The voting score was as follows:

Joe M. Christian	312
W. C. (Bill) Lester	277
Gene Edmiston	136
Earl Parker	113

The complete board for the next twelve months will consist of Kenneth Cheek, Gerald Hartgraves, Henry Moore, C. O. Dewey, Henry Speck, Joe Christian and Bill Lester. Next year there will be three to elect, when terms expire for Cheek, Moore and Hartgraves.

Voters Approve Swimming Pool; Vote Down Old People's Home

Voting at six polling places throughout the county last Saturday, qualified voters of Schleicher county resoundingly defeated the bond issue proposition for the old people's home (poor house), by a vote of 429 to 55, and approved by 293 to 216 the issuance of $35,000 park bonds for a swimming pool. Each proposition had called separately for a bond issue of $35,000, to mature in 15 years.

The outlying rural boxes were most decisive in voting against the propositions, but Eldorado voters at the Memorial Building box cast 240 for and 121 against, to approve the swimming pool proposition.

Voting by boxes in the county was as follows:

Prop. No. 1—Old People's Home
	For Against

Memorial Bldg.	46 293
County Barn	0 30
Keele	0 36

The commissioners court is now faced with the preliminaries involved in regard to the pool. Plans must be drawn up, bids advertised for, and a definite location decided for the facility.

Lions Club Schedules Ladies' Night Monday

At yesterday's Lions club meeting it was decided to hold the ladies' night next Monday night, April 16, instead of the 17th as previously announced. The banquet will be held in the banquet room of the Memorial building, with Ed Meador as general chairman of arrangements. Meador will be assisted by others, including Archie Mittel and Wilson Page on the finance committee.

The program at yesterday's meeting consisted of a musical presentation by the Eldorado High school Eagle band, under direction of John Brown.

W. G. Godwin presided. There will be no meeting next Wednesday.

Safety Meeting Called For Tomorrow Night

The Eldorado Woman's club, with Mrs. Palmer West as safety chairman, and the Junior Woman's club, with Mrs. Charles Love, are calling a safety meeting for Friday, April 13, tomorrow, at 7:30 in the banquet room of the Memorial Building.

All interested persons are invited to attend, especially safety chairmen of all organizations of the town and county, personnel from the school, oil companies, and other firms, and insurance company representatives.

Anyone who has missed seeing the patch of bluebonnets out at Tom Buchanan's and McWhorter's has missed a treat—they are at their best right now and are about as showy as anything we've seen along that line. In a few more years the bluebonnets will cover the entire lot if spreading continues.

Work is proceeding also on the two-room addition to a Robert Milligan rent house. Nearly completed is the new concrete block house which Phillips Petroleum is building near the site of the old Shell pump station. The house is of concrete blocks, has no windows, and the doors are of steel.

Word will be received today concerning the state's findings in the case of two foxes suspected of being rabid. One fox ran up into the yard at Edwin Childers' Monday and bit the family dog—this is in the Cooper Gas vicinity where the first case occurred at Page's last week and was pronounced positive. The other new case happened Wednesday morning out at Whip Faull's, when a fox bit the Faulls' dog.

Both fox heads have been mailed to Austin for examination and word is expected today, states Co. Agent W. G. Godwin. If these are positive, there will undoubtedly be some joint effort by city and county to vaccinate dogs and cats soon at some central place. Watch for more news on this, and see the notice concerning the hearing on page 4.

Out at Perry Mittel's 70 acres are irrigated and ready for planting—awaiting warmer weather. This is level land, excellent for planting. Mittel is working and harrowing 30 more acres which may be watered and planted.

Cool weather is also delaying planting out at Henry and Jene Moore's—everything is ready for it and the season is advancing, tho it is not yet late.

Clyde Keeney has brought water over to land he has prepared at the south of his farm residence, along the Sonora highway.

U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson in a radio address Tuesday night, announced that he would be willing for Texas Democrats to put his name in nomination for President at the national convention. He also said he would serve as chairman of the Texas delegation, in the cause of unity, if a majority of Democrats wanted him to do so.

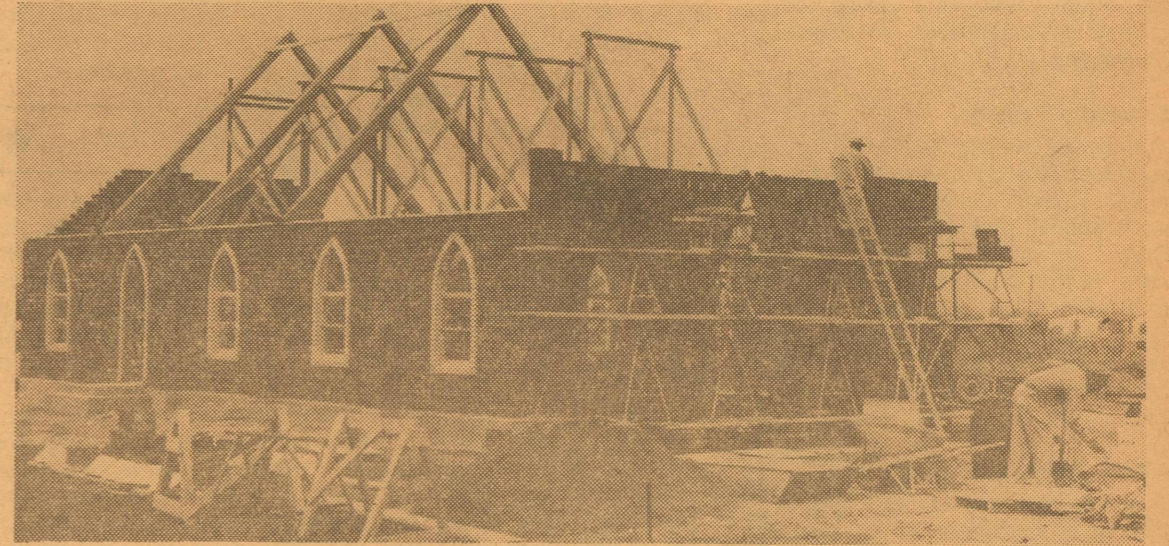

What seems to be shaping up is a battle between the Shivers and Johnson forces for control of the Democratic party in Texas.

Thus, the issue is drawn for the Texas Democrats who will begin the convention process in the precincts May 5. They may indicate by resolution whether they wish Shivers or Johnson as a leader. From now on out, the organization work of both sides will be brisk.

Pre-School Physical Check-up Date Is Set For Next Thursday

Thursday, April 19, is the date for the annual Pre-School Round-up of children who will start to school next fall, and all parents are urged to bring their children to the home ec rooms of the high school at 2:00 on the afternoon of that date.

The physical check-up, which is necessary for all children who will enroll next fall for the first time, will be in charge of Dr. Jack I. Mowrey, assisted by nurses.

A charge of 75 cents will be made on the DPT (diphtheria, pertussis, or whooping cough, and tetanus) for a first shot. If a child has not had DPT shot previously, he will have to have two additional shots given by the family physician at the regular price.

The TB patch test will be 25c. The smallpox vaccination will be free, using medicine furnished by the state health department.

Officials stress the fact that a child cannot enter school in September without vaccination in the past four years and diphtheria shot in the last one. These are health requirements which are law.

Mrs. Lee Jennings is in charge of the summer round-up. It is held each year under auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Letters From THE PEOPLE

I want to reply to Pete Bryant's letter that was published in last week's Success. I for one resent what he said about the older heads. Quote "As far as some of the older heads here who are against it and will vote against it charge them fifty cents an hour to come near the pool" Unquoted.

The count shows 216 old heads voted against it. How will the caretaker know who voted against it? He says he will cut down on his coffee drinking to help build it. That is all bunk. Pete knows that not one cent of his City taxes will go to build it.

The County, mostly the old heads, will have to pay the bills. I have not lost respect for the older heads. Most of them have knowledge and wisdom more so than some of the younger heads. I sincerely wish to thank those that voted for the old age home. We have many people here who are passed middle age and are growing older every day and I hope that in the near future there will be built a substantial and nice building for the old ones that need it.

Yours respectfully,
Dr. H. Z. Pennington

IT'S THE LAW in Texas. A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas. Building Your Home. When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

1. Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out (a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvements for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to? (c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4 Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default.

You may get some of your money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in re-selling the house. Well worked-out contracts can help make your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest-money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals.

You know what you want. You should be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

Ask Research To Make Cotton More Versatile

College Station.—Investigations of new chemical treatments, improved finishing materials and the possibility of modifying cotton fibers by means of nuclear-energy radiations to give cotton new versatility and improved textile properties have been urged by the USDA's Cotton Research Advisory committee.

The committee, established under the Research and Marketing Act of 1946, is composed of 15 members representing every phase of the cotton industry. Texans on the committee and attending the recently held national meeting include Roy B. Davis of Lubbock; Burriss C. Jackson, Hillsboro, and Aubrey L. Lockett of Vernon.

The group also asked for research on the irrigation of cotton, grown in humid areas, improved weed control, both mechanical and chemical, better processing methods for cottonseed oil and meal, and other work to aid utilization and marketing of cotton and cottonseed and to reduce the cost of production.

Further work on methods for controlling the pink bollworm and an expanded program of basic and applied research in cotton breeding to improve fiber quality and increase production efficiency were also suggested.

Fiber research urged included determination of the economic need for improved bale wrappings; development of more practical and economical methods and equipment for automatic sampling of cotton bales and revival of Government statistical services. On seed, the committee asked for a consumer survey dealing with margarine; determination of effects of present chemical sources of feed nitrogen on markets for proteins from agricultural sources and a study of the impact of price-support programs on cottonseed and soybean industries.

Plans Take Shape For 1956 4-H Roundup

College Station.—Texas 4-H club members will gather on the campus of Texas A&M college on June 12-14 for their annual Roundup. They have been holding such meetings at this location for approxately a half century.

A trip to the Texas 4-H Roundup has long been recognized by 4-H members as an outstanding achievement and one that is long remembered. The 1956 meetings, according to Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader, will provide opportunities for the delegates to get training in leadership and subjects of their choice and also further acquaint them with the facilities of the college.

State winners in the different judging and team demonstration contests will be determined June 13. Delegates will select and participate in one of the 17 subject-matter short courses being offered. The training in agriculture and home economics subjects is designed so those receiving the training may pass it on to others when they return home.

County delegations will be limited to two boys, two girls, and adult leaders or county extension agents must accompany a county group. District winners from a county are not counted as dele-

INCREASES CONSUMPTION

Denver.—American sheep industry's program to increase consumer demand for lamb has scored a success in its first regional promotion, it was announced here today. The American Sheep Producers Council of Denver, which represents all American sheep producers, is directing the nation-wide advertising of lamb and wool.

Concentrated lamb advertising in Denver, beginning in mid-January, doubled consumption. Lamb increased from approximately 3 per cent of all red meat before the promotion to about 7 per cent during the promotion period, Council reported. Previously, the average Denver resident ate an estimated 4 to 5 pounds of lamb a year. During the promotion consumption was boosted to a rate corresponding to 10½ pounds a year, retailer reports indicate.

TS&GRA Officers Back From Washington

San Angelo.—Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association officers have just returned from Washington where they spent several days on business affecting its membership.

J. B. McCord, Coleman, TS&GRA president, and Ernest Williams, executive secretary, met with officials in the Department of Agriculture and with Congressman O. C. Fisher in connection with the emergency drouth feed program. Mr. McCord was optimistic that progress had been made.

The two association officials also discussed the Mexican National labor program with the Department of Labor. Mr. McCord said there had been several interruptions in the processing of "specials" recently and that he had hopes that this international program would continue to operate as it had been for several years.

"We also talked with people in the National Park Service to see what could be done regarding predators in the Big Bend National Park," McCord added, "But we won't know for awhile what can be done."

Relatives in the county had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Faught of Mertzton and their son Johnnie, who recently returned from oversea duty in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thompson, Jr., and three children spent the weekend at Claude with Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jap R. Wilson. They returned home Sunday.

More Pointers Given On Social Security

Ed Bowers, manager of the Social Security Administration district office, San Angelo, has issued an important tax date reminder to those persons newly covered by the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Self-employed engineers, accountants, and funeral directors are now subject to the 3% social security tax on their annual net earnings if as much as $400 and up to the maximum taxable, $4,200. This tax must be declared on Bureau of Internal Revenue Form Schedule C-a 1040, whether filed on a calendar year or a fiscal year basis.

Regarding ministers, who may elect coverage, Bowers cautions that the 1955 income tax date, April 15, 1956, is the deadline for electing coverage for the calendar year 1955. Also, any minister, Christian Science practitioner, or member of a religious order (who has not taken a vow of poverty) who does not elect coverage by April 15, 1957, forfeits altogether his right to elect social security coverage. This coverage is the same as any other self-employed person's even though he is an employee of a church or institution which does not become in any way involved or obligated in these arrangements.

John Dickenson, field representative, of the San Angelo District office, will be in Eldorado in the District Courtroom Thursday, April 19, at 1:00 p.m. to assist you with social security problems.

Mrs. Ruth Williams has moved to San Angelo and is at home at 222 South Park.

Mrs. Mitchell's Funeral Is Held On Friday; Interment Made Here

The funeral of Mrs. Jerome Mitchell was held Friday afternoon at 3:00 at the Fundamental Baptist Church, of which she was a member, the Rev. H. B. Reynolds of Abilene, a former family pastor, delivering the sermon, and the present pastor, Rev. J. W. Hunter, officiating.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth.—Trade on fed steers and yearlings was steady at Fort Worth Monday, despite the fact that the largest run of cattle in several weeks was reported around the major livestock market circle. With estimated receipt above the 100,000 cattle and some cornbelt points reporting the largest offerings in three to five weeks most market in the midwest turned lower. However, fed cattle were unaffected at Fort Worth due to the small supply.

Canner and cutter cows were weaker, some bias and sales 25 to 50 cents lower, however, the bulk of the run avoided the decline. Fat cows were steady. Bulls sold unchanged. Slaughter calves were inclined to ease, and most stockers were weaker, except the higher quality kinds.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $16-21, the latter for a load of 753-pound yearlings from G. R. Hill of Grayson County at the top figure. Common, plain and medium butcher sorts sold from $12-15. Fat cows $11-13; canners and cutters $7-11. Bulls $10-14.50. Good and choice fat calves $16-20; cull, common and medium butchers $10-16. Stocker steer calves quoted from $20 down; steer yearlings quoted from $18.50 down. Replacement cows $9-13.

Sheep and Lambs Weaker

Fort Worth had some 9,000 sheep and lambs Monday and around the major marketing circle the days total was doubled that of a week ago. This coupled with the heavy movements of other kinds of meat animals to market set off a weaker trend on most classes of sheep and lambs.

Aerial Application Of Chemical Will Control Mesquite and Oak

College Station.—Research and practical on-the-ranch use of chemicals for controlling mesquite, post and blackjack oaks have proved the value of this practice. A. H. Walker, extension range specialist says the job can be done more cheaply because less chemicals are needed for the aerial spraying job. Too, in many counties ASC will share the cost with the producer.

The specialist lists five points which make for a successful control job. Use the proper chemical at the right time and amount. Secure qualified personnel with experience to do the flying job. Use chemicals with caution. They are non-poisonous but drift can cause damage to susceptible crops. Rest the treated area after spraying and do not expect a miracle. This is a control program, points out Walker, and retreatment may be required but it will pay dividends if properly done.

He recommends that mesquite be sprayed 50-80 days after the first leaves appear. By this time they should be dark green color. Apply a third of a pound of low volatile ester of 2,4,5-T or silvex with a half gallon of diesel oil and enough water to make three gallons of spray solution per acre. This can be applied in 60 foot swaths and should cost about $2.30 an acre, a fourth less than last year. A root kill of from 25 to 35 percent may be expected, says Walker and retreatment should be done in from five to seven years.

For post and blackjack oaks, he says to spray after the leaves have fully developed, usually from mid May through June. Use one and a half pounds of 2,4,5-T or one and a quarter pounds of silvex per acre in the 3.1 water oil emulsion given for mesquites. Two sprayings in consecutive years or skipping a year is advisable on oak. Under favorable conditions a single application may be 85 percent effective. The cost should run about $11.50 an acre for the two treatments. The second application should be either one pound of 2,4,5-T or three-fourths pounds of silvex an acre. Goats can be used profitably in controlling underbrush on sprayed oak areas. They will lengthen the control period and often make a good return.

Rev. H. B. Reynolds and his wife and daughter of Abilene, here because of the death of Mrs. Jerome Mitchell, were overnight visitors in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Hunter Friday night.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The vaccination of your dog or cat for rabies should be attended to immediately after the positive identification of two fox heads by the State Health Department. It is your responsibility to the family and community to see that this vaccination is carried out.

The vaccination is good for one year, however, shots may be secured that last three years. Vaccination of pets for rabies is a yearly consideration of pet owners.

Vaccine may be secured from local merchants.

All precautions should be taken by individuals on seeing abnormal acts during the day time of foxes, skunks, coons, possum, dogs or cats. The animal should be killed and the head sent to State Health Department, Rabies Control Unit, Austin, Texas, for positive identification. Place the head in a small container and seal by soldering, putting the small container in a larger one and packing with ice. Proper packaging is of great importance. The directions given are those of the State Health Department and should be followed.

In cases where the fox has bitten the dog and the fox has been identified as positive, kill the dog immediately if not vaccinated within the year. Even though you desire to go ahead and vaccinate the dog that has been bitten by a rabid fox, there is a six-month waiting period. The dog should be caged for proper protection. Even this is advised against. Kill the dog!

White grubs seem to be giving trouble in lawns and flower beds throughout the county.

The lawn is a favorite spot for beetles to lay eggs and for their young to hibernate over winter. The effects of their eating during the winter will show up in the lawn as patches of dead or dying grass now that warmer weather has started plant growth. The same is true with annual plants in the flower bed and many shallow rooter shrubs. White grubs are the larvae of beetles which spend the early stages of their life cycle underground and are not visible feeders.

If white grubs are suspected, it is easy to make a check. Take a sharp shovel cutting around three sides of the turf. Run this under the block and turn it back on the uncut side. If six grubs are found in a one-square-foot area, better apply an insecticide.

Chlordane has shown promise for treating lawns as have aldrin, dieldrin, and heptachlor. All these materials are available as wettable powders or emulsion concentrates which can be mixed with water and used as a spray. Dust may be applied directly to the lawn.

It is a good practice to sprinkle the lawn after the insecticide has been applied. This washes the insecticide down in the soil.

Gardeners should check the soil for grubs before planting. If grubs are present spade chlordane dust into the soil; this should be done especially where tomatoes, cabbage or other sets are being used.

Poultry infested with lice grow at a slower rate, are unthrifty and produce fewer eggs. One per cent Lindane in an oil solution makes an effective roost paint. A repeat application should be made in 10 days to 2 weeks.

The amount of grain required for creep feeding calves will vary with age, amount of mother's milk, palatability of feed and the time they are started. Early calves started on creep feeders in April and May will consume 500 to 700 lbs. Threshed grains are recommended for younger calves while older calves if started in mid-summer should be fed ground feed with cottonseed meal. Cottonseed meal and hulls may be used.

A good calf creep feed for April and May is 65 pounds grain 35 pounds oats. Making changes each month by raising the grain content and cutting down on the oats or hulls. The ration in July should be 65 pounds grain, 25 pounds oats, 10 pounds cottonseed meal. By the end of the creep feeding period which is usually September or October the creep ration is generally grain 85 pounds, cottonseed meal 15 pounds; pea size cake can be used in place of cottonseed meal. When green grass is present the protein may be reduced.

Ideal location of creep feeders are placed near shade, water and salt.

Check Ranges, Pastures For Poisonous Plants To Prevent Livestock Losses

College Station.—Livestock losses will occur if animals are permitted to graze on ranges on which poisonous plants are growing. Weather conditions, says A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, haven't helped the situation because the continuing drought has limited the growth of desirable forage plants and grazing stock will get the new plants even if they're poison.

Buds, leaves and tender shoots of all trees in the oak family possess a toxic substance which may cause severe illness in cattle, sheep, goats and horses. The poisonous condition is greatest from the time buds begin to swell until the new leaves turn dark green in color. Low growing oaks cause most of the trouble and cattle are most commonly affected, says Walker. Removing livestock from pastures where poisonous plants are growing until the danger period is passed is recommended.

Bitterweed, a plant especially toxic to sheep, is best controlled by deferred and rotation grazing.

Loco and peavine are other plants which can cause trouble. Walker says animals should not be allowed to graze pastures containing these plants until sufficient growth of other plants can satisfy the forage needs of the animals.

The cocklebur in the seedling stage is very poisonous to grazing animals, especially to hogs and cattle, says the specialist.

Your Electric Service is even a bigger bargain than it looks

For pennies a day, electricity lights your home, cooks your food, washes your dishes, and serves you in dozens of other ways. It's the biggest bargain in your family budget!

And it's even bigger than it looks.

Out of every $4.00 you pay on your electric service bill, about $1.00 goes for local, state and Federal taxes. Yet, in spite of this, you are getting about twice as much electricity for every dollar as you did 25 years ago.

Actually, the average cost of a kilowatt hour of electric service for homes served by WTU is 26% less than it was just 10 years ago. Part of the reason for this lower price is your greater use of electric service. But more important, is the work of the men and women of your electric service company who constantly are working to find more and more ways to reduce the cost of producing electric power and of delivering it to you.
