New Drive-In Theatre Here to Open Saturday Night

Saturday is the opening date for the new Eagle Drive-In Theater which opens under ownership and management of Delbert Edmiston of this city.

The drive-in will accommodate 250 cars, that number of speakers having been connected up on the ramps this week. An additional speaker is located in the concession booth and another in the projection room.

Electricity is furnished by the Southwest Texas Electric Co-op, and water lines are being run out to the theater from nearby lines.

Put up at an approximate cost of $25,000, the theater is substantially built and attractively finished. It is Eldorado's first drive-in—and a number of Schleicher citizens admit that they have never attended one, but expect to take in the opening show. None of the pictures in the first week's program were ever shown here before.

Weeks of work have gone into the building of this modern new drive-in. Tons of caliche have been hauled to the location, to provide all-weather parking areas, and this has been rolled and watered a number of times. The screen tower is substantially built, and is covered with green asbestos siding, with white screen heavily bordered with black.

Remaining to be done, possibly after the opening, are much smaller projects as growing sod for the children's playground, and putting the finishing touches on the concession stand and rest rooms.

The Edmiston have lined up help locally, as follows: Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin will be in the ticket booth. John Thomas Alexander will help in the projection room—full time the first week, and part time thereafter; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Halbert will also work for the Edmiston, the former assisting at the ticket booth, and the latter helping Mrs. Edmiston at the concession stand.

With the exception of some of the equipment installation by company men from Houston, all labor has been local.

A Dream Come True

Building of the theater represents the fulfilling of the dream which Edmiston has had for some time. Recognizing the fact that this city is well located for a drive-in, he began to think seriously about the project at Christmas, when he was at home on furlough visiting relatives. During the spring the plans began to take shape, and Edmiston took over the job of learning all that he could about the business, getting valuable experience at the Post Theater in San Antonio, and talking with show men and visiting other theaters. His release from service occurred on August 17.

A first major step after that was selection of a location for the business. After inquiring around concerning several possible sites, he finally selected six acres which he leased from the Miller Estate, and began to make definite plans to start construction.

The land lies on the south side of the Menard Highway, just outside the city limits of Eldorado. The location for the screen tower was staked off there, and preparing of the parking areas got under way at the same time.

Proprietor Is Local Man

The Edmiston are well known in Eldorado. Delbert was reared here, graduated from EHS, and served three years in World War II—with 500 days of that time spent as Prisoner of War in Austria. Mrs. Edmiston, the former Imogene Miller, was born here, moved to Merton when she was six, and received her schooling there.

At the close of the war they spent some time in Merton, then 4½ years ago the family moved to the home of his father, F. A. Edmiston, near Eldorado, remaining

Butane Transporters Move To Eldorado

Butane Transporters, a wholesale butane business organized a year ago with headquarters in San Angelo, has been reorganized and moved to Eldorado with headquarters at the Topliffe Gas & Electric Service.

Butane Transporters was organized in December, 1950, by four butane dealers for the purpose of providing themselves with a dependable wholesale connection. Dealers who made up the original enterprise were E. H. Topliffe of Eldorado, Howard Bunch of San Angelo, M. C. Scott of Rockers, and Jimmy Nunnally of Sonorings.

Under the new set up the company is owned by Topliffe and Nunnally and the offices have been moved here. The firm owns one large transport truck and a second one is on order. Robert Loveless, who has been living in Sonora, has moved to Eldorado and will continue as driver of the original transport truck.

One of the reasons for locating wholesale headquarters in Eldorado was the completion of the new paved direct highway from this city to Big Lake, where butane wholesale purchases are made.

Schleicher County Oil News

Cities Service Oil Company this week filed applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas asking for permit to drill two offsets to K. D. Owens et al No. 1 Miss Ethel Williams, central-north Schleicher county active wildcat. It is drilling below 6,000 feet in shale.

Cities Service No. 1 Eugene W. Jones is to be dug 660 feet from east line of section 34, block 24, H&TC survey and 660 feet from north line of GC&SF survey No. 1. That puts it one-quarter mile north of Owen No. 1 Williams.

Cities Service No. 1 M. W. Hicks will be 660 feet from north and west lines of R. A. Evans survey No. 2. That makes it an east offset to No. 1 Miss Ethel Williams.

Both are projected to 6,800 feet for a test of the Pennsylvania.

The Huldale areas of central-north Schleicher county have possible extenders in prospect.

Ohio No. 9 H. F. Thomson estate showed gas in five minutes and oil in 22 minutes on a two-hour drillstem test from 5775 to 5805 feet. It flowed 65 barrels of clean oil in one hour. Hole was deepened to 5827 feet where a 1½ hour test was taken. Gas surfaced in seven minutes and fluid was at the top in one hour. It flowed at the rate of three barrels per hour. The fluid was 50% oil and 50% salt water. Testing continues.

Ohio No. 13 Thomson, seven-eighths mile north and slightly east of Ohio No. 9 took a drillstem test from 5680 to 5700 feet. Tool was open 90 minutes. Gas surfaced in 19 minutes. No fluid came to the top. Recovery was 4,000 feet of clean oil. Deepened to 5720 feet operator started another drillstem test in the project. No results were available at this writing.

Pan American and Taylor Refining No. 1-B Mittel, project in the Neva West field of central-north Schleicher, was moving in swabbing unit at total depth of 6310 feet for completion attempt.

Godwin Attends Meet for Agents of Union

W. G. Godwin, county agent of Schleicher County, Agents' Association meeting at Memphis, Tenn.—with a suitcase full of souvenirs from the 48 states represented, and inspiration and new ideas gained from speeches, committee meetings, round table discussions, and fellowship with hundreds of agents from the agricultural areas of the nation.

The meeting, which occupied several days last week, featured ideas helping the agents to serve the people better. There were nationally known speakers, such as the secretary of agriculture and the head of the extension service from Washington—and there were also smaller group meetings from which the agents could receive help with their particular problems. Dealers in farm equipment served breakfasts.

The Texas delegation had charge of the supper and program one night. They served barbecue and beans and all of the fixin's to 820 county agents and over 500 others, with Godwin in charge of serving of the food. Professional entertainers provided the program that followed.

Each state in the Union brought souvenirs. The Texas agents gave away pecan pralines; others brought such items as peanuts, apple cider, sunflower paper weights, and other goods advertising their own localities.

Godwin states that he received a great deal of inspiration from the meetings, and that attendance made him proud, as always, that he is from Texas.

EAGLES TO PLAY SONORA ELEVEN TOMORROW NITE

This will be the Eagles' final battle before meeting Eden here November 16.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

It has a Way with Women

SOMETIMES we think that too little attention is given to the fair sex in automobile advertising.

After all, it's the woman of the house who has to do most of the shopping, which involves getting into tight places at the curb. And it's surprising what tight spots a Buick can fit into at a turn of the wheel.

It's the woman who likes complete freedom from things that it takes an engineer to operate—and a complete and utter freedom from mechanical complications is exactly what makes Dynaflo Drive* such a joy.

It's the woman who has an eye for style and fine fabrics—and a nose for economy. On both counts, a Buick is tops.

But we suspect something else. We suspect that a woman gets just as great a lift as a man from commanding this great-powered and trigger-quick bundle of vitality to bow to her will.

Here's a car to win any woman's heart—by its level-gaited stride—its willing response to her hand on the wheel—its smart style and its smart performance—its spaciousness and comfort—and its thrift.

How about taking time off, some afternoon, to boss around a Buick? It's a date that's bound to thrill you.

Alpine Man Buys Eastex Ranch
Purchase of a 2700-acre stock farm 11 miles north of Honey Grove, in northeast Texas, by Clay Holland, pioneer Alpine resident, was announced this week.

Mr. Holland said that he and his son, Pat, will operate the ranch and will stock it with Black Angus cattle. They expect to move to the ranch as soon as the ranch house is remodeled.

Mr. Holland sold his Presidio county ranch last July to Fowlkes brothers. —Alpine Avalanche.

And Then Too—
What Do We Do In The Infantry?

Our observations of the youth of Sonora, especially at noon and right after school, have led us to conclude that there is danger of our children being born legless. Going home the other day at noon we met what seemed to us an auto parade. Forty-two cars were leaving the schools, each with a child or two comfortable ensconced in the back seat. The day was warm and sunny and a moderate breeze was blowing. We observed four children walking home to their lunch.

Anthropologists tell us that as a result of non-use, both the small toe and the appendix will have disappeared from the American scene in a half-million years or so. We say, "Parents, consider your children's legs." We think it should become the battle cry of the P-T-A. We think the Gilmer-Aiken Bill should be revised to include a solution of this serious problem. Because after all, a half-million years go by faster than you think. —Devil's River News.

Four Receive 4H Awards

County Agent W. G. Godwin cited four members of the Schleicher County 4-H Club this week with awards, as part of observance of National 4-H Club week, Nov. 3-10. At yesterday's Lions club meeting Mr. Godwin gave awards to David Powell, Jack Stanford, Ronnie Mittel, and Truett K. Stanford. He pointed out that they were joining two million other 4-H members over the country in observing the Week.

David Powell received the Meat Animal award, for his work with sheep and cattle. As outstanding boy of the year, Jack Stanford received the Gold Star award. Ronnie Mittel and Truett K. Stanford each received the Soil Conservation award.

David Powell

The Meat Animal Award recognizes David Powell for his work in four projects: Fat Lambs, Breeding Sheep, Range Cattle, Soil and Water Conservation.

His Rambouillet sheep have placed high in contests in past years.

David is president of the club, and is also president of the Senior class in high school, where he is active in athletics and is an honor student.

"My experiences and achievements in Meat Animal projects have been both pleasant and helpful," David says in his report.

"I started my 4-H Club work with eight fine wool Rambouillet lambs, and each year I have fed more lambs. It took only a short while for me to get acquainted with the work because I was interested.

"4-H Club work and practices have taught me that when I feed lambs for the livestock shows, choose good feeder lambs, and feed them in a profitable manner.

"It costs just as much to feed an undesirable lamb as it does to feed a good lamb. When a person buys feeder lambs the undesirable may be cheaper, but at livestock shows a person has a better chance of winning with the better lamb. Competition now at livestock shows is very heavy.

"Lamb feeding has shown me the losses that can result from poor grade sheep, cheap, undesirable feed, and poor management. I have learned the value, expense, and income on show lambs under feeding conditions to some extent.

"4-H Club work has achieved for me the knowledge of keeping records correctly. Correct records can give a person knowledge of what is going on with his livestock.

"My 4-H work has helped me buy the following: ten Hereford ewes, and one registered Hereford bull. Now the cows have increased to 14 head. I have bought 50 head of breeding ewes, which have increased to 72 head. I have 30 head Angora goats."

In addition David has been active in the other phases of 4-H work: wool and mohair judging, grass judging, soil conservation and range management.

GOLDEN WEDDING NEARS

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kinser will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday, November 17, with Open House, from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., and invite their friends and relatives to call.

REMEMBER the St. John's Episcopal Church bazaar, Nov. 15, at Sonora. Have dinner at the parish house at noon and do your Christmas shopping afterward.

Jack Stanford

By receiving the Gold Star award, Jack Stanford was honored as outstanding boy during the past club year. Jack is one of the four Stanford brothers, sons of Truett C. Stanford, and their prize winning registered Corriedale business dates back to 1945 when Sonny, Jack, and Truett bought their first lambs. Since then the youngest brother, Joe Ray, has joined the enterprise.

In writing the report of his meat animal project, Jack said:

"My 4-H career began in the fall of 1945 when a few lambs were selected from Schleicher County ranchmen's flocks to be used as my 4-H project for that year. A part of these lambs were Corriedale-Rambouillet crossbreds. These lambs grew and fattened so well that my two brothers and I decided to buy some registered Corriedale ewes."

Since that time Stanford Bros. stock has taken prizes in shows in Eldorado and elsewhere over the state, including San Angelo, Fredericksburg, San Antonio, Sonora, Gillespie County, and Kerrville.

Stanford's report says further: "The foundation ewes of this flock were of very good body conformation, but were comparatively low producers of wool, shearing an average of 9 to 10 pounds of greasy wool in 12 months. We are bending every effort through selection of breeding ewes, use of better sires, and mating of a particular type dam, to improve this flock. I think we are meeting with a high degree of success as the breeding ewes are shearing heavier and more uniform fleeces, up to 15 or 16 pounds on some of the better individual ewes. At the same time these ewes are getting more size, retaining good body conformation, much better heads, and a larger heavier bone."

Earlier this year Jack was awarded a tie clasp by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raiser's Association for outstanding meat animal production. He has been active on judging teams, was recently a member of the third place team in wool and mohair judging, and was on the second place team in the district contest, at which time he was also high in individual mohair judging.

County Agent Godwin wrote in Jack's Standard Report for 4-H Members: "Jack Stanford, a Schleicher County 4-H Club boy, represents all the virtues that a county agent tries to instill in boys. From a family of four boys, Jack is sincere in all his undertakings as a member with understanding and patience in not only making the best for himself, but for younger boys with whom he so willingly gives demonstrations. A most unbelievable record, with his goal while learning to do by doing: To make my home a better place to live and secure an education by so doing."

Terracing to Conserve Rain When It Comes

Farmers of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District are taking advantage of the drouth by constructing level wide base terraces while there are crops on the land.

Joe Kreklow had five miles of level wide base terraces constructed on his place 1 1/2 miles northwest of Moore's Gin last month. R. W. Neves of Roby constructed the terraces for Kreklow. The terraces were constructed to an 18-inch unsettled height and 24 ft. base width. An elevating grader and a road maintainer were used to construct the terraces.

The construction of level wide base terraces on L. Moore & Sons' farmland 1 1/4 miles southwest of Moore Gin is being done by W. A. (Bud) Glasscock of Sonora. Glasscock is using elevating grader attachment on a motor grader frame and bulldozer. The elevating grader was built by Glasscock in Sonora.

Other cooperators of the Eldorado-Divide SCD constructing terraces are O. L. Woodward and W. G. McAlpine. Construction of the level terraces on Woodward's farm 26 miles northwest of Eldorado is being done by W. A. Glasscock.

Harlan McAlpine, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McAlpine, began the construction of level wide base terraces on 31 acres of farmland on the D. C. Hill place near Eldorado while he was on leave from the Navy last month. A large farm tractor and one-way plow is being used to construct the terraces.

Terrace construction at this time is comparatively slow due to the dryness of the soil. However, it is pointed out by SCS technicians assisting the local unit that each mile of terraces constructed now will conserve the needed moisture when it does rain.

The benefit of a good terrace system has been recognized by most farmers of the Eldorado-Divide SCD for many years. In previous years checks have been made to determine the increase in production of terraces over contour and straight row farming. Even this year, being the lowest rainfall year in many, the crops benefitted by terraces produce higher yields. This means more money in the farmers' pockets.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The staff of the Eagle Scratches of the school sponsored a Halloween party and dance Saturday night. Halloween decorations on the serving table and in the room gave the Halloween touch and added life to the party. Sue Holmes was crowned queen by Carol Lynn Dickens, whose escort was Lynn Griffin. Sue Holmes and Bill Bearee received prizes for the most original costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Doty and son Kenneth of Ballinger spent the weekend here with the O. V. Doty family.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Talks Turkey" —Long Distance

Some people chuckled when Sonny Fisher rented a home recording machine to record the noise his flock of turkeys make.

"I sent the recording to a buyer for a super-market chain," Sonny said. "I told them 'My turkeys speak for themselves—listen to this record!' They not only took my birds, but bought the record!"

"Why did they want the record?" I asked him. "Very simple," he says. "They're going to play it over the loud speakers in their stores—and then an announcer on another record reminds the customers that turkeys are plentiful and a good buy."

From where I sit, it's not always smart to make fun of someone just because he does things a little differently. I think a glass of beer is the most refreshing beverage there is. You—or Sonny—may prefer something else. But who's to decide one's right and the other's wrong? Let's stay "on record" that everyone's entitled to his own tastes and opinion.

First Baptist News

We were off in our Sunday school attendance Sunday. Only 177 were present. Our goal for November is 215, and we were way below for the first Sunday. It will take effort on the part of each department superintendent and each class teacher and officer to reach this goal, but we can and should reach it.

This week has been Sunday school emphasis week. Two guides of emphasis have been offered: "Building a Standard Sunday School," taught by Mrs. L. M. Hoover, and the book, "Every Christian's Job," taught by Brother Nelson. Attendance was fair, but we had hoped and expected more of our teachers and officers to be interested in these courses.

Friday, November 9, is the district W. M. U. meeting at Eden. Two cars will go from here. If you would like to go to this meeting phone Brother Nelson or Mrs. John Stigler. The organ music for the meeting and the special music will be furnished by the First Baptist church of Eldorado.

Don't forget that we are to join hands and hearts with our sister churches on the morning of November 22 at 8:00 a.m. at the high school auditorium for a joint Thanksgiving service. Each member of the choir that will be asked to meet with singers of the other church choirs on Wednesday night to practice hymns and furnish the music for this service. Let us all cooperate to make this a great service on this very significant day in the life of our nation.

Don't forget these significant dates in November for our church: November 9, the district WMU meeting at Eden; November 19, Brotherhood meeting at 7:00 p.m.; November 25, Rev. Vernon Shaw will speak to our church presenting Baptist Orphans home; November 26 through 29, Mission Emphasis week. There will be a different missionary each evening to speak to our people. Do not miss any of these choice blessings that are in store for you.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Vicki Lou Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll, was honored Friday when her mother sponsored a party in her room at school. Present were the children in Mrs. Newport's first grade.

Mrs. Carroll carried out the Halloween motif in the refreshments, which consisted of decorated cup cakes, candies and cocoa. Her seventh birthday was Sunday, and Vicki Lou's party was in celebration of that event.

TO ATTEND MEETING

About 25 Future Homemakers expect to attend the District FHA meeting Saturday in Sterling City, Miss Frances Barton, home ec teacher, announced this week. Miss Barton said that this was part of the observance of National FHA week. The group went to church together Sunday, and Friday will have lunch together in the school cafeteria.
