HOPE OF GLORY

"To whom God would make known what is the riches of the Glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of Glory." To a Gentile these are words of wisdom, some of the most wonderful in scripture. Notice this mystery is known only by His saints. Verse 26. So this is addressed to His saints and this mystery is what God wants you and me to know. Notice who is wanting you to know this. God the creator, God the Omni one. The El Shoddi. The Gracious One. It says God would make known to you and I what these wonderful riches are. Let us stop on this word riches. You and I are sinners, enemies of God. Yet God so loved that He wants us to know what they are and also this glory. This mystery is Christ in you the hope of Glory. Does Christ live in you? Are you willing for Him to live in you? Does He live in you and you refuse to go to church and refuse to let Him have His way with you. Come to church.—F. H. Pryor.

4-H Roundup In June

College Station.—The annual Texas 4-H Club Roundup will be held at Texas A & M College on June 9 and 10. The statewide gathering, sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, for years has been recognized as one of the highlight meetings for 4-H Club members.

According to information released by Extension Director G. G. Gibson, each county may send as official delegates two boys, two girls and two local adult leaders. This number does not include members who will participate in the many judging and team demonstration contests. Only one team from each Extension district will participate in each of the 14 announced contests. District winning teams are to be selected in district contests. Since the annual Extension Conference will be held later in the year, only a limited number of county Extension agents will attend.

In addition to the contests, delegates will participate in recreation programs, assemblies, training meetings and visit points of interest on the college campus. The State 4-H Council will meet during the Roundup to make plans for other activities covering the remainder of the year.

Schools For Texas Cotton Gin Operators

College Station.—In order to improve one of the steps in the 7-step cotton program—pick and gin for a high grade—Texas cotton gin owners have requested assistance. It will be given in a series of 2-day ginner schools which are scheduled for the latter part of April and early May.

According to E. H. Bush, cotton gin specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the schools will give gin owners and operators an opportunity to pick up practical information on the function, construction, adjustment, operation, repair and maintenance of gin machinery and equipment. He says the schools are sponsored by the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, various manufacturers of cotton gin machinery and the Extension Service.

The first school is scheduled for April 28-29 at the Murray Company of Texas plant in Dallas. On April 30 and May 1, the second will be held at the Lummus Cotton Gin Company, Dallas. The third will follow on May 2-3 at the Centennial Cotton Gin Company, Dallas, and on May 7-8 the series will be completed with the school at the Continental Gin Company plant, also in Dallas.

Because of a lack of facilities, the Hardwick-Etter Company of Sherman and the Gullett Gin Company of Sherman and the Gullett Gin Company of Dallas will not participate in the 1952 schools, says Bush.

Each piece of machinery and equipment will be completely torn down and rebuilt, points out Bush. Instructors will be top-flight gin machinery engineers who will explain during their lectures the finer points that make for high quality ginning. Such machinery and equipment as gin stands, driers, overhead burr machines, cleaners, extractor feeders, fans and pneumatic systems, lint cleaners and lint conveying and pressing systems will get major attention. A question and answer period and a tour of the plant will wind up each school.

Bush adds it is the hope of the schools that the men who actually operate gin machinery will attend. In addition to the lectures on machinery and equipment, the latest research findings from the U. S. Cotton Ginning Laboratory will be given. Fire and accident prevention will be discussed and hints given for cutting the losses caused by both.

Better ginning, points out the specialist, results when operators fully understand the finer points of construction, adjustments, maintenance and repairs of the machinery they are operating. Better ginning also means improved grades of cotton, more income for the producer and better satisfied customers, says Bush.

Handy Home Tools

College Station.—Homemakers can save time and trouble by keeping a select number of household tools where they can be found. Gladys Darden, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests a household repair kit or a tool board for every home.

A fishing tackle or similar box makes an excellent container for all small tools and supplies. Tacks, nails, hooks, screws, glue and other such articles may be kept in the small divisions in the tray of the box. In the bottom, store such tools as the hammer, pliers, screw driver, small wrench, putty knife, awls, files, assorted bolts, washers, friction tape, sandpaper and a spool of wire. Large tools such as the saw and plane may be hung on a tool rack or kept in a special place.

If you prefer a tool board, Miss Darden suggests there be a place for each tool. If one is missing, the empty space shows the tool should be found. The board may be hung on the wall and brass hooks may be used to hold the tools. The appearance of the board is improved by giving it a coat of stain or paint.

A few essential tools can be hung on the board. A medium-sized claw hammer is a tool often used. A pair of pliers is needed, plus a pair of diagonal cutting pliers which are useful in cutting wire, string, rope and smaller nails and screws. Miss Darden has found that two sizes of screw drivers are convenient and that an icepick or awl will come in handy for punching holes in wood when starting screws. A semi-flexible steel tape in a case is handy for taking measurements. Have the board large enough, she says, for a dagger-shaped hack saw for cutting both wood and metal.

Tools should be properly cleaned before storing. Keep them bright with a film of oil. Miss Darden says that it is best to start with a few tools of good quality, and add others as needed.

Mrs. C. C. West entertained recently a relative, Allen Kluck, of Seguin, who was making his first trip to this county. He is a retired oil man.

Visitors in the Albert McGinnes home Tuesday night were Mrs. McGinnes' mother, Mrs. Ben Brooks of Tempsy; a sister, Mrs. Bill Hawkins and daughter Sherri of San Angelo; and a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Poynter and sons Stanley and Michael of Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Poynter left Wednesday morning for Detroit and plans to return in June or July for his family who are remaining for a visit with relatives in Texas. Mrs. Poynter is the former Iris Brooks who made her home here with the Albert McGinnes family several years ago.

Mrs. Billy Edmiston, who has been staying here with her baby at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, for several weeks, left Saturday for Crane, where Billy is a Southern Geophysical employee, and where they have found living quarters.

The cost of living went up + up

It's a Fact!

For the average West Texas family, a kilowatt-hour of electric service costs less today than it did 20, 15 — even 10 years ago!

Although the cost of materials, manpower, fuel, and everything else needed to provide electric service has gone up in price, your local rates have stayed low.

Your electric service is still the biggest bargain in the family budget — your most dependable, low-cost servant.

The price of electricity went down + down

The cost of your electric service has remained low because you use a lot of it and because of the skills and efficient business methods used by the men and women of this company.

Bride Is Honored With Tea Saturday

A group of friends were hostesses Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist church with a bridal shower, honoring Mrs. Albert Dale Alexander, the former Frances Lee Bauguess, who was married on March 15.

Mrs. Payne Robinson presided at the register, and Miss Lee Halbert, Mrs. George Williams, Mrs. Roy Martin, and Mrs. Jack Halbert served during the tea hours. White and purple iris centered the table, and the candles were white. The same colors were carried out in the cake squares and punch. A large assortment of gifts was presented to Mrs. Alexander.

Mrs. John Stigler played the piano during the afternoon, and Darla Jones and Katie Bauguess sang.

The bride, a high school student at the time of her marriage, was pianist for the primaries in the First Baptist church and was in the choir.

A good crowd of local friends called during the afternoon, and the honoree's mother-in-law, Mrs. Lee Alexander, and sister-in-law, Louise Alexander, were here from Menard. The couple are making their home in Menard.

The Military

Mr. and Mrs. Ross McAngus visited their son, Cpl. Billy Dan McAngus, Monday near Gatesville where he was participating in the Exercise Longhorn maneuvers. The Hardin-Simmons band played for the boys while they were there, they report.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McAlpine have received word that their son Harland has landed at Yokohama, Japan, reaching there on the 22nd. With the exception of a storm which lasted 48 hours, he states that he had a good trip. His buddy, T. J. Byrd of Merkel, who went through radar school with him, is still with him at Yokohama.

Tommy Green, who has been stationed for a short time at Camp Bullis, will report back to Camp Chaffee in Arkansas during the coming weekend, following a visit in Eldorado with his mother, Mrs. T. F. Green. He also visited here last weekend, when other members of the family were also here: Odell of Abilene, Glenn of Baird, Margaret Schweining of Sonora, bride elect of Glenn, (the couple will wed Easter Sunday), Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook of Schleicher Co., and Susan, and Mrs. Frances Mund, Tommy's aunt.

In this drouth year, attention should be called to a spot of color: the iris, Bluebonnets, fruit blossoms, etc., at the McWhorter-Buchanan place in the west part of Eldorado.

From Parlin, Colorado, comes this letter, which will be interesting to B. T. Williams' old friends in Schleicher County. We quote a few paragraphs:

"We still have quite a lot of snow here. It is about 28 inches on the level and is almost pure ice. You can walk on it, it is so hard. They made some tests here a few days ago and said, there was almost 11 inches of water in it. It is getting a lot warmer now. It is about zero at night and in the 30's in the middle of the day. The snow is melting a little every day, but I guess we will have at least another month of it. It will be nice to see the ground again. I have been feeding on the sled 4 months now. We should have plenty of water this year. I just have 65 head of cattle here and 50 calves at Walsenburg, if the wind has not blown them away. We haven't had any wind here lately. It sure is nice to be out these days.

"The creek froze up the first of February and I am watering the cattle at the corrals from a well. Earl was here last week and wanted to chop a hole in the ice and fish. We chopped the length of the ax handle in three places; found sand in one place but no water. The creek must be frozen solid. The Gunnion paper says we have had 136 inches of snow. I guess it is still dry down there. We hear every once in a while that Texas is having a sandstorm. I would like to see a little dust."

Just installed, a brand new neon sign over Eldon Calk's Eldorado Drug Store. It's an eye catcher and an asset to the business district.

The usual brand of West Texas rain hit Eldorado early this morning—big blow, lots of banging around, a few drops of rain.

We enjoyed the Senior play, and are glad to hear that the class made a good profit. We know that the audience was appreciative each evening.

The play was well coached and smoothly presented. It was also well chosen, providing a lot of parts for a good-sized cast, and not over-emphasizing a few lead parts as so many plays do. Several of the young folks did some bang-up character work too on comedy parts.

Another enjoyable thing was Alvin Atkinson's auctioneering of cakes—he was quite an expert at the job—we didn't know that was one of his talents.

We also enjoyed presentation of the Seniors, one by one, to the audience, with their respective sets of parents. Seems like a good idea—somehow the parents often get lost in the shuffle, and they have come a long way, too.

The Louis Dorans have returned the City Cafe to the Wilkersons, who are cleaning the establishment and lining up their help in preparation for opening of the business again. They're telling the public to watch the sign on their door—it won't be long. The cafe has been closed all week.

W. M. Patterson and S. M. Oglesby won the uncontested city election. We're ashamed to report it but only 27 votes were cast.

Mrs. Dick Bearce was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge club with a luncheon at her home. There were six tables of players, including members and guests. The Easter theme was carried out in the table appointments.

Mrs. Carrol White won high club, Mrs. Joe Chan Whitten high guest, Mrs. Howard Mittel low, and Mrs. Jack Shugart bingo.

Mrs. Buster Dickens and children visited Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Evans, Mrs. Dickens' brother and sister-in-law in San Angelo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baugh of Marfa of Marfa have been in this county several days, visiting friends and transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sauer of Big Spring and Miss Gertrude Sauer of San Angelo and a friend were visitors in Schleicher county last weekend.

Mrs. Sid Boothe, who spent the winter at George West nursing her sick sister, is back home. She states that her sister had been in the hospital for some time, but is improved enough to return home.

Dolores Allen, daughter of Monroe Allen, broke her leg Wednesday evening, and had it placed in a cast at the Maginot Clinic.

The Eldorado Guild of St. John's Episcopal church met in regular all-day session Monday at the home of Mrs. D. C. O. Wilson in Schleicher County.

All Texas Counties Are Disaster Areas

All Texas counties are now under designation as disaster areas by proclaiming of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The action qualifies farmers who have suffered crop losses and who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere for loans from the Farmers Home Administration to put in 1952 crops.

Announcement of the designation was made at the Dallas headquarters of the Farmers Home Administration by L. J. Cappelman, state director.

Bad weather conditions in 1951 reduced crop yields materially and tightened up credit conditions to the extent that many farmers were unable to finance crop plantings.

Disaster loans are now available in each county. Farmers who have sustained production losses on crops and livestock may apply for funds to pay for seed, fertilizer, and materials for insect control where needed, gas and oil for tractors, feed for livestock, essential farm and home operating expenses, machinery repairs and other expense incident to the production of a crop. Credit is advanced under authority of Public Law 38 and is available to farmers who have sustained losses, and who cannot obtain from local sources the funds needed to plant a crop this year. Before a loan is made a County Committee of three farmers must certify that the application suffered a substantial production loss.

Funds will be available to ranchmen whose herds have been depleted by the drouth. They can borrow to restock their pasture.

McDonald Families On Florida Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald and children and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McDonald have returned from a 12-day vacation trip to Florida, where they visited Mrs. James McDonald's mother, Mrs. Fred Barnes, at Miami, and did quite a lot of sight seeing. They report a great deal of rain through the states of the Old South through which they traveled, and mention that they saw flowers blossoming everywhere, and trees and grass very green. They took several trips to the Beach to swim in the ocean, and made other side trips out of Miami during the time they were there. One of the most interesting of these was a fishing trip out near Key West.

Trudy Gaynor is one of the high school students who has had the measles.

IT'S THE LAW
★ in Texas ★
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Homeowners May Be Liable For Accidents on Premises

Can a homeowner be held responsible for accidents that happen to other people while they are on his property? Lawyers say it is difficult to state a hard and fast rule about liability for such accidents because the facts differ so much from case to case. However, some conclusions can be drawn by noting how the courts have decided in specific cases which have been brought before them.

A postman delivering mail slipped on a child's roller skate one morning. He sued the homeowner for damages. The court held that the delivery of mail is for the benefit of the homeowner and that he must take care to remove any conditions on his property which would make delivery of the mail dangerous.

Then there was the case of the meter-reader who slipped and fell on the basement steps and the courts held the owner responsible because the steps were defective.

On the other hand, a guest sued her host because she slipped and fell when she stepped on some beans strewn about the owner's living room. The host's children had been playing with beanshooters on the day she chose to visit. The court held in this case that the host was not liable for her injury.

Similar cases where social calls resulted in disaster involved guest slipping on a small scatter rug, and another overnight guest who slipped and fell in a shower. Both cases were decided in favor of the homeowners—not the visitors.

From these cases it may be seen that the law is usually more strict about accidents befalling tradesmen and others who enter your premises in the line of duty, so to speak—postmen, laundrymen, meter readers, delivery boys and the like—than it is in the cases of those who enter your home for purely social reasons.

This does not mean that a homeowner is absolved of all responsibility for injury to his guests. If he knows a dangerous condition exists, he has a duty to correct it and can be held liable for accidents which might happen if he doesn't. For example, a rotted tree branch fell to the sidewalk, injuring a passerby. The general rule here is that the owner was responsible because he knew of the defective condition and should have remedied it. The law is especially zealous in protecting small children. In many situations where no liability would be imposed for injury to an adult, you may be held responsible to an injured child. If you have a piece of machinery, a pond, a well or some other apparatus or condition attractive and dangerous to a child on your property, it may be your duty to take special pains to keep children away from it.

Fortunately, not everyone who falls down the front steps gets up and rushes off to sue his host. However, a substantial body of law has grown out of this type of negligence case. This is not surprising when you realize that more fatal accidents occurred in and around the home last year than from traffic accidents on the highways.

(This column, based on state and federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Galbreath visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith at their ranch near Mertzon. Mrs. Smith has recently had a major operation. The Smiths' daughter Dorothy and her family of Louisiana, are now visiting on the ranch.

Mrs. J. H. Minyard and children visited briefly at her home in Midland during the week, but returned Tuesday to Eldorado. Her little son has a respiratory ailment which is aggravated by the dust on the Plains, and they are staying here with the F. B. Calcoates for the time.

On the sick list this week are Buren Whitten and his daughter Jonnie Ray.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Might As Well "Get In Key"

Last Tuesday Judge Cunningham wanted to go fishing. "Why aren't you working?" I asked.

Judge explained how his wife had gone on a trip, taken his keys by mistake—and now he couldn't get in the office. So we went fishing.

Next day, he wanted me to go again. I was surprised those keys hadn't shown up yet. "The little woman phoned to say she mailed them," the Judge explained. "They're now in the office, under the mail slot. I'd get 'em if I could just open that door." He grinned and picked up his fishing rod.

"Great little woman, the wife. You can always count on her. Let's go!"

From where I sit, we can use tolerance like the Judge shows for his wife's absent-mindedness... and she shows for his habit of lighting out for the fishing hole at every opportunity. He can't see why she likes tea, and she doesn't share his taste for a glass of beer. But they get along fine! Learning to respect other people's ways will "open the door" to happier living.

25 YEARS in SAN ANGELO

Read The Label

College Station. — The problem of controlling insects may soon become a major job on a lot of Texas farms. Never before in history have agricultural producers been asked to plant and harvest crops as large as those asked for in 1952 and Allen C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the final production figures for the year will reflect just how well crop destroying insects were controlled.

He says there is a lot more involved in a good insect control program than buying an insecticide and applying it to the crop. First he suggests that farmers secure copies of bulletins and circulars from their local county agents that describe the insects and list the recommended control measures. The second suggestion is of prime importance. Know what insecticide is needed and then read the label on the container to make sure that it is the one recommended, says the specialist.

The great number organic insecticides on the market today are offered in many different formulas and strengths and poor insect control will result if the correct materials are not used, says Gunter. He especially calls attention to the need for checking spray formula labels. In the case of cotton sprays, he suggests that the recommendations listed in C-182, "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in Texas, 1952" be followed. Then to insure proper dosage, read the label and follow the manufacturer's instructions to the letter. A lot of failures have resulted, says Gunter because the wrong formula was used or in other words, the material was not checked for strength—label was not studied—before it was applied to the cotton.

Gunter offers this word of advice regarding the mixing of spray materials. Use clean water and if necessary strain the water as well as the spray material. This precaution will prevent nozzle clogging and result in a uniform spray. He points out that a more uniform mixture of spray material and water will be obtained if only enough water is put in the sprayer tank to get a good mixing job done. After the solution is mixed, add enough water to fill the sprayer tank to the desired level and then thoroughly mix the solution before applying the spray to the crop.

Gunter says farmers should remember that all insecticides are poisons and all precautions given on the labels should be strictly followed. Special precautions should be taken when handling DDT and Parathion to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breathing the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

The specialist urges farmers to get their spraying and dusting equipment in top operating shape. Preparations made early may well be a determining factor in whether the insect control program on any given farm is a success or failure.

It is good management, says Gunter, to be ready and waiting for the bugs. When they once go to work, time is on their side and successful control calls for immediate action.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones, Jr., had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitehead, Mrs. Jones' brother and sister-in-law, of Del Rio.

New Water Well

Water was picked up yesterday at 415 feet on the new city well that is being drilled south of the railroad near the old county well. The water was encountered after penetrating 28 feet of limestone strata. Drilling will continue down to 550 feet which is the depth contracted for. A sample of the water is being sent to Austin for an analysis. Drilling contractor is W. E. (Chile) Holt who submitted the lowest bid on the project. If the new well proves to be a good producer, an adequate water supply will be insured for Big Lake's fast growing population. The city has at present three producing water wells on the pump. —Big Lake Wildcat.

—The Eldorado Success, $2.00 year.

American taxpayers got a break last week when an economy minded House cut three quarters of a billion dollars from the President's budget request for funds to run some 27 agencies during the next fiscal year. Some of us would have liked to abolish some of those bureaus altogether. There was also a mandatory reduction in personnel. It was one of the biggest budget cut backs in the history of these sprawling agencies. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The most controversial issue debated was an amendment which I offered to prohibit more than 5,000 new public housing units to be started during the next fiscal year. The President had requested 75,000—the House committee recommending 25,000.

With support spearheaded by the House Liberals, the public housing issue has cropped up periodically for several years. It has been described as a good example of the creeping type of socialism which gnaws away at Free Enterprise and gets the government deeper and deeper into a Welfare State activity and at the same time deeper and deeper in debt. After a hard fight, my amendment was adopted on a roll call vote by a margin of 192 to 168. We lost only three votes in the Texas delegation. If this cut back can be maintained it will eventually save the American taxpayers a total of $348,400,000 by reducing the new units by 20,000.

Actually, in Federal subsidies and net loss in local taxes (all public housing projects are tax-exempted by local cities), these dwelling units over the 40-year periods of the loans, for which income tax-exempt bonds are sold, cost the taxpayers a total of $18,920 each—and the cost to build them runs about $10,000 for each dwelling unit. It will be recalled that in 1949, by a majority of only five, the House approved the current public housing program whereby the government, through local housing authorities, may build up to 810,000 units over a six-year period. I voted against it. The total cost would run well over $20 billion! But each year the Congress must pass on the number of new units that may be constructed, not to exceed 165,000. My amendment would hold it to the 5,000 figure during the next fiscal year.

Local authorities who choose to obtain public housing projects are in no wise to blame. The fault is in Congress and the Administration for establishing the policy of having the government go into this sort of business. The individual apartments in these public housing projects rent for about one-third of what they would rent for if they were opened to the general public on a competitive basis. Thus, the taxpayers pay about one-third of the rent bills for these tenants each month, and that will go on for 40 years.

Look Out For Clothes Moths This Year

College Station. — Officially it's spring and soon it will be time to store winter clothing. Warmer weather means that more clothes moths will be on the hunt for food.

Moths like dirty clothes best. Every garment should be cleaned before it is stored states Mary Routh, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Dry cleaning kills all forms of moths at the time of treatment, but does not insure permanent resistance. However, garments placed in moth proof paper bags at the cleaners and sealed airtight will not become reinfested. Most dwellings have clothes moths, regardless of location. For further protection before storing clothes, the specialist suggests spraying closet walls, around the baseboards of the room and in drawers with a five per cent DDT solution. Garments may be lightly dusted or sprayed on both sides with DDT.

The small moths seen flying lazily in dark corners are the parent moths and do not eat fabric. The female moth deposits eggs on the clothes. The eggs hatch over a period of three or four days to about three or four weeks depending on the temperature. The newly hatched larva immediately starts feeding and spinning a shelter of silken threads in which it conceals itself. Most of the life of the moth is spent in the destructive stage.

The clothes moth feeds on animal substances such as wool, hair, feathers, fur and a wide range of commodities made from these materials. For more information, Miss Routh suggests a copy of L-156,

Clothes moths, which can be secured from your local county extension agent.
