Beachhead Nazis Taken For a Ride

ITALY—Captured in the savage fighting on the Anzio-Nettuno beachhead, these German soldiers are going aboard a big U. S. landing craft, entering by the gaping bow gates, to be shipped to a prisoner of war camp. Latest German attempts to wipe out the beachhead met with no better success than previous attempts.

MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

A neighboring editor asks in his personal column a number of questions as to why the government is taking so many men out of our smaller towns into the draft before taking them out of "unnecessary" office jobs in Washington and other places of employment?

The McCulloch County newspaperman went on to quote in his column the findings of a man who recently was in such an office.

Said the quoted man in substance:

"In passing through the offices you can see desks that are cluttered up with papers in an effort to convey the idea that the man there is a very busy one.

"At another point you can see a man behind a book or a sheet of paper completely hiding his face, when closer observed reveals him to be asleep.

"One young man, when asked why he idles away his time on a soft job, replied, 'You have no idea how hard I had to work and how long I had to wait to get this place.'"

We know nothing about the authenticity of the above quotation, but we do know that there is a lot of "slack" in employment of certain classes of government employees.

If they would take some of the large forces of employees who get up a large amount of the mail literature that is flooding our post office box daily they could save a considerable sight more of the better quality paper than we can secure. Print forms for our business to carry on their business with. No doubt, if these same people hired to write, edit, print and mail this wasted political stuff out in times like these were put into their rightful places, together with other branches we know nothing of, there would be less advocating the drafting of men from their farms, ranches, homes and businesses as is the present cry.

Four Month Period of Rainfall Sets 40 Year Record For County

Only one time during the past 40 years have Schleicher county farmers and ranchers had more rain during the four-month period of November through February than fell during the four months just passed, E. B. Keng, Soil Conservation representative, said today. The rain gage on the J. F. Kinser place registered 8.64 inches during this period, while in the same period in 1918-1919 rainfall totaling 10.17 inches fell (San Angelo record). The 40 year monthly average for this period is 4.08 inches.

This unusual rainfall has resulted in the heaviest crop of annual weeds (including bitterweed), and grasses since 1911, most ranchers agree. Most pastures are literally "blanketed" with tallow weeds, bladder pod, peavine, beggar lice, some California and Texas filaree, and a host of other less important weeds, rescue grass, little barley or wild rye, and six weeks fescue are also abundant. It seems likely that an excellent crop of weed seed will mature, to help replenish the supply which has dwindled under overstocked conditions and dry springs. The amount and distribution of rainfall has provided excellent conditions for the germination of perennial pasture grass seed, Keng added. These seedlings will hasten "re-turfing" of spots killed out by last summer's dry weather, if they are not grazed closely and continuously by sheep. Sheep should be rotated between pastures, when possible, to allow young plants to become established.

The heavy rainfall has also provided excellent moisture conditions for farmers, Keng said. Practically none of the 8.64 inches of rainfall was lost as runoff, and with only moderate rainfall during the growing season farmers should make a good crop. All rows should be put on true waterlevel to hold future moisture where it falls and prevent drowning out of crops in lakes.

Rainfall during the past two months on rain gages scattered over the county has been as follows:

Brady Cadet Injured In Landing Here Late Wednesday

A Flying Cadet from Brady had an unusual experience about six o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when he, in some manner lost his direction bearings and found himself over Eldorado and attempted to make a landing in the Joe Edens pasture a short distance from town.

It was reported the cadet set the plane down for a perfect landing, but in some manner he was unable to check the speed of the plane and it rolled a long distance crashing into trees and through a fence into the Thompson ranch, damaging the landing gear and one wing of the plane badly.

The cadet made his way to the John Williams home nearby and was administered first aid by Mrs. Williams who later notified the Brady field officials of the whereabouts of the lost man and plane. A first aid ambulance from a field in San Angelo was rushed here to take the airman there for further treatment. It was thought that only minor cuts about the face and a badly bruised and swollen eye was the extent of his injury.

It's Going To Cost More To Do Some Things Starting Sun.

After Saturday midnight, this week, new Treasury excise taxes are going to affect a lot of things for American people, in regard to increasing the cost of participating in purchases and operations of certain businesses.

The 2-cent postage stamp fades from the picture in most instances Sunday, however, it will have little effect on Eldorado citizens since there is no village delivery of mail here. Only effect in the 2-cent set-up will be evidenced on local routes was the opinion of the local post-office this week.

Few other postal charges will remain unchanged under the new revenue act. Domestic airmail rates go up from 6 to 8 cents an ounce, although airmail to and from fighting men outside the continental United States will remain unchanged at 6 cents a half ounce (correct). Olive green will be the color of the new 8-cent stamp and carrying the same design as the present 6-cent airmail stamp.

Parcel Post to Be Higher Parcel post will cost at least a penny more for every package and up to 3 per cent more than at present. Money orders and registry fees, insurance and C. O. D. charges will also show a marked increase.

Liquors, beers and wine taxes are going to carry a heavy increased tax also. Whiskey taxes go up to 75 cents additional, depending on proof. Beer taxes go up a barrel from $1 to $8, other alcoholic drinks are based proportionately.

Movie admissions will be taxed at 1 cent for every nickel instead of a penny for each dime.

Theatre Tax Much Higher Among other things, levies on jewelry and cosmetics will double.

Electric light and tubes go to 20 per cent. Long distance telephone calls will carry a 25 per cent levy instead of 20. Telegrams, cablegrams and radiograms will be similarly taxed instead of the present 15 per cent.

If you are going places on trains or buses, take more money as taxes now at 10 percent will be increased to 15.

PVT. IRWIN PENNINGTON

I. L. Pennington Is Jap Prisoner

March 17 was one of the happiest days since late 1941 for Mrs. V. L. Pennington, 2003 Pecan, who received word from her son, Pvt. Irwin L. Pennington, saying that he was well. Pvt. Pennington told his mother that he is a prisoner of war at Hoten, Manchoukuo.

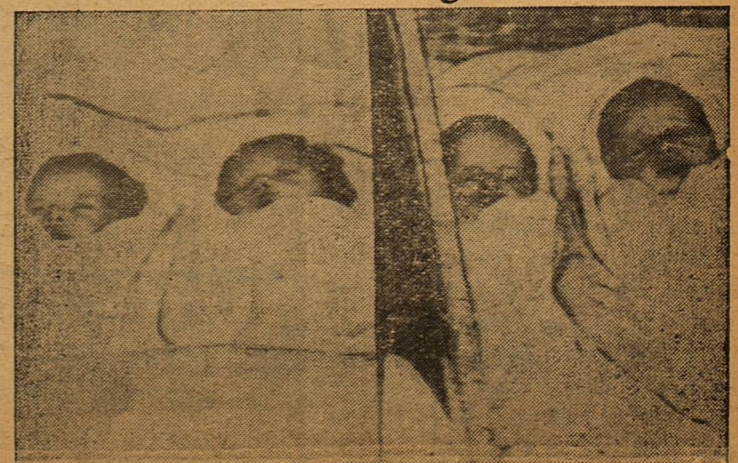

This was the first word Mrs. Pennington had received from her son since she received a Christmas message Dec. 27, 1941.

Pvt. Pennington, 23, the last of May, 1942, was reported by the War Department as missing in action. He was with the Army which surrendered May 6, 1942, at Corregidor.

The message received Friday was as follows: "I will write you a few words to let you know that I am well and I hope you are. I sure would like to see you as it has been so long. Take good care of yourself and some day I'll be home. Love to all."

That is an American boy behind that wire!

THAT is an American there condemned by the chance of war to eat alien bread in some far-off prison camp.

He is hungry for news . . . hungry for the sight of his native land . . . for the sound of a voice like yours . . . for the touch of a woman's hand.

But he won't be forgotten! For the Red Cross, to the utmost of its power, will get your letters in to him . . . will pass his letters out to you.

And every week, right from your heart, he will get, if humanly possible, a nourishing Red Cross food carton . . . eleven full pounds of the sort of food you'd give him if you still had him safe at home. Meat, cheese, sugar, prunes, chocolate bars and real American cigarettes and tobacco!

If he is sick or wounded, he will get a Red Cross, invalid package containing food for a special diet, doubly enriched to bring him quickly back to health. No, he won't be forgotten . . . not while your Red Cross is on the job.

You have given your sons . . .

you have done the extra work . . . donated your blood and bought your bonds.

Yes, and you have helped the Red Cross before with a generous and willing heart.

Giving to the Red Cross has always been a great proud habit of thirty million American families . . . proud that they could give . . . proud of the Red Cross that made the giving worthwhile.

But this year, when the need is greater than ever before—this year you will want to give more . . . to give freely to your own Red Cross . . . to your own sons in the service.

This year dig deep and be glad. For wherever he is

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

By JAMES PRESTON

While there is no indication that either Congress or President Roosevelt is ready to recede a step in the showdown struggle to control major government policy, Congress is preparing a weapon with which to fight back.

This weapon is the Fair Government Practices bill introduced by Representative Gwynne, Iowa Republican. It is designed to restrict by law the now loosely controlled conduct of government departments, boards, bureaus, and commissions, and to achieve the general purpose of the Walter-Logan bill passed by Congress and vetoed by the President. Such a measure would restore to Congress control over administrative policies and procedures, and give the houses opportunity to end the encroachment by the White House on their authority.

Representative Gwynne describes his measure as a "bill to designate and make uniform those administrative practices and procedures which are generally recognized as fair and equitable to the citizen and essential to orderly and efficient government."

Mr. Gwynne told the House that his bill would accomplish the following:

Make available to the public complete information regarding government rules and regulations, so that citizens affected by them can be fully advised of their rights and obligations under the law.

Protect the public against "fishing expeditions" by limiting the growing flood of investigations, reports, and questionnaires to the minimum requirement of law enforcement and efficient government administration.

Prevent the invention by government agencies of new or special penalties or restrictions not expressly authorized by the Congress.

Restate the basic rules covering the availability and scope of judicial review so that the citizen may readily determine the nature and extent of his right to his "day in court" to contest the arbitrary or unlawful acts of administrative officials.

Undertake to create a better understanding between citizen and his government by giving the citizen a better opportunity to have a voice in the making of rules and regulations which affect his welfare and livelihood.

The territory of Brapil is larger than that of either the United States or Australia.

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN FAMILY

How every Texan can help:

1. Make sure his car is properly serviced to use gasoline efficiently.
2. Do no unessential driving.
3. Save gasoline by driving slowly.
4. Buy only gasoline authorized by his government coupons.
5. Give away no coupons so that other motorists can do unessential driving.

Gasoline Powers the Attack . . . Don't Waste a Drop.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING COMPANY

Serving your essential war time needs today to hasten your motoring pleasures of tomorrow.

The envy of the world today is the average American family. That family has the world's highest standard of living. Statistically speaking, that average American family is composed of three and four-fifths persons. It uses three-fifths of a bathtub and owns one-half of a house, listens to nine-tenths of a radio, and gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

Obviously, three-fifths of a bathtub wouldn't hold water very well! That is just another way of saying that three out of five American homes have bathtubs. The figure about electricity applies only to homes that have electric service (four out of five). But as an average of all these homes, it is a fact.

Most families own more electric appliances now than they did in 1929. Over the years as they used more electricity the cost per unit used was steadily reduced. So—though your total bill today may be as much as it was in 1929—yet you are getting twice as much electricity for your money.

The cost of electricity has not only been steadily reduced but it has stayed down while most other prices are going up. Today, electricity is just about the biggest bargain in your war-time budget! For this you can credit your electric service company, manned and managed by practical business people. Their hard work has made electric service dependable and cheap.

WPB Chief Says We Must Produce More War Tools in 1944

The tools our fighting men need to smash the enemy into surrender must flow from 1944 assembly lines at an even faster pace than before, Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, told radio listeners during a recent guest appearance on "Washington Reports on Rationing," public service radio program presented by the Council on Candy as Food in the War Effort, an organization sponsored by the National Confectioners' Association. The WPB chief said industry will not get the green light to resume large-scale manufacture of consumer goods "until the war is much more nearly won than it is today," but that tests are being made in certain areas to see whether small manufacturing concerns without war contracts should be encouraged to use idle materials in producing simple household items that are in heavy demand.

ARMY TO HALT MOST COLLEGE TRAINING WORK

Washington, Mar. 14—The army has decided to eliminate the courses in medicine, dentistry and engineering, the War Department has announced.

Because inability of selective service to deliver personnel has created a shortage of 200,000 men the War Department said, the students affected by the discounted program will be assigned to combat units.

Before April 1, 110,000 men in the army specialized training program will be removed from the colleges and assigned to active duty. The latter figure includes 5,000 preinductions from the program will be men that who have already completed their basic training.

The seventeen year-olds in the A. S. T. P. will not be affected.

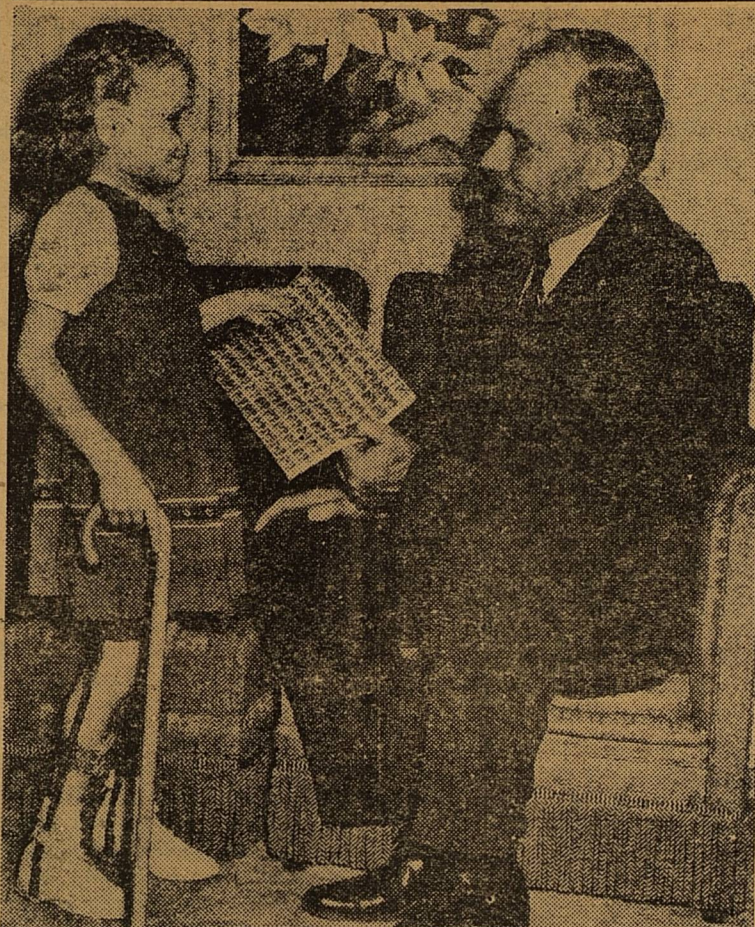

About 80,000 of the men will be transferred from the A. S. T. P. and as signed to the army ground forces where the skills and capacity for leadership are now most needed," the department said. Most of the remaining 30,000 will be assigned to the other units destined for overseas service.

Mrs. Pennington was elected Eldorado Home Demonstration club nominee to the district convention which meets in Stanton, May 11. The delegate will be elected at the March meeting of the council.

Mrs. West discussed "Living Room Arrangements," stressing the fact that the living room is the place where the family get together to play, read, talk and rest, so it is the center of interest, and furnishings should be well chosen, appropriate, useful and well placed to be attractive. Mrs. E. H. Coulter gave an interesting report on "Repair of Clothing," and told ways of mending gloves, lingerie, turning collars, and other methods of mending.

Those present were Mes. Pennington, E. H. Coulter, G. L. Ballew, Tom Smith, West, W. H. McClatchey, L. D. Christian, Campbell, Miss Ruth Baker, Miss John Alexander and Kenneth Paul Pennington.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. McClatchey on March 24.

She was a passenger on a plane which crashed landed in Albania after missing the landing field at Bari, Italy. The story of the party's escape has been told by a British parachutist who led them to safety. Lt. Dawson would not confirm any of the details of the escape. She says only "isn't that an amazing story?"

Requirements Are Explained For Surgical Workers

In explaining requirements of the Red Cross Surgical Unit, Mrs. R. Crain, supervisor, says: "We are interested why we are more exacting and particular about the way our bandages are folded than in other places where this work is being done. We would like for every one who is interested to know why we are more strict in our requirements. The chapter with which we work sends all the dressings made by us and its other units overseas, like many other chapters make theirs for army camps over here, within our own state. The space is so limited, for those sent overseas that they must be made with the utmost precision, in order to be packed into the least possible space. Therefore, the National requirements for the standard of perfection differs widely for those being used in camps in our own country and those being shipped to our armies overseas."

Those working the past week included, Tuesday night, March 14: Mmes. J. E. Hill, Palmer West, Claude Meador and W. F. Meador, supervisors; workers, Mmes. J. C. Crosby, Van McCormick, J. W. Lawhon, S. D. Harper, Perry Mittel, Lester Henderson and Miss Ollie Lee Jeffrey.

Thursday, March 16, Supervisors, Mmes. W. F. Meador, R. T. Crain and J. E. Hill; Workers, Mmes. S. D. Harper, Ben Hext, John Williams, Ernest Finnegan, W. T. Whitten and Miss John Alexander.

Correction

In a report carried in last week's issue of the Success relating activities at the annual F. S. A. group meeting held here recently, the report was in error in several instances, to-wit:

In stating that E. B. Keng was representing the triple A, it was not clearly pointed out that he was only "pinch-hitting" for that phase of government work.

Second, it was stated that a statement by Mr. Keng was that drilling of water wells was limited this year. The proper expression should have been, "the program in most instances in this county does not justify the expense incurred in the drilling of wells under the present setup of small farmers."

Third, the article should have stated that terracing and pear eradication is "unlimited" instead of reading as limited.

We gladly make this correction with the comment that the reporter covering this story is unaccustomed to the setup of the soil conservation, and was only a misunderstanding of terms used.

Mrs. Lefty Haynes and baby son of Fredericksburg, are visiting this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Evans.
