The Fort Stockton city council approved its budget for next year and set the 1958 tax rate at $1.65 during a special meeting and budget hearing Friday. Pasture Fires in Sutton
Fires destroyed an estimated four sections of pasture in Sutton county since last Friday. The worst of the blazes was reported about 5:00 p. m. Tuesday on the Gordon Stewart ranch southeast of town. It burned well into the night, taking over two sections of pasture, observers estimate. It spread to the Vander Stucken, Morrison and Hull, and Bill Wade ranches before it was brought under control about 9:00 p. m.—Devils River News.

Burned Store Bldg., Lot, Sold
Doyle Perdue, whose grocery and market in the north part of Ozona was destroyed by fire last week, announced this week that he had sold the building and lot and would not attempt to reopen the store.

Buyer of the property was Tom Allen, automobile body repair man who plans to repair the building and move his body shop business from its present location in the Smith building, next to Johnson draw bridge, on Highway 290, to the former grocery store location.—Ozona Stockman.

One Quits; Another Engaged
Weldon Brevard resigned last week as assistant high school coach two weeks after he had accepted the position, and in his place James Cox was engaged Monday night during a school board meeting. Mr. Cox, a teammate of Head Coach Carman Bonner at Hardin Simmons, coached one year at London, one at Eden and then entered the Army, from which he will get his discharge this week.—Mason County News.

Driver Education Dropped
Supt. Garland Black said this week that Bronte School will not be able to offer driver education in its curriculum during the 1958-59 school year. Supt. Black said school officials have tried every means they know how to acquire a teacher qualified to teach the course, and they have been unable to do so.—The Bronte Enterprise.

Lots of Rabbits
Jack rabbits! Yea, boy! We have an over-supply of them in Irion County this year and sport lovers can have a wonderful time in the country. Our highways and byways are literally covered with dead carcasses. It's almost impossible to drive down roads after dark without hitting them. Hard surface roads seem to be their favorite feeding grounds, and blinded by car lights they run right into a car.—The Mertzton Weekly Star.

One Box For Sterling
In the run-off election in the Democratic Primary here on Aug. 23, all voters will vote at the box in the courthouse. This was the procedure followed last year in the August run-off. No precinct races are to be voted on—only that of a place on the Texas Supreme Court and the Sterling County Judge's race. So, regardless of your regular voting box, all voters come in and vote at the Courthouse box.—Sterling City News Record.

Hospital Unit To Be Stored In Alpine
Alpine's application for a civil defense emergency hospital unit for storage here has been approved. Civil Defense Director W. J. Newell was advised yesterday. Drs. W. E. Lockhart and A. L. Ponton of the civil defense medical division have been working on obtaining the hospital, as has Dr. Bryan Wildenthal, Sul Ross State College president, who will provide storage space for the unit. Dan Ritter of the college staff will be custodian of the hospital. All supplies and equipment for a 200-bed hospital will be stored at the college.

In time of an emergency, the hospital could be put into operation within a few hours in such places as a college dormitory, churches, gymnasiums, etc. This is one of the first hospital emergency units to be approved for a Texas area, Newell said.—Alpine Avalanche.

By an 18-vote margin the House last week approved a Senate-passed bill to help distressed areas. Designed to pump federal money into areas, mostly in the east, where business has slumped chiefly because of shifts in plants to other areas, the bill will cost the taxpayers more than a billion dollars. I voted against it. It is rumored that the bill will probably be vetoed.

This measure, along with scores of others approved this year, will probably tag this as the most expensive session of the Congress in peace-time history. A combination of necessary increases in spending for national defense with a flock of non-essential spending schemes have pushed deficit financing to a prospective $10 billion net deficit figure during the current fiscal year.

been approved that were debated, the deficit would shoot up to $15 billion, plus. We did succeed in defeating a few of the wilder spending proposals.

Deficit financing by the government is the prime cause of inflation. Therefore, we can not escape the prospect for more inflation, less buying value of the dollar, and a rather dismal outlook for any tax relief in the immediate future.

Fort Worth. — The trade was active and cattle and calf prices continued to show some improvement as excessive runs were avoided Monday at Cornbelt terminal markets. It marked the second successive week when cattle feeders around the major market circle had held Monday supplies in check and it paid off in better prices. Actually, supplies last week were about on par with the previous week but were spread out over five days. This spacing firmed prices and it appeared the same strategy would work again this week on the basis of the opening trade Monday at the major markets.

In Fort Worth the buyers sought supplies in an active manner and strength was evident in the trade from the outset. By the close, fed steers and heifers were around 50 cents higher, while cows were steady to 50 cents higher. Stockers and feeders were strong to 50 cents higher, with lighter weight calves and yearlings in much the better position.

Sales included numerous loads of good to choice fed steers and heifers in the $22 to $24.50 bracket. Medium and lower grades sold from $17.50 to $22. Fat cows cleared at $17 to $19.50, while canners and cutters drew $11 to $17.50. Bulls drew $17.50 to 21.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $22 to $25.50 and medium and lower grades sold from $18 to $22, while culls sold from $15 to $17. Good stocker steer calves cashed at $27 to $30 and heifer calves sold from $27.50 down. Stocker steer yearlings moved at $25.50 downward. Feeder cattle sold mostly from $24 down. Choice stockers were scarce.

Of the some 1,000 sheep and goats on hand at Fort Worth on Monday, more than fifty per cent of them were goats and kids. The trade on all classes of goats and sheep was active and prices strong, quality considered. Some classes were untested at the extreme top of the price range and strictly choice kinds were lacking. Good fat lambs cashed at $21 to $21.50 and strictly choice kinds were scarce. Cull to medium lambs sold from $15 to $20. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $19 to $20. Fat yearlings drew $18 to $18.50 and old wethers sold around $7 to $12.50. Slaughter ewes drew $7 for slaughter.

Slaughter goats ranged from hard light canners in the $5.50 to $8. Aged bucks sold around $6 to $8.50 range, to $7 to $8.50 on the meatier kinds. Some goats in the hair sold at $8.50. Kid goats cashed at $10 to $12.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNOUNCES RESULTS FROM QUESTIONNAIRE

Good response was received by the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce to the questionnaire that was sent out a while back, seeking information on how to make Eldorado a better place in which to live and trade.

Specific needs in the community that were cited included a hospital, better recreational facilities, better streets and drainage, and others.

Some of the more interesting comments that came in included the following:

A resident for five years stated: "We thought Eldorado to be a very friendly place to live when we first came here, but we have found that if you are not in a certain group or church, or if you do not spend all your money buying their houses, and their merchandise—although it is too high and not what you want—then they cease to be so friendly.

"We will never buy a house here as there is not a drainage system, and the side streets are terrible, as the water stands for quite a spell, and then the mud and chuck holes keep our cars muddy and dirty all the time. . . .

"All in all, this town is too clannish. Outsiders are wanted for what they can give, but we want something for our money, too."

A spokesman for a family of five that has been here two years had some criticism of Eldorado merchants and of the school:

"It's almost ridiculously funny to see the number of business people who go out of town to spend their money. Local business people want the local trade, but THEY go to San Angelo to get the best and most for their money. We have local beauty shops, but there are businessmen's wives who have standing appointments at San Angelo and charge accounts in the better stores. The ad in our local paper says, 'Keep the money in our town; do business with people who do things for us. Really, their attitude seems to be, 'Grab all the money you can while you have a chance.

"The local school is not really bad, but it seems headed toward regimentation. When you walk in to a school building and a teacher says, 'What are you doing? Spying on us?' it makes you wonder how soon you will have to get a pass to get inside. As a whole, the teachers are nice friendly people who have a job to do and are doing it, but walk in when you haven't been invited and take a look. We understand the Senior Trip is soon to be a thing of the past. 'It no longer has any educational value. All the schools are stopping it.' They'd better take another look. It isn't so, either way in schools this size. Also students are graded low so they will be able to meet college standards'—yet how many out of Eldorado schools make a college honor roll? . . ."

Constructively, a resident for 12 years said: "The people of Eldorado should realize that anything wrong they might see is due to their own failure to support local stores; so that the owners could afford to remodel and make their places of business more modern—but anything we don't support we shouldn't complain about."

Said a 30-year resident: "I have traded with the merchants of Eldorado for 30 years, and as of the past 10 or 12 years, there has been a tendency by some to get your money and get you out of the store. Have not had one to say, 'Here, have a cigar or a block of gum.' Now and then this would help."

A spokesman for a family of 6 who has lived here 19 years said: "I think Eldorado is great. I wouldn't want to live anywhere else. We have progressed wonderfully in the 19 years I have lived here. The Co-Op has made farming and ranching so wonderful. We have our paved roads and dial telephones. At a district home demonstration meeting lately I was so surprised to know there are so many places in Texas that do not have running water in the house in the rural districts. Here, most of us have HOT running water. It is a wonderful place. None equal to it."

Mrs. Claude Slone honored her husband Saturday night on his birthday with a barbecue supper in their yard. Those attending were from McCamey, Mertzon, San Angelo, Sonora and Eldorado.

Libby Preston, daughter of the Richard Prestons, had a birthday party to celebrate her eighth birthday. Eight little girls attended, there was a swimming party, and hamburgers with birthday cake were served in the back yard.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Information concerning the conservation reserve program will be mailed to all farmers in the county soon by the local ASC office.

The average rate for Schleicher county will be $9.00 per acre with some variation between farms based on land classification and other factors. Any one considering entering the conservation reserve for 1959 should file a request for establishment of maximum payment rates for their farm. This does not place the operator under any obligation.

Placing additional land in the conservation reserve will not change the annual payment rate of land already under contract even though the old contract is extended to expire at the same time as the new one.

The percentage of cost-sharing for construction work and seeding will be from fifty to seventy percent for contracts beginning in 1959.

The tentative final dates for requesting farm classification is September 17, 1958, and for applying for contract October 17th.

Contracts will be accepted on a priority-bid basis. Further information about this should be available by September 1st.

John McGregor and Ferris Nixon have brought more honors to the county.

John and Ferris were selected to represent this county in a range school held at the A&M Adjunct July 11-16, sponsored by the American Range Society. The American Range Society is interested primarily in the advance of range conservation work in all phases of America life. Thirty-five of the top boys of the state were selected to attend this camp.

John and Ferris both were selected in the top ten boys of the camp, each receiving a belt, billfold and certificate of merit. These honors were received after each boy's proficiency was tested in grasses, keeping and properly indexing his herbitorium, note books, examinations, field trips and other phases of range management. Trips were made to the Rogers Landers ranch in Menard county, the Victor Marschall ranch in Kimble county and the Range experiment station in Sonora.

Afterward an hour's recreation was devoted to swimming, basketball and volley ball; this being highlighted by "range Olympics" in which material the boys were studying comprised the equipment.

There will be several new varieties of crop seed available to producers in 1959 for the first time. Only those most suitable to the soil and growing conditions of our county will be mentioned.

Some new oat strains will go into the increased program next year, but it is doubtful that sufficient seed will be available before planting time in 1959.

Perennial sweet sudan has had a change of name to perennial sweet sorggrass. There should be sufficient quantities of certified seed of perennial sweet sorggrass to meet the demand in 1959.

A new blight-resistant variety of cotton, Acala 1517BR-1, was released this spring to certified seed growers in an area from Muleshoe to Fort Stockton. This variety yields about the same as 1517C under the same irrigated conditions and is resistant to bacterial blight. It comes up quickly and grows off fast. The variety looks like an outstanding blight resistant variety adapted to this area.

There will be plenty of seed for the new variety of watermelon, Bush Desert King, that grows on a bush instead of a vine, in 1959. Large quantities of seed will not be available through packet seed industry, but may be secured from certified seed dealers.

The harvest of grain sorghum should be at the peak this week. An exceptional crop is being made, especially on sorghum planted early. One more small rain the first of August could have increased the yield several hundred pounds. Many producers are combining sorghums that yield 2,000 pounds or more.

There is a possibility of some migration of leaf and boll worm millers, grasshoppers, and chinch bugs to irrigated farms.

Common sense is very uncommon. It is only used by the most successful.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bridgeman and girls of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Biggs Jr. and children of Hobbs, New Mexico, spent the week end in the home of Mrs. B. O. Bridgeman.

Glen Waldrop and family, brother of Mrs. B. F. Hartgraves, has been visiting in Eldorado the past week end. Their home is in Robert Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kent of Midland have been visiting in the homes of their mothers, Mrs. A. E. Kent and Mrs. Frank Spencer.

NOW

If you have hard work to do,
Do it now.
Today the skies are clear and blue,
Tomorrow clouds may come in view;
Yesterday is not for you;
Do it now.

If you have a song to sing,
Sing it now.
Let the notes of gladness ring,
Clear as song of birds in spring;
Let every day some music bring;
Sing it now.

If you have kind words to say,
Say them now.
Tomorrow may not come your way,
Do a kindness while you may,
Loved ones will not always stay;
Say them now.

If you have a smile to show,
Show it now.
Make hearts happy, roses grow,
Let your friends around you know
The love you have before they go;
Show it now.
