Insect Control Steps Suggested By Agent

Gardeners should have and keep on hand a variety of insecticides to keep the vegetables, fruits and shrubs free of insect pests.

Here are common garden and fruit insects that the vegetable grower will encounter in the county. Control measures are given. Flea beetles; 5% DDT dust or cryolite.

Leaf hoppers, leaf beetles and thrips; 5% DDT dust.

Web worms and leaf eating insects: Cryolite, rotenone 1%, 5% DDT.

Aphids; 3% nicotine dust. Thrips; 0.1% pyrethins. Cut worms; poison baits. Stink Bugs, harlequin bugs and squash bugs; Sabadilla dust 20%. Blister beetles; Cryolite dust. Crickets; Poison bran mash. Red spiders; Sulful dust.

Dusting of vegetables and fruits should be done in early morning while dew is on the plants and the wind still; otherwise sprays are more effective.

The discolorations of your rose buds is caused by thrips. The most effective treatment is 0.1% pyrethins. Thrips are active and quick in motion. Pyrethins has great knock-down power. Rotenone is also effective when applied as a spray.

Shilling Returned To Eldorado Church By Methodist Conf.

Rev. Roy Shilling for two years pastor of the Eldorado Methodist Church, returned to this city to start another year as pastor of the local church, according to appointment made at the conference in San Antonio during the week end. He was accompanied to San Antonio by two members, Edward Meador and Clovis Taylor, in addition to Mrs. Shilling, Roy Jr., Sue and Beth.

Rev. Shilling was called back twice during his stay in San Antonio—to officiate at a wedding and to take part in services at a funeral—but he returned to that city in time for part of Saturday's events and all day Sunday, and was present when appointments were read. He returned to the Eldorado charge at the congregation's and his own request.

Roy Shilling Jr., was promoted to full-time work, to be carried on during his Senior year at McMurray, Abilene. He will serve Nugget, Potosi, Rogers and Buffalo Gap, each for one Sunday a month.

Of interest to local church goers are these appointments: Dr. Ray N. Johnson returns to First Church, San Angelo, and the Rev. Grady Peters moves from Eden to Trinity, in San Angelo. Fred Brooks was re-appointed district superintendent. Big Lake gets a new pastor, Rev. A. S. Neely, and I H Estes moves to Fredonia from Menard and superannuates. T M. Mitchell returns to Mertzon. Troy Hickman is a new pastor at Ozona. Rev. F. B. Faust goes from Sabinal to Buda, south of Austin. J H E Willman goes to Menard.

A complete list of appointments was read Sunday afternoon beginning at 4:00.

The conference went on record as opposing gambling and liquor.

He reports that his mother remained in Nordheim with a daughter and that her health is not good.

TELEPHONE CO-OP TO BE PROPOSED FOR RURAL AREA

All rural residents of Schleicher County are urged to attend a county-wide meeting Thursday, June 8, at the Memorial building, at 8:00 o'clock, to hear an explanation of proposed telephone co-operative for this county.

An out-of-town speaker may be here to assist with the meeting, and County Agent W. G. Godwin will be on hand to explain the proposition, and answer questions which may be asked.

This county may decide to be a part of what is now termed West Texas Telephone Cooperative, which would possibly include Coke, Coleman, Concho, Crockett, Irion, Menard, Reagan, Runnels, Sutton, Schleicher, Sterling, and Tom Green Counties. If desired each county may form its own cooperative.

The set-up would be like that of the REA. There would be a loan from the government, to be repaid in 35 years, at 2 percent interest.

The procedure for setting up the cooperative includes getting the information before the people, making a survey, receiving a grant, and appointing of a permanent committee.

A temporary committee, composed of J. F. Runge, Gene Edminston and Vernal Lux, will serve the county until the permanent committee is formed or until Schleicher rejects the project.

It is explained that if the county survey is made and application sent in before July 1, the request will receive consideration in this year's appropriation, otherwise it would be delayed a year, until the next year's budget is set up.

It is stressed by leaders in this movement that regardless of whether a farmer or rancher is at present getting telephone service, he should attend this meeting. The cooperative would be for everyone. If a man has already spent money on a line, and now receives service, he can have his line appraised by the coop and receive compensation for it, and be a member of the cooperative. The coop would also aim to reach every person in the county. The monthly fee for service would be about $3.50.

All people outside the county limits, in Schleicher County, are urged to attend the meeting and learn about the proposition. Those who have taken part in preliminary in establishing of the REA will understand the procedure of starting a telephone coop, as it is exactly like the Rural Electrification program.

ROAD SURFACING NOW UNDER WAY ON NEW HIGHWAY

One complete coat of topping has been applied on the 8-mile stretch of highway, which is being built in Schleicher County, proceeding west from the Lum Davis station, and following the route of the old road.

With recent rains to aid in packing the roadbed, and with a continuation of favorable weather, the work has proceeded on schedule, and the entire stretch will soon be completed.

It is hoped that the remaining stretches, to connect with Big Lake, will be completed within the coming year. Meanwhile farmers and ranchers will use the road, with the expectation that traffic will more than double its present volume when the entire project is completed.

Eldorado Wool Co. Sells Half Million Pounds Spring Wool

The Eldorado Wool Company reports sales of wool the past week or ten days amounting to approximately 1/2-million pounds of the spring clip of 12-months.

L. M. Murphy buying for Draper Top Company of Boston has taken approximately 180,000 pounds in the last week at prices ranging from 65c to 76 1/4c; Wm. J. Fields of Albert A. Schneider, Inc., has recently bought 40,000 pounds at 75c and 76c; Edgill-Hughes & Co., of Boston got approximately 200,000 pounds at prices from 70c to 76c; and Botany Mills of Passaic, New Jersey bid in 40,000 pounds at 81c per pound which is reportedly the highest price paid in Texas in some years for original bag wool. The clips purchased at that figure were said to be of exceptional long staple fibre, very light shrinkage, and of a grade and character particularly adapted to the world famous Botany worsted fabric.

The local warehouse still has on hand approximately 150,000 pounds with some wool set to be shorn. At the rate wools have been selling, it is expected that a great part of the Texas spring clip will be sold and in the hands of mills by July first.

Highway Dept. Operations—Traffic Safety

STANDARD VERTICAL ARRANGEMENT OF SIGNAL LENSES SKETCH E

Fixed Time (Stop and Go) Highway Traffic Signals

What do you know about highway traffic signals? If your knowledge is limited to the fact that you go when the signal shows green and stop when it shows red, you can make the problem of traffic control an easier one for your public officials by knowing more about traffic signals.

You can help bring about uniformity of traffic signals by learning to identify the standard traffic signal and then encouraging your officials to use only standard types when they install new signals or replace existing non-standard signals.

Wouldn't it be much easier for you to understand the indications given by traffic signals if they were all of the same design in every town and state? In fact, standardization of traffic control signals is considered so desirable and important that the 50th Texas Legislature specified that all highway traffic signals installed in Texas after 1947 shall conform to National standards.

The sketch will help you identify the most common type of a standard fixed-time (stop and go) signal for suspension over the center of the highway. To be standard each face must have at least three lenses with red at the top, yellow below the red, and green below the yellow.

Additional lenses, showing arrows and walk-wait, may be added at complicated intersections to provide for special movements of traffic. The standard position of the lenses is not only helpful to every motorist, but it is especially helpful to the color blind who can tell whether to stop or go by the difference in brightness of the lenses when they cannot distinguish colors.

The yellow signal, which follows green only, plays a very important role. It warns traffic in motion that the signal indication will change; it provides a clearance time for traffic already in the intersection and for traffic approaching so closely that to stop would be hazardous; and it permits operation of yellow as a flashing caution signal when the signal is not being operated as a stop and go signal.

There are a large number of traffic signals in use today that were installed before the present standards were adopted, and they do not conform to present standards. Unfortunately there are some local units of government who still buy non-standard signals without the approval of the highway department.

Some of these two-section signals show both red and green at the time they are changing color, which is not only confusing but also hazardous.

You can also help with the problem of traffic control by understanding the functions of traffic signals and their limitations.

A well designed and operated traffic signal installed on the basis of factual studies of the number of vehicles and pedestrians, accidents, speeds, delays, and physical conditions of the location, can render invaluable service in the smooth and safe flow of traffic. On the other hand, an unjustified, ill designed, ineffectively placed, improperly operated, poorly maintained signal is not only a waste of public funds, but it causes unnecessary delays to traffic, disobedience of signal indications, use of alternate routes, and often, an increase in accidents.

How many times have you, as a law abiding citizen, been forced to stop at some insignificant cross street and wait for a signal to change to green when there was not a car or pedestrian in sight? Did this unnecessary delay improve your disposition and your respect for traffic signals? Another common fallacy is that a single stop and go signal can control speed, and this belief has resulted in a number of unjustified signals. The signal may slow down the speed demon or even stop him while the signal is red, but while the signal is showing green, it only offers a challenge for this speed demon to go faster to get by it before it does turn red. Traffic signals cannot write tickets for traffic violations—you still need traffic officers to enforce traffic rules and regulations.

Remember these things about traffic signals and do your part in the problem of traffic control by insisting that your local officials install only standard signals in the future and that they be installed only after a factual study has been made by a competent engineer to determine whether or not they will be a help or a hindrance to traffic.

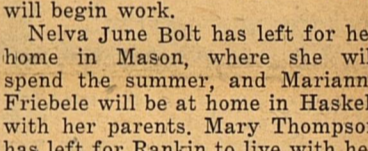

TWASNT OUR FAULT

The heating elements in the Linotype metal pot went out in the electrical storm at about 4:00 Wednesday afternoon, and the machine has not put out a line of type since.

The publisher had to take what late news was ready and set it last night on the machine at Sonora. If this paper's coverage of the happenings of the last 24 hours is sketchy, this is the explanation.

Surplus Material from White House To Be Sent To All the States

By Cong. O. C. Fisher
Surplus material being removed from the White House will be disposed over the Nation, mainly to museums, schools and other organizations, according to the Commission on Renovation of the Executive Mansion.

Senators and Congressmen have been asked to invite such groups in their states and districts to apply. In processing all applications, the Commission will be guided by these factors.

1. An equitable nationwide, non-partisan, non-sectarian, and non-commercial distribution, based on population quotas.
2. Major items of high historical importance should be allocated to the larger museums or similar institutions of a public character.
3. The costs of distribution should be self-liquidating.
4. No charge will be made for the material, but the recipients should pay the costs of packing, shipping and transportation.

Other than the museum pieces, the material comprises the usual defective lumber, bricks, etc., which would result from the reconstruction of any building. There will be stone, brick, pine timbers, floor boards, old-fashioned nails, wrought iron bands, hand-hewn lath, and small plaster ornaments.

The handling costs, which will include classifying, selecting, cutting, wrapping, etc., will vary with the demand and with the size of the articles. They may run from 50c for a small article to as much as $100 for enough stone to face a fireplace or a shrine.

All applications must be filed with the Commission before June 15. If eligible applicants in our district should be interested in being considered, they may so indicate to me and the Commission will be advised.

Hoover Commission Reports

Sixteen of the 21 Reorganization Plans which President Truman submitted to Congress two months ago became effective on Wednesday of last week.

The other 5 were vetoed by the Senate and do not go into operation.

The President may, if he desires, revamp the five defeated plans and then resubmit them for approval. The fact is most of these included features never included in the Hoover reports and can easily be amended to remove the objectionable parts.

Young People Wed In Home Ceremony Saturday Morning

In a quiet home ceremony, attended by a small group of relatives and close friends, Mary Lee Gunstead and William Sauer were married at 9:00 Saturday morning, May 27, 1950, the Rev. Roy Shilling performing the double ring ceremony.

The couple pledged their vows before an archway, which was flanked with greenery and candleabra in which tall white candles were burning. Gertrude Sauer of San Angelo, sister of the groom, was bride's maid, and William Fred Gunstead of Alpine, brother of the bride, was best man.

For the ceremony the bride wore printed teal silk, with bertha which also formed the sleeves. She wore a white picture hat, and her corsage was of vanda orchids. The bridesmaid also wore printed silk, with white accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Immediately after the wedding the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunstead, held a small reception for the guests. Miss Sauer presided over the punch and Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson served the wedding cake, which was iced in white, and surrounded by miniature brides and grooms, with an arrangement of pink roses centering the dining table. Other bowls of flowers, and pot plants, were used as decorations in the living room and dining room.

The couple left on a week's wedding trip, after which they will be at home at 204 East Broadway, Brownfield, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of TSCW, Denton, with a major in piano, and minor in English, and she had a year's graduate work in theory, piano and organ at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. For the past 2½ years she has been linotype operator and society reporter on her father's newspaper in Eldorado. She has been organist at the Methodist Church two years, president of the Junior Woman's Club, president of the Guild and Young Adult class of the Methodist Church, and sponsor of the Fire Department.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sauer of Schleicher county, graduated from Eldorado High School and served in the Navy for three years, after which he enrolled at Texas Tech, Lubbock, receiving his degree in agricultural economics last spring. Late last fall he went to Brownfield as assistant county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration. He is a member of the Brownfield Lions Club.

Attending the wedding from out-of-town, in addition to the attendants mentioned above, was John Rice of San Angelo. Rev. Shilling made a special trip back from San Antonio, where he was attending the Methodist conference, to perform the ceremony, and returned to that city late Saturday for the remaining sessions.

Worship With THE WEST SIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST SERVICES SUNDAY 11 A. M.; 7:00 P. M. WEDNESDAY 7:30 P. M. Come, let us reason together. . .

Belief In Christ John 3:16 "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." This, a beautiful passage in the Bible points out the first step a man must take in becoming a Christian. We must all believe in Christ in order for us to be saved. There are several points that I wish to discuss in regard to believing in Christ. They concern some modern conceptions of the act. First of all, many professed Christians today claim to have been saved by faith, and faith only. Their key passage is John 3:16. They believe that all you have to do to be saved is believe in Christ. Yet, these same people know that you must repent in order to be saved, yet John 3:16 says nothing about repentance. Now we read in Luke 13:3, "Except ye repent you shall all likewise perish." Both of these commands are binding on us today, yet neither mentioning believing and not repenting can he? No, for the "Devils believed and trembled." James 2:19. Now if we can see that we must repent before we can be saved, yet it isn't found in John 3:16, could we not see that other things not found there would be just as binding? Next, I'd like to take up the thought that a man is justified by faith ONLY and not works. To advance this thought, I shall let the Apostle James speak and you may judge for yourselves. The word of God is so clear that it needs no comment, James 2:14-26, "What doth it profit brethren though a man say he hath faith and have not works? Can faith save him? . . . Even so faith, if it hath not works is dead, being alone. Yes, a man may say thou hast faith and I have works: show me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith BY MY WORKS. Thou believeth there is one God, thou doest well: the devils also believe and tremble. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith WITHOUT WORKS IS DEAD? . . . Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith ONLY. . . As the body without the spirit is dead, so FAITH WITHOUT WORKS IS DEAD ALSO." In Heb. 11:6 we find "But without faith it is impossible to please him. . . So we cannot please God without faith. Yet a dead faith cannot please him, it must be alive. What makes it alive? WORKS! Hence we cannot please God without a living faith made so by works. "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified and not by faith only." Friends we are justified in the sight of God by our works. Are you adding works to your first step in becoming a Christian? Next week: Repentance Unto Life. "The Churches of Christ Salute You."—Rom. 16:16.

MIAS AMIGAS CLUB HAS OFFICERS' MEETING
Officers of the Mias Amigas Club were called together by the president, Mrs. Nan Montgomery, Friday, for the purpose of planning the program for the annual meeting in Eldorado June 29-30.

The club is composed of graduates of Eldorado High School between the years of 1907-1919. All eligible men and women are urged to attend the meetings which are divided between social and business meetings, the former predominating.

NEW SPRAY

The city of Eldorado has made arrangements to secure a spraying machine, to spray and kill the Johnson grass along the paving, and thus prevent it from damaging the paving. Citizens are urged not to cut the grass, as the stalk is needed to absorb the spray and kill the roots.

The city had leased the asphalt machine from Sonora Wednesday, and had planned to use it to mend broken places in the city paving, but the rain stopped the work on Wednesday afternoon, only twenty minutes after the work started.

CALL or contact me when you need a magazine subscription, (new or renewal) for yourself or for a gift.—Mrs. Lum Burk, authorized agent for the Crowell-Collier, and the Moore-Cottrell agencies.

Line Crack

When your favorite vase or flower bowl develops a small crack, line or coat the inside with a thick layer of paraffin. If the crack isn't too bad the vase may be used indefinitely.

Fasten Casters

When casters on pieces of old furniture have that annoying habit of dropping out, turn the furniture upside down and pour melted paraffin into the hole. Then insert the caster and let the wax harden.

Quicksand Pulpy Mass

Quicksand is formed of extremely fine particles of rounded sand, unlike the sharp fragments of common sand. Usually it is close to a body of water and the seepage reduces it to a pulpy mass which cannot support the weight of man or animals.

News From Our Neighbors

Oil Well For Concho

Concho County now seems destined to draw a rapidly increasing interest from the oil fraternity in the next few weeks, as a result of what now seems to be the completion of a fairly large producer on the Robert Wilson Heirs estate, twelve miles to the southwest of Eden.

The well began flowing oil naturally, by heads, at about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, with the heads coming frequently and with reasonable force through the two-inch blow-off pipe.

The well was allowed to flow and clean itself out until 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when it was shut in to await storage, because it has definitely established itself as a considerable producer. Even the most conservative and uninterested oil men who have visited it rate it at from 150 to 200 barrels daily—and some, perhaps more hopeful than realistic, say it was doing over 300 barrels daily when closed in.—Eden Echo.

Alpine Gains

Preliminary reports from the U. S. Bureau of the census, district office at Odessa, gives Brewster county a population of 7278, and the city of Alpine a population of 5256. While the figures are said to be subject to revision or correction at a later date, and made official, there is not likely to be much change in either of them, according to the statements received by Co. Judge Felix McLaughy, and Mayor J. W. Gillett.

The county figures show a gain over the 1940 census of only 800, while the city's gain was 1390.—Alpine Avalanche.

Kill Huge Rattler

Dick Boone and Robert Hunger killed one of the largest rattlesnakes ever shown in Junction last Friday afternoon on the Boone ranch on South Llano.

The snake measured five feet and eight inches long and there were 14 rattles intact, but showed some had been broken off.

A full grown cotton tail rabbit was taken from the reptile's stomach.—Junction Eagle.

New School for Sterling City

The voters of Sterling county voted a $260,000 school bond improvement at the polls last Saturday 140 to 37. The money will be used to build some new classrooms and improve the whole existing structure. Work will probably get underway around June 15, it has been estimated.

A new nine room elementary school will be built with washrooms in the first three grades, and washrooms for boys and girls grades 4 through 8. A new ground floor auditorium with seating capacity of 400 and an additional 150 later if needed. A new cafeteria is to be constructed with seating capacity of 100. New boys and girls dressing rooms will be built to add to the gym. The present gym will have the old floors done over or new maple flooring added. The H. E. laboratory will be improved with cabinets, etc.

The main building will have all the upper story removed and be remodeled into a new high school, with shop, science laboratory, commercial room, teachers' lounge, sound proof music room, book room, storage rooms, and four home rooms. A study hall with library will be built. All doors and windows will be new, asphalt tile will be put on floors, and a complete new heating and lighting unit will be installed.—Sterling City News Record.

At National Jamboree

Ten Boy Scouts, representing Troops 53 and 63 of Ozona, will be among an expected 40,000 boys from all over the United States and from several foreign countries to attend the 2nd National Boy Scout Jamboree to be held in Valley Forge, Pa., beginning June 30 and continuing through July 7.—Ozona Stockman.

Wind at Ft. Stockton

Notable feature of weather of the last week was the Saturday afternoon dust storm which rolled in with the appearance of a wave, bringing wind which registered a steady velocity of 52 miles an hour, with gusts of 60 miles per hour on instruments at Trans-Texas Airways station at Gibbs Field.

The wind was of about the same velocity Saturday as the brief flurry on the preceding Wednesday which preceded a rain storm, and which blew down the screen at the Trail Drive-in Theatre.

Cotton has taken a beating with the recent weather, with rain and hail causing extensive damage, especially in the Block One area. The wind also caused losses on many farms of the Imperial area. Most cotton in Block One has been replanted, some of it twice.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

VARY PREPARATION OF MEAT DISHES TO BRIGHTEN YOUR SPRING MENUS

Variety in the preparation of meats will bring a welcome lift to spring menus.

Liver is one of those food stand-bys that may be turned to again and again without monotony. Among the different ways of serving is ground liver formed into loaves or patties.

Before grinding, liver should be lightly browned in a small amount of lard or meat drippings. This makes grinding easier.

The same as ground beef, ground liver is combined with seasonings and other foods. For one tempting combination, ground liver is seasoned with salt and pepper. Minced onion, fine cracker crumbs, and an egg are mixed thoroughly with the liver. For added flavor, catchup is first poured into the well-greased loaf pan, the liver mixture molded over it and baked in a moderate oven for one hour.

Meat and corn dishes may be traced back to early Indians. However, many of today's meat-corn combinations are a far cry from those of that day.

One combination teams ground meat with cream-style corn. In preparing, the meat is slowly browned in a small amount of fat in a frying-pan. The cream-style corn is then added and the mixture placed in a slightly greased casserole. Tomato or condensed tomato soup is poured over the mixture. The casserole is covered and placed in a slow oven until the meat is cooked, about 30 minutes.

A whole kernel corn and cubed ham casserole provides an unusual dish for the homemaker to serve. Pale green lima beans are added to the mixture which is moistened with orange juice. For seasoning, ground clove is sprinkled over it, then a little brown sugar. The casserole is placed in a slow oven until the mixture is heated through.

Meaty turnovers become a pleasant mealtime surprise, and a wise way of using leftover meat. Make up biscuit dough and roll or pat to 1/2-inch thickness, then cut into rectangular pieces. Place creamed meat in the center of each rectangle, fold dough over and bake on a greased baking sheet for 15 minutes.

And for a way to vary deviled eggs—grind ready-to-serve meat and combine with cooked egg yolks and mayonnaise mixture.

With the feel of spring in the air and with vegetables of the garden-fresh variety in markets, a tempting real stew is a popular dinner main dish.

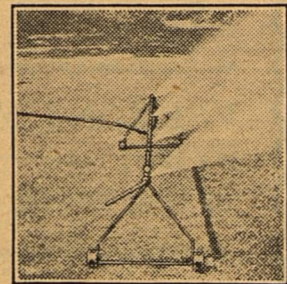

For the stew the homemaker may have her meat dealer cut uniform cubes from the round or shoulder of veal. To make the stew the veal cubes are browned in hot fat, the meat is covered with liquid and seasonings such as bay leaf, peppercorns, and cloves are added. The cooking utensil is tightly covered and the meat allowed to slowly simmer for 2 to 2 1/2 hours or until the cubes are tender

So the vegetables will be just on the done side, they are added near the end of cooking time. Vegetables which may be added are new potatoes, carrots, onions, green pepper. To keep their bright color, new peas or green beans are cooked separately.

Attractive serving has done its part in holding the popularity of a stew. The meat and vegetables may be served in the gravy or perhaps over fluffy white rice or Chinese noodles. Or the gravy may be served in a boat and the veal cubes placed in the center of a large platter and encircled with the vegetables. Bright peas or parsley clusters may be used for garnishing the platter.
