Eagles Enter 7-A District Play In Game With Ozona Tomorrow

The Eldorado Eagles journey to Ozona tomorrow (Friday) for their first conference game of the season. Last week the local team had an open date and the Ozona Lions played Sonora and soundly beat them by a score of 34 to 13. So far this year, the Ozona team has a record of 5 wins and 2 losses, one to Ft. Stockton and one to Big Lake.

The Eagles will be out-weighted by 10 to 15 pounds per man and will be up against a team that plays a fine passing game.

The game will start at 7:30 on the Ozona field and promises to be an exciting contest. Whatever the odds have been, we have seen the spirited Eagles play good football every minute of the game. Tomorrow night's game will be one between two fine teams and will be a good one to see.

Junior High Football

Last week the Junior High team played the Edison juniors of San Angelo in a good game. The final score was Edison 14, Eldorado 7.

New Chevrolets To Be Shown Next Thursday

Detroit.—The 1958 Chevrolet, reportedly the most spectacular model in the history of the company, will be introduced at dealer showrooms nationally Thursday, October 31.

E. N. Cole, general manager, disclosed the public exhibit date on the eve of a preview at which about 250 press, radio and T V editors will see the new line at the General Motors Proving ground.

"We sincerely believe this is one of the most interesting automobiles ever brought out by the industry," Cole said. "Every major part will show the results of an engineering job that began five years ago."

"The 1958 model became possible," continued Cole, "only thru expanded and modernized facilities. It is the first car to have full advantage of the resources at our new Engineering Center. In addition, its production has involved considerably more new machinery and equipment than is normal for a model changeover."

Cole said the new car is already in production at the company's 11 assembly plants. An ample display stock is assured at retail points for the official three-day introduction starting October 31.

New District Agent To Assume Duties Nov. 1st

ROY L. HUCKABEE

College Station.—Roy L. Huckabee, Williamson county agricultural agent since September 1, 1946, has been named to succeed Vernon G. Young as district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with headquarters in San Angelo. Young, on September 16, became state agricultural agent for the Service.

Extension Director John E. Hutchison said the appointment becomes effective on November 1 and that Huckabee's primary responsibility in his new assignment will be to supervise the Service's agricultural programs in the 22-county central West Texas district. He will also work closely with the county courts and other organizations, agencies and groups interested in agriculture in the area.

Moisture continues to fall in Schleicher county and everyone is happy except the cotton farmers, whose harvest is being delayed when it should be going full blast.

On irrigated cotton land, cotton stalks heavy with bolls are lying the ground, collecting mud and moisture, which will damage the grade of the cotton when it finally is picked. Mexican nationals imported under contract, have been idle for days and will draw subsistence pay from their employers whether they work or not.

Construction work, too, has been slowed down. At the Permian station north of Reynolds school house, contractors reported that foundation excavations had been filled with water and had to be pumped out, and other work on the 40-acre project was being delayed.

Sublimely satisfied, however, are ranchers and grain farmers who look forward to a good winter season with an abundance of green grazing.

A cold front came in late Tuesday, and Wednesday found clear skies and a brisk northwest wind which was helping dry out fields. Clyde Keeney and Victor Sauer and the Moores had pickers back in the fields yesterday afternoon, whereas Ray Bruton reported that his furrows were still muddy and standing in water.

Mikeska gin reported only about 20 bales having been processed this week up to noon yesterday. Continued clear weather will bring on a rush of picking.

C. L. Meador and Russell Beach had 15 bracers picking yesterday—the first time since the recent rains. They report 20 bales already ginned, and they estimated that there were 60 more bales in the field.

J. FORREST RUNGE CHAIRMAN, CHRISTOVAL
 E. E. FOSTER SECRETARY, KNICKERBOCKER
 B. E. MOORE MEMBER, ELDORADO
 FORD BOULWARE MEMBER, CHRISTOVAL
 BEN HEXT MEMBER, ELDORADO

Ben Hext, member of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation district board of supervisors, and William M. Rountree, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the district, journeyed to Eden last Thursday to observe some upstream flood control structures on Brady creek.

Charles Haenisch, work unit conservationist at Eden, conducted us on the tour. The functioning of upstream flood control structures were observed. Clear water was seen running out of draw down tubes in a steady stream. The way the structures were designed, the water didn't even get out of the little stream banks.

Looks like good land treatment out on the watershed plus these flood control structures might be the right approach in conserving our soil and releasing the water in such a way that it will not be destructive on its way downstream to the larger reservoirs.

D. Wilson Smith, county agriculture stabilization and conservation office manager, and William M. Rountree, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, went to San Angelo to attend a district meeting to work on the 1958 agriculture conservation program.

A. A. Everett, foreman on the D. C. O. Wilson ranch, gave the local work unit conservationist a jar of water taken from a draw on the Wilson ranch during the recent rains. The water was so clear one wouldn't be afraid to use it for drinking water. Mr. Everett said the water was taken during the early part of the rain and it was runoff from a pasture that had a good cover of grass. The water was high enough that the water gaps were functioning. During the day that the water was taken from the draw, Mr. Everett said they received four and a half inches of rain. Just another way of seeing the importance of cover on the rangeland. "For the land's sake, cover it."

Often the question is asked if animals are poor because of parasites; or are they parasitic because they are poor. In July, 1957, an article appeared in "The Cattleman" which threw some light on this question. The article was entitled, "Control Parasites with Good Management" and was written by R. D. Fork and E. K. Crouch.

This article mentioned that animals properly fed and cared for had fewer diseases, including parasitisms, than poor malnourished cattle. Almost without exception we would have to agree. They went on to say that treatment is recommended where heavy diseases exist, but a lot of the treatment would be unnecessary if the stock had been kept in a healthy condition. By a series of controlled tests they found that animals kept in good condition the year around and furnished grazing on good pastures do not get a heavy parasite load, and that treatment doesn't aid but actually caused monetary losses in some cases.

Turk and Crouch went on to say that it was evident that management practices kept the parasitic load low enough to make medication unnecessary, and that management might warrant further consideration. Pour body condition and parasitic inspections go hand-in-hand, they said. They mentioned that a hungry cow would graze a poor pasture like a vacuum cleaner, picking up parasites on short grass near the ground. It has been known for years that the biggest concentration of parasites is near the ground, and the animal in poor condition has little or no resistance to the parasites it does pick up, they said.

In conclusion they said that a strong, healthy calf receiving plenty of milk the first 100 days, will be resistant to most diseases and would graze the best grasses, reducing their chances of picking up parasites. Also most cases of obvious parasitism occur in calves, from late in the season when their mother's milk supply falls off, the calves begin to graze on overgrazed pastures and too frequently on acute parasitism results, they said.

Their concluding remark was "Medication is a valuable aid, when indicated, but treatment alone is not enough and that truly good pastures, good food and good management are essential in the control of parasites."

Eldorado D.A.R. Meets In McWhorter Home

The October meeting of the El Dorado chapter D. A. R. was held in the home of Mrs. Carl McWhorter on Thursday afternoon October 17, with Mrs. McWhorter, Mrs. Ernest C. Hill and Mrs. P. K. McIntosh as hostesses. Fall flowers were used in the decorations, and the dining table was centered by a huge vase filled with sprays of red Pyranthea berries.

In the opening ceremony, the chaplain, Mrs. V. G. Tisdale read from St. John 4, 14-21, which is the story of the woman at the well. Miss John Alexander, chairman of the flag committee, instructed the chapter in the proper use of the flag, as outlined in the flag code.

Mrs. J. O. Willoughby in her report on standards required for reaching the honor roll, stated that the papers of three new members had recently been approved by National Society D. A. D., thus making the total membership to date as forty-seven.

Mrs. Hoover, at the request of the President General of the National Society, has made a complete history of the First Baptist Church of Eldorado, which she had on display at the meeting, and which will be sent to the National Society. Records of churches are very valuable in compiling data for family history, and such records of all churches would be appreciated.

In the business session Mrs. Robert Kelly of Sonora, formerly a member of a chapter in Beaumont, was received by transfer as a new member. The regent, Mrs. W. F. Meador, reported that the Chapter had purchased from the Eldorado Woolen Mills, four pairs of beautiful blankets at a cost of $19.50 per pair, and these blankets will be sent to the Guest House, Friendship Cottage, at the Tamasee School at Tamasee, South Carolina. This is one of the schools owned, operated and financed by the National Society D. A. R., for the benefit of underprivileged children in the mountain regions of the United States. One of these blankets was paid for from the chapter treasury, Mrs. Mary Coupe paid for one, Mrs. W. F. Meador paid for one, and Mrs. Ed Hill and her sister, Mrs. Lois Bagley paid for the other. Mrs. Bagley was reared in Eldorado, but now is of Corona, New Mexico, and has her DAR membership in Eldorado.

The Regent at this time, read the message of the President General, after which Mrs. J. B. Montgomery brought her report on national defense. Her report dealt chiefly with the segregation question.

Mrs. H. Q. Lyles, organizing regent of the Comanche Springs chapter at Fort Stockton, and the present regent of that chapter, who is a guest in the home of the Ernest C. Hills, was present as a guest and gave an interesting talk regarding the activities of her chapter. Mrs. Lyles, a former El-doradoan, was for about ten years the very efficient teacher of English in the Eldorado high school, and before her removal to Fort Stockton was a member of the El Dorado Chapter.

The subject of the program was "Libraries" with Mrs. Elizabeth Powell as leader. Mrs. Mary D. Coupe, a member of the library board was to have given a paper on the Schleicher County public library, but was absent on her annual deer hunt, and Mrs. W. N. Ramsay, a member of the library committee from the Woman's Club gave the paper, which was an interesting account of the history of the library from its beginning to the present day.

The Chapter was pleased to have Mrs. Campbell present. She is a member of the chapter, but because of ill health, rarely has the pleasure of attending.

The hostesses served a salad plate to 16 members and four guests, Miss Kitty Buchanan, Mrs. Walter Ramsay, Mrs. R. D. Johnson (whose husband has purchased the Ray Willoughby ranch), all of Eldorado, and Mrs. H. Q. Lyles of Fort Stockton.

Edward Meador back in town with us.

Sunday night after Training Union, our church services turned out in order that we could all attend the revival services at the First Methodist church. Anyone who missed this revival certainly should have gone. I'm certain that everyone who attended received a blessing from it. The song service and the preaching were outstanding. Speaking personally I only wish I could have attended more services. —church reporter.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The fertility of 50 Angus bulls will be checked at the Sol Mayer Headquarters Ranch, Wednesday morning, October 30, beginning at 8:00 a.m. All ranchers of the area who are interested in this demonstration are invited to attend.

Dr. R. O. Berry and Dr. A. M. Sorenson of the A&M College staff are in charge of the demonstration.

The estimated percentage calf crop in Texas is only 70% and the checking of bulls for fertility before the breeding season appears to be one way to help improve this percentage.

Higher Demand For Agricultural Products

College Station.—Domestic demand for agricultural products will probably be good in 1958, because consumer income should remain at a high level, and general economic activity should continue strong. However, there are signs of weakening.

At the present time, it appears that experts in this fiscal year, July 1, 1957, to July 1, 1958, may not be as high as they were last year, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. Agricultural exports in the fiscal year 1956-57 were about 35% greater than the preceding, due primarily to government export programs. The main trouble with agriculture, says the economist, is that our production is over-expanded in terms of available markets.

Cattle prices in 1957 are better than in 1956 because of higher incomes, a larger number of people, a smaller slaughter and improved range conditions which have created a good demand for range cattle. Cattle prices in 1958 will probably be somewhat higher than in 1957 because employment and incomes should be high and the number slaughtered should be a little less than in 1957, points out McHaney.

Feeder cattle will probably not decline as much seasonally this fall as they usually do because there will be an abundance of cheap feed in the form of corn, grain sorghum and other grains, says the economist. This should create a good demand for feeders. Hog production in 1958 will probably be larger than in 1957, and beef will have to compete with more pork. Poultry products will also give beef strong competition.

It is estimated that about 418 million bushels of grain sorghum will be harvested this year. This is more than double last year's crop and is 72% more than the record crop of 1955. The production of corn is average. The oat crop is 20% larger than last year and the barley crop is up 17%. As a result, McHaney says that lower feed prices can be expected during the feeding year of 1957-58.

The cotton picture shows that the carry-over is down and the acreage is down; the big "unknown" is how much cotton will be exported in 1957-58.

FHA SLUMBER PARTY

Saturday night, October 18, a slumber party was held by 32 members of the Eldorado FHA chapter. After attending the local drive-in theater, the group returned to the homemaking department where games and music were among the various kinds of entertainment provided for during the night. About 12 o'clock, the party well on its way, a hamburger supper was served. More entertainment followed, which kept the girls awake until late hours of the morning.

By 5 o'clock, most of the girls had dropped off to sleep for a couple of hours. A light breakfast was then served and the party was broken up at 8 o'clock.

Sponsors were Mrs. Bud Hall, Mrs. Gus Love, Miss Joan Fudge, and the chapter sponsor, Miss Dana Ray Owens.

EARN AND LEARN CLUB

A very interesting program on hair styling was presented by Mrs. Floyd Teele of Big Lake, Monday night, Oct. 14 when the Earn and Learn Home Demonstration club met with members of the other Demonstration clubs in the county as guests.

Preceding the program, Mrs. M. H. Woodward conducted a short buzz session in which the 40 guests were divided into small groups and asked to list three things they considered most needed in this community. This was done in keeping with the newly organized Chamber of Commerce to give the woman's view of possible projects.

Following the program the Earn and Learn club presented a gift to Mrs. Teele in appreciation of her program.

The hostesses, Mrs. Rance McDonald, Mrs. E. H. Coulter and Mrs. Ray Boyer, served heavenly chocolate cake and coffee to the guests which included: Mrs. Teele, guest speaker; Mrs. Oliver Teele, club president; Mrs. Krecklow, Home Demonstration Agent; fourteen members of the Earn and Learn club; and guests from the Town and Country club, Glendale club, Reynolds-Alexander club and Rudd club.

What a man does in his daily life has eternal consequences. Christian men live in two worlds. The world of time and the world of Eternity. Thus the spotlight of Eternity highlights our behavior and activity; we are not really self-determining individuals who can do as we please.

Any man who has ever made a response of faith to God in Christ is committed to that foundation for his life. His life from then until he meets his Maker is significant and determines whether he will be presented blameless in the Day of Our Lord. Salvation is the gift of the Almighty in Jesus Christ; man's power to respond to the gift of salvation is also dependent upon God's power and in receiving these gifts we respond by living a grateful life until God.

The question is not have we lived a sinless and stainless life? The question is, have we by faith in Christ realized our sinfulness and sought and offered forgiveness? Yes, what a man does in his daily life has eternal consequences. The spiritual scars as well as the physical scars are with us always. —The Rev. Alanson Brown.
