Two New Water Wells Big Boost To County Irrigation

The irrigation program in Schleicher County was given a big boost when Ray Bruton last Friday tested out his first well in the Reynolds community and developed a flow of over 825 GPM.

The 825-foot figure was the capacity of the pump—how much more the well was capable of producing was subject to speculation—some estimating as high as 1200 GPM.

A notable feature of this well is that it was drilled to a depth of 425 feet and that it produced the above flow from the Edwards lime without the benefit of acidizing. Bruton plans to start at once on drilling a second well.

Moore Well

The second good producer for the Reynolds area last week was Henry Moore's "Jack and Jene" well which was completed for a flow of over 650 GPM. This replaces the dry hole which was drilled on that farm about a month ago. Henry Moore already had two strong wells on his own farm.

A third development which is expected to come to a head this week, is the well being drilled by Joe Kreklow. After being disappointed with one dry hole, Mr. Kreklow had a new location picked out by "Reflectograph"—the results of this second test will be watched with great interest.

The list of successful irrigation wells developed in the last 18 months are:

1. Nick Jurecek
2. Leonard Lloyd,
3. Clyde Keeney,
4. Parker Bros.,
5. Henry Moore
6. Henry Moore,
7. Perry Mittel,
8. Jack and Jene Moore,
9. Ray Bruton.

Failures include one for Joe Kreklow and one for Jack and Jene Moore.

DRY CLEANING PLANT COMPLETELY GUTTED BY FIRE

The McMillan dry cleaning plant on Main street was completely gutted by a fire which broke out in the cleaning department at 1:30 p.m., last Friday and swept through the building at terrific speed. Cause of the fire is unknown.

The dry cleaning plant is located in a building which also houses Doyle's barber shop. Prompt action by the Eldorado Fire Department confined the blaze to the McMillan half of the building.

One rack of clean clothes was removed, but otherwise the contents of the shop are considered a total loss. The proprietor states that he plans to re-open with new equipment as soon as possible.

A Southern School assembly program will be presented at 1:00 p. m. Monday. Elementary assembly will be held Thursday at 2:00 p. m. with Mrs. Miller's first grade presenting this program.

PRIVATE PHONES TO BE AVAILABLE TO ALL CITIZENS

A private phone for any subscriber who wants it is in the offing for Eldorado, according to announcement made by General Telephone Co., which is re-building the lines.

A crew of eight men went on the job Tuesday and this will be increased later to about 15.

The outside work will require several months. When completed the system will make private phones available to all persons who want them, and in addition will increase the capacity of the system, and improve reception.

New poles will go up all over town, then cable will be strung. In addition, the inter-toll dialing system will be installed, work having started Tuesday.

Cable is now on the ground in Eldorado and work has started in North Eldorado. Cable additions planned are the result of a recent survey made by the telephone company. Total cost of the project will be an estimated $30,000.

Work on the inter-dial long distance system will go on at the same time, and is also scheduled for completion this year.

Officials state that some trouble that had developed with several numbers making long distance calls has been corrected.

Within the coming week the telephone booth to be put up on the courthouse grounds will be completed.

ACCIDENT TUESDAY

No injuries and some property damage was reported in a two-car accident Tuesday morning on highway 277, about a mile south of town. Mrs. Marion Wade was turning off the highway driving a 1951 Buick sedan when she was hit by a 1955 pick-up driven by Oscar Clint Sikes of Tahoka, Texas. The accident occurred at 11 a.m.

BAND CLINIC SCHEDULED

LEGION MEETS TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the American Legion post will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Legion room of the Memorial building. All Legionnaires are urged to be present.

Delmar Jackson has moved from a Gus Love place to a Pop Taylor house.

Post Script

The Texas Department of Public Safety and their highway patrolmen remind motorists that April 15th is the deadline for the installation of safety inspection tags.

It was reported this week that only 19% of the vehicles registered in the county had so far been inspected and that vehicle owners should avoid the last-minute rush by having the inspection made as soon as possible.

There has been a little change in the operating personnel out at the McKavett Humble Station. Going back to their regular jobs at McCamey were W. C. Holloway and Leslie Tambrough—men taking their places are D. W. Moyer and E. G. McKandles.

From the City Hall comes good news: whereas the office force put out 600 statements last month, the bills this month, mailed today, total 627. This indicates that there are a few more people here.

Several Eldoradoans Attend Clarke Funeral

Among those attending the funeral of Frank Clarke at Compton Funeral home at Waco Friday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Trigg and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bearce. Mr. McIntosh, Mr. Trigg and Mr. Bearce were among those serving as pall bearers.

The family have requested that memorials be given to the St. Mary's Episcopal church in Eldorado. Donations may be given to Capt. Thad Thomson or to Mrs. Lillian Crosby, it was stated.

Mrs. Clarke and son Frank Jr., who were injured in the wreck which claimed Mr. Clarke's life, were moved Sunday by ambulance to Waco, where they are patients at Providence hospital.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

A program recalling the opening 15 years ago of the West Texas Woolen Mills, was held at the Lions Club meeting yesterday. Exhibits included one of the first blankets to come off the looms, an olive drab Army blanket which the mill made during the war, and a present-day blanket.

A brief film taken the day of the formal opening was shown. It included scenes of the parade and the auction of the first blanket, as well as of the large crowd which attended the barbecue. The Lions Club, which at that time had only about 33 members, sponsored the formal opening of the mill. The event was held February 27, 1941.

West Texas Woolen Mills of Eldorado is now the only woolen blanket factory in the Southwest.

Mrs. B. O. Bridgeman has moved to a Maddox house, adjoining the house rented by her son Willie.

School News

Four delegates of the student council and their sponsor left today for Midland to attend the state meeting of student councils. Representing Eldorado will be Jimmie Dell Williams, Joy Dodd, Voy Mitchell, Dick Runge, and Joe Andrews. Jimmie Dell will lead a discussion group on the subject of "Ways to Finance a Student Council." The group will return Saturday night.

Seven members of the Eldorado High School basketball team lettered during the past season. They include Curtis Stockton, Herman Phillips, David Kuykendall, Jimmy Harris, Reyes Robledo, Bob Steward, and Rony Kerr. Other members of the squad included Dan Mittel, Farris Nixon, Kyle Donaldson, Dick Runge, Selwyn Taylor, Joe Stanford, Charles Griffin, and Dan Griffin.

All members of the squad will be back next year. Curtis Stockton led district 6-A in scoring with 148 points, an average of 18.5 per game. The Eagles finished the season with a 11-10 record. They won consolation honors in the Ozona tournament.

Next year should be the year for the Eagles in basketball.

The boys who are going to show sheep in the San Angelo show are busy getting them trimmed and ready for the show. The following are boys who will show animals in this show: Jimmy Whitten, Billy Williams, Bobby Williams, Ernest Nimitz, Sherrill Dannheim, Joe Stanford.

The Vocational Agriculture I Class is busy getting up a Chapter News Letter, which should be ready soon.

Billy and Bobby Williams sold 24 fat calves at the Fort Worth market last week and report that the market is not very good this year.

The livestock team will judge at the San Angelo Show on Saturday, March 10th. Boys who are trying for the team are Billy Williams, Jimmy Whitten, Bobby Williams, Rex Enochs, Sherrill Dannheim, Domingo Pina.

The District teachers' meeting which was scheduled in San Angelo for Friday, March 9th, has been changed to March 16th, it was announced this week. The day of the meeting will be a holiday for the school, it was stated by school officials.

The speech class will present "If Girls Asked Boys for Dates" on assembly next Monday morning, March 5, at 10:30. This is the one-act play that was featured on the assemblies which were taken to Sonora and Ozona recently, and it will be shown again here because of the many requests made by students and townspeople, asking that it be done.

"If Girls Asked Boys for Dates" is a very clever play, showing what might happen if the whole dating situation were reversed. Just suppose that instead of boy calling girl on the telephone, the boy had to sit around and wait for that fatal ring. No longer would the boy perform all the little courtesies now expected, such as opening doors, picking up handkerchiefs, paying the check—the girl would be the polite one, and the boy would only have to exert himself to be charming, so that he might be asked for another date. It won't happen, but the play imagines that it has, and many funny situations arise from it. Bill Gaynor and Bob Ratliff play the two boys who are going on the date, which is the first such occasion for Bill. Their dates, who call for them minus the family car, are Sandra Meador and Nancy Elder. Burnell Doyle is Bill's mother, who feels that it is her duty to instruct Bill in the little things that he should know about dating and getting along with the girls.

The public is invited to see the play.

Do-It-Whose-Self?

Monk McCarthy's almost as good at publicity stunts as he is at servicing and repairing cars—which is pretty darned good.

His latest gimmick is a handbill titled: "Do-It-YOURSELVES! Why Not Grease Your Own Car?" Then he follows with two paragraphs about all the greases you'll need—the full set of wrenches, spray gun, grease gun, four jacks—the ability to work flat on your back with a face full of goo. And at the very end there's this line: "Or, if that's too much trouble, we'll do the job for 75¢."

From where I sit, I'll have to admit Monk's schemes attract attention. They often seem far-fetched to me, but he and I always had different opinions on how to run a business—just as we have different opinions about what's the best beverage. He likes hot tea—I prefer a glass of beer—which doesn't keep us from having a "smooth-running" friendship.

John Ben Shepperd Is Principal Speaker At Parent-Teacher Meeting

An interested audience heard John Ben Shepperd address the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night in the school auditorium, his speech covering many problems on the state and local levels. He opened his address by describing Tex T Texan's health, income, expenses, luxuries, contact with the federal government, and other present-day facts. Then he compared Tex's status with that of the pioneer of 1950, especially with regard to laws originating in that day; he predicted a pleasant and profitable future if all citizens are wide-awake residents of their communities.

In regard to the Parent-Teacher Associations' responsibilities he said:

Everybody has a responsibility in solving Texas' many problems. What is the responsibility of the P-TA? What challenge confronts this organization, which exists for the benefit of the young people who will grow up to cast the ballots, fill the offices, vote the bond issues, and argue the constitutional issues?

I won't presume to tell you what kind of citizenship program you ought to have, because I know you already have one and I know how hard you are working for it. But I will be well paid for my effort if I can say something here today that will increase your zeal and determination to carry it through.

After discussing recent graft in the state he concluded his address with these thoughts:

It's up to you and me to see that the future leadership of our country is placed in the hands of men and women who will follow their conscience instead of the crowd... the kind who will make their own records and stand on them instead of jumping on the other fellow's, and who won't get to the forefront through pull and then stop pulling. Give us more men and women who won't let constitutional government die of cold feet because they were afraid to get into hot water.

I'm sure you realize as well as I that no program, no matter how good, will be effective unless it begins with us and becomes a habit—the habit of voting, the habit of public discussion, of attendance at the meetings of our local governmental bodies, and of settling issues instead of dodging them, straddling or ignoring them.

If you have any power to teach, or any authority to guide, teach young Texans that it is better to have a principle that is right than a friend who is wrong. Teach them that they cannot remain free by tipping their hats to the church on their way to the fishing hole, and that home is not just a place for half the family to wait till the other half gets back with the car. Teach them that in Texas people don't get to the top by climbing, but by growing, and they rise highest by staying on the level. Teach them that Texans don't bow the knee to princes and don't step on worms, and that we are still a free people because we are not so concerned with the left and the right that we forget the above and below.

They say the best things in life are free. Nobody can go down to the bank, open a safe deposit box and file away a title to a Texas sunset. Nobody can lay gold on the counter and purchase the look of trust and innocence in a child's eyes; and no man can trade hard cash for the love and devotion of a good wife.

Surely, then, all the wealth, resources, railroads, oil derricks, cotton fields, industries, and herds of cattle in the great State of Texas will not be enough to purchase freedom for one tow-headed boy or pig-tailed girl, unless we guide a generation of young Texans to the truth in this simple Texan's creed:

To be born free is an accident;
To live free is a responsibility;
To die free is an obligation.

Trees Rob Farmers Of Crops And Income

College Station.—Worthless trees rob Texas farmers of thousands of dollars each year.

Trees, more deeply rooted than other plants, take a larger portion of yearly rainfall than do cash crops such as cotton, corn, grain sorghum, or grass. G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist, says, a mesquite tree requires about 2,000 pounds of water to produce one pound of leaves and bark, but only 800 pounds is required to produce a pound of cotton and about 600 pounds to produce a pound of grass.

Trees along a fence row increase the difficulty of fence maintenance, prevents the farmer from plowing close to the fence, and, if thorny, cause flat tires. A single tree would offer greater wildlife protection if it were cut and piled so wildlife could get under the brush, says Hoffman.

A mesquite tree 10 inches in diameter and 20 feet tall can keep cotton and grain sorghum from growing on 7,650 square feet of land or 1/6 of an acre. It costs the farmer about $9.10 in reduced yields to maintain this tree for one year.

To stop this loss of vital moisture and nutrients, a one quart mixture of 2, 4, 5-T and 10 gallons of oil should be sprayed around the base of the tree, says Hoffman. This mixture costs about 40 cents a gallon, while costs of labor and chemicals amounts to about three cents a tree. If oaks and other hardwoods are to be treated, a stronger solution is required, such as one quart of 2, 4, 5-T to 6 gallons of oil. Such a mixture will cost about 63 cents a gallon.

Methods of treating trees include the frill, cut-off stump, and trunk base. In the frill method, the 2, 4, 5-T solution is applied to the ax cuts of the frill. For cut-off stumps the solution is applied next to the bark allowing some to run down the outside bark channels.

The trunk-base method is used on trees having diameter under six inches. The solution is applied to the lower 12 inches of the tree, running down the bark channels, and coming into contact with the bud zone. Using these methods, one gallon will treat about 25 to 40 trees.

Best time for application, says Hoffman, is during the winter months, December through March. Too many sprouts result if the tree is sprayed when it begins to leaf out. A top kill will probably result at this time, allowing the trees to put out again during the next growing season.

Ask the local county agent for Bulletin 800 and Leaflet 127, for more information.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth.—Twelve major livestock markets Monday reported more than 113,000 cattle and calves, and the larger portion of them were again fed steers, yearlings and heifers. As a result the fed cattle trade was again very slow and weak at Fort Worth. Cows and bulls were fully steady. Slaughter of less than 500 pounds were firm. High grade and lightweight stockers moved steadily, but plainer kinds and fleshy feeders were slow and weak.

Prices included: Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $14.50 to $18.50. Common and medium beef cattle $10.00 to $14.00; fat cows $11.50 to $12.50; canners and cutters $7.50 to $11.50; bulls $10.00 to $15.00. Good and choice slaughter calves $16.00 to $18.50, few higher. Cull to medium kinds $10 to $15.50.

The fat lambs trade at Fort Worth opened strong to 50 cents higher Monday. Good and choice lambs sold from $17 to $18.50. Cull, common and medium slaughter lambs drew $13 to $16.

Texas Farm Population Losses Slowing Down

College Station.—The long-time trend of farm population losses in Texas showed definite signs of slowing down during 1955.

Figures just released by Dr. R. L. Skrabanek, Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology of Texas A&M college in a new Experiment Station bulletin, indicate that the farm population increased by 15,000 during the past year.

There were 1,141,000 Texans living on farms in April, 1955, according to the Texas A&M rural sociologist. This compares with 1,126,000 in 1954. This reversal of a steady downward trend existing since 1934 may be attributed chiefly to two major reasons, an increase in number of part-time farmers who have jobs in cities, and a general slowing-down of people migrating from farms in 1955.

Dr. Skrabanek's report is based on a statewide farm population survey carried on in cooperation with the USDA and census materials. It covers farm population trends and characteristics since 1920 and points up some of their causes and effects.

Since the state's population is growing much faster than the farm population, farm people continue to make up a smaller share of the state's people. In 1920, one out of every two Texans resided on a farm as compared with one out of eight in 1955. At the present time, Texas has 5.1% of the nation's farm people.

Negroes on farms have been decreasing at a faster rate than whites according to Skrabanek's findings. They constituted 14.6% of the farm population in 1950.

Males outnumber females on every age level except 30 to 35 and 60 years of age or older.

The average age of farm residents increased by five years between 1940 and 1950. This is largely the result of increasing proportions of older persons on farms. In 1920 only 8 out of every 100 farm residents were 55 years of age or older. By 1950 this group comprised 17 out of 100.

The rural farm population has a less favorable age distribution than its city cousins. Farm areas have larger proportions of small children and older people, with relatively fewer in the more productive ages. Urban areas, however, have more persons in the working ages, with fewer to support in the younger and older age levels, Skrabanek adds.

Complete information on population changes by counties and economic areas may be obtained by calling for Experiment Station Bulletin 825, Texas Farm Population, from the Agricultural Information Office, Texas A&M College, College Station, Texas.

Buzzards Caught In Act

College Station.—Buzzards settling on Bascom Munson's place near Angleton, Texas, returned to their usual tree roost one evening to find a meal of chicken and armadillo spread beneath.

Quick to take advantage of a good thing, 132 buzzards joined in a feast. Having eaten their fill, the big birds found, to their consternation, they had entered a large wire coop to which there seemed to be no exit.

And this is the sight that confronted Munson and Brazoria Co. Agent Millington when they returned to see the results of their strategy—132 buzzards, walking disdainfully around and around the confines of the trap trying to find where the door to the thing was.

Munson says buzzards polite drinking water and grass, and have pecked the eyes of calves, sometimes killing and eating them. They have even killed and eaten a cow too weak to protect herself during calving time, he added.

Munson estimates that the number of buzzards he eliminated reduced their population by some 300 this year, as they will not be raising any young.

Millington reports that the Munson trap was constructed as a result of another Brazoria county demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Meador, occupants of the section foreman's residence, have returned from a three-weeks' vacation trip to Houston, Abilene, and other places. Mrs. Meador has been on the sick list since her return home, but is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Doyle spent Thursday and Friday in Waco visiting her niece and family, Sgt. and Mrs. Bill Driggers and baby. While there they attended the funeral of Frank Clarke.

The Gus Loves rented two houses this week to Delta Engineer families: the E. E. Halls and four children moved to an unfurnished house, and the Killingsworth family also rented a similar establishment.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Many Kinds Of Law
"They ought to pass a law . . ." You have heard that said many times. But did you know that much of our law was never "passed" by any legislative body?

Actually there are several kinds of law which control our lives. Perhaps the following definitions will help explain the differences:

Statute law: is an enactment of the state legislature or the Congress. It is the written law, setting forth a system of principles and rules of conduct.

Common law: consists of those principles and rules of action which derive their authority from usage and custom, and from the decrees of our courts affirming such rules. It may be written or unwritten, and much of it we derived from the ancient unwritten law of England.

Parts of the statute and common law are sometimes further described:

Substantive law: is that part of the law which creates, defines and regulates rights. It is the law the courts are established to administer, as opposed to the rules of procedure by which it is administered.

Adjective law: is made up of our rules of procedure and practice. It is the manners and methods by which we enforce our rights or obtain redress for their invasion.

Criminal law: is that branch of the law which defines and prohibits the various crimes and establishes their punishments.

Administrative law: is that vast body and practice concerning the public bards, commissions and agencies which have power to make rules, orders or regulations having the force of law.

You also hear of various fields of law, such as admiralty law, patent law, corporation law, municipal law and many others. These are branches or special fields of law.

Perhaps you find all this slightly confusing. But these matters are just as important to you as to the lawyer, because it is on the vast body of law that your rights and privileges, your government, and your way of life are based.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Rev. Stearns Appointed To Refugee Committee Work In Schleicher

The appointment of Rev. M. C. Stearns, Eldorado Methodist minister as local representative for the Governor's Committee for Refugee Relief Program has been announced by John H. Winters, committee chairman. Rev. Stearns will act on behalf of the State committee in Schleicher County.

Under the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, 214,000 displaced persons were declared admissible to this country. Recent figures show slightly over 43,000 have obtained sponsors and have migrated to the United States. Of this number it is estimated that less than 500 have been brought to Texas.

"These refugees have escaped, in many instances, from prisons and concentration camps to wind up spending years in refugee camps waiting for resettlement," said Mr. Winters. "Texas is lagging in doing its part in this humanitarian program to which our nation has committed itself. Rev. Stearns, as representative of the Governor's Committee for Refugee Relief in Schleicher County will give the details of the program to any employer or citizen interested in providing a new opportunity to a refugee."

Guests during the day Sunday at the Carson West home were their son-in-law and daughter, Col. and Mrs. Jim Adamson of the ranch in Sutton County. They will leave soon for Norfolk, Va., to visit their son Jim Jr. who has recently returned from a two-years' stay overseas. Another visitor in the Carson West home was Mrs. Anna Reinke of Brenham, who is here as nurse for Mrs. C. C. West.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lynn of San Angelo spent the day Sunday with the latter's father J. C. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ringle are leaving tomorrow, Friday, for the Gulf Coast on a fishing trip.

Texas' 7-Step Cotton Program Credited With Cotton Progress

College Station.—Ten years ago the Extension Service's 7-step cotton program was initiated. Through this program effort which brought together all segments of the cotton industry great improvements have been made by Texas cotton producers.

Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, points out in his annual report the extent and value of the program to Texas. Acre yields for the 1946-55 ten year period are 40 pounds an acre higher than for the 1936-45 period. The 1955 acre yield of 282 pounds is the highest since 1866. Improved varieties, better insect control programs, increased use of machinery, better harvesting methods, improved and cheaper cultural methods, improved rotation systems and soil building crops and improved ginning, all part of the 7-step program, are credited by the specialist for the increased yield.

The trend toward more machine harvesting continued in 1955. Elliott says 1,547 spindle type pickers were used in 70 counties and 19,524 stripping machines in 130 counties. Where yields were a half bale an acre, the saving for machine harvesting was as much as 35 a bale.

Last year 38,161 rotary hoe equipped tractors were used in 148 counties. The high speed rotary hoe has become the key weed control practice and the saving on the 1955 hoe bill from their use is estimated at more than $12.3 million.

Elliott reports that naphtha oils for spot-oiling Johnsongrass were used on 73,637 acres in 104 counties. Lateral oiling with herbicidal naphtha was done on 14,617 acres in 41 counties. Elliott says that many farmers reported 100% satisfaction with this practice. In general, he says, Texas farmers preferred to use the rotary hoe and lateral oiling instead of pre-emergent chemicals.

Defoliation of cotton for better machine harvesting was practiced on a much wider scale than ever before. The saving on machine harvesting, a third of last year's crop, was estimated at $20 a bale or $33.7 million.

Based on 10 years of cotton improvement experience and data from experiment station variety testing, Elliott and other cotton industry leaders figure that 40 lbs. of the 1955 state average of 282 pounds of lint an acre is due to the cumulative effect of the work done by Texas A&M College system personnel on the 7-step cotton program. This extra 40 pounds from each of the 6,860,000 acres harvested in 1955, figured at the average price of 33 cents a pound, brought to Texas growers 90.5 million.

How do farmers get the information that has enabled them to make these improvements? Elliott says the extension specialist team, composed of the cotton specialist, an entomologist, cotton gin specialist and at times other specialists, participated in 116 meetings attended by 14,393 persons last year. In addition, county agents held 1,454 county and community meetings and tours on cotton improvement with an attendance of 47,140 persons. County agents also prepared 1,154 timely news stories on cotton and appeared on 884 radio and television programs.

The specialists and county agents gave and received cooperation from other groups, organizations and agencies working for the betterment of the cotton industry in the state. The 7-step county cotton committees were the clearing houses for these efforts.

Farm Records Are Money Savers

College Station.—Farm records have been referred to by a farm management specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension service as the eyes and ears of the farm business. They reflect, said C. H. Bates, the specialist, how the business is doing and may prevent many costly management or expansion mistakes.

On the average farm the investment per worker totals about $15,000. Investments in land, machinery, livestock and other essentials needed for agricultural production makes the present day farmer a capitalist of considerable means. His investments are often larger than those of many urban businesses. Our highly competitive commercial farming, said Bates, makes record keeping mandatory as a protection for our investments.

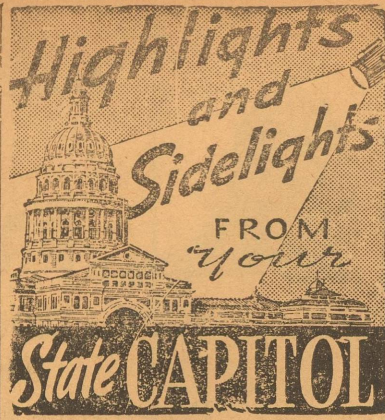

Too, records make the job of completing the yearly income tax report much simpler and can save money, expense items which are not recorded often are overlooked or forgotten at tax paying time and for every $5 item missed, the average taxpayer paid $1.25 in taxes he didn't owe, said Bates. Even the cost of a good farm record book is deductible as a legitimate operating expense.

Farm families, said the specialist, who have improved the efficiency of their farming operations have found records to be the key to their success. They have taken the guess-work out of their business.

Many types of record books are available but Bates called attention to the revised Texas Farm Record book which is now available for a small charge. This book is designed to aid farmers not only in keeping a complete record of the farm but also for making tax and social security reporting easier. Local county extension agents can supply details on how and where the books may be obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. Laman Hazelwood and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hazelwood visited Herman Carroll and relatives of the late P. W. Hazelwood at Austin during the weekend.

Harvey Dannheim and his family of San Angelo spent the weekend with relatives in the county.

Austin.—Texans will hear a lot about "interposition" during the next few months. Gov. Allan Shivers has asked the Democratic State Executive committee to consider placing on the July ballot a referendum on "interposition."

"Interposition" as it is being used in this case means "to stand between." And the Federal Government's interference with States Rights is what Governor Shivers refers to. He seeks to place the Texas Legislature between the people of Texas and "the abnormal extension of power by the Federal Government in all its branches—legislative, executive, and judicial."

Shivers contends that certain rulings are beyond the power of the court. Therefore the referendum to be voted on in July would be a declaration by the people of Texas that US Supreme Court decisions on such things as the Tidelands, integration and the Federal Power commission's control over gas are inapplicable because they go beyond Federal jurisdiction.

If approved by the people, the referendum would be a mandate to the Legislature for them to vote for submission of a Federal constitutional amendment firming up and defining State Sovereignty.

While other states are using interposition in a negative fashion, Shivers plans to use it in a positive way to protect the state's rights. He is strongly opposed to the extension of power by the Federal Government at the expense of state and local governments.

"Interposition" will be an often used word during the coming months. People who do not like the idea say it is "nullification." Shivers contends he is opposed to nullification as being contrary to truly constitutional government.

Veterans' Land sales will be courthouse news again in Austin, come March 6. That's when the trial scheduled for B. R. Sheffield, Brady land promoter and one-time business associate of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, will be held.

Sheffield has summoned 131 witnesses, including Governor Shivers, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, and Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder. Also John Osorio, aide to Shivers; Robert S. Trotti, former first assistant attorney general; and Homer Garrison, director of public safety.

Sheffield is charged with theft of state funds in connection with a Kinney County land deal.

Texas politics heated up ahead of season when Governor Shivers announced that he might run for a fourth term. It is the closest he has come to saying "yes." This news quickly eclipsed an earlier statement by Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton that he was withdrawing from the race for governor for lack of campaign funds. A later announcement by Shivers was that he would reveal his political plans for 1956 on March 1.

calves on the ground are like MONEY IN THE BANK

It costs a lot of money to keep a cow. A lot of that money is lost if she fails to settle or drops small, weak calves that die or develop into "tail-enders."

BIG CROPS of husky calves are a must, if a fellow is going to make money ranching. This is especially true when the price of cattle is off.

Your range needs help. It takes more than grass alone to give your cows what they need to grow and drop the kind of calves that will bring top prices next fall.

PURINA RANGE CHECKERS have proved their worth in research tests and on thousands of ranches. This favorite range supplement has what it takes. Cattle love Checkers, do well on them. Cows stay up in good shape at calving time, have lots of milk for the calves, too.

Feed for big calf crops the Purina Way. Purina Range Checkers can help you keep your operation on the profit side of the ledger.

COME IN. We'll visit about Purina Range Checkers and profitable ranch management. Make it soon!
