Location has been made and rotary moved in on Pan-American No. 2 Emmett Wilson estate in the Neva West field. It is an offset to No. 1 Wilson which was completed a month ago for 318 bbls. of 44.2 gravity oil per day. Great Western Drilling Co., of Midland has the drilling contract.

Eldorado played Junction last Friday night and lost by a score of 27 to 0. The Eagles played a good game but were never able to overcome the advantage the Junction team had in weight and experience.

Tomorrow night (Friday) the Menard delegation comes to Eldorado for the first conference game played by the Eagles on their home field this year. According to Coach Herridge it is questionable whether Sauer or Bellman will see action in this game. The Eagles will be running the single-wing formation again this week. They used this formation in play with the Junction team for the first time this year. They will also operate with a spread formation. Last year the Eldorado team beat Menard by a score of 20 to 7. So far this year Menard has lost one conference game and tied one. Eldorado has lost 2.

TAX COLLECTIONS UP IN OCTOBER OVER LAST YEAR

A report from the sheriff's office shows that tax collections are up considerably over this date last year. In October of this year 85% of all state and county taxes had been collected. This is $17,033.70 more than was collected during October 1956.

October is the month when state and county taxes first become payable, and the only month in which a tax-payer may take a 3% discount. In late years it has been traditional for the bulk of taxes to be collected in this month.

In addition to the state and county taxes collected, the report shows 184 poll taxes sold for use next year, which will be an election year.

FILLING OF VACANCY ON RURAL ROUTE EXPLAINED BY LOCAL POSTMASTER

Postmaster Waller made a statement this morning concerning the filling of the vacancy of the rural route in Eldorado. This vacancy is being caused by the resignation of regular carrier Jack L. Ratliff, which will become effective December 1, 1957. Waller's statement reads:

"When a vacancy occurs on a rural route, service is usually continued by the appointment of a temporary carrier. The substitute on that route is most often given this appointment as temporary carrier. It should be remembered, however, that the substitute holds no legal or 'vested' right to the temporary appointment, and another person may be appointed as the temporary carrier. The appointment to this temporary position is outside civil service due to its temporary nature. This appointment as a temporary carrier, however, has no bearing on the selection and appointment of a regular carrier to

Dedicated To Football Dads
A ceremony beginning at 7:10 will dedicate the game to the dads of the team members. They will be given a special sideline section for viewing the game and will enjoy all the privileges accorded them on "Dad's Night" each year.

Special Half Time Program
At half time the football sweetheart and the band sweetheart will be presented and crowned. These ceremonies will be very impressive and colorful, giving the fans an enjoyable half time show.

In a statement to the Eldorado Success this week, Jack Ratliff, rural mail carrier here for 16 years, reported that he had turned in his resignation and would move to his ranch in New Mexico in the near future.

Ratliff stated that he had recently added a larger ranch to the one he bought near Cloudcroft 2½ years ago, and that he might possibly buy more acreage later if the family likes the country and climate. His plans for the immediate months ahead are to spend the winter on his place and decide later whether to go back into public business or into cattle ranching on a full time basis.

Jack, who has also operated a thriving insurance business here, has sold that business and his residence to his brother, Tom of Sonora. Tom will move here as soon as Jack is able to vacate the premises. The brick business building was not involved in the deal.

the vacant position. This must be accomplished either through the transfer into the position of another classified postal employee, or through the regular procedure of civil service examination. Prior to filling the vacant position by a permanent appointment, the Post Office department will conduct an investigation to determine the feasibility of consolidation. This might mean the consolidation of routes in another office and moving another carrier to the vacant position in this office. This naturally eliminates the vacancy. If consolidation is not feasible steps will be taken to fill the position, either by transfer or through examination."

The postmaster further stated that any examination will be fully publicized before it is given. "I hope this will answer the many questions that have been asked concerning this position," Waller concluded.

For Today... and Tomorrow

Your church is the protecting wall around the American Way of Life... the most important rock in Democracy's foundation... Are You helping keep your church strong?

GOD'S CHURCH DEPENDS ON YOU

Eldorado Ministerial Alliance Thought for the Week

One of the greatest of the many privileges of Americans, is the privilege of worship in the church of our choice. This liberty and privilege has come to us through much sacrifice and suffering and carries with it a tremendous responsibility. Liberty at such expense cannot be maintained by gross indifference. Our churches and the cause they represent can be no stronger than the people who compose their membership and the outreach and service of the churches will always depend on the faithfulness and loyalty of her members.

A special effort is being made this month to get all of our people back to church and back to God, "the giver of every good and perfect gift"; the One, "in whom we live and move and have our being." Last Sunday morning there were 844 people in our 16 churches. At first this seems like an impressive figure, but when we realize that there are at least 1700 people in our town, 3,000 in the county, it doesn't look nearly as impressive.

Mr. Edwin Jackson, chairman of the Religion in American Life movement in our county, and his associates, are challenging us to have 1,000 in church next Sunday, November 10th. I believe that we will accept the challenge, do our duty, attend church services on the Lord's day, acknowledge Him as our God, receive His blessings, and go over the goal.

A closing thought: If everyone were as faithful to the church as you, would you still want to live in Eldorado? The churches depend on YOU! —D. C. DuBose.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Hight and family visited his sister, Mrs. Luke Simon near London Sunday.

Mrs. Camilla B. Raggio and her son, H. Leslie Jones, returned Tuesday evening from a three-day trip to Waco and Temple. They visited friends in both cities while they were gone.

Health Letter

New Mental Health Code Effective Soon

A new mental health code goes into effect in Texas on January 1, 1958.

The new code provides for an emergency commitment to a state mental hospital when a person's conduct makes it appear likely that he is mentally ill and apt to injure himself or others if not immediately restrained. Any health or peace officer may take such a person directly to a state mental hospital. This procedure is designed to protect the public from a violently ill person, and, as well, protect the ill person from the disturbance of being confined in a local jail.

When a person has been taken to a state mental hospital in this manner, he must be examined within forty-eight hours, and notice of the commitment sent to the patient's guardian. Also, there must be a confirming order from the county court within twenty-four hours. The emergency commitment cannot be used to hold a patient more than ninety-six hours.

Non-emergency commitments may be either temporary or indefinite. However, no one can be indefinitely committed unless they have first been temporarily committed. The temporary commitment is begun by filing a sworn application with the county court. The application must allege that the proposed patient is mentally ill and that hospitalization is necessary for the welfare of himself or others.

An informal hearing is held within fourteen days of this application, after notice is given to all concerned, and the court has appointed an attorney if necessary. The proposed patient must be examined by two physicians, both of whom must find commitment necessary. A patient who is temporarily committed can be held no longer than ninety days. Nevertheless, if it is determined that a longer period of time will be necessary to effect a cure, indefinite commitment proceedings may be begun while the patient is under a temporary commitment.

The indefinite commitment is begun by the filing of a petition in the county court. One of the necessary allegations is that the patient has been observed in a state mental hospital for at least sixty days within the last year, and that the patient is mentally ill, requiring hospitalization. The petition must be accompanied by a certificate of medical examination by a doctor stating the patient is mentally ill. Thus there must be at least three independent medical examinations before a person can be indefinitely committed. The court notifies the proposed patient and his guardian of the pending proceedings, and appoints an attorney if necessary.

The hearing is held thirty days after the petition is filed. A jury will decide the question of whether or not the proposed patient is mentally ill, unless the jury has been waived in writing. If the patient is found to be mentally ill he may, under the new code, appeal this finding. Also he may, at any time, apply for a writ of habeas corpus.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Advantages Of Dry Milk Are Pointed Out

College Station. — Homemakers interested in trimming the food budget or keeping family figures in line, can rely in non-fat dry milk solids, or dry milk, to help, according to foods and nutrition specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dry milk is high in food value—only the fat, vitamin A, and some of the amino acids contained in whole, fresh milk have been removed. This means fewer calories.

It is less expensive than whole, fresh milk, and can be stored without refrigeration in its dry form. After it has been converted to liquid form, it should be refrigerated.

There are many ways to use this nutritious food in family meals. It can be whipped for use as a dessert topping, chilled and used as a beverage, converted into delicious buttermilk, or used in any recipe that calls for milk.

To make buttermilk, convert the dry form to liquid and add 1/4 cup of cultured buttermilk to each quart of liquid.

Use it in the dry form in preparing cakes, cookies, biscuits, muffins, other quick breads and cereals. In such recipes mix the dried milk solids with the other dry ingredients and use water as the liquid.

Convert dry milk solids into liquid form for use in beverages, soups, sauces, custards and dishes such as scrambled eggs and creamed vegetables.

Use these proportions for mixing, or follow directions on package: 1/4 cup non-fat dry milk solids plus 1 cup of water for each cup of skim milk desired. The package may call for less dry milk, but specialists suggest using the above proportions to improve flavor and increase food value.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

One of the best things about winter is a bowl of good chili. Teamed up with a tossed green salad, fresh fruit, milk or coffee, it makes a good supper.

And while you're making chili do it up right; make a big batch and freeze what is left over. This is a good basic recipe to follow and of course you can always change the flavoring to suit the taste of the family, but I don't think you will need to change it too much.

CHILI

- 15 lbs coarsely ground meat
- 3 cups chopped onion
- 2 tblsp chopped garlic
- 3 cups suet or 2 cups fat
- 2 cups chili powder (makes a mild chili)
- 1/2 cup salt
- 4 teaspoons comina seed (sometimes called cumin)

Add water, desired consistency. Melt suet or fat, add meat and sear until white. (Don't brown meat it makes it tough); Mix chili powder in completely. Add salt, comino seed, onions and garlic. Cook together about 20 minutes. Add water and cook slowly (simmer in fact) for about an hour. This makes around 2 gallons.

The upholstery training school has another day or so yet to run. Finishing a chair is like to many things, it takes longer than anyone thought. But nearly everyone got to putting on the covering fabric yesterday. When you can begin to first tell how a thing is going to look when finished, then all the work begins to be fun.

Building a chair from the inside out is a typical example of the motto, "we learn to do by doing." It's about the only way such work can be learned.

Some are asking for the dressing recipes used on the fruit salad made recently at club meetings. It was stressed that the extra heavy, sweetened, whip cream dressing turn fruits into a dessert rather than a salad.

The dressing listed below is tart and sweet at the same time and goes well with any combination of fruits; fresh or canned.

Honey-Lime Fruit Dressing

- 1/4 cup lime juice
- Grated rind of one lime
- 3 tablespoons honey
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Combine ingredients, beat, chill and serve on fruit.

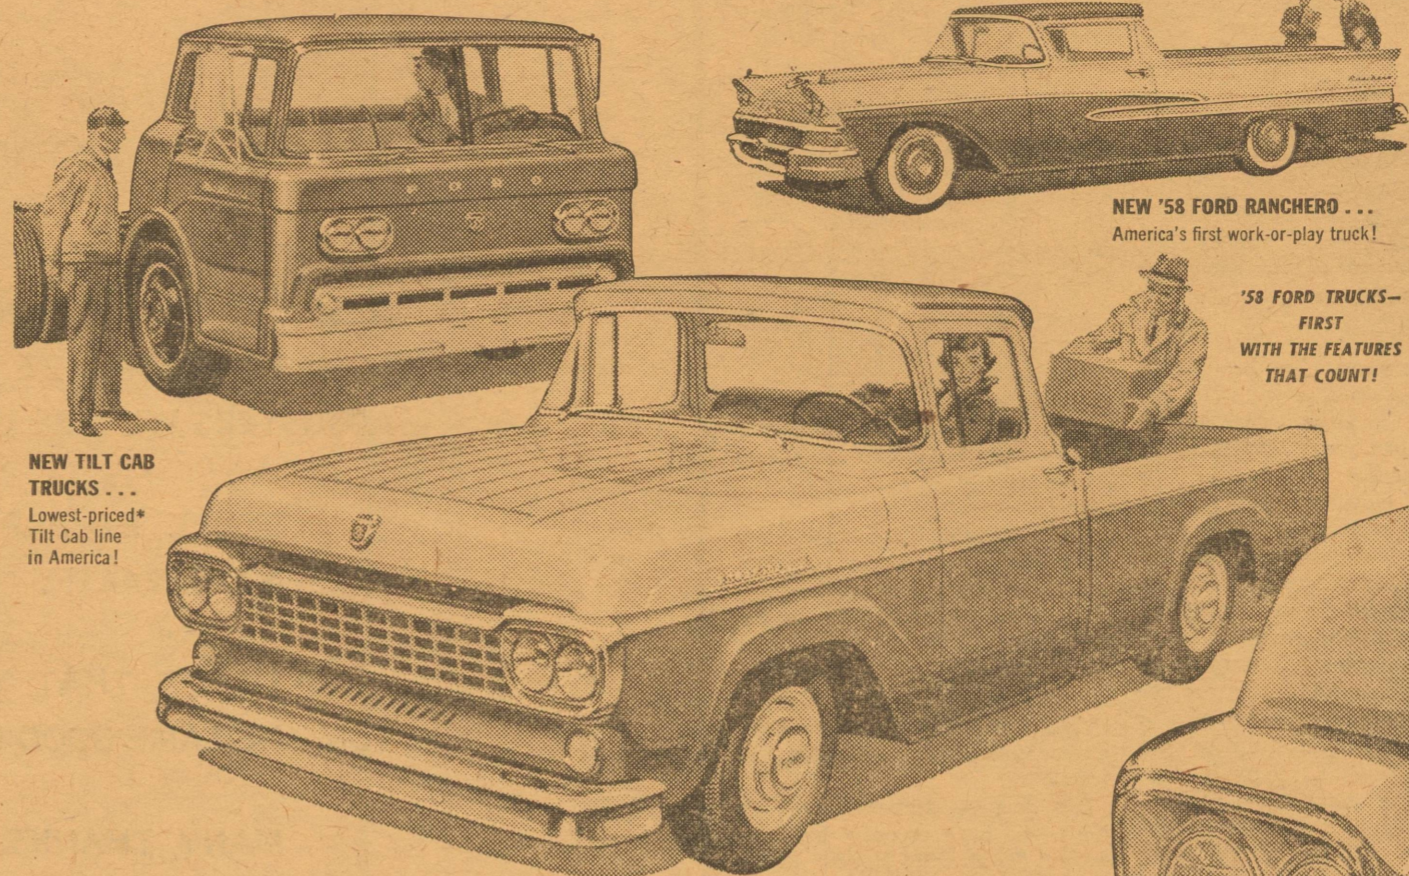

We had a good time making salads and salad dressings at last month's club meetings. The Rudd club met with Mrs. Voy Butts who lives 15 or so miles out of Christoval on the Toenail Trail. Mrs. James Page was hostess to an early morning meeting of the Town and Country club and Mrs. Carroll Ratliff also welcomed the Glendale club early one morning last week.

The Cooper Gas club met with Mrs. Hal Whitten; Mrs. Billy Jack Reynolds' home was the place of meeting for the Reynolds club. Mrs. Truett Stanford was hostess for the Good Neighbor club and Mrs. Irene Teele was hostess for the Earn and Learn club.

The work on salads was linked with the study of nutrition. It makes no difference how many cook books one owns or how good each food which is prepared, if poor food habits cause poor nutrition the results will be just as harmful. It is a well known fact that many people fail to eat enough of the protective foods. What are protective foods and Speakers for the meeting were Dr. Paul Elicker, executive secretary of the National Association of secondary school principals, and Fred Smith, former vice president of the Gruen watch company.

Topics discussed by the group included accreditation, scheduling of classes, omitting the study hall from the daily schedule, transfer students, student council, and the activity schedule.

Mr. Andrews was elected as one of the state coordinators for the coming year. This group will meet next spring in Austin to work out the details for the next meeting which will be held in Houston.

Mrs. Theresa Carrell of Texas Education Agency, consultant in reading, conducted a three day workshop in the local schools October 29-31. Tuesday Mrs. Carrell worked with the primary teachers, Wednesday with middle elementary grade teachers, and Thursday with the Junior High school teachers and Miles elementary school teachers.

Kuder preference tests have been completed for the junior and senior classes. Tests for the sophomore and freshman classes will be given this week. Interest charts for the entire high school will be used for vocational guidance purposes.

A comprehensive achievement test will be given to the entire school later this month. This test will be used for diagnostic purposes to determine strengths and weaknesses in the school system. Plans will be discussed in future teacher meetings that will strengthen the entire instructional program.

what are they protecting? Vegetables (that's where the salads come in), fruits and proteins are protective foods. They keep tissues repaired, they protect us from diseases.

Take vitamin C as an example. Sometimes vitamin C is known as ascorbic acid. Vitamin C is found in most salad ingredients, cabbage, green vegetables, tomatoes, citrus fruits and potatoes.

What happens when your body is short on C? Your teeth may decay. Changes in your bones may occur. Your gums may become sore and bleed easily, blood vessel walls may be weak. Joints and limbs may swell and be painful. Wounds may heal slowly.

Any of these symptoms yours? Unfortunately the body can't store vitamin C. It's much like drinking water for next week's needs—you can't do it. One grapefruit, one orange, 1/2 cup shredded cabbage, 1 glass tomato juice will furnish the daily necessary amount needed by the average person.

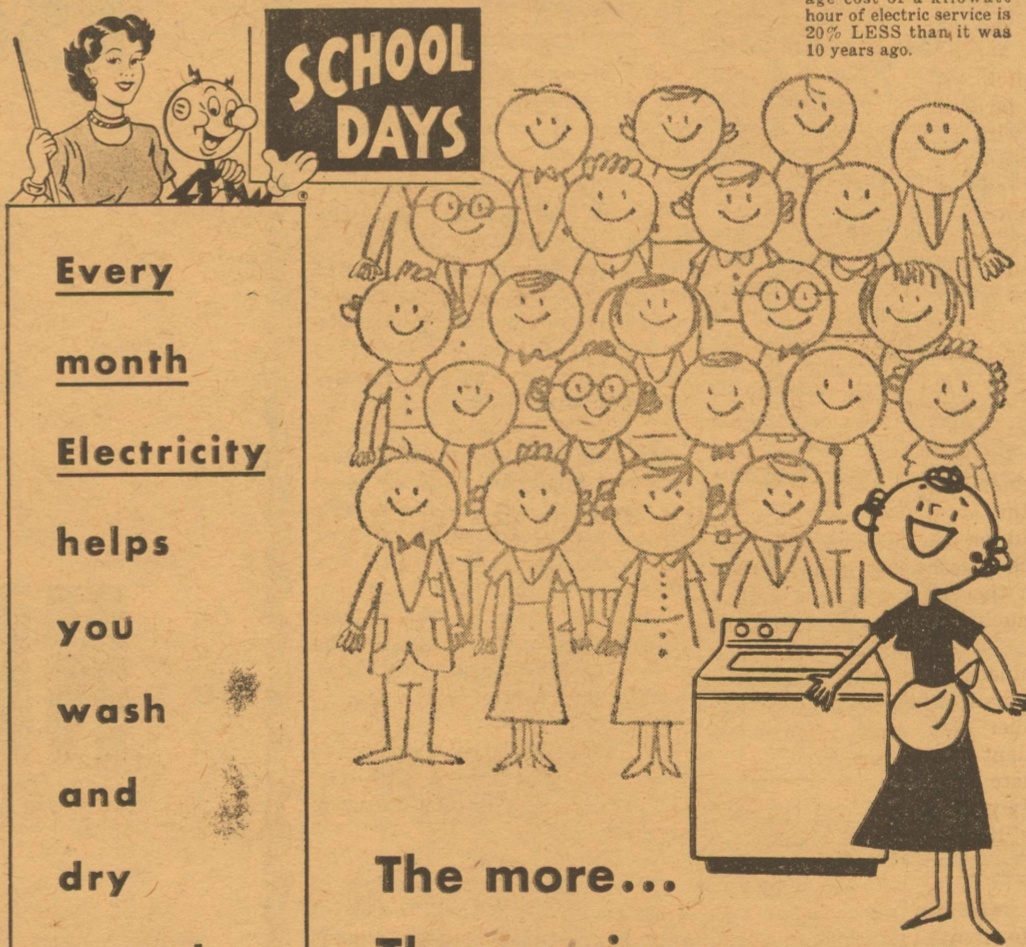

Throw away electric bulbs which have darkened. Even though they will still burn, they have lost their efficiency.

Charles Kellogg and Clovis Taylor spent the first part of the week fishing at Granite Shoals. The Kellogg family returned to their home in Kermit early Wednesday morning.

The construction of level ridge type terraces was begun on W. A. (Bill) Blaylock's place 24 miles west of Eldorado last week. The terraces are being constructed with a bull dozer. Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation district, checked the old terrace marks and set end closure stakes.

Terrace construction with bull dozer could help solve the problem of getting terraces constructed in the district. This could be possible because of the fact that a bull dozer is not hindered by rocks as other equipment is, and by the type of terraces constructed.

Since the district began operation there have usually been more terraces ready for construction than contractors to do the work. Due to the fact that there have been few contractors to construct terraces, District cooperators have used their farm equipment to construct terraces. By using their farm equipment and available contractors, a good number of terraces have been constructed.

Nearly every farmer sees the need for terraces in his well rounded soil and water conservation plan. The need for a terrace that can be farmed with ease and will conserve the maximum amount of soil and water is also recognized.

The advantages of terraces built with a bull dozer are numerous. Terraces constructed with a bull dozer do not have any barrow ditch above the terrace. All the dirt used in the terrace is moved from the downhill side. By eliminating the barrow ditch the water held by the terrace is more evenly distributed on the area above the terrace. This is due to the fact that there is no barrow ditch to fill up with water before the terrace begins to back water up the slope. The area immediately above a terrace with no barrow ditch will dry up and be ready to farm much sooner than a terrace with a barrow ditch. This is due because there is no evacuated area for the water to pour in.

By moulding the dirt used in constructing a terrace with a bull dozer from a wide area below the terrace, the barrow ditch below the terrace is also eliminated. By gradually increasing the cut being made from the starting point to the terrace, the evacuated area can be made practically level. This is an advantage in that more water will be held which will result in better crops on this area. Since more water is held on the leveled area below each terrace the next terrace down the slope will not receive as much water as it would otherwise.

By eliminating the barrow ditches and distributing the water over a wider area, fields will be ready to plant or farm sooner. This planting date is very important in producing a good crop in that they must have time to make. Crops

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Using past data to predict the future rainfall, it may be well to consider this: Ranchers can expect up to 10 in. of rainfall 5% of the time; 10 to 20 inches 37% of the time; 20 to 30 in. 44% of the time; 30 to 40 inches 11% of the time, and over 40 in. 3% of the time. The last six years have been the most severe years on record with only 2 years out of ten reaching 10 inches.

Some general precautions can be used by ranchers of this area to help risks caused by rainfall variations. These practices will help keep the ranching business on a more stable keel so that it will be less subject to unexpected livestock failure and financial reverses.

1. Balance the stocking rate with the forage produced. Graze only about half of the current year's growth for maximum production of foliage and for conservation of soil and moisture.

2. Keep the number of breeding animals well below the carrying capacity of the range so that high quality breeding herd will not have to be sold during drought years. Make up the difference by holding over calves or buying and selling.

3. Cull severely when foliage is short. Select animals able to perform under range conditions.

4. Use supplemental feed to smooth out weather conditions. Purchase hay and protein when prices are lowest.

5. Watch for livestock losses from poisonous plants when palatable range forage is short.

6. Distribute livestock over the range to obtain uniform use of forage. Salt and meal mixtures away from water can pull stock to ungrazed portion of pastures.

7. Practice deferred rotation system.

8. Where vegetation is suitable, use a mixed class of livestock—goats, sheep and cattle.

Progress report 1979. Origins and Causes of Gin Fire Losses in Texas Gins reports that 49% of all fires are caused by matches. Cotton producers have a definite responsibility to the ginner to help prevent these fires. How? Distribute safety matches to pickers to reduce hazards caused by matches. Counties and communities who undertake such an undertaking definitely reduce the chances of fires caused by matches.

The month of November is the time to make a check for borers in trees. Check around the trunks of the tree thoroughly for flimsy cocoons or small holes if the larva has gone into the tree. Use Paradi-chlorobenzene Crystals mounded at the base of the tree or a commercial borer solution and paint the trunk. Observation and action may save the tree be it fruit or shade tree.

Producers who planted the recommended varieties can expect better temporary pastures. September 15-30 is the best planting dates if you use the varieties recommended for this county. Oats varieties recommended are Victor Grain, New Nortex and Mustang. Barley: Cordova, Wheat, Quana, Rye and Reygrass are not recommended. Legumes should go in better watered or bottom land areas only. Hubam and Madrid Sweet Clover are recommended in the spring. Common alfalfa and Hairy Vetch may be planted in combination with smallgrains. In this county oats and barley will furnish more grazing than wheat.

Unless you have the right background, be prepared to back down.

Schleicher To Consist Of Division In '60 Census

Eldorado, as the only town in Schleicher county, will be the central point of a county-wide division in the 1960 census, according to Jack Burkhart, a member of the Census staff, who was here this week from Washington to consult with county officials and solicit their advice in regard to the proposed area for the county.

In a joint program with the State of Texas and each of its counties, the Bureau of the Census is establishing areas, known as "Census County Divisions" for use in statistical reporting. Similar areas were established in the State of Washington prior to the 1950 census, and since 1950 have been put into effect in 11 other states.

The proposed Census county divisions should be particularly useful for local administrative purposes. The Census county divisions are generally larger in area and population than the Justices' or Commissioners' precincts; they have clear-cut boundaries which can be easily identified; and they are intended to remain as permanent areas. For the most part, they are based on the communities that serve as the focal point of each area. The statistical data for these divisions will serve as a yardstick with which to measure the sphere of influence exercised by such communities. It is believed that the Census county divisions will be a handy tool for the use of county officials, local newspapers, and business and civic organizations.

Mr. Burkhart assures us that the county divisions set up by the Bureau of the Census will not interfere in any way with the use of Justices' or Commissioners' precincts by the state or counties.

BACK TO THE BIBLE
Ps. 119:105

"Hi, Bro. A." I want you to know we are missing you from the services. Have we done or said something that has offended you?

"A" answers: "I have to make a living for my family. You know what the Lord said about the man that fails to provide for his own. I Tim. 5:8. Besides, I think I am as well off at home, as the hypocrites are at church. Anyway I am not associated with them when I am at home."

Yes Bro.: I remember Paul's statement in the passage given. Please read these passages: Eph. 6:4; See the Lord's custom in Lk. 4:16. See Isa. 38:18-19; Deu. 6:6-9; I Cor. 10:1-11. Brother, the Lord expects you to give your family more than material food and shelter. Disciples of Christ, please read Heb. 10:23-25; I Cor. 15:58. Be a "Joshua." Josh. 24:5; Be a "Paul" 2 Tim. 4:7-8. Then you won't spend eternity with hypocrites.

The Church of Christ welcomes you to all services. One block west of court house.

It takes time to grow...

A good farmer knows what his crop needs: sunlight, soil, enough rain . . . and time. Each contributes, each is important. In fact, any one of them can spell the difference between a good harvest and a meager one.

People have to grow, too . . . and the growing season lasts a lifetime. Like plants, we also need some outside help along the way: a family to grow up in . . . friends to grow up with . . . and Faith to guide and strengthen us.

Most of us take our Faith pretty much for granted. Like all familiar things, we just assume it will be there when needed. The point is, it's needed all the time . . . every day, every week, all our lives.

Begin now to make sure your Faith is strong enough to weather whatever storms may lie ahead. And help your children find that same strong Faith. Take them with you to your Church or Synagogue this week . . . and every week.

Find the strength for your life . . . worship together this week
