Boy Scouts Spending Week At Camp Mayer

Five Boy Scouts accompanied by Fred Watson as counselor, are spending this week at Camp Sol Mayer near Fort McKavett. The group left Sunday afternoon and are due back this Saturday. The session of camp will close with the noon meal Saturday.

Scouts in camp are David Nixon, Buddy Calk, Mickey Pennington, and Danny Rogers, all of Eldorado, and David Spurgers of Clyde.

Several parents and other friends of the troop expect to take picnic lunches and visit the group in camp late today, Thursday, which is designated visitors' day. They will attend the evening camp fire and program.

Good Crowds Coming To County Swimming Pool

With Douglas Jung and Jack Montgomery as managers, the swimming pool is open in the west part of town and good attendance and interest is reported. The hot, dry weather makes the pool attractive to children and grownups.

Effective this week, the pool is closed Tuesdays instead of Mondays as in the past. The other six days, it is open from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. Swimming instruction is given in connection with the girls' summer recreation program during some mornings of the week.

The floodlights have been installed to allow for night-time swimming and the pool has been kept open a few Saturday nights already. Private groups wishing to use the pool any other nights, can make arrangements with the pool managers.

A light shower accompanied by extremely high winds, descended on Eldorado Saturday night. Our rain gauge showed only two-tenths of an inch the next morning, but a trip down around the Little League ball park revealed a bunch of advertising signs blown helter-skelter all over the place.

The signs were all back in place, however, by the time of the game Monday night.

This writer took off Sunday for Iraan on the new road and got to the point where construction was going on on the last four miles. It looked just a little too rough for us to tackle and we turned around and came back. Maybe a high base pickup could take you through. They say it will be open by September 1st.

Note to our C. of C.: How about a road-opening celebration when the time comes and invite one of our gubernatorial candidates—Connally or Cox—out here for principal speaker?

If you don't think the Eldorado city dads aren't on the beam when it comes to making a fast buck, just listen to this—

They sold three truck loads of tin cans from the dump ground the other day for THIRTY DOLLARS!

Now it has set them to wondering how they can increase the crop of tin cans.

Foxworth-Galbraith started work Tuesday morning on a new Reliance home for Joe Griffin. It is being built beside Mr. Griffin's present house which will be torn down after the new one is completed. This is the first house of this new low-priced line for Foxworth to build here in Eldorado.

New Road Bond Issue To Be Submitted To Voters In July

On page 4 of this issue of the Success appears an official election notice from the Commissioners Court calling for a bond election to finance the county's part of a new highway from Eldorado north to the county line.

This is the county's first step in co-operating with the state Highway Department to provide a new, improved route for Hwy. 277 from Eldorado north to the Tom Green county line.

Hwy. 277 was rebuilt from Sonora to Eldorado several years ago, and the same type of road is proposed from here north. Highway engineers have been at work for some time on surveys and the new road will have an entirely new route, eliminating several railroad crossings and many sharp curves of the old present road. It will be an expensive road for the state to build. It is estimated that they will spend upwards of a million dollars for new grades, bridges and all, by the time they will have reached the county line.

The election notice calls for a bond issue of $75,000 to provide funds for right-of-way, damages and fencing, from Eldorado to the county line, a distance of about 16 miles.

The Highway Department will build the road in two lettings—8 miles one year and the remainder the following year. But as far as the county is concerned, the funds asked for will take care of right-of-way for the whole distance.

The first post-war road bonds were in 1945 when the county voted $50,000 for the Menard highway. The last of these bonds are to be paid off this year. In fact the total bonded indebtedness of the county now stands at only $69,000 and there's cash and securities of $37,000 to offset that. Therefore, the officials point out, the adoption of the new bond issue will not involve a tax increase. The tax rate will continue to be the same as it was last year.

The state has been planning on this road for a long time and the county's support is already pledged, whether the bond issue carries or not.

In case the bond issue failed to carry, the right-of-way expense would be financed by county road warrants, but officials point out that this is the more expensive way to go at it.

The election will be held on Saturday, July 14th. The official notice specifies that balloting will be carried on in all the precinct boxes. Voting is limited to taxpayers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McAlpine and daughter, Juanita, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Biggs last Sunday and attended the John West Golden Wedding.

WHO IS THE PRETTY YOUNG LADY WITH THE GRIM-LOOKING COWBOY?

—Answer Next Week

Austin.—For the first time since 1872, Texas Republicans are presenting a strong threat to capture statewide and legislative offices from the Democrats.

Following his nomination for the Governorship on the Democratic ticket, John Connally took immediate steps to meet the challenge with a united front.

Connally invited all Democratic nominees for state and legislative office to a barbecue to be held on June 16 at his family ranch near Floresville. Purpose: to make some campaign medicine.

Saturday's outing will launch the campaign for the November 6 general election.

Jack Cox of Breckenridge, the Republican nominee for governor, is backed by a slate of 20 nominees for the 23 seats in Congress; 15 candidates for the 31 state senate seats, and 86 candidates for the 150 house seats.

Also there are candidates for county and precinct offices in many counties.

Lined up with Connally will be Waggoner Carr of Lubbock for attorney general, opposed by T.

Everton Kennerly of Houston; Preston Smith of Lubbock for lieutenant governor, opposed by O. W. (Bill) Hayes of Temple; Jerry Sadler of Palestine for land commissioner, opposed by Albert Fay of Houston; John C. White of Wichita Falls for agriculture commissioner, opposed by Harry Hubbard of Marfa; Ben Ramsey of San Augustine for railroad commissioner, opposed by Bernold M. Hanson of Midland; Jesse James of Austin for state treasurer, opposed by Allen Lacy of Abilene; and Robert S. Calvert of Sweetwater for comptroller, opposed by Mrs. Hargrove Smith of Houston. Republicans are not contesting judicial seats.

The Constitution Party also has fielded a slate of candidates for state office, all but one of them from Houston.

Speakership

One of the more important offices in state government is the speakership of the house. Unlike the Senate, however, the people have no voice in the selection.

The speaker is elected by the 150 members of the house. Rep. Byron Tunnell of Tyler laid out the names of 95 Democratic nominees who have pledged to support him, and called on his opponents for the speakership to withdraw.

Rep. C. W. Pearcy Jr. of Temple did. Another opponent, Rep. Ben Glusing of Kingsville, was defeated in the runoff primary, so he no longer is eligible. Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton remained in the race. He claimed 61 pledges.

In The Red Again

Heavy payments of state aid to the schools in May pulled the state's main checking account — the general revenue fund — into the red again.

When May started, the deficit was $73,934,636. But heavy collections of corporation and insurance taxes wiped out the deficit, which has been present for nearly four years. This put the fund into the black by the middle of the month.

But when the school payments came due, it pulled the fund $9,391,468 into the red at the end of May. Early June expenditures made the deficit $28,015,980. It will go back into the black again when sales tax payments reach the treasury in July.

Crooked Holes

State investigators from the Railroad Commission report that of the first eight oil wells in the East Texas Field tested, seven were "deviated" beyond the 3% allowed by commission rules.

The work is slow, so it may be months, or even years, before the extent of the crooked-hole drilling program in that giant field is known.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has filed one civil lawsuit, contending that a group of operators drilled four wells on a slant so the bottoms of the holes were on someone else's property, and that they plugged two more wells with cement before they could be tested.

Civil suits are being filed by oil companies against owners of nearby leases, contending that crooked holes have drained away oil which belonged to them. So far, eight such suits have been filed.

If court-type evidence is found by the commission's engineers and Texas Rangers, evidence will be turned over to U. S. Dist. Atty. Wayne Justice for possible prosecutions under the federal law—usually called the Connally hot oil act—which makes it a federal offense to move oil in interstate commerce after it has been produced in violation of state laws or regulations of the Railroad Commission.

The W. A. Meneeses start their vacation this week end and will visit friends and relatives in East Texas and Georgia.

Mrs. Ben Biggs spent last week in Abilene visiting her sons, Truman and Glenn and their families. She went home with Truman and family who spent the week end of the 2nd here. On her way home last Saturday she stopped in San Angelo and visited her daughter, Mrs. Bob McElroy and family.

Miss Phillips Bride Of Mr. Robbins Sunday

In a home ceremony in Eldorado at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 10, Miss Patricia Ann Phillips became the bride of Dalton Robbins, son of Mrs. Edith Robbins of Killeen, Texas.

The double ring ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips, with Bro. M. J. Cunningham of Dallas officiating.

Vows were repeated before a background of candelabra, gladioli and greenery.

Given in marriage by her brother, Herman Phillips of Dallas, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of white lace and satin. Her matching white head piece carried an elbow length veil of illusion and her bridal bouquet was of white carnations with satin love-knot streamers.

For the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue" the bride wore a watch belonging to her mother; she borrowed a pearl tear drop necklace of her sister-in-law; a blue garter and a silver sixpence in her shoe were also worn.

Mrs. Calvin Barbee of Brady served her sister as matron of honor and she wore a waltz-length gown of beige jacquard taffeta, featuring a sweetheart neckline, scalloped sleeves and a full skirt with a front panel effect. Her pill box hat was of white satin. Her corsage was of white carnations and blue streamers.

The blue and white theme carried out the bride's chosen colors. The best man was the groom's brother, Edwin Robbins of Alpine. Joe Phillips of Eldorado, brother of the bride, served as candle lighter.

A reception in the home of the bride followed the ceremony. The table was covered with a lace tablecloth over blue. The centerpiece consisted of an arrangement of pink gladioli surrounded by blue lace on a reflector.

The wedding cake was served by Miss Molly Phillips. The punch was served from a crystal service by Miss Fay Robbins. The guests were registered by Mrs. Vernon Phillips of Green River, Wyoming.

The bride was a 1961 graduate of Eldorado High school and she attended Abilene Christian College. The groom is a graduate of Killeen High school. He is employed in Abilene.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Abilene. Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Edith Robbins, Miss Fay Robbins, and Alford Robbins, of Killeen; Mr. and Mrs. Felton Robbins and children of Temple; J. W. Robbins, Austin; and Edwin Robbins, Alpine;

MRS. DALTON ROBBINS

Also, Mrs. Vernon Phillips and children of Green River, Wyoming; Mrs. Calvin Barbee, Brady; Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and children, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Phillips, Dallas; and Miss Betty Riley of Abilene.

Those attending from Eldorado were Mrs. Lucille Doyle, Miss Genelle McCalla, Miss Gayle Woodward, and Miss Eileen Kent.

STOUT WINS COUNTY JUDGE IN BALLOTING AT BIG LAKE

In last Saturday's second Democratic Primary, Reagan county voters favored S. E. Stout Jr. with 490 ballots in the county judgeship race. W. W. Munn was given 329 ballots. The incumbent, W. D. Hudson, was not a candidate for re-election. —Big Lake Wildcat.

T. J. BAILEY WINS WTU CO. TOURNAMENT AT ABILENE, HIS 12TH WIN

T. J. Bailey, West Texas Utilities Co. local manager in Ozona, captured an extra hole play-off to win the annual West Texas Utilities Company tournament held in Abilene last week end.

The win for Bailey was his 12th in the 35 year old tourney begun in 1927 with five players. This year's meet drew 112 entries and is now the company's largest employee recreation event.

Bailey repeated as champion when one of his four final opponents, leading by three strokes on the 16th hole, hit into the rough and lost his advantage on the 17th hole.

Even though Bailey has captured 12 of the 35 tournaments the 1961 win was the first since he came to Ozona in 1945, making the 1962 win particularly pleasing to the local golfer. —Ozona Stockman

FORT STOCKTON TO PAVE 48 CITY BLOCKS

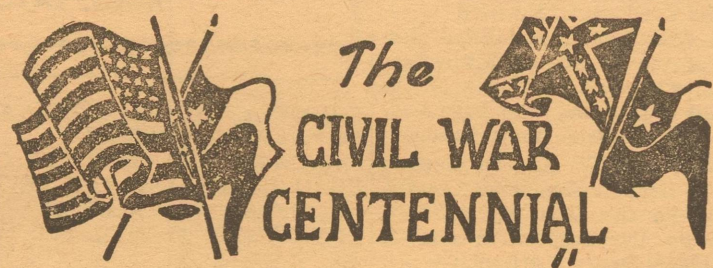

Property owners in 48 blocks definitely have signed for street paving, City Manager Gene Higgins said Wednesday.

"The contractor has told us that the will begin by June 15," Higgins added.

According to Higgins, the contractor, H. G. Counts of Midland, already has started blasting his caliche pit west of town.

"It would appear that at long last we will get started on the much needed street paving program," Higgins declared. He noted that the contractor, under a contract with the city, has 200 days in which to complete the paving once actual work is started. —Ft. Stockton Pioneer.

One of the shots fired in the Battle of Seven Pines, or Fair Oaks as the North called it, just one hundred years ago was said to be the "very best that been fired for the Southern cause yet."

The statement was made by the man struck down by the shot, Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, who went on to say, "I possess in no degree the confidence of our government, and now they have in my place one who does possess it."

The successor of whom General Johnston spoke was Gen. Robert E. Lee who on June 1, 1862 assumed his first field command for the Confederacy.

The command to which General Lee succeeded was the fighting force that was to become known as the Army of Northern Virginia. Prior to his appointment to the new command, Lee had been military advisor to President Jefferson Davis and had watched the Confederates under General Johnston fight a long delaying action against Union forces under Gen. George B. McClellan whose Peninsular Campaign threatened to take Richmond.

Though there was some surprise at the appointment of Lee over other generals, he was to prove his military genius during the remaining days of June and July by successfully defending the Confederate capital during the crucial Seven Days' fighting around Richmond.

On the day that General Johnston was wounded in the right shoulder by a stray bullet and almost immediately afterward was struck in the chest by a piece of shrapnel which unhorsed him, General Lee and President Davis had ridden onto the field of battle where they discovered Johnston about to be carried off on a stretcher.

Their expressions of regret that Johnston had been wounded were halted by Johnston's discovery that he had lost his sword and pistols. The sword especially meant a great deal to Johnston who asked if someone would go back to the place he had fallen and bring both it and the pistols to him. "I would not lose it for $10,000" he is reported to have said.

Lee and Davis waited while a courier went back under fire to recover the precious items and then set off in search of General G. W. Smith, now the ranking general on the field. General Johnston was removed from the battlefield and, after a period of recuperation, became commander of the Army of Tennessee.

Having found General Smith and informed him of Johnston's wound, General Lee and President Davis rode back to Richmond. No one knows what passed between the two on that ride back, but by the time they reached the outskirts of the Confederate capital, Lee was the new commander of the Army of Northern Virginia.

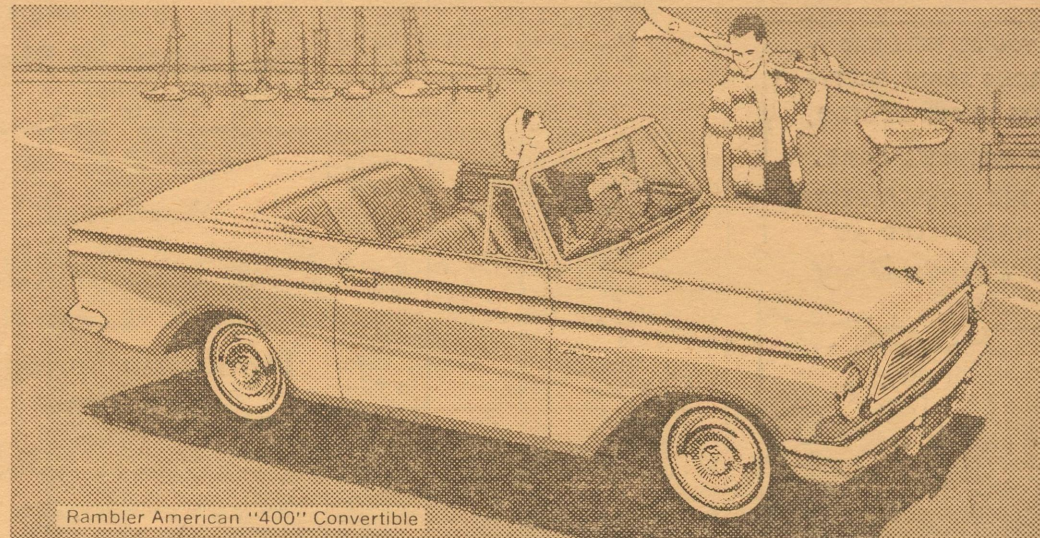

Lee's first action was to send Jeb Stuart's cavalry on a reconnaissance ride that took the horsemen completely around McClellan's army and furnished much needed information as to the enemy's positions and the condition of the countryside.

Then on June 25, the famous Seven Days' Battle began at a place called Oak Grove, Virginia, and in succeeding days names like Mechanicsville, Gaines' Mill, Savage Station and Frayser's Farm became names of battles rather than names of towns and villages dotting the Virginia countryside around Richmond.

On July 1, the final drama of the Seven Days' was played out at Malvern Hill.

Two days later, McClellan's army was entrenched at Harrison's Landing on the James River—the point from which they would board ships to take them from the scene of their unsuccessful campaign to capture Richmond.

Miss Berry Bride Of James H. Lowe, Jr., In Midland Church Rites

In a ceremony Saturday, June 9th, in the First Baptist church in Midland, Miss Betty Bob Berry became the bride of James H. Lowe, Jr.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Berry Jr., of Midland, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lowe Sr., also of Midland, former residents of Eldorado.

Bro. Travis LaDuke, pastor of Wilshire Park Baptist church, officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk illusion fashioned with a scoop neck enhanced with seed pearls. The applique was repeated on side panels of the skirt. Long sleeves tapered to petal points over the wrist. In back, clusters of pleats nesting three self fabric roses draped into a full chapel train.

A veil of silk illusion fell from a colot of chantilly lace trimmed with roses touched with tiny pearls and pearl drops.

The bride carried a white Bible showered with pico white ribbon steppanotis with carnations centered with butterfly orchids.

Mrs. Yetta Latimer of Hobbs, N. M., was matron of honor and Miss Mary Cash of Midland was maid of honor. Hugh B. Dilly of Midland was best man.

Rozanna Sudduth Bride Of Ronald Wayne Sauer

MRS. RONALD WAYNE SAUER

Miss Rozanna Elaine Sudduth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sudduth of Eldorado, became the bride of Ronald Wayne Sauer, son of Mrs. Alma C. Sauer of San Angelo and Victor Sauer of Eldorado, on Tuesday, June 12, at the West Side Church of Christ in Eldorado.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Church of Christ Minister.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Kathy Sauer of San Angelo, served as maid of honor, and the bride's brother, Ollie Neille Sudduth of Amarillo, was best man. Ushers were Bert Bruton and Billy Van Dusen, both of Eldorado.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white silk chiffon over white cotton satin fashioned with a low scooped out neckline with soft ethers falling around it. Her sleeveless dress was accented with long white opera gloves and white accessories. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls belonging to her grandmother Sudduth. A pearl crown held a fingertio length veil of white illusion. Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid nestled in white tulle with tiny satin streamers tied in love knots carried on a white satin bride's Bible.

The bride's mother chose to wear an aqua blue sheath dress of cotton knit, while the groom's mother wore a navy silk dress and both had white carnation corsages.

A reception was held in the home of the groom's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Duwain Sauer, immediately following the ceremony. The bride's chosen colors of white and blue were carried out in the decorations. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue background and centered with the bride's bouquet. The three tiered white wedding cake, centered on a reflector, was decorated with tiny blue flowers with silver bead centers and topped with a bride and groom.

In the house party, Miss Judy Hext served the cake and Mrs. Duwain Sauer poured the punch from a crystal service. Miss Linda McGinnis registered the guests in the bride's book on the table laid with white lace over blue and centered with a single white carnation in a crystal holder. Members of the house party wore corsages of white carnations and gifts were presented them at the reception.

The bride's going-away dress was identical to the one her mother wore for the wedding. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The groom has just completed eight weeks of basic training with the U. S. Army at Fort Chaffee, Ark., and has been reassigned to Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Both the bride and groom are graduates of the local high school.

The couple left on a short wedding trip and after Sept. 24th they plan to make their home in Amarillo where both will attend school.

The couple were honored with a barbecue supper at the bride's home on June 7th. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Duwain Sauer.

Mrs. Granville Hext and Deanne returned home last Thursday after a ten day visit in Albuquerque, N. M., with Mrs. Hext's sisters. They were accompanied home by Harvey Pulliam of Albuquerque who went with them and Morris Schafer and Mr. Hext to Brady last week end to visit Mr. Hext's mother and to attend the Schafer family reunion which was held at Richards Park last Sunday. The reunion was in honor of Mr. Shafer who is spending the summer here from California.

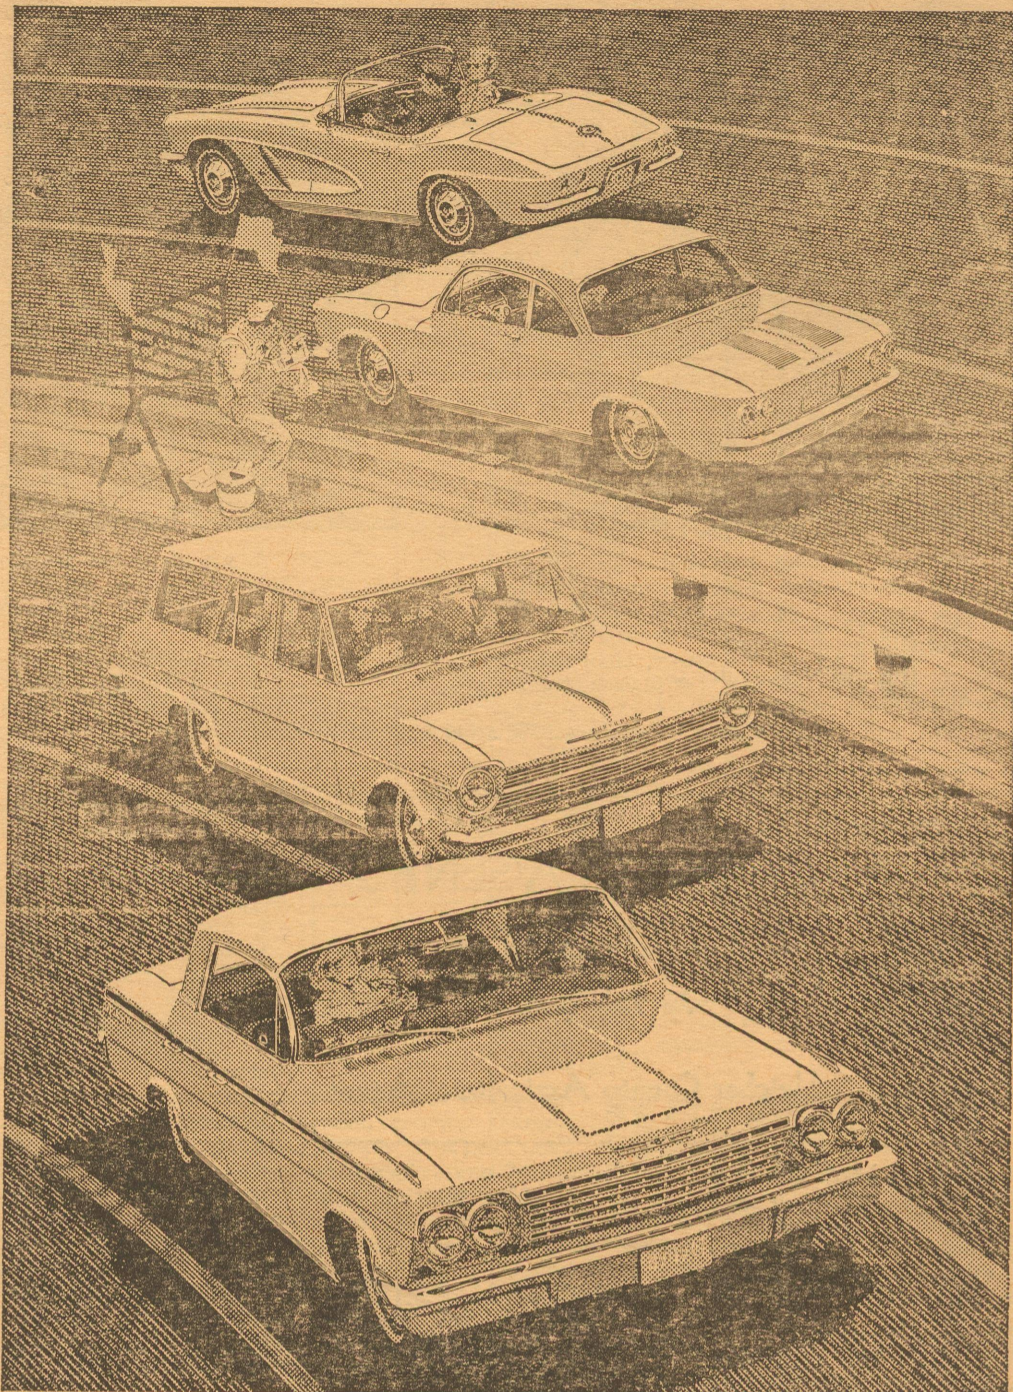

A choir from the St. Luke's Baptist church sang for the Wednesday night prayer service which was held at the First Baptist church last week following the monthly business meeting.

Mrs. Vernon Rogers and children Pat and Donald visited Mrs. Rogers parents Mr. and Mrs. George Sloan at Artesia, N. M., last week while Mr. Rogers played in a golf tournament at Shamrock. On their way to Artesia they visited Mr. and Mrs. George Cales in Odessa.

Schleicher county's 132 cotton producers are geared to emphasize cost cutting on production for 1962

by using the following methods:

1. Planting a stripper type cotton.
2. Employing machinery for harvesting.
3. Rotary hoe equipment.
4. Spot oiling johnsongrass.
5. Using of more defoliant and desiccants.
6. Return of cotton burs to the soil instead of burning a valuable source of soil fertilizer and conditioner.

Texas cotton producers save 68 millions on cotton mechanical harvesting in 1961, 28 million on labor costs on the rotary hoe and spot spraying of johnsongrass, while many millions were saved by other practices listed above.

A ton of burs contains $7.50 in plant nutrients, applied at the rate 4-6 tons per acre can increase yields 25% per acre.

'The Roman Spring Of Mrs. Stone' Is Showing Sunday And Monday

Tennessee Williams turned his hand at fiction 13 years ago while sojourning in Rome, chiefly to get Mississippi, Louisiana and Missouri out of his system.

As author of a novelette, Williams was still a playwright. "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone" is the movie version of the novel, and it will be shown Sunday and Monday nights at the Eagle Drive In Theatre.

Warner Bros. has taken the playwright's only novel, added Technicolor, moved him out of the decadent South into decadent Rome. Vivien Leigh is his Karen Stone at the Eagle, which features a harsh scene where Karen turns the merciless glare of a lamp onto her mirrored face to make herself realize she is 50 and a widow.

She plays a fading actress, over the hill but still the possessor of a woman's emotions, who has taken up residence in Rome after her husband's death.

Mrs. Stone is a middle-aged stage actress, once luminous, now in retirement with vestiges of a youthful body and a beautiful face. She has been a constant wife, but her husband's fatal heart attack has left her free, wealthy, and foot-loose.

It is here that Williams—and probably only Williams would think of it—introduces a new species in the international set: she is German actress Lotte Lenya, who keeps a stable of young Italian lads as paramours for rich, lonely American widows. Lotte gets a 50-50 split of any gifts given them.

The contessa serves up young Warren Beatty, the remarkable newcomer from "Splendor in the Grass," who uses an Italian dialect mixture, while still managing to retain his reputation as one of the better new actors in the business.

Miss Leigh is as pathetic as Beatty is cruel when the inevitable age difference shows up to turn the head of her rental property toward younger and lusher pastures, in the person of a young actress from Hollywood.

The fadeout is impact, with Miss Leigh resigned to a late that, again, probably could only come from the typewriter of Tennessee Williams.

Asking theatrical magic from actors, Williams chose for the film's Mrs. Stone the 49-year-old Vivien Leigh. The British star has won two Academy Awards, for playing Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind" and Blanche in the film version of Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire."

As the contessa, Williams pressed into service the veteran German actress, Lotte Lenya, widow of the late composer Kurt Weill.

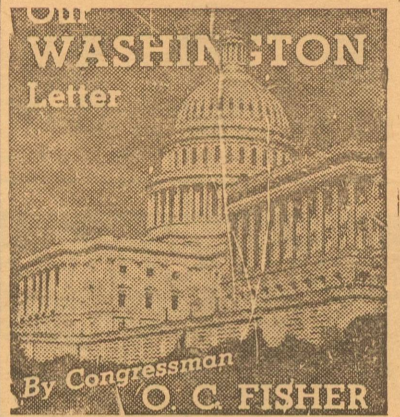

As Paolo, Williams accepted Warren Beatty, brother of Shirley MacLaine, who was stamped "up-and-coming" after his "Splendor" role. Beatty dyed his brown hair an Italian black, and hired tutors not to cure an Italian accent but to give him one.

As Barbara, the young thing from Hollywood, Williams selected Jill St. John, who has been acting since she was five.

The English composer, Richard Addinsell, who wrote "The Warsaw Concerto," was commissioned to produce the background score. Louis De Rochemont was the producer.

If you look closely, you may identify Bessie Love, a charmer from silent film days, as a lady's hair-dresser. She is sixtyish now and lives in comfortable retirement in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Mittel and baby daughter have moved to the S. L. Stanford place on the north edge of town, which they recently bought. The Thackerson family lived on the place until its recent sale.

The legal debt limit is going up to $308 billion, made necessary by the vast increase in non-military spending. It was raised to $300 billion early this year, and it is quite likely there will be another increase next year.

This serves to remind us of our fiscal plight, and it serves to remind us how meaningless a debt ceiling is unless an effort is made to hold annual expenditures within that limit. It would be like a man resolving: "I make only $500 a month and I hereby resolve that I won't spend more than that this month"—and then going out and running up bills totaling $600!

The permanent debt limit was fixed at $275 billion in 1957, but there have been six increases since then. Being convinced that with less non-essential spending the debt ceiling could be honored, I have been voting against the increases.

As an indicator of the trend that is making the debt ceiling meaningless, since 1947 annual outlays for non-military purposes have jumped from $17 billion to $40 billion, much of which has been to finance new and expanded welfare programs and experiments in social planning.

Perhaps the current increase in the debt limit can serve to arouse the American people to the seriousness of spending money we do not have. We have had deficits in 25 out of the last 32 years. This spending spree is inexcusable, particularly during times of prosperity and nearly-full employment.

It is time we come to grips with the total of Federal expenditures, if the value of the dollar is to be preserved and more inflation avoided.

Washing Electric Bedcoverings

As you take your electric bedcoverings out of storage, you may want to wash them again before putting them to work for another season. Automatic electric blankets and bedsheets should be washed, not dry-cleaned, according to extension home management specialists of Texas A&M college. Dry-cleaning fluids may injure the wiring system.

Before washing be sure to disconnect all controls from the electric blanket or sheet. If there are spots or stains, wash these first gently with solution of soap or detergent and water. Use lukewarm water for washing—about 100 degrees F. Wash one blanket at a time. Remember, agitation of the bedcovering in the washing machine for too long a period may break the electric wiring. Below are suggested methods for washing in either an agitator or tumbler-type automatic washer.

Agitator-type Automatic Washer. Fill the washer with warm water. Add 1 cup of mild synthetic detergent, and agitate until dissolved. Stop washer. Immerse blanket in washer, and close cover. Do not agitate. Let blanket soak 10 minutes and spin our water for two minutes. Fill for rinse. Agitate for one minute. Spin out water for two minutes. Remove blanket. For line drying, hang lengthwise over two parallel clothes lines, preferably in the shade. When an automatic dryer is used, preheat 5 to 10 minutes using large bath towels to absorb and equalize the heat. Add the blanket and allow to tumble about 15 minutes. Complete the drying on the line. Press bindings with steam or dry iron set at low heat.

Tumble-type Automatic Washer. Place blanket in washer. Fill washer with warm water, adding 1/2 cup low-sudsing detergent. Then stop washer. Soak blanket for 5 minutes; then tumble it 1 minute. Advance dial so water drains out. Then advance dial a second time, and let washer fill for deep rinse; run for 1 minute. Finally, turn dial to give final drain, for 2 minutes, or until drain hose stops. Remove blanket; dry as directed for agitator-type washer.

keep and suggests hidden faults. Modernize—up-to-date kitchens and bathrooms count most. Experts say you get back money spent improving these rooms. A person who buys an obsolete house expects to fix it up himself and will knock more than enough off his offer to cover his anticipated expense.

Decorate—brighten up with new paint and paper, even if the buyer redees everything the day he moves in. Also seed the flower beds, prune the shrubs and patch the lawn, especially in front.

Clean—get rid of trash and clutter, straighten up the closets so that they look spacious. When prospects are coming, see that every room is picked up and turn on some light to give the place a homey, comfortable look.

Here's Why Wiener Prices Vary

Have you noticed the variation in prices of a pound of wieners or hot dogs? Here's some information for food shoppers on the subject by Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service food marketing specialist at Houston.

The list of ingredients on the label of wieners will tell you why some are higher-priced than others. Ingredients on the label are listed in order and according to the amounts included—such as ground beef, pork, cereal, dry non-fat milk and soy flour.

These ingredients—other than meat—absorb and hold water, thereby increasing the weight, Mrs. Clyatt points out.

"They're also lower priced than meat, so the cheaper packages of wieners will have larger amounts in relation to the meat content. The federal meat inspection mark is the shoppers' guarantee that the product is wholesome, suitable for human consumption, and is honestly labeled," she said.

The mark is a round purple stamp with the words "U. S. Inspected and Passed" printed within the circle. The stamp also has a code number that identifies the packing house that processed the product.

Make Your Home Salable

Are you selling your house? A house, like any other merchandise, must look attractive to sell, Wanda Barkley, Extension Service specialist in home management, emphasizes.

No other merchandise is subjected to such critical inspection and fault-seeking as a house, the specialist reminds. If the property is not attractive, it may draw bargain hunters who will buy only if they can get a lot more than their money's worth.

Here are four types of improvements that home owners can do: Repair—see that every part of the structure is sound and that all mechanical equipment works. Even a sticking drawer shows poor up-

WHY

Do So Many Home Buyers Insist on Medallion Homes?

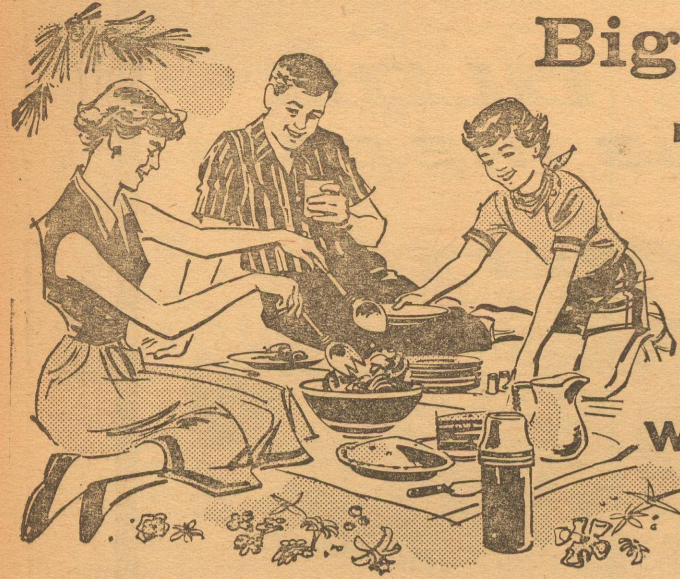

"Live Better Electrically," the advertising slogan says. Modern homemakers know that it's more than a mere slogan—it's a fact. You CAN live better electrically when you buy a Medallion home. Here's why. The man who built that home, the Medallion home, EARNED the privilege of displaying the medallion by observing certain minimum electrical standards in the design and construction of the home, and in the appliances which are a part of the plan for living. It has been called "the Hallmark of Excellence." And it is. So look for the "Live Better Electrically" medallion when you are thinking of buying a new home. Enjoy FLAMELESS electric living!
