Construction Crew Working On Pipe Line Out Of Eldorado

The Vaughn & Taylor Construction Company of Odessa have moved crew and equipment to Eldorado to take on a pipe line job in the area.

It is understood that they will dig up about eleven miles of the old Shell pipe line and clean and repair it; then re-wrap it and put it back.

The old Shell line was put into service in 1928, and was sold last year by Shell to Phillips Petroleum. It has been generally reported that Phillips expects to use the line eventually as a finished-products line, instead of for crude oil.

(From Office of the Supt.)

Dr. Willis A. Sutton will be in Eldorado Schools as a Counselor for the Junior and Senior classes, and the Student Council members on Wednesday, October 6th. He will be the guest speaker at the Lions Club Ladies night honoring the teachers that evening at 8:00. We are fortunate to be included as one of the few West Texas schools which Dr. Sutton is visiting.

Dr. Sutton is one of the world's greatest teachers having served as Superintendent of the Atlantic City Schools of Atlanta, Georgia for a period of 30 years. He was president of National Education Association 1930-31; and was a member of the World Federation of Education Associations. He is also a spiritual leader of the South.

Dr. Sutton is a speaker of world fame, and it is a treat for us to have him come to our community. School spirit soared to new height last week when the Eldorado High School Band, under direction of Billy Saylor, played "Hail Eldorado", the school Alma Mater. During his three weeks as band director, the band has made considerable progress both in marching and playing.

The Eagles, victors over Big Lake last week, are working on timing of plays and strengthening and polishing their offense and defense. The boys learned a good lesson in last weeks game. That lesson was that they could come back, score, and win after being tied. This lesson with the experi-

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bryant had as guests Friday, Saturday and Sunday their son Earl from Harlingen, where he is in the furniture business.

Gin Totals Pass 750; Estimated That Half Of Crop Now In

Mikeska Gin at Eldorado had run a total of 757 bales at a late hour yesterday when this report was obtained.

The cotton price, which had climbed to as high as 34 cents per pound last week, broke back somewhat this week, and average cotton yesterday was bringing 30 to 32 cents, according to grade. The price of seed seems to remain at $58.00 a ton.

While some cotton men back in July were bravely predicting a 3,000 bale crop for this county, the estimate now has been cut to exactly half that figure.

Showers Over County

Rain started falling in Eldorado shortly after noon on Wednesday. Several showers with clearing skies between boosted hopes that it might rain before the end of the month. Unofficial reports indicated that the fall was heaviest west and northwest of town with only light showers south and east. Every drop that fell was gratefully received.

Forecasts call for cooler temperatures as this is being written. Water was reported standing after an hours rain on the Jim Willoughby ranch. Approximately half an inch had fallen on the Lloyd farm in the Reynolds community. Near the county line to the South, only a shower had fallen. In the eastern end of the county no rain was reported.

Eagles Defeat Big Lake; Tackle Iraan Tomorrow

The Eldorado Eagles, accompanied by plenty of supporters, journeyed to Big Lake last Friday night and came back victorious by a score of 12 to 6. The Eagles scored once in the second quarter and once in the fourth, and held the Owls to one score in the fourth—thus giving them their second non-conference victory of the season.

The Eagles opened the season here on Sept. 10 by defeating Rocksprings 38 to 7. On Sept. 17 they lost to Melvin by a score of 25 to 6. Last Friday night's victory over Big Lake makes it two-out-of-three for the Eagles.

Tomorrow night, the final non-conference game will be played when the Eagles try their talons on the Iraan Braves—the game will be played here.

Other Games Last Friday

Iraan, last Friday night, played Sonora and lost 44-7. Melvin defeated Eden last Friday by a score of 39-0.

The tough Junction Eagles last Friday played Mason and lost by a score of 21 to 32. Junction and Sonora are considered contenders for the top spot in District 6A.

After tomorrow night's non-conference game here with Iraan, the Eagles will start on their schedule of five district games as follows:

October 8 — Eden — There
October 15 — Menard — There
October 22 — Junction — Here
October 29 — Ozona — Here
November 12 — Sonora — Here

Some of the dopsters here are now figuring that Eldorado will win three of the above five.

STARTING LINE-UP FOR TOMORROW'S GAME

Cage Brothers of San Antonio got the contract for the Farm to Market road out of Barnhart. The new highway will be known as Farm to Market Road 2008, and the contract for the eight miles calls for clearing, grading, structure, base and sub-base and black-topping. Work on the project is supposed to start within a short time.

Something in the building line is always going on in Eldorado. Right now city workmen are running water and gas lines into the new Finnigan Addition, where a number of houses are under construction.

Workmen began a remodeling project Wednesday a.m. in Jack Ratliff's office building. The plans call for removal and rearrangement of partitions etc. to accommodate separate office space for the insurance business and another department which is understood will be quarters for Stigler Jewelry. Entrance to the two businesses will be from a foyer at the front of the present space.

Fort Worth — Most classes of cattle drew lower prices at Fort Worth Monday as the buyers had a little the better of the trading. The weakening of grass cattle and calf prices followed pretty much the pattern of deterioration of pasture and winter feed prospects.

The approaching time of the first frosts in the Southwest and the fact that in many sections where grain fields were sowed and winter pasture prospects had some chance for improvement, time was running out without any rain.

Water shortages were becoming more general in many of the farming sections. The runs to market in the past month have contained more young cows and heifers, and if this situation is maintained there will be some definite reduction in the cow herds in this section of the nation.

Reliable demand still prevails for stockers and feeders with quality. The plained kinds were definitely weaker. Slaughter steers and yearlings were weak to 50 cents lower, with grassers and shortfeds on the big end of the lower prices.

Bulls found fully steady prices at Fort Worth Monday. Low grade lightweight shelly and emaciated canner cows were under severe pressure, some selling below $4. Cows are currently selling $1 to $2 under prices a year ago at this time.

HOGS MOVE UP AS RUN IS LIGHTER

At Fort Worth Monday hog prices were 25 to 50 cents higher and the top got back up to $20.75 and $21. Basis for the better market stemmed from the fact that about 25,000 fewer hogs were reported at the nation's 12 major markets than a week ago the same day. Sows sold fully steady at $14 to $18.

FAT LAMBS HIGHER; FEEDERS ARE LOWER

Fat lambs opened strong to 50 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday, with good and choice kinds from $16.50 to $18 and cull, common and medium grades from $8 to $15. Stocker and feeder lambs bulked at $11 to $13, a few higher and were 25 to 50 cents lower at those prices.

Fat yearling wethers drew $10 to $11.50 and old wethers sold around $6 to $10. Slaughter ewes drew $3.50 to $4.50. Old bucks sold around $3 to $3.50.

Mrs. Anna Faulk spent several days last week with her son, W. O. Faulk who lives in the Bailey Ranch Community. She plans to remain till her broken wrist is healed.

ENTIRE BIBLE IS RETOLD IN PICTURES FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The story of Creation (above) begins the complete story of the Bible in full-color picture strips for use in Sunday schools throughout the country. "Our Bible in Pictures" is a new feature of Sunday Pix, a 12-page picture weekly that is distributed to more than a million Sunday school students of all denominations. It is the first time such a project has ever been undertaken for Sunday schools. Editors estimate it will take three or four years for the entire Bible, from Genesis to Revelations, to be pictorialized in weekly installments. The David C. Cook Publishing Company of Elgin, Ill., which produces Sunday Pix, decided to undertake it because it feels that cartoon strips, which have been used so long and successfully by newspapers to entertain their readers, are a particularly effective educator. "Our Bible in Pictures" is expected to give its young readers a religious background they will never forget.

Fire Prevention Week Comes Uu Next Week

College Station — Farm fires last year cost an estimated $139,000,000 and took some 3,000 human lives. In view of these staggering losses, the week of October 3 through 9 has been proclaimed by President Eisenhower as Fire Prevention Week.

In his proclamation, Mr. Eisenhower calls upon the nation's citizens to initiate a year-round campaign against waste caused by preventable fires.

Fires in rural areas continue to be a costly drain on the farmer's income.

An extensive check of the farmstead for the common causes of fire is urged during this week. Fire officials say there are nine causes of most fires. They are: careless smoking and matches, improper use of inflammable liquids, spontaneous combustion, collection of trash and other rubbish, defective heating apparatus, combustible roofs, defective chimneys and worn out, defective lightning-rod systems.

Prevention of fire isn't a one-week-in-the-year job, but a full time proposition. Everyone in the family—mom, dad, junior and sis—should become more fire prevention conscious and take steps to eliminate ever-present hazards.

Because farms usually are located distant from organized fire protection, the need for "prevention" is even more pressing than in the urban areas.

Nature Is No Nudist

Cover the soil—be it grass, crop stubble, or legume—is like an umbrella in a rain, a shelter in the wind, a shade tree on a blistering hot day, or a blanket on a cold night.

To your soil all of the above forces mean something. Cover is nature's protection against all things which try to destroy it. It is also the first step in soil building. Soil which is bare and exposed to these forces soon loses it's ability to produce. One only has to examine the crops on fields exposed to the winds of last winter and spring to see the results in decreased production and permanent damage to the land.

Since these forces are the same one that helped develop our soils why should we need to protect ourselves from them?

In the first place bare soil takes a terrific beating from raindrops. Consider for a moment that an inch of rain on an acre weighs 110 tons. This is hardly a small weight to be tossed about on the soil. Little wonder that soils with no cover seal over and become tight as pavement. This tends to clog the soil openings and create thick heavy crusts and at the same time it loosens soil particles to be carried away by the rain.

Cover is the only sure answer to wind erosion. By tying the soil down the soil can't start moving and the standing cover slows the wind down to a walk at soil level.

Heat is another great enemy to the soil. In this respect the loss is multiple. In soils where the temperature is around 135 degrees in the surface; the moisture is has is quickly lost. On these same days the soil with cover will have a temperature in the nineties. Thus water saved is like an additional rain. It will be used for further growth. When soil reaches a 100 degree temperature many plants go completely dormant or grow little at all. Soil cover is also protection from cold and assists in keeping soil organisms busy building soil anew.

In providing sufficient soil cover for protection in the past nature used many things, including trees, grasses, and weeds. Dead plants take over the job when few plants are still living. Legumes, shredded cotton and cornstalks or the sorghums and other small grains furnish excellent cover.

Each farmer is encouraged to solve his own problem of cover to suit his own operation. The kind of cover is really unimportant in regards to protection. To do a good job the cover need only to be evenly distributed and have adequate density. Any crop capable of doing this is sufficient.

When this cover is needed most depends upon the locality and what natural force is the offender. In the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District winter and spring cover is sorely needed to protect from wind and to help hold our spring rains. Cover is really essential at all times if you are to protect yourself against excessive soil heat and our often nearly continuous winds.

The best protection would be afforded by a system that would have a nurse crop started when another crop on the same field is mature and ready to harvest. This could be accomplished by strip cropping, either contour or cross-wind; your cotton, grain sorghums, small grains and legumes. Good stubble mulching used with such a rotation would do much to improve your protection against runoff, wind erosion, excessive temperature, and give you far better production.

For information regarding your production or conservation problem contact your local office of the Soil Conservation Service.

Near Explosion In Trailer House

W. H. Joiner has ample reason to believe that a man's best friend is his dog. While night watching some equipment for Ice Drilling Co. on the Johnston Ranch 15 mi. south of Pecan, Mr. Joiner had a narrow escape Sunday night. His dog awakened him in the night, and Mr. Joiner thinking the dog was cold closed the door of the trailer house and went back to sleep. He forgot that the dog was on a chain and somehow the chain became tangled in the gas connection and turned on the gas. Several times the dog awakened Mr. Joiner with her cries and he finally wakened enough to investigate the cause of the dog's restlessness. When he lit a match to light the candle everything went Boom! When the air cleared in a few moments the only damage was a fire in a built-in divan under which the butane had settled. Help from a nearby ranch house soon put out the fire. Because of lack of a sense of smell, Mr. Joiner could not detect the odor of the gas. And from now on he says he will keep a flashlight handy and not depend on matches.

Austin — Texas insurance activity has boomed back into the news. This time it's a feud between the Board of Insurance Commissioners and Attorney Renne Allred, Jr. And it's destined for court action.

Flare-up between the board and Allred, attorney for the liquidating division, came after the board dismissed the attorney and hired Austin, Attorney Emmett Shelton.

Allred refused to leave his post, claiming that he was responsible to the courts which had approved him as attorney for Liquidator J. D. Wheeler.

He charged in a public letter to the commission that he had been discharged after he refused to delete the name of a commission employee from a suit he is to file. The suit is against persons connected in fraud charges involving the Texas Mutual Insurance Company of Beaumont.

The insurance board said it had never authorized the appointment of Allred. It also warned Wheeler that he will be considered "possibly liable" if he continues paying Allred's salary.

Board Chairman Garland A. Smith said that he felt the issue would be settled in court. The test is needed to clarify the law for the insurance industry and the public, he said.

Laughlin

C. Woodrow Laughlin, 79th District Judge removed by the Supreme Court and later voted back in the July Primary, faces a suit attempting to disbar him.

The State Bar Association filed the suit in Alice through Attorney Earl P. Hall of Austin. It contains 11 counts against Laughlin, similar to the 12 charges by attorneys responsible for his first ouster from the bench.

"I've been expecting this for two or three days," Laughlin said, when notified of the suit.

Decision as to whether the attorney, a central figure in Duval County controversies, is to be disbarred will be left to a judge and jury.

Negro Sues

A 17-year-old Houston Negro, denied entrance at the University of Texas, has taken his case to Federal Court.

John Winfred Walker filed his case on behalf of other negro students in the same situation.

Walker was turned down by the University on the basis of a policy that permits entrance of negro undergraduates only when their academic course cannot be pursued in the state's negro colleges.

Six Negroes have been turned down by the University this month. They planned to study engineering or architectural courses.

State Home

Corsicana Home, 65-year-old state orphanage, should be kept in operation, ex-students of the orphanage have told state officials.

Twenty-one ex-students, including Robert W. Calvert, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, presented their written petition to the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools.

The Texas Research League had recommended abolishing the orphanage and placing orphans in foster homes.

The Board said it has no present intention of abolishing the home.

State Colleges

Texas colleges need 8 million more next year to provide first class education for students, recommendations of a state committee warn.

Finance committeemen of the Texas Commission on High Education, created by the legislature, made the report after checking 18 state-supported colleges.

The money is needed to raise the quality of education during the school year 1955-56. The commission also recommended $15 million more for major repairs during the period.

At present the colleges are raising about $7 million per school year through tuition and other sources, the commission said.

State Hospitals

Texans have been urged to request their legislative representatives to support appropriations for state hospitals.

Dr. James A. Bethea, administrator for the board, said his department is due to seek an increase of at least $1 per day per patient for care of the mentally ill and $2.85 a day per patient for tubercular cases.

At present the state is spending $2.01 daily per patient for mental cases and $4.15 a day for TB patients. State hospitals are now caring for 25,000 wards with 6,000 ### employees.

Bethea said the increased appropriations are being asked for the biennium starting Sept. 1, 1955.

Texas Draft

Texas' draft quota for November is good news to 60 Texans somewhere. That's the number short of the previous draft call for October.

Quota for November is 1,062. A total of 2,565 men are scheduled to take physical and mental exams during the month. October exams will call 2,630 men, State Selective Service Director Paul L. Wakefield announced.

Walker Appointed

Governor Allan Shivers has announced the appointment of Ruel C. Walker, Cleburne attorney, as associate justice of the State Supreme Court. Walker will replace the late Graham B. Smedley.

Appointment of Walker, as well as naming to 10 district judges and two district attorneys by the governor, followed nominations of the state Democratic conventions at Mineral Wells.

The club voted to recognize a senior boy each week to be known as the Lion of the week. The boy thus honored will be designated by the high school principal and will be a luncheon guest of the club. This week Billy Sam Hale was chosen.

Next Wednesday night, Oct. 6th is Teachers night. At that time the Lions will entertain the faculty, their wives and husbands and also the wives of the Lions. Supt. T. E. Holcomb is chairman for the event and has secured a distinguished speaker for the evening.

A charge of murder without malice has been filed here against Arthur Roy Hahn, 29, of San Antonio in the death of Hal Andrew Hamilton, 22, also of San Antonio, as a result of head-on collision on Main Street last Thursday.

Complaint filed by Patrolman J. A. Scientist Studies Cresote Bush

David Walker, young Alpine scientist whose father, the late Fred G. Walker was a long-time Sul Ross College professor, is interested in developing a mass market for NDGA, a derivative of the useless cresote bush, or greasewood, of Trans-Pecos and Southwestern range lands.

Science, applied by the young West Texan, may yet turn the despised and useless cresote bush into a valuable asset of the arid ridges and uplands on which it grows so abundantly. — Fort Stockton Pioneer.

Historic Sites Studied

Representatives from Crane and McCamey joined Wednesday in visiting the Fort Stockton Lions Club and inviting participation by Fort Stockton people in seeking restoration of historic Horsehead Crossing and picturesque Castle Gap as park sites to be linked by a modern highway.

Ken Spencer, Crane attorney and secretary of the Crane Lions Club, was spokesman for the group and cited the value of such landmarks as a tourist attraction.

Castle Gap was an important point on the early day wagon trails and stage coach routes, and Horsehead Crossing was one of the few natural fords on the steep-banked and twisting Pecos River. — Fort Stockton Pioneer.

They're Touring Europe

A card was received this week by the Star force from Mrs. Vester T. Hughes, and son who are touring Europe. It says they have been having a wonderful time and seeing some wonderful scenery. The card was mailed from Vienna, Austria where they have visited one of the beauty spots of Austria. The castle is built beside the largest lake in Germany and said to be the most beautiful in Germany. Other places of interest on their itinerary is through Belgium, Switzerland, Italy and England. — Merton Weekly Star.

Machinery Bought

At a recent meeting of the commissioners court the county purchased two new maintainers. One of them a Gallion, was purchased from the Martin Equipment Company at a cost of twelve thousand eight hundred and eight dollars. The other was purchased from the Plains Machinery Company and was an Adams and cost fourteen thousand nine hundred and twenty three dollars. The two big machines have been long needed by the county to keep up and maintain the roads of the communities. — Merton Weekly Star.

Site Of Dam Considered

According to information released the first of the week by Raul Escheagaray, assistant minister of hydraulic resources for Mexico, the final selection of one of three possible sites under consideration for a second dam across the Rio Grande will probably be made the last of this month by the United States and Mexican engineers.

Construction on the second dam is expected to begin late next year and the structure will be approximately the size of the Falcon Dam which is located downstream many miles. — Junction Eagle.

School Expansion Studied

A recommendation to the school board that a move be initiated as soon as possible looking toward the construction of a cafeteria and needed additional classrooms at the North Elementary school was adopted by the Ozona Parent-Teachers Association at its regular meeting Monday night in the North Elementary auditorium.

The motion to make the recommendation, which was adopted, came after a discussion of the need for a cafeteria and the additional classrooms to relieve the crowded condition in the school. — Ozona Stockman.

Feeding The Wildlife

Fred Durst has checked off the watermelon season as a complete flop. In a one-acre patch he caught 10 coons and 11 possums in a No. 2 trap, but not until after the varmints had eaten up the crop. Nine of the coons destroyed were little ones on the back of a mama. After the coons and possums came the squirrels, Ferd says, and among them he harvested almost nothing. — Mason County News.

year to reach a new record total valuation for county purposes of $27,794,255, according to the report of the assessor, V. O. Earnest, submitted to the Commissioners Court this week.

Property valuations for county, state and school purposes vary in this county because of the University lands which are taxed for county and not school or state purposes and because of the homestead exemption law which reduces the state values somewhat.

Total valuations for state tax was $26,877,440 and for schools, $26,515,385. The county valuation of $27,794,255 represents an increase of $2,314,720 over the 1953 valuation. The school valuation rose from a 1953 valuation of $24,433,325, an increase of $2,082,060 in the year. — Ozona Stockman.

New Use For Fire Crackers -- Scare Deer

College Station — Ingenious use of firecrackers resembling tiny bombs has given farm crops protection from damage by night foraging deer and predatory birds in several Texas counties this year.

Fuse ropes of various lengths hung at random in fields with the firecrackers inserted to explode at fixed intervals did the business. The method was introduced this season and the trials were purely experimental, reports Doyle L. Moore, Colorado county agricultural agent.

In a trial in the Metz community of that county, a 48-foot hank of fuse rope was placed at two locations in a peanut field visited by deer. The fuse was lighted at 9 p.m. nightly and allowed to burn until daylight, while firecrackers inserted in the rope were spaced to explode at about 45 minute intervals. Location of the devices should be made with fire hazards taken into account.

The experiment proved so satisfactory that additional fuse ropes of five and seven feet were used nightly. The reaction to the test was that the firecracker method would work, but once commenced must be used nightly or the predatory animals would re-enter the field being protected.

The fuse rope, which smoulders slowly, consists of lint-like material twisted to about the thickness of a knitting needle. In turn these are drawn together in resemblance of a rope about finger thickness with a black thread tracing its length. The rope may be hung from a fence post, tree limb, stick or otherwise, with the tiny bombs attached by their fuses at chosen intervals. As the smouldering fire eats its way up the rope, fuses are ignited and the bombs drop to the earth one by one, and explode.

Extension Service Wildlife Specialist R. E. Callender observed the working of this control method throughout the crop growing season. He noted that deer didn't linger in the field after an explosion; but also observed that unless explosions occurred at fixed periods nightly, "The deer didn't run so far."

In addition, Extension Service horticulturists, with Callender's cooperation, are preparing to demonstrate the value of the process for protecting orchards and have presented 150 sets of the device to members of the Texas Pecan Growers Association.

Bob Bradley came in from Roswell to visit relatives over the weekend. Mrs. Bradley and baby have been here several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Graves.

Mrs. Tim Roderiques has her sister, Mrs. Rios of Edinburg, Texas, visiting her for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bierschwale and daughter visited with friends in San Antonio over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mund spent the weekend visiting relatives in Ballinger and San Angelo.

Sheep, Goat Industry Will Be Portrayed At Texas State Fair

Dallas, Texas — Research which has meant progress in the sheep and goat industry of Texas will be portrayed at the State Fair of Texas, October 9-24, in Dallas.

Production of better sheep and goats, through progeny testing; control of internal and external parasites, and toxic weeds, and disease controlling vaccines will be emphasized in the big color "Edward Plateau" exhibit, says Ray W. Wilson, fair agriculture department manager.

It is one of 12 district exhibits which will portray research which has meant improved agriculture for all areas of the state.

In addition will be a general exhibit with a 14-foot colored map of soils in Texas, and two 90-foot panoramas showing progress thru research of cotton, the state's number one crop; and sorghum, the number one grain crop.

Prairie View A&M College and Texas 4-H Clubs will also have exhibits to round out this year's theme "Research For Texas Agriculture". Fair officials and the Texas A&M College System have teamed up to present agricultural exhibits.

More than 2 million visitors are expected to attend this 69th annual fair which will include the Pan American Livestock Exposition, October 9-17; a junior livestock show, and Rural Youth Day, October 16.

After a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blaylock, Miss Jerry Blaylock, returned to Houston to assume her duties in the M. D. Anderson Research Hospital.

LONGHORN CAVERNS

The Longhorn Cavern is located near Burnet. It is one of the most outstanding examples of Mother Nature's handiwork in Texas. It was here that Confederate gunpowder was made during the War Between the States; it was here that Sam Bass, legendary Texas outlaw, sought frequent refuge and was reputed to have hidden a vast bandit treasure. The Longhorn Cavern is the third largest cave in the world. Over eight miles of the Cavern have been explored without an end being reached.

Oil Companies Carry Large Stock Supplies In Their Pipelines

If you were in business, how would you like to tie up a billion dollars worth of goods constantly so you could guarantee customers the night-and-day, year-in-and-year-out service they expect? Doesn't sound very attractive, does it? That's one of the things the oil industry does to keep the public supplied with petroleum products, according to W. H. Hale of the Schleicher Oil Industry Information Committee.

"Few people realize the supply stocks that oil men have to maintain, W. H. Hale said. "For example, we know that water won't come out of a hose until it is filled from one end to the other. "Similarly, crude oil and petroleum products won't pour out of a pipeline until it is filled. With more than 170,000 miles of petroleum pipelines in this country you have a fair idea of the stocks that must be tied up constantly." Other forms of transportation, as well as refineries, bulk stations and other facilities must be kept filled to insure continuous movement of stocks.

First Baptist News

The promotion day exercises were certainly an inspiration to everyone present this past Sunday. The Young People felt that it was a great day for them and surely it was.

The Associational Youth Rally met last Saturday night at Sterling City. A group of young people from here attended, but not enough to bring one of the banners back. We hope that we will have better luck next time.

Sunday, October 3, will be the first Sunday of our Associational Year. On that day we will have installation of all Officers and Teachers of the Church. This service is to install all workers in the church. The service will be in connection with the Morning Worship hour. All Church workers are urged to attend this important service. Sunday night, October 3, we are expecting to have a baptismal service followed by observance of the Lord's Supper. Every church member should be present for this observance of the Church Ordinances.

Then Monday night, October 4, is Monthly Deacons meeting and Wednesday night, October 6, is Monthly Business meeting for our church.
