Bids Asked On Construction Of 5 Miles of Reynolds Road

With advertising for bids on the Reynolds Road now under way, and contracts due to be let December 15, actual construction on this Farm to Market Road may start off the new year with a bang.

As far as the county is concerned, everything has been completed on this project with the exception of picking up two deeds and placing them on record.

The route of this new road follows the old Reynolds Road most of the way, and changes to be made were considered minor. While the new right-of-way had to be widened to comply with FM specifications and sharp curves had to be eliminated, most of the road follows the old route from the intersection with the west road to a point near the school house.

Fencing of this highway has been completed. Officials express the opinion that construction may be under way early in the new year, possibly by February 1.

Readers of this publication are urged to study the legal notice concerning this highway which appears in this issue. It describes the new road as leaving Highway 33, 12.4 miles west of this city, and providing 4.782 miles of new construction. It is hoped that it will eventually go on through to connect with the new Mertzson Highway.

This road leads through a thickly settled area of the county and will serve a large number of rural families, most of whom are farmers.

Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation Drive Is Headed By Watson

Fred Watson, chairman of the Schleicher County drive for funds for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, has been organizing the campaign in this county, and reports that people are most sympathetic toward the idea of raising funds to carry on the work.

Lions will observe a special day for the campaign at their regular meeting December 8, at which time there will be a showing of a film on "For This You Gave."

The campaign is scheduled to open this week, the official opening day being December 1, and to close December 18.

All of Schleicher County is urged to take part in this campaign, as there is no limit to the needs of the foundation. Plans for expansion of present facilities are in the making, and a great future for this Gonzales Warm Springs work is predicted.

The Eldorado school will participate in the drive, and jars for collections will be placed in the business district.

The campaign for the Gonzales Foundation is seeking funds from all over the state to expand its program approximately 40%. This hospital of physical medicine and rehabilitation, approved by American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and Canadian Medical Association thru The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, accepts patients from every part of Texas regardless of race, religion or financial condition.

In the history of the Foundation no patient who could be helped by the treatment program has ever been denied admittance for financial reasons.

Explorers To Repair Children's Toys For Gifts To Needy

The Explorer Scouts urge every one with discarded toys to bring them to the City Hall or the fire station so the Scouts can repair them for needy children. This is an opportunity to help a needy child, to help the Scouts with their work, and to clean the toy chest or store room of your own home. Bring the toys as soon as possible so the boys will have more time to work on them. The time is already short, due to the nearness of Christmas.

Thursday the employees of Continental Oil Company and their families had a Thanksgiving dinner at the Memorial building. There were about 50 present. Monday the crew received orders to move to Ft. Stockton. This crew composed of about 16 families moved Monday after a 5-month stay in Eldorado.

Holiday guests in the Cecil Williams home were their daughter, Nell, of ACC; their son, Roy, from the University at Austin; their daughter, Pae, and a friend, Jane Reader, of San Angelo.

Two wildcats are scheduled to be drilled in this county in the immediate future.

It will be known as No. 1 Mrs. Grace O-Harrow. Proposed depth is 6,000 feet. Location, on a 160-acre lease is 1980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of 69-H-GH&SA. Illinois Farmers Here To Buy Stock From Case's Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webb of Webb Poled Hereford farm of Ewing, Illinois, were here recently and purchased 12 heifers and three bulls from the Case Ranch. Three of the heifers were bred to HHR Misch. Adv. 48, the bull the Case Ranch purchased at the Halbert and Faucet Sale in January of this year.

The other cattle were from 7 to 12 months of age. These cattle were shipped from the Case Ranch Friday after Thanksgiving. Webb Farm, Polled Hereford herd is the oldest herd of polled herefords in the state of Illinois and has been in the family for five generations. Drought has been bad in their area for the past year; but a fine program of pasture improvement and conservation, that has been in effect for many years on Webb Farm, has kept them on a profitable basis.

This is the second group of cattle purchased by Webb Farm from Case Ranch, and brings the total of Case heifers sold to Polled breeders in this area of Illinois to 34 in the past two years.

CHRISTOVAL WOMAN IS BURIED IN ELECTRA

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday at Christoval for Mrs. Eula Lee Baker, with burial Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Electra.

Mrs. Baker, a resident of Christoval for about 1 1/2 years, died in San Angelo Saturday night of a heart ailment.

Among those attending from Eldorado were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Chrestman, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Newport, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Meador, Jane Mund, Rev. Doyle Morton, and Jack Etheredge.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams over the holidays were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Montgomery of Houston, her brother, Hubert Podany of Dallas, and Elvis Long of Dallas. The men went hunting while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elder and Patricia hunted last week end near Mason.

Santa Claus Coming To Eldorado Dec. 9th

Through the efforts of the Lions Club and businessmen of the city, Santa and his reindeer will be in Eldorado promptly at 3:00 p.m. December 9, and will parade thru the business district where he expects to meet all of the boys and girls of Schleicher County.

Santa will wear a bright red suit to match his red sleigh. Dancer, Prancer, Donder and Blitzen, his four reindeer, will probably be a bigger attraction than Santa himself. Many children, and possibly some adults, have never seen live reindeer and will consider their visit here a high light of the Christmas season.

No matter how cold the weather the parade will be held on time.

In fact, the colder the weather and the more snow is flying pleases Santa and his reindeer. It reminds them the more of the deep snow and raging blizzards in Alaska, their home.

Just how the parade will form and where Santa and his reindeer will emerge before they begin their long procession remains a dark secret. Their plans are well mapped out, but the Jolly little Elf likes secrets.

Grady Carothers, Goldthwaite, Texas, ranchman, is bringing the live reindeer here. They are a part of the herd he owns in the Central Texas area.

Carothers secures his animals each year from Eschscholtz Bay 90 miles south of Kotzebue, an Esquimo village of 200 population. The bay section is a peninsula on the Bering Sea. Here, he camps in snow some three weeks each year getting his herd together for the air trip back to Texas. Temperatures where the reindeer are captured range as much as 50 below zero.

The Arctic reindeer have some odd characteristics. For example, their ankles pop when they walk—a crackle you can easily hear. Their cloven hoofs are large and act as a firm foundation for the deep Arctic snows. They are completely covered with fur except the tip of their nose. They breathe like a dog when warm, and regurgitate like a cow when eating.

Mass Chest X-Ray Will Be Given In Eldorado Tuesday, Wednesday

The Mass Chest X-Ray will be held in the Memorial Building Dec. 7 and 8 from 8:30 to 5:30. It is absolutely free and is for every one 15 or over.

This is a county wide survey and is for everyone living in Schleicher county. It is free to the public at this time because it is sponsored by the State Health Department and has already been paid for with taxes.

The x-ray not only shows TB but heart disorders and lung cancer. Since these are the three greatest killers of mankind and all victims are benefitted by early diagnosis and treatment it is very important that everyone have the x-ray.

The last mass x-ray in Schleicher county was in 1948 and it is probable that a number of people have not had an x-ray since that time.

Every person owes it to himself, his family, and his community to have the x-ray, as it is the only sure way of knowing if he has one of these dread diseases.

This survey is sponsored by the Woman's Club and backed by every civic organization in town, especially by the health department under the direction of Drs. Lindsey and Mowrey.

Any person without transportation may contact Mrs. Jess Wals-ton and a car will be sent for them.

Do not forget—the chest x-ray—Dec. 7 and 8—Memorial Building. It is free—it takes only one minute—and it is for the good of the community.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Rev. Nihil Bulkley, Pastor of the church, wore a dress of white bridal satin. Her head dress was beaded seed pearls with a finger tip veil of tulle. Her flowers were vanda orchids and white carnations with orchid satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Nihil Bulkley, matron of honor, wore a yellow taffeta dress, and orchid spider mums with white snapdragons.

Candle lighters were Barbara Bryant and Nora Lou Bryant of Campbell, Texas, who wore identical dresses of steel blue taffeta with pink carnation corsages.

Best man was David Bulkley, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a purple dress with white carnation corsage.

The flower girl was Karen Griffin of Eldorado, and the ring bearer was Dale Bulkley, brother of the bride.

Rev. Nihil Bulkley sang, accompanied by Mrs. Horace Linthicum, before the ceremony.

The wedding vows were exchanged before a large arch of greenery and yellow glads tied with yellow satin ribbon, flanked by baskets of yellow mums and candelabra with lighted white candles.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the parsonage, where a tiered wedding cake of white decorated with yellow was served with white and yellow brick ice cream.

The couple plan to make their home here.

Managing Small Grains For Winter Grazing

College Station — Management plays a big role in the success of small grains and annual clovers for winter grazing.

Don't turn in the livestock until new plants have at least six inches growth, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. This allows the development a hardy root system and plants aren't easily pulled up by grazing animals.

Rotation grazing offers the most efficient use of forage produced by fast growing small grains and legumes. With a rotation system fields are divided into smaller blocks by portable fences. When the animals are turned in, the plants are grazed down rapidly and evenly, moved to another pasture, and the first plants make new growth, explains Trew. He recommends portable fencing because it is easy to move and is inexpensive.

If grazing gets too far ahead of livestock, mow the excess to prevent early booting. If allowed to make much growth, the specialist says, small grains are more susceptible to winter killing.

Remove animals from grains which later will be harvested before the plants start to "joint". Later grazing will reduce grain yields.

Winter grazing usually is very succulent and a little dry hay should be provided to help balance the diets of livestock.

First year plantings of brome, orchard, fescue or perennial rye grass should not be grazed except where under irrigation or on very fertile soil, says Trew. This delayed grazing gives the plants a good chance to become established.

Soil Conservation District News

Ranchers in the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District should start now in preparing to make the most of their future rains.

Heavy grazing and the drought have left many pastures nearly devoid of grass and large areas completely bare of any kind of cover. It is these that are going to take a very long time to come back.

Areas which lack cover absorb only a third as much rainfall as grass covered soil. They have greater extremes in temperature making it more difficult for young seedlings to survive. Rain falling on bare soil packs it more tightly, permits at least 2-3 to run off, and exposes it to the hot sun, where it loses what it managed to salvage from runoff to evaporation.

It takes years for this type of range condition to cover itself over with grass. If the rancher doesn't give nature an assist, it may never produce enough forage to pay for itself.

Any rancher wishing to see his bare areas start coming back should give some thought to giving nature an assist.

There are several effective means of getting good cover on bare flats. The most effective means found to date are pitting and planting these areas and giving them plenty of deferment—especially during the growing season. This is essential in that young grass plants must be given plenty of opportunity to survive.

Pitting of bare native rangeland is designed to keep that rainfall where it will do the most good. It provides a reservoir of moisture for plant seedlings and makes that rain drop go farther. Moisture penetration tests following rainfall have shown that the penetration will be 3-4 times as great in the pits as compared to unpitted areas a few feet away.

A field tour by Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District supervisors J. Forrest Runge, Ben Hext and Ernest Foster, Jr., Friday, Nov. 5th., observed the results of range pitting at the Weldon Davis Ranch west of Eldorado. Weldon pitted 25 acres of his land the middle of last April and at the same time he planted a mixture of sideoats grama, buffel, blue panic, sand dropseed, green sprangletop, and K. R. bluestem. He had 8 inches of rain since planting and has a stand of grass that compares favorably with the amount of seed planted. As Weldon stated, "I've had lots of people tell me there never was any grass on these areas and never would be." He also pointed out that pitting benefitted the organic matter in the soil by keeping plenty of weeds and other growth on the soil for protection and litter. It's this litter that is so essential in holding moisture and providing a seed bed. There was a vast difference in the amount of cover on unpitted and pitted areas. Weldon further said that these areas were costing him money and they aren't producing a thing. So he plans on getting good cover and grass back on his nude areas.

The SCD supervisors also discussed mounting the pitting plow on rubber tires so that it could be more easily transported. For any information on your conservation problems contact your local office of the Soil Conservation Service.

By Vern Sanford
 Texas Press Association
 Austin, Tex. — U. S. Senator Price Daniel may be a Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas in 1956.

The junior senator, with still four years to serve, said he might consider the move under certain conditions.

He had been mentioned as a possible successor to Governor Allan Shivers by Texas Democrats wishing to continue the conservative brand of government.

Daniel stated that he knew nothing about any organized movement on his behalf towards the governorship.

However, he set the wheels of speculation rolling by adding: "There could be some circumstances under which I would consider the matter . . . if a majority of those who helped elect me feel I can do the state more service by running for governor."

Daniel also said that he had rather live in Texas and send his children to Texas schools.

However, he stressed that he was enjoying his work and was not seeking a change.

If he resigns to enter the 1956 race, his Senate successor would be appointed by the governor.

GOP Plans

Losing the Republican race for governor in Texas hasn't dampened GOP attempts to gain strength.

Party members hailed both losing candidate Tod R. Adams and victorious congressman Bruce Alger at their state committee meeting in Austin.

They said they would pick out a candidate for governor in the near future and there would be a "real attempt" towards taking the 1956 election.

Adams and Alger were praised for leading the party in an aggressive fight for Texas victories in the next national and state races.

Laughlin Back

C. Woodrow Laughlin is back in his old position as judge of the 79th District Court.

Ousted from the bench last March by the Supreme Court, he was elected again but still must face new disbarment proceedings by the State Bar Association in January.

Laughlin took the oath of office restoring him as judge and immediately hurried from Austin to South Texas.

Land Fraud Charges

State investigators arrested three men as probing continued into Veterans Land Program sales in South Texas.

Two Cuero notaries were charged with notarizing land titles without seeing sales participants sign their names.

A third man was released under bond but details of the charge were not made public.

Meanwhile the Senate Investigating Committee prepared for a December look into complaints that veterans found themselves owners of land without knowing of the sale or where the land was located.

Presently handling the investigation is the Attorney General's office, the state auditor's office, and the Department of Public Safety.

Oil Permit

W. J. Murray Sr. has withdrawn a special drilling application because his son, W. J. Murray Jr., is a member of the Railroad Commission.

Application was made to the Commission by the senior Murray to allow him a spacing rule exception in drilling a new well in the North Glen Cove Field in Coleman County.

He said he withdrew the application after protests claimed the application would harm oil conservation in the field.

Murray Sr. said he didn't want to do anything to harm his son, who is a strong backer of conservation.

Liquor Board Rule

Investigation powers of the State Liquor Board include that of inspecting pertinent "records", state Attorney General John Ben Shepperd ruled.

Shepperd said the board could command production of personal records and accounts of officers and stockholders of corporations holding state liquor license or permit.

Hospitals Need Help

There is no immediate hope of adequate professional help for state mental institutions, the Texas Research League has warned.

In a report prepared for the Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools, the league said that 978 physicians are required for the state's six mental hospitals.

Only 102 have been certified by the Hospital Board, the report said.

League research also pointed out shortcomings in numbers of psychologists, registered nurses, and

Industry In Texas

Why do industries come to Texas?

Texas' Economic Advisory Commission asked the question of 280 manufacturers in a bid to find why industry was pouring into the state at a rapid pace.

Answers included:

A better chance to serve customers of this area, less competition, special markets, adequate labor and transportation, and abundant resources and raw materials.

SOCIAL SECURITY WILL INCLUDE FARM OPERATORS

The 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act extend old-age and survivors insurance to over three and a half million farm operators—people farming for themselves—beginning January 1, 1955. This is the largest single group brought under the program on a compulsory basis by the new law. Practically all farm operators who clear as much as $400 in a year will begin to earn social security credits in much the same way as the self-employed business man has been earning them since the beginning of 1950.

The self-employment social security tax on farm earnings applies to taxable years after 1954. If a self-employed farmer's first report covering any 1955 earnings is for the entire calendar year 1955, he will make the report early in 1956 as part of his Federal income tax return. If a farmer's net earnings for the year are more than $400, he must file a self-employment report and pay the social security tax of three percent even if his earnings have not been high enough to require the payment of any Federal income tax.

For the farm operators, the new amendments provide a special simplified reporting procedure. Those farmers who report on a cash basis and who have a gross income of $1,800 or less for the year may report either their actual net earnings or 50 percent of the gross income. A farm operator who has annual gross earnings over $1,800 must figure his actual net earnings for the year. If the net is less than $900 for the year, the farm operator may either report $900 or the actual amount for his old-age and survivors insurance purposes. The self-employed farmer who has net earnings of $400 or more in a taxable year after 1954 must report all such earnings up to $4,200 for social security purposes. His net earnings or profit—is the amount left after subtracting his farm expenses from his gross receipts as determined for income tax purposes. He will pay the three percent social security tax on these net self-employment earnings once a year beginning with 1955.

Carbon Monoxide Is Winter Threat

The cold winds of winter will whip up a new threat to Texans' safety.

The threat comes from carbon monoxide, which, Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, characterizes as being invisible, odorless, and tasteless—but deadly.

As cold weather draws near, the danger of carbon monoxide in the home or garage increases. Many people throughout the state are lighting poorly or faulty ventilated heaters and furnaces in their homes or running their cars in closed garages. Closed houses keep the cold out and the deadly fumes in. A few people live to tell about it because someone found them before it was too late.

The burning of any fuel that contains carbon may produce carbon monoxide. This is true of coal, coke, wood, oil, kerosene, gasoline and such gaseous fuels as natural or manufactured gas. Last year 7 Texans died of carbon monoxide poisoning, two of them in automobiles.

All heating equipment should be vented to a flue. Keep all rooms ventilated. Do not turn the heater higher than it was intended to run. Never leave gas heating appliances burning while you and your family are asleep. Regulate adjustable air-mixing valves so that enough air is supplied to insure complete combustion of the gas.

If a person is overcome by carbon monoxide they should first be removed to fresh air. In addition open windows and turn off the gas in the room. If the victim has stopped breathing, administer artificial respiration and if possible an inhalator should be used to administer oxygen. Keep the patient warm and lying down until a doctor comes.

Mrs. J. B. Christian attended a family reunion at Camp San Saba last Saturday, where 38 relatives gathered to celebrate the 87th birthday of Mrs. Christian's step mother, Mrs. M. L. Williams. Mrs. Williams, the mother of ten living children, had all ten of them with her for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cales are vacationing this week in Ft. Worth. To begin their trip they took their daughter, Janice, and Jack Stanford to Baylor where they are attending school.

Brush Control Continues To Pay Off

Hebronville, Tex. — Brush control has paid off for the Benavides brothers, Jim Hogg county ranchers.

Six-thousand acres of brush country has become useful land since the beginning of a control program on the Benavides Ranch five years ago, reports Travis A. King, county agricultural agent.

Records of production kept since the program commenced show the following results:

An increase in calf crop from 70-75 percent to 85-90 percent.

Calves sold had an average weight of 180 pounds more per head.

Market quality of calves increased one grade.

And, the rate of stocking jumped from about 40 acres for each animal unit to 20 acres per animal unit.

King says in addition to "more money in the farmer's pocket" the pastures at the present time remain in an excellent condition.

D.A.R. MEETS

The El Dorado Chapter, D.A.R. met Thursday in the ranch home of Mrs. P. K. McIntosh, with Mrs. Ernest C. Hill and Mrs. C. M. McWhorter as co-hostesses. The Chapter was opened in regular form by Mrs. Bailey Montgomery, acting as Chaplain, who chose as her Devotional a Psalm of Thanksgiving.

A budget for the next year was adopted after being submitted by the Treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Meador Sr.

Several books had been donated to the Library during October, seven of these being Memorial Books for Mrs. George E. Baugh and Judy Blaylock.

Mrs. W. F. Meador, chairman of Historical records, reported that she and Mrs. J. E. Hill had secured inscriptions from three more cemeteries and these would be sent to National Headquarters soon. One was the well kept cemetery at Montelle, where there is a beautiful Presbyterian Church with a stained glass window donated by the late John Jacob Astor.

The Chapter voted to sign the Pledge of Service, stating the members would cooperate in buying Savings Bonds and keeping the ones they already own. The buying of Savings Stamps in the schools by students is urged by the State Regent, Mrs. Loretta Grimm Thomas, in connection with this project.

Two new members, Mrs. J. D. Ashmore and Mrs. J. E. Spencer were introduced by the Social Chairman, Mrs. Luke Thompson. She also introduced the guests Mrs. W. N. Ramsay, Miss Kitty Buchanan and Mrs. G. E. Berry. The latter who lives at Ft. Worth is a member of the Charles Crawford Chapter, at Cisco and is State President of the Daughters of 1812, Edward H. Tarrant Chapter.

The Registrar announced that Mrs. J. O. Willoughby is now now a member of the National Society, her papers having been approved.

The Recent, Mrs. John Luedecke read the Message from the President General in which she urged the Daughters to take the lead in showing due respect to our Flag when ever it is displayed.

A report on National Defense was given by the Chapter Chairman, Mrs. V. G. Tisdale. Patriotism in Our Schools was the subject of the program. Mrs. Josh Ewing talked on Thanksgiving Yesterday and Today; and Mrs. J. E. Hill described the D.A.R. Approved Schools and told of their activities. Thirty scholarships were given in one year through the work of the Junior members.

Refreshments were served from a cut-work, linen covered table with Mrs. C. M. McWhorter at the silver service, assisted by the other hostesses. Present were: Mrs. G. E. Berry, Mrs. W. N. Ramsay, Miss Kitty Buchanan, guests; and the following members: Mesdames Elizabeth Powell, Raymond Schrank, J. B. Montgomery, J. E. Hill, W. F. Meador Sr., Clyde Keeney, Mary D. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Going — Going — But Not Gone!

Saturday they got set to auction off "Sis" Brown's house for non-payment of taxes. Buck Stone was the auctioneer. Everybody who came to the auction knew that "Sis" is a war widow.

When Buck began the bidding he said, "Anybody can bid. Just remember 'Sis' and three nice kids live here. Now who's going to start the bidding?"

There was silence. "Sis," standing in back, got the point. She reached into her purse for just about all the money she had in the world. "I'll bid $75," she said.

"Sold," bellowed Buck and "Sis" had her home back.

From where I sit, Buck Stone used a helping hand instead of a gavel. It was real neighborliness. You know, even in something as small as respecting another's choice of beverage, a person can be neighborly. You might like buttermilk. I'm "sold" on a temperate glass of beer. And I can't "buy" anyone's telling me I'm wrong.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS TUESDAY IN CLUB ROOMS

Mmes. Jess Walston and E. W. Craig were hostesses to the Woman's Club Tuesday Nov. 23 in the club rooms. There were 11 present and one guest, Mrs. Arch Edmiston.

Mrs. Walston reported findings from the committee regarding the free X-ray chest examination to be held at the Memorial Building, Dec. 7 and 8. Every one from 15 years up is urged and expected to cooperate in this. Dr. Lindsey and Dr. Mowrey are to be in charge.

The resignation from the club of Mrs. James Page was read and accepted with regrets.

The Junior Woman's Club and that the Woman's Club cooperate with them and other organizations in keeping the two kitchens in the Memorial Building clean, each club paying $1.00 per month. The Woman's Club agreed to the plan and it was stipulated that when one uses the kitchens, they must be left clean.

Mrs. Ed Jackson reported on Education, stating that home and family life education in total education will preserve our Democratic way of life, also the health of the people of our nation. That education is a continual process and may be regarded as a continuous training for more effective living, she pointed out.

Mrs. W. N. Ramsay led the discussion on "What Have You Read" and each mentioned interesting books read recently. Among them was: Power of Positive Thinking, by Vincent Peel; Silver Chalice, The Robe, Song of Ruth and Road to Bythinia, by Slaughter. The Ben Ames Civil War book that makes history come alive, and calls to mind days of the "Old South", was highly recommended. Then reference was made to a condensed account of Tomorrow's Civic Defense; Young Bess, historical novel of England's Royalty, and the Granustark books by Geo. B. McCutchen, with the sweet character building stories for youth, by Grace L. Hill, and many others.

Many of these books may be found in the public library. A real treat was the book review "Mr. Hobbs' Vacation", by Streeter, which was given by Mrs. E. H. Nimitz in the absence of Mrs. Arthur Mund. Refreshments were served. —Mrs. W. N. Ramsay.

Thought For The Week
Ministerial Alliance

A Christian teacher once said, "Do not spell Christmas 'Xmas' for in so doing you take Christ out of Christmas. Without Christ it is not really Christmas."

How true these words, even though X is a symbol of Christ. When we use the symbol we seem to forget Christ.

Christ is the reason for Christmas and we need to keep Christ in Christmas in more ways than in spelling.

Christmas has a religious meaning. We should keep Christ at the center of our worship. Our faith comes alive as we keep Christ at the center of our worship. Our lives need the freshness that comes from worshipping Christ. Let us worship Christ at this Christmas time.

Christmas should turn our thoughts to Christ, whose birth we celebrate. It should be a time when hearts and lives find the real meaning of life. Bells and decorations, candles and trees, are symbols, and without Christ have little meaning.

Let us make Christ the center of our Christmas in a real way by putting first things first. —Rev. Doyle Morton.
