

NEW ROUTE OF STATE HIGHWAY NO. 29

State Highway 29 now runs from Eldorado through Georgetown after re-numbering by the Texas Highway Department. The re-numbering plan is aimed at simplifying route markings to aid motorists. Signs replacing the old numbers are shown on the official travel map of the highway department now available for free distribution. The old number on this route was 151.

CHURCHES PLAN GOOD FRIDAY 3-HOUR SERVICE

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

It was planned Tuesday to make the Good Friday service an annual affair, under sponsorship of the Ministerial Alliance. It will be rotated among the member-churches.

Mrs. Alice L. Isaacs was honored by relatives and friends with an Open House at her home Saturday afternoon. Her daughter, Miss Nettie Isaacs received guests and served coffee, with decorated birthday cake, the gift of Mrs. E. H. Topliffe.

A high point in the afternoon was gathering of a number of friends who sang hymns in which Mrs. Isaacs joined.

Here for the weekend to help Mrs. Isaacs celebrate her 92nd birthday were her son Johnnie Isaacs, of Sierra Blanca, former Eldorado resident, and Floyd Isaacs and his wife and baby, who is a great grandchild of Mrs. Isaacs.

Quite a few people presented gifts to the honoree.

ELECTION NOTES

Notice to county candidates:

On or before May 5th you must file application as a candidate with the county Democratic chairman. May 5th is the first Monday in May. The county Democratic chairman is Mr. Ernest Hill. You must see him before the deadline and fill out the forms he gives you. Later on the chairman and his county committee will meet and determine the cost of the primary election—and the cost to each candidate for having his name printed on the ballot. That's the legal end of it, and May 5th is the day for you to remember.

Your announcement in the Eldorado Success is in the nature of a political advertisement and has no significance as far as the county chairman is concerned.

A last minute candidate could—if he wanted to—file with the chairman on Monday, May 5th, and carry his advertisement in the local paper AFTER that date.

City Election

Everything seems to be going along quietly in the affairs of the City of Eldorado. The terms of two aldermen expire this year—Sam Oglesby and W. M. Patterson. The ballots are usually printed the latter part of March, so if you should want to be an alderman your name would have to be turned in to the city secretary before that time. (Don't everyone speak at once.)

The city election this year is either on Tuesday, April 1, or Tuesday, April 8. Does the law say it should be held on the first Tuesday in April?—or does it specify the first Tuesday AFTER the first Monday in April? We'll print the answer as soon as we find out.

School Board Election

Henry Speck and Jim O'Harrow are the only school board members whose terms expire this year. Election is held the first Saturday in April—April 5th.

For the benefit of the voters of this county, we asked board members what a candidate must do to have his name printed on the trustee election ballot.

Here is the very simple procedure:

Leslie Baker is the assistant secretary of the school board. He is the person who prepares a copy of the ballot and sees to having the ballots printed a few days before the election. You simply turn your name in to Mr. Baker about ten days BEFORE the election date. That makes the deadline March 26. There is only one nice thing about being a school board member. You don't have to pay income tax on the salary you get! (Ain't none.)

County Board

There is also another board called "County Trustees" who are elected on a separate ballot. We don't know what part they play in the affairs of the school since it has been consolidated, but we understand they are elected same day as the board members.

One Is Killed, One Injured In Accident North of Eldorado

Two allied aviation cadets from foreign countries were involved in a serious car accident on the Eldorado-Christoval highway Sunday afternoon.

Francois Schneider of France, age 18, died a few minutes after the accident occurred. Roger Crepin, 19, of Belgium, was seriously injured.

The youths, stationed at Goodfellow Air Force Base, were riding in a rented 1941 Chevrolet car, and were driving south. Falling to make a curve about 16 miles north of Eldorado, the car went across the road twice, then skidded broadside into the concrete abutment of a bridge.

Dr. Robert Maginot of Eldorado administered aid before an ambulance arrived from San Angelo.

The accident is the first automobile fatality for the year in Schleicher County.

They are major factors in developing the character of your children. Visit them this week. See them in action during Public Schools Week.

There is nothing more to report on the proposed 14-mile stretch of Mertzon road—except that personnel of the Highway Department are still working on preliminaries, such as looking over a suggested route, locating caliche pits, and taking care of legal aspects of the projects. It still looks like a 1952 job.

Red Cross Drive Is Set For Next Week

Workers will canvass Schleicher county next week in the annual Red Cross fund drive to raise the quota of $960, Chairman T. P. Robinson Jr. said today. Phases of the campaign will include work in the school, business district, oil workers, and residential districts of Eldorado, it was stated.

Mrs. Danell McCormack is chairman of Red Cross fund drive work in the Junior Woman's Club. That group will send letters to persons living out in the county. Roger Jones will work with the oil companies. Fred Watson will conduct the drive in the school, while Roy Phelps and Morris Isbell will have charge in the business district.

Robinson said that he hoped the drive could be completed by Saturday, March 15.

Mrs. Charles Reynolds had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McPaul of Mertzon.

Completed In The Drouth Year of 1951

Shown above and to the right are two pretty big businesses, which were built and opened to the public during dry 1951.

The Gulf Station, shown above, is now owned and operated by Ervin Mund. It is located at the corner on which the Robinson grocery building stood several years ago—and is adjoining Keno's Courts, also a product of dry 1951.

This modern station will probably be unusually fortunate in its location—it is likely that the new Mertzon Highway will be routed right past there as a continuation of the Menard road—making it a junction for two main highways

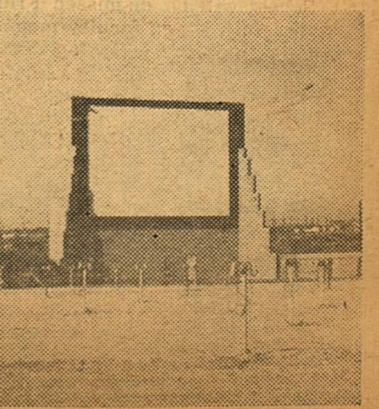

(the other is the present San Angelo Highway).

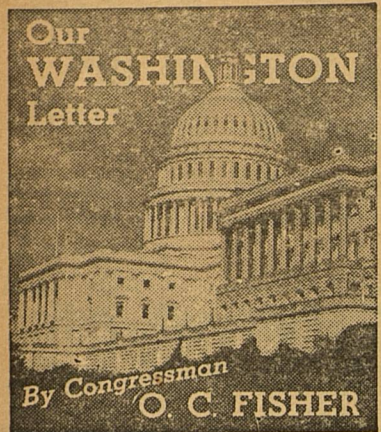

No picture does justice to the drive-in. The picture at the right is no exception—it is Delbert Edmiston's Eagle Drive-In, completed late in 1951.

Located on the Menard Highway just outside the city limits, this drive-in theater has been enjoying a good run of patronage and has helped, with many other businesses of the city, to bring people to Eldorado from all over the county.

Now, with fruit blossoms out and a little greenery beginning to show, the proprietor is starting to realize that ideal drive-in weather is fast approaching, and that the trek of Schleicher cars that way will soon be at its peak.

Chamber of Horrors

Defense officials have come to refer to the exhibits of waste before the House Armed Services subcommittee as the "chamber of horrors." It is indicated that some members of the Armed forces are disposed to write off duplications and waste too lightly. Certainly the taxpayer has a right to be angry when he reads of one service paying substantially more than another service for the same supply item.

This expression and the attendant publicity was the result of a committee display of various items, picked at random, purchased by the various services at prices that in some instances were far from uniform, even though the things bought were practically identical.

For a year now, the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Hebert of Louisiana, of which I am the ranking member, has been exposing waste and inefficiency wherever it could be found. As a result, multiplied millions have been saved, new centralized procurement methods have been set up, and procurement officers have become more economy-conscious. All three of the services have cooperated with the committee in this revamping operation.

Of major importance has been the Committee's drive for a uniform catalog system for all supply items. The Munitions Board has the task of unifying procurement between the services. Already, some 15 million separate catalogue items have been reduced to 1,500,000. This is a painstaking process. In some instances, one item has been found to have as many as 50 different listings.

We are assured that once this uniform catalogue system is perfected, cases of excessive purchases will no longer result. And there will no longer be any excuse for the "chamber of horrors."

Straw In The Wind

Whether we like it or not, ever since our government was founded, politics plays a big part in law-making and in party politics, particularly on Presidential election years. Evidence of politics is often had in legislating, because too much attention is given by some Members to votes in November rather than to what should be done in some instances.

It is no wonder, therefore, that early elections and primaries are watched with eagle-eyes by Party Bigwigs, watching for indications of how the voters may line up in November when the chips are down. A special election in New York City last week grabbed Washington headlines because an anti-Truman Republican defeated a pro-Truman Democrat in the election of a Congressman from a normally Democratic district. The vote was light, and it might not mean much. But it was a 'straw in the wind' as both Party leaders put their interpretations on it.

Some Dopesters, who get paid for using crystal balls and writing out theories and exploding others, think the "straw" indicates a swing toward more conservatism as opposed to Fair Dealism and excessive spending. If that is true, the trend bodes well for Southern conservatives who have been outspoken against many of the Truman Fair Deal policies and non-essential spending in recent years, and who have not gone along with the leadership which has been smitten with a pro-labor complex on issues where the Big Brass in the unions have favored excessive spending and many "welfare state" measures

Then, there are the crystal gazers who figure the South might revolt this year and thereby throw the election of a President into the House of Representatives for the first time since 1824. If, they reason, the South should refuse to accept the Democratic or Republican candidate for President, and favor their own choice, the election would then go to the House of Representatives.

The last time the House decided an election was in the contest between Andrew Jackson and John Quincy Adams. Jackson got 99 electoral votes in the election and Adams got only 84. However, Adams won in the House balloting when Henry Clay threw his support to Adams and as a reward was named Secretary of State.

In the House elections (if an impasse should occur and neither candidate got a majority of electoral votes in November) the voting is by States. Each State has one vote. The vote is cast by the State's Congressional delegation after a caucus. Bitter wranglings could be expected within the various delegations. In the case of Texas, most of the Members are considered conservative and thru a coalition consistently oppose extravagance and socialistic measures despite the Party leadership and Administration overtures.

Ten Boy Scouts from Eldorado's Troop 18 took part in the West Ranch District first aid meet Monday night in the Ozona school gym. Participating as teams, Eldorado furnished two teams, Sonora, two, and Ozona, one. Each team was given five problems and four minutes to demonstrate first aid on each.

During the evening teams demonstrated artificial respiration, traction splinting, bandaging, and other first aid on the problems.

Penalties were assessed for failure to properly diagnose patient's condition, slowness of work, improper first aid, etc.

At the end of the contest scores were totaled on a basis of a possible 500 points. Teams from Troop 19, Sonora, took 475 and 461 points. Eldorado's Comanche team totaled 457 and the Flaming Arrow team 429. Ozona's Troop 63 took 338.

Comanche team consisted of James Lee Swain, Sherrill Dannheim, Noel Dannheim, Frank Otto Prochaska, and Farris Nixon. On the Flaming Arrow team were Ralph Taylor, David Steen, Kenneth Pennington, Cecil Mac Walston, and Voy J. Mitchell.

Parents attending were Jess Walston and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Steen. T. J. Kogut, District Commissioner, and Bill Gunstead, Scoutmaster, were among the judges.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life.

A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions.

It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these.

But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriftily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Wrong Signature On Legal Papers May Cost Time, Money

Should a married woman sign important documents with her own given name or use her husband's first name? Is "Junior" or "Senior" legally part of your name? Should you sign your middle name or initial? Is "Mr." or "Mrs." part of a legal signature? Lawyers find that people are often at a loss to know how to sign their names to legal documents. And, while signature discrepancies ultimately may be straightened out, the process can be expensive.

In legal effect, a name is used merely as one method of distinguishing one person from another.

Under the Common Law, since very early times, a legal name has consisted of one Christian or given name, and one surname which is the family name. Generally, use of both such names is necessary for legal identification.

The law does not pay too much attention to the middle name or initial. However, although the use of the middle name or initial is not required, it is wise to use it since it may be important for identification in some cases.

According to attorneys, married women have more difficulty with their signatures than most other people. When a girl marries she, of course, takes her husband's surname. Thus Mary Lou Jones legally becomes Mary Lou Brown when she marries James E. Brown. But, in practice, she usually does not stop there—she uses his full name as her own, signing herself as Mrs. James E. Brown, instead of Mary L. Brown (or Mary Lou Brown) which is correct.

Can this apparently minor error in Mrs. Brown's signature cause any trouble? Let us assume that the Browns decide to sell their home, which they have owned fifteen years, and move to Oregon. Five years pass, and their former home is now owned by George Smith, who has made a deal to sell it at a nice profit. In checking the title of the property, the name, "Mrs. James E. Brown" turns up in Smith's abstract, as it appears on the deed by which James and Mary sold their home.

For the title to be clear, the land records must show that the Mrs. James E. Brown who sold the house and lot was the same identical person as the Mary L. Brown or Mrs. James E. Brown whose name appears on the deed conveying the property to the Browns many years before.

In order that the purchaser may be safe, lawyers and courts must not overlook the possibility that they may be two different persons. If so, the first Mrs. Brown may have died leaving heirs who have not yet relinquished their interest in the home. Other possibilities would present serious implications also.

Proof of identity in this case could involve tracing the Browns through several states, or other methods equally or more expensive and time consuming. While waiting for this proof, George Smith might lose his chance to take a profit. The intended purchaser may have to begin anew his search for a suitable family shelter. The Browns may be out time and money in correcting the discrepancy.

In this situation, the "minor" variation in Mary's signature has resulted in trouble for everyone involved.

Perversely enough, other married women feel that their maiden surname is still legal and continue to use it. For instance, a wife may register her automobile in her maiden name instead of her married name. This is not in compliance with the law requiring a car to be registered in the name of the owner. Her maiden surname is gone for good, unless she is divorced and wants to resume the use of her maiden name. Then it may be returned to her by a court order.

The law does not consider "Junior" or "Senior" a significant part of the name, as regards identification. However, it will not be correct to add such terms to your signature, if you wish. Similarly, "Mr." or "Mrs." are not legally important or necessary.

(This column based on Texas law is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Fire Rates Down

Fort Stockton property owners will save several thousand dollars in the next twelve months as result of a 5% credit on fire insurance announced last week by the Texas Insurance Commission.

Serious fires in 1950 resulted in loss of a 15% credit enjoyed at that time, and in 1951 the rate was neutral, with neither credit nor penalty. This year's improvement in rate reflects a good record of performance in 1951.—The Fort Stockton Pioneer.

None of the occupants of the car were injured, and the car was taken to Menard for repairs. The group called Claude Alexander, who took them on to Llano, where the Lynn Alexanders bought turkey eggs for early spring setting.

Sooty Mold On Gardenias

COLLEGE STATION — Do the stems and leaves of your gardenias have a sooty-like appearance? If they do, chances are that sooty mold is present on the plants.

Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the mold is caused by the white fly, a tiny moth-like insect no larger than a gnat.

The young, found on the underside of the leaves, resemble scales and can be controlled by spraying with 3 tablespoons of white oil emulsion per gallon of water. The flies feed on the plants and excrete a liquid that provides a medium for the growth of this sooty mold.

If the flies are eradicated the mold will disappear, says Miss Hatfield. When the adults are swarming dust the plant thoroughly with a 5 per cent DDT dust.

Health Letter

Two of the most painful complications of the common cold are an earache and sinus trouble. And they are frequent complications of a cold.

Earaches don't always follow a cold, of course, and may start up without any "cold" signs, just the sudden aching of the ear. Most people have at one time or other experienced a sudden earache that just hurts awfully bad and then by the time you get to the doctor there is no ache left at all; that type of earache is often caused by a tiny blister, blob, which forms in the ear, flares up for a brief period and then subsides without any aftereffects.

More serious and more prolonged is the inflammation of the middle ear which is called otitis media, which may follow a cold. This earache starts up a little slower, usually with a feeling of fullness in the ear which you can relieve by swallowing or yawning. If you have a cold at the time you probably hear bubbling and cracking noises in your ear when you blow your nose.

But then the inflammation usually flares up with yawning no longer relieving the pressure and you may get a severe headache along with a ringing, roaring or hissing in your ear or ears. When the middle ear becomes completely filled with liquid, your hearing is not good and your own voice sounds unusually loud to you.

That is every indication that you have a complication from your cold or else a well-developed earache. It may last a few days or more than a week and you need to stay in the house, eat a light diet and drink plenty of water. If you have a fever, you should be in bed.

But you should not put a thing in your ear without your doctor's advice. Aspirin may help relieve the pain or quiet the disturbing noises or it may be that stronger drugs, such as cocaine or morphine, may be necessary; they should be taken only upon a doctor's advice, of course.

Ear drops, hot water bag, or electric pad may offer relief, as your doctor prescribes, but used promiscuously they may make matters worse. The sulfa drugs and penicillin are often prescribed for such an earache but it is still necessary in many cases for your doctor to puncture the tympanic membrane, sometimes more than once.

Earaches and sinus infections, such as those mentioned above, may lead to very serious complications themselves and deserve the most professional medical attention; they should never be "treated" by haphazard, guessing home remedies.

There are many varied treatments for sinusitis, that distressingly painful inflammation of the air cavities which join the nose. (These cavities (sinuses) are lined with mucous membrane, a continuation of the same wet tissue that lines the nose, and frequently fill with infected material from the nose during or after a cold. The sinuses lie above, behind and below the eyes.

The treatment that is ideal for one sinus patient will often prove inadvisable for another. Irrigations, packings, mists of penicillin or streptomycin and surgical treatment are all entitled to a place in the medical relief of sinusitis, depending upon your doctor's preference for your particular case. There is no one method that has been accepted as the preferred treatment of all cases.

Your doctor will explain the different methods to you and what results can be expected from each. When sinusitis sufferers get together, they almost always are interested in treatment that has been successful for someone else; such is the pain and suffering in many cases of sinusitis, that the patient is willing to "try anything." With sinuses forming a direct communication with the brain, the wrong treatment can certainly do more harm than good. Individual treatments must vary greatly as individual nasal structures do and you must have confidence in your physician and his choice of method of relieving the congestion known as sinusitis.

Your Manners Are Showing

College Station. — Good table manners should be practiced at home if they are to become a habit in public. To be well mannered at the table is to eat food without attracting attention and being rude to others says Jimmie Nell Harris, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Passing food correctly is an easy habit to acquire. Food may be passed from the right or left so long as all food is going in the same direction. The dish should be held close to the body as it is passed. Never take food first unless the hostess suggests it.

There are a few musts in personal table habits that should be observed continues Miss Harris. A few of these are the hair should be combed and hands clean; sit and rise from the left of the chair; unfold the napkin on the lap and not above the table; do not lounge at the table, sit erect; while eating keep the elbows close to the sides, when not eating keep the hands in the lap; do not butter a whole piece of bread at one time, break it into slices and butter as eaten; do not talk with the mouth full and take small bites; do not reach for food, ask to have it passed; never leave the spoon standing in the tea of coffee cup, and always dip the spoon away from you when eating soup.

Meal time can be a happy occasion for the family if every member will be as polite to each other as to visitors. Miss Harris says if due consideration for others is joined with common sense and self respect, everyday good manners become a part of gracious living.

First Baptist News

Attendance Sunday was off in Sunday school and up in Training Union. We had 172 in Sunday school and 71 in Training Union. Orchids Sunday went to the Intermediate department with a grade of 60. The Junior department was second with a grade of 59. The onions went to the nursery department with a grade of 30. The junior and young peoples department reached their goal Sunday. Each of our departments continue to strive earnestly to reach our goals for 1952. Let us not forget our slogan for this month, "March to Church in March."

Our study course received a good response. 80 people were enrolled for part or all of the study. There was an average attendance of 39, and 33 qualified for awards. Brother Vernon Shaw did a good job of teaching the book, "The New Testament Doctrines of the church." Our next major event is our annual youth revival which will begin Sunday, March 30 and close April 6, Bubba Wood of Baylor doing the preaching, Brother Feather of Southwestern Seminary doing the singing, R. B. Cooper Jr., of Howard Payne playing. We extend a cordial invitation to the youth of Eldorado to be in all these services.

The R. A. and G. A. of Junior ages met at the church Monday afternoon for their week of prayer program for home missions and took a basket of food to a shut-in family after their program. The intermediate G. A.'s met at the church Tuesday afternoon for their work. We extend a cordial invitation to all the boys and girls who are eligible to be in these organizations. The camps will be held at Lake Brownwood this year in June.

Our offering to the church budget for February was $1,091.25. We appreciate the very fine way in which many of our people have been responding to our financial program. There are still a few things that we need for the most efficient service in our church—fluorescent lights for the banquet room are needed; a moving picture projector is needed; public address system for our auditorium is needed! Let us lay by in store on the first day of the week as the Lord has prospered us.

We were happy to have many visitors in our Sunday school and worship services last Sunday morning and evening. We are always happy to have visitors. If you are going to make your home in Eldorado and you are a Baptist we welcome you to make our church your church home. You can't find one any better anywhere. We strive to be the "Friendly Church With a Spiritual Program."

This past Wednesday our WMS observed their week of prayer program in a meeting at the church beginning at 10:00 a. m. This is the annual home mission emphasis. There will be a special offering taken for home missions beginning this Sunday, March 9, closing Sunday, March 23. We trust that all of our people will have a part in this worthy effort. We can make this an offering worthy of our Lord if all of us have a part in it.

Let us keep in mind that the Concho Valley Baptist Association will meet at Sterling City next Tuesday, March 11. This is a night meeting. The board meeting and the WMU meeting beginning at 5:30 and the program at 7:30. The pastor will have room in his car for several. If you care to make this journey see him.

Friday evening March 14 the Scarborough union of the Training Union will meet at the church for a social and the election of officers and reorganization of the union. The nursery will be open for your children. We give an earnest invitation to all who will to come and take part in this program. This should be one of our very strongest unions, but of late you have made it our weakest. Remember to meet us at the church at 7:30 p. m., Mar. 14. We cannot spell "success" without "U".

THE WHOLE WORLD GUILTY BEFORE GOD

"We have before proved both Jews and Gentiles that they are all under sin. As it is written, There is none righteous. No, not one; There is none that understandeth; There is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way; they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good; no, not one. Their throat is an open sepulchre. With their tongues they have used deceit. The poison of asps is under their lips; whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and misery are in their ways; and the way of peace they have not known. There is no fear of God before their eyes. Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped. And all the world may become guilty before God. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in His sight, for by the law is the knowledge of sin." Rom. 3:9-20.

Here we have a picture of the actual condition of every man, woman and child in the world. We are all guilty. None of us are justified before God. My friend this passage shows why you must be reborn. Joining a church won't help you. Turn and call upon the Lord Jesus Christ and let Him change you from a son of satan into a son of the Living God. Go to the church of your choice; if you have no choice, visit us. Rev. F. H. Proyor, Fundamental Baptist Church.

Blakeway and Mrs. Carroll Sproul, were voted into the club.

They Do "Give A Hoot" For Easy

Easy Roberts finally got rid of the noisy pigeons that used to whoop it up under his eaves.

He must have tried a dozen ways to scare them off. But no matter what he did, they would be right back cooing by his window the next morning.

Then Easy thought of an old stuffed owl he had in his attic. He propped it on the roof so's all the pigeons could see it. They left... and three hoot owls have taken their place. Easy swears the hooting is even worse than the cooing of the pigeons.

From where I sit, quite often a "bright idea" will turn out to be "not so bright" after all. That's why we should never be too cocksure of our ideas and opinions—but always try to keep an open mind. I believe a refreshing glass of beer is the best thirst-quencher—you may believe differently. But who's to say one's right and the other is wrong? Let's just practice tolerance. It'll save a lot of hootin' and hollerin'.

World Day of Prayer Is Attended By 35 On Friday Afternoon

About 35 were present Friday afternoon at 4:00 when the World Day of Prayer was observed by the churches of the city in joint session at the Methodist Church.

Rev. Charles Bruce opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs. May Tisdale officiated during a brief business session, Mrs. Joe Edens reading the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Tisdale gave a description of the work done by this world-wide group, and touched briefly on the foreign and home missionary program, which began in 1887 in this country and spread throughout the world. She reported that over a billion dollars had been collected last year for this work.

Mrs. Edens led the litany of prayer with group responses, and individuals read supplications from the migrant, the share cropper, the student, a Sioux, a Mexican, a Chinese, and others.

Litany and prayer by Rev. Roy Shilling followed the collection for home and foreign missions.

Mr. and Mrs. John Angelo of Oakland, Calif., are here visiting Mr. Angelo's sister, Mrs. Hollis McCormick and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Alexander visited Monday in San Angelo with their son and his family.

When moisture conditions do improve in the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District, what plans have we made to give our pastures a chance to make the much needed improvement? Does our plan include the deferring of some pasture for more rapid and better improvement? Making use of our pastures for so long without rain makes it almost a necessity that we do what we can to help the ranges when the moisture does come—otherwise we will not get the desired range improvement.

There are quite a few misunderstandings about rests and deferments of pastures. Most of us rest the poorest pasture first. If we rest the better pasture first it will respond sooner and with greater increase in forage production. The best pasture in top condition will carry a big load during long periods of rest needed on the poor pastures.

Often a pasture is rested except for a few livestock. There is no question but what this will help a pasture considerably, and this practice is recommended in cases where it isn't at all practical to completely rest a pasture. The trouble with resting a pasture except for a few livestock is that the part of the pasture needing rest doesn't get it. The very best grasses, kinds that need rest most, will be kept grazed down as much with five head as they would with 40 head.

No one will question the fact that we need moisture to grow grass, but did we think of growing grass at the time moisture was falling? If we wait until we get into the middle of a drouth before we begin to think about growing grass—that is a little late. Several ranchers in the district grew grass when moisture conditions were favorable, consequently, they have had enough reserve feed on the range to pretty well carry them through the drouth.

Practically everyone has made some livestock reductions in the past several months, but did they do this in time, or did they wait until they were forced to reduce? If so no range improvement will be gained from this. When the rain does come our first impression is to increase our numbers, consequently, we do not receive range improvement during normal or increased rainfall years.

After deferring a pasture we should plan to restock it in such a way that the improvement gained will not be lost. This is done by determining the percentages of the different kinds of the better grasses and the amount of forage produced. It's not so much the number of acres in the pasture, but the condition it is in. We should attempt to balance our livestock numbers with the amount of good feed the pasture is producing. By doing this we graze the better grasses properly and enough of the old grass is left for cover and maintenance purposes. Operating in this manner we are thinking in terms of pounds per acre produced and not numbers. A section of this country will keep quite a few head of stock alive for quite some time, but it will not make them do good and put lots of weight on them.

The condition our pastures were in before the drouth started is what has hurt us. We didn't have that reserve of feed on the range to take care of us during the drouth.

As far back as we have rainfall records we have had drouths from time to time and we will continue to have them in the future. We need to get our range feed ahead of our livestock and keep it that way. Operating in this manner we will take the biggest gamble out of the ranching business.
