Facts About Your Soil Conservation District Set - Up

Soil Conservation Districts are democracy at the grass roots. That is why so many Texans are becoming more and more interested n them.

In these days of increasing govnmental regulations, it is important for everyone-farmers, ranchers, and businessmen-to understand what Districts are, who runs them, and what they do. It is easy to confuse them with one of the other of the agencies of the Department of Agriculture.

Under Texas law, Soil Conservation Districts were organized by FOR 1950 CLASS vote of the local landowning farm-ers and ranchers. They are run by Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Dickens, is ers and ranchers. TEXAS CLAIMS it has a special right to its tidelands under the terms of the annexation agreement. Here, briefly, is the basis for this contention:

Texas was an independent nation independent republic. In fact, the United States specifically recognized our boundaries in the Treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo, the Gadsden Purchase, and the International Boundary Agreement with Mexico.

And then when we entered the Union in 1845, Texas made it a point to keep those boundaries just as they had been established. At least we have a contract to that effect in our Annexation Agreement. Only a year before, Texas had been so anxious to become a part of the Union that it offered all the school land and agreed to convey to the United States all its unsold lands if the United States would take us in and assume the $10 million debt of the Republic, the Texas State Teachers Association has pointed out. A treaty to that effect was actually signed, but it was defeated by the U.S. Senate. If it had passed we would have flimsy claim to our tidelands today. Then, the following year the U.S. Congress passed a resolution offering Texas annexation if it would pay its own debts and keep its lands. That was an offer, and the Texas congress accepted. Texas proceeded to adopt a new constitution which provided that titles to all lands should remain the same after annexation as hey existed under the Republic This constitution was approved by the United States Congress. Today our property rights, thus acquired and long recognized, are being challenged by the Federal government. Scrap Iron To Mexico A number of people have from

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

LEADERS OF the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman ... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

- "The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good . . .
- "Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding." The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good"

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results.'

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive' operation . . ."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

You know many things about the man behind the wheel when this bold front comes winging your way.

He knows style-he is traveling behind the boldest and freshest forecast of things to come that is on the roads today.

He's a practical person-likes the idea of plenty of protection out front without spending money on such extra items as bumper guards.

He likes convenience-the easier parking made possible through the precious inches of over-all length saved by this design-not to mention freedom from "locking horns" with the car ahead.

And he's foresighted-knows that accidents do happen sometimes-and he goes for the idea of a frontend design that can be repaired by replacing single bars instead of a whole grille work.

You could add that he likes power-for behind this smart forefront there's a big bonnetful of Fireball horsepower.

and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fore-front, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube •, WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

He likes comfort-since every car bearing this grille rides on soft coil springs all around.

Most of all, he has an eye for a buy. For this bold new design means Buick-and in every series, SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER, Buick means a better all-round buy.

For proof of that-go look, try and compare. You'll find that, dollar for dollar, your Buick dealer has the top values-and that goes for cars bracketing every price range above the very lowest.
