Chamber of Commerce Proposed For Eldorado

After much discussion among the business men and plain citizens of Eldorado, plans are being made to organize a Chamber of Commerce for this city. There has long been a need for such a group and much business and trade has been lost to neighboring towns because there was no official group here to promote our city and to bring to the attention of those considering a move, the advantages we have to offer.

The initial meeting will be held in the Memorial Building at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 30 to organize and perhaps elect officers. The consideration of dues and a definite program for advertising the town will be discussed. Other subjects will be brought up by those present that will be of interest to the county as a whole. It is hoped that a large audience will be on hand and that many new ideas will be voiced that will help us to build a bigger and better town.

Everyone interested in such a project is urged to be present for this meeting.

Cotton Coming In Slowly From Over The County

By Wednesday (yesterday) afternoon there had only been 103 bales of cotton ginned by the local gin. The first bale was brought in two weeks ago and no irrigated cotton has come in to date.

Last year at this time, 455 bales had been reported, with 135 of this total from irrigated farms. On one place at this time last year 102 bales had been picked from 100 acres on the first picking.

A shortage of pickers has developed this year and several farmers are concerned by not being to get as many Mexican Nationals as they need. The shower early Tuesday will have no effect on the crop whether it be the irrigated or dry land variety.

The situation at Henry Moore's may be typical of other cotton farms. It was reported this week that they had dry land cotton ready to pick and their irrigated cotton was in the process of opening. Pickers were scarce and Mr. Moore was on a trip to Eagle Pass to engage a crew of Mexican braceros. Others in that neighborhood are in about the same situation. Victor Sauer has been busy providing housing for a crew of 20 braceros. Over 100 are expected to be used on the Moore farms.

Plentiful Foods List Is Revealed For October

College Station.—The crisp fall evenings are hard to beat so far as the choice of seasons for an outdoor meal is concerned. Outdoor chefs will find one of their favorites, broiling and frying chickens, heading the list of plentiful foods for October.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Marketing Service reports that industry and government will cooperate during October to promote the sale of broilers and fryers as well as cheese and dry peas. These foods headline the October list of plentiful foods.

Canned and frozen peas are also expected to be in ample supply as are apples, potatoes, onions, peanuts and peanut butter.

Annual Soil Conservation Day To Include Supervisor Election

The Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District supervisors are sponsoring a barbecue at 12 noon, October 1st, at the Ben Hext farm for all land owners of zone 4, and visitors. Following the barbecue all eligible voters will elect a district supervisor to serve five years. In the morning beginning at 9:00 a.m., 4-H and FFA boys will be judging grasses, range plots and soils. There will be four divisions, separated according to age groups, novice, juniors, seniors and professionals. The professionals will be those boys who have placed at least third as an individual or was a member of a team which placed as high as third on a state team. Some 50 boys are expected to compete in this annual soil conservation field day.

District supervisors are looking forward to seeing all land owners of zone 4 at their annual soil conservation field day, Tuesday, October 1st, beginning at 9:00 a.m. If you cannot be present during the morning, come in time for the barbecue—and vote.

Supervisors of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation district are: J. F. Runge, Ernest Foster, B. E. Moore, Ben Hext and Fred Boulware.

Fall Rains Benefit Ranges Over Schleicher

Saturday night and early Sunday morning Schleicher county received rain that will be very beneficial to pasture land and late feed crops. ## Boy Scout Fund Drive To Get Under Way Oct. 8

J. B. Morris, Field Scout Executive from the Boy Scout office in San Angelo, was in Eldorado Tuesday assisting local people in making preliminary plans for launching the fall fund-raising drive for the council.

October 8th is the kick-off date for the drive in the Concho Valley Council, which takes in 2 1/2 West Texas counties. Locally, the drive will be conducted by the Eldorado Lions club, with the assistance of several other interested individuals. The Lions are the long-time sponsor of the Scouting program in Eldorado. Since the Lions were organized nearly 30 years ago they have sponsored the Scout troop, and more recently the Cub Scout pack.

Further plans will be announced in regard to the local drive as they are developed.

Boyd Defeats Eldorado 13-8 In Hard Fought Game Here

In a thrill-packed, non-conference game, Boyd high school Yellowjackets defeated the Eldorado Eagles 13-8 Friday night in Eagle stadium.

Eldorado kicked off to Boyd and Smith received on the Boyd 15-yard line. He snaked his way through the entire Eagle squad and went over for a touchdown. Try for extra point failed and the score stood 6-0 in the first minute of play.

Eldorado received when play was resumed and Robledo ran the ball back to the 32. From there on several line plays by the Eagles placed the ball on the 10-yard line, where it went over on downs. The Boyd Yellowjackets went into punt formation and Smith stepped back over the Boyd goal line in making the kick which gave Eldorado a safety and a two point score.

In the second quarter of play, Robledo fumbled on receiving the kick-off and Boyd recovered on the 10-yard line. Two plays later the ball rested on the 3-yard line, where Smith was brought down by Belman on the third down. The Yellowjackets went over for a touchdown and the try for extra point was good making the score 13-2.

In the next series of plays Robledo returned a kick to the Eldorado 20-yard line. Boyd drew a penalty for offside. Robledo kicked on the fourth down to the Boyd 36-yard line, where a penalty for clipping was called against Boyd.

The Yellowjackets fumbled and were pushed back to the Eldorado 4-yard line. Smith of the Boyd team made a quick kick that got them out of this spot and placed the ball on the Eldorado 47-yard line. A forward pass from Robledo to Mackey was good for 30 yards. Boyd then recovered an Eldorado fumble and at the half the ball rested on the Boyd 43-yard line.

When play was resumed after the half, a pass by Nixon was intercepted and run back to the Eldorado 42-yard line. The Yellowjackets set up a series of plays that ended when they crossed the goal line, but the play was called back on a clipping penalty against Boyd.

Eldorado began a drive from the 20-yard line, after Boyd kicked to the end zone, that bogged down and the ball went over. The Yellowjackets lowjackets also failed to gain and kicked on the fourth down. In the fourth quarter the Eagles started a determined drive from their own 35-yard line. Nixon completed a jump pass and several line plays put the ball in scoring distance. The Boyd line held for three downs before Mackey went over for a touchdown. The try for extra point was no good and the score was 13-8.

The Eagles made 15 first downs to Boyd's 4. The Eagles may lack experience, but they make up for it in teamwork and spirit.

Rankin Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow (Friday) night the Eldorado team meets Rankin on the home field for another non-conference game.

The Rankin Red Devils have won two games and lost one this season. They run T-formations and pass quite a lot. Last year the Eagles defeated them 33-12.

The same system of parking cars will be used tomorrow night that was carried out in the Boyd game. Officials were well pleased with the way traffic was handled last week.

Tomorrow night's game with Rankin will be the first in which the Eagles will be wearing their new football suits. The gear came in just this week.

Neighboring Games

Scores from neighboring towns in play last week included:
Rankin 18.....Sanderson 6
Ft. Stockton 20.....Ozona 0

Post Script

Francis Burt, publisher of the Junction Eagle, recently published a series of articles on local business. Said Burt, of people who travel 50 to 100 miles in search of a bargain:

"Quite often our local people know more about the goods available in the metropolitan stores than they do about goods in stores here at home because of the extensive advertising originating in the larger trade centers.

"When local merchants do not counter the out-of-town advertising, it is natural for some shoppers to believe that the goods and services they seek cannot be obtained locally."

The local merchant has an advantage, says Burt, because no advertising medium used by non-local retailers covers the trade area so thoroughly and at such low cost as your local newspaper.

He concludes: "Before the local retailer becomes too critical of out-of-town shopping, he should ask himself if he has given his potential customers enough shopping information to keep them at home."

The local druggist informs us that Asiatic flu vaccine will be available in a limited amount in Eldorado in a short time. Seventeen hundred doses were ordered from the supply houses and release was promised for Sept. 23 with shipment to be made on that date. Any vaccine received locally will be distributed through the Clinic and will not be available at the drug store until a more adequate supply is put on the market.

Hollis McCormick is adding a closed-in entrance to his drive-in grocery this week. The two sets of doors will eliminate dust and cold wind from the inside of the store.

With the harvesting season getting under way and brisk northerners blowing in, things are beginning to hum and take on new life in this part of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district.

Speaking of harvesting crops reminds us that we have noticed several pretty fair looking crops throughout the district that were benefitted by good soil and water conservation practices. Crops benefitted by water above terraces will show approximately 20% increase in grain sorghum and cotton yields this year.

Soil Conservation service technicians assisting the district in checking range conditions are much encouraged at the different stages they are finding some of our rangeland. Some of these findings include the production of a good seed crop of the better grasses, heavy forage production, a large decrease in annual weeds and grasses where there was a good stand of the better grasses, and the grass stayed green longer on ranges that had a good cover of grass in the spring when the rains came. Cover, technicians say, is important in this section of the country because it holds up the water and helps get it into the ground for forage production. Cover also cuts down on evaporation after the moisture has been stored in the ground, they say.

Technicians would like to look over your rangeland with you and check the seed production, plant vigor, increase in more desirable grasses, and check deferred pastures. Has your range improved any this year? It should have. Do you know that it has improved? If you left it to weather conditions alone, chances are it did not improve.

Landowners in zone 4 of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation district are encouraged to turn out Tuesday, October 1st, and vote for a district supervisor to represent them on the board for the next five years.

The district supervisors run the business of the soil conservation district and call upon and receive aid from state or federal agencies who has technical help or equipment to assist farmers and ranchers to work out conservation plans.

The creation and operation of a soil conservation district is thoroughly democratic in every respect. Every land owner of zone 4 should attend and help elect a supervisor. Only land owners and their wives are qualified to vote in the election.

The present supervisor of zone 4 is Ben Hext. The supervisor elected must be a rancher or farmer owning land in zone 4.

Irrigation Continues To Expand In Texas

College Station.—A contributing factor and a mighty important one to the overall agricultural production of Texas' farms and ranches is irrigation.

R. V. Thurmond, extension agricultural engineer - irrigation, has just released a statewide summary which points up the great economic importance that supplemental water plays in the state's economy. Figures were collected from each county in the state relative to the total number of acres irrigated; number of irrigated farms; acres irrigated by gravity; number of sprinkler systems; number of irrigation wells; acres irrigated from ground water and the acres of the principal crops irrigated in each of the counties. County agricultural agents supplied the information and Thurmond made the final compilation.

The total land under irrigation in Texas now stands at 6,962,234 acres. This compares with a total of 6,208,022 acres in 1955 (figures are from a similar survey). In June 1957 when the figures were taken, 39,706 farms were listed as being irrigated. Only 10 counties in the state reported no irrigation. The number of irrigation wells rose from 42,674 in 1955 to 54,994 in 1957. The number of sprinkler systems in use almost doubled during this same period with a 200,000 acre increase in the land thus irrigated.

Grain sorghums on almost 2.3 millions of acres were the principal crop irrigated. Cotton was a close second with almost 2.2 millions of acres under irrigation. Other major crops included wheat, rice, vegetables, pastures, alfalfa, field corn, oats and barley, forage sorghums, orchards and others.

Hale county with 500,000 acres under irrigation leads all counties in this respect but is closely followed by Swisher with 480,000 acres. Many other counties in this same general area have in excess of 300,000 acres under irrigation. Counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the rice belt are also among the leading counties.

Copies of the report may be obtained from Thurmond's office at College Station.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Childers have bought a house from Vernie Humphrey and have moved to town. They formerly lived in a company house on the Cooper Gas Co. lease. Their home in town is located at 207 Warner St.

Eldorado D. A. R. Has First Meeting of Year

The first meeting of the year of the El Dorado Chapter D. A. R. was held in the club room of the Memorial building on last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. F. Meador Sr., Mrs. J. E. Hill and Mrs. Kathryn Linthicum, hostesses. In the decorations, an imported lace cloth was used to cover the secretary's desk, which was centered by a huge bouquet of cut flowers, and arrangements of cut flowers were used in other parts of the room.

The new officers to serve for the year are: Mrs. W. F. Meador, Sr., Regent; Mrs. Luke Thompson, first vice regent; Mrs. J. O. Willoughby, second vice regent; Mrs. V. G. Tisdale, chaplain; Mrs. J. E. Hill, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, treasurer; Mrs. W. O. Alexander, registrar and permanent board member; Mrs. J. H. Luedecke, historian and Mrs. Mary D. Coupe, librarian.

The chaplain opened the meeting in the prescribed form and took as the basis of her talk the 10th verse of the 5th chapter of Leviticus.

Constitution week which is Sept 17-23 is observed each year by the D. A. R. Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, chapter chairman of National Defense, has distributed to all of the churches, the schools, American Legion, the various clubs, and in all public places of the town, leaflets setting forth "What the Constitution Means to You," "The Citizen's Responsibility," the preamble to the constitution and other leaflets, and stickers for cars, to remind us of the many blessings and privileges that are given to us by the provisions of our constitution. The school has been very cooperative in putting on constitution programs directed by Miss Shelton, and the ministers of several churches have spoken briefly on the subject, reminding us to be alert in safeguarding our constitution lest we lose many of the rights and privileges guaranteed to us under the bill of rights.

In the business session Mrs. Ernest C. Hill, chapter chairman of the Luedecke Day celebration reported on chapter expenses for that day and expressed her appreciation for the fine manner in which all members of the chapter cooperated in making the day a success. Mrs. John Luedecke expressed her thanks and appreciation for the honor conferred on her son and her family.

Mrs. Eldred Roach was elected as a new member, subject to approval by the National Board.

Mrs. J. O. Willoughby, who represented the El Dorado chapter as a delegate to the D. A. R. Continental Congress in Washington, D. C., made a very interesting report on the meeting. The report was to have been made at an earlier date, but due to the illness of Mr. Willoughby, she was unable to do so. She stated that the chapter had met the requirements on all points, was on the honor roll, and was awarded a silver ribbon, which was placed in the scrap book.

Due to the fact that during the Civil War many court houses in the South were burned and records were destroyed, and that since that time many families have neglected to keep family records, it is becoming increasingly more difficult to establish lineages for membership in the D. A. R., and for this reason it is urged that mothers record in their Bibles the dates of birth, death and marriage of all members of their families. The President General of the National Society, D. A. R., has asked that mothers who know their children to be eligible for membership in the Children of the American Revolution to send in the names and dates of birth of their children (to Mrs. Meador), so that in later life these children may have proof of their eligibility to membership in the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Meador read the message of the President General which was an inspiring article.

The subject of the program was The Constitution of the United States, with Mrs. J. B. Montgomery as leader. A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. Hoover on the subject, "Education and the American Tradition."

Mrs. Frank Parrish Cole of Tulsa, Okla., sister of Mrs. Willoughby, was present as a guest.

The hostesses served refreshments of ice cream and cake to 17 members and one guest. —Rep.

Thought For The Week
Ministerial Alliance

Man's main purpose in the world is to glorify God and enjoy him forever. That doesn't mean that we must wait until we have passed on from this world before we can enjoy God. God is love and he has made us in his image, has planted in our hearts and lives a bit of that same love that he himself is. We can neither glorify God nor enjoy him unless we find regular communion with him and enjoy it NOW while we are here in this world. Nearly 200 years ago the Rev. Wm. Hammond said, "By himself man would be imprisoned in life's mysteries. His earth-bound mind would never break out to discover what and why and from where he is. God would be vaguely felt but unknowable. But man is not by himself. God is love, and it is the nature of love to communicate." Paul advises us, (I Cor. 10: 31) "whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God." The Psalmist said, (73:25-28) "Whom have I in heaven but thee? And there is nothing upon earth that I desire beside thee. My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strength of my heart and my portion for ever—for me it is good to be near God; I have made the Lord God my refuge, that I may tell of all thy works." Yes, the record of God's communication is in the Bible.—Jim Spencer.

Odd Shapes Rise In Nevada Desert

The Nevada desert, site of many an abandoned settlement, has sired a 20th century "ghost town."

No one lives there. And yet it is a town of the present and future—complete with modern underground parking garages with cars, huge doors leading to nowhere, and futuristic domes emerging from a landscape almost as barren as the moon.

This is "Survival Town," a community dedicated to its own destruction as a test site for atomic blast effects on various shelter-type structures.

Constructed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission and other private and public agencies, "Survival Town" includes underground home shelters and large urban shelters, new dome-type shelters being considered because they are easily built and cost relatively little, a small, blast-resistant "school" building, various types of doors and valves to close shelter openings against a nuclear blast wave, and even a complete bank vault.

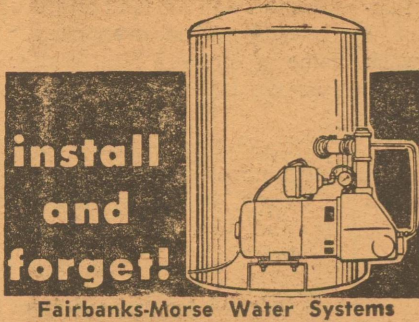

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith and their children, Sue, Kay, and Charlie. The Smith family live in San Angelo.

Cattle Trade Active

Fort Worth.—Slaughter calves brought fully 50 cents to $1 higher prices than the low close of last week at Fort Worth Monday. Cows also sold in a strong to 50 cents higher trade. Stocker and feeder cattle and calves were very scarce, and prices fully steady to strong with considerable inquiry in the trade for thin calves, yearlings and cows suitable to winter in the grain fields.

Fed steers and yearlings were very slow, bids being largely steady with the close last week, and salesmen asking higher prices for the offering.

Receipts in all divisions of the market were sharply curtailed by the general rains over the weekend, and reports to the market indicated pasture men were jubilant over the prospects for making winter feed and in many places low stockwater tanks were replenished.

Medium and good fat lambs sold at $20 to $21, and cull and common sorts drew $15 to $18. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $19 to $20. Slaughter ewes sold from $7.50 to $8.50. Old bucks sold around $6.

A few stocker ewes in the run sold from $9 or $10 on old broken mouths, to $15 or $16 on a better kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas Gillaspay and daughter, Stephanie Kay, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gillaspay Sunday. Stephanie Kay remained for a week with her grandparents while her parents go on a vacation. They live in San Angelo.

Austin. — "Tickets" for Texas' 1958 political bouts go on sale next week. Poll taxes, $1.75 each, can be bought from October 1 until Jan. 31. Holders of the small white tax receipts not only can watch, but participate in the semi-annual struggle to decide who'll be "top dog" for the next two years. In the ring will be contenders for the offices now held by U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Gov. Price Daniel, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, and so on down the line. "Ticket" holders also can attend their Democratic Party precinct conventions next May, where the first round of a fight for party control will be staged. Assuming you have $1.75, paying a poll tax shouldn't be hard. Dozens of groups plan massive drives. Most voters probably will be able to find a poll tax selling booth within blocks.

Exact number of potential voters is not known, of course. But some civic leaders hope as many as three million persons will pay poll taxes. Previous record is 2,410,188 for 1956, a presidential election year. Another peak is expected in 1960 when census projections show more than 5 1/2 million should be eligible to vote in Texas.

Oil Quotas Sag

Lean days are ahead for Texas'

top industry—oil. After three months on an all-time low producing pattern of 13 days, the Railroad Commission cut the October production to 12 days. Daily allowable will be 2,964,062 barrels.

Major oil buyers at the Commission hearing indicated that any more production would result in an oversupply. For a state heavily dependent on oil tax revenue and already faced with fiscal problems, the oil cut means tough times for the state budgeters.

"Bug" On The Loose

In schools, colleges, offices — even jails—over Texas, thousands of people are abed. Nearly three thousand cases, with flu-like symptoms, have been reported to the State Health Department. Finding out whether it is Asian flu requires special tests. Health Department offices are swamped with specimens and requests for tests.

Whatever the disease, it meant that football games and other school activities had to be called off in a number of areas. So far, only a dribble of Asian flu vaccine has come to Texas. Dr. Henry Holle Health Commissioner urges these precautions for the general public:

1. Stay away from crowds.
2. Drink plenty of liquids — water and fruit juices.
3. Go to bed at the first sign of symptoms. (Symptoms are fever, chills, headache, sore throat and aching back and limbs.)

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin and family had as their guests last week end, Mrs. Martin's parents Mr. and Mrs. Savola Bolt from Mason.

Charles McLaughlin and Nancy Elder were home from Wednesday until Sunday after registering at the University of Texas. They returned to Austin Sunday.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips were Mrs. Phillips' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hare of San Angelo and her father, Joe Sawyer of Tankersley. They were here Thursday and Friday.

Herman Phillips visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips last week end. He returned to school at A. C. C. in Abilene Sunday.

1957 Turkey Production
On Way To New Record

College Station.—It appears that total turkey production in 1957 will be larger than in 1956 and that it will be a new record. Storage stocks are also much larger than last year. However, more turkeys are being marketed earlier this year and should help reduce the number available for the fall market. This should result in a higher price than was expected earlier this year, but it will still be below last year's prices.

Because of information made available to producers from various sources, producers have cut down on their production, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. The reduction of the turkey hatch during the closing months of the present hatching season has helped to reduce the apparent extremely large increase that was indicated earlier in the year. Nevertheless, turkey producers in the United States are raising about 5% more turkeys this year than last; and Texas producers are raising 6c more, says McHaney.

Because of the hold over from last year's crop and because a large number of early turkeys have been slaughtered this year, storage holdings are very large, points out the economist. Storage stocks are up about 153%. He says that turkey prices during the first half of 1957 averaged 15% below the same period in 1956, while feed prices increased 1% above last year.

McHaney advises selling turkeys when they are well fleshed and finished. Remember that the cost of feed is great for putting an extra pound of weight on a bronze hen weighing 14 pounds or a tom weighing 26 pounds. Be sure that the turkeys offered for sale are free of external parasite blemishes. These blemishes will lower the grade and in many cases cause a loss to the producer.

Other hints might include keeping up with consumer demands, keeping current on turkey prices, getting competitive bids or quotations from different buyers before selling and sell on U. S. grades when possible, especially if you have high quality birds.

Alva Lee Harris of Hobbs, N. M., visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Harris during the week end.
