Local Wool House Ships 135,000 Pounds

600,000 Pounds Remain In Storage at House Of Eldorado Wool Co.

In line with the increased activity in the wool market during the past few weeks, the Eldorado Wool Company Tuesday shipped 135,000 pounds of wool. Of this shipment, 90,000 pounds went to Wright Bros. and 45,000 pounds to Sheldon & Company, both of Boston, Mass.

This wool was sold during the latter part of last week at prices ranging from 23 1-2 to 25 3-4 cents per pound.

The local warehouse now has on hand approximately 600,000 pounds of wool.

Lee Williams Killed In Wreck Near Angelo

W. Lee Williams, aged 71, a prominent ranchman of Christoval, was fatally injured in a collision on the east approach of the Lone Wolf bridge, and died in a San Angelo hospital some thirty minutes after the accident.

The car driven by Mr. Williams collided with one driven by O. M. Williams of Eden, not related to Lee Williams. O. M. Williams was not seriously hurt.

Funeral services for Mr. Williams were held from the Methodist church in Christoval Thursday morning, with Rev. Mims Jackson officiating. Interment was made in the Christoval cemetery immediately afterward.

Pall bearers were Will Adams, Dan McCrohan, Jim DeLong, Andy Bowen, Clint Pinson and Charles McMillan.

Mr. Williams had been a resident of the Christoval section for more than 45 years, and was well known as a breeder of fine livestock.

Prior to 1925 he specialized in fine horses, and sold thousands of horses and mules to the government. He discontinued raising horses in 1925, and has since centered his attention on the breeding of sheep and Hereford cattle. His ranch consisted of about fifteen thousand acres in Schleicher and Tom Green counties.

Mr. Williams was born at Lorena, in McLennan county, in August, 1864. He came to this section in 1891 from Shackelford county. He served as county commissioner of Schleicher county for sixteen years, resigning in 1906.

Jack Conner of Kingsville, son of J. E. Conner, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Conner and other relatives in Eldorado.

Frank Bradley was among the visitors to the Brady Jubilee.

Miss Inez Cobb, who is visiting at Robert Lee, expects to return home this week-end.

Lee Mohler was called to San Angelo Wednesday to the bedside of his mother, who is seriously ill at her home there.

Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Garey spent the week-end with relatives at Brady.

New Weed In County Called Buffalo Burr

The following letter was received this week by J. E. Hill, of the Eldorado Wool Company, from S. P. Davis, wool and mohair specialist of College Station. Local stockmen had inquired as to the nature of the yellow blossoming thistle plant which has appeared in great numbers in this section since the recent rains.

The letter is self explanatory: "I showed Dr. Reeves the specimens of the weed which is making its debut in your country, and he tells me that it is buffalo burr, Solanum Rostratum, and is one of the nightshade family. I believe from what I can gather that the plant is slightly toxic; however, Dr. Reeves states that it is not known to be poisonous."

Presbyterian Men To Meet Wednesday Nite

Next Wednesday evening, July 10, at eight o'clock, the men of the Presbyterian church will meet for their regular monthly supper and program, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. N. P. Wilkinson.

An interesting program is being arranged, and all who attend are assured of an uplifting and enjoyable evening.

Estelle E. Johnson Buried Last Tuesday

Miss Estelle Eloise Johnson, aged 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Johnson, died at the family residence here Monday morning at ten o'clock.

Miss Johnson is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. O. R. Burden of Wichita Falls and Mrs. W. B. Turpening of Chicago; one brother, Edwin Johnson of Cut Bank, Montana, and two aunts, Mrs. R. L. Sample and Mrs. W. N. Ramsey, both of Eldorado.

Funeral services were held at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, from the First Baptist church in Eldorado. Rev. A. J. Quinn, pastor of the church, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. L. E. Frazier, pastor of the Baptist church at Monahans.

The Success joins the many friends of the family in extending sincerest sympathy to them in their bereavement.

THIRTY-TWO RAMS ARE SOLD AT BRADY JUBILEE

The first annual ram sale at Brady got under way Wednesday morning in connection with the Brady Jubilee.

The first ram offered for sale was by F. N. Bullard of Woodland, California, and was bought by W. W. Cox, Brady commission merchant, for the sum of seventy dollars.

The top price paid at Wednesday's sale was $150, paid by Virgil Powell of Sonora, well known ranchman and sheep breeder.

The ram sale is being held on the morning of each of the three days of the Brady Jubilee; and has attracted breeders of fine stock from many sections of this state and from Utah, California and Montana. Some of the finest breeding stock in America is represented at the sale.

Texas Municipalities Plan To Make Study Of Works Program

Federal Aid Plans And Tax Problems To Be On League Program

Texas' part in the federal four billion dollar Works Program is to be one of the major topics for discussion at the 23rd annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities at Austin on July 18 and 19, according to the convention program released this week.

Convention sessions have been planned to acquaint city officials with recent developments in the Works Program and municipal financing, according to Mayor Max Starcke of Seguin, president of the league. Representatives of approximately 600 incorporated towns and cities in Texas have been urged to attend.

The asserted purpose of the League of Texas Municipalities and its annual convention is "to make the government of the cities and towns of Texas a credit to the state and nation."

The national four billion dollar Works Program and its effect on Texas municipalities will be discussed by Mr. H. P. Drought of San Antonio, state administrator for the Works Progress Administration, on the second day of the convention.

The PWA program in Texas will be detailed by Mr. Julian Montgomery of Ft. Worth, state administrator. The $30,000,000 highway building and grade separation program proposed for Texas will also be discussed.

The first day of the convention will be devoted largely to financial and tax relief problems of Texas cities and towns. City Manager R. G. Williams of Bryan, a vice president of the league, will preside over a general session for such topics.

The third annual meeting of the Texas chapter of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of the United States and Canada will be held at Austin on July 16 and 17, preceding the convention of the league. Debt readjustment, budgeting and expenditure control, purchasing systems, and state supervision of municipal finance are among the subjects to be discussed at the two-day assembly.

Measuring of Cotton Land To Start Soon

In a letter received this week by County Agent C. Snell, Geo. E. Adams, Assistant State Agent, states:

"Compliance forms 120 and 121 are now available in the county agent's office. They provide for accurate measurement of both planted and rented acres. All producers are notified to stake and definitely mark rented acres before compliance work begins."

Mr. Snell was instructed by the state office to begin the work of measuring cotton land as soon as possible. The community and county cotton committees will meet immediately to prepare for beginning this work; and all producers are asked to be ready for the measurement of their cotton acreage.

Local Lions Club Holds Interesting Meeting

The Eldorado Lions Club held its regular weekly meeting Wednesday at noon at the Eldo Hotel. A guest for the occasion was Rev. Frank Nixon of Sonora, pastor of the Baptist church of that city, who is here conducting a B. T. U. training school at the local church.

Rev. Nixon gave a short talk which was greatly enjoyed by the members of the club.

A committee composed of C. Snell, C. S. McKinney and Geo. Long was appointed to take up the matter of fly eradication. The committee plans to hold meetings with farmers and stockmen in various sections of the county to study the matter and recommend effective methods of control. Dates and places of these meetings will be announced later.

Rev. N. P. Wilkinson was appointed as chairman of a safety committee which will take up the matter of unsafe conditions in every respect, with particular attention to unsafe driving. Rev. Wilkinson will name the members of his committee.

Other matters discussed include the turning on of the street lights of the town, and placing gravel on the strip between the curbing and edge of the sidewalk in the business section.

Signs advertising Eldorado and welcoming visitors are to be placed beside the highway at both entrances to the city, also signs giving information about the Lions Club and its meetings.

The Woman's Club has challenged the Lions to a game of softball. The challenge was accepted and the game will take place on Friday afternoon, July 12th.

Library Gets Donation Of Forty-one Books

One of the largest single donations of books made to the local county library was received this week, when forty-one volumes were sent in by Mrs. John Howard Bowder, of Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Bowder was formerly Miss Ada West, of Eldorado, and the books were donated to the library in memory of her father, C. C. West, one of the pioneer settlers of Schleicher county and first justice of the peace of Eldorado.

People of the county are showing continued interest in the library, and many books are taken out each Wednesday and Saturday during library hours.

The library has shown encouraging and steady growth since its first opening in April. On the opening day there were seventy-five books on the shelves, which number has now grown to a total of 308.

The library committee expresses deep appreciation for all the donations which have been received, and especially for the memorial gift sent by Mrs. Bowder. Books suitable for children are now especially needed by the library, and donations of such books will be welcomed.

ORATORY NOT NECESSARY

Representative Charles South is proving to the citizens of this district that a Congressman not waste a lot of time orating for the benefit of the Congressional Record and his constituents, to get things done in Washington.

Serving his first term, and thus not expecting to do much for the folks back home, Congressman South recently led the successful drive in Washington to obtain funds for the aid of rural schools in Texas. A committee which included Mr. South, Hatton W.
Summers and Nat Patton conferred with Harry Hopkins, relief administrator, on May 27, but was informed that the matter already had received his careful consideration and Texas had been denied aid.

Judge South prepared detailed data concerning the need of this aid, in addition, to other facts bearing on the case, and when the committee showed these to Mr. Hopkins he declared they had furnished him with facts he had not previously had. The next day the committee was informed that federal aid would be extended.

The successful maneuver bears out the belief of Vice President John Garner that South is one of the coming young members of the Texas delegation in Washington.—San Angelo Times.

EXTREMES IN NATURE

An interesting list of the extremes in natural substances was recently compiled by Professor Hopkins of the University of Illinois, in which the following were named:

Radium is the most expensive, being worth about 100,000 times its weight in gold.

Platinum is the heaviest of all well known metals, but the rare metals osmium and iridium are slightly heavier.

Hydrogen gas is the lightest ordinary substance, having only about one-fourteenth the weight of air, but a temporary gas produced in certain vacuum tubes is somewhat lighter.

Diamonds are the hardest substance known, but carborundum is almost as hard.

Electric furnaces produce the greatest heat known on earth, running up to nearly 7,000 degrees Fahrenheit, while the extreme in cold is solid helium and other gases which solidify at 458 degrees below zero. These extremes of heat and cold are not natural, however, but are produced by artificial means.—Kerrville Sun.

The average local cost of handling wheat contract work in this state was 1.2 cents per bushel.
For the United States as a whole the cost was 1.42 cents.

Texas has handled AAA programs in which the aggregate payments amounted to about one-seventh of the total for the United States.

A. J. Roach and family are attending the Cowboy Reunion in Stamford this week.

This is in the nature of a farewell from your Rambler, at least for a couple of months or more. We had the misfortune of a nervous breakdown last week, and while physically we're apparently as good as ever, our nerves are shot to such an extent that any further work in the shop is out of the question until we can get a rest and sort of knit the tattered ends together again. So we plan to take about a two or three months rest, far, far from the sound of linotype or press. In fact we'll probably bite anybody that even looks like a printer, during these next several weeks.

We've enjoyed our stay in Eldorado and we appreciate the many friendships formed while here.
We've found friendly folks and a spirit of co-operation which we admire. The job has suited us, and we've tried to hang on just as long as we could do a creditable piece of work here. Maybe we stayed too long and tried too hard, but we don't think so. At any rate, if the boss wants us to come back and tackle it again when we get able to think con-nectedly once more, nothing we can think of would please us any better than to carry on with The Success.

In the meantime, we have hopes of making a visit to our old home back in Georgia. We hope to see some of the old familiar faces we haven't seen in years, and to renew our acquaintance with some of the fishing holes in the rivers that we used to know. And if we happen to catch a fish, we'll be thinking about you, Joe Chitty.

But whether we catch fish or not, we'll remember Eldorado and we won't forget the way back.

And so, friends, so long. We'll be seein' you again some day in the fall, maybe. We hope so.

A YOUNG MAN'S THOUGHTS

What does a young man about to go to the electric chair think of in his final moments? The other night Robert Edwards, very neatly dressed in a black suit, lay down on a prison cot, and after several hours of praying rose, quietly said goodbye to his father, chatted a moment with his home town minister, and walked into the cell where he was to be electrocuted for having carried out in real life the frightful drama, "American Tragedy," written by Theodore Dreiser.

In the death chamber he found another minister, who was softly repeating the twenty-third Psalm —"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want . . ." He sat down wordlessly, but as the black cap was adjusted his lips moved as if in prayer. A few minutes later a physician pronounced Robert Allen Edwards quite dead, and the headline hunters turned away to give thought to other strange monstrosities of human impersonation.

To clear the way for a romance with another girl Edwards killed his childhood sweetheart, who trusted his promise that he would marry her, and sought to make it appear that she died by drowning. What did he think of in his final moments? Did he try to think of what he would say to his betrayed sweetheart when he would meet her in that "other" world? What did he think when he said goodbye to his father, the man who had hoped in him and believed in him from infancy?

The last thirty minutes that a man lives probably brings more interesting thought than the first thirty years of the ordinary man's life. What a pity such earnest thinking couldn't be done earlier in life!—Tyler Courier Times.

FORT WORTH JUDGE WARNS AGAINST NEW DIVORCE LAW CHANGE

Thinking of getting a divorce? Then you had better have your attorney make sure that a new wrinkle in the divorce law regarding children is placed in the petition.

Judge A. J. Powell, of the 96th district court, has called to the attorneys a recent act of the Legislature of far reaching effect in divorce cases where there are children under 16 years of age, and reminded them that "a divorce from a parent is no divorce from the babies."

Judge Powell also said that "it is my opinion that cases tried since March 19, the effective date of the new law, where judgment for divorce was entered, are void judgments if there were children under 16 years of age and the petition did not name the children and give their place of residence."

He also said the law clearly stated that "if there are no such children, the petition for divorce must so state."

The new law also requires that the judge hearing the divorce case shall inquire into the financial circumstances of the parents, and may, by judgment, order either or both to make periodical payments for the benefit of the child until he or she is 16 years of age.

"Failure of the parent to make the payment required by the court would subject such parent to contempt proceedings," Judge Powell said.

The new law also requires the person to whom the monthly payments are made to file a sworn statement every month to show the disposition of the money paid.

The new law, civil in nature, altho providing for jail sentences in regard to the contempt proceedings, is in line with the law regarding wife and child desertion already on the statute books.

The desertion law makes it mandatory on the father to provide for his wife and children under 16 years of age, or go to jail. —Fort Worth Press.

BATTLE LINES FORM FOR U. S. SENATE RACE IN TEXAS NEXT YEAR

Echoes of the recent state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas were still flying this last week, with dopesters everywhere busy building from them prophecies for 1936.

Perhaps that about which they have done more talking than any other one thing is the tilt between Governor Allred and Elliott Roosevelt, from which the governor emerged as the state's champion of state rights, and young Roosevelt as the unofficial representative of the administration's desire for a constitutional amendment which would do away with most of those rights entirely.

It is generally accepted since the Amarillo meeting, that Allred will run against Senator Sheppard next year. Those who heard him speak say that without putting it in actual words, he made this clear. They also say that young Roosevelt, likewise by an implication that left no doubt as to its meaning, served notice on him that the administration's support would go to Sheppard.

Dopesters already are speculating upon the effect of such support. The situation has a recent parallel, they recall, in the 1934 race between Senator Connally and Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr. When that struggle was at its height, the president laid his hand upon the shoulder of "my good friend, Tom Connally," one day in Washington, and from that time on the result, if it had ever been was not in doubt. Connally was just slated to win as against a man who had voted in the House several times against Roosevelt. So great was the presidential popularity.

Will the race end in the same fashion next summer, the question is now being asked, if Senator Sheppard, with the support of the administration who has received his unstinted support in most instances, runs against Allred, who is opposing a matter closest to that administration's heart? —Dallas Times Herald.

DESERT SEEN UNLESS WEST SAVES WATER

A great American desert will reach from the Rocky Mountains to the Dakotas within two generations if water conservation steps are not taken immediately, Col. C. Douglas, once lecturer for the war department, says.

"Trap the water where it falls. Hold it in small lakes and reservoirs. Restore as much of the land as possible to meadows. Plant trees near streams and all bodies of water."

Col. Douglas, president of the National Rivers and Harbors Association for nine years, cited two factors responsible for the dissipation of the water resources of the western states.

"Our network of concrete highways, plus the habit our farmers have of plowing furrows up and down hills instead of around them in contour fashion, are creating drainage systems carrying water from the land as rapidly as it falls. The water goes to the Mississippi River, eventually, and is carried into the seas."

"The drought we had last summer is nothing compared to the dry spells we will have in the future, unless something is done about it."

"It's going to be worse, and I'll tell you why. Ninety per cent of the precipitation comes from the evaporation from lakes and plants. As it now stands, there are not enough lakes to trap and hold the water in competition with the drainage system, and the plants are drying up."

"Unless the situation improves they will be hauling drinking water in tank cars to the West within two generations."

"You can't form a lake anywhere in the Far West, or in Oklahoma and Kansas that won't directly benefit the rest of the country. All of our scorching winds come out of the west. When they pass over the lakes they will be cooled and moistened, and their effects on the crops in the eastern areas lessened."

"This trapping of the water and building lakes and ponds is one of the most necessary things to be done in the entire West, and I suggest that the citizens of every state in which the legislatures are in session can render a distinct service by calling to the attention of the legislators the necessity of holding their rainfall where it falls so far as possible, and by urging upon them immediate and sufficient action." —Menard Messenger.

STATE HALL WILL BE COUNTRY'S LARGEST MEMORIAL BUILDING

Dallas will have the largest memorial building in America, it was revealed Saturday, when the plans for the million dollar State of Texas Hall for Fair Park were released.

"This will be the finest and most expensive memorial building outside of Washington, D. C.," said George Dahl, supervising architect. "It will certainly be the country's largest."

"The University of Texas library is the only building in the southwest that can be compared with the State Hall. Its magnitude as a memorial to all Southwestern life will place it among the world's greatest memorials."

The State Hall will remain after the 1936 Centennial Exposition as a public hall and shrine of Texas culture. Plans provide for ample space for large public meetings. Furnishings of the hall will cost $200,000.

LET US MAKE YOUR 4th of JULY TRIP SAFER

BEFORE you start on your holiday trip, let us completely inspect your car. There is no charge for this service and it will assure you of a safer and more enjoyable trip.

For the convenience and safety of car owners Firestone has established more than 500 Auto Supply and Service Stores throughout the country, and thousands of Firestone Dealers are also equipped with complete Auto Supplies and complete Service Departments, to test and service your tires, brakes, batteries, spark plugs, in addition to power lubrication and crank case service.

AVOID THE DANGER OF BLOWOUTS

Firestone removes the danger of blowouts by preventing their main cause—internal friction and heat. This is accomplished by Gum-Dipping.

THESE ARE THREE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS THAT WILL SOLVE YOUR PROBLEM OF WHAT TIRES TO BUY:

1 "Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

—Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes.

For eight consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death.

2 "Are they blowout-proof?"

—Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the gruelling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles, averaging 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without tire trouble of any kind.

3 "Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

—Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. In fact, unequalled mileage records of thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Equip your car with a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Non-Skid Tires, the safest tires ever built and avoid the dangers of skidding and blowouts.

FORT WORTH WOMAN REPAYS RELIEF GRANT

Austin, July 3.—Adam R. Johnson, state relief director, bombarded from all sides for the past year with requests for "bigger and better relief grants," has suddenly found a new faith in the human race this week.

In the mail came a money order for $9.55 from Mrs. Blanche Perkins of Fort Worth, in payment of what she termed a loan from the Tarrant county relief office in April, 1934.

Johnson could hardly believe his eyes. Could this be a relief client paying back a direct relief grant? There must be some mistake. Probably the woman was a rural rehabilitation client, sending a money order to the state office by mistake to apply on a capital goods or subsistence loan.

Johnson communicated with the Fort Worth administrator and asked for a complete history of the case. Records there showed that Mrs. Perkins asked for and received direct aid amounting to $9.55 in April, 1934. No more aid was granted to her afterward, and her case was closed in September, 1934.

Johnson says, "This is the first relief client in Texas, so far as I know, to pay back a relief grant."

The state director had no other information indicating what good fortune had enabled Mrs. Perkins to repay the government, but he said she deserved it all, for the character displayed in this one act.

The modern bathing suit, instead of going to sea, goes to be seen.

PRODUCTION RESTRICTION FAILS TO SERVE PURPOSE

Austin, July 2.—The results of the two-year cotton production restriction program inaugurated in 1933 by the federal government as an emergency measure to solve the economic problems of the industry clearly indicate that the destructive policy has failed to accomplish its purpose, it is declared by Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business research of the University of Texas and internationally known agricultural economist. Cotton prices are weak in spite of another drastic cotton acreage restriction program for 1935-36, Dr. Cox said. Few realize that the world gold price of cotton is actually lower now than it was in 1933, he pointed out.

"It is now proposed to make the emergency measures permanent and clothe the federal administrators with additional powers," Dr. Cox said. "According to the United States Department of Agriculture, cotton production in the United States averaged 15,268,000 bales during the five years prior to the depression, and foreign production during that same time averaged 11,494,000 bales. During the two years of the cotton restriction program, United States production has been 22,681,000 bales, or 7,885,000 bales less than pre-depression average production; and foreign production has been 27,057,000 bales, or 4,069,000 bales more than the pre-depression average."

"In spite of another drastic cotton acreage restriction program for 1935-36, cotton prices are weak. Few realize that the world gold price of cotton is actually lower now than it was in 1933. The South thru the experiment has lost a large part of its market for raw cotton. These markets cannot be gotten back without relatively very low prices and systematic improvement of the quality of the crop. Unless markets can be found for from fourteen to fifteen million bales of American cotton, there must be a tremendous shift in occupations in the cotton-growing states of the South."

Austin, July 3.—Aggregate livestock shipments from Texas to Fort Worth and to interstate points during May were sharply above those of the similar month last year. There was a substantial decline in forwardings of both hogs and sheep.

Marketings of all classes of livestock combined totaled 7,298 cars, against 5,292 cars during May last year, an increase of 38 per cent. Comparative figures for the four classes of livestock composing this total were:

Cattle, 5,690 vs. 3,492 cars, an increase of 63 per cent; calves 610 vs. 490 cars, an increase of 25 per cent; hogs 264 vs. 351 cars, a decrease of 25 per cent; and sheep 734 vs. 959 cars, a decrease of 24 per cent.

Shipments during the first five months of the year aggregated 24,876 against 24,073 cars during the corresponding period last year.

BEDROOM IMPROVEMENT CONTEST NEARS FINISH

Thruout the state in Texas farm homes, 682 4-H club girls are sleeping in light, airy, recently improved bedrooms as the fourth year of the girls' bedroom improvement contest draws to a close.

These bedroom demonstrators represent 83 counties. Local judges picked county winners, who were then judged according to Extension districts. Mrs. Bernice Claytor, Extension specialist in home improvement, says that there is a noticeable improvement in farm homes because of the influence of the bedroom demonstrations.

Three state winners will be chosen from the nine district winners, and will be announced on the night of July 30, during the farmers' short course at A. & M. College.

UNUSUAL FRUIT VARIETIES WANTED FOR EXPERIMENT

Seedling peaches, plums and other fruits that have unusual quality, but have not yet been named, are being budded to nursery stock for experimental purposes by the Texas Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station in co-operation, according to J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist.

Anyone having unusual seedlings, or knowing of anyone who does, should get in touch with Rosborough giving the name and address of the owner. Shipping tags and other necessary material will be sent the owner so that the Extension Service and the Experiment Station may get buds for the test plots.

The budding work was started last year, when buds from almost a hundred different seedlings were budded onto nursery stock. The trees were then transplanted to various experiment stations in the state for a five-year test.

The object of the experiment is to make available to the people of the state the best of the new seedlings, which otherwise would not be perpetuated.

FARM AND HOME CONTEST IS LAUNCHED IN TEXAS

A centennial farm and home demonstration contest directed by the Texas Extension Service and sponsored by the Dallas News and the Semi Weekly Farm News for the purpose of recognizing improvement in agriculture and the improvement and beautification of rural homes has been announced by O. B. Martin, Extension director. Prizes to the amount of approximately $2,500 will be awarded the winners.

Any Texas farm family living on a farm or ranch, or in a town or a village of population of not more than 2500, on a designated state or federal highway may enter the contest by registering with the county farm and home demonstration agents in the county and working under their supervision. The house must be on the contest property.

Registration cards can be obtained from the county agricultural or home demonstration agent. They must be filled out and returned to the agent's office not later than September 1, 1935.

A story of the activity and the farm record and a simple plan of the farmstead must be furnished the judges. Points to be considered in the judging are the buildings and equipment, the grounds, the soil, the crops, the livestock, the food supply and other resources.

Additional information to aid contestants can be secured from the county agents and from articles published from time to time in the newspapers mentioned.

Mrs. A. M. Nixon of Junction is taking treatments at Christoval, and will soon be able to return home. Mrs. Nixon was formerly a resident of Eldorado.

Mrs. Tom Wilton is at the Rawls Sanitarium for treatment this week.

Miss Violet Lee Tuck, who was recently operated on for appendicitis at the Sealy Hospital in Santa Anna, was able to be released from the hospital Tuesday, and expects to return home early next week.

The County Home Demonstration Council will meet in regular monthly session on Saturday, July 6, at 2:30 p. m., in the office of the home demonstration agent.

The home demonstration club members of Schleicher county will hold a clothing contest on Monday, July 8, in the high school auditorium. The clothing revue will begin at 2 o'clock. Visitors are cordially invited.

In a contest sponsored by the County Home Demonstration Council, a chest is on display at the Wheeler Grocery. Keys to the chest will sell for ten cents each, and the person with the lucky key gets chest and contents.

JELLY TEST

"You may save both time and money by testing fruit juices for pectin before trying to make jelly," says Mrs. Melvin Rogers, pantry co-operator in the Riverside home demonstration club.

Mrs. Rogers gives the following method for making the jelly test:

- 1 teaspoon juice
 - 1-2 teaspoon Epsom salts
 - 1-4 teaspoon sugar.
- Mix and set aside for a few minutes to jell. The harder it jells the less sugar is needed for making jelly. If it fails to jell the juice needs some jelling agent added.

Texas expenses in connection with AAA work amounted to only one-thirteenth of the total expense for the United States.

MIAS AMIGAS CLUB HOLDS REUNION AT HILL HOME

More than twenty members of the Mias Amigas Club met here last week for the two-day reunion held at the home of Mrs. Ed Hill.

The annual banquet was held Thursday night at the Eldo Hotel with forty members and guests present. J. A. Whitten presided as toastmaster, and gave the welcome address to the club members, made up of the high school graduates from 1907 to 1919. The response was made by W. C. Brooks.

More than seventy guests attended the reception given by the club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. West, mother of Mrs. C. T. Womack of San Angelo.

The two days were filled with reminiscences of girlhood days, and business sessions were devoted to discussing future projects for the club, which was organized in 1931.

The sum of ten dollars was contributed to the recently organized county library, and members are to contribute books whenever possible. Definite plan will be made at next year's meeting for the creation of a memorial fund for the local schools.

Election of officers resulted in the re-election of all officers of the club, as follows:

Mrs. Ed Hill, president; Mrs. Frank Meador, first vice president; Mrs. D. C. Royster, second vice president; Mrs. C. T. Womack, historian; Miss Gladys Patton, publicity chairman.

At the final session Mrs. W. M. Whitfield of San Angelo told of her stay last summer in Rio de Janeiro with her daughter, Mrs. Douglas Calder. Each member outlined her chief activities during the past year. The career of home making led all others.

Letters and greetings from absent members were read, including those from Miss Miltia Hill, instructor at Northwest Texas State Teachers College at Canyon; Mrs. Evelyn Hinyard Renkin of El Paso, Mrs. Ruth Kelley Davis of Niagara, Wis., and Mrs. Alma Hill Robertson of Denver, Colorado.

The club presented a gift to its president, Mrs. Hill, in appreciation for her work.

LENDING A HAND TO YOUTH

Here is a youth movement of another sort. This fresh addition to the New Deal alphabet, the NYA—National Youth Administration—tackles one of the most serious problems left from the depression, and seeks to build into the public consciousness a working ideal that, at the very least, will not leave the United States where it found her. The ideal is the vital part; no paternalism of government will solve youth's problems. But a friendly official hand should help.

Nationwide, on a stupendous but conceivably practical scale, the plans for giving jobs to unemployed youth between 16 and 25 calls for swift action to aid young people in their efforts to find work and keep up their morale. It sets in motion activities that should help defeat that sad form of juvenile idleness and crime which has resulted from emergency economic conditions. Further, in providing for apprenticeship training and educational aid, it implies a responsibility of the community toward its young people, and lays foundations for carrying out a major portion of this responsibility.

It is a program that in purpose recommends itself to the heart of a great public. But it urges itself, as well, upon the public's intelligent action, for the reason that a sound program is doubly needed. On the one hand, a growing anxiety on the part of adults has formed the conviction that for youth's sake, young people must have a chance—to go to school, to learn how to support themselves, to work and to earn. And for the nation's sake, young people must have a chance; for the country cannot afford to jeopardize the constructive effort of its present and its past by handing along the work of years to an ill-trained, unemployed, discouraged and possibly bitter youth.

In the last few years such a picture has not been sufficiently untrue. If young people as a whole have stood up under the gripping conditions of the depression with a stamina that their country can be proud of; it is also a fact that juvenile crime has increased in sad and highly serious proportions. An easy way out, in every generation, has been to blame youth for its reactions. The federal government, however, lines up with the leaders of youth, to imply by the very nature of this new program that not only the causes of juvenile crime, but all widespread conditions resulting in abnormal youth viewpoints point accusing fingers directly to the nation's adults, who, in the last analysis, have tolerated these conditions. The government program in addition, is based upon what might be counted a declaration of confidence in the sincerity and moral sturdiness of young people.

It is, however, a stupendous plan, and demands the active and discerning co-operation of industrial employers, of government workers, placement directors, youth leaders and experienced educators, not alone in key centers but in every state, city, town and rural district in the United States. On paper it has all the idealism of a Youth Utopia. In actual practice, its worth to the nation and to handicapped youth depends on the million or more answers to this question: Mr. and Mrs. Tom, Dick and Harry, just how far, individually and unitedly, will you go in making this program practically helpful to

Schleicher County Roads

The Schleicher county roads are just a joke to all the surrounding country and to anyone who happens to travel thru our good county. You can hear various reasons given by folks, why our roads are in such condition, and here are a few that I heard a few days ago in a crowd at San Angelo.

One fellow said the county and citizens were too poor to pay taxes enough to keep up any roads. Another said the country was all right, but the people were such tightwads they wouldn't pay their taxes. He said that a druggist in Eldorado told him the people were so tight that it took eleven and one-half tons of Epsom salts per month to keep them going. Another fellow said it was our commissioners; they were so tight they would drive 10 miles to get home if they were sick, so they could vomit in the slop bucket and give it to the hogs.

I don't say that any of these tales are so, but anybody can see there is something wrong. Just for instance, us folks in the north west part of the county, if we have to go to Eldorado when it rains, must go by way of Mertzon, San Angelo, then down the state highway to Eldorado. People in the south-west part of the county must go by way of Ozona and Sonora, then into Eldorado on the state highway. The folks in the east part of the county can go to Menard, Eden, San Angelo, then to Eldorado by the state highway.

No wonder our roads are a joke. What is wrong with us? Why can't we have as good roads as the counties adjoining us? I want someone that knows to tell us. Let's hear from you; don't all speak at once, one at a time.

PERRY JOHNSON.

A CASE IN POINT

In his new book, "Back to Work," Harold L. Ickes, PWA administrator, gives another very pertinent illustration of the legislative and executive rush accompanying the passage of much of the New Deal legislation.

Many have asked: "For what purpose was that odd sum of $300,000,000 included in the $3,300,000,000 PWA appropriation?" Mr. Ickes tells. It is useful knowledge.

It seems that when Senator Robert F. Wagner was flipping thru the provisions of the measure, it occurred to him that the $300,000,000 for New York might not have been included in the bill. Thru the hurried confusion and noise of the office the Senator called over to his secretary, Simon H. Rifkin, who had drafted the bill, to find out.

"I put it in," Mr. Rifkin said, but Mr. Wagner only heard "Put it in"—and put it in he did!

Thus the administration PWA bill appropriated $300,000,000 by a slip, and Congress approved that appropriation by a slip.

This is the kind of reckless rushing of legislation, discovered too late in this instance, for which the president has set the pace, and on which public opinion is demanding a halt.—Ex.

2 1-3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar.
Mix ingredients and beat one minute. Let stand five minutes. Mix well and frost cake.

Remember to add lemon juice to fruit salads. It brings out the flavors.

Legislation for old age security may be all right, but some of us would rather have the security right now and take a chance on the old age.
