NUMBER 42.

MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

As this column is being written (Wednesday evening) plans are going forward to contest the decision of official score-keepers tabulated at the Mason-Eldorado game here last Friday.

We do not make any claim to be a football authority—nay, not even a "really wise" spectator, but we do believe that many first grade students would be under the impression that the game belonged to Eldorado.

In the first place, from the standpoint of sportsmanship, we think that if merit counts, about eight men on the Eagle squad deserve not only the credit of having helped to win, but a gold, platinum or some precious metal reward for having the endurance and spunk to stay in the game and play the type of ball they played against the opponents for sixty playing minutes.

If we rightfully understand the agreement between Coach Sutherland and the Mason mentor, it was a mutual agreement that the two selected scorekeepers was satisfactory. If this is true, then why should there be any question about the legality of that part of the decision?

Contrary to the belief of many (if we correctly understand the rules being played by in this district) there will be no "play-off" of the game on neutral grounds, nor will there be any "one-half win" for either of the teams! It will be a won or lost decision for the Eagles!

We still remain to be convinced where we the Eagles lost on not making the most penetrations.

Of course there are many things we do not know. For instance what has become of the old-fashioned cow who gave plenty of milk and butter without the assistance of a flock of administrators?

This was a great summer for tomatoes, string beans, and backaches.

Now that Fall has arrived we will have an opportunity to devote more time to reading and to understanding of our allies. A good start in this direction might be made in observing British Book Week Oct. 24 to 30.

In the First World War and in the Second and (God willing) Last World Britons and Americans have fought side by side as allies in defense of common ideals and aspirations.

It might well be deemed the patriotic duty of every American citizen to better acquaint themselves with our allies by reading—No doubt American librarians can and will play an important part in the stimulations of a better understanding between nations.

'Tie' Decision Declared By Referee Wednesday

Hot spot in the 7-B football district was in Sonora Wednesday evening when officials of the district and Mason and Eldorado school representatives attempted to settle the outcome of the Eagles-Cowpunchers game played on the local field last Friday afternoon.

Pre-season agreement threw District 7-B to play the current season by Interscholastic League rules, and which rules seem to have carried a misinterpretation concerning the game in question by spectators and officials alike, since there are so many different viewpoints as to technicalities of the rules and failure to agree upon the outcome drew a three-hour time discussion at the conference last (Wednesday) night. Two hours of the time were spent by executives of the committee composed of Supt. E. D. Stringer of Sonora; Supt. C. S. Denham of Ozona; and Supt. Horace Oliver of Menard, after they had heard arguments presented by Eldorado and Mason officials in a one-hour open meeting.

Contention for a win for Eldorado was made in that the District 7-B committee made provisions in its April 13 meeting in Sonora that games played in the district would not end in a tie since the Interscholastic League rules for deciding the games were to be followed. That is: By penetrations, first downs and yardage gained. The rules state that "the referees decision shall be final."

After the game Friday Mason lodged a protest on the grounds that the "official score was wrong." Eldorado contended a win unless Mason could prove it wrong, and that Mason did not prove the official score wrong.

Unable to make a decision the executive committee conferred by long distance telephone with Secretary of the University Interscholastic League R. J. Kidd at Austin, who returned a decision that the matter must be settled by the referee of the game, S. C. Cloninger, Mason resident, who ruled the game a tie, failing to rule a score according to rules called for by the League, it is reported.

Carroll Ratliff, Eldorado, headlinesman for the game was also called by Stringer early in the meeting over long distance and questioned about a "disputed penetration" which the Mason coach is reported to contend was made an erased by the scorekeepers, which gave Eldorado a technical win.

Ratliff said that due to his position in the game he was not able to give any exact and positive statement as to the location of the penetration in question, nor the location of the ball following a penalty the Punchers received after a clipping made by a Mason player, since a mutual agreement prior to the game by the two coaches to appoint two scorekeepers to keep score in order to relieve officials of this responsibility, and consequently he was not in any way interested in what the penalties and penetrations might have been since he was not serving in that official capacity.

Coach W. R. Robbins contended that the ball after penalty was within the 20-yard line, and Coach Ernest Sutherland of Eldorado and Supt. C. A. Reynolds maintain that the ball was placed behind the 20-yard line, and therefore was not entitled to be counted as a penetration.

A daily paper stated that Reynolds said he would not accept the decision, how-

P.-T.A. Lamb Sale Well Supported

Parent-Teacher Association officers in charge of the lamb sale held on the streets Saturday afternoon report that the organization realized $732.50 from the sale and with donations from other sources received a grand total of $770.00.

Donated items included in the sale other than lambs were pigs, chickens and canned foods.

Jess Walston acted as auctioneer and E. C. Hill as bookkeeper.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase books for the library, playground and gymnasium equipment, dishes for the lunchroom cafeteria and such other necessities as may be needed for the local schools.

Assisting Mrs. S. D. Harper, president of the Eldorado P.-T. A. on the lamb sale committee were Meses. Dick Bearce, N. G. Hodges, Dick Lawhon and Reuben Dickens.

These ladies, in behalf of this very worthy organization have asked this paper to express their appreciation to any individual or firm who in any way assisted in making their efforts the success it proved to be.

This question may cost this department a fine next Wednesday, but here goes: "Can't ladies belong to a Lions' club?"

To Undergo Leg Operation

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Templeton of Sonora have carried their three-year-old daughter to San Antonio where she will undergo a leg operation. Mrs. Templeton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Ballew, who are keeping the other two children of the Templetons, while their parents are away.

School To Receive Aid On Hot Lunches

Contracts were recently signed with the Federal Government whereby the local school system will receive financial aid from the Food Distribution Administration in order that hot lunches may be available at low cost to every child in the system.

Children unable to pay the small cost of the lunch are cared for through the program.

Mrs. Betty Sproul is in charge of the cafeteria and Mrs. Hensel Matthews is the cook for the school.

Improvements Made In Lunchroom

Recent improvements in the lunchroom are a new sink, drainboard, work table and new dishes and silver ware. Other improvements in the lunchroom are contemplated in the near future. Parents are encouraged to visit the school and the lunchroom from time to time to see the program in operation.

Pictures Needed

In order that the publishers may begin preparation for publication of "Men In Service" pictures, we need material to begin work on. Pictures should be clear and the name of the service man clearly written "in ink" on the back of each picture. Other information needed is the rank of the man, his parents, school accomplishments and where he is stationed, if possible; also the branch of service in.

Do this today, please, as we will need the balance of the pictures in now! $2.00 for making a printing cut and handling charge must accompany each picture. The cut and picture will become the property of the donor immediately after publication of the issue.

FOR LADIES ONLY—The Way A Country Editor Saw The County-Wide Exhibit

Since our wife is away this week, we are going to write this paper exactly as we please—and hope to be able to tell it after it gets in the mails!

I only wish that I knew who the author of the following verse was:

"A woman's troubles are not any greater than those of a man, but it takes her longer to tell them."

And the optimist who wrote the verse below would gladly join in with me in correcting the above verse with apologies to its writer:

"The young man who was her "ideal" before marriage is just as likely to be her ordeal afterward."

Correction:
"A woman's troubles are three times greater than those of a man, as it takes her twice as long to solve his muddle affairs as to correct her seldom wrong."

Now we did not say these things because we disagree with someone who said: "The only time a woman is thankful for little things is when they happen to be her" (Continued on Page Six)

The NEW Winning of the West

The first unit of the Santa Fe System Lines back in 1868

JUST 75 years ago this week, October 30, 1868, rail was laid on the first unit of the Santa Fe System Lines—a 17-mile stretch in Kansas from Topeka to Carbondale.

Today, Santa Fe System Lines are over 13,000 miles long, serving people and products from Illinois to California, and from Colorado to the Gulf of Mexico.

Looking Ahead

Farsighted men, even years back, began looking ahead to the Southwest and West not only as a land of enchantment and natural resources but as the coming theater of industrial expansion in this country.

The war has brought home the soundness of this vision—big things are happening today in the states of Santa Fe land.

States served by the Santa Fe

Thousands are flocking to Texas—great state of farm, factory and free enterprise—to man its booming plants, cultivate its soil, and ride its far-reaching ranges.

Kansas is becoming famous for its plane factories and munition plants, as well as its golden wheat fields.

Arizona is winning new fame in the fields of agriculture, live-stock, mining, and as an aviation center.

Oklahoma's oil is writing bright new pages in the science of war, and advances for the peace to come.

Freight cars are rolling out of New Mexico loaded with essential copper, potash and zinc, as well as steers and sheep.

Illinois, Missouri and Iowa are saying it around the world with factory and food products.

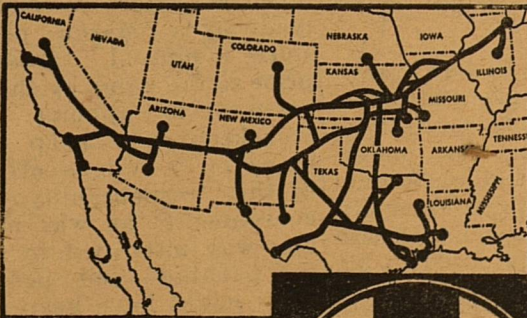

The lead and silver and coal from Colorado's mineral-filled mountains are doing great things toward winning a war.

And in California, steel mills, shipyards, power dams, plane plants and lumber mills are working around the clock to supply more, more, and more of the sinews of war.

Santa Fe all the way for U. S. A.!

We of the Santa Fe are too busy "keeping 'em rolling" for Victory to take time off to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the laying of our first rail.

This is, however, an appropriate time to point out how important to the development of this New West has been the linking together of its States by Santa Fe rails. We are naturally proud to be part of this great development.

Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District News

REPORTED BY DISTRICT SUPERVISORS

The perils of over stocking coupled with a dry summer were vividly brought home to one Schleicher county rancher when he recently sold his 1943 lamb crop. This rancher leases one section of grass which is typical of many acres of other range land in the county.

In 1942 the section was stocked with 220 ewes. The feed bill was around $125, and 153 lambs were sold for $995. The lambs averaged slightly over 61 pounds per head. The death loss was 12 ewes.

In 1943 some 370 breeding ewes were carried. The feed bill was four times as heavy, around $500, and 216 lambs sold for $951. The lambs averaged slightly over 46 pounds each, and the death loss was 30 ewes.

The sheep were drenched three times each year, and the wool clip was practically the same each year.

This actual record should clearly point out the fact that if ranchers expect to make the most money out of sheep the lamb crop must be kept high and the feed bill low. This can only be accomplished by stocking with the number of sheep that the ranch will safely and permanently support.

Sheep, probably more than any other class of livestock, prefer a great variety of grasses and weeds. In fact, they must have this variety if they are to reach the highest production and return the greatest profit. Many ranchers in the Eldorado Divide District have been overstocked with sheep so long that many of the better grasses (buffalo, side oats and hairy grama, etc.) and most of the good weeds have been killed out. Ranchers have gradually come to depend more and more on supplemental feeds, and lamb crops and weights have become lighter—this in the face of greatly improved breeding stock.

The Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Soil Conservation District, are ready at all times to help ranchers analyze their range conditions, and to work out plans to bring back high production of the better grasses and weeds, which means more beef, lamb, and wool.

Many farmers planting small grain have made inquiries regarding the acreage needed to furnish grazing for various numbers of sheep and cattle. The estimate used by the Soil Conservation Service is that on the average, one acre of small grain will furnish three months grazing for one cow or five sheep. Rainfall and other weather conditions will cause this figure to fluctuate both ways.

You: But just how do you convert them into forts to send over Berlin and Tokyo?

Reddy: Like this: Fifteen cents out of every dollar you turn over to me my company turns over to the federal government as taxes—which in terms of the entire industry means over 400 million dollars. And that's ENOUGH TO BUY MORE THAN 1,500 GIANT BOMBERS—at a quarter-million each!

You: That's really blatin' 'em!

PLANES FLY BY RADIO

All signs point to increased travel by air when peace comes. Now airports have been constructed all over this country. The big airplane factories are making plans to build planes to carry as many as a hundred passengers. Big freight transport planes are in the blueprint stage. Aircraft Radio must be considered with all plans pertaining to this new industry. Radio to airplane is what Morse telegraphy is now to railroads only on a more elaborate scale because aircraft is several times faster than trains; therefore, messages must be speedier, many more will have to be sent and received. What a need this will create for competent radio operators at airports all along the route the planes must travel. Day and night, day in and out, with these monsters shuttling through the air at unheard of speed, orders must be fast and frequent. Radio is the only answer. Young men undecided just what post-war demands will bring, would do well to investigate this field, it offers a future that is bound to endure and expand. If you want to know about the latest in training for a career in Radio, write to the Tyler Commercial College at Tyler Texas. This well known school has been teaching Radio for several years, and perhaps their catalogue will give you the very information you need. They have just finished training nineteen hundred enlisted men in Radio of the Signal Corps for the War Department. Address them Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas. (Adv.)

Who Else Will Help Them if We Don't?

If we're like most people, we're waiting around to "let George do it." Sure, we've contributed something, but we've got the idea in the back of our mind that there are millions of other people all over the United States who are contributing, too.

The thing we've got to remember is that those millions of other people are pretty much like ourselves. They're expecting the other fellow to carry on the work, which adds up to a handfull of folks to give more than they should and a multitude of once or twice contributors.

Men don't go to the battlefield once or twice. Women and children don't experience the wartime starvation and illness once or twice. The job we've got ahead of us—the job of winning this war—calls for the kind of people who give all they've got! Not once or twice. Get the habit of including the war in your budget. Be thankful you don't suffer the horrors, the realities of war right in this country. Be thankful that all we're asked to do is give.

With Eldorado Churches

First Baptist Church
"The Church With A Friendly Welcome".

J. M. Hays, Pastor

Our meeting closed Sunday night with a good service. We are so grateful for every service of last week and the good results.

We appreciate everything that was done on the part of each one who added their effort and presence to any service during the entire meeting. May the good Lord continue His blessings upon you.

After all I wonder if such a meeting is not laying a larger foundation for the whole church for greater things and greater experiences. No church and church family should be satisfied with the accomplishments of the past, but must see the need of continuing in the same direction but with a greater and larger usefulness.

It has been God's plan from eternity to evangelize the world and the churches are to furnish the basis for the work and efforts for such an undertaking. This world wide plan to Christianize the world is to begin at home and go to the farthest parts of the world.

The greatest forces for democracy and the instituting that will save America with all her noble ideals that our forefathers have left us as our heritage is the church of the living God.

Where did the idea of democracy come from any way? Where did the idea of individual rights originate? Where did the thought of freedom of press, speech and religion have birth? In the countries where the Bible is not known and where churches have not been, such thoughts and ideas have not been born. The one thing that has given us everything that we enjoy and that has been the basis for schools, education, social, as well as the great economical system we have and enjoy is the Bible, and the Bible is taught and preached in our churches.

Our forefathers thought enough of church and going to church to endanger themselves and families by going to church when the American Indian was on the alert to scalp them and take their lives in the most cruel fashion. How much do you think of your church and how well are you willing to serve it? Remember it is men, Christian men the world needs today.

We are urging all of our officers and teachers to be present at our monthly meeting Friday evening at 7:30. Plans have been made for the program and all will be in readiness for another good meeting. Plans are making progress for the enlargement emphasis in our Sunday school and other organizations in our church.

If you have no church home we urge you to come to our services.

When Receiving A CallDon't Say "Hello"

It is well to identify yourself. Avoid such old-fashioned, time-wasting, answers as "Hello" and "Yes." Identify yourself, your firm, or your department.

EXAMPLES:

- "Mr. Brown" or "Mr. Brown speaking."
- "Roberts Company".
- "Bates Brothers, Mr. Jones speaking."
- "Shipping department, Mr. O'Brien speaking."

feet."

Not at all!

We say them because when we entered the exhibit Saturday afternoon, all we could do was stand in wide-eyed wonderment and ponder how and when in these "busy times" did women of this county have time to prepare the things on exhibit in such form after they had to do their work and the husbands' too.

It is not our intention to try and give a graphic description of all the exhibits—cause (don't tell) there were some gadgets on display we did not know what they were. But there were, and too, some of those things may have been judged as "the best in the west".

Included in some of the things we do know about was: That Mrs. E. M. Roberts and Mrs. C. E. Corbell of the Cliff club certainly have confidence in newspaper reporters when they had on the shelves (so handy) such tempting morsels as canned pork sausage and canned "streak o-lean and streak o-fat. . . Mrs. Lester Henderson certainly drew attention away from the rest of her display when she set prominently out front such a nugget of gold as was wrapped in butter paper. . . All along the shelves we saw the most tempting display of canned foods that could possibly be imagined.

. . . All at once there appeared a full train-load of stuff such as this county represents on a curved track and bore the name of the Country Woman's Club, and too, if our memory serves us right, a blue ribbon decorated it. . .

. . . After having admired a Puritan scene made by another club depicting the trials our forefathers had in worshipping with a Choctaw lurking in the cedars behind the church, we suddenly had to come to attention when we saw a pretty replica of Old Glory made from beans, peas, peppers, etc. . . On our left we were attracted by some of the "cutest" (we do, you know, have two little girls) dresses, and a tag on them said "made from sacks". . .

There next to them were some "gorgeous" (let us remind you again we have a ball and chain) ladies' house dresses and they too, were made from feed sacks. Then again we were set to wondering just how a woman could find time to work to make money to buy a hen to lay an egg to raise enough chickens to produce enough eggs to have hatched enough chickens to have, to raise to sell eggs to buy feed to feed chickens in order to get sacks to make her's and the children's' clothes after having to herd sheep, cattle, goats, supervise the farm, work the vards from which the canned stuff was produced, besides doing the family wash, mending the mens' clothes and cooking his meals, writing his letters and otherwise assisting him. Such exhibit as these went all the way around the building and the wall was decorated with beautiful quilts of such designs as to make one wonder how 'twas done. . . The art display did you say? . . . Well, as we told Mrs. Robert Milligan, "that just is our natural weakness" and of course we spent more time here than any other place, in an effort to keep County Agent Jack Welch from talking some of the creators ever he declared Thursday to a Success reporter that he would have to accept it since there was no means of appealing it, but that in his opinion, according to the referee's decision the rules of the district were disregarded as well as the coaches' agreement before the game, in that before the game they (coaches) agreed that an official score would be kept and that the official score would decide the game in case of a tie. "The rules and agreement give the referee the right to make a decision, this he did, but disregarded the coach agreement which included the official scoreboard and the League ruling which would make a tie technically impossible under the conditions the game was played."

"TIE" DECISION—

It is therefore generally believed that should Eldorado defeat Ozona here Saturday afternoon the executive committee will demand a "play-off" game on a neutral ground before Thanksgiving, as the bi-district game would have to be played before December 3.

Eldorado officials maintain that as far as the Friday game is concerned it will not be played off. "That game has been played and won, but we will beat Mason in another game if we have to," they declare.

out of one of the displays ahead of us. You know, if I could handle a brush and easel like those who had displays, I would spend my time creating a fishin' spot, producing just the ideal dog, surrounded by just the right scenery in which to spend my old age reclining.

Anyway it proved to me the old adage is true that: "A man's work is from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done."
