NEW STORAGE TANK AND PUMPS ARE TIED IN TO WATER SYSTEM

Post Script

We've been reading quite a bit lately about how the city of Big Lake has been able to abolish its city taxes . . . and that they are going to have signs erected on the highways leading into their town advertising it as the city with no municipal taxes.

That's good . . . and more power to them . . . but we also got some figures from the superintendent of the Eldorado water department.

In Eldorado your minimum water bill is $2.50 for 5,000 gallons per month.

In Big Lake 5,000 gallons of water per month costs you $5.00.

Difference: $2.50 month, or $30.00 per year.

For $30.00 a year the average householder could just about pay his city taxes—so we can't see that there is too much difference.

Here we pay a smaller sum each month, and a lump sum at the end of the year . . . Over there they pay a larger sum each month, and that's all.

One way or the other you've got to pay for your city facilities and utilities.

In Eldorado and Big Lake both, transient crews of one kind or another are an important part of the population. Pipeline crews, welding crews, seismograph crews as well as "gangs"—all draw good salaries and seek out the better housing facilities for rent while they locate in our towns for a number of months.

In Big Lake each month they pay more toward the support of the city than they do in Eldorado.

Maybe they've got something after all!

Posts were being set for the new fence around Legion Field in western Eldorado this week.

Completed and put into use during the past 30 days were Eldorado's new water storage and pumping facilities in the east part of town. The town now has a water system modern in every respect, it is pointed out by City Water Superintendent Lum Burk.

The city's new 500,000-gallon storage tank and new pumps are already serving to stabilize the water pressure. With lines now looped, the pressure drops in the outlying parts of town have been reduced.

The new pump-station building shown in the photo contains two high lift pumps. One pumps 300 gallons per minute, and the other 500 g.p.m. They both pump directly into the distribution system, and are automatically controlled by water pressure.

A side effect of tying in the new facilities was the milky appearance of Eldorado water for a period of several days recently. This was caused by air in the lines, it was pointed out, and in no way affected the purity of the water.

Lines to the pumps are so arranged that in an emergency, such as a large fire where great amounts of water were being used, the pumps could pump water directly from the city's wells.

J. C. Trueheart of San Antonio built the pump house, and Texarcana Tank and Bridge Company constructed the tank.

Extending and improving of the city's water and sewer services was started last year following city voters' approval of a $247,000 bond issue, of which $87,000 was used to pay off outstanding bonds.

It was stated that with the new water facilities, the city should earn a reduced fire insurance rate as soon as the Fire Insurance Commissioners can inspect the system and take action.

In addition to the added storage, the city recently installed 14 new fire hydrants.

Summer Water Rates In

New summer water rates are in effect during the months of June, July, and August. Water used in excess of 20,000 gallons will be charged for at the rate of 10c per thousand gallons.

The old water rate is $2.50 for 5,000 gallons, with 20c for each additional thousand.

'L-Day' Details Being Worked Out By Committee Men

Details are still being ironed out in regard to General Alvin Luedecke Day, which will be held here July 4.

Tickets to the noon barbecue are still being sold at $1 each, and it was requested that all who have been selling these tickets turn in their money and extra tickets to Dwight Wiedenmann by tomorrow, Friday.

Don McCormick is chairman of the barbecue, and he reports that meat donations are still needed, and that anyone with goats to donate should get in touch with him or with C. T. Waller or Orland Harris. Orland has a pen and the goats can be picked up.

Humble Oil Company Observing Its 40th Birthday

West Texas—back in 1926—did not figure much in the production picture of Humble Oil & Refining Company. Yet, two years later, this area was supplying nearly half of that company's total oil production.

The difference was a highly successful exploration program in the Permian Basin—highlighted by the Hendricks field discovery in Pecos County—which jumped Humble's West Texas production from a 200,000-barrel trickle in 1926 to a 7,000,000 total in 1928. West Texas has been a major source of Humble crude ever since.

Forty years ago this month, in Houston, Humble Oil & Refining Company came into corporate existence—the pooled properties and experience of a group of pioneer Texas oilmen who believed in themselves, each other and the future.

Although June is the company's official anniversary, the story of Humble begins months earlier. Without a charter or a single signature, the company began its operations on March 1, 1917, under a gentleman's agreement among the principals. For three months and three weeks, until the charter was received on June 21, oral promises and individual integrity preserved a merger that involved $8 million in properties and a net daily production of some 8800 barrels of oil.

In a way, Humble Oil & Refining Company dates from Spindletop, for it was there that most of the men who later organized Humble met and became friends. W. S. Farish, who was one day to become chairman of the board of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, came to Spindletop from Mississippi where he had practiced law. At the same time, R. L. Blaffer left New Orleans and his father's coal business to work in Beaumont for the railroad. He soon found himself in the oil business instead.

A third original incorporator of Humble, W. W. Fondren, started in the oil business at Corsicana with a drilling rig purchased from money saved when he worked there as a roustabout. He went to Humble, Texas, in 1906 when the field was discovered, and his equipment was part of the Humble Company when it was organized.

The Sterling family—Ross S. Sterling, Frank P. Sterling, and Miss Florence Sterling—organized the old Humble Oil Company, from which the present organization took its name. Another block of property came from the Wiess family of Beaumont, brought into the new company by H. C. Wiess, who took over the Wiess properties upon his father's death in 1912. Other holdings and properties which went into the merger were those of J. C. Wilson, Frank Ireland, Charles Goddard, L. A. Carlton, Ed Prather and Bert Broday—along with the Schulz Oil Company, owned principally by Mr. Blaffer and Mr. Farish.

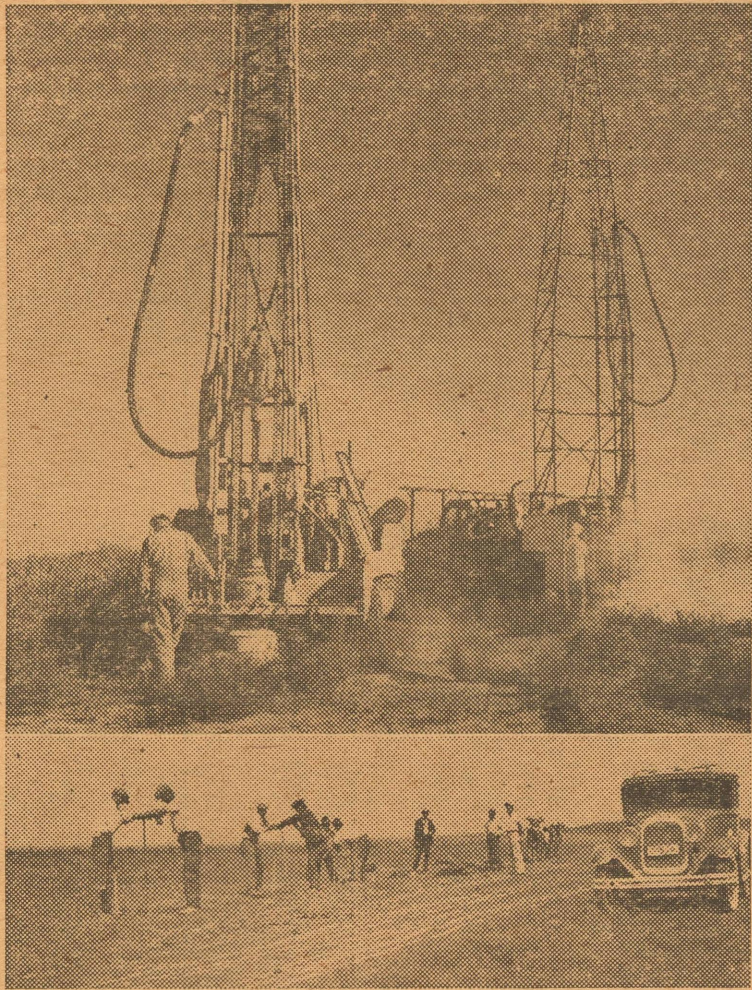

As an integrated company, Humble started out with most of the necessary facilities, but nothing fancy.

There was one "washpot" refinery at Humble, Texas, which processed 300 gallons of gasoline a day from oil out of a single well. The marketing division, a model T truck, picked up each day's product at the refinery and hauled it into Houston for sale to "filling stations." There was a pipe line—three miles of gathering line in the Goose Creek field.

Until March of the following year the company had no geologists. This was not unusual. Petroleum geologists were a new and rare breed then. But there was a land department, established a few months after the company was founded.

It was a modest beginning in the light of Humble's present scope.

Then, as later, the emphasis was on production, and by 1918 Humble moved up into third place among Texas producers. Some months earlier, the company had already begun to expand its marketing operation, acquiring several service stations in south Texas. In 1918 six bulk stations were established, and a number of additional service stations including five in Houston, a growing market.

In July, 1919, Humble bought Bonner Oil Company. John S. Bonner, head of the company, was made Humble's sales manager—bringing along a wealth of knowledge in marketing. Also acquired in the Bonner deal were nine bulk stations, some equipment and merchandise and two vitally important marketing assets—a trained sales staff and an established reputation in petroleum and lubricant sales along the Gulf Coast.

The scientific approach to petroleum exploration came to Humble also in 1918 with the hiring of four geologists. The first of them was Wallace Pratt, who was destined to become one of the world's foremost authorities in his field, and who later went on to the board of directors at Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The next year seven more were engaged. The early geological work was mainly limited to surface geology, with extensive mapping.

The now-mighty Humble Baytown Refinery was started in 1919, on 2200 acres of a boggy rice field on the Ship Channel. It was a monumental construction task, involving so many additions and improvements that when the refinery began unofficial operations in late 1920, the cost of completion had risen from a projected $1 million to $10 million. Starting out with a rated capacity of 10,000 barrels, in five years it had a capacity of 50,000 barrels. In 1927, two years later, it rose to 100,000 barrels.

Sales kept pace with expansion in production, transportation and refining. In 1926, sales volume passed the 2 1/2 million-gallons-a-month mark. The next year Humble moved to multiply sales by setting up a greatly increased number of outlets. From 1926 until 1931, bulk stations increased from 68 to 161.

The Depression was felt heavily by Humble's sales and production organization. From 1932 until 1935 retrenching operations were carried out. Unprofitable outlets were pruned away and production was cut back to conform to market demand—but Humble personnel suffered no large-scale layoffs. What work there was—and there was still plenty to be done, was spread among the employees, resulting in some cases in shorter work weeks.

By 1935, Humble had beaten the Depression. Still serving three-fourths of the state's population, the company began to build production and sales again. From 1935 to 1941, gasoline sales gallonage increased by nearly 40%.

When war came in 1941, Humble was ready for the challenge. The Baytown refinery already was supplying large amounts of aviation gas to the services. (It had put in the world's first commercial alkylation system in 1938, providing a basic component for manufacture of high-octane gasoline).

In the last 10 years Baytown refinery has also become a major petrochemical plant manufacturing the intermediate materials from which synthetic fibers and many other new products are being made.

In 1943, Humble achieved a position it has held ever since—America's largest domestic producer of crude oil. After the war, production dipped briefly, but by 1948 it had surpassed the wartime daily record and stood at 368,000 barrels. Last year for the first time this figure was exceeded, as 1956 production hit 371,000 barrels.

Rutland-Hall Wedding Held Here June 10th

Miss Barbara Rutland became the bride of Mr. Bill Hall Monday evening, June 10, at 7:30 in the First Baptist Church of Eldorado. Miss Rutland is the daughter of the late Durward L. Rutland and Mrs. Irene Rutland of Eldorado. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hall of Fort Smith, Ark.

The double ring ceremony, officiated by Rev. Durward L. Rutland of San Angelo, brother of the bride, was performed before an altar of white garden flowers, greenery and palms. Tall white branched candelabra intertwined with greenery completed the setting of the ceremony.

Traditional wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Joe Muller Christian at the organ, and Mr. Lavelle Meckel sang I Love You Truly.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle G. S. Cathey, wore a street length dress of white dotted swiss, basque waist with a scooped neckline and a bouffant skirt trimmed in white lace daisies, centered with rhinestones. Her head piece was of white velvet and valley lillies. She carried white carnations with a shower of white satin ribbons and carnations atop a white bible. For something old the bride wore a string of pearls, 50 years old, which belonged to Mrs. Jack Garber of Big Lake.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. Durward Rutland, San Angelo, sister-in-law of the bride was attired in street length dress of pale blue tissue taffeta and she wore a small white hat with white accessories. Her corsage was of white gladiolas. James Raibourn was best man.

At a reception in the church parlors, following the wedding, guests were registered by Miss Barbara Faught. Punch was poured by Miss Herma B. Whitten and a four-tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Becky Mund from a table centered by a heart arrangement of white styrofoam and net on which rested a miniature bridal bouquet of valley lillies. Tall white tapers centered in crystal and net completed the table. A profusion of white flowers were used thru-out the reception room.

After a short wedding trip the couple are at home in Eldorado where the groom is employed by Sinclair Oil Co.

Mrs. Hall is a '57 graduate of Eldorado high school. Mr. Hall graduated from Greenwood, Ark., high school, and spent four years in the Navy. He is going to the University of Arkansas this fall.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hall of Ft. Smith, Ark., parents of the groom, and Mrs. Graham, sister of the groom. Also Mrs. Van O'Harrow, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Cathey and Gwen Wooten, all of San Angelo.

Son of Everetts Weds Kilgore Girl

George Browder Everett, of Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Everett of Eldorado, was married Sunday afternoon at 3:00 at the First Baptist Church in Gladewater to Rosie Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Butler of Gladewater. The ceremony took place in the prayer room of the church, and was followed by a reception in the fellowship hall, where punch and cake was served.

The officiating minister was the pastor of the church, the Rev. Ben Striplin, who used the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white lace ballerina length wedding dress, with half hat of lace and a short veil. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid from which cascaded ribbon streamers of white satin.

Vernon Everett, an Eldorado high school student, attended his brother as best man. The bridesmaid, Miss Brock of Gladewater, wore blue organdie with skirt fashioned ballerina length, and her pumps were of a matching blue. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Attending the wedding were only members of the families and close friends, including besides the parents, the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Green of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Everett of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Caffey of Jasper, and Chas. Harrington, Myrna Burrows and Mrs. Bill Harrington of Hobbs, N. Mex.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Kilgore Junior College. The groom now employed at a wholesale drug company at Houston, attended college at Houston last year and will enroll again as a student in the School of Pharmacy in the fall. The couple are making their home in Houston.

The groom's father is manager of Cameron's in Eldorado.

Our vacation Bible school ended last Wednesday night with Commencement exercises instead of our regular prayer meeting. It has certainly been our biggest Bible school in every way. Our average attendance for the ten days was seventy. It is the prayer of all our church that these children will continue to come to Sunday school and bring their families with them. I want to pay tribute to the ladies who made this Bible school possible. They were terribly short handed and carried a huge load. Also to our teen-aged girls who really did a wonderful job.

Plentiful Foods Announced For July

College Station, Turkey, and ice cream are the featured foods on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's July plentiful foods list. These two foods will get special promotions during the month: Mid-Summer Turkey Time, July 25-August 4; and Ice Cream Festival, July 1-31.

Turkeys have long been thought of in terms of Thanksgiving and Christmas, but changes in production methods have made this old favorite available the year round. Ice cream just goes with summer time and increased supplies of milk and butterfat have also increased the amount of ice cream available.

John J. Slaughter, southwest division chief of the USDA's marketing service, says monthly surveys form the basis for determining the plentiful foods.

Fresh fruits are prominent on the July listing and include peaches, lemons and limes. Frozen strawberries will also be in good supply. Milk and other dairy products, in addition to ice cream, will continue seasonally plentiful. Eggs are another high protein plentiful.

Texas new crop of onions will be abundant, but other fresh vegetables are not listed for the state. Peanuts and peanut butter and vegetable fats and oils are shelf items included on the July list.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which has no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by July 1, 1957.

Blank application forms are available at the ASC County Office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Longhorn Cavern Deemed Million Years in Making

Texas Longhorn Cavern, spectacular scenic masterpiece of Nature, was at least a million years in the making, geologists estimate. The huge cavern is awesome evidence of the changes wrought through the ages by variations in climate, earth movements, the rise and fall of the seas and the slow solution of limestone by water.

Longhorn Cavern, located near Burnet in the Highland Lakes region northwest of Austin, is one of the state's favorite attractions for tourists and sightseers. Guided tours are conducted daily through the explored portions of the cave, which is one of the world's largest.

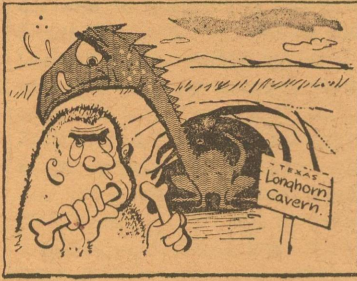

Richard W. Rush, assistant professor of geology at the University of Texas, has traced the sequence of events which led to the development of the cavern from the time when Texas lay beneath a huge sea, approximately a half-billion years ago.

The stone in which the cavern was eventually carved out was formed from limy muds deposited at the bottom of this sea. Over countless centuries this mud deposit gradually rose out of the sea, only to sink beneath it again, a process which was repeated a number of times.

Finally slow uplift raised Texas above the sea for the last time and the limestone which had hardened from the mud deposits lay exposed to the elements for over sixty million years.

At that time Central Texas was a humid swampland in which gigantic dinosaurs and other reptilian monsters roamed.

The actual beginnings of Longhorn Cavern probably occurred during the Ice Age, when the northern part of the United States was covered by glaciers, more than a million years ago.

As the glaciers retreated, about 50,000 years ago, the climate of Texas became drier and the ground water level began to drop, dissolving the limestone as it fell.

Underground streams flowing through the cave helped to carve out the labyrinthian passageways and huge rooms, until the cavern was excavated to its most remote chamber, an eerie 130 feet below the surface of the earth.

Prehistoric cavemen probably sought refuge in the subterranean depths of the cavern to avoid being devoured by the fearsome mammals which ranged the countryside in dim ages past.

The main approach to the cavern entrance is through a collapsed sink or deep depression in the limestone, with remnants of the original roof preserved as a natural bridge over the steps leading to the cave mouth.

The scenic beauty of the cavern is heightened by the sparkling displays of calcite crystals, the unusual shapes formed of flint and the clusters of stalactites and stalagmites which in some instances have fused to form impressive columns.

Some 16 to 25 inches of rain on most of the Eldorado-Divide SCD has resulted in the greatest profusion of flowering weeds in many years.

Nature abhors a void, and with continued rainfall the drought-induced bare areas were quickly covered with a multitude of weeds, some good and some bad, but all beneficial in helping to trap the raindrops. Weeds are part of nature's plan to cover and protect the good earth, and in the absence of grass they quickly form a blanket on the land.

It is most interesting to observe the waves of weeds that have predominated the ever changing scene since the rains. Slow February rains started bitterweed on a grand scale, along with bluecurl phacelia, verbena and a small weed called blunthead pellitory. Engelmann-daisy dominated the roadsides.

By the middle of May the pellitory and bluecurls faded and a host of plants came into prominence. Bitterweed, of course, dominated the scene on drought-weakened pastures infested with the pest—even though few seed might have been produced in recent years. Tallow weed, Texas filaree, nama nuisance and a few bluebonnets and other good weeds were present and made remarkable growth.

During May a host of new plants made their appearance. Yellow flowered plants such as cereopsis, green thread, buffalo bur, Reemer senna, cone flower and many pink and yellow and white evening primrose. Horsemint, American basket flower, prickly poppy and the thistles were also abundant.

Sleepy catchfly, a plant seldom seen in quantity, has been abundant this year. The stems have small, sticky sections which trap insects. Another uncommon plant is chickthief mentzelia, which has leaves covered with minute hooks that sometimes trap small turkeys. Hosts of other uncommon plants are appearing, some of which are devilsclaw, datura of Jimsenweed, and many others.

Undesirable weeds, in addition to bitterweed, are also having a field day. Horehound is appearing in record abundance. Sticky florestina, a poisonous plant that seldom gives trouble, is also common. Buffalo bur, broomweed, malva centaurea and grassbur are prevalent.

Many weeds, such as bitterweed, tallow weed, and filaree will soon die, and the grass which has been quietly spreading on the moist ground will be much more prominent. Sideoats grama, cane bluestem, green sprangletop and Texas cupgrass is beginning to seed. Curlymesquite, buffalgrass, and vine mesquite are working around the clock to cover the ground.

As the summer progresses, with continued moisture, a changing panorama of colorful plants will steadily unfold. Ranchmen should take advantage of the wonderful opportunity to observe and learn their vegetation.

Mrs. Frances Mund visited her son Charles and his family at New Braunfels. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson, who took Grover Lee's mother home to Gonzales after a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton McGinnes and children have returned from a 2424-mile vacation trip. They attended a family reunion at Caddo Lake, visited at Almond, Ark., went through Louisiana to Houston and Galveston, and visited the Roy McGinnes family at Gonzales.

Tommy Green of A&M spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. T. F. Green.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

How long has it been since you cut the heel off a home made loaf of bread, spread it with butter and jelly and simply eaten one of the best things in the world?

Home Demonstration clubs all over the county are trying to remedy the situation if it's been too long. During June everybody is making bread; three kinds at every meeting. One loaf of good old fashioned bread, sweet braided loaf and one loaf of real French bread. We are not trying to learn too much about breads, just trying to be able to make a good loaf. The French bread is easy to make, freezes well and so good spread with garlic butter, wrapped in foil and slowly reheated after being frozen.

Call Gladys Cheek at my number 24281, for a copy of all the bread recipes, and clip this one for immediate use:

French Bread

2 pkgs dry yeast or 2 yeast cakes dissolved in
2 cups warm water
2 teaspoons salt
8 cups flour, approximately
Mix enough flour and yeast to make a batter and heat thoroughly. Add flour and stir in as much as possible. When dough is too stiff to stir, hand knead in remaining flour. Let rise double in bulk, punch down, rise again. Divide in 2 equal parts. Roll into oblong sheet, roll tightly as if a jelly roll. Shape into oblong loaf. Place on a greased cookie sheet, cut slashes in top. Let rise double in bulk once more. Bake in 350 degree oven for about one hour. The last 10 minutes remove from oven. Beat one egg white with 1 table spoon water, brush top heavily and sprinkle with poppy or sesame seed. Return to oven. For very hard crust, bake with pan of water in bottom of oven.

It's getting close to canning time. The one-step, cold pack method of canning fruits and certain vegetables is a wonderfully simplified version of the old method that used to take so much time and work. For instance, take this method for

Snap Beans

Wash beans, trim ends; cut into 1 inch pieces. Pack raw beans tightly to ½ inch of top. Cover with boiling water, leaving ½ inch space at top of jar. Add ½ teaspoon salt to pint jars; one teaspoon to quart. Close with two piece self sealing lid. Process in pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure.

Pint jars, 20 minutes; quart jars 25 minutes.

Call for this bulletin too: "One Step Cold Pack Method for Canning Certain Vegetables." Another mighty handy bulletin is "Frozen Foods" and everybody is entitled to and welcome to have one.

Last Friday was indeed a meeting day for the Extension Service in Schleicher County. Mrs. Victor Sauer and Mrs. Henry Moore, leaders for the Reynolds 4-H club, had a meeting of their girls. Mrs. Gene McCalla took care of both the senior and junior 4-H girls club of Eldorado. Mrs. M. H. Woodward and Mrs. McCalla are leaders for the Eldorado clubs and these girls made a cheese zip-dip for picnics and parties and grape shake. The Reynolds girls made 40 sandwiches to be sold on Market Day. Mrs. Forrest Runge and Anita, Runge gave an excellent report on the "work easier" program to the Rudd club, and gave a yeast bread demonstration to the same club; (an all-day meeting at Mrs. Bill Watsons) and the Eldorado Teen Club opened its doors for the first time.

Reports are that the Teen Club is going great!

The kind of call that every Home Demonstration agent loves to get: Jean Kuykendall just phoned to say that she would be more than glad to help with the 4-H girls work this summer. What a wonderful thing for a college student to offer; their time and themselves.

An old fashioned neighborly thing to do—the Reynolds Home Demonstration Club met at the Buck Davis home to help put the yard and garden in the same condition that it has always been kept.

Rev. S. W. Harralson and family are at Goulbusk this week, where the pastor is conducting a revival at the Goulbusk Congregational Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Edmiston and boys of New Mexico are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Montgomery and other relatives here.

4-H TEAM BRINGS HONOR TO GODWIN AND SCHLEICHER COUNTY

Grass is a most important crop in Schleicher county and its gets special consideration by all 4-H boys. How well County Agricultural Agent Grady Godwin has taught the subject was reflected on June 12 when the county team just about made a clean sweep in the state contest at Texas A&M College at the annual 4-H Roundup. Godwin is hospitalized from an auto accident and couldn't make the Roundup with the team. They are left to right: Farris Nixon, second high individual; Judge Whitten; Dwain Sauer, alternate; Ernest Nimitz, high man entire contest.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The judging team consisted of Farris Nixon, second high in the state; Judge Whitten, Dwain Sauer, and Ernest K. Nimitz, high individual in the state.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many friends who contributed to the success of this team. Judge W. R. Bearce went with the boys to San Angelo, for the District VII elimination contest. Bill Rountree and Oliver Burk helped the boys work out on grass and then Fred Campbell, associate county agent, worked with them after June 1st until the contest. Mr. Campbell also took the boys to 4-H round-up June 11-13 for the state contest.

Chances are that practically all rangeland has more weeds than grasses. An abundance of weeds is always expected after a drouth, but properly managed desirable plants will crowd them out.

Perennial grasses are slow to recover, and heavy grazing can hurt them more now than during a drouth. A deferred grazing system and proper use of range is essential for maximum range recovery.

From a range standpoint, it is a poor time for restocking. Breeding back into the livestock business will be a lot cheaper and safer than buying. Stocking plans should not be based on spring growth; it could plenty this fall and winter. Keeping livestock numbers in balance with expected feed for the coming year is a safe bet for livestock profits.

The new egg law is being studied in detail. Beginning September 1, 1957, every egg sold to the grocery store will be sold under a grade. The higher the grade the higher the price to producer. Merchants will have the opportunity to study this law in July. This column will carry the egg law more in detail at a later date. It will also be to the advantage of all producers selling eggs to become informed about the law.

At the Sonora Wool and Mohair show, 4-H boys will exhibit wool and enter the contest of judging wool and mohair, animals, and plants. Jerry Don Johnson, Charles West, and Judge Whitten will be in this contest.

Work "breaks" are as important to farmers as city workers. Farmers are behind in their work due to excessive moisture. Work breaks will reduce the possibilities of accidents and improve efficiency.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Case and son Peter, left Tuesday on a three weeks' vacation trip to Silver Springs, Md., where they will visit Mrs. Cases's parents, and Mr. Case's sister Helen and family. They will return via Southern Illinois where they will visit with friends.

All of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cheatham have been at home. Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Glascock and girls of Seminole, here Tuesday and Wednesday; Mrs. Clayton Sanders of Grandfalls, here from Tuesday to Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Cheatham of Crane.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Alcorn and daughter Sandra have returned from a two weeks' vacation trip to California, where they visited in the pine country near Tulia and Fresno.

L. J. Alexander and daughter of San Angelo spent Fathers Day with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Alexander.

Austin.—It's vacation time in Texas. During the next three months millions of people will stream to every corner of the state in search of relaxation.

But a lot of home folks will stay home. They make a living catering to the tourists. Vacationing is big business in Texas. And it promises to get bigger.

Last year nearly 8 1/2 million out-of-staters visited Texas—only 12% on business. They spent nearly $350,000,000 for food, lodging, gasoline and entertainment.

Next year voters will decide whether to try to hustle in even more visitors and money through nationwide advertising. A proposed constitutional amendment to remove the ban on spending state funds for advertising was passed by the last Legislature. It will come to a vote at the November, 1958, general election.

Meanwhile, several state agencies and a host of municipal and private organizations give out information on how to have fun in Texas.

State Highway Department has just issued a brand new map telling how to find your way over the state's 100,000 miles of roads. It includes 20 full-color pictures and a warm welcome to the "land of hospitality." Available free from the department.

State Parks Board, housekeeper for 49 state parks, plans many new camping, swimming and picnicking facilities. It got a "generous appropriation" from the Legislature said the Board.

Texas Game and Fish Commission has help and advice for the one in every four Texans who hunts or fishes. Its numerous publications give guidance ranging from where the fish are biting to what to do for snake bite.

Year's Water Supply
Without another drop of rain, Texas' 35 major reservoirs now have enough water stored to last a year.

Heavy spring rains poured 6 million acre feet of water into the reservoirs filling them to 92% capacity, reports the State Board of Water Engineers.

Storage is about twice that of a year ago.

Flood Survey Sought
But the unprecedented rains brought problems. State Water Board wants money to make an emergency survey of what the floods did with a view to learning how to prevent future destruction.

Both the Board and Gov. Price Daniel requested an appropriation for this from the last Legislature. But it didn't go through, so now the Board has asked donations from the state's five water districts and river authorities. It wants several thousand dollars from each totaling $17,000.

Goodbye To Chips
Texas gambling has got to go, says Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. An all-out effort to shut down the multi-million dollar empire in Galveston was called just the beginning. Wilson and Dept of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr., cooperated in planning a massive raid on Galveston's illegal establishments. But the gamblers got word, closed up and cleared out ahead of the raid. Wilson's staff followed up by filing padlock suits—boxes full of them—to try to prevent the places from reopening.

Wilson and Garrison said they would follow the same pattern in other areas. First, local officials will be called on to suppress the gambling and state cooperation offered. But, said Wilson, "if local officials fail to do this job, we will do it from the state level."

Gov. Daniel gave his full backing to the crackdown, hailed it as the "beginning of a new era in law enforcement."

More Science For Teens
More study, with emphasis on science, will be required of future high school graduates. New standards set up by the State Board of Education direct that:

1. Graduates complete 16 units of study, rather than present 15, including two years of laboratory science.

2. Physical education cannot be counted in compiling the units.

3. Not more than one class period of the day may be used for competitive athletics.

New rules will take effect during the 1958-59 school year, but are to be applied to ninth graders next fall.

16-MILE HAUL — 4300 FEET UP — When Sheriff Cal Boies of Maricopa County, Arizona, sends his 4-wheel-drive GMC to his radio transmitting station on a mountain peak, one round trip deals out more punishment than a year's ordinary use.

IT CROSSES 3 MOUNTAIN CHAINS, wades through shifting sand, picks its way over boulder-strewn passes—goes where no sane horse would set foot. The deal includes climbing up a 65% grade. But — "It hasn't even breathed hard yet," says the Sheriff.

How tough could you make it for this GMC 4-WHEEL DRIVE?

YOU probably never would push a GMC truck this far.

But it's great to know that GMC's can do incredible jobs, beyond all normal requirements for their class—and still run longer, cheaper and with fewer repairs than other trucks.

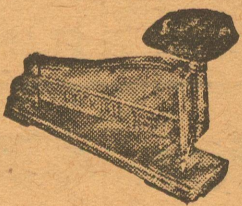

Got some tough assignments for this GMC 4-wheel drive? It's just about the handiest truck ever built — goes anywhere, makes its own roads, has full traction in muck or deep snow, has clearance on high-crowned roads.

With a few accessories, it pulls stumps, drills postholes or wells, stretches fence, pumps water, hoists anything. It takes a king-size cargo and—in 2-wheel drive—gives you full road speeds.

The GMC 4-wheel drive is really two trucks in one — and it costs surprisingly little. Just ask your GMC dealer!
