MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

"O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Independence Day
Sunday, July 4th

Coming to the attention of this writer recently has been the complete disappointment of some men who have been rejected to military service for one reason and another.

Not all can serve in the armed forces of their country. Neither does a rejection mean that they are physically incapacitated to perform the normal activities of life. But perhaps a small physical defect in some part of the anatomy might simply mean that if they were put to the severe training made necessary to become a present-day soldier, it could possibly cause some other organ to give way or develop into something that would in later years affect the functioning of the body.

On the other hand it is sometimes considered that before a young man should run a risk of breaking down a weakened part of the body, officials would rather, yes much rather, the volunteer, or inductee would take care of his body and use it in the production of necessary materials to supply men who are more physically fit to take the hard army training.

Yes there are many viewpoints in the matter of rejecting youths from the Armed Forces. But a young man can be as brave a soldier on the home-front as he can be on the battle-front. In fact, there is as large a demand for the men on the defense line as there is on the firing line.

To substantiate our conception to the fact that all young men can, and the majority will, do something for the cause that is as important as fighting in Italy, North Africa or any region we reprint the following paragraph released recently:

One of the nation's largest induction centers is Manhattan's Grand Central Palace. Out of the hundreds of selectees, many are classified 4-F, rejected because of physical reasons. But not one of those boys fails to stop by the office of the Red Cross on his way out to give his name as a volunteer and, if approved, to make his donation to the blood

WACC Recruits Sought From Schleicher County

Cpl. Mullins

Lt. Freeman

Aux. Farrell

Lt. Doris Freeman, Cpl. Louise Mullikin and Auxiliary Hazel Farrell pictured above are stationed in San Angelo, in the WAAC Recruiting Office. The ten surrounding counties is the territory they will cover. Periodically, they will make visits to Eldorado to interview any women between the ages of 21 through 44 who has had two years of high school and who is interested in joining the WAAC.

Lt. Freeman and Aux. Hazel Farrell were in Eldorado Friday of last week in interest of securing Schleicher county's quota of two.

Any woman who is interested may make an appointment to see one of them by calling the local chairman, Mrs. J. W. Hoover or by visiting the Army Recruiting Office in the Post Office Building in San Angelo.

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps have set their goal at 150,000 members. At this time the need is greater than ever for women to fit themselves to fill the places of our men in uniform so that they may take over the more crucial part of this war. WAAC enrollees may now be trained as radio mechanics and operators and after their training assigned to the Signal Corps. Applicants for this branch of service must be between 21-44, high school graduates and must pass the Army General Classification Test, with a score of 110 or better.

In the Signal Corps, while undergoing pre-active duty training, enrollees will be paid $106.25 a month for a period of three months and $146.00 a month for any additional pre-active duty training.

New H. D. Agent Assumes Duties

Succeeding Miss Mary Alyne Lewis as Schleicher Home Demonstration agent, is Miss Virginia Ryan, who assumes her duties July first. Miss Ryan has been employed for the past two years as Vocational Home Economics teacher in the Deport, Texas, schools.

Miss Ryan attended the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and received her degree from North Texas State Teachers College. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ryan reside at Martin, Tennessee.

LIVING QUARTERS MAY BE NEEDED HERE

There is every indication that in the very near future there will be a small demand for apartments, houses and furnished rooms in Eldorado. Although nothing definite has been agreed upon, The Success has been requested to help locate living quarters for families that possibly may be sent here.

If you have a room, a house, an apartment, list it with us. There will be no charge for this service. Phone or otherwise notify us of what you have to offer, the location, price and amount of room.

The listings will not be published, but will be kept on file in the office for reference should they be needed.

bank. Fifty to 75 pints of blood a day have come from the boys who still want to do their bit.

June War Loan Quota Goes Over By Small Margin

Although appearing that Schleicher county would fall far short in raising its June War Loan Quota the committees and various other citizens urged that the amount be raised if possible last week and early this week. Tuesday it was reported to The Success that the quota had been over purchased by a very small margin, which is very gratifying to the officials.

Now a plea is made that the July quota be raised as quickly as possible, so that a possibility of not raising the quota be avoided. Again you will find in this issue another series of reasons why you should purchase bonds and what they help supply to the fighting forces. The series is brought to Success readers by firms and individuals listed below the series.

FALLING BOMBS GIVES PECULIAR SENSATION RANCHER DECLARES

While out riding his range one day last week, Carrol White, accompanied by a Negro employee discovered the uncomfortable sensation caused by the noise and expected explosion of a falling bomb, especially when one doesn't know just where they are going to hit.

Upon hearing the bomb coming they began wondering whether to run or stay still, but before time for much deliberation the explosion occurred about 40 yards away from White, blowing a sizeable hole in the ground and scaring his horse.

Attending Scout Camp

Dee Jolly, Sonnie Stanford, Ray Long, Bill Lewis Humphrey, Howard Parker and Billy Sam Breedlove are at Camp Louis Farr near Mertzon this week attending summer Scout camp.

L. KENT USES ECONOMICAL METHODS

When O'possums molest things on the premises of L. Kent his dogs tree them and Kent shoots them the economical way he declares to be like this:

"The dog freed something the other night and I went out to see what was wrong. Looking up in a tree I saw what I took to be an o'possum, and shot it with a .22 rifle and went back to bed."

"The next morning upon making an examination of the kill it was discovered that not one possum was killed but the shot had brought down 12 of 'em."

Reason: Upon examining the female 'possum 11 young were found in the pouch used by the animals to carry their young.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGinness and daughter Miss Laura and son Floyd, accompanied their son and brother, Pvt. Elton and wife to Laredo Saturday where Pvt. Elton is in training at a camp there.

Lions Club To Have Ladies Night And Installation of Officers

Thursday night, July 1, (tonight) local Lions Club members will be hosts to their wives and guest who will appear on the evening's program, together with a few invited Sonora visitors at a ladies' night and installation services of new officers for the coming year.

Principal speaker on the program is to be Roy Keaton, secretary of Texas Lions International, and a musical program will feature Joe Kreklow at the piano, Kreklow having recently appeared here at the entertainment for Goodfellow soldiers.

E. C. Hill, District Governor of 2-A Lions will have charge of the installation services for the new officers. Hill will go to Cleveland, Ohio about the middle of this month to a Lions convention and at this convention will turn his present office over to Ed Hackleman of Corpus Christi, who was elected at the recent San Antonio convention.

Lion President Chester Wheeler announces starting time of the event as 8:30 and that a good dinner is on the menu for the evening.

Prugel To New Position Soon

Effective July first will be the merging of the National Farm Loan Associations of Schleicher, Sutton and Crockett counties, with A. E. Prugel present county agent of Schleicher county as secretary-treasurer of the tri-county organization.

Prugel has announced his resignation and will take over his new work this first. However, since there has been no appointment made for a successor here, he will assist in carrying on the local county agent's work until about the middle of July.

Headquarters for the new NFLA set-up will be in Sonora and Prugel will move there with his family later, but temporarily will remain in Eldorado.

In a statement to a Success reporter Prugel expressed his sincere appreciation of co-operation of Schleicher people in performing his past duties here.

CONFLICTING AIR PORT STORY REPORTED

An article appearing in a daily paper last week stating that a lease had been made to the Army by Mrs. C. C. West for acreage to be used as an auxiliary port and that families were to be moved here to maintain same, failed to be confirmed by Mrs. West and others interested in the port. No lease has been agreed upon to date and nothing further done about the matter since Army officials were here some time back and inspected the contemplated field. Many inquiries have come to this office concerning the transaction and should developments in favor of the field arise, we shall endeavor to announce it

Former Eldorado Men Contribute To New Synthetic Rubber Industry

With eyes turned toward the role Texas is playing in the synthetic rubber industry, it is quite appropriate to print what relatives of Eldorado people are contributing to the sensational invention.

Following is an article taken from The San Angelo Standard Times concerning synthetic experiments and products by Dave and Joseph Elder, former Eldorado citizens. The latter man is a son-in-law of Mrs. C. C. West of this place.

West Texas ranchmen can do just about anything—and they usually do.

They climb for water, dig for wood. They raise wool and wear cotton trousers, they raise cows by the thousands, buy milk from creameries, and eat Spanish goats. Some years they borrow fortunes to keep their ranches and livestock—in other years they borrow fortunes to pay their income taxes.

But they get by, one way or another.

Take Dave Elder of San Angelo, who ranches at Rankin and operates in the oil business as well, and Joseph Elder brother of Dave.

The other day Dave strolled in to Andy Mitchell's drug store at Rankin. "Andy," he said, "I wish you'd order me about 30 gallons of linseed oil. My tires need recapping."

He meant it. He and his brother, Joseph Elder of Arlington, have patented a process by which linseed oil and other ingredients whose nature for the present is kept secret can be made into a substance that looks, feels, and smells exactly like Mr. Goodyear's best product.

Joseph is the inventor. He is a chemist with a habit of experimenting in a small way on ideas of his own. He cooked up a little batch of the linseed oil "rubber" about 15 years ago, then forgot about it to try other experiments. But his brother, Dave, didn't forget. He has been interested in solving the nation's rubber problem since the Japs took over our rubber supply.

First he tried the guayule angle. He offered to plant any amount of it on his Upton County country. He was offered no encouragement. Then he attempted to arrange to furnish guayule from Mexico, where it flourishes without cultivation, to American manufacturers. Still he was not encouraged.

A few months ago he met his brother in Sweetwater. "Do you remember that rubber you cooked up several years back?" Dave asked. Joseph answered that he vaguely remembered such an experiment. "Then cook up some more," said Dave. "If you haven't time it might be a good idea to take time anyway."

Joseph took a little time. He cooked the rubber in pots and pans. Some of it was good—apparently it had all the resiliency, elasticity and toughness of the product we took for granted before Pearl Harbor but which has since then moved over into the same class with diamonds, platinum, and sirloin steaks.

Dave looked over the samples. One was particularly good. He hustled Joseph off to Washington to get the process patented. War Production Board officials looked at the sample and declared it the best rubber substitute so far submitted.

The process is cheap. It is fast. Its most costly ingredient is linseed oil, made from flax.

Flax is an easily cultivated crop, will grow practically anywhere but is not one of the nation's major crops. However, if the Elder Brothers' patent proves as valuable as it looks, American farmers will find flax a crop worth raising. Linseed meal, which would be a by product of the rubber-making process, is high-protein feed.

The inventors claim nothing for their find. They don't know how linseed-oil tires will compare with other synthetic tires or the real McCoy. They believe their own product is good; so do several manufacturers who are now dickering for production rights. Even if the linseed oil rubber is not the best tire material, there are thousands of other uses for rubber which the Elder product might serve better than anything yet developed.

It has long been known that artificial rubbers withstand deterioration better than natural rubber under certain conditions—for instance, when the rubber is subjected to contact with gasoline or oil.

The Elder rubber, it has been found, blends readily with either natural or other synthetic rubber—perhaps it can be used to increase the supply of these products.

It looks like a revolutionary step toward American self sufficiency.

Meanwhile, Dave is going to recap the tires of his own automobile and those of Mrs. Elder with good-looking new treads—made from rubber cooked up in a wash pot.

Joseph Elder is a former resident of Eldorado, and is a son-in-law of Mrs. C. C. West of this city. Joseph's parents formerly operated the Elder Hotel in Eldorado quite a few years back. He is the father of five children, four of them being boys and all are in the armed forces.

One of our every two families have at least two workers. Figure it out yourself how much beyond 10 percent of your family income you can put into War Bonds every payday.

Paper Shortage Affecting Success

Due to a nation-wide paper and pulp shortage The Success has been slightly hampered recently in securing paper and has to accept what is offered. This week we have had to cut down the width of our paper to some extent, but will try to continue to publish as much local news as possible and will run extra pages only as the occasions demand in the future. There will likely not be any shortage of local news in the near future caused by lack of paper, but we will endeavor to cooperate in the war effort by using as small amounts of paper as possible in order to carry our advertising and news. Remember The Success is read by many, many, men in Service and each news story you contribute affords reading pleasure to our men in service readers. The home-town newspaper has been judged by the War Department as a morale builder for soldiers.

For printing of distinction Call No. 77. We know how!

Oil Cuts a New Pattern

Deeply impressed in the sand and mud of distant battle fields soon will be seen the pattern cut by oil's newest weapon — tracks of rugged, heavy-lugged military tires made from rubber synthetically produced from petroleum.

RUBBER made from oil is now a reality; and appropriately the Governor proclaimed June 28, 1943, as American-Made-Rubber Day in Texas.

When the source of native rubber was denied the Allies by the Japanese the petroleum industry was ready with plans already drawn for making synthetic rubber from oil. Tests prove it to be as good as, and in some instances better than, rubber made from native stock.

The same Humble refineries which for more than a year have been producing vast quantities of toluene for explosives, high octane aviation gasoline, and hundreds of other vital war products, will soon be ready to make Butyl rubber for many special military uses and Butadiene, basic material for military tires.

Production of this newest weapon from oil will be an added obligation. Humble will continue to meet established quotas of other petroleum war products as heretofore. Rubber simply will be added to an already long list of essentials—a list which reflects the vital part Humble men and women have in the battle of production.

What Does It Mean to You—

The Constitution of the United States?

"We, the people of the United States..."

One hundred fifty-six years ago, these simple words began America's warranty of freedom.

Today we are deep in war—so that this warranty may endure. Should we win—and win we must—whom will it profit?

Are you a West Texas farmer, and do you love your land? Are you a worker, and do you cherish your hard-bought home? It will profit you that no man, without due process, can wrest your home, your field, your plow from you.

Do you worship God in a church, or in a synagogue, or in the secret places of your heart? It will profit you that no heathen hand can desecrate your altars.

Do you impart the truth to the printed page—or do you seek it there? It will profit you that the presses will not be shattered in the night.

Do you talk with your neighbors on the street corner—or meet on the steps of the City Hall? It will profit you that no bludgeon can drive you into secret meetings.

Our Constitution assures us these things. And these we fight for.

In many ways we fight. Some in small, silent ways—when sons have gone. Some in large, heroic ways—in the roaring of wings, the firing of guns, the sailing of ships. Farmers fight in their fields; ministers from the pulpit's height. Others are making the weapons of war... and some are supplying the power with which to run the machines.

We are proud to be among the men and women of industry, fighting, too.

And we join with the freedom-loving people of West Texas in asking that Washington's bureaucrats forego their political activities for the duration and concentrate on the fight... and that they cease their endeavors to permanently change our Constitution—a threat to the freedom for which we are fighting.

Heard some terrible "Fish Stories" around about the last few days. Jimmie West and C. A. Reynolds report a modest catch last week on Devils River.

Comical sight witnessed by us one evening last week was the attacks on an opossum by a Scotty dog of J. B. Kidd, foreman of the Capt. Thad A. Thomson ranch. Although one-eyed and short of teeth the faithful little animal made its kill on the chicken thief.

H. T. Finley broke a promise to bring this scribe a mess of fish after a recent "fishin'." Oh well, it's not election year.

Mrs. Jim Willoughby making us swelter while telling of how cool it was in Mexico City, D. F.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson showing stationery of her husband, serving in Armed Forces in England, with his picture sitting on a side-walk-rail with Big Ben in the background. Some novelty.

Mrs. George Williams is a proud possessor of a new walk and flower beds in front of her hatchery building. Pete Bryant really getting hot running the "mud."

What Your Bonds Help Buy--

Wish thinking will not halt Hitler's tyranny, nor will "spare-change" financing give us the money necessary to win this war. So start today investing in your country's War Bonds with ten percent or more of your earnings.

Wishful thinking will not help you to buy that new furniture when the war is won. But your money saved in War Bonds will. Join the Payroll Savings Plan at your office or factory. Let's "Top that Ten Percent."

While we have not heard so much about them, our air-borne command is inferior to none. We have thousands of these especially trained troops and the glider is a necessary factor in their successful operation.

We build gliders in three types and their capacity is a military secret. The type shown here costs about $19,000 each. Buy War Bonds with at least ten percent of your income every payday and help pay for these gliders for our intrepid fighting men.

WAR BONDS

Battle of the Atlantic

A sinking smokestack, a great air bubble, an empty lifeboat, all that is visible of a torpedoed tanker, all that is evident of the hard work, the savings we put into War Bonds to build this tanker, to load it with 50,000 gallons of high octane gas.

Our money is still safe but the tanker is lost forever. Another and another and another must be built to take its place.

The men who sail the seas are giving their lives to win the Battle of the Atlantic. We are asked only to lend our money.

Pig Boat

At sea on a submarine isn't exactly the "life of Riley." In the Battle of the Atlantic, or on the great stretches of the Pacific these sailors know the hazards of their work.

One of the spots aboard these "Pig Boats" that all crew members enjoy is the galley, or kitchen. Space limitations prevent an elaborate setup, but cooks aboard these vessels are justly proud of the meals they prepare for their crews. Your increased purchase of War Bonds helps make submarine life as pleasant as possible.

5 Ocean Navy

When Pearl Harbor burst upon us our great expanse of territory was protected by a one ocean navy of about 350 first line ships with an addition of an approximate number building.

Now we are in a five ocean war and we are required not only to pay for the building of enough ships of the line but also for hundreds of Liberty ships and auxiliary craft. The amount of money you invested in War Bonds when we had a one ocean navy was all right then, it isn't enough now. Buy more and more War Bonds.

Among the casualties returning to the United States from the Solomons are men who have lost their hearing, not from injury, not from shock, but from attack by insects upon men who have been without mosquito bar protection.

We'll never know how many lives this mosquito bar has saved and you probably never will know just how much good your purchases of War Bonds have done, but you should know that regular and increasing purchases are necessary.

RED CROSS NEWS

Since November 15 the local Red Cross Knitters Unit has completed 42 garments for service men. At present there are eight more sleeveless sweaters to be issued and there is very little time left in which to get these ready for our boys to have them for cold weather. Any one desiring to help make sure that our boys will have warm clothing this winter is urged to call by the Hotel Eldo and get the material to make one of these. Workers are urgently needed.

The following rules have been set by National Headquarters to be strictly observed by all knitters since every garment must be regulated to pass inspection:

1. Garments must be measured correctly by yardstick (not tapes)
2. When blocking, do not block ribbing.
3. Overcast garment together so seam will be flat.

-CAN'T SLEEP-

No need to lie in bed—toss-worry and fret because CONSTIPATION or GAS PRES-SURE won't let you sleep. Be sensible—get up—take a dash of ADLER-I-KA as directed, to relieve the pressure of large intestines on nerves and organs of the digestive tract. Adler-I-Ka assists old food wastes and gas through a comfortable bowel movement so that bowels return to normal size and the discomforts of pressure stop. Before you know it, you are asleep.
