WHAT IS GOOD FOR THE SOIL IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL

Conservation of Soil Still In Spotlight In Schleicher Area

This week, as the eyes of the nation are upon the Soil Conservation Service during their special week, it is interesting to Schleicherites and others in the local district to look back over the 14 years which have elapsed since the local set-up was organized.

In 1939 the Texas Legislature passed a law enabling farmers and ranchers to form Soil Conservation Districts to combat erosion. Soon afterward interested leaders in Schleicher and part of Tom Green began to talk of organizing such a district here, and on June 23, 1941, the certificate of organization was issued to the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District.

Five supervisors, each representing a zone, govern the district; they are elected to their posts by landowners of the district and contribute their services free.

The district has been in active operation since March, 1942, when the first soil and water conservation plan was worked out on the C. N. Shaw place. To date there are nearly 300 farmers and ranchers listed as cooperators. These cooperators are assisted by SCS technicians in working up a plan for their places, the primary objective being maximum production on each acre.

Throughout the United States the soil conservation districts have helped to maintain a stable agriculture, and in the area of the severe drought soil conservation is generally conceded to be a must.

Fort Worth.—Last Monday the nation's 12 major markets reported close to 125,000 cattle and calves. This was about 20,000 more than a year ago the same date, and 10,000 ahead of a week earlier. It was the signal for renewed pressure on prices across the nation.

Chicago reported cattle 50 cents to $1.50 lower. Kansas City chalked up losses of 50 cents to $1 per hundred. It was the same story at all points. Here at Fort Worth grainfed cattle were scarce and pretty close to steady, but the rank and file cattle and calves averaged 50 cents to $1 lower, some spots more and some spots less.

In livestock circles this happens every year, usually in June. However, the season governs the "June Break." An early season such as this one sees the break in cattle prices come early, and a late season, sometimes the break comes in July or later.

Usually the "June Break" comes soon after the first interval of high temperature and burning summer winds, which sear pastures.

Tippy fed cattle sold at Fort Worth at $22 to $23.50. Some other well fitted cattle at $22 and $23 on the yards were fully steady. But, otherwise cattle and calves all lost ground, whether sold as slaughter or stocker kinds.

Cows $6.00 to $13.00; bills $9.00 to $13.50; Slaughter calves $9.00 to $21; Stocker calves and yearlings $13 to $21; heifer mates $3 to $5 under stocker steers.

Cattle Numbers Increase
Virtually all important cattle producing countries of the world show increases in the past year in their cattle population. Latest report covering end of 1954 estimates world cattle number at 877,000,000. This is ten million above the 1953 total.

In the U. S. the increase last year was about one per cent. In the face of the current big supplies of feed grains in storage in the U. S. ample production of meat, poultry, milk, eggs and other farm produce in which feed or proteins figure—should remain at high levels for a year or longer.

Sheep Prices Dip
Prices of spring lambs were weak to 50 cents lower, some spots $1 off at Fort Worth Monday. Shorn old crop lambs closed mostly 50 cents to $1 off. Many spring lambs are definitely shrinking and showing loss of bloom now.

Soil Stewardship Day to Be Observed On Sunday

There can be no separation of man from the land—his whole existence is tied to the soil—from the beginning of his days to the time his body is laid to rest in the arms of the earth. From the busiest corner in the modern city to the windblown country fields, human livelihood is a product of the land.

Even in the most material sense the psalmist who scribed the 24th psalm, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," knew what he was writing. Throughout the ages, in one way or another, man has disputed this stewardship of the land, claiming its use for personal and often selfish benefits. Parts of the old Biblical land are among the countries which offer some of the world's most stark testimonials of soil erosion and land exploitation.

Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk, an eminent student of land use in the Biblical regions as well as other areas, states: "Out of the land of Mesopotamia came the stories of the 'Flood' and of Noah and the Ark; of Jonah and Nineveh and of the 'Tower of Babel.' Here also was the traditional site of the Garden of Eden, where Adam & Eve were food gatherers. Today it is as barren of vegetation as though shaved with a razor."

Fabulous old cities, now covered deep with shifting sands, broken and weathered olive presses and other relics of human endeavor and life offer mute testimony to the bountiful prosperity man once enjoyed from the then rich soil and flourishing agriculture. "The land which we passed through to spy it out is an exceeding good land—a land which floweth with milk and honey." This was the minority report submitted by Joshua and Caleb to Moses, who had sent these two and ten other men to spy out the land of Canaan.

Dr. Lowdermilk writes that "The Promised Land" which three thousand years ago was "flowing with milk and honey," has been so devastated by soil erosion that the soils have been swept off fully half the area of the hill lands. A survey of ancient village sites abandoned and now occupied discloses how the land of Palestine have been depopulated since the seventh century.

The grand finale rings down the curtain on the same scene. Shifting nomads in the desert, perhaps in what was once the Garden of Eden, —dark-skinned Hindus barely eking out an existence—Chinese peasants diking the Yell ow River higher and higher—and in our own nation the Mississippi River when, during flood stage, carrying a 40-acre farm seven inches deep out to the ocean every minute; all of these things give final proof to the psalm, "The earth is the Lord's."

This week of special observance of soil conservation districts will end on May 15, which has been designated as Soil Stewardship Sunday. Services are planned in many churches throughout the State whereby our people will be reminded of their dependence on the land and of their responsibility for proper stewardship of this God-given resource.

"Soil Stewardship Sunday is a day set aside to renew on the Lord's Day our pledge to preserve a great heritage—the soil, from which all our riches are born."

Many thousands of landowners and townspeople have come to realize their tremendous responsibility for the land, and its waters, forests and wildlife, through the observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday.

All ministers and their churches are invited to join in this observance May 15, that all Americans shall become better stewards of God's good earth.

A booklet especially developed to assist ministers and laymen in preparing their Soil Stewardship Sunday messages may be obtained from the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, League City, Texas.

What Must I Do To Be Saved
Recorded in Acts 16:30, the Phillippian jailer asked the question, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Paul and Silas answered him, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."
This is an age-old question made by men. It may be spoken out or be the secret desire of a person's heart. Every person must face the question and come to an answer of it. Many come to ignore it and in that way make disposal of it. Others give themselves to acts of penance or abuse to atone for their sins in order to be saved. Others seek to find certain acts to conform to in order that they might be saved after having completed them. Still others find a simple and yet profound faith in the Lord Jesus Christ by a full committal of self to Him. They believe that the little things are just as important as the greater things. They believe that God is just as demanding of all things as of some things.

What must you do to be saved? You must BELIEVE in the Lord Jesus Christ. To believe is to submit all of yourself, in everything to Him. Do you believe? Why not commit all to Him? Then you will be saved.—J. C. Hancock.

The moment the new Dodge hit dealers' showrooms, the "rush" was on. New car buyers had struck gold . . . and they knew it! Actual sales figures throughout the country show that sales have doubled over last year as America goes for "The Big One!" And why not? In the new Dodge you'll find "solid gold" luxury and value—for only a few dollars a month more than you'd pay for one of the "low price three." In its class, it actually costs less than cars up to 9 inches shorter. And its flair-fashioned styling is stealing the "Oh's" from cars costing a thousand dollars more. The rush is on . . . with 17 magnificent new Dodge models to choose from. So head for your Dodge dealer's . . . and take your pick!

Soil Conservation District Week Set

Governor Allan Shivers just recently signed a proclamation designating May 9 through the 15th as Soil Conservation District Week in Texas.

Soil Conservation District Week gives supervisors, cooperators, businessmen, bankers and other groups and individuals an opportunity to further a clearer understanding of the aims and purposes of soil conservation districts. It's the week set aside for bringing the district program into the consciousness of more and more people. When you think back a few short years, you realize the tremendous way the district program has come, but when you look around you, you realize too the long way it still has to go.

Texas landowners having organized 171 soil conservation districts covering more than 97 per cent of the land of Texas, are proving that known conservation techniques and practices will stabilize our soil, conserve our water and render each acre of land more productive.

Soil Conservation Districts are creations of the local people. Landowners have to vote a district in before it can be organized. That's according to the Texas Soil Conservation District law, passed in 1939.

The farmers and ranchers themselves have a big say-so about how the district is operated. The districts or landowners are in a position where they can run the whole show in a soil conservation district.

The Soil Conservation District program is truly the program for saving America's primary resource and we have an idea the pioneers who saw the light and pushed out ahead for the district movement will have a place alongside the leaders who in the early days of America pushed ahead for political freedom. The movement is not as dramatic, and its leaders may not get into history books, but the far-seeing land owners of America who are leaders in the district program unquestionably are strengthening and guaranteeing the economic independence of this nation. And without economic independence, political independence doesn't last long.

Mrs. Earl Cathey has returned from a 27-day stay in the Brady hospital, where she had major surgery.

Mrs. Carl Anderson of San Angelo is spending the week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Davidson.

News From Our Neighbors

New Church For Silver

Construction on the new building for the Silver Methodist Church is well underway with the roof and walls near completion. According to Chester Richie, contractor, nearly all material is on the ground and completion should be well ahead of the 120 day limit set in the contract. An additional grant of land has been given the church by Willie I. Tubb to increase the size of the lot to 490x180.—Robert Lee Observer.

Signals Neglected

A three-day survey of the habits of local drivers made by members of Mrs. Lonnie Pollard's driver education class reveals that many Menard county residents consistently violate city and state laws concerning the operation of motor vehicles. The survey, made at three different intersections in the county, shows that those who give the proper hand signals and observe other requirements of the law are in the decided minority.—Menard News.

Rains In Pecos County

Welcome rains fell on range lands last week-end, but not on all rangelands. Not-so-welcome rains fell for three days running on cotton fields of Coynosa. At planting time the cotton farmer would gladly give all his part of the rain to the ranches, but all too often the biggest rains seem to fall on the fields.—Fort Stockton Dioneer.

Oil, Gas Leases Asked

Approximately 20,500 acres of University of Texas owned land in Crockett County will be on the auction block in Austin on June 28 when the University will offer 149 tracts of land in 12 West Texas counties for oil and gas leases. The Crockett acreage carries drilling obligations for a total of nine wildcat wells, two of them Ellenburger tests to below 9,000 feet. Minimum bonuses specified on a few of the Crockett tracts is $71,000.—Ozona Stockman.

Trouble In McCamey

On April 25, at a mass meeting of the local retailers, fuel was added to the law enforcement controversy when a prominent local businessman charged that the local

City law enforcement officials were responsible for many of McCamey's former out-of-town customers now staying away. He stated that many people who used to come to McCamey to buy were now going to Crane, Odessa, and Midland because they were afraid they would be thrown in jail by McCamey's city police if they came here.—McCamey News.

Rain In Big Bend

Local rains, ranging from showers to torrential downpours, have fallen over a wide area of the Big Bend & Davis Mountains section since last Friday with the heaviest fall reported late Wednesday when an estimated four to six inches fell on the eastern slope of the Glass Mts.—Alpine Avalanche.

Teachers Elected

At a called meeting of the board of trustees of Edden Independent School District last Saturday, Jack Hughes of San Marcos was selected as coach of athletics for the coming semester. Mrs. Mabel Jones was selected by the board at that time to head the Home Economics department. Two other positions in the school system are yet to be filled, these are HS English and band director.—Eden Echo.

Mrs. C. M. McWhorter and Bill McWhorter left Tuesday for a visit in East Texas with relatives. They plan to be gone several days.

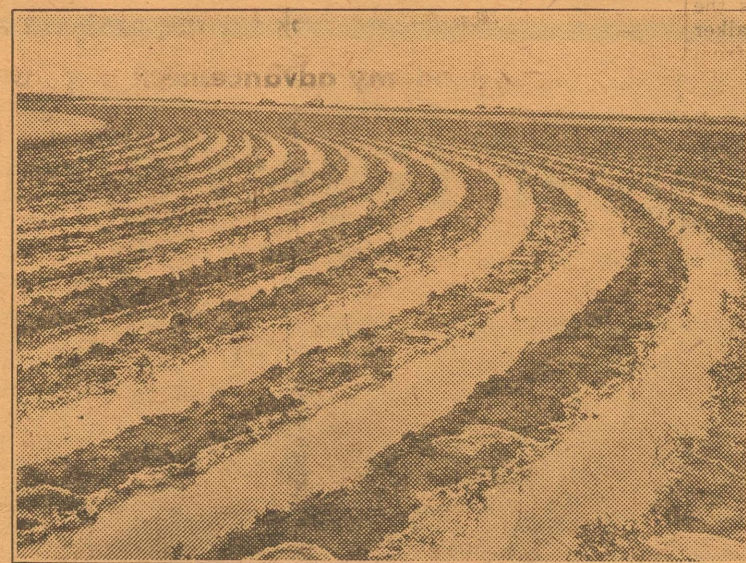

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kreklow spent the weekend in Dallas.

Soil Conservation Week

We are interested in Soil Conservation.

Our construction and maintenance men can run new Co-Op lines over any kind of terrain, whether it rains or not—and we can keep the current coming in any kind of weather.

But we are interested in more than that! It takes steady income to pay the electricity bills and it takes a thriving agriculture to carry out programs of expansion on individual farms and ranches—so—anything that helps agriculture helps us.

During Soil Conservation Week we gladly salute those farmers and ranchers who observe soil conservation practices, expressing their faith in the future of Schleicher agriculture even during these drouth years.

WHAT PRICE SPEED?

Speed—excessive, reckless speed is the greatest killer stalking the Nation's highways today.

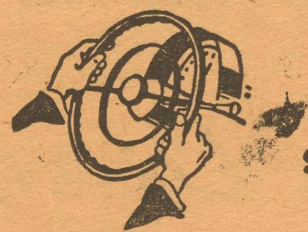

In one out of every two driver accidents resulting in deaths and injuries, speed is directly responsible for this carnage on the highways. Other lethal causes, such as cutting in and out, passing on curves and hills, driving off the roadway, are indirectly the result of quick bursts of speed.

And the speed death toll is climbing! Faster roads, super-powered cars urge drivers beyond their human limitations to a quicker and more frequent rendezvous with Death.

Rural highway fatalities due mainly to speed soared from 22,000 in 1949 to 28,200 in 1952 and over 31,000 in 1953. Those are the dead—and for every death count fifty injured, maimed, crippled for life.

Is this the price you and others are ready to pay for the momentary thrill and the ever-present danger of death from speed? It takes only a split second to change speed exhilaration into speed tragedy.

The decision is in your hands—be sane, be sensible, slow down and live!

SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

Powered by the most modern V8 in any truck...
Chevrolet's new Taskmaster V8 engine!

Chevrolet's great new L.C.F. models bring you all the advantages of a C.O.E. —plus a long list of important new advances you won't find anywhere else.

For example, the cab is a full seven inches lower than former C.O.E. models. And it has only two steps instead of the usual three for C.O.E.'s. Just think of the time and effort this will save the driver! Also, the low L.C.F. is handsomer by far than any C.O.E. ever built!

Inside, the L.C.F.'s new Flight-Ride cab has a level floor with plenty of "stretch-out" leg room and offers new driver comfort. The driver has a commanding view of the road—both far ahead and close up front—through the big, broad panoramic windshield.

Quicker, simpler maintenance is another big advantage offered by the new L.C.F. Everything's easier to reach in the roomy engine compartment.

In an L.C.F. you still get the easy maneuverability of a C.O.E. plus—new frames, new suspension, a whole truck-load of modern features!

Shortest Stroke V8 of All! The new Taskmaster V8—the most modern V8 your money can buy—powers the new L.C.F.! With a 12-volt electrical system for faster starting!

Year after year, America's best selling truck! CHEVROLET
