B&J Service Is Establishing Warehouse and Office Here

The B&J Service Co., Inc., an oil well servicing company with units throughout West Texas, this week moved a crew to Eldorado and have established a warehouse and office here, in order to provide service to this rapidly developing oil area.

The initial crew consists of four families. Three men and their families are from Rankin and the Superintendent, A. S. Hallmark, is from Big Lake. The equipment moved in this week is from Rankin and more will be brought here from Sweetwater later.

A warehouse and office has been rented from Arthur Paul near the depot and equipment will be parked on the lot at the rear of the building. A telephone has been installed in the office.

Men who moved here this week with their families are Jim Chamberlain, who has one school-age child; Carl McVay, who has a small child; and Bob Davis, single.

Superintendent in charge is A. S. Hallmark, Jr., who will move his family here from Big Lake when the spring term of school is out. There are two children, one of which is school age, in the family.

B&J Service formerly had a crew and equipment here several years ago. Since that time, the company has serviced this area from Big Lake and towns north of here.

The area that will be served from here will probably include Schleicher and Tom Green counties as well as Sutton, Irion, Val Verde, Edwards and Real.

Fort Worth.—Increased offerings of livestock were reported around the major market circle Monday, despite sharply curtailed offerings at Fort Worth due to rain over the week end.

Fed cattle prices dropped sharply at Cornbelt points as most points reported steers and heifers 50c to $1 lower, and Chicago reports indicated spots on steers $2 off. However, at Fort Worth prices on most cattle and calves were fully steady. Fed steers were scarce, and weak to 50 cents lower. Some strength on canners and cutters, as well as slaughter and stocker calves was noted here compared with late last week.

Good to choice steers and yearlings drew $26 to $28.50, and medium and lower grades sold from $17 to $25. Fat cows bulked at $17 to $19, with canners and cutters at $11 to $17. Bulls were reported from $16 to $20.50, odd head higher. Good and choice fat calves drew $25 to $28, and good stocker calves sold at $28 to $30, with good grade yearlings $28.50 down.

The heavy pressure on spring lamb prices at Fort Worth was blamed on a poor dressed meat trade, wet fleeces and large percentages of medium to good lambs of soft, washy fleshing. Choice spring lambs were 50 cents to $1 per hundred lower at Fort Worth Monday. Cull, medium and good spring lambs were $1 to $2 under prices of last midweek.

Old crop shorn lambs, sheep and goats were steady. About 600 slaughter goats sold at $7 to $7.50. Good and choice old crop lambs drew $20 to $21.50, recently shorn kinds at $20 to $20.50. Cull to medium old crop lambs $15 to $19.

Oil News

El Paso Natural Gas Co., No. 1 Sheen, on a drill stem test between 4318-43 feet recovery was 4,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Gas surfaced in 55 seconds and stabilized in 45 minutes. Location is 28 miles east of Eldorado. In other drill stem tests between 4355-4442 feet recovery was 2,139 feet of gas in drill pipe and 40 ft. of gas cut mud. Operator still drilling ahead.

G. H. Stoddard of Midland No. 1 Katherine Harris, a re-entered project, is shut in for potential.

Production has been assured with the flowing of an estimated six million cubic feet of gas per day after a hydrofrac job between 4662-672 feet. The original well was drilled in 1954 to 5,290 feet and abandoned.

Standard Oil Co., of Texas 3 No. 5 Wilson set pump yesterday. No estimate of potential had been made.

Surveying crews are at work mapping out the location for a gas line from the Otto (Canyon) field to the Powell field. Gas from the Powell field will be delivered through the line to Sinclair Plant No. 23 at Huldale when work is completed. No contracts have been let for actual laying of the line and Sinclair officials could not estimate when it would be completed.

Post Script

Eldorado is sorry to lose the big Dresser Engineering crew, which has been here for many months on Permian construction. They contributed to the welfare of the town in many ways. Besides being good customers in the business district, they were welcome additions in school, church and club affairs of the community.

And while we lose one good outfit, we welcome in another—the B & J Service, who moved four families here for what may become a larger crew later on.

Another firm, which does the same kind of oil service work is the Halliburton company, who have maintained a crew here since 1947.

Eldorado is becoming recognized as the hub of an oil area embracing about seven counties—and we have good highways leading out from the hub.

Marion Owens and his crew started building right-of-way fences some time ago, from the Sutton county line, and coming this way on the new route for Hwy. 277. We understand that the county has secured all the right-of-way for this new route, up to the city limits, but that trades have not yet been made with city property owners.

Confidence in the future was expressed this week by Eldorado business men:

Eldorado Drug has been completely done over with new fixtures and new floor, also a renovated prescription department.

Roy Phelps unloaded a truck load of spring merchandise early this week for his Western Auto Associate store.

Delbert's Taylor's new building on South Divide street is coming along nicely, with the cement tile walls up.

And speaking of South Divide street, which will be the new route of the Sonora highway, rumors have been rampant for months in regard to commercial development of the street.

In addition to Delbert Taylor's new building, the Nance Laundromat was put into operation on the street a few weeks ago, but further commercial development is apparently still in the talking stage. It is expected that new filling stations will be a prominent feature later on.

Still to be done is the widening of the street, and installation of cement curbs and gutters, after which the paving will be laid curb to curb. But, as mentioned elsewhere in this column, right-of-way deeds have not yet been secured from property owners within the city limits. It all takes time.

The W. T. Hubers sent in their new address this week. They report that they have bought a home and expected to move in this week. Their address is 2119 Nell St., Houston 17, Texas. The Hubers were here in Eldorado a long time where he was employed by Shell. He was recently transferred by the company.

"We miss our many friends in Eldorado," Mrs. Huber adds.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bounds, former Eldorado residents, moved to McCombe last week. Their new address is 615 E. 10th St.

For the first time in years, the wisteria vine at Mrs. Robert Milligan's is in full bloom. The vine covers an old mesquite tree and has some blossoms 12 inches long.

Dresser Engineering Co. Supt. L. R. Phillips Moves

L. R. Phillips, who moved here October 1 in charge of Dresser Engineering Co., as construction superintendent, left for his home in Arkansas, Kansas, Tuesday.

His company built the Permian Basin Pipe Line Co. compressor station west of town.

A clerical force will remain here until May 1st to finish up the paper work and other clerical jobs in connection with the project on which they have been working.

Men remaining here at this time are Bryan Ragsdale, Tracy Clinkenbeard, Fred Harrison, and Kenneth Love.

Shaws Attend Funeral Of Gunshot Victim

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Shaw attended funeral services in Menard Saturday for Edgar E. Pierce, his brother-in-law, who was accidentally shot to death in his home in Victoria Thursday.

Pierce, 36, formerly with the Menard News, had been in newspaper work for the past seven years in Victoria. He was the son of N. H. (Nick) Pierce, former publisher of the Menard News.

Justice of the Peace Alfred C. Baass of Victoria, returned a verdict of accidental death. Baass said that Pierce was changing clothes in front of a closet when a coat and coathanger fell, knocking over a .22 caliber rifle. The hook of the coathanger caught in the trigger of the rifle, he said, and fired it when Pierce started to pick up the coat. The bullet struck him in the chest.

Funeral services were held in Menard Saturday at 4:00 with interment in the Menard cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, the former Fern Shaw, who has been in newspaper work for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are remaining in Victoria with his sister for several days.

Eldorado had .2 inch of rain over the week end.

Spring Term Of Court To Meet Here Monday

Spring term of District court will meet here at 10:00 a. m. Monday, April 21. Several felony cases are to be considered and time for trial of each will be set by Judge Joe L. Mays Monday.

Thirty-six men have been called for petit jury service. Those named are Jack Wade, Raymond Schrank, Tom M. Dempsey, Jimmy Danford, Jimmie West, W. F. Wyatt, P. D. Haley, Cramer Sofge, Robert Page, Herman Walker, Charles J. Hahn, L. W. Steen, Albert Tisdale, Charlie Trigg, Earl Hicks, Jack Etheredge, Earl Cathey, Hal Whitten, Alvin Farris, Glen Edmondson, Hollis McCormick, Lynn Alexander, R. D. Johnson, L. V. Newport, Jack Halbert, Jr., Cecil Meador, Vernon Gibson, Delbert Taylor, Raymond Mittel, E. L. Finley, C. O. Neff, M. H. Woodward, W. L. Kinsler, Earl Yates and Marion Owens.

CO-OP EMPLOYEES TO DALLAS MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Logan were accompanied by Miss Louise Kuykendall and her mother on a trip to Dallas Tuesday morning.

Logan and Miss Kuykendall will attend an accountants' meeting being held in Dallas Thursday and Friday in connection with their work for Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

Rev. Keith Wright, minister of education in the First Presbyterian church at Lake Charles, La., showed slides on southern Europe at yesterday's meeting of the Eldorado Lions club. Rev. Wright has been holding a preaching mission at the Presbyterian church here.

President Charlie Trigg reminded members of the district convention scheduled for June 15-17 in McAllen.

Margo Mittel was introduced as Lion of the Month from the high school. Miss Mittel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mittel, is a junior this year.

Schleicher Youth Outstanding In Several Fields of Endeavor

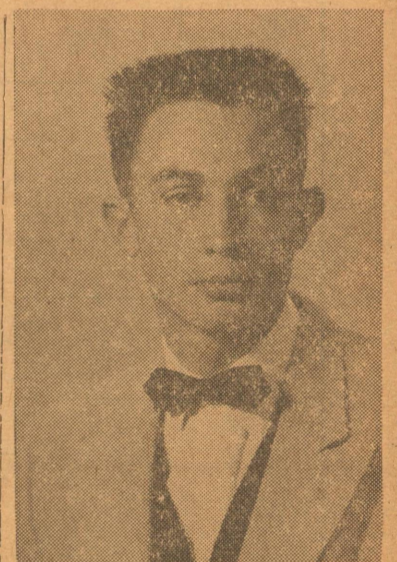

By W. G. GODWIN

Dick Runge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Runge, Rudd Route, Christoval, Texas, has a most unusual and acceptable record as a youth in many fields of endeavors.

To begin with, he is a member of an interesting and unusual household, organized for the best interest of all members of the family. Dick's actions as observed by many are very industrious ones. He goes about his activities informed and with a plan in mind; a skill, of course, but not unusual among busy people. The art is that Dick can always spare the time to do something that is not on the schedule; more important, he anticipates needs and duties as well as entering in the horseplay and jokes.

Dick received recognition from the Youth Committee of the Texas Section, American Society of Range Management, last September. Dick demonstrated outstanding leadership and interest in range management. He was the outstanding boy of the range management camp & participated in all activities and was wagon boss for one day. He was awarded a billfold, engraved belt and a certificate of recognition for his outstanding work.

Twenty-one range management

professors, research technicians, county agents and ranchmen had a part on a well rounded program, held annually for 38 selected 4-H and FFA boys of the state.

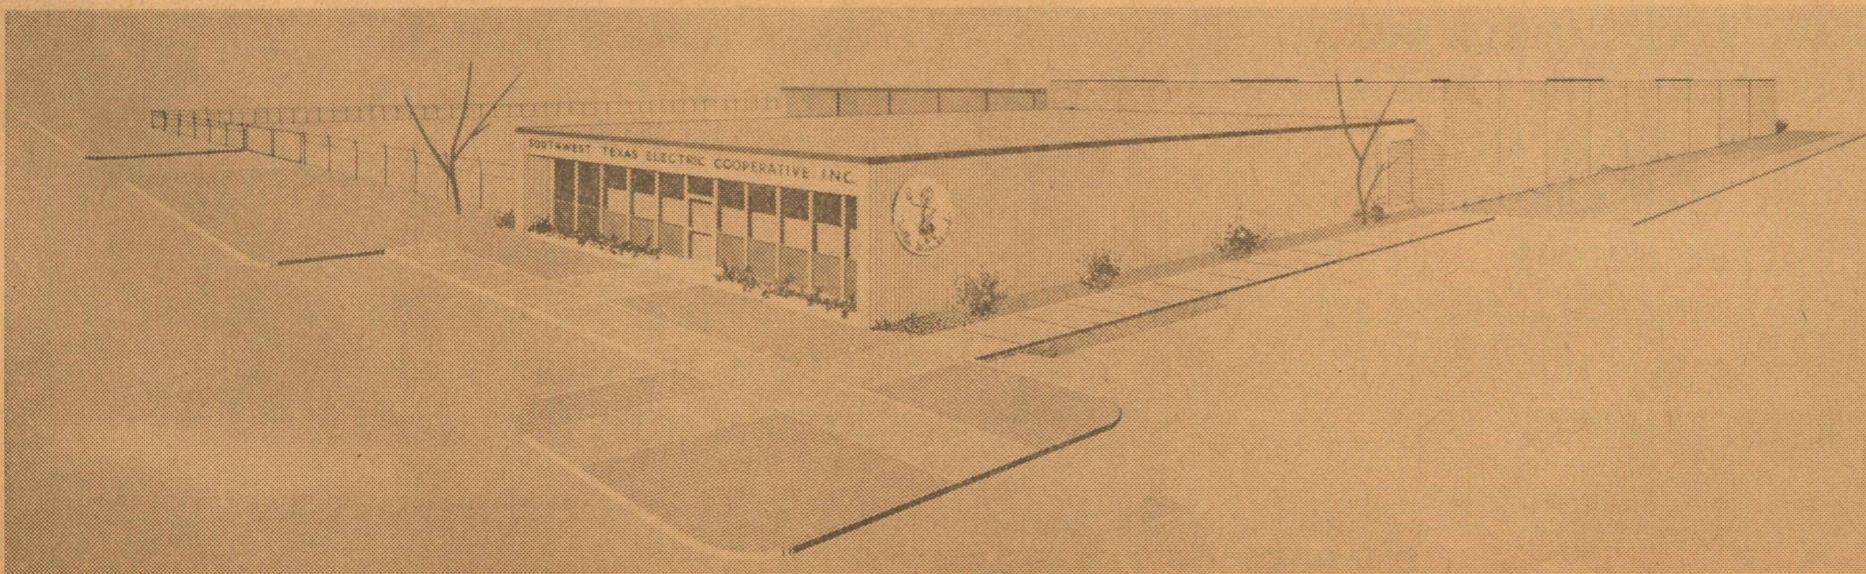

Dick has been president and scholarship award winner as well as participant in grass judging and range management events. He has also played football, basketball and track in each of his Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior years in high school.

Dick, in his Senior year, is class president, student council president, most popular boy, football captain, and all district player; "E" club vice president, science club president, RIAL youth chairman, shop foreman and national honor society president.

Neighbors help us to live longer and enjoy it more

Most of the comforts and conveniences that we enjoy today are accessible to us more or less in proportion to the number of people who live near us.

Schools, churches, doctors, electric power, stocks of foods, medicines, and clothing, trained technicians to service our needs, customers for the products of our own labor . . . all of these are ours to enjoy . . . as long as there are enough PEOPLE in the community to support them.

Every dollar that leaves this community helps to move somebody out. Every dollar that is spent here, helps to bring more people in.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tim Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The most important enemies of egg quality are heat, age, humidity and lack of cleanliness.

Heat is one of the greatest causes of loss in egg quality. Any temperature above 70 degrees F. is sure to reduce egg quality rapidly. The higher the temperature, the more quickly it happens. Eggs maintain their high quality a few hours at 70 degrees F. Fifty to 55 degrees is a good temperature to hold eggs on the farm when they are marketed at least two or three times weekly. Eggs should be gathered three times daily and cooled rapidly to remove animal heat. The egg temperature is 105 degrees when laid. If the temperature is 100 degrees in the hen house, little cooling will take place unless the eggs are mechanically cooled and held around 50-55 degrees.

Age, or length of time eggs have been laid, also influences quality. However, loss in quality due to age is slowed down greatly if eggs are kept at 50-55 degrees. If the temperature is lowered to a constant 30-32 degrees, superior quality will be maintained even longer. This low temperature is not necessary or recommended where eggs are sold several times weekly.

Humidity is a factor in maintaining favorable conditions for eggs. Eggs are more likely to hold their maximum quality if the cooler is operated to hold a relative humidity of 70 to 80%, but a low humidity will not cause undue quality unless eggs are to be stored for several weeks.

Eggs should be cleaned with a wet cloth immediately when gathered. A dirty egg is unmarketable.

Suppose you have met the above conditions. There are other things to remember, such as regardless of freshness, odd shape, stained shells and weak shells take the grade of No. C.

A small egg regardless of size can be grade A, but has to be separated, and sold as a small egg. Air cells are in the large end of the egg, but failure to gather soon after being laid will enlarge the air cell and cause the egg to be graded B.

Because a housewife must be cook, housekeeper, nursemaid, advisor to the men folks and a Johnny-on-the-spot in every emergency, she is more acutely safety-conscious than the rest of the family. This is particularly true where there are children, and to Mother's watchful eye, trained ear and skilled hands falls the task of safety education for every member of the family.

A special tribute is due to all Home Demonstration women who are acting as safety and first aid leaders.

Sheep selection is based on the knowledge that offspring from sheep of certain production levels will have the same average production as their parents. That is, 50% of the offspring will be above average of their parents and 50% will be below the average of the parents, but all will be above the average for the flock. Selective breeding can increase productive value because above average animals may be selected as parents of a still more productive generation.

Selective breeding is a chain reaction. The speed of reaction or rate of increase in productive value depends on accurately selecting high-producing, above average animals to be mated together and the rapidity with which the breeding herd can be replaced with the younger stock.

Only when you produce extremes can you hope to increase production. The closer you get to uniformity, the less your chances for increasing production. Now, keep in mind I am speaking of body weight and wool and taking for granted that all wool will grade fine.

How much increase in wool and lamb can I depend on if I do selective breeding in my flock? Suppose the average weight of the ewes is 115 pounds. There will be 10% of the ewes that will weigh 127 pounds and above and 40% will weigh from 115 to 127 pounds. 30% of the flock will weigh from 115 to 107 pounds with 20% below 107 pounds.

The same is true with wool production. 50% of the flock is above average in length, weight, density and fineness of fleece.

Rams are considered the same way and selected accordingly. For every pound of weight above the average ram and ewe weight, the increase in the average offspring will increase in weight 0.3-0.4 pound for every pound above the average. The wool increase will be 0.6 pound for every average clean weight pound above the average of the flock. Figuring in dollars and cents the offspring value has increased accordingly.

Some producers who practice sheep selection in the county are: Richard Jones, L. Steen, Page Bros., Edwin Jackson, Jim West, P. K. McIntosh, Claude Doyle, and others.

Charles West, James Sallee, Jerry Don Johnson and John McGregor will represent the Schleicher County 4-H club at the district elimination contest in grass identification to be held at the San Angelo Junior College, Saturday, April 16th.

Ernest K. Nimitz, Judge Whitten, Farris Nixon and Dick Runge will be entered in range judging.

The selections for junior teams have not been made, but there is some lively competition between some 14 boys to compete Saturday in San Angelo for junior team awards.

Control young Hoarhound with one pound of 2-4-D ester in 15-20 gallons of water per acre 1/2 cup of liquid laundry detergent with broadcast treatment. In a cattle sprayer use 1 pound of 2-4-D ester in 50 gallons of water with detergent. For advanced growth use or mature plants use 1 pound of 2, 4, 5-T mixed as above.

Some read to be entertained, others profit by what they read. Those who become successful do both at the same time.

BACK TO THE BIBLE

The Mission of Disciples. Christ said to his disciples: Ye are the light of the world. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.—Mt. 5:14-16.

Paul writing to disciples in Corinth, "Now I beseech you brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgement." 1 Cor. 1:10.

Division among those who claim to be disciples of Christ, is the most fruitful field of infidelity. When those who claim to be disciples of Christ, teach different doctrines, we all know that one of them is wrong. They may both be wrong, but they cannot both be right.

Religious teachers should teach just what the Apostles taught.—2 Tim. 2:1-2 "Come let us reason together."

You are invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ, one block west of court house in Eldorado, Texas.

The most precious gift you can give a son

From that first wonderful day when he drops your guiding hand to walk alone—unsteady, unsure, but on his own—his goal is independence.

And this is yours to give—even as he falters and clings, then manfully struggles on. You want so much to help him. And your heart nearly bursts with pride one day when you know he's now "his own man." How fervently you pray that no one—ever—will take away this hard-won freedom to be himself.

There's one way you may not have thought of to help him continue to enjoy the independence he's achieved.

Be on the watch for ideas that could deprive him of it—the idea, for example, that "government should run such and such—a business, a service, an institution." You have only to remember the people in socialist nations to know that when government controls more and more things, there is less and less freedom and independence for the individual!

You can use your woman-power to discourage this idea that "the government should run it." When you hear people talk that way, point out that the loss of anybody's independence is a threat to everybody's freedom.

Very much aware of this danger are the independent electric light and power companies, because government already runs part of the electric business, and powerful people are pressing it to take over more.

New County Idea Still Brewing
The long-dormant issue of Permian County—and whether it shall be created from parts of Pecos and Crockett counties in the Iraan area—has bubbled to the surface again as a by-product of what is shaping up as a redhot fight for the state representative post from the 102nd district in this summer's election.

With four announced candidates all from Midland, in the race to date, one has announced himself against creation of a new county, another has declared himself for such an act and the other two are noncommittal on the subject so far. —The Fort Stockton Pioneer.

Drivers License Checks To Be Intensified

"Has your driver's license expired?" An effort to improve drivers license service was revealed recently by Major Wilson E. Speir, commander of Region 4 of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"If you once held a driver's license in Texas and still have the license in your possession, regardless of the expiration date, it may be renewed, by going to the drivers license office." This was stated by J. B. Hart, captain of the Driver License service, Midland region.

If you hold a license that has expired within the last five years you may renew it by mailing your full name, birth date, and description, along with the statutory fee to the DPS headquarters in Austin for a new license.

At the same time, Major Speir pointed out that Highway Patrolmen are intensifying their driver's license checks for drivers who are driving on expired licenses or no license at all.

"It is not the department's desire to surprise motorists without warning," Speir said, "So we would like to take this means of advising the public they may expect these checks any time." Major Speir pointed out, "The department is now mailing courtesy reminders to all licensed drivers 30 days before their licenses expire and we hope our motorists will take advantage of this reminder and renew their licenses before expiration."

Major Speir stated the driver's license law has been in effect almost 22 years in Texas and we feel that no driver has a legitimate excuse for not having a valid driver's license.

The Drivers License Patrolman for this area is in Eldorado on the second Friday of each month for the purpose of giving examinations and accepting renewals of licenses.

In the name of emergency, spending measures have already been enacted at this session and others are proposed which may increase the public debt by as much as $10 billion. The amount depends on what happens in Congress during the next few weeks.

The emergency housing bill, enacted into law, is probably about the soundest of these anti-recession measures, but it is admittedly inflationary and expensive.

A proposal that Uncle Sam advance a vast sum to the States to use in extending by 13 weeks unemployment payments is viewed by many, including myself, as un-sound and should not be undertaken even in the name of emergency. It would simply prolong the day of reckoning, and deviates from the basic principle upon which such unemployment payments are based.

A recent $1.8 billion emergency highway bill, which will cause some construction to be speeded up which would otherwise be done a little later anyhow, marks a sharp reversal of the pay-as-you-go principle which prompted many of us to vote for the big interstate highway system measure in 1956, now just getting under way.

While some emergency legislation is helpful, certainly the panic approach should be avoided. Accelerated construction works on water shed and river harbor projects, which are engineeringly sound, are being pushed in the Congress. But with scores of expensive remedies, with a dash of politics often added to the prescription, being proposed, it is a good time to remind ourselves that many sins are committed in the name of emergency.

That smiling Russian Ambassador, Mr. Menshikov, is overlooking no bet in his efforts to sell the idea that the present Russian regime is moderate and peace-minded. I received from the Ambassador the other day a copy of Mr. Kruschchev's letter to Mr. Eisenhower and also a copy of the Soviet resolution announcing unilateral cessation of atomic and hydron weapon tests. What he didn't relay was the fact that the Russians had just completed a whole series of such tests immediately before telling the world of their pious decision to forego more tests.

Maureen McCravey has been ill with measles this week.

Report On Science Fair At Brownwood Given

On Friday morning, April 11, 1958, the following students: Bobby Williams, Joe Charles Christian, Carl Parker, Rex Enochs, Christy Sauer, and I and Mr. Buarkart, our sponsor, left Eldorado to attend the annual district science fair at Brownwood. Joe Charles and Carl entered exhibits in the junior physical division. Bobby Williams entered his and Dick Runge's project in the senior biological division. My project was also entered in the senior biological division (it placed third).

Having attended the fair last year as a visitor, not an exhibitor, I was able to compare the two events. The most obvious of my comparisons are (1) the competition this year was much greater than last year's, (2) there were many more entries, (3) the majority of the entries centered around up-to-date scientific developments, as well as developments of the future, and (4) there was more public interest in this year's fair. —Mary Parker.

Barbecue Five Years Ago This Week Marked Official Opening Of Station

Large crowds flocked to Eldorado five years ago this week for the formal opening and open house at the Bailey pumping station just south of Eldorado. The station, which is on the 457-mile McCamey to Houston line of the Rancho Pipe Line System, has since been renamed the Eldorado station.

Saturday, April 18, 1953, was a big day, with the Lions club members assisting Orland Harris in serving barbecue to the city and county officials, land owners whose property was crossed by the pipe line, and others, with their families.

The guests were shown through the large, modern station, as well as through the nearby Pan American station.

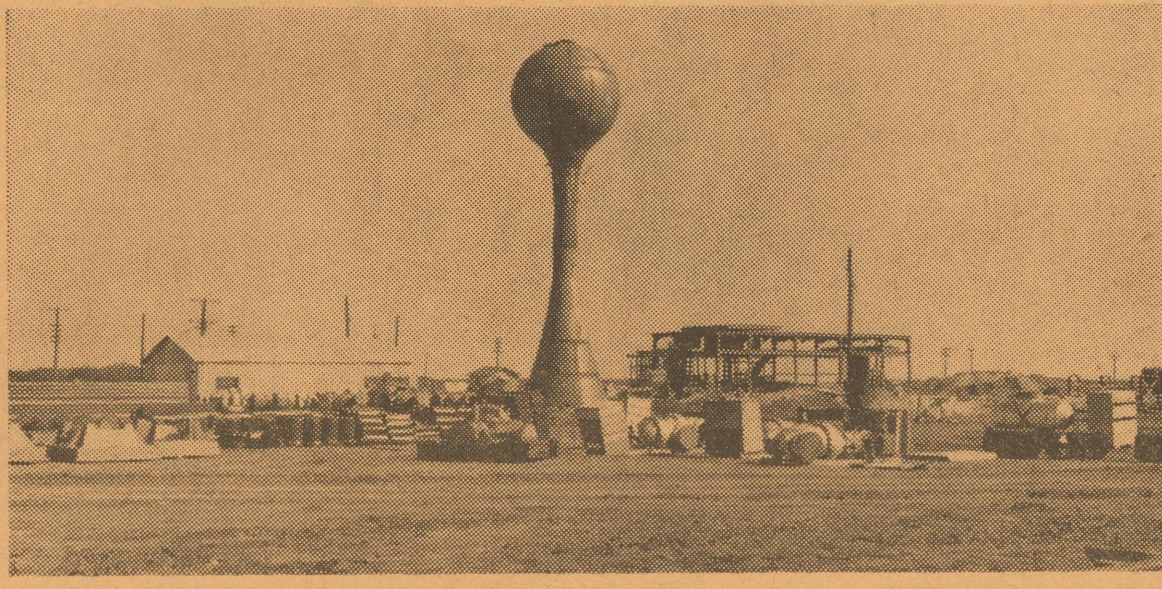

At about the same time, open houses were also held at the other two stations on the line, the Mesa station near McCamey, and the Garfield station near Austin.

Among the out-of-town officials and visitors here were: T. E. Swigart, president of Shell Pipe Line Corporation; A. E. Groff of Houston, vice president of Shell Pipe Line; O. W. Heyden of Houston, chief engineer of Shell Pipe Line; C. E. Dolhonde, area manager of Shell Pipe Line; and J. E. Mims, division superintendent of Austin.

Also: W. H. Shelley and C. D. Winkelman, both of Austin, who were construction superintendents; D. M. Farrell, assistant area manager from Houston; J. J. Sonnier, with Shell at Houston;

F. B. Estes, Colorado City; H. L. Stevens, Houston; Kendall Beaton, New York City; A. L. Lipscomb, Houston; Z. J. Beals, Springfield, Mo.; P. B. Hayes, Snyder, with Pan American; S. L. Surratt, of Snyder, with Pan American; L. V. Phegley of Houston, and others.

The Rancho, a 24-inch diameter line, initially carried 210,000 barrels of crude daily from West Tex as and New Mexico oil fields to refineries and terminals on the Texas coast.

Construction of this "big inch" crude pipe line in Texas was started in March, 1952. The Rancho System was a multiple ownership project. The line was designed, constructed, and operated by Shell Pipe Line Corporation.

George Cales, who has remained terminal chief at the station, completed 25 years with Shell in 1953. He had company jobs in McCamey, Wichita Falls, Louisiana, Austin, and Kilgore before coming to Eldorado when construction got under way in 1952 on the Rancho line. He was senior inspector of construction while the Bailey station was being built, and became terminal chief at the station when the line went on stream.

Other engineers who have been at the station since the open house in 1953 are Tom McGill, Fred Watson, and J. F. Dossett.

Building going on in 1952-53 at the site of the Bailey station south of Eldorado, is shown in this photo from the files of the Success. Later, the open house at the station attracted a large crowd and included a barbecue.

Thought For The Week

Ministerial Alliance

"For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect."

It takes a big man to love someone who has been unlovely toward him. In Christ we find no scorn, no resentment, no bitterness at life's suffering, but only self giving love. Here is love that, when rejected, is not shaken but deepened. Jesus died on a cross saying, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

Christ had perfect love. We should have perfect love in everything and toward everyone. How many of us give God the first thought in everything we do or give? If we put God first in our lives, we are happy regardless of what comes. By seeing our happy lives, our friends and other people with whom we come in contact will find inspiration. Through our love, others will find help.—H. M.

Otis Deal To Receive Award For Conservation Work

Otis Deal, who ranches 22 miles west of Eldorado, has been chosen the outstanding conservation farmer and rancher in the Fort Worth Press "Save the Soil and Save Texas" contest in the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district.

Otis is to be honored at the May 14th meeting of the Eldorado Lions club when a plaque is to be presented him.

The Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district is composed of all of Schleicher county and the Southwest quarter of Tom Green county. The area has more than a million and a quarter acres of farm and ranch lands. The district has around 340 district cooperators.

It was in October, 1951, that Otis became a district cooperator with the local district and received technical assistance in working out a conservation plan for his place.

In spite of the fact that a majority of the years since 1951, moisture has been below normal, Otis has carried out a number of needed conservation practices on his place.

He adjusted his livestock numbers in accordance with forage being produced. Otis has constructed two miles of field terraces, and plants all of his cultivated land on the contour. He has planted several acres of legumes in the past several years. At the present time he has all his cultivated land planted to a cover crop for protection against wind erosion.

Otis realized the improvement of his rangeland was to be a long-time job and he began doing something about the matter. He has increased the growth of better types of grasses by deferments and proper use. These grasses include sideoats grama, bluestems, green srangetop, hairy grama, and buffalo grass.

During this time he has been decreasing the lower type of vegetation such as needlegrass, red grama and other less desirable grasses.

These practices have decidedly diminished soil erosion and caused rain that did fall to soak in and do more good by staying where it fell.

Otis's idea toward conservation is good and he has a good understanding as to what it is all about. He talks to others about conservation and its benefits.
