MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

Human nature makes people do strange things.

Take for instance the lady who erected two 50-foot poles on top her house because she lived next to an airport and didn't like to have planes come near her house. She even left the poles unlighted 15 feet above the obstruction lights at the boundary of the airport. An airline was required in the interests of safety to pass up the city with air mail, passengers and cargo until the situation was cured.

In one of our leading cities, a man built a 348-foot stack one mile from the airport. The city has tried for several years to have the stack lowered or, at least, marked with a red light, but so far without success.

With such examples to draw from, it is no wonder the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House of Representatives favorably reported the Lea-Baily Bill to amend the Civil Aeronautics Act and establish some additional common-sense Federal controls to aid civilian airlines.

It is a patriotic gesture to our men in service to keep their civic interests alive while they are away... we should keep alive the things they have always stood for, and are fighting for. They shall expect, upon their return home, for conditions to be as near normal as possible—they will want their communities and towns to be alert and alive. Thus, we have a patriotic duty to perform along with our civic personal affairs by protecting the interests of our service men.

While one or more million American troops are overseas fighting for our protection, and drawing a small amount of pay—usually about $50 a month, the planners at Washington are out with a scheme to give preference to stay-at-homes in the matter of getting conveniences and luxuries after the war has been won—by the fighting forces.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Staff Sgt. Garland Williams

Staff Sgt. Garland Williams, who is a radio Technician in the Air Corps, and is stationed at the Ajo Gunnery Base at Ajo, Arizona, spent several days here with his father, Tom J. Williams of the Reynolds community.

Although Sgt. Williams is doing his duty for his country, he is also preparing for the day when he will return to "Good Old Schleicher County" to take up where he left off. His money comes back to Eldorado for payments on Schleicher County Soil and with some extra money he makes, he manages to "throw in a few more dollars" to hasten the day when the said soil will be his.

Second Lieut. Felix William Susen, Eldorado, recently reported at the Greenwood Army Air Field where he has been assigned as Assistant Intelligence Officer on the staff of Col. Joel E. Mallory, Commanding Officer.

Lieutenant Susen attended Howard Payne College, played football for which he received honorable mention in the Texas Conference, 1939, and also participated in track events. Was on the staff of the college year book. Lieutenant Susen's brother, Harold, is a Sergeant who is now stationed as an instructor in airplane mechanics at Amarillo.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Susen Sr., who reside near Eldorado and he has been reared in Schleicher County.

Pvt. Bill Matteson, recently inducted into the Army, notified his mother, Mrs. E. H. Coulter, this week that he was on his way to Camp Maxey, Paris, for training.

INFANT DAUGHTER ILL

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Yates is reported to be some improved today as The Success goes to press. Little hope was held for the baby's recovery earlier in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates reside in San Angelo and the baby is in a hospital there. The parents were reared in Eldorado. Mrs. Yates will be remembered as Miss Bonnie Mund before her marriage.

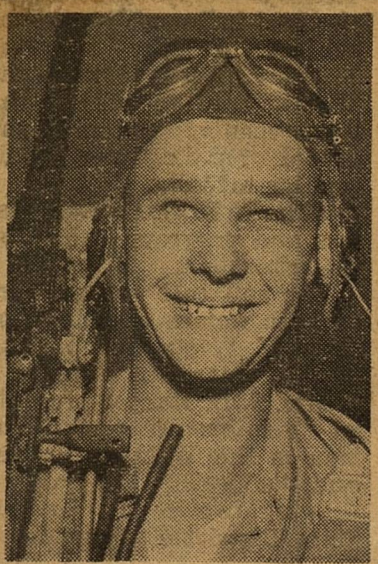

David and Harold Williams

David and Harold Williams, shown above, sons of J. Tom Williams of the Reynolds community, are serving their country in the Sea Bees of the Navy. They have been visiting here the past few days with their father and friends.

They are stationed at Camp Edincott, Davisville, R. I., and they, with their wives, returned to their post of duty early this week.

GETS SILVER WINGS

HARLINGEN ARMY AIR FIELD, Texas, May 17.—A graduate this week of the Harlingen aerial gunnery school who qualified as an expert aerial triggerman and now wears the silver wings of a gunner is Delbert E. Edmiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Edmiston of this city. His wife lives at Mertzon.

He received his diploma and wings at brief graduation exercises held here. Completion of the course and another technical course such as air mechanics or radio operation, automatically entitles him to sergeants' chevrons. Unless retained as an instructor then, he will join a combat unit.

To graduate from the Harlingen school, he spent six of the toughest weeks of his Army career training for one of the toughest and most important jobs of World War II—lying for hours in the "bathtubs," "stingers," and turrets of Uncle Sam's Flying Fortresses and fighting off enemy while the other members of the Army Air Forces' famous "Four Flying Horseman" team (Gunner, Navigator, Bombardier and Pilot) successfully carry out the bombing attack.

The intensive training course included thorough training on the ground and in the air firing all types of flexible gunnery weapons and studying and putting into practice every technique of aerial warfare.

Sugar Allotment For County Set

The Schleicher County War Price and Rationing Board has been advised by the Office of Price Administration that not more than 15 pounds of sugar will be allowed per person for home canning purposes to a home canning applicant for each War Ration Book One presented. One pound of sugar per each four quarts of finished fruit will be allowed by the Board.

A forthcoming amendment will declare one stamp from War Ration Book One (as yet undesignated) valid for ten pounds or less, at applicant's option, of sugar for home canning. The stamp that is to be designated will be presented directly to any retailer for sugar and this will eliminate excessive burden on the local Board as there are a great many consumers who will not need more than ten pounds of sugar per person for canning.

The local board will begin receiving applications for canning sugar on June 1st.

SUCCESS IS READ AND COMPARED IN AFRICAN WAR ZONE

In a letter from Frank "Pancho" Bradley, dated in North Africa, May 2, 1943 he had the following to say of The Eldorado Success:

"The April 2nd Success was the best I have ever read. We all compare hometown papers and with that issue I moved up the line just above the Ettrick, Wis., 'Advance' and the 'Goldthwaite Eagle'."

We are very grateful to "Pancho" for this bit of encouraging news and will endeavor to put out more papers that he, as well as other men in service will enjoy getting.

"The Village Blacksmith," It Ain't Here No More

"The Village Blacksmith Shop" is no more. The old shop which has been built since about 1904 is gone, and when it dons new dress, perhaps in some locality in the form of a residence, it will probably be forgotten that it once housed Eldorado's first light plant, a hardware store, barber shop, an undertaking establishment, a picture show and has had one term of court held within its walls.

The last business conducted in the building, however, was a blacksmith shop that was known as "The Village Blacksmith Shop" and was run by a Mr. Patterson, who is now deceased, but whose son carried on the business until about a year ago when he entered civilian defense work as a welder.

The building was erected by W. M. Bearce (deceased) and has been owned by the Bearce family up until it was sold recently.

Fire Destroys Barn of W. R. Nicks

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn, together with all its contents, including feed and several saddles, at the W. R. Nicks place, one mile north of Eldorado Thursday night of last week.

Schleicher T. H. D. A. Report

At Home Demonstration Clubs over the county, the three delegates to the Texas Home Demonstration Association meet in Monahans, have been making reports of the meeting. The delegates from Schleicher County were Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Truett Stanford, Mrs. Will Isaacs and Miss Mary A. Lewis, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Below is a summary of what happened at the meeting as reported by the delegates who attended.

Miss Ruth Thompson, district agent, and Miss Louise Bryant, A and M. specialist in home management, were principal speakers of the day.

Miss Thompson discussed "War Emergencies" and stressed the fact that there should be a continued emphasis on food production and a general mobilization of farm youth. The Save and Share Victory Schools plan was outlined by Miss Thompson.

In this plan, each individual county, with or without agents, would work through the expansion committee of the council. There are 18 counties in the District Six without agents. The purpose of the schools is to train back to their community some leaders who will go and teach the new methods. It was reported that Upton and Ector Counties have recently made appropriations for agents.

Miss Thompson said, "We are living in a trying time and the secret of success is to concentrate on today. There is a need for the things which never change, such as a stable home life. There is a great need for neighborhood unity which brings unity in the community county, state and nation."

Miss Bryant Speaker
Miss Bryant spoke on "Changing Conditions" and stated "none of us have made sacrifices. We may have upset our way of living some, yet only the boys and men of the armed services who are making real sacrifices."

To meet the changing conditions, Miss Bryant advised the management of resources, time, energy, money, land and equipment to meet the present conditions, as well as those after the war. Miss Bryant is a member of the Post-War Planning Group which will be combined with other other planning groups to work out plans for the nation. This planning group works on such problems as the best use of resources, rural facilities, nutrition, clothing, housing education and religious education. The Agricultural Relations Committee determines the equipment needed to use the resources produced here, and at the same time gives people employment. She stressed the buying of bonds which is a method of saving money to buy equipment later which is wearing out now.

The job of the homemaker has increased with the changing conditions which must be met by planning and budgeting. A listing of the things most important was advised, and to forget all others. Five factors of good management applied to the home included: analyze, organize, deputize, supervise and reorganize. Analyze the purpose of the job, make a plan carry out the objective, older ones help with the younger, and give persons credit for doing the job.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the First Baptist Church with Mrs. Hart Phillips of Big Spring, vice-president, presiding. The invocation by Mrs. Preston Black of Ward County was followed by greeting addresses by Judge Fred P. Snelson of Ward County, and Mayor Ed Duffey of Monahans. This was followed by an address of welcome by Mrs. H. B. Eudaly of Grandfalls.

Counties Have Exhibits

The afternoon program was devoted largely to exhibits of various counties, a skit on education directed by the Tom Green County Home Demonstration Council, a summary on the reports on marketing, and a question box.

A most unique exhibit was the whole grain cereal farm made up of whole grain cereals from the Bailey Ranch Club in Schleicher County. Walks were made of rice, tucco on the house was made of cream of wheat, shingles on the roof were made of Bran Flakes, hay racks made of macaroni, with shredded wheat for bundles of hay. Potatoes were made into horses and cows, while colts and calves were made of peanuts. Lime Jello made the pastures and lawns.

Tom Green County exhibited the sources of income used for buying of bonds. These included chickens, goats, sheep and cattle.

The exhibit from Menard was entitled "Keeping up Morale". This was a suggestion to entertain boys in service with picnics, serving chevon prepared as steaks or chili. There are 33,000 goats in Menard County used for meat and mohair.

Martin and Mitchell Counties exhibited clothes made from feed sacks and the exhibit of Concho County was accessories made of acorn cups, cantaloupe seed and chinaberries.

Question Box

Problems of importance to all rural women were discussed on the Question Box conducted by Mrs. Hershel Smith of Howard County. The most important issues discussed were "Would restrictions on butter reduce the amount?" and "How to get by with so few pressure cookers and so much food to be preserved." The solution to the cooker problem was that of sharing, and the solution to the butter problem rests with higher authorities than those present at the district meeting.

Tea in the recreation room of the First Methodist Church followed the afternoon program. Twelve agents 31 voting delegates, and 47 guests were present.

LOST: Two house keys tied together with a string. Please return to H. T. Finley.

BAILEY RANCH H. D. CLUB MET WITH MRS. J. F. KINSER

The Bailey Ranch Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kinser, May 6, with 11 members present to answer roll call, and as we sang our club song, "America" we thought how free and beautiful our homeland. We could say a club prayer "Help me, O Lord, to live so that the world may be a little better because Thou didst make me." With more retermination in our hearts to keep it free and beautiful by doing our bit on the home front.

As we enjoy a picnic supper of scrambled eggs and bacon (with all the trimmings) Wednesday evening we will be more appreciative of the land of the free and the home of the brave. A vote carried 100 per cent to entertain a group of soldier boys from San Angelo over the week-end in the near future. Each member will invite two or more boys to their home, we will have some kind of entertainment for all to enjoy together on Saturday night.

We hope to make the boys feel as welcome as if they were in their own homes, we will be so glad to do something for them.

The program was then turned over to our demonstrator, Miss Mary Lewis. When she had finished telling us ways to cook our vegetables members began telling "How I Cook My Vegetables". We were so hungry by then, Miss Lewis asked different ones to go to the kitchen and cook the vegetables they had told of. In a very short time we had a meal fit for a king along with the refreshments the hostess had prepared. Present were Mes. Archie Mittel, Lester Henderson, E. H. Dannheim, Chas. Don't Work For The Saboteur

Spring clean-up time has arrived. Attics, basements and garages cluttered with a winter's accumulation of rubbish should be cleaned out now. There are fire hazards that promote the processes of combustion with the approach of warm, humid weather.

Fire prevention is of the greatest importance. The busiest war worker can find time for a thorough spring cleaning of his premises. Preventable fires which destroy irreplaceable property, to say nothing of human life, are utterly inexcusable. They slow down the war effort far more than most of us realize. When a home is destroyed by fire one or more persons lives are inevitably interrupted for a measurable period while a residence is being re-established.

Each spring, towns and cities throughout the nation conduct fire prevention clean-up campaigns. No estimate can be made of the actual cash value represented by the savings of life and the improvement in health and property resulting from these annual campaigns. They remove disease-breeding conditions which might cause pestilence, in addition to eliminating fire hazards which might result in conflagrations.

Removing rubbish may not be as spectacular as catching a saboteur, but the beneficial result is the same. A fire is a fire no matter how it started. If, through stupidity and neglect on the part of otherwise patriotic citizens, valuable property is destroyed, it simply means that the saboteur can rest in his lair with a cynical chuckle.

The Right Approach

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown deserves the wholehearted co-operation of all citizens. He speaks a language which our people understand and appreciate, instead of the $10,000 fine and 10 years in jail" lingo.

When enlarging the rationing program, Mr. Brown said: "The necessity of war have once again compelled the government to ask the American people to bear the burden of another rationing program. I should like to ask the forbearance of the public . . . while the trade is adjusting itself to new demand and supply conditions."

That's the American way. Freedom-loving Americans should cooperate 100 per cent.

The reward of a thing well done, is to have done it.—Emerson.

Experience shows that success is due less to ability than to zeal. The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul.—Charles Buxton.

Science In The News

By ORSON D. MUNN, Litt.B., LL.B., Sc.D.
 Editor, Scientific American

WAR lives literally off the fat of our land, for the basis of many explosives and other materials of war is glycerine, and glycerine is obtained from fats.

Consequently, the success of the waste fat salvage campaign conducted by the War Production Board and the Committee of the Glycerine and Associated Industries is of vital importance to the Nation's welfare.

If all the housewives of America cooperate in this drive, some 360,000,000 pounds or more of waste fats can be salvaged annually—enough to produce the glycerine needed to make 540,000,000 pounds of smokeless powder or correspondingly large quantities of nitro-glycerine, dynamite, essential drugs and antiseptics, and many other necessities of war.

All the housewife has to do to participate in this important salvage campaign is to make it her regular practice to strain all used cooking greases, after they have served their full use as food, into any clean can and store it in a cool place. When the can is full it should be taken to the local meat dealer, who will buy it and start the fat on its way to war. Three weeks after the dealer receives a pound of waste fat it has been made into glycerine and is being used to make some product our armed forces must have.

Here, for example, is what one pound—only 31 tablespoons—of waste fats means to the war production effort: It will supply enough glycerine to make the powder required for four 37 mm. anti-aircraft shells or 10 shells for a .50 calibre airplane cannon. This same amount of glycerine will be sufficient to fabricate three cellophane gas-mask bags or to make enough synthetic resin to camou-flag one-fiftieth of the surface of a large tank. Glycerine also is needed for the recoil mechanism of big guns, for depth bomb-release devices, to make dynamite, and many other essential war products.

The reason why housewives are urged—begged, in fact—to help end the glycerine shortage by saving their waste kitchen fats is this: Glycerine has always been obtained for American uses as a by-product of other manufacturing operations, chiefly from the making of soap. The soap makers normally imported much of the fats and oils they used from the Pacific areas now cut off by the Japs. With the war on, these manufacturers cannot make enough glycerine for peacetime uses, much less to provide for the greatly expanded needs of wartime consumption. Other sources of fats must be opened up, and the greatest of these sources is the American kitchen. Fats that ordinarily are poured down the sink, to the detriment of the drainage pipes, are rich in this desperately needed glycerine. Over a billion pounds of fat and grease were wasted every year in American households before Pearl Harbor.

All that has to be done to tap this source is to obtain the cooperation of housewives in getting the used fats from the kitchen to the processing plants where the glycerine can be extracted and started into war use.

From this you can readily see that no amount of waste fat is too small to save for salvage. Only by saving every drop, in fact, and delivering it regularly to the meat dealer, can we prevent the often-quoted phrase, "too little and too late," from being applied to our glycerine supply.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

"Come into office, prepared to leave for Arkansas."

So read the telegram from the managing editor of the old Fort Worth Record of which I was staff correspondent, with headquarters in West Texas.

And that was the beginning of probably the most enjoyable trip your columnist ever made—back in February, 1925. First stop was Texarkana the city that sits astride the boundary of Texas and Arkansas, where I was told the intriguing story of a man who was "wanted" in one state and was arrested in the other. Extradition would be slow and expensive, so he was taken for a walk along State Line Avenue and was given a sudden shove, which landed him in the other state where two officers "happened" to be right on the spot and he was grabbed before he could scramble back across the line.—(or so I was told).

Next place visited was El Dorado where an oil boom was in progress. Then a trip up the mountainous western side of Arkansas in the course of which the train made a 15-minute supper stop. Not wanting to miss the train, I pitched in and hastily ate a salad, soup, half a fried chicken with potatoes and corn, and was just starting on a dish of ice cream when the conductor poked his head in the door of the Harvey House and said, "You have new been eating five minutes." (No doubt I had set some sort of mark for devouring nine-tenths of a full-course dinner.)

Visited Fort Smith and was told about the days when that was the law center for Indian Territory and the "hanging judge" would sentence two or three outlaws to death in a day. In fact, the executions of seven criminals were to take place in one day and the hangman was elated as he would be setting a record for the United States, but at the last minute, one of the men was granted a reprieve and so the executioner got to hang only six and he was so mad about it that he wouldn't eat and supper that night.

On into Fayetteville and Eureka Springs in the picturesque Ozarks; Hot Springs, with its palatial bath houses lining the principal thoroughfare, and then to Piggott, my birthplace. I saw my grandfather for the last time—in some ways, the most remarkable character I have ever known; and looked too for the last time upon the old log cabin where so many happy vacation days of boyhood had spent—it burned down two years ago.

That same day, I left Arkansas, cut across a corner of Missouri, and next morning landed in Memphis, Tenn., and there I saw C. P. J. Mooney, my first editor, for the

WILL YOU

By PAT RUSSELL

When this war we are in is over, When the last of the fighting has been done

And our country has gained Victory— America has won.

Will you be able to meet eyes Of other women and men, Rejoicing in our freedom and say: I helped America win.

But if we loose—but we cannot loose, We must win—we must. But if we should and freedom's flag Is trampled in the dust.

Will your eyes be able to meet those around you, Or will your eyes refuse To meet the eyes of people brave and honest, Knowing you helped America loose.

Will you think of the things you left undone And the little tasks you shirked That might have helped to increase production While others around you worked.

Will you think of the bonds you could have been buying, Realizing you did not do your share, To keep America's planes forever flying, And keep Old Glory floating in the air.

last time; hopped down to Coldwater, Miss., where I had attended school in the seventh grade—(my last sight of that town, which soon is to be covered with water in a river project); then back to Memphis that night and boarded a Texas-pound train—having jumped in 24 hours, over State lines like a small boy playing leap-frog—Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi, back to Tennessee and then to Arkansas.

Rolled into Fort Worth after exactly four weeks without having had any definite schedule but never missing a train or a bus. Had set out with "expense" money and turned back $1.20 to the newspaper cashier. (Any newspaperman will tell you that's unprecedented.) Club Calves Are Deemed Exempt From OPA Price Regulation 169

COLLEGE STATION, May 14.

Calves or cattle produced by members of 4H Clubs and Future Farmers of America have been exempted from the custom slaughter provisions of maximum price regulation of 169 by the Office of Price Administration.

The exemption was contained in a recent amendment to the regulation. It is conditioned upon certification by a sworn statement from the club agent, county agricultural agent, or vocational project leader that such animals are club animals, and written permission being given for such exemption from the local OPA district office.

George W. Barnes, animal husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, interprets the amendment to mean that buyers may obtain such animals at auction or private sale at whatever price they choose to pay. But when the meat enters the retail trade it must sell at or below the ceiling price for meat of that grade. Moreover, the slaughtered animals may, if necessary, be charged against the civilian quota for the next quota period.

The amendment specifies that "club cattle or calves" means any cattle or calves which have been bred, raised and fed, or fed only, by a member of a 4H or FFA club under the supervision of the Extension Service, or by an individual participating in a vocational agricultural department.

The exemption does not include club-produced swine. OPA explains, however, that it has received a request to expand it to include hogs.

VEGETABLE COOKERY FOR MAY CLUB MEETING

Members of the Country Woman's Club held their regular meeting Friday, May 7, in the home of Mrs. Gordie Alexander.

These are the main points to be remembered when buying vegetables from the store or from the garden: Select medium size or even smaller, those which are firm, crisp and heavy, for their size, and again get the ones with deeper, more intense color for vitamin content, says Miss Mary Lewis County H. D. Agent.

Again Miss Lewis gave a number of ways vegetables may be prepared for the table. These are: Baked, boiled, steamed, buttered, glazed, creamed, scalloped and some may be combined for salads using a prepared sauce.

Refreshments which consisted of vegetable salad, fried squash and onions, carrots, glazed with pineapple were served to the following members: Mesdames Ray Alexander, Gordie Alexander, Fred Gillaspie, Archer, Fred Watson, H. Z. Pennington, W. J. Humphrey, Marion Wade.

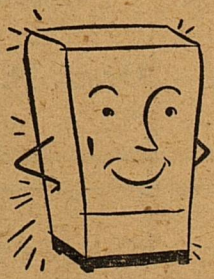

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Fred Watson, June 2. Every member and visitors are urged to be present.

LOCAL ARTIST DRAWS HEADING FOR SUCCESS

"Smokey" Turnbow, local pen artist has designed a new head appearing on The Success this week.

The new heading depicts many of the industries represented in activities of the county, such as farming, oil, cattle, sheep, and horses, together with the beautiful landscape and clouds.

Turnbow will have work appearing shortly in "Texas Parade," an official paper of the Highway Department, its art director recently informed The Success editor, who submitted samples of Turnbow's work to him.

EVERY DRIVER CAN HELP

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

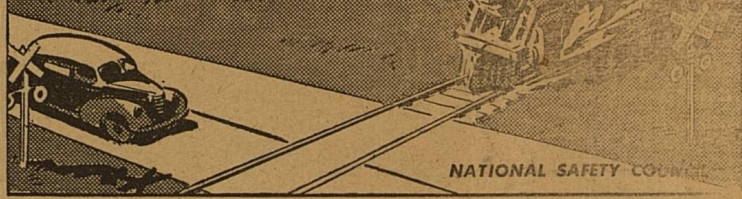

WAR, 1943 style, is war on wheels. Men, weapons and materials vital to victory must be moved swiftly, safely and without delay.

But each day accidents at grade crossings in America injure or kill 19 motorists and delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a drain on manpower and time that a nation at war simply cannot afford.

Will you, as a patriotic driver, enlist in the nationwide campaign now under way to stop these accidents? Here's how you can help:

1. Be extra careful—wartime careful—in all your driving.
2. Be especially alert when approaching a grade crossing.
3. Be sure the way is clear before you cross the tracks.
4. LOOK, LISTEN and LIVE!

Help keep 'em rolling for victory!

Sante Fe Issuing Free Maps

The Santa Fe Railway, through ticket offices at all points on its system, has just recently made available to the general public an attractive folder containing large colored maps of the United States and the World, according to A. C. Ater, general passenger agent for the Gulf Lines.

One of the maps was recently received by The Success which shows a geographically correct map of the United States in the folder 19 by 31 inches in size, and on it are shown all cities, capitals, national parks, rivers, lakes, mountain ranges, navigable canals and railroads.

On the reverse side of the folder is Mercator's projection map of the World, measuring 19 by 35 inches, which has been used by nearly all navigators since about 1600.

These maps may be obtained free of charge from any Santa Fe ticket agent, Mr. Ater stated.

Mrs. J. T. Lawrence this week received a message from her husband, S/FC, who is serving in the Merchant Marine, stating that he had just returned to Edmonds, Wash., after an Alaskan expedition and expects to go to the West Coast soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kent of Mertzson visited with the Truett Stanfords and also with Mrs. Frank Spencer last week-end. Mrs. Spencer returned home with the Kents where she will visit with them for a few days.

Bob Grady Says

EDITOR'S NOTE: For several issues articles written by Bob Grady, serving in the capacity as Government inspector at the local woolen mills, have appeared in The Success. Much favorable comment has been made by our readers on the articles, and we are glad to give him a column to again bring to the readers his writings as follows:

The defeat of the Axis armies in Tunisia is said to represent the handwriting on the wall for Germany and Italy. Handwriting on the wall must be particularly vexing to an old paperhanger such as Adolf Hitler.

According to tradition, Rome was founded on seven hills. This must be a disturbing consideration for Mussolini; for while Il Duce's troops established brilliant new records in the backward sprints and long distance running events on the flat lands of Libya and Tunisia, running up Rome's seven hills is going to prove a decided handicap.

The goose step has long been identified with the German soldier. And now reports have it that the German people are developing goose flesh over the threats of invasion.

The song hit "Der Fuehrer's Face" has never gained wide popularity in Germany. After the Axis armies suffer a few more defeats, probably the fuehrer's actual physiognomy will not be any too popular, either, in the Rhineland.

Mother Shipton, famous seeress of an early era, prophesied that "chariots without horses would go." The prediction holds out little however, to the owner of the horseless chariot who has exhausted his gasoline ration coupons.

Newspaper headlines say "Lewis Flouts (Ignores or Insults) War Labor Board." Maybe John thinks that only a board of psychiatrists should handle his case.

Mrs. W. O. Averett and little daughter, Sue, of Amarillo visited part of this week with Mrs. Averett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dial.

Mrs. J. W. Dial arrived in Eldorado Monday to join her husband here where they are making their home. The Dials are new operators of the Eldorado Coffee Shop and invite the people to come in and get acquainted.

Farming on the Home Front

By Arthur Mund, Jr.
12-year old 4-H Club Boy

The way 4-H boys and girls can help win the war is on the home front.

Most of them are not old enough or big enough to fight. But the most suitable way is to help produce more food for America and her allies.

Many of the starving people in the occupied countries would be on our side if we could send them enough food so they would be strong enough to fight.

A good way a 4-H boy or girl could start is with a cow, a sow and a hen. The cow would give milk and cream for the family. You could give the extra skimmed milk to the chickens and sow besides what you used for cottage cheese and other milk dishes. There are so many ways of using milk you shouldn't get tired of it.

You could sell some butter and cream or milk and use the money to buy baby chickens or defense stamps or bonds. The chicks would help most because the fryers could be eaten and served the family or could be canned and eaten later on. The pullets would lay eggs for family with proper care and the extras could be sold to Uncle Sam and buy stamps or bonds with the profit. Of course, the more hens you had the more profit. You would have more money to buy stamps and bonds.

You could feed the sow real good and raise pigs. You could eat the meat and what you would have bought at the store would go to somebody else at another place. The rind of the hog would season your beans that you raised in your victory garden.

In your victory garden you could raise bears, okra, peas and squash. What you raised in your victory garden, if you would eat them, you wouldn't have to buy it at the store, and what you would have bought out of the store would go to somebody else.

If you had a field you could raise all the grain or feed you need to feed your cow, hog and hen. Money you would have spent for feed you could buy war bonds and stamps.

You should also have tomatoes in your Victory garden. For one thing they furnish so many different vitamins. You should can all the food that you don't use is to have a different variety at different times of the year when the foods are out of season.

There are different kinds of things that grow different times of the year. If you had a frame garden you could raise many different kinds of vegetables in the winter which you couldn't raise in an open garden, and then you could have fresh vegetables the year around. You can also feed lambs with the feed you raised, and sell the lambs to the army or government. You can also feed calves, and maybe some goats, because they furnish lots of good meat, if the government would buy them, but they probably prefer sheep or calves. There are still lots of things girls and boys can do to help win the war.

Our Merchant Marine

AMONG HISTORY'S MOST THRILLING STORIES IS THAT OF OUR MERCHANT MARINE. ITS FIRST CHAPTERS, LIKE MANY LATER ONES, WERE WRITTEN FROM STERN NECESSITY.

IT BEGINS WITH THE TERRIBLE WINTER OF 1607, WHEN THE DISCOURAGED POPHAM COLONISTS ON THE KENNEBEC RIVER, MAINE, HEWED FROM THE FOREST THE FIRST AMERICAN-BUILT COMMERCIAL VESSEL, THE 30 TON PINNACE VIRGINIA, AND SAILED IN HER TO ENGLAND.

THE NEW ENGLAND COLONISTS, LACKING VIRGINIA'S TOBACCO CROP AND FERTILE SOIL, TURNED TO THE SEA FOR THEIR LIVELIHOOD.

GREATEST FRIEND OF OUR COLONIAL SHIPPING WAS JOHN WINTHROP, FIRST GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS, WHOSE TINY SLOOP "BLESSING OF THE BAY", 1630, TRADED ALONG THE NEW ENGLAND COAST AND EVEN WITH THE DUTCH ON MANHATTAN ISLAND.

FROM THOSE MODEST BEGINNINGS, COASTAL AND INTERCOASTAL TRADE GREW STEADILY. BY THE TIME OF OUR ENTRANCE INTO THIS WAR, MORE THAN HALF OUR TOTAL TONNAGE WAS DEVOTED EXCLUSIVELY TO HOME OPERATIONS.

Miss Hazel Doyle of San Antonio is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Doyle and other relatives.

Mrs. Annie Breedlove of Rule, is visiting for a few days with her son W. Irl and family.

Miss Wanda Matteson, who has been attending school at Sul Ross, Alpine, the past semester, is home for a few days' visit with her mother Mrs. E. M. Coulter. She will return to Alpine June First where she will enter school for the first half of the summer term.

For your sheep drenching call Jess Walston, 199 or 49.
