County Voters Follow State Trend In Support For Gov. Shivers

Schleicher County citizens followed the state-wide trend of support for re-election as governor of Texas. However, Ralph Yarbrough ran a strong second in Schleicher County as he did throughout the state.

Voters in Schleicher county gave 648 votes to Shivers, 376 votes to Yarbrough, 17 to Cyclone Davis and 28 to J. J. Holmes.

Shivers and Yarbrough will engage in the run-off campaign which will end with the election set for August 28. Also on the ballot will be candidates for four county offices which will be decided in the August 28 election.

Senator Lyndon Johnson, Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey and Attorney General Sheppard were renominated with ease, but a run-off will be necessary for two judicial positions. Few Brewster and Alfred M. Scott are candidates for the Supreme Court and Lloyd W. Davidson and Alan Haley are in the run-off for the Court of Criminal Appeals.

With less than 2,000 votes remaining to be counted, unofficial returns gave Shivers 666,226 to Yarbrough's 642,374.

CROWD EXPECTED AT HOMECOMING AUGUST 13-14

All Eldorado Exes are urged to help advertise the annual Homecoming as the big vacation time of the year—a fitting time to come back home for a holiday visit and to see more of their old friends than they could any other time of year.

According to reports submitted during the past year, more and more are learning to do just that. Many state that they are expecting guests for Homecoming, and indicate that their relatives have arranged their annual trek back home purposely to take in Homecoming events.

The dates for the Homecoming are the 13th and 14th of August.

A high point in the two days of festivities will be assembly and crowning of Eldorado's first Queen of the Exes. A list of candidates, with sponsoring business houses, follows:

Eldorado Hdq: Mrs. Al Jones

The parade promises to be better than ever, with a large number of classes and businesses taking part. Competition for the cash prizes promises to be keen.

GIRLS SOFTBALL IS ORGANIZED IN TWO TEAMS

Organization of softball for girls and playing off of the first game occupies the interest of sports fans in this county.

One team is from the High School and is named Eagles—the other, composed of members of seismograph crews and others is called Doodlebuggers.

The first game between these two crack teams was played Tuesday night, and the Eagles won 20 to 15, with Juanita Yoakam as pitcher for the Doodlebuggers and Charlene Atkinson for the Eagles.

Each team has an AAU player—Charlene Atkinson, who attended AAU meeting with the Bluebonnets in '53, Eagle; and Ella Spear, a Doodlebugger, who attended AAU meetings in '49 and '52.

These two all-star teams will play again after the boys' game next Tuesday night.

Well-advertised and popular with the dancing crowd, the orchestra will provide the best of dance music for the free dance, which has always been well attended. The orchestra is billed as Sammy Daulong and the Melooners.

A primary election campaign that plodded along quietly throughout the spring months with a complete absence of issues to disturb the harmonious tranquility of the community, came to a close Saturday night and when some 1100 votes had been polled and tabulated the results were found to have been somewhat rough on a number of incumbents.

Eliminated in the first primary were incumbents County Judge Craig and County Commissioner White of Precinct 3. Two other commissioners were holding second place in their respective precincts—Halbert in precinct 1 and Edmiston in precinct 2. It will be recalled that incumbent Commissioner H. A. Belk of precinct 4 eliminated himself last spring by not choosing to stand for re-election.

The make-up of the Commissioners Court for next year still remains to be decided in the run-off primary in August, but in any event there will be a new judge and two new commissioners.

Four Run-Offs

There will be four local run-off contests for the voters in August. For Judge: Finley vs. Bearce.

Commissioner Precinct 1: Williams vs. Halbert.

Commissioner Precinct No. 2: Edmiston will again be opposed by Walter Pope. In last Saturday's contest Pope lacked but one vote of having a majority of the 62 votes cast in that race. Two years ago there were 65 votes cast in that same race and at that time Edmiston received 36 to Pope's 29.

The fourth run-off will be in Commissioner of Precinct 4 where the choice will be between Potter and Thigpen.

Sheriff Safely In

In the race for Sheriff incumbent E. H. Sweatt came safely through with a comfortable lead of 73 votes over his opponent Orval Edmiston, who nevertheless ran up the respectable total of 514 to Sweatt's 557.

Schleicher County voted as follows in the principal contests:

The Rev. R. H. Gorman officiated with the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Bobbie Ann Wilkerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wilkerson of Eldorado, and Wayne Winfield of Littlefield, Tuesday evening at 8:30. The marriage took place in a Baptist parsonage in San Angelo, before an arrangement of glads, ferns and white carnations, and white tapers.

For the wedding the bride wore pale blue taffeta with white accessories, and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid. Her going-away dress was orchid linen with navy accessories.

After the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, Carlsbad and Colorado Springs.

The bride formerly lived in Eden, moving to Eldorado with the family five years ago. She had completed her Freshman year in Eldorado High School, where she was a member of FHA and of the pep squad. The groom is a graduate of Littlefield High, and was employed by Southern Geophysical here before entering service. He has completed his basic and will be stationed at Fort Bliss; the couple will live at El Paso.

Attending the wedding were her parents, her sister, Mrs. Louie Matkuska who with her children Louie Jr. and Frankie came in from Chicago, the attendants and others.

Three Eldoradoans To Depart Sunday For Summer Training

Beginning August 1, three Eldorado citizens will exchange their civilian clothes for khakis and their regular jobs for two weeks of Army life.

All are members of Sonora Army Reserve unit of Co. B, 830 Engr. Ave. Bn. and will participate in the annual two-week summer field training at Wolters Air Force Base. At the end of that time they will return home as civilians.

"Annual field training is one of the most important phases of the Army Reserve program," declared Capt. Lea Roy Aldwell, Sonora reserve officer. "To have a reserve force available for duty in case of a national emergency requires continuous training. The two-week period is the high point of the training program.

"Employers of reservists can make an important contribution to the success of this reserve training by arranging vacation schedules and establishing personal policies that will encourage the individual reservist to attend camp," Maj. Andy Truden declared.

Scheduled to depart Sunday are Lts. Joe R. Andrews, Tommy Green and Gerald Hargraves.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wheeler had as guests Sunday their son Chester and his family of San Angelo.

Carelessness Causes Farm Accidents

Experience, as it relates to farm and home accidents, is an expensive teacher. The cost of an arm, leg, or life itself is a high price to pay for a lesson in safety and can never be justified by the returns. Don't forget, cautions W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer that accidents can happen to you. Faulty equipment or hidden obstructions can and do cause accidents but carelessness, not thinking and fatigue take the heaviest toll. These causes are all man made and under the direct control of the individual concerned.

Ulich believes if farmers and their families would answer a simple question before beginning each job many accidents just never would happen. The question is: "Can I possibly get hurt doing the job this way?" If the answer is yes, better change the method of doing the job or be more careful, says the specialist.

He points to the high casualty rate among children under four years of age resulting from tractor accidents as an example. Fatalities among this group are almost as high as for the group between the ages of 15 and 21. "Sure," he says, "a ride on the tractor is fun for the youngster and they love it but children don't always do as they are told and a fatal fall may be the sad end to a tractor ride."

National Farm Safety Week is now being observed across the nation but year-long attention to preventing farm and home accidents is the only sure way to cut their toll. "Agriculture is now rated as the nation's most hazardous industry," says Ulich. "This rating will continue until rural residents, individually and collectively, really make it their business to see that life in the country is as safe as in any other industry. It can be done if farm and ranch families become and remain safety conscious every day in the year."

Norma Jean Alexander of Austin has been spending several days with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Alexander, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Alexander. While here she was ill with mumps.

Ben Hext has been a hospital patient several days in a San Angelo hospital.

The Odes Jeffrey family have returned from a week's vacation visit at Buchanan Lake. On Saturday and Sunday they had as guests Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Jones and Galen, of Blanco.

Anna Stoepler of Blackwell is visiting the Ray Boyers and Annette, her sister, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kent.

Plentiful Foods Listed For August

Homemakers will find foods rich in proteins heading the plentiful list for August. Turkeys and beef, milk and other dairy products, medium and small eggs, peanuts and peanut butter top the list.

Bartlett pears and turkeys are so plentiful, says John Slaughter of the USDA Agricultural Marketing Service, that they are being featured throughout the nation this month.

Food buyers should also find available plenty of fresh and processed lemons and limes, salad oils and vegetable shortening and some fresh vegetables. The dry and hot weather in many sections of the state and nation has shortened the marketing season for many of the popular field produced crops such as watermelons and cantaloupes.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Galbreath of Sonora and their children, also Mrs. T. W. Sandher of Sonora and Mrs. H. L. Galbreath of Eldorado have returned from a trip to the coast. On the way they consulted a doctor and made arrangements for their baby to have an eye operation on the 13th.

Cotton Insects Are Heavy Eaters

Cotton insects last year destroyed more than $62 million worth of lint and cotton seed in Texas. They are busy now and coupled with dry weather could make the 1954 crop an expensive one.

Last year's loss amounted to an estimated 342,600 bales of line and approximately 142,600 tons of cottonseed, says Freeman Fuller Jr., assistant extension entomologist. The figures were developed by the National Cotton Council from basic data released earlier by the USDA, reports the specialist.

The top "culprit in the cotton patch" last year was the boll weevil and was responsible for reducing yields by an estimated two per cent. All other cotton insects raised the total loss to five percent for the state.

A review of the figures, Fuller says, shows that Texas cotton producers are doing one of the better control jobs in the nation. Only California, New Mexico, Arizona and Missouri show a lower percentage of the crop lost to insects.

The loss for the nation amounted to almost $261 million in both lint and cottonseed, is slightly below the total damage done in 1952.

Fuller suggests that farmers continue to keep a close check on the cotton insect population by making frequent field inspections. Should infestations develop to the damaging point, control measures become a must. The intervals between applications and the thoroughness of the job done, he emphasizes, become very important factors in stopping insect outbreaks. Any recommended insecticide, he adds, will give good control if properly applied.

Finally, he suggests, farmers may secure information on insect identification, insecticides and their use from any Texas county agricultural agent.

In extremely droughty or arid sections of West Texas it is vitally important that all of the rainfall be absorbed into the soil. It isn't often that a two or three inch rain will fall over a period of two days like the last one. Usually it comes so rapidly that soils with little cover and low in organic matter allow much of it to run off. If crops are to be produced this water must go into the soil instead of running off.

You can increase your soil's water holding capacity by using one of the most common place soil conservation practices known. Altho it won't cure all of the ills of a tight soil it will certainly help.

The condition of a soil determines to a great extent its water holding capacity and its ability to absorb rainfall as it falls. Many farmers understand the use of stubble mulch to control wind and water erosion, but many times its effect on the storage of rainfall is neglected. It's this crop residue mixed with surface soil that keeps the soil open, granular, and gives it the ability to resist compaction.

Stubble mulching, however beneficial cannot do the entire job of keeping the soil open. It must be used along with other practices and different crops designed to keep the sub-soil open and permeable. A good soil improving crop such as a legume or a grass must be used in the crop rotation to help keep that plowman open and maintain a high fertility level. This plowman or hardpan lying 8-10 inches below the surface is the real enemy. It's this packed or hardened layer of soil that actually keeps your soil from drinking up more moisture. It not only keeps your soil from taking more moisture but also prevents plant roots from deeper penetration. Our ordinary cash crops only send their roots to this man-made barrier, and then fan out. Thus, instead of farming for the deep moisture, he is really working only the surface.

This hardpan is too deep to mix your crop residues with. Soil improving crops such as legumes and grasses are the only effective means of opening this hardpan. Legumes, such as hubam clover, send a deep taproot through this area leaving miniature pipe lines for moisture to pass downward. This also furnishes the sub-soil with much needed organic matter. It is this organic material which keeps the soil loose and able to resist compaction. It's this deep rooted crop that makes up for all of the shallow rooted crops used in the intervening years of a rotation. There are several legumes, in addition to hubam clover, that are well adapted to this locality. Guar and madrid clover are two excellent soil building crops.

Let's prepare to take full advantage of our future rains by storing that rain water in the soil.

The Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District can furnish you with legume and grass planting equipment and for further information contact the local Soil Conservation Service office.

Highway Meeting Held

A meeting to organize and promote travel over U. S. Highway 290 was held in the basement of the Methodist Church Tuesday night.

Traffic has been routed over U. S. 90 for the last four or five years because of construction of highways in this area. Now most of the construction has been completed, but U. S. 290 has failed to get its share of traffic back.—Devil's River News.

Rattler Bites Woman

Mrs. Will Woods was struck by a rattlesnake last Friday morning while gathering roasting ears in a small corn patch.

She returned to the house and drove her car to the hospital here and was given immediate treatment by Dr. J. D. McDaniel. Mr. Woods was working over on another place at the time.

She is making a good recovery and was permitted to leave the hospital Tuesday.—Robert Lee Observer.

Cafeteria Moved

The school board has a crew of carpenters at work in the old auditorium of the Mertzon school building. The elevated floor has been removed and the hall is being converted into a cafeteria. Just as soon as this work is done equipment from the old cafeteria will be moved to the new location.—Mertzon Weekly Star.

Negro Section Moved

Transplanting of Ozona's entire colored population from the completely washed out settlement in what has known as "The Flat" on Johnson Draw in the southwest section of Ozona, to a new addition to be known as the Harlem Addition, at the northeast edge of the town, was all but accomplished this week.

Thanks, Voters

I want to thank each person who helped me in any way in my campaign for County Judge. Your response was most gratifying and I sincerely thank you for all you did for me before the election and at the polls Saturday.

I will appreciate your consideration in the coming run-off primary. I earnestly solicit your continued support, as well as the votes of others who either did not go to the polls Saturday or voted for one of my opponents.

Thanks, again, to Schleicher friends.

George S. Finley

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunstead spent the weekend in Van Horn with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Sauer. Another guest was the Gunsteads' son, Pfc. Bill Gunstead who is stationed at Fort Bliss, El Paso. Mrs. Sauer returned to Eldorado with them to spend the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barclay and children Shannan and Thomas are moving this week to Richland Springs and will again occupy their residence there. Mr. Barclay has been school janitor five years. The house which they have been occupying will be rented by the Paul Pena family.

THANKS VOTERS

I take this means of saying "Thank You" to the voters of Precinct One for the nice vote given me in last Saturday's primary election.

Now, that we are entering the run-off campaign I respectfully solicit your continued support. To those who supported either of my worthy opponents in the first primary, I wish to say that I will welcome your re-consideration. I will continue to work for the best interests of Schleicher County, and pledge impartial service to everyone—regardless of whom you vote for.
