Charting My Church Loyalty

Someone has said that the church is full of willing peoplesome of them are willing to work and the rest are willing to let them. What kind of a church member am I? Am I consistent in my loyalty, or is there reason to doubt my sincerity? I can search my own heart and conscience as I check my church loyalty below:

—Am I an enthusiastic supporter of my church? Do my words, actions, and enthusiasm reflect my loyalty to my church?

YOUR TELEPHONE IS YOUR BIGGEST BUSINESS AND SOCIAL ASSET

Picture of a Man with Troubles

(whether he knows it or not)

Nobody asked him if he wanted to come here to live

Somebody signed his name to a note for $1700 worth of National Debt

He isn't big enough to enforce his rights

And a lot of people in his community have

... a disease which, if let to gain too much headway, can short-change him on schools, churches, friends, neighbors, and his old man's pay check.

And he's helpless to do anything about it — until, when he grows up, he has to take off and try to find opportunity somewhere else . . . in the far places where his neighbors have scattered the community substance which Providence entrusted to their care.

We often hear folks around here complaining that our young people nearly always have to hunt their fortunes in other places because we don't have opportunities for them.

Home-spent dollars create those opportunities . . . help to keep our sons and daughters content and prosperous in our own midst.

Let's Give Our Junior Citizens

a Better Break

Small communities . . . like this one of ours . . . are the finest places in the world for youngsters to grow up. They are the strongholds of the real American way of life and our country's greatest source of leadership.

Away from the regimented bee-hive life of the cities, a child has a better chance to develop the broad and independent viewpoint that makes useful leaders.

But . . . if we keep our small communities intact, with good schools and churches and comfortable living standards, we're going to have to slow down on the Great Give-Away . . . small town people giving away their community assets to Big-City business.
