MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

Think everyone but us went somewhere on the Fifth. There is consolation in the fact of us having to stay home and work and that is we had no blisters to doctor and no flats to fix. Another thing, we can get this sheet to the men in service on scheduled time by not being one day late.

It has been too hot this week to even think in terms desirable to print in this column.

If we could take life as easy as Jess Walston seems to be doing most every time we call on him, it would be a different story . . .

Jimmie West accused us of "popping off" this week. Well, there is one thing sure, right about now (3:00 o'clock p. m.), we have up enough steam to "pop off" and then blow a whistle equivalent to one heard in piney-wood saw mill, at 2 o'clock.

We wish to thank all those who have responded to our pleas to get our subscription list up to date. Your prompt attention to this matter was very much appreciated. Our wholesale paper house has a habit of expecting us to pay for the paper we order from them and every time you pay your subscription it will help us to entice them to consider sending us more paper. Hence, if we get enough subscriptions renewed we will get enough paper to print this kind of stuff on. If you don't enjoy this—pay up for two years and we will buy enough to print something good on.

We are a great believer in the community in which we earn our livelihood. We want to see this community prosper. We want to see this community grow; to fulfill its civic obligations; to back its men in service; to support the churches, schools and influence its youth in the proper channels. Nothing encourages us more than to hear a citizen boost his home-town, and county, its industries and enterprises. When we see an opportunity to do something that will in any way benefit our community, we feel that it is our duty to do that very thing.

Communities are built by planning and hard work by its citizens, just as a business is built and maintained by constant effort to improve merits. No wise businessman hangs out his shingle and then retire to the interior of his establishment to await the world to beat a trodden path to his door. He has to first secure merchandise or services for sale; then, in some manner, he has to advertise and solicit prospects for the sale of his merchandise, at the same time rendering a courteous service and offering quality merchandise at prices in line with competition.

Lions Install New Officers

Roy Keaton Delivers Main Address to Attentive Audience

Any Lion and wife who failed to attend installation services and ladies' night Thursday of last week, or anyone who has failed to become a Lions club member and did not attend the occasion, missed one of the most inspirational and entertaining meetings of the year, when members of the club entertained their wives and a few visitors including Harry Reasonover, charter member of the Austin Lions' club and Roy Keaton, principal speaker of the evening, who serves in the capacity as Secretary of Lions International for the State of Texas.

Officers for the local club that were recently elected were installed in a service conducted by E. C. Hill, local hardware merchant, who has served the past term as District Governor of District 2-A, and who will go this month to Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the National Convention. Lion Hill emphasized the responsibilities of the various officers installed and stressed co-operation among them in the performance of their duties.

Following are those officers installed:
President, H. T. Finley; First vice-president, E. W. Brooks, second vice-president, Jerry Pennington; third vice-president, Jimmie West; secretary-treasurer, Carroll Ratliff, (re-elected); Lion Tamer, J. M. Hays, (re-elected); tail-twister, Kenneth Cheek; directors, E. C. Hill, (re-elected) and C. C. McLaughlin. Hold-over directors are E. H. Coulter and Carroll White.

SCATTERED RAINS FALL IN COUNTY LAST WEEK

Light scattered rains fell over the county last week relieving the drought in some areas that is fast parching the grass and small feed crops. General rains are badly needed at the present and if the dry weather continues there will be need to exercise great care in preventing fires spreading to fields and ranges. Feed crops, together with cotton, look very promising over a wide area of the county visited Sunday afternoon by this writer.

One of the most promising fields of cotton seen by us this season is that of L. Kent's in the Bailey Ranch section. One among the better feed crops was found on the Hugh McAngus farm and the another on the Newlin place in the same section of the county. Many other fields bore promising crop prospects, but since we are strangers, so to speak, we are unable to identify their owners.

Listen to Morgenthau-Marshall Tell Power of Payroll Savings!

Washington, D. C.—How important is the average worker's war bond purchases out of his pay every payday in the grand strategy of the Allied High Command? Does the extent of his or her War Bond allotment have a part in determining when, where and the strength of our military blows?

Any worker listening in on a recent conversation between General George C. Marshall, President Roosevelt's Chief of Staff, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., learned the answers to these questions.

Said General Marshall: "Mr. Secretary, I want you to answer a question for me and to answer it with complete frankness. Can we military leaders plan to fight this war in an orderly way—in the surest and most effective manner—or must we take extraordinary risks for fear the money will not hold out?"

Replied Secretary Morgenthau: "General, the American public will take care of that. What they have done in the Second War Loan drive—the money they have produced and the spirit they have shown—is proof enough for me that they will not let our fighters suffer from lack of support until we achieve complete victory, no matter how long that may be nor how much it may cost."

Up your War Bond allotment out of your wages today. Figure it out for yourself how much above 10 per cent it should be.

Schleicher Farmer-Ranchman Demonstrates How to Save Canned Goods; Raises Corn For Free Table Consumption; It's Ready

Realizing that the food situation was going to be somewhat congested, and that there would be a shortage of canned goods, and that these good probably would be needed to feed our fighting men and allies, J. E. Spencer planned early in the Spring to plant 10 acres of a desirable variety of corn to produce roasting ears for the people of Schleicher county who had no opportunity to plant or raise corn for table use.

Perfecting his plans the acreage was planted, cultivated and an abundant crop is now on the stalk ready for table consumption. Mr. Spencer states that the people of the community are welcome to the corn and that they may go to his place out on the Bailey Ranch Road and get the table delicacy.

Eradication of Bitterweed Is Studied By Group

Control and eradication measures designed to combat poison bitterweed were studied by the local Soil Conservation Service staff when they recently visited the Texas Experiment Station ranch near Barnhart.

The Experiment Station ranch consists of 5 sections of grassland, located on true divide type range, and was heavily infested with bitterweed when the Station was established in the fall of 1937.

The ranch is crossfenced into numerous pastures, and pastures are stocked with straight cattle, straight sheep, mixed grazing with cattle and sheep, and various methods of rotated grazing with both straight and mixed stocking.

Wallace Dameron, in charge of the Experiment Station ranch (which is a part of the Main Station located southeast of Sonora), met the group at the Station headquarters and explained the treatment and results on each pasture. "The ranch is stocked with one animal unit to 16 acres, or 40 animal units per section" Mr. Dameron stated. He added that bitterweed on the station had decreased 60 per cent since 1938.

Mr. Dameron attributed the bitterweed decrease largely to increased competition from other vegetation, which has improved rapidly (Continued on Page 2)

Repairs Being Made On High School Building

General repairs are being made on the high school building, the work includes re-painting interior of several rooms, new window frames for a number of the windows, together with possible other repairs.

A most welcome improvement is the laying of a new walk on the grounds that will eliminate students having to walk in the mud when entering the building in wet weather, and also in connecting two buildings.

BOMBER RANGE FIRE SPREADS IN WIND OVER DRYING GRASS THURS.

Reports are that the fire which spread Thursday to the S. D. Harper and Cecil Meador places was caused when a bomb fell on the Leonard Baugh Ranch, which is a bombing site, and started a fire; was spread rapidly by the north wind to the Harper place, burning about 75 acres of range and then to the Meador place where an approximate section was burned before some 50 or 75 volunteers brought it under control after an alarm was sounded here.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

ANTI-STRIKE BILL PASSED OVER VETO

The big news in Washington last week-end was the passage of the Connally anti-strike bill over the President's veto.

I voted to override that veto.

I did so because I am not ready to place the interests of John L. Lewis above those of this nation and the American people who want to get on with the war.

Like most of the other congressmen and the bulk of the American people, I had had my fill of the civil anarchy fostered by Lewis and others of his calibre.

I have not witnessed a more tense and dramatic occasion since I came to Congress. As the news spread through the House that the Senate had just received and promptly overridden the President's veto, Congressman Woodrum of Virginia, than whom there are few more eloquent and forceful, arose to say:

"The Chief Executive, for reasons undoubtedly sufficient in his own mind, has vetoed the Connally-Smith bill. The Senate has passed the bill over the presidential veto. The clerk of the Senate is at the portals of the House of Representatives with a message from the Senate. It is time now for action. Every man is entitled to his own individual opinion, and he must take his own responsibility. The President can take his. I want to take mine. I want to send a message to the boys in the fox holes and on the battle fronts that those of us here at home are going to do our part. We should pass this bill over the veto."

The vote was 244 to 108.

What The Bill Provides

My only objection to the bill is that it does not go far enough. It provides that in case of a threat of a strike in a war production plant, at least 30 days must expire before strike action could be taken, during which time a secret vote is taken of all employees. If a majority votes to quit making war materials to fight Hitler and Tojo with, the President can step in and take over the plant. It then becomes a criminal offense for any worker or leader to "coerce, induce, conspire with or encourage" anyone to impede output by strike, slowdown or other interruption.

The bill does not deprive legitimate, patriotic laboring people of a single essential right.

But it does very properly impose certain restrictions and controls over labor leaders who are irresponsible, defiant and selfish, and who in recent years have become intoxicated with power.

And it does provide some insurance to labor of its right to work when the life of this nation is at stake.

Some Dire Threats

Some of the labor leaders opposed the bill very vigorously, and went so far as to threaten that their unions would "use all the resources at their command" to "vote out of office" those of us who supported the anti-strike bill.

But the vast majority of the Congress was more concerned with stopping strikes and winning the war than with such political threats.

the club; also Colonge to Mrs. Ida Neill for her untiring work and co-operation with work carried on in the office of the District Governor.

Most enjoyable event of the evening (even more than the splendid dinner) was the address of Mr. Keaton, who took from his inexhaustible vocabulary such phrases as "I shall extract from my feeble mind a short message if it will unburden itself and awaken slumbering thoughts into words. My Epistolary Chatter shall dwell exclusively upon that meritorious and interesting subject that I shall call a toast to the ladies" . . .

Continuing, the speaker kept the audience in the highest degree of laughter by an oratory that went along channels thus:

"High upon the list of Anthropology's somewhat heterogeneous assembly of mammals, you will see, perching triumphantly, that amiable paranoic figure known as MAN.

Husbands are of three varieties. Prizes, surprises and consolation prizes.

A husband is supposed to be the head of the family, but often in trying to be the head he only gets a headache.

Husbands are just like automobiles—if you take care of them, you won't have to be getting new ones all the time.

A husband is somewhat like an egg. If kept continually in hot water, he becomes hard-boiled. Husbands are like money. Keep them busy or they lose interest.

"Seriously, though, it always has been somewhat of an exceptionally psychological marvel what a fragile, queenly-mannered, perfumed-scented intellectual being like a woman should enjoy kissing a homely, awkward, stubby-chinned tobacco-scented thing like a man. But I claim this is caused by the 'spell' of Cupid, for when Cupid hits the mark, he usually Mrs. it. Or might we say, that man is often like unto a WORM. He comes along, WIGGLES like sixty to make both ends meet, then some chicken gets him" . . .

Keaton, in a more serious part of his address used "Work" as a subject, urging the new officers and members of the club to pull-together in the various undertakings, and moreso, that when a task was assigned to an officer, a committee or a body, to give it their best efforts.

Mrs. W. J. Steward and daughter, Jean, spent several days this week in Big Spring visiting Mrs. Walter Weems, daughter of Mrs. Steward.

Mrs. J. E. Jones had as her guests, her mother, Mrs. J. J. Pendley of Rio Vista and her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. C. Pendley of Cleburne.

under the present stocking rate. He pointed out that proper stocking to increase vigor and density of grasses was the first step toward reducing bitterweed.

One of the most significant things noted on the tour, aside from the reduction in bitterweed, was the abundance of desirable sheep weeds in the pastures where rotated grazing was practiced. E. B. Keng, Soil Conservation Service technician stated. Pastures which are rested from March 15 to June 15 in the rotation plan were covered with a good stand of tallow weed, peavine, white daisy, wild carrot, and other good sheep and cattle weeds. In pastures stocked yearlong with straight sheep good weeds were practically absent.

Dr. W. T. Hardy, Experiment Station Veterinarian, gave the Soil Conservation Service group information on the life history and control of the common stomach worm, as well as information on pink eye, milk colic, and other livestock diseases.

Keng felt that the trip was well worthwhile in that some very desirable information was obtained. This information will be passed on to Schleicher County farmers and ranchers cooperating with the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District and will help them to combat bitterweed, improve their pastures, and produce more pounds of beef, lamb, and wool.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

The majority of folks are honest. It is not dishonesty amongst the great majority of us, it is gullibility that is our problem. We have not been brought up on enough AEsop. Otherwise we would not be took-in by everybody coming along with some new rosy idea like "security for evermore." Security clear up to the mortician, including the coffin. To just sit down and wait—all expenses paid—would sure make us a cobwebby outfit.

We have laws against the gents with the 3 shells and one pea. We need a law putting a jail term on the flowery ducks in the striped pants who try to put over catchy slogans like this, "Freedom from care and everything—and never a worry or effort."

About the time we could get nicely settled, and basking under "security henceforth," and our muscles have become flabby, along would come some unruly Foreign Highwayman Nation and slap us down—and out the window would go Security, lock, stock and barrél. Most of us half-way savvy that perpetual motion is a fake, and we don't buy perpetual motion stock anymore, very often—but that don't keep us from being a sucker for something newer, if it sounds rosy and grand—and no sweat. We are demons for shell games.

DAIRY FOODS HAVE GONE TO WAR

To provide for the nutritional needs of the nation's fighting forces and for lend lease, civilians must get along with less dairy products in 1943 amounting to the equivalent of 39 quarts of milk. Last year the average person consumed 397 quarts of milk as milk or milk products. This was more than in any previous year. For 1943 there are only 358 quarts of milk available per person.

There have also been important shifts in the way in which milk is consumed. Last year the average person consumed the equivalent of 177 quarts of milk as milk and cream. This year there will be 190 quarts per person available in that form.

But in every other case the amount of dairy products available has declined. Last year 150 quarts of milk went into the making of the 16 pounds of butter the average American ate. This year we can only have 12.8 pounds of butter coming from 121 quarts of milk. Last year the average person consumed the cheese from 30 quarts of milk, the ice cream from 21 quarts of milk and condensed and dry milk from 19 quarts. This year there are only 22 quarts available for cheese for the average person; 13 quarts for ice cream and 13 quarts for milk in other forms. Even though production is higher than last year all of the balance of the product is being used for the armed forces and for lend lease. Because of the exceptional nutritional and protective qualities of dairy products soldiers are given approximately twice as much of them as are available for the average civilian, points out the National Dairy Council.

One of my favorite vaudeville performers, years and years ago when there was vaudeville, was Walter Kelley, known as the "old Virginia Judge." He was seated on the bench, gavel in hand, and was so gifted as a mimic that he could play all the characters. One case was that of a negro who had acquired a college education up North and when the judge said, "I fine you $10," the defendant said, "Yes, sir, I've got it right here in my pocket." The judge continued, "—and 30 days in jail." Then peering over his glasses, he asked, "Have you got that in your pocket, too?"

Can you recall when "electrics" were in use? They were rivals to the automobile but were propelled by electricity, (I suppose by means of a battery, instead of gasoline. There were no fumes and they glided silently by. They were glassed in (in a day when the autos were open affairs); they steered with a stick and, instead of a horn, were equipped with a pleasant-sounding bell. The driver usually was a pretty lady and there was a little vase with a rose. Ah, those were the days of romance!

He also stated that he surely would like to be eating some vegetables from his parent's victory garden, and some of that good "fried chicken." He stated that they have beans every day and "hen" every Sunday. "The Church With A Friendly Welcome".
J. M. Hays, Pastor

We are grateful for our good services Sunday and Sunday night. While many of our people were out taking the Fourth many of them came to support the regular services Sunday.

I think we do well to reflect on this passage of scripture quite often: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

The one who calls himself a Christian or a follower of Christ should always put Christ and His cause first. It should be primarily and not secondary; it should be the supreme thing in his life. One other thing we should remember is: That what we do is so much louder than what we say that people cannot tell what we are saying.

But here too, I am going to do this week-end just what I have been getting after some of our folks for doing last week, and I am just wondering if it is another case where the "kettle is calling the pot black."

Mrs. Hays and I are to be away Sunday and Sunday night but we will have someone to take our place. Bro. V. E. Hughes, a student in Baylor, at present leading our Mexican children in a Vacation Bible School will preach for us both services Sunday and Sunday night. I hope and trust our people will be right here with their loyalty as they usually are.

We are glad to announce that the Mexican Vacation Bible School has gotten a good start and interest is increasing every day. The Mexican missionary is preaching to his people each evening at 9 o'clock and a great number are hearing him each service.

Time of our services is as follows: Sunday School and Church each Sunday at 10:00 and 11:00 a. m. Training Union and Preaching service at 8:00 and 9:00 p. m. Our mid-week service is each Wednesday evening at 8:30. The W. M. U. has its meetings each Monday afternoon.

Medical Center Opens in Dallas

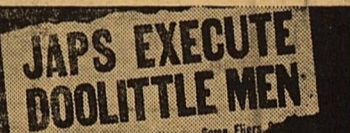

DR. DONALD SLAUGHTER

Registration of summer classes of the Southwestern Medical Foundation, starting Monday, will continue through two weeks up to the opening of the new medical school in Dallas, July 1. According to Dr. Donald Slaughter, dean of the medical school, most classes are full. A $1,500,000 fund-raising campaign is now in process to build and equip the first unit of the Greater Medical Center in Dallas. Temporary buildings are being erected to house the school until such time materials can be had for the construction of the main building. The Medical Center is a $25,000,000 project and is to render service to more than 14,000,000 people in the Southwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ludeck and baby, Mickey of Rock Springs, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Isaacs over the week-end.

Up Your Savings

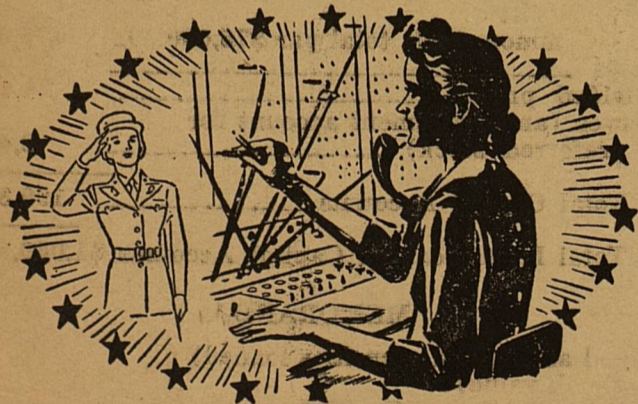

WE'LL PAY YOU BACK TOJO if it takes our last dime!

BUY MORE WAR BONDS

There will be American justice for the savages of Tokio but our trial and punishment of Tojo and his criminals will cost blood, sweat, toil and tears and money. You can supply the money by upping your war bond buying through the payroll savings plan. Figure it out yourself and see where the money is coming from. How much does it cost you and your family to live each month? How much money is coming in from all members of your family? Put the extra money into war bonds, every penny of it. Let 10 per cent be only the starting point for figuring your allotment.

ARE YOU?

Are you, as readers of The Success, getting the best of your newspaper value? Do you read the advertisements consistently—and keep informed on the messages conveyed to you by our advertisers? Let The Success save you money, Time, gasoline that is so hard to get, also tires. This is easy. For example:

You may prepare your grocery list before leaving your home. You can pick the items you need from ads, knowing the price you will pay for the items.

Then you can tell a week in advance what is showing at the theatre, including the casts. You may see what the different ministers are to use as subjects, by simply reading the church announcements.

Filling stations are vitally affected by Federal regulations governing their hours serving the public holding various cards, they advertise their change of hours, so that you may be saved time and confusion.

Dry goods, shoes, etc., are offered to you through these columns, being described and prices quoted, this saves shopping time and affords bargains.

The railroad and the utility company bring you timely and interesting messages through the form of advertising. They are proving one of the nation's staunchest supporters in these trying times. You are indeed missing a treat if you do not read these very timely messages. These industries are spending much time and going to no little expense to bring these topics before the people.

From the improvement and the construction angle, lumber companies are presenting suggestions, advice and bargains to you through these columns from time to time.

Then there are drug, telephone, cafe, dairy, hardware and various other things advertised regularly.

If you want to really get the best of your newspaper bargain—read and study the ads carefully, you will find it constructive and interesting—and economical.

Miss Doris Jacobs of San Angelo is visiting this week in the home of her cousin, Miss Jean Sproul.

MEN IN FOREIGN SERVICE MAY GET SUCCESS

By special request made to a Washington official a check has been made with the War Department in regard to sending The Success to men in foreign service. There has been quite a bit of complication in this matter for some time now and unclarified conception to the ruling existed. In many instances we have had to refuse subscriptions or re-newals to men in overseas service. There are instances where the paper can be sent to the men now, and which we will be glad to explain in detail if you will call at this office.

One explanation by Colonel Wm. M. Pearson is that if the soldier has been a subscriber and his subscription expires, he can re-subscribe or someone else can re-subscribe for him.

The local paper is considered by the War Department as a boon to morale of men in service. The paper goes to many states in the Union, across the Pacific and the Atlantic, and in fact, into almost every corner of the globe to carry those little bits of news the men like so well to read.

We have been told by men returning that it does their hearts good to see the name of some relative or near friend in print; to see who sponsors various things that help support the war effort.

Will you as local readers, help us to compile information that will add to the morale building of those men who eagerly await this sheet each week?

ANOTHER FISH STORY COMES TO LIGHT

Fish! Fish! We never new that so many fish could be so close to a country where there is no water!

Roy Andrews says he has been out with a fishing party and brought in the goods. We asked for evidence. He had a head. Most anyone could find a head where someone had left it and it would not be so decomposed as that one particular big head.

But along came Gordon McDonald and said that he caught the fish—now we will have to believe Roy's yarn—but you know our children don't like fish heads to eat—they like great big juicy, catfish (or bass) steaks. But since Gordon says he caught the fish we are going to accept it as the truth.

Following is Gordon's own version of the catch:

"Well, as it is said, our relatives had plenty of fish. But no one ever had a fish like Gordon did. I had swam about one-half mile downstream, baiting lines about 9:30 a. m. A few hours later Vernon Hazlewood and wife came down the bank and sat down and started a good cast, but just then Vernon's sharp eyes caught sight of a large limb swinging to and fro. Running back to camp he returned with Roy Andrews and Walter Taylor, and before I could wake up they were on the other side, running pretty fast, grabbing each other's hand. Walter pulled until his legs and teeth chattered. Roy, red-faced and wide-eyed stood on the bank holding the 40-pound yellow cat, while poor Ole' Uncle Walter gazed in wonderment."

Gordon reports that several lines were broken and hooks bent as if they were pins. He says that was the biggest catfish that Gordon's relatives have seen or eaten for 25 years.

The Reuben Dickens family were among those spending the week-end at Christoval, celebrating Fourth of July.

Bob Grady Says:

In the several stooges which, at times, are said to represent the ersatz leader, Hitler, at semi-important military and civic functions, the human race may be said to have reached an all time low.

It certainly begins to look as though Adolf will literally have his "back to the wall." Ordinarily a paper-hanger who remains in that position too long is in danger of getting fired on short notice.

It would be a bitter pill for the grandiose fuehrer to swallow to be finally knocked out of the war by a "guy named Jo."

The pattern bombing of Italian outposts represents an experiment in psychological warfare which allied leaders hope will show good results against Italy. It ought to work satisfactorily against Mussolini—everything else has.

Happily-for us—the U. S. Army does not operate on principles so stoutly upheld by John L. Lewis. If it did we could expect General Eisenhower to refuse to "trespass" further on Tunisian soil unless his "boys" receive $2.00 a day extra, time and a half for battles lasting over eight hours, and a bonus for travel to and from the firing lines.

If Hirohito and Tojo are, as they claim, "Sons of Heaven" they are so effectively disguised that no one in the celestial regions could ever recognize them as such.
