Testing continues this week on the Continental No. 1 Moore well, a likely new field opener in the Reynolds community.

A series of drill stem tests have been taken in the past ten days. As of yesterday the project was still in the Ellenburger formation salt water had not been encountered and the operators were still much encouraged over prospects of an eventual producer.

Two drillstem tests were reported last week. A third drillstem test between 7875 - 7926 feet, recovery was 450 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud, 1400 feet of mud and 2500 of gas. This was a one-hour test.

4th test. On a three-hour test between 7894-7969 feet, recovery was 100 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 1700 feet of gas, no water. Flowing pressure was 125 lbs, and shut-in pressure 400 lbs.

In a fifth drillstem test, between 7969-8020 feet, for two hours there was strong to decreasing blow. Recovery was 1100 feet of gas, 10 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud, no oil or water.

Scherck 3 Wilson has been fishing for stuck drillpipe.

Surface hole for Steward No. 1 Baugh has been bottomed at 515 and casing set.

Roads have been built and location prepared for the Ohio No. 24 Thomson well in the Huldale field. Dixon-Polson Drilling Company of Abilene has the drilling contract and machinery was expected to start arriving today. Drilling will start as soon as the rig can be set up.

A fifth producer for the Webster gas field of eastern Schleicher Co., becomes a certainty with completion of Southern Minerals Corp., No. 1 Josephine Tisdale, a link well 3/8 mile northeast and 5/8 mile southwest in 5-BS&F, Abst 39, 4 1/2 miles northwest of Fort McKavett.

The well was finaled for calculated open flow of 1,080,000 cubic feet of dry gas daily. Production was through perforations between 4056-065 feet in 5 1/2 inch casing cemented at 4150 feet, on total depth of 4854.

Ashmun & Hilliards, Ltd., Midland, & Fortune Drilling Corp., San Angelo No. 1 Mrs. Grace O'Harrow has been finaled for calculated flow of 4,200,000 cubic feet of gas plus 62.6 barrels of distillate. Location is in 69-H-G&SA, 17 miles northwest of Eldorado.

Standard Oil Co., Midland filed application to drill No. 1 Sarah Jane Hall, about 3/4 miles north of Huldale. Location is 1150 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of 1 J A Whitie survey, abst 663.

Tide Water Ass't Oil Co. filed application to drill No. 6 L. Whitten, one location east of an assured location, south extension to the Huldale field. Operations will begin immediately. Location is 2333 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of 84-LL-TCRR.

Hybrid Grain Sorghums Make Debut This Year

College Station.—Hybrid grain sorghums which are expected to increase yields 30 to 40 percent will be grown commercially in Texas this year. It marks the first such production anywhere in the world.

Production during the 1955 growing season, however, will be limited to one-acre crossing plots on several selected farms. Foundation seed stocks will go to seed growers in 1956 and the new hybrids will be available for large scale planting in 1957.

Development of grain sorghum hybrids has been underway since 1927 at the Chillicothe substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station by J. Roy Quinby and J. C. Stephens. Dr. N. W. Kramer and R. E. Kasper of the Lubbock substation also have contributed to the research.

There is an oddity in the new hybrids. Due to the parentage of hybrids, farmers will plant white seed but harvest red grain.

Post Script

Today being the closing date for purchase of car licenses a long line-up is expected in the office of the sheriff and tax assessor-collector. Payment picked up Monday morning and business has been fairly brisk all week.

Jack Montgomery, a mechanic with Tisdale Chevrolet Co., for 1 1/2 years, attended the General Motors training center at Garland last week to learn advanced automotive service techniques which he will use in his work here.

The East Side Baptist Church is a beehive of activity as members rush to get the new building ready for occupancy on Easter Sunday—this to be followed in a week or two by dedications services.

Title is being laid this week in sanctuary, rest rooms and nursery, and other rooms will be tiled thru the summer months. Installation of air conditioning, and putting in of gas, electricity and water, are all time-consuming projects.

The women are handling hammers and saws like professionals as they complete such chores as putting up wall board. The men are donating labor as they can spare time from their businesses.

Some finish work will remain to be done after the congregation moves in.

Methodist Revival Is Closing Sunday; Homecoming Is Feature

Interest has been good in the church-wide revival which is under way at the Methodist Church, with the district superintendent, Rev. L. Eugene Harris of San Angelo preaching and Max Hinds of San Angelo leading the singing. Mrs. Ernest Hill has been playing for the services.

Two prayer services and children's choir practice are held each evening at 7:00, and this is followed by the church service. Morning services have been at 10:00.

A busy day is planned Sunday, when the revival will be brought to a close, and Homecoming will be held, with ground breaking ceremonies for the new educational building planned.

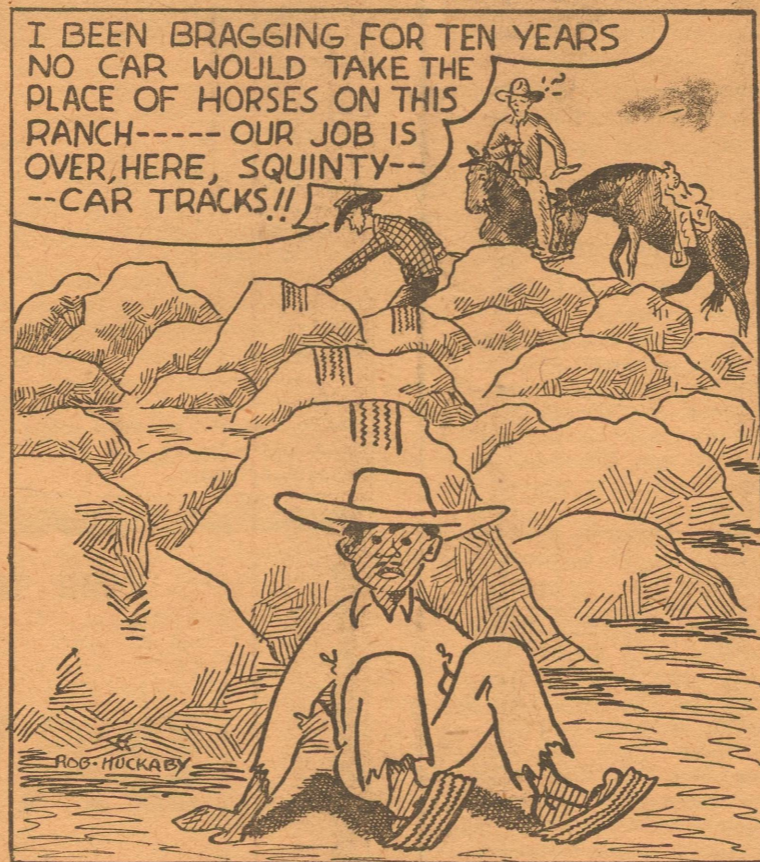

That being Palm Sunday, the customary reception of a children's class into the church is planned. A basket dinner at noon will be followed by ground breaking ceremonies at 2:30, after which quarterly conference will be held.

Homecoming speaker at the night service will be Rev. Fred Hamner of San Angelo, a former district superintendent. The evening's services will center around the Homecoming theme, and the fact that the church is celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Sunday school will be held as usual Sunday morning, with all of the adult division meeting together in the auditorium.

Visitors at any services are welcome, and all former members of the church are urged to be here for Homecoming.

PARIS D. BURNHAM IS NEW MANAGER FOR CAMERON'S

Paris D. Burnham of Winters, arrived in Eldorado yesterday morning to check in as new manager for Cameron's, succeeding W. M. Patterson, who is moving to Abilene to become partner and active manager of a lumber yard.

Absence of Poll Tax Reduces School Trustee Slate to Five

The official ballots for the school trustee election were re-printed early this week, and the number of candidates was reduced from six to five, when it was discovered by election officials that one candidate had forgotten to pay his poll tax for the current year.

Ballots which had been printed last Thursday were destroyed and County Judge Bearce placed a rush order for new ballots Monday afternoon. The name eliminated was that of W. C. (Bill) Lester.

The new ballots, which were delivered to the Judge the same afternoon as ordered, now carry the following five names for the voters' selection—in this order:

C. O. Dewey
Wm. H. Oglesby
Joe A. Warley
Henry Speck, Sr.
Jim O'Harrow

The county-wide voting takes place this week—on Saturday, April 2—at one voting box which will be at the school house. Thaxter (Bob) Faught will be the election judge—assisted by a number of helpers.

Out of the above slate the voters are asked to vote for two. The first three names on the ballot are new candidates, while the last two—Speck and O'Harrow—are incumbents, seeking re-election.

CITY ELECTION TUESDAY

Also Provides For Absentee Balloting

Although there is little demand for absentee ballots in local elections, officials this year are taking pains to comply with the law and make such facilities available to voters. Absentee balloting in the school trustee election closed yesterday at 5:00 p. m.

Now comes the City of Eldorado with the announcement that the City, too, has provided for absentee balloting in the forthcoming election for Mayor and aldermen.

The city election takes place next Tuesday, April 5. Ballots have already been printed, and are now available to those who wish to vote absentee. The procedure is the same—go to the County Clerk's office to cast your absentee ballot. Friday is the last day this can be done.

The only contest in the city election is for the position of Mayor, in which incumbent Eldon Calk has Rance McDonald as an opponent. The rest of the city ballot consists of three unopposed candidates running for three alderman places.

Thursday: Boys Club meeting at 7:00.
Friday: Good Friday services at 10:00 a. m.

At our monthly family night we will have an interesting program next week. Coach Frank Baker is to tell the whole church something of his experiences and impressions of the Holy Land. During the war he spent a little more than two months there convalescing and he made a very careful study of the Nativity scene and other places of interest. Some time ago he talked to the men's club about it and it made such a deep impression on them that they requested that he tell the whole church about it. Those who attend will have a real treat next Wednesday.

We are happy to have the union Good Friday services at the Presbyterian Church on April 8th. We hope to have the church filled to hear meditations on our Lord's seven words from the Cross. It is very fitting that we all attend.

OUR WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

By a two-to-one margin, the House last week approved the sale of the Government-owned synthetic rubber plants for $300 million. Built early in the war to provide synthetic rubber in place of raw rubber taken over by the Japs in southeast Asia, the plants "nushroomed and amazed the world with the volume and quality of output. This was all done by the big rubber and oil companies which furnished patents, technicians and "know-how," and operated the plants under contract for Uncle Sam.

So, this being a business that is highly competitive, which can properly be conducted by private industry—and this being a free-enterprise country as distinguished from a socialist country—it was, of course, proper for the Government to sell the plants, put them on tax rolls, and get out of that sort of business. Uncle Sam lost nothing on the venture.

A determined fight against approval of sales, using as a smoke-screen the claim that "small business" and the "little fellow" would be choked out of a supply source by the purchasers, was waged. But the fallacy of that claim was exposed when it was shown that the new owners of the plants contracted to furnish nearly twice as much rubber as the small fabricators can use, at fair prices.

Nell Williams of ACC spent the spring holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams.

Tax Switch.—It is apparent that administration forces have climbed aboard the "omnibus" tax bill—and abandoned Gov. Allen Shivers' two single-shot tax vehicles. This opens the door wide for increasing present taxes and perhaps adding new ones. Gov. Shivers originally asked only a 2-cent hike in the gasoline sales tax and a 1-cent increase in the cigarette tax.

There is no question as to where the money will come from — the taxpayers' pockets. The problem is how to extract it.

Giles Probe. — Investigation of veteran land deals continued. A witness before the Senate investigating committee testified that former land commissioner Bascom Giles and Lawrence Jackson, secretary of the veterans land board, raised no objection to a block land operator buying up veterans' rights for the purchase of land by others.

Herbert Bix of Georgetown, the witness, told the committee he was assured by Giles and Jackson that it "didn't make any difference to the state who made the payments." Three Georgetown veterans testified that Bix had paid them from $35 to $70 for signing applications, with the understanding that they were not buying land, but authorizing others to buy.

Insurance Rues. — Insurance reform bills made progress. Finally passed by the Senate and sent to the House was one measure requiring written examinations for the licensing of legal reserve life insurance agents. Another bill passed first reading, but did not get enough votes for immediate final passage.

This second bill, by Sen. Bracewell of Houston, would require legal reserve life companies to have $250,000 capital and $125,000 surplus. At present, the requirement is only $25,000 to $100,000, depending on whether a limited or full capital stock company is concerned.

Gas Everywhere. Representatives from 500 Panhandle area farm families swarmed the legislature to support two bills that will make natural gas available to them. At present, the area produces two million feet of gas a day, but the farmers can't buy the gas to run irrigation pumps for drought-hit wheatland.

One measure pushed by the group would require gas companies having wells on irrigated farm land, to sell enough gas to run the pumps. Another would give royalty owners the right to either sell their share of the gas or to use it for irrigation pumps.

Water Program.—Final Senate approval has been given a proposed constitutional amendment calling for a $100 million state aid program for local water conservation. If the House approves it, it will go to the people September 20. A state property tax of three cents per $100 value would finance the bill.

Best Type Spray Nozzle Studied
College Station. — The hollow-cone type spray nozzle is superior to those which give a flat fan-shaped spray pattern for cotton insect control, tests indicate.

This finding emerged from three-year tests at the Texas Agricultural experiment station designed to determine the best type and nozzle arrangement for cotton bollworm and boll weevil control.

Hollow-cone type nozzles gave better control of insects and subsequent higher cotton yields.

Throughout the studies, sprayed plots yielded approximately half a bale more cotton an acre than untreated plots.

One hollow-cone type nozzle placed directly above the row gave yields equal to those where two and three hollow-cone nozzles were placed at the top and sides of the drill rows. Complete results of the 1952-54 studies are given in Progress Report 1752, which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Tex.

Home Lawns Need Complete Fertilizer
College Station.—Home lawns receive an added "punch" if treated in the spring with a complete fertilizer. Use a fertilizer of a 2-1-1 or 1-1-1 ratio at rates to supply two pounds of actual nitrogen for each 1,000 square feet of lawn area, advises E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. That's the amount of nitrogen in 20 pounds of 10-20-10 or 40 pounds of 5-10-5.

Another pound of nitrogen applied at 30 to 40 day intervals will keep lawns green throughout the summer, says Trew. Supply water as needed.

Water only when the yard shows a definite need. Soak the soil to a depth of at least six inches when the grass takes on a sheen or wilt.

Light frequent sprinklings produce shallow roots and encourage weeds. Shallow roots also are unable to utilize available moisture and plant food.

Improper mowing is responsible for the deterioration of many lawns, says the specialist, who advises against clipping more than one-half inch of growth at any single mowing. Keep the grass at a height of one and one-half to two inches, depending upon the turf thickness. Close mowing will thin the turf, lowering its resistance to drought.

Finally Trew says a sharp, well-adjusted mower that clips off, not crushes off, the tips will give lawns a final "well-groomed" look.

Brush Control Vs No Brush Control
Hebronville.—More evidence that brush control pays:

The Benavides brothers, Jim Hogg county ranchers, recently sold 43 calves for $92.92 a head. The calves had been raised on pasture where a brush control project was begun six years ago.

Fifteen calves on a neighboring ranch were shipped to market about the same time. These calves, raised in brushy pastures, sold for $72.80 per head.

In addition to increased profits, the Benavides brothers did not buy supplemental feeds during the winter, reports Travis A. King, county agent. The neighbor's calves were creep fed for 40 days and the cows required 15 to 20 pounds of hay each day.

Calves from both pastures were the same age and breed, and the pastures contained about the same type vegetation, says King.

Watch Your Hat, Coat
The sign over the coat rack read: "Not responsible for lost of stolen articles." John glanced at it as he hung up his coat and hat and then turned to assist Jean, his wife, in taking off her fur coat. He put it on a hangar beside his own.

The two of them drifted casually down the corridor into the dining salon and were assigned to a table by the hostess. The lunch was exceptionally good and both were hungry. The minutes flew by. John glanced at his watch, "Golly, it's almost 1 o'clock. Better get going."

But when they got back to the coat rack, Jean's fur coat was gone.

"I'm sorry, sir," said the manager, "but we are not responsible for lost articles. We put up the coat rack for the convenience of our patrons, but that sign you see makes you responsible for your own hat and coat. I'm awfully sorry but we just can't watch everybody's possessions."

Sign Not Factor
The fact is that in the case of Jean's fur coat the restaurant would not have been responsible for its loss even if there had been no sign. One who takes off a garment and places it on a coat rack, as one would do in a restaurant, retains the power of surveillance and control over it himself. Ordinarily, under such circumstances, the operators of the restaurant have no responsibility toward the customer's belongings because they have not knowingly received the exclusive possession and dominion over them.

The case would be different, however, where the coat had been delivered to an employee in a checkroom. In such event, the management probably would be responsible. So, also, in the cases where a customer checks valuables with a bathing house proprietor, or with a hotel desk clerk, or leaves his automobile with the parking lot attendant to be parked and stored for him, those receiving possession of the customer's property have the duty to use proper care to see that the customer's property is returned.

PATENT PROTECTIVE MEASURES EXPLAINED
Got a good idea for a new invention floating around in the back of Fort Worth — A total of 24,306 sheep and lambs arrived for Monday's trade at Fort Worth. The unexpectedly large offering was the biggest in a single day since May 22, 1950 when 25,100 were unloaded. Largest day prior to that was in May 1948 when 37,807 were chocked up in one marketing day.

Most unusual aspect of the big run was that it came so early in the season. Big movement of Texas lambs usually happens in May or June. The big offering was about 75% milk fat lambs of the new crop aimed at the Easter trade. Lambs processed the forepart of this week will be sold to Easter lamb buyers in the North and East next week.

Trade opened 50 cents to $1 lower on all sheep and lambs and prices slid downward to $1 and spots $2 lower by the close. Choice lambs drew $23 to $25, and old crop fat lambs sold from $20 down. Old wethers topped at $14.

Trade on most classes of cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday was active and fully steady to strong. The only class experiencing severe pressure was fed steers, yearlings, and heifers. Fed cattle sold steady to weak, some of the plainer quality fat cattle unevenly lower.

Cows were active and fully steady. Bulls sold stronger. Cows ranged up to $14 and a few bulls sold to $14.50. Fed cattle sold mainly from $23.50 down, though some fancy yearlings weighed up at $25 on a previous sale.

Tony fat calves sold from $19 to $21.50 and stocker steer calves and stocker steer yearlings sold from $22 downward.

VISITING MINISTER AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Rev. Thompson of Lubbock preached at the Congregational Methodist Church Sunday, in preparation for his ordination as a minister in the church at the next district conference Sept. 1. He preached here because of the fact that the Eldorado minister, Rev. O. D. Cox, is chairman for the ordination committee for the West Texas District.

A car of Lubbock church members and a car of London Methodists joined with the local members to hear Rev. Thompson, and a good crowd was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Edmiston and Mrs. E. H. Nixon Jr., were called to Dilley Tuesday because of the death of Mrs. G. W. Cozby, a sister-in-law.

your mind? Yes? Perhaps to protect your rights you should file an application for a patent with the U. S. Patent Office.

Under the patent laws of the United States, an application for patent must be filed, if at all, earlier than one year after the date of first public sale or use or published disclosure of the invention.

If this deadline is met, then the person who first conceives a new and novel patentable idea is entitled to it, provided he thereafter pursues a course of reasonable diligence in reducing his invention to practice or filing a patent application thereon. Therefore, if conflicting claims arrive as to who is entitled to a patent, it is necessary to establish who first had the idea, and not just who filed the first application for patent.

Since an inventor is automatically given credit for a date as early as his application, without having to introduce any proof, an early application date is advantageous though not conclusive. But if an inventor protects himself while he is making tests and perfecting his invention, he can get credit for a date earlier than his date of application.

To do this, he should, as soon as he conceives the idea, make a written record of the facts, including a general statement of the nature of his invention, and a rough drawing if possible. Preferably the written record is photocopied. The photocopy of the record should be dated and signed by two witnesses who have read and understood it and who can be called upon later to certify that they read and understood the photocopy of the record on the dates beside their names.

While some inventors mail written disclosures of their inventions to themselves, such procedure is not necessary if the foregoing preferred procedure is followed.

By taking the above precautions, an inventor establishes a preliminary date showing the time when his original idea was conceived. After that he can continue with his work, perfect his idea, and after it is perfected, make application for a patent, if he feels that he has a patentable idea. But the inventor must also keep records of his continued work, and the continued work should be disclosed periodically to a witness who is not a co-inventor.

While an inventor should seek a patent as soon as possible after he conceives his idea and works out structure or process steps for the practice of the idea, if he keeps complete records of his work and has his work witnessed periodically by someone who can later be called upon to corroborate the inventor's story, then the inventor may protect himself clear back to the date of his original conception.

Churches of City Plan For Easter

Climaxing the Lenten season, the various churches of Eldorado are making plans for observance of Easter, which is traditionally a high point in the church year. Ministers are planning to deliver Easter messages and many of the churches have special music and display of flowers in commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus.

While some of the churches will present more special features than do others, all are expecting record-breaking crowds, especially at the morning services.

Tentative plans as worked out this week are these:

Presbyterian

The pastor, Rev. James Spencer, will deliver an Easter sermon and will christen several infants, according to plans announced today. Mrs. James Page will be in charge of the choir, which will present special music.

The Easter service will be an anniversary for the pastor—the church voted to call him on April 8, a year ago.

First Baptist

Rev. J. C. Hancock, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will present the Easter message on Easter morning. There will be special music by the choir, with the associate pastor, Rev. Bill Smith, in charge.

Methodist

The kindergarten and nursery age children of the Methodist Sunday school will present a program at the Sunday school hour on Easter morning. The pastor, Rev. Doyle Morton, will deliver the Easter sermon and baptize infants and there will be special music by combined adult and children's choirs.

East Side Baptist

Easter Sunday will be a big day for the East Side Baptist congregation who will be holding services for the first time in their new church building. While the church is not quite completed, and Rev. Joe Dossett, pastor, predicts some confusion while classes are assigned to their new rooms, the biggest day in the history of the new church is predicted. Sunday school attendance average for March has been at a new high of 65 per Sunday.

Others Planning Services

The various other churches in the city are planning Easter services, which will be announced, as they are reported, in the Eldorado Success.

News From Our Neighbors

Pageant Planned

Easter pageant production moved into faster tempo this week with rehearsals started and widespread advertising underway for the fifth annual pageant presented by the Men's Bible Class in the Lover's Leap amphitheatre.

First two rehearsals under direction of Mrs. Jack Reeves were held Sunday afternoon and Tuesday evening at the amphitheatre. — Junction Eagle.

Underground Fire

Though not exactly a raging blaze, a smoldering fire under the ground of a former marsh area on the Lee O. White farm 5 miles northeast of Fort Stockton is a long-lived one, and it is cutting out the base under a considerable area of salt-grass flat.

The fire has been smoking and smoldering along without interruption since Thanksgiving, and barring a major flood which would engulf the entire flat or raise water tables under the land, it may last for a lot longer period. — Ft. Stockton Pioneer.

Polio Vaccine Available

Detailed plans now are being worked out for the possible administration of polio vaccine to 1241 Upton County children who will be eligible to receive it if it is licensed, Dr. J. L. Cooper, County Health Officer, declared today.

Parents were warned by Dr. Cooper not to jump to the conclusion that the current planning indicated the vaccine already had been proved effective. — McCamey News.

Salary Scale Raised

All teachers in the Ozona school system were re-elected and details of program plans for the 1955-56 term were discussed at the regular meeting of the school board Tuesday night.

The teacher salary scale was set at a minimum of $3,600 per year for beginning teachers, a raise from $3,300, putting the local system in a position to compete with area schools in seeking the best in teacher talent. — Ozona Stockman.

School Board Race

Although interest in the city election on April 5 is apparently at a minimum, activity in the school election on April 2 picked up somewhat during the past few days when the list of candidates for the three vacancies grew to five persons. — Menard News.

Church Annex Planned

The First Baptist Church launched a drive last Sunday to raise $10,000 with which to begin construction on a new educational unit. The drive will be climaxed on Easter Sunday. In the meantime every member of the church and Sunday school will be contacted, the pastor, Rev. Taft Holloway, stated. The proposed educational unit will be located on the church property south of the main building. — Big Lake Wildcat.

Association To Meet

R. W. Hodge of Del Rio, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, has issued a call for a special meeting of the board of directors of the association to meet in Ozona sometime in April. The exact date, to be decided with a view to avoiding conflicts with other meetings, will be announced later. — Ozona Stockman.

Streets Paved By County

In a special meeting last Monday, March 21, the Upton County Commissioners Court reached an agreement on which streets and roads would be paved should the proposed county-wide paving issue pass on April 2. This week interest in the bond issue began to crystallize, with last minute developments indicating a forceful drive from both those in favor and those opposed to the issue. — McCamey News.

Grocery Store Sold

Transactions were completed the latter part of last week of the sale of one of the early day grocery stores in the area to Alton Reese by Mrs. F. H. McAllister, owner of the store since 1927.

The firm, known as the McAllister Red & White Grocery in recent years, was first started in the early 1900's. It was purchased by the McAllisters in 1927, and operated by Mrs. McAllister since 1933. — Eden Echo.

Newspaper Moves

Preparatory work got underway this week at the Big Lake Wildcat for its move to the plant's new location in the Gross building on Second Street in the building formerly occupied by The Model. The Big Lake Wildcat is in its thirtieth year of continuous publication. Established in 1925 by the late John Hibdon, it has been in its present location since 1927. — Big Lake Wildcat.

Uranium In Big Bend?

The Big Bend country, especially in the vicinity of the Terlingua quicksilver district, should be thoroughly prospected for uranium, declares a special report prepared by the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas. "Across the Rio Grande in Mexico," the report states, "uranium mineralization accompanies both mercury and fluorospar mineralization." — Alpine Avalanche.

Bronte Streets Paved

Bronte's paving project has been getting well underway this week. C. & C. Asphalt Paving Co., of Colorado City has the contract on the project and have already moved in considerable dirt moving equipment. First work was done on the street which runs north and south between Pruitt's store and Bronte Ice Co. — Bronte Enterprise.

The Girl Scout and Brownie leaders are to meet Tuesday, April 5 at 7 p. m. at the Memorial building to plan the next training program.

Texas Viewpoint In Washington, D. C.

By Price Daniel, U.S. Senator
Strong efforts were made in Congress last week to provide increased cotton and rice allotments to care for hardship cases.

It appeared until the last vote that the Senate would approve increases in allotments to cotton farmers who could show hardship under present allotments. The House had passed an over-all 3% increase in the allotment for each State, which would have meant 228,383 additional acres for Texas. The Senate approved half that increase, but just before final passage an increase in wheat allotments was added by amendment. That seemed to load the bill too heavily, and on final vote it was defeated 51 to 39. This was a disappointment for all of us who had been insisting on additional acreage for family-size farms. It means that 1955 cotton allotments will not be increased. All Texas acreage has been allotted by the State committee.

The only hope for individual relief now lies with county committees, a few of which will have acreage available for hardship cases.

Texas Cotton Allotments

Texas has 42% of the entire 1955 cotton allotment for the nation. This is because of the fact that our State has grown about this percentage of the cotton produced in the nation for many years.

Texas cotton farmers are both large and small. In central and east Texas we have 18,000 farms with less than 5 acres allotted to cotton. In west Texas we have nearly 2 million acres of irrigated cotton land, with farms ranging from a few hundred to a few thousand acres. When a special increased allotment was proposed for irrigated lands in four western states, California, New Mexico, Nevada and Arizona, it was discovered that West Texas has more irrigated cotton lands than all of these four states put together.

Our total of cotton allotments for Texas is 7,612,779 acres. The allocation this year was difficult for the small family size farms, and it was to help them that Congress considered the above mentioned bill.

The classes attended a field trip out to John Miller's place for a lesson by Bill Rountree and Max Shrader. This included permeability, land class, and land conservation practices.

A blustering cold sandstorm on Friday quickly changed a Future Homemakers mother & daughter barbecue picnic to an indoor buffet supper. Spare ribs which were to have been barbecued over long burning charcoal fires were replaced by quartered frying sized chickens wrapped in aluminum foil with barbecue sauce spooned over the chicken.

Burlap from new wool sacks covered the table and a huge centerpiece of fruits and vegetables was arranged in the center. Colleen Hicks, president of the club, served chicken at the buffet and the guests helped themselves to assorted relishes, country style red beans, potato salad, and iced tea. Large trays of cookies were passed for dessert.

About seventy people were served and as the entertainment of the evening the girls treated their mothers and guests to a movie.

Farmers of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District are busy preparing their fields for the coming planting season. Contour lines have been run on several new fields belonging to Parker Foods, Inc. These fields were recently broken from pasture land.

Bob and Jim Martin have about completed the construction of a net wire diversion in one of their pastures. This was installed across a shallow draw so that the runoff water could be diverted over an adjacent flat. The old grass, leaves, and other debris caught in the net wire will eventually build up and form a natural diversion. This type of diversion insures the maximum use of rainfall by getting water to areas able to absorb it and keep water from running off.

A check of blue panic stands belonging to Pete Parker and Clemens Sauer reveals many new seedlings are already up this year. Most of the old plants have shown remarkable growth. The average last year's plant was better than six inches high. Considering the amount of moisture and the winter season, it is quite clear that blue panic would produce plenty of spring and summer grazing once it became established. The fact that it greens up before other annual grazing crops, such as sudan grass, are even planted, makes it even more valuable.

Root rot, which destroys as much as 20% of the cotton crop in many of the leading cotton counties can be controlled by steps which lead to increased soil fertility. Although not recognized as root rot, or as in many cases the cause laid to other sources, it is commonly present wherever cotton is planted yearly. This disease is often laid to fungus and bugs by the uninformed.

However, C. B. Spencer, agricultural director of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association, states, "Experiments and experience prove that root rot can be controlled by using legumes in a crop rotation and by putting back into the soil such crop residues as green cotton, sorghum stalks, and small grain stubble"

The use of legumes will not only reduce the amount of root rot but will also increase the pounds of lint per acre.

In addition to the value of controlling root rot and improving the fertility of the soil is that leaving a good crop residue on the surface of the soil is one of the best means of controlling wind and water erosion.

For information or assistance regarding any production or conservation problem contact your local office of the Soil Conservation Service, or Soil Conservation District Supervisor.

Mrs. S. H. Cheatham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cheatham and Tony visited in San Angelo Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Millard Smith, Mrs. Bill McSwane and other relatives.

Week end guests in the E. T. Calk home were Mrs. DeBerry, Billy Boy and Vess of Brownwood and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Calk of Coleman.

Apply Early For Cotton Market News Services

College Station.—Farmers will follow the same procedure as last year in obtaining cotton classification and market news services in 1955 under the Smith-Doxey Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces.

Cotton growers are urged to prepare and submit their applications as soon as cotton has been planted and well in advance of the ginning season. Those not filing may fail to obtain the classification of cotton ginned early in the season, as time is required for groups to make arrangements for having samples taken and submitted to the classing office.

Samples submitted under this program are to be cut from both sides of the bale by a bonded sampler or by an employee of a public ware house or compress which issues negotiable warehouse receipts.

Cotton classed for members of improvement groups under the Smith-Doxey Act for the 1954 crop will exceed 10,000,000 bales, or 74 percent of the total crop.

Instructions and application blanks may be obtained from county agents, state and county ASC offices or from Agricultural Marketing Service, Cotton Division Room 506 U. S. Terminal Annex Building, Dallas 22, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Alexander of Rochelle and Mrs. Daymon Alexander of Big Lake visited Monday with Mr and Mrs. T. H. Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kerr and Phyllis Kerr of Marlin visited Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Anderson and other relatives.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Joiner were her mother, Mrs. M. H. Kelly, her brother, Trevlyn Kelly, and Wanda Louellan, all of Colorado City.

Pink and Blue Tea Honors Mrs. Jackson Jr.

Mrs. Edwin M. Jackson Jr., was honored with a gift tea at the home of Mrs. F. B. Gunn Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Joe Eden, Mrs. B. F. Gunn and Mrs. Edwin Jackson. Mrs. Johnnie Mayo had charge of the program. Gifts were presented in a bassinet by a nurse.

Martha Dell Williams, Mae Runge and Trudy Gaynor served punch and cake from a table covered with a linen cut cloth and centered with an arrangement of iris and tulips.

About 25 guests called during the tea hour.

I thought For The Week Ministerial Alliance

As we come to Palm Sunday our minds take us back to the first Palm Sunday. We call it the Triumphal Entry, and so it was. Yet, Jesus was the only one who made a triumphal entry that day. He did not succumb to the pressure of friends and those who would use him. They cried "Hosanna!" which means "Save, now," but theirs was a selfish prayer. "Save the land," "Save the government," "Save the city" but never "Save the soul of this people." Jesus triumphed over their popular acclaim. Nor was he less triumphant when the crowd cried "Crucify him." Because Jesus did not give in to their selfish desires on Palm Sunday, it is likely that some of the same people who shouted "Hosanna" were saying "Crucify him." Their cruelty and coldness of heart could not break him. Jesus was triumphant over praise and tragedy. He can help us to triumph over praise or tragedy in our day.—Doyle W. Morton.
