First Baptist 60th Anniversary To Be Observed September 3rd

Sunday, September 3, will be a big day for the First Baptist church here in Eldorado, when the pastor and congregation host former pastors and members at a homecoming and all-day meeting commemorating the 60th anniversary of the founding of the church, which is now Eldorado's largest.

The pastor, D. C. DuBose, and his committee have been busy making plans for the big day. Already, Success printers have printed a brochure with the program and historical facts regarding the past 60 years.

Only one charter member, Mrs. Emma (Alexander) Campbell, is still living. The church traces its history from Sunday, Sept. 1, 1901, when a group of interested people met in the school house here for the purpose of organizing a Baptist church. Rev. Ben Wilson served as Moderator and Rev. A. T. Talbert as clerk.

Former pastors have already been contacted and those who plan to be here and take part in the program include J. L. Ratliff, C. H. Riddle, W. D. Kirkpatrick, Clifford Nelson, A. J. Quinn, J. M. Hays, and J. C. Hancock.

The big 60th anniversary celebration will really get under way the evening before, on Saturday, September 2. Then the Women's Missionary Society will be hostesses at a reception in the church basement honoring all former pastor and members. This time of informal fellowship will start at 7:30.

The following day, Sunday the 3rd, will include Sunday school at 9:45, worship service at 11:00 with J. L. Ratliff, D. C. DuBose, and C. H. Riddle participating and including special music by the choir.

At 12:00 noon, the meal will be served at the church. Things will get under way again at 1:30 with congregational and special music. Those participating in the subsequent program will include W. D. Kirkpatrick, Clifford Nelson, and A. J. Quinn.

At 7:00 p. m., the Training Union will meet, followed at 8:00 by evening worship service at which messages will be given by Jim Hays and J. C. Hancock.

The First Baptist church has seen much growth during the past 16 years since World War II ended. The Sunday School annex was added, new parsonage was erected and new home acquired for the music director, the church auditorium was remodeled and air conditioned, and robes were prepared for the choir.

Right now, names and addresses of former members of the church are being sought in order that they can be invited to the big celebration September 2 and 3. Mrs. L. M. Hoover and Mrs. Carroll Ratliff have charge of compiling the names and addresses.

American Legion Officers Installed

E. W. Brooks was installing officer when the new slate of officers who will serve the 1961-62 year, were installed at a meeting last Thursday night of the Bev McCormick post of The American Legion.

Lloyd Johnson as commander will head the local post the coming year. Retiring commander is Jack Hext.

The program was held in the main room of the Memorial building and Legionnaires and their families were present. Following the program, all went to the banquet room in the basement where homemade ice cream and cake were served.

Bank To Donate Equipment To School

In keeping with progress and the era of automation, The First National Bank announces the purchase for delivery in September of two of the latest model Burroughs Sensimatic Dual-Printer bookkeeping machines. It is said the investment will approximate $10,000 and represents another forward step in speeding up and for more efficient processing of checking accounts.

In order to make it possible for high school students to familiarize themselves with bank accounting, two Burroughs machines now in use by the bank, in lieu of being traded in on the new equipment, will be donated to the Eldorado School system for installation in the commercial training department. This is said to be good equipment, the original cost of which was over $6,000, and is capable of rendering years of service.

A representative of the Burroughs Corporation will install the machines in the school and instruct personnel of the commercial training department in their operation and use.

Building About Ready For Storage Of Hospital

THIS old service station building on South Main street, one of several left behind when the Sonora highway was re-located, is about ready to receive the V-600 Civil Defense Emergency Hospital.

Already, city employees have put on a new roof, repaired windows and put heavy wire over the outside, and removed the hydraulic lift to get the building ready for storage of the packaged 200-bed hospital which would be moved to the Memorial Building and set up and put into use if Eldorado ever had a tornado or other disaster where it would be needed.

Officials of the city and county have been working with the state Civil Defense office on procuring of the hospital for some time.

Palmer West has been designated custodian, Bob McWhorter assistant custodian, and Judge W. R. Bearce as property officer of the hospital.

The hospital unit is contained in 364 cases which are sealed to be air-tight and moisture-proof. Among the equipment included is a 15 KW generator run by gasoline to provide power for light and electrical equipment, a 10-gallon per minute water pumping unit, a 1500-gal. nylon water storage tank, and x-ray and fluoroscope equipment, as well as surgical instruments, drugs, and first aid supplies. All this equipment is what would be most needed in an emergency hospital serving a disaster area.

Masons Submit Plans For New Lodge Hall

Under direction of J. H. Mace, plans have been drawn up for the new Masonic Lodge hall to be built here, and the plans have been sent to the Grand Lodge at Waco for approval.

A one-storey tile building is planned, to be erected on the corner lots which the Masons already own east of Earl Parker Motors, and across the street to the north of the court house.

The new building will contain a Lodge meeting room, as well as separate dining hall with kitchen. The entire structure will have year-around air conditioning.

J. T. Jackson is Worshipful Master of the local Lodge this year, and he and his committees have been at work on the matter of the new hall for the past several months.

If the present set of plans is approved by the Grand Lodge, the way will be open for construction to be started sometime this fall.

Two Directors ReElected At Annual CoOp Meeting

R. A. Harrell of Ozona and Jeff Owens of Sheffield were re-elected to the board of directors for three-year terms when the annual membership meeting of the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op was held Tuesday night.

The meeting was held at the Memorial Building and was preceded by the barbecue for members, their families and guests, served on the courthouse lawn. Orlando Harris had charge of preparing the barbecue and it was reported that an all-time high number of 730 were served.

W. W. Sheen of Menard, president of the Co-Op, welcomed the members to the annual meeting and J. Forrest Runge, secretary, read the minutes of the 1960 meeting.

Louis Gayer, Co-Op attorney, conducted the election in which Harrell and Owens were given new three-year terms.

Don McCormick, manager of the Co-Op since its organization in 1945, gave his report in which he reported that service is continuously being expanded in Schleicher county and the nine other counties served. The lines of the Co-Op serve an area 88 miles from northernmost to southernmost point, and 160 miles from east to west.

Louis Gayer eulogized Ford Oglesby as one of the early promoters of rural electrification in this area.

Don McCormick conducted the drawing for the 17 door prizes, with Mary Lynn McCalla drawing the mnaes. The prizes were donated by local and out-of-town suppliers, and were given as follows: Joe Strauss, deep fryer; Jeff Owens, steam iron; M. L. Potter, electric brooder; H. A. Faulk, hair dryer; Charles Wimer, bakemaster; Mrs. J. Forrest Runge, toaster; Mrs. L. T. Wilson, percolator; B. F. Hartgraves, percolator; Buster Hale, iron; George Draper, clock; Winona Holmes, clock; Mrs. Wayne Mikeska, percolator; W. F. Edmiston, broiler; Mrs. Lawrence Dannheim, iron; Mrs. M. H. Woodward, portable mixer; Mrs. E. H. Dannheim, clock; Mrs. Billy Jack Reynolds, lantern.

Three films were shown, including one on mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing.

Serving with newly re-elected directors Harrell and Owens this coming year will be the five hold-over directors: W. W. Sheen, J. Forrest Runge, Joe B. Edens, Frank Bond, and Joe D. Strauss. This 16th annual meeting found the Co-Op serving 1730 meters with 1965 miles of lines.

Six Flags Over Texas Is Now Open To Rival Disneyland

BALMY WEATHER and blue skies was the perfect setting for upwards of 15,000 people who flocked to Six Flags Over Texas August 5, the official opening day for the new $10,000,000 entertainment center which is located between Fort Worth and Dallas.

The lines of visitors to the multi-million dollar Wonderland began forming at the gates hours before the scheduled opening time of 10 a.m. After the dedicatory ceremonies that saw the Mayors of Dallas, Fort Worth, Arlington, Grand Prairie and Irving, together with officials of Six Flags and the Great Southwest Corporation, builders and owners of the park, were completed, the gates were opened at 9:41 a.m. The early opening of the gates was decided upon in order to accommodate patiently waiting crowds of people who wanted the honor of being the first members of the general public to see the fantastic 105-acre layout that depicts the high lights of Texas history in a setting of high adventure and family fun. A colorfully costumed cast of 550 was on hand to entertain visitors who participate in a series of over 40 major adventures, rides and featured shows that recreate the exciting days of Texas under the flags of Spain (1519-1821); France (1685-1690); Mexico (1821-1836); Republic of Texas (1836-1845); the Confederacy (1861-1865); and the U. S. A. (1865 to the present).

Austin.—Amid the sound and fury of the tax battle in the Legislature, Texas—new to the idea of far-reaching sales taxes—could be heard trying to get to the bottom of things by calculating their effect upon such things as baby's diapers.

The key to many discussions, both in the Legislative chambers and in the Capitol corridors, was the term "outer wearing apparel," to be exempt from sales taxes.

It seemed simple enough at first when the proposal was to exempt such articles costing less than $10, the intention being to exempt work clothes. But many a question popped up when the tax writers went into details and spelled out that this exemption would not include accessories like "cuff links, belts, ties, scarves, bill-folds, hand bags, canes, unattached buttons, ornamental jewelry of any type, bathing suits, sleeping garments, bathrobes, lingerie, negligees and lounging pajamas."

Clearly, baby's diapers are outer wearing apparel. But, do they remain in that status when covered with rubber or plastic pants? No-body could readily answer the question. That was something to be decided later.

And what about bathing suits? These certainly are not undergarments—except, of course, when worn under street clothes. And who ever wears anything "outer" than a bathrobe?

Then there was the more serious talk about the definition of work clothes. The exemption was confined to those made of cotton, twill, poplin, denim, and chambray. Suppose, somebody questioned, a man ran across a pair of blue denims with nylon knees?

And why, a white collar worker asked, shouldn't his wool trousers be exempt, too, since he works in them?

During the Sales Tax debate, Senator Wardlaw Lane of Center quipped, "I'm personally not for any kind of tax . . . just like I'm not for pneumonia, death or anything else bad . . ."

Attorney General Rules

An Attorney General's opinion holds that the state's admission tax does not apply to tickets to baseball, football and basketball games, but is applicable to horse races, dog races, motorcycle races, auto races, dance halls, night clubs and skating rinks, "and any and all like places of amusements, contests, and exhibitions."

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who asked for the ruling, was advised that horse races are subject to the tax because they are specifically mentioned in the tax law, while baseball, football and basketball games are not.

Referendum On Race Betting

Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio, who got nowhere with his bill to legalize horse race gambling in Texas and another calling for a statewide referendum on the question, doesn't plan to give up.

Representative Berry said petitions are being circulated by members of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association asking support of a Democratic party referendum from 10 per cent of the qualified voters in Texas. He estimated 155,000 signatures will be necessary to cause the State Democratic Executive Committee to submit the proposition to the voters in the first Democratic primary election next May.

The petition, he said, calls for submission of a constitutional amendment to the electorate.

Document on Water Problem

"If Texans cannot change the weather, they can at least, through sound, farsighted planning, conserve and develop the water resources to supply their needs."

So said the State Board of Water Engineers as it turned in to Gov. Price Daniel the state's first comprehensive, projected plan for meeting the industrial, municipal and other water needs in 1980. Governor Daniel termed the 200-page document, which envisions the construction of 45 new reservoirs over the state, "one of the great things in the life of our state."

The board made the observation that the people of Texas have not yet been "aroused to the dire consequences of inaction or to the consequences of building projects which at best provide for only small increases in water needs—in relation to long term future needs in many areas, water is the least abundant of Texas' important natural resources; certainly it is the most indispensable."

The board said that through proper development, Texas has adequate water to meet its municipal and industrial needs in 1980 and sustain agriculture and other uses. A significant statement in the report was to the effect that such a program as outlined "appears to be within the financial capability of the state and local interests, with federal participation in projects containing flood control."

In short, the so-called "master plan" for development of the state's water resources is at least an outline of what can be done, and might be done, to meet one of the state's most crucial problems.

Attack On Soffness

Physical education teachers from over the state at a meeting in Austin have come up with a plan to turn talk into action and do something about physical fitness in the schools.

The plan includes 15 minutes of strenuous body exercise in physical education periods; teaching the right way to walk, sit, climb, pull, push and all the other ways the body obeys the laws of physics teaching games and sports people can use throughout their life, including tennis, golf and swimming and other popular sports; teaching the history of games; fitting activities such as folk dancing into social studies; emphasizing sportsmanship a part of social behavior; accomplishing social control thru release of tension in athletics; and promoting a favorable attitude toward physical activity both as children and as adults.

Bus Rates Go Up

Bus travel in Texas is costing the operators more and so it will be costing the passengers more. No one objected at a hearing which resulted in a general hike of five per cent in bus fare rates approved by the State Railroad Commission. Operators testified expenses increased 8.9 per cent in 1960 over 1959, against a revenue increase of only 4.6 per cent. The last time bus fares were increased was in 1958. The increases will be in effect no later than September 1. There were some exceptions to the general five per cent increase, such as an approved boost of 10 per cent for Texas bus lines operating between Galveston-Beaumont and Port Arthur-High Island, and a 10 per cent increase for Texas Electric Bus Lines.

Governor For A Day

One of the nicer traditions in Texas politics is that which permits the man who is third in line to the governorship officially to take over the reins of state government for day.

By custom, the Governor and Lieutenant Governor absent themselves for a 24-hour period so that the Senator who has been elected by his colleagues as President Pro Tempore of the Senate can step into the Governor's chair.

The honor went to easy-going, well-liked Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock last week. He signed proclamations, as Acting Governor, got in little plugs for his area of the state, and was feted at a banquet which rounded out the festivities in the evening last Friday.

Short Snorts

Moonshining still goes on. The Texas Liquor Control Board reports seven illicit stills were taken by inspectors during the month of June with a capacity of 710 gallons. Inspectors seized 590 gallons of mash and made nine arrests. The stills were located in Lamar, Bowie, Marion and San Jacinto counties.

Texas Business Review reports retail sales in Texas for the first six months of 1961 increased steadily, but still fell behind the first half of 1960. One reason: consumers using current income to catch upon old debts.

Construction industry reached near record levels with substantial increases over 1960, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Authorized construction this year so far is less than one per cent below the record reached in 1959.

GOOD DOVE SEASON WILL DEPEND UPON WEATHER & WEEDS

Austin.—With fewer than 30 days until the opening of the morning dove season in the North Zone, September 1, there is still a great deal of speculation as to how plentiful this year's crop will be. According to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, some hot, dry weather is needed to ripen feed seed, and darken considerably the green effect of the present abundance of foliage.

In parts of West Texas where there hasn't been too much rain, weed seeds are now ripening, according to information received in Austin. In these cases, the doves seem to be plentiful at the present time. However, the abundance of rain in Central Texas has vegetation very lush, and weed seeds are not yet ripening. Since water holes have been filled completely, this will tend to scatter late evening dove shooting around the water holes.

So, according to the executive secretary, it is anybody's guess as to how good the dove season will be. On the other hand, the quail crop right now looks to be in top condition. There are still a few nesting birds, but for the most part there have been heavy hatches in practically every part of the state. As a result, a big crop of birds is reported in areas where there were practically no birds last year.

Under the general laws, the quail season will open December 1. The Game Commission will set the quail season in regulatory counties at its quarterly meeting early in October.

Time Important When Fishing In Dog Days

Austin.—The dog days are here in the out-of-doors. This is the time of the year when the temperature hovers around 100 degrees, dogs become rabid and snakes go blind. It is the time of the poorest fishing, and more comfort is found in airconditioned homes than along the river bank. A good fisherman, however, can do well if he will get up early enough in the morning or fish late enough in the evening, according to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

"This is a particularly good time for trotliners who are looking for big catfish," Dodgen said. "These trotlines should be set across channels, and down near the bottom. Big catfish are ranging low, and generally they like moving water best."

At this season of the year, big bass are usually found just at day-break or at dusk, feeding in the shallow water along the banks. This is an ideal time of the year for top water plugs, and also for those who prefer to fish by moonlight.

Dodgen also warns that August is a bad month for recreation accidents, and warns against carelessness, particularly in water sports. "We get too many drownings at this time of the year," he says.

Firemen were called out Wednesday morning to a small grass fire near the Joiner house in west-ern Eldorado.

GREAT PLAINS PROGRAM
 The board of supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District has just received notice from Mr. H. N. Smith, state conservationist, that the Secretary of Agriculture has designated Schleicher county to be included in the Great Plains Conservation Program. The effective date July 1, 1961.

Work is now getting under way in developing the eligible list of practices, cost-share rates and acreage costs to be used in the program.

This program is designed to put entire farms and ranches under conservation treatment—not just piecemeal, but under a plan that has a set-up timetable. It is a long range program. It covers the entire needs of a man's farm or ranch by setting up all permanent conservation practices needed for good land use. This program is to help minimize climatic hazards and protect the land from erosion and deterioration by natural causes. To participate in the program a farmer or rancher must have a workable plan of conservation operations that incorporate needed land use changes, needed cropping and grazing systems, and needed soil and water conservation practices in proper combinations. The plan will include a time schedule for doing the planned jobs.

The plan is to be technically sound, and acceptable to the Secretary of Agriculture. Soil Conservation Service technicians will help a farmer or rancher make his plan, on request. Soil and range site maps and other information will be provided.

When a farmer or rancher develops an acceptable plan he may then enter into a contract with the Secretary of Agriculture to carry it out. This contract provides for a plan, a time schedule, and obligates the amount of needed cost—shares guaranteed by the Federal government.

The contract can not run for less than 3 years nor more than 10 years, ending not later than December 31, 1971.

The amount of cost-sharing depends on the cost of doing the needed work and the rates established at state and county levels. The maximum cost-share rate will not exceed 80 per cent of the average estimated cost of installing each eligible practice. A farmer or rancher may receive a cost-share payment when he has carried out a practice or an identifiable unit of his plan.

Practices eligible for cost-sharing include: establishing permanent plant cover, field or contour strip cropping, contour cultivation, improving range cover, establishing waterways, building terrace systems, chiseling or pitting range land, improving dams or ponds for irrigation, constructing wells for livestock, installing pipe, fencing, and controlling brush.

Cropland acreage allotments of those who participate in the program will not be decreased during the period of their contract by any actions they take in carrying out their plan of operations. The contract supplements and does not cancel other contracts or agreements that may be in effect, such as the soil bank.

New Laws Affect Use Of The Telephone

State legislation which will affect telephones was called to the attention of Texans this week by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The three bills which have been passed are Senate Bill 309, which has to do with fraudulent use of telephones; Senate Bill 366, which deals with obstructing the use of a party line during an emergency; and House Bill 921, which deals with destruction of obstruction of telephone, telegraph or electrical transmission equipment.

"Some pathetic things have happened here in Texas when persons would not give up the line for an emergency call and telephone companies and individuals are being cheated out of thousands of dollars through fraudulent use of the telephone, according to the telephone company district manager. The theft of transmission wires also has reached serious proportions. The current legislation is an effort to curb such situations," he said.

According to SB309, which became law June 16, it is a misdemeanor to obtain telecommunication service with the intent to defraud any individual or company through the use of fictitious telephone numbers or false credit cards.

Defrauding or misrepresenting through the use of a code or any prearranged trick or scheme where the telephone is involved is also covered in the bill.

Charging calls to false, nonexistent or discontinued telephone numbers is classified as a misdemeanor by the legislation and carries up to a $1,000 fine and/or up to one year in jail for violation of the law.

Senate Bill 366, which becomes effective August 27, states that it is a misdemeanor to maliciously obstruct emergency telephone calls or to secure the use of the telephone line by falsely claiming that an emergency exists.

Any person refusing to relinquish immediately a party line when such line is needed for an emergency call to a fire department, police department, medical or ambulance service after having been informed that an emergency exists, will be guilty of a violation of this law.

Fines of $25 to $500 and/or up to one month in jail are the penalties levied on a person guilty of violation of this law.

Caution Urged To Prevent Grassfires

Schleicher county has had an unusually wet year, grass and weeds are high, and are beginning to cure and dry out. These conditions have created the worst hazards for grass fire in several years, it was pointed out this week by Fire Chief Palmer West and the other members of the department.

The fireboys voiced their usual warnings to residents of the town and county to exercise care in burning of trash, and to be very careful with other fires. This will keep grassfire runs by the firemen to a minimum.

Ranchers out in the county have been given some special instructions. They are urged to keep their sprayers filled with water so that they can be used as auxiliary fire-fighting equipment when needed. Also, when a rancher reports a fire he should be sure that the location is clearly given, then he should drive out on the highway to meet the fire trucks and direct them through gates and pastures to where the fire is.

The ranch operator can be a great help to the firemen in this regard, Chief West stated.

Cover on rangelands is unusually heavy this year and if the weather continues dry, it will become more and more hazardous.

Barnes usually accompanies Captain Merton M. Skaggs to the Sonora USAR Station. But Captain Skaggs who recently became commander of Troop "B" with Headquarters at Junction remained at the Junction Armory where he and former Troop "B" commander, Major Maurice Netherly ironed out technicalities of property transfer from Major Netherly's command to that of Captain Skaggs.

CIVIL DEFENSE COURSE TO BE SET UP TUESDAY

Citizens interested in taking a 12-hour course in Civil Defense survival procedures have been urged by W. G. Godwin to meet at the Memorial Building Tuesday night at 8:00 when the course will be organized.

Mr. Tharp of San Angelo will conduct the course and it will cost nothing to take. Four evenings of three-hour sessions each are held. It takes a minimum of 20 people enrolled to have the course.

Survival from fall-out is especially stressed in the 12 hours of instructions.

Post Script

With our subscribers: While visiting here recently with her parents, the Sofges, Mrs. George Worden reported that their new address is 1034 Hoyt, Saginaw, Michigan.

J. R. Bruton moved back here recently from Saddle Brook, New Jersey, and is to move soon to San Angelo.

Ruby Thayer's new address is P. O. Box 213, Inglewood, California.

Mrs. R. W. King is also a great grandparent of the baby born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wayne Harris.

Road work going on: Contractor Brown has men and equipment at work on Ranch to Market Road 2576, east of Eldorado just across the railroad tracks. This road will go south from the Menard highway down past the depot and by Captain Thomson's place.

On the Mertzon highway, just south of Sunset Acres, a bridge is being built over a long-time trouble spot. The cave which drains a nearby lake is being bridged to allow lake water to run out without caving in the highway as has happened several times in the past.

Long's Variety Store was closed on Monday and Tuesday while Mr. and Mrs. Long were attending market in Dallas.

An impressive job is going on up at the old Rock Courts, which is being remodeled for a new Catholic church. A new celotex ceiling has just been built which makes it look like it covers acres of space.

"I never realized that this place was so big," is the usual remark when visitors drop in for the first time.

Belton, Texas

A recent issue of the Texas Press Messenger contains an article on "Texas Newspapers and the Civil War" which we wrote at the request of Vern Sanford, editor of the Texas Press Association's magazine, and while doing so, we turned up some interesting facts concerning newspaper views of the Civil War.

Not all Texans subscribed to the idea of secession and the possibility of war and neither did all the newspapers in the state. There were, of course, radical newspapers who screamed at those they called Black Republicans, but there were also those who published calmly and without much editorializing what factual news they could get. And there were a few who were uncompromisingly in favor of the Union.

The two extremes on the subject of secession were well represented by the Houston Telegraph, edited by H. E. Cushing, and the Galveston News, edited by Willard Richardson, both of whom spoke for the necessity of disunion, and by San Antonio's Alamo Express and Austin's Southern Intelligencer who led the fight in behalf of the Union.

Newspaper sentiment in favor of the Union is perhaps best represented by the Alamo Express, edited by fiery James P. Newcomb who fearlessly editorialized against the forces seizing his adopted state. His editorializing came to a sudden halt however, when in mid-1861 he learned of a plot to rid San Antonio of some 150 Union sympathizers, himself among them, and left hurriedly for Mexico.

A mob wrecked his machinery and burned his plant in retaliation for his stand in favor of the Union.

The lack of communication between Texas cities and the far away battle front made it difficult to get news to readers while it was still news. In most cases the news was from 10 days to two weeks old before it appeared in newspapers and a shortage of newsprint and other printing supplies plagued newspapers almost from the very start of the war. Many plants were forced to close shop and other newspapers were printed on wallpaper.

Most were reduced in size to what was called a "war size" and still later in the war to bulletin or "dodger" size. Every inch was precious and even advertising was held to a minimum.

The subscription rate soared to an unheard of $50 a year, Confederate currency, and some preferred payment to be in eggs, butter or other produce rather than the paper money which soon became almost worthless.

But perhaps the most interesting item we turned up while researching the story for the Texas Press Messenger concerned the birth of modern newspaper reporting in Texas.

On Jan. 1, 1863, Confederate troops under the command of Gen. John Bankhead Magruder recaptured the state's chief seaport of Galveston which had fallen to the Union in October the preceding year.

The coverage of Gen. Magruder's recapture of the island city has been recognized as the birth of modern newspaper reporting in Texas and also marks the first time the telegraph was brought into use to relay an important news event while it was happening.

Ferdinand Flake was the correspondent for the Galveston News, which had moved its plant to Houston when Galveston Island was ordered evacuated in 1862. Flake used the military telegraph line between Galveston and Houston to send his dispatches to the News.

He was later credited with being the first reporter to give "movement, order and perspective to the action, while his follow-up stories were splendid examples of interest in the human side of the conflict."

And a final footnote was added to the difficulties encountered by Texas newspapers during the Civil War by the fact that the really big story of the War—the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee at Appomattox on April 9, 1865—did not reach Texas newspapers in official form until 10 days later.

Here Are Nine Solid Facts You Should Consider In Planning Your Advertising:

1. The newspaper is an advertising medium that is WANTED—it is sought after and paid for, and advertising in it is not an intruder in the home.
2. Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in its market area —without over-extending into less promising markets.
3. The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or customer in that market.
4. People read newspaper ads when they are ready to make a decision and to act —WHEN THEY'RE READY TO BUY.
5. The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most CONVENIENT to every member of the family.
6. People LIKE TO READ NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS — Surveys show 85% of people want their newspapers to contain advertising.
7. Every issue of every newspaper contains INFORMATION AND FEATURES of interest to every member of the family.
8. Newspaper reading is a habit and a part of people's routine.
9. The printed word is MORE RELIABLE than the spoken word and it cannot be refuted because it is easily available for re-checking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than by listening.

Home Demonstration
Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

So many have called and asked for the pizza pie recipe that I have decided that it may be more popular than thought at first. This following one is the same as was made for demonstration purposes at the bread making school last week.

Italian Pizza Dough

- 1/2 teaspoon active dry yeast
- 2 tablespoons warm water
- 3/4 cup warm water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 2/3 cups flour

Combine the yeast with the 2 tablespoons warm water and let stand for 5 to 10 minutes. Mix the 3/4 cup of water with salt, sugar and olive oil (any cooking oil will do). Add to the yeast mixture, stir in half the flour and beat until smooth. Add remaining flour. Stir until dough comes away from sides of bowl. Knead until smooth 8 to 10 minutes. Roll into very thin sheets. This will make 3 pizzas 8 inches in diameter.

Tomato Sauce Filling

- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, drain well.
- 1 small can tomato sauce
- 1 med. sized onion, chopped fine
- 1/2 cup chopped salami
- 1/4 cup chopped Italian pepperoni sausage.
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 pkg mozzarella cheese
- 2 tbs shredded parmasaus cheese.
- Olive oil to brush crust
- 1/2 teaspoon oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon sweet basil
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme.

Mix together onion, tomatoes, tomato sauce, salt, pepper, salami, and pepperoni. Spread this mixture on rolled out pizza dough which has been brushed with olive oil. Cover filling with mozzarella cheese strips and sprinkle herbs on cheese. Bake in hot oven (450) and bake for 15 to 20 minutes or until crust is brown and filling is hot and bubbly. Parmesan cheese is spread over the pie and left in the oven until just melted. Serve hot. Big kitchen scissors make excellent pizza cutters—they handle the hot cheese better than a knife.

Pizzas freeze well but I would advise that you not put the cheese on the filling until it is ready to be cooked.

Hints On Pizzas

Let pizza dough "rest" a few minutes after kneading for easier handling—

If a thicker, more tender crust is desired, cover shaped and kneaded and let rise in warm place for about 35 minutes while preparing filling.

The easiest process for serving quantity pizzas is to cover a cooky sheet with dough and go on from there.

Quick Pizza Crust

- 1 package active dry yeast
- 3/4 cup warm, nont hot, water.
- 2 1/2 cups prepared biscuit mix.
- Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in prepared biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Divide dough into 4 pieces. Roll each piece into an 8 inch circle. Place rolled dough on ungreased baking sheets or pie pans. Press circles with fingers to make rims slightly thick.

We made the biscuit mix at the school also and I'll be glad to mail that sheet too if you want one.

dairy specialist.

The new carton was introduced and became the big attraction at the Dairy Exposition in Chicago last November. It is a variation of the present wax covered carton. It has a polyethylene coating on the fiber carton. The new carton does not require glue for forming, wax for coating or staples for closing. It comes with the plastic coating already on the carton. All that is necessary is to shape the carton and heat seal it into form, points out Meekma.

Manufacturers of the containers say the new cartons will eliminate the costs, inventories and handling of wax, glue and wire; prevent the contact of wax and milk and loose wax particles in the milk; do away with the leaky milk cartons, and improve the appearance of the milk package.

Plastic containers are currently being used on a trial basis in several cities and other installations will follow as soon as additional packaging machines are manufactured. It is reported that conversion kits to modify existing cartoning machines will be available in the near future.

Older Workers Urged To Apply For S. S.

Any worker who has reached the retirement age and has not applied for social security should get in touch with the Social Security Administration right away, according to Floyd B. Ellington, district manager.

"Under a change in the retirement provisions, some benefits can be paid even though a worker's earnings may exceed $1200 a year by a substantial amount," he says. As an example, a worker whose family is entitled to the maximum monthly payment of $254, can earn more than $4,000 a year and still receive some benefit.

As in the past, benefits can be paid for all months to an insured older worker who does not earn more than $1200 a year, Ellington says. When earnings are more than $1200 a year, payments can be made for those months in which the worker does not earn wages of more than $100, or work in his own business. Payments can be made at age 72 no matter how much is earned thereafter.

Earnings—what you work for—are the only income which is considered in applying the retirement test, Ellington explains. A worker may have any amount in savings or investment income such as rent, interest, or dividends, and such income will have no effect on his social security insurance.

All older workers are advised to inquire, since there is a distinct advantage for many to apply for the payments even though they expect to continue working. Interested persons may get exact information from the Social Security Administration, 204 Continental Building, in San Angelo.

union bosses. In a letter to me Carey said his crowd would go into my district and "take appropriate action at the ballot box" because of my vote against union racketeers.

Carey, a vice-President of CIO, is regarded by many as one of the leading advocates of class warfare in America.

Further evidence of the arrogance of Labor's radical political bosses, was shown by James McDevitt, National Director of COPE in a speech to union leaders in Hartford, Conn., when he cracked the whip over their heads by saying: "We are going to get the labor leaders who differ publicly with the position on candidates and issues already established by the labor movement. . . We are warning you now, and we are warning all in the future; do not differ with the movement with respect to issues or candidates. We will not stand for it."

But an analysis of election returns has revealed that the Union political bosses have not always been able to lead the union members around by the nose, as they often seek to do. Many union members insist they are still free Americans and prefer to exercise some measure of freedom at the ballot boxes, despite the threats and intimidations from the big bosses.

It goes without saying that the CIO leaders are free to support or oppose any candidate for any office. They have axes to grind. They support measures which if enacted would wipe out such laws as the Landrum-Griffin Act, the Taft-Hartley Act, and other measures designed to bring the unions under some measure of public control. They advocate state welfare and socialistic programs which now prevail in socialistic countries.

Those of us who do not yield to such threats and pressures can expect to be opposed by the professional leaders. In their lust for power they want Congressmen who will do their bidding. I am not surprised, therefore to be included on their black list.

CIO's COPE Committee on Political Education), preparing for next year's elections, has just released a "black list" of nine Texas Congressmen, including myself, marked for liquidation. Other Texas Congressmen included are: Casey, Alger, Dowdy, Kilgore, Teague, Burleson, Mahon and Rogers.

This follows on the heel of Jimmy Hoffa's recent announcement that his Teamsters union is training their wives to join them in an all-out drive to defeat those of us who have stood up against their selfish demands.

This reminds us of James E. Carey's threat against those of us who voted for the Landrum-Griffin bill to curb racketeering among
