

MEDITATIONS

By the Editor

On a late sultry afternoon the first of the week our youngsters began an insistence to go out to the very loveable Mrs. C. C. West home and see her parrots. To this we submitted, but it was by no means the little girls, nor their mother who enjoyed the visit most.

Upon arrival we found Mrs. West very busily engaged in doing her evening chores consisting of feeding turkeys, young and old; watering the pigs (and by the way the water problem is serious there, too, due to lack of wind to run the mill). The pioneer Schleicher lady escorted us around the place showing us her many sheds to care for her flock of sheep and also chickens and turkeys. We became amazed at the amount of work that is done twice daily on the outside of the housework. But lo, and behold, what we later saw amazed us even more. There were garden nooks, shrubs of all kinds which do not just happen, but have to have a lot of skilled attention. We began to notice that an enormous amount of painting around the premises had recently been done, she admitted doing some of that too but her daughter, Mrs. Cora Lee Mebane, had helped with that as well as assisting with the other chores above mentioned.

Then, to our utter amazement we were escorted to another part of the spacious shrub-lined yard where there were rabbits in hutches, parrots in cages and later guinea pigs to add to the chores.

Then into the house we went and such another collection of sands from different counties states and possibly countries we've never seen. When we then went to the breakfast nook our first impulse was to believe we had entered a glass-blowing factory for glasses and mugs and beer steins of every conceivable design were there. Then came the bottle collection, and to further astound us we were escorted through the cool spacious house to a porch on the front where not one bird was, but a whole passel of 'em. Some with nests and eggs, some without nests (they had torn them asunder), the birds all seemed to know their names. This bird collection would keep us busy.

Aside from all this we were shown imported rugs from China together with various and other sundry items. Then came the old guns. A very business like 44 Colts in excellent condition and an old hexogan-barrel Citizen's rifle and a reloader were outstanding here. And of course we guessed a pair of oxen shoes to be off the the butt of an old six-shooter. We were just born thirty years too late.

A collection of wood and rocks on one of the coolest porches we have ever been on was hard to resist further observing, but time came to leave and out in the front yard we found more rocks just before we passed through the front gate. Oh yes, this must have been something like about 25 or 30 gates we passed through on the premises.

Truly Mrs. West was very hospitable, and truly she is one of the grand and glorious characters who have helped to make this a much better state in which to live.

Bradley Brothers Met In Rome

Robert K. Bradley

F. M. Bradley, Jr.

Thomas D. Bradley

In a recent letter to his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bradley, Sgt. Robert K. Bradley states that he and his two brothers, Tom and Frank spent four days together in Rome. The three service men had not seen each other in some time and the two older brothers had not seen Tom since he was in high school.

Sgt. Bradley stated that the three put in most of the time talking, took a few pictures, swapped gifts, visited the Red Cross and a few G. I. Night Spots. At any rate, every minute of the brothers visit was very enjoyably spent.

Frank is in a member of a fighter squadron, Robert a member of a service squadron, and Tom is an electrician's mate.

Eldorado Sergeant In Fifth Air Force Made History News

FIFTH AIR FORCE TROOP CARRIER COMMAND, PHILIPPINE ISLANDS—Staff Sergeant John G. Williams, son of Mr. J. Tom Williams, of Eldorado, figured in history making news recently in the war with Japan.

Sgt. Williams, a member of the Fifth Air Command Troop Carrier Command under Brigadier General Paul H. Prentiss, of San Antonio, was the radio operator on the first flight of huge C-46 Curtis Commando Troop Carrier planes of the Fifth Air Force to land on the island of Okniawa. The trip was made under adverse weather conditions and subject to enemy action. These planes delivered vital supplies and equipment to fighting front. This trip inaugurated the new "Tokyo Trolley" line that the 375th Group of the Troop Carrier Command plans, in the future, to

Sgt. Williams attended schools in Eldorado and entered the Army in January 1941. He was graduated from the Army Air Force's Scott Field Radio School and has been in the Southwest Pacific theatre since October, 1944. Sgt. Williams has two brothers, Harold and David, in the Seabees.

New Teachers Added To Local Faculty

Supt. C. A. Reynolds this week released the names of new teachers who have just been added to the staff of the Eldorado schools. They include:

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Roberson who taught in the Sonora schools last year. Mr. Roberson is to be high school principal and Mrs. Roberson will teach in the Latin-American school.

Miss Earline McFall, recent graduate of Howard Payne, is to be high school math instructor.

Miss Lucille Rume, whose home is Miles and who taught in Eola last year is to be home economics teacher.

Darrell Williams, now attending Howard Payne and who lives in Brownwood has accepted the position as coach and science teacher.

Mrs. Lavelle Meckel, nee Willis Ruth Johnson, has resigned her place on the faculty, stated Supt. Reynolds.

Vacancies remaining on the staff are those of grade school principal, English and Spanish teacher in high school, one teacher in the Latin-American school and one teacher for the Reynolds school.

Eight Men Report For Military Service Wednesday

Eight men from Schleicher county Selective Service rolls reported Wednesday for military service in the armed forces.

Leaving from Eldorado at noon were Waldine Sudduth, Marvin McAngus, J. B. Wootton, Jr., and Tom Enochs, while two registrants went from Junction: Alvie Haines and Melvin Wesley Parker. From Wichita Falls, Robert Mather, and from El Paso, Tom Harmon Wilson reported to induction centers.

Farm Safety Week July 22-28 Designated

The President has designated this week—July 22 through July 28—as National Farm Safety Week. We are all familiar of the fact that farming is one of the most dangerous of all occupations. Deaths from farm work accidents in 1943 totaled more than in any of the other five major industries and amounted to 25 percent of all occupational deaths. More farm people were killed by accidents in the first two years of the war than the number of fighting men killed in the war itself.

It is since the beginning of the war that the danger of accidents has increased, due to the pressure under which the farmers have been working, having to use old machinery, and the increased employment of boys and girls, elderly people and inexperienced workers. It is always of the utmost importance that you prevent accidents; but it is especially important now, because of the increased danger and of the great need for all-out food production, that every effort be put forth by each individual to reduce our farm accidents.

The chief cause of farm work accidents is the careless use of farm machinery. Forty percent of the total farm accidents occur in the home, with falls and fires the most common cause. A farm home or building catches fire every 15 minutes during the day and farm cost $273,972 each day. In 1943 farm fire losses were higher than for any year since 1932.

Now, more than at any other time, every farmer is being called on to make every acre produce as much as possible for the war effort. Soil conservation practices will improve the efficiency of your land, and safety practices, if applied to each member of your family will insure efficiency of the workers. This extra care will aid in the continued essential production of food and other farm products for our nation and the world.

On Saturday of this week at 10:30 A. M. listen to Senator Arthur Cooper discuss the Farm Safety Week Activities.

Start now to promote safety on the farm, not only for this week but for this year. In this way each person will help to reduce the present unnecessary heavy toll of accidental deaths and injuries. As we work toward this goal let this be our motto: "Soil Conservation Is Safety For The Land; Safety First Is Conservation of Man."

ON THE RUNWAYS

Increasing interest is reported to be manifest at the local airport. Several students are taking instructions from Ralph Jackson, operator of the Jackson Flying Service, and who is now manager of the municipal port.

C. C. McLaughlin is the only student soloing this week, but several others are well on their way. Jackson calls attention to special rates on cross-country trips and that of cargo hauling, which gives fast service to all points.

Additional work has been done on the hangar at the port by local enthusiasts at their own expense, and the structure is gradually being gotten in shape to adequately protect planes on the field, now numbering three.

In a report to the Eldorado Lions club this week, C. C. McLaughlin announced the San Angelo Telephone company has stated that expressions of subscribers for the proposed dial system for telephone service to the county must be in their hands not later than August 15 if the installation of this service is to be further considered.

Petitions have been circulated for several weeks to secure opinions of subscribers over the county on whether they do, or do not, want the new type system, which new type service is reputed to be very necessary for good service following transmission of electrical current over REA lines now being constructed. The present system will not be adequate when the current is turned through the new lines, due to the fact they are not so constructed to resist the interference that will result from the flow of electrical current over the county.

If there are those subscribers who have not voiced an opinion one way or another on this matter, they should contact some member of the telephone committee of the Lions club or notify the local telephone manager so that the company may proceed with the necessary steps for installation of the dial system, or else drop the matter.

LEARNING BY EXPERIENCE

"The year ahead," says the Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife, "will afford striking material for thoughtful farmers to consider Wartime restrictions have reached into every day of every one's life.
Farmers have taken rationing,
price ceilings and floors, and all else in their stride. Agreeing that some controls are to be expected in wartime, farmers have seen that none has worked too well.

" . . . Agricultural price policies for instance, have been affected by the political demands that cost of living be held down. Farmers have seen such policies defeat their own ends by creating scarcities where plenty was possible, and by setting up black market prices instead of fair prices. Watching the ponderous efforts of government to meet the rapidly changing situations of these months ahead, farmers will have a chance to estimate how much government they want in their affairs when the war has passed.

Some Passenger Cars Eligible For Grade 1 Tires

Passenger car owners using their automobile for a bona fide change of residence for which they were issued special gasoline rations are eligible for Grade 1 passenger tire purchase certificates, subject to quota and other restrictions, Eugene Purtz, tire rationing officer of the San Angelo district Office of Price Administration, stated last week.

This extension of eligibility is particularly needed now that increasing numbers of persons are moving from one city to another.
It will allow the following groups to apply for new tires if they have a tire failure while making a permanent change of residence:

1. War workers moving from one city to another.
2. Members of the armed forces moving to a new post.
3. Discharged war veterans returning home or moving to another city to accept a job.

Formerly, issuance of new tire certificates was limited largely to those who held supplemental gasoline rations for their cars.

Truck tire certificates may now be obtained for passenger cars operating on B or C rations, if a suitable passenger tire is not available or if a passenger tire cannot be used on the automobile. The number of cars that will qualify under this regulation is extremely small.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know, it is getting so folks
skip over, and don't read these row-on-row of figures about what it is costing to run the Govt. and the States. If the paper says there are 2 million more folks than necessary on the tax-payer's back and they are pullin' down around 4000 million in salaries a year—not counting their swindle-sheets—nobody murmurs. It is more fun to read the funnies. If it is 10 million or 101 billion—what of it—taxes are not due for awhile and maybe the other guy will have to pay it anyway, and especially if the money is being spent in Alabama which is far away, if you happen to live in Idaho or So. Dakota.

Folks are fed-up on figures, but they are hot for pictures—so give them pictures—funnies or any kind.
If the papers say the Director of Uplift gets 10 thousand a year, and free gas, nobody stirs, but if you would paint the gent's picture on the door of his shiny car, with his salary beneath same, folks would open an eye. Let folks see via pictures versus figures—it might clear the atmosphere.
Yours—Joe Sierra.

Meckel-Johnson Wedding Solemnized

In a ceremony read at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, July 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nicks, their daughter, Willie Ruth, became the bride of Lavelle Meckel son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Meckel of Sonora, Texas. July 19 was the wedding anniversary of the groom's parents.

Before the fireplace at an improvised altar, which was banked with tall baskets of white gladioli and fern, the Rev. J. M. Hays, pastor of the Eldorado Baptist Church read the double ring ceremony while Mrs. Ray Clark of Fort Worth, an aunt of the groom, played traditional wedding music.

In a street length aqua blue dress with brown accessories, the bride entered carrying a white Prayer Book overlaid with white carnations. For something old and for something borrowed she wore a gold bracelet belonging to the mother of the groom, which was worn by this mother exactly thirty-six years previous; and she also wore a diamond lavalier and carried a white lace wedding handkerchief belonging to an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Roy Hudspeth of Sonora.

With the bride and groom were the matron of honor, Mrs. Gerald Nicks, dressed in soft rose with brown accessories and carrying a colonial bouquet, and the best man Jimmie West, a brother-in-law of the groom.

For the completion of the ceremony Mrs. C. C. West, an elderly and a life-long friend of both families, graciously gave the blessing, as the bride and groom knelt before the altar.

Immediately after the ceremony cake and punch were served from a lace-covered table, set with crystal and sterling. Mrs. R. V. Sewell, an aunt of the bride, presided at the three-tiered cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Jimmie West, a sister of the groom, served the punch. Miss Geraldine Meckel, also a sister of the groom, was at the bride's book.

After a three-weeks trip to Mexico City, Mr. and Mrs. Meckel will be at home on the ranch in Schleicher County.

For traveling the bride wore an Alice blue suit with brown accessories.

Since graduating from the University of Texas, Mrs. Meckel has been employed as the high school instructor of Spanish in Eldorado. She is a Spanish and Education major and has done some work in Saltillo toward her M. A. degree. She is a member of "Pi Lambda Theta" and of "Sigma Delta Pi." Mr. Meckel had two years in Baylor University of Waco, where he majored in voice. He next spent two years in San Antonio, Texas, where he specialized in piano and voice. Among his instructors were Miss Bettie Wilson, Frederick King, David Griffin, and Oscar J. Fox. He also graduated from San Antonio Draughton's Business College.

For the wedding those present were: of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nicks and grandson, Jerry Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nicks and son, James Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie West and daughter, Barbara, Mrs. C. C. West, Mrs. Ruth Danford, Miss Georgia Springston, Rev. Hays, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roach; Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Meckel and daughter, Miss Geraldine, and Mrs. R. V. Sewell and son, James O. Mills Sonora; Mrs. Hollie McGonagill, Dallas; Mrs. Ray Clark, Ft. Worth; Mrs. A. N. Felps, Austin; Mrs. T. J. Bailey and daughter, Martha, Ozona

Shower Honored Recent Bride Last Thursday

Mrs. E. H. Topliffe and Mrs. Jack Ratliff, assisted by Misses Betty Jo Bryant, Frances Thompson and Mrs. Lawton Brevard were hostesses to a gift tea honoring Mrs. Morris Whitten (nee Miss Margaret Hill) Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Topliffe.

Summer flowers were used for house decorations for the occasion. Presiding at the lace-covered tea table were Meses. Terry Crain L. L. Baker, and D. C. Royster.

Heading the receiving line were Mrs. Ed Hill and Mrs. W. T. Whitten, mothers of the bride and groom, and the honoree, Mrs. Whitten.

Miss Sarah Hill, sister of the bride presided at the bride's book.

One hundred guests called during the afternoon and many others sent gifts.

Three hundred and 80 veterans of World War II are already continuing their education under various veterans' programs at the University of Texas.
