FORTY-THIRD YEAR

ELDORADO, SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS JANUARY 21, 1944.

NUMBER 1.

MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

To meditate this week on any subject other than the Fourth War Loan drive would be hard for us to do.

Every mail is full of literature from the government, treasury department, to publicize the matter, to solicit merchants for ads to help the county go over-the-top on its quota.

A bill was shelved by the last congress for the government to pay for this advertising. Our congressman has not notified us how he voted on the matter. If the advertising is worth as much as Mr. Morgensthan said it was, Mr. Fisher should have voted for it for the newspapers in his district.

Regardless of what any branch of the government has to say in regard to buying the bonds, nothing inspires us to want to buy them as much as it does to see some of our home-town boys' records who are in there doing all they can to help get it over with.

When we see how hard County Chairman C. L. Meador, Jr. and his committee are working on the job of raising this county's quota it makes us want to buy another bond of raising this county's quota at their efforts.

A short time back we said if we could get a birthday present of a Series E Bond we would be happy. We are happy.

That $18.75 bond may help some Schleicher county boy get back to his home safely. The one you might buy during this drive, or the ones of other denominations may get many other boys back to our shores a lot sooner and more safely.

Another thing: Series C Bonds in as low as $100 denominations may be purchased this month and deducted from your income tax payment in March.

This is not a donation, but a loan that will pay good interest.

Is it not worth sacrificing just a little more for?

It happens to fall the lot of this scribe to have a quota set for him to raise— We are pitting our column's advertising pulling power against odds to help us get this quota. If you CAN buy a bond of any denomination see us—we need to raise our quota— your son, your cousin and nephew—and mine, and every mother's son fighting for the cause needs our financial backing.

Caliche Surfacing Of Streets Project Is Latest Civic Proposal

"Out of the mud and onto the caliche" might be termed as a good slogan for Eldorado, and at the same time a splendid project for the citizens to start making plans to perfect.

The matter was brought to the attention of the group of visitors and members of the Lions' club by that organization's president, H. T. Finley this week at their regular Wednesday noon meeting. No voice of opposition to a proposed plan to make investigations into the matter of placing caliche on the streets not at present paved was made.

Finley pointed out that there is located in the county many deposits of the dirt, and that the expense of the work should not be too great in his opinion.

The project should be one most welcome to the entire city and county, both from the standpoint of property owners and tenants, since it would save almost everyone concerned much inconvenience of getting vehicles out onto paved highways and streets over town. The caliching of streets in those parts of town where there are no sidewalks would be most welcomed even by pedestrians, as now there are many places where families, during rainy spells, are denied the privilege of attending church, the theatre or other public gatherings on account of "knee-deep" mud.

If people are in favor of spreading a little of the soil on streets whereby they can "get out of the mud and onto the pavement" be on the alert for the committee to start investigation of the possibility of starting such a project, or talk to some of the city aldermen and other officials about the matter.

IS CITED FOR Meritorious Conduct

Pvt. Lyndon A. Isaacs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny F. Isaacs, by command of Major General Ryder while serving in Italy received a citation which was presented to him on Christmas day for exceptionally meritorious conduct in November. Pvt. Isaacs also received a good conduct medal.

The citation follows:

"Lyndon A. Isaacs; 38371484. Private, Headquarters Battery, * Field Artillery Battalion. For exceptionally meritorious conduct on  November 1943 in the vicinity of * Italy. During the severe enemy shelling of his battery's position, it became necessary to ask for volunteer litter bearers in order to evacuate the casualties. Pvt. Isaacs volunteered without hesitation, on two separate occasions. With utter disregard for his own personal safety he proceeded, under the heavy enemy shell fire, to the aid of a wounded man and helped to evacuate him to the battalion aid station. When a second trip to another casualty became necessary, Pvt. Isaacs repeated his action despite the enemy artillery fire. The courage and willingness of Pvt. Isaacs to undertake such hazardous tasks was exemplary and a credit to the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Eldorado, Texas."

Three Games Are Announced For Local Cagers

Also a return engagement with Christoval will be played here Tuesday evening of next week. The next, or third, will be played with Ozona in the local gym Feb. 4, at 7 p. m.

Boyce House Likely To Make Race For Lieut. Governor

Boyce House, widely-known newspaperman of Fort Worth, is likely to run for Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

In 1942, making his first race for any office, House filed for Lieutenant Governor on the last day and campaigned only five weeks, yet was first or second in almost half of the counties in the State, though he had eight opponents. He lacked only a narrow margin of reaching the run-off and, had he succeeded in doing that, he probably would have been elected.

House made one of the most remarkable first races in the history of Texas. He probably knows more Texans than any other man because he is continually visiting all parts of the State to gather material for his writings—and more people feel that they know House than any other Texan because of his column, "I Give You Texas," in over 200 weekly newspapers with more than a million readers, and his Sunday noon broadcast, "I Give You Texas and the Great Southwest," heard by 300,000.

The fact that House was not elected didn't cause him to lose interest in good government. During the last session of the legislature, he was in Austin writing articles showing how real economy could be achieved and he helped to save the taxpayers several million dollars a year. He is a friend of the schools and he feels that the present situation whereby our needy elderly are receiving $2.50 a month less than the grant which the State itself admits they need is an injustice.

House is not afraid to take a stand and he has come out against the proposed pipeline that would drain the natural gas of Texas for the benefit of Eastern industries. Let the industries come down here to Texas where the gas is," House says, "and hire Texas workers, pay taxes to support our schools and maintain our city, county and State governments, and provide prosperity for all our people."

If Boyce House runs for Lieutenant Governor, it is safe to predict that he will be a formidable candidate.

LIONS' CLUB NOTES

The Rev. F. B. Faust, pastor of the Methodist church was main speaker at the noon luncheon hour of the club to which he was a guest. His splendid address was enjoyed by the group.

Otis Davis, S 2/c was the only other guest at the club, and told how he was enjoying Navy life. He evidently is being well fed, as he shows considerable gain in weight since he "shipped" out with that branch of the service a few months ago.

Attendance showed a marked increase at this week's meeting.

Possibilities of getting Eldorado streets caliched were brought before the group by the president.

New members for January totode include H. E. Finnigan and D. C. Hill. Mr. Hill was accepted by acclamation last week. New applications for membership include Rev. F. B. Faust and John Hughes.

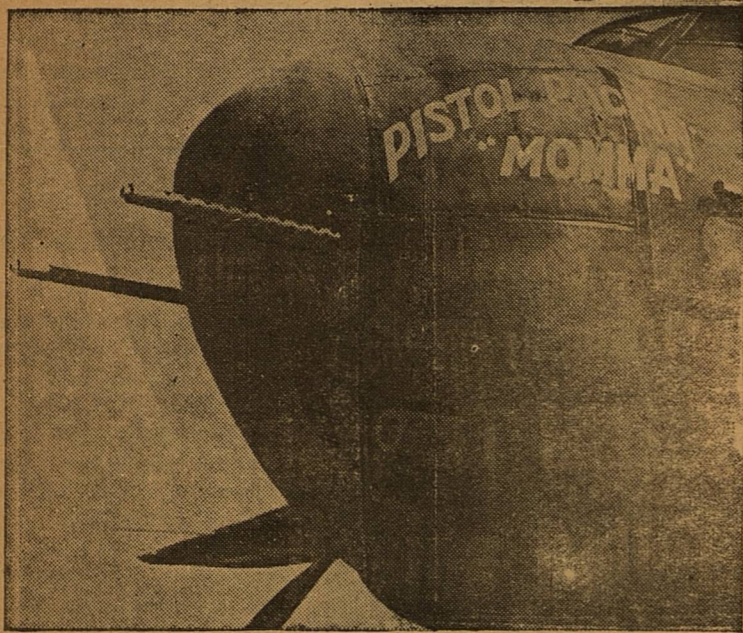

Lieut. and Mrs. Alfred H. Dallinger and daughter, Betty Joanne, of Carlsbad, N. M., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hill over the week-end.

January Good Time To Prepare Garden Soil Says Agent

January is a good time to begin the preparation of garden soil. Weeds and grass may be removed at this time, looking ahead to February and March planting. A good gardener can expect a yield of one-half to one pound of vegetables per foot of row. That means extra space in the back yard devoted to a Victory garden will yield good returns.

It is also possible to increase vegetable yields in heavy soil, or where moisture is limited by using 25 to 50 pounds of well-rotted manure or compost to each 100 feet of row space.

Congress Convenes; President Proposes 5-Point Program

Last week the second session of the 78th Congress Convened, heard President Roosevelt's message, and got down to serious business. Many grave problems will be dealt with the next few months, which will may be fateful in the world's history.

The President's message broadly discussed the wartime picture, reviewed the recent international conferences, and recommended a five-point legislative program.

The Chief Executive urged: 1. An increase in taxes, 2. Continuation of the price control law, 3. Continuation of the renegotiation law to prevent exorbitant profits on war contracts, 4. A cost of food law, 5. And a national service law.

Economy And Taxation

Many believe a tax program should be considered along with earnest efforts to economize on non-essential expenditures, Chairman Ramspeck of the House Civil Service Committee has announced immediate prospects of a tremendous saving to the taxpayers by the removal of 400,000 from the federal payrolls. There are many other economies that can and should be practiced. As to taxes, the personal income tax now ranges from 19 to 90 per cent, the corporation tax is 40 per cent, and the excess profits levy—which also gets the corporations—ranges up to 95 per cent.

Strikes Continue

Strikes and threats of strikes have been continued despite the Connally-Smith anti-strike bill, and despite the fact that a bloody second front is due to open soon. It had been rumored that the President in his message would come out for stronger anti-strike legislation. His qualified reference to some sort of national service program was the extent of his proposals on this point. Congressman Smith of the Connally-Smith Act has announced that he will sponsor a more stringent anti-strike bill.

I have long favored legislation that would force settlement of disputes by arbitration, and make wartime strikes reasonable.

Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District News
REPORTED BY DISTRICT SUPERVISORS

From a moisture standpoint Schleicher County farmers and ranchers are in better shape than they have been during at least 35 of the past 40 years. From a check of 40 years rainfall records (for San Angelo) on file in the soil conservation office, only five years had more moisture in November and December than fell here during the last two months of 1943.

The record is as follows:

1943 (Nov. and Dec.)	4.10 ins.
Eldorado (W. F. Kinser gage)	4.39 ins.
San Angelo (Nov. and Dec.)	5.96*
1911	8.97
1913	4.12
1914	5.45*
1926	4.72*

(*Years had rainfall during one month.)
The record also shows that all of the Januarys following the above years had less than one-half inch of moisture, while Schleicher has already had more than one and one-half inches during the first half of this month.

"The amount of rainfall is made more significant by the way it fell," E. B. Keng, Soil Conservation Service representative, pointed out. All rains fell slow and steady, producing very little runoff and soil loss, and were climaxed by one of the largest snows in many years.

The snow and subsequent freezes will aid greatly in loosening up the crusted layer of soil found on over-grazed ranges. With normal amount and good distribution of rainfall during the spring and summer months, this could be an ideal year for ranchers to allow ranges to regain vigor and "cover up the bare spots."

The fall rains caused many weed and grass seeds to germinate and proper grazing during the coming months will enable the weeds to seed and the young grass plants to get securely established.

A complete record of 1943 rainfall from six gages in the county will be published soon.

W. H. Dameron, superintendent of the Ranch Experiment Station will talk on controlling bitterweed on January 26, at 3:00 P. M., at the courthouse. Every Schleicher County farmer and rancher should plan to be present.

A man shouldn't leave powder on his coat. It is likely to explode if his wife touches it.

Six Children of Eldorado Couple In Service

Six children from one family serving in the Armed Forces of America, is somewhat of a record that not every county in the United States can boast of.

Schleicher county has such a couple in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Butler. Other than the six children, a son-in-law, Sgt. Harry Burge, who is serving under General Clark, Somewhere in Italy.

Care not what the world thinks. It doesn't.

It's A People's War

We are paying more in taxes than ever before... and likely will pay more. But we cannot rely on taxes to finance the war. It would not be fair to base a tax on the average single family income when many families have more than one income. We could borrow all the money from the banks, but for both economic and social reasons this is undesirable. The government would then sacrifice its greatest dam against inflation. This is a People's War and the people should finance it. The people WANT to finance it. Sale of War Bonds has mounted consistently since Pearl Harbor. They give their lives... You lend your money.

CASUALTIES TO BE REPLACED BY TEXAS WAC COMPANIES

The WAC recruiting party, consisting of Lt. Ruth Schwartz and Sergeant Louise Mullikin, visited Eldorado today on a routine tour of their territory, whose headquarters are at San Angelo.

They announced that under the sponsorship of Governor Stevenson, the formation of a Texas WAC company, for the express purpose of releasing men to replace the casualties of the fighting front, would start immediately. The first company will be sworn in at Austin on October 13, and the special Texas companies will continue to be formed until December 7, a date whose significance will live in the memories of Americans.

The Army Air Forces have requested the services of so many WACs that women enlisting in this drive will be given the choice of assignment to this interesting branch.

The Texas companies will leave for the training centers together, wearing the sleeve patch which will indicate that they are from this state, and give them a chance to stand in competition with similar companies being formed in every state of the union.

With the number of casualties from this area mounting during every moment of the fighting, Lt. Schwartz believes that every patriotic Texas woman who is between the ages of 20 and 50, without dependents or children under 14 years of age, will be more than willing to do her share.

The meeting opened with a short program presented by pupils of the fourth grade under direction of Mrs. Corinne Robinson assisted by Miss Bernice Alexander. Mrs. S. D. Harper, president, introduced Mrs. Davis who spoke on the highlights of the state convention which was held in Austin in November. Mrs. Davis stressed the talk by Mrs. Alice Sauters at the convention in which she stated that the home is the real background for freedom and that the freedom of a normal home life is the rightful heritage of every child. Mrs. Davis also read the ten resolutions which were adopted at the state convention, whose theme was the Four Freedoms.

In the business session, it was voted to change the time of meeting to 4 p. m., Supt. C. A. Reynolds announced that school would turn out early on the regular meeting date so that teachers might attend. Mrs. Harper announced that the following committee had been appointed to serve on the second-hand clothing drive which is being sponsored for refugees. The committee:

Mrs. Charley Mund, Mrs. Kenneth Cheek and Mrs. W. M. Davis. Since the need for a better sound system for the high school auditorium is great a communication received recently was read in regard to the purchasing of an amplifier from a radio concern by Mr. Reynolds.

It was voted by the organization to give the superintendent the authority to purchase the amplifier as soon as possible. It was also voted to donate ten cents per member to the March of Dimes drive.

Poultry Feeding And Culling Discussed By Schleicher Agent

In an article written for The Success this week, County Agent Jack Welch has the following to say concerning the shortage of poultry feed and culling of flocks:

The poultry industry has been allotted approximately twenty-eight million tons of feed for 1944. Some seventeen and one-half million tons will be required for egg production. There is not enough feed for all of the pullets and hens now being held on the farms. However, if all unprofitable birds are culled out there should be enough feed for the remaining good ones.

It is not to the interest of the nation that poultrymen cull out good pullets that are laying at a satisfactory rate. It is the intention of the government officials to decrease the number of laying hens for 1944 to equal the number maintained in 1943. The reduction should come about through culling rigidly the old hens and through removal of unhealthy and unprofitable producing pullets.

There are a number of factors to consider in properly culling a flock of hens or pullets. In culling any flock all birds that appear to be unhealthy or out of condition should be culled out. If a flock of birds have been laying for some time, the best layers will have lost the greatest amount of pigmentation from the beak, skin and shanks. The birds that have not started into production will have their normal amount of pigmentation. They are usually culls.

Birds ordinarily molt during each year. If a pullet started to laying in October she should lay for a year without molting if she is a good producer. The early molter is usually the unprofitable bird and as a general rule should be culled out; whereas the late molter is usually a profitable layer and should be retained in the flock.

The body of a hen is the factory where the eggs are made. An efficient producer usually has a long broad back of uniform width, and a deep body. This indicates the capacity to consume large quantities of feed and to digest it quickly and convert it into eggs. She should also have a full breast with legs set wide apart to give a strong constitution. She should also have a long keel bone to prevent the abdomen from sagging and breaking down. The relative depth of the body should be determined by measuring from the center of the back to the center of the breast bone.

Cull the hen that is narrow and short of back and shallow in depth of body. Such hens lack the feed capacity and constitution to stand up under heavy production.

When the hen is laying he abdomen is enlarged and the skin covering is soft, thin and pliable, varying according to the length of the laying period and how heavily she has been laying. In a good layer, the pelvic bones are spread wide apart and become soft and pliable. The distance between the pelvic bones and keel bone also increases, due to the increased size and length of the intestines and the enlargement of the reproductive organs. The pubic bones on a good layer are thin and wide apart. The culls are those hens that have thick, stiff pelvic bones that are close together; those that have thick, stiff pelvic bones that are close together; those that have a heavy layer of hard fat over the abdomen; and also those with little space between the pelvic bones and the keel bone.

The head of the good producer, depending on the breed somewhat, is usually short, wide and deep and the eyes are large and prominent. The poor producer, or cull usually has a long slender, snake-like head, with a dull listless eye and a course meaty face.

The comb is really a hen's health certificate. A deep red comb that is full and waxy is a good indication that the hen is healthy and also that she is in or coming into production.

In culling any flock of birds keep in mind that the good producer is nearly always active and vigorous, first off the roost in the morning and last on the roost in the evening. She is friendlier and usually found loafing in darkened out-of-the-way places. Cull the hens that are persistently broody. In normal times June and September are the logical months for the main culling job. However, keep in mind that the times and conditions today are not normal. With an unfavorable feed-egg price ration the need for rigid culling throughout the year is imperative if a reasonable profit is to be realized from the flock.

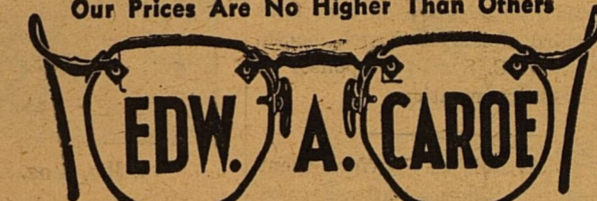

Cull your flock rigidly at regular intervals to keep out the low producers. House the remaining ones comfortably, feed them properly, and your flock will pay a profit.

This farm boy stopped bullets intended for you . . .

JOE MARTINEZ, Colorado farm boy, his battalion bogged down under withering fire from Jap positions on Attu, arose alone and advanced into a hail of bullets to clean out trench after trench so his battalion could advance. He died with his rifle at his shoulder, pumping lead into the enemy, while his mates were able to move up behind him and successfully take the pass. For this, Joe Martinez has been posthumously awarded the Nation's highest military honor. Let every man who was once a farm boy himself buy an extra War Bond in Joe's honor . . . for Joe took the bullets aimed at the heart of America!

The 4th WAR LOAN is your opportunity to do something about it!

It's Time to Take the Offensive. Your government has the men it needs to do the job in the front lines—great men all! But it doesn't have the money it needs, by a long way. That's your job! And the immediate task is the Fourth War Loan—Your chance to take the offensive not only in support of the men who are fighting and dying for you and your loved ones, but also in support of your own future!

What are you going to do about a wornout tractor, about repairing fences and buildings, about replacing depreciated machinery and equipment? Will you be ready with money in the bank when these things are needed?

You will if you take the offensive now! Put every extra dollar into U. S. War Bonds—the best form of financial reserve ever offered you. Think! You are asked to make a sound and prudent investment—not a sacrifice!

When Your Boy Comes Home

Will your boy come back to a farm or ranch with no financial reserves, no future? Or will you greet him at the gate with a bundle of War Savings Bonds—for working capital, new machinery, better buildings? And if your children are going to college, why not be sure they get there by buying today the Bonds that will pay the cost.

No need, really, to tell an up-to-date farmer or rancher what he needs financial reserves for. You know more reasons than anyone else can enumerate for setting aside extra dollars to meet the future. Now is your chance to do it . . . and help fight the war, too!

Go on the offensive! Buy all the Bonds you can—today!

You Never Get Less Than You Lend! And you get 1/2 more than you invest. When held 10 years, War Bonds yield 2.9% interest compounded semi-annually. You get back $4 for every $3.

Cash When You Need It. If an emergency comes along, your War Bonds are like money in the bank. Uncle Sam will redeem them in cash—at full purchase price—any time after you've held them 60 days. Don't cash them unless you have to. And don't hold back a single dollar unnecessarily from the purchase of War Bonds. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED.

Facts About War Bonds (Series E)

You can buy War Bonds from your bank, postmaster, mail carrier or Production Credit Association. Don't wait. Do it by mail if you can't get to town!

MAKE MEAT POINTS GO FURTHER!

Cooked at
450° F.

3 lbs. 4 oz. Lost in Cooking at High Temperature

Cooked at 300° F.

Only 1 lb. 7 oz. Lost in Cooking at Low Temperature

With wartime restrictions limiting the amount of meat available to the family table, low temperature meat cookery of beef, pork, lamb, or veal, which yields 15 per cent more servings on the average, is valuable in helping the American Housewife get the maximum from her meat allowance. These two roasts weighed exactly the same before cooking and were cooked to the same degree of doneness. The roast cooked at the high temperature (above) lost three pounds four ounces in cooking. The roast cooked at low temperature (below) lost only one pound seven ounces and provided six to eight more servings than the roast cooked at high temperature.

Whether roasting, broiling, panbroiling, braising, or cooking in water, it pays to cook all meat slowly at low temperatures. The advantages are: 1. Less shrinkage—more servings; 2. Less fuel used; 3. Meat more uniformly cooked; 4. Meat more tender and better flavored; 5. Constant watching unnecessary; 6. Spattering and burning eliminated; 7. Easier to carve.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

To the many dear friends in Eldorado, I wish to express my sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the beautiful cards and letters sent to cheer and comfort me during my long and critical illness following the accident Oct. 31, when struck by an automobile while on my way to Sunday School.

You'll never know how much the knowledge of your loving sympathy and your earnest prayer in my behalf helped to comfort, strengthen and encourage me. I thank God for your friendship and prayer. His richest blessings upon every one.

I am very happy to be home from the hospital, and after 11 weeks now I am beginning to be better, but I still have a long, hard battle to fight if I ever walk again. I'm asking that you kindly continue to remember me in your prayers and when I'm stronger I will write and thank each one of you personally.

With love and deepest gratitude,
Sincerely,
