First District Game Is Scheduled With Robert Lee Here Tomorrow

With two losses and two victories under their belt, Coach Herdridge's scrappy Eldorado Eagles are ready for their first district game, when they take on the tough Robert Lee Steers here tomorrow night.

In their four non-district games, the Eagles have come up with two wins and two losses, but the nature of their competition would indicate that their season's average so far is better than fifty-fifty.

The Eagles held the powerful Sonora Broncos to one touchdown in the second game of the season, and last week gave up a hard-fought contest to Rankin by 6 to 0. In their other two games the Eagles beat Rocksprings 14-8 and Richland Springs 28-0.

Robert Lee, in the meantime, rolled up an impressive score of 38-0 against Melvin last Friday night.

Last year in a non-conference game Robert Lee defeated the Eagles 20 to 7. It is more than likely that fans will be treated to a powerful game here tomorrow night.

Dads' Night Tomorrow

Tomorrow night's game between the Eagles and Robert Lee has been designated as Dads' Night, at which the dads of players will be recognized in a special ceremony just before the opening of the game.

Lose To Rankin

Many Eldorado fans accompanied the Eagles to Rankin last Friday and saw them defeated by the agonizing score of 6-0. Rankin got their lone score in the second quarter.

Neighboring Scores

Football games among neighboring schools last Friday resulted in the following scores:
Robert Lee 38.....Melvin 0
Ozona 13.....Stanton 6
Menard 24.....Eden 14
Sabinal 8.....Junction 9
Ft. Stockton 44.....Big Lake 8
Ballinger 41.....Sonora 8
Trent 14.....Jim Ned 6

UNHAPPY COTTON FARMERS TRYING TO GATHER CROP

Rains that ran all the way from 2 to 5 inches fell over most of the county last week and again caused a delay in the gathering of the cotton crop.

Hundreds of Braceros and local Mexicans are poised and ready to get into the fields as soon as the mud dries enough between the rows to let them in.

At 4:00 p. m., yesterday the Mikeska Gin reported a total of 327 bales ginned up to that time. A week earlier the figure was 151, which would make the past week's production 176 bales.

SINCLAIR SOCIAL

Sinclair production employees, along with their families and friends enjoyed a get-acquainted social at the Memorial building Saturday afternoon, Sept. 26. Among those present were the foremen Ted Hoss and Charlie Neal and about sixty others.

Cake, ice cream and drinks were served.

SUNDAY SINGING

First Sunday singing will be held in Eldorado at the Memorial building from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday. Everyone cordially invited.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK — OCTOBER 12-18

Oil Progress Week is being this year from October 12 to 18. An essay contest is being conducted in the high school with the Lions

Mayor's Proclamation For Oil Progress Week

Whereas the U. S. oil industry stands on the threshold of completing a century of service to the American people, and

Whereas its first 99 years exemplify steadfast adherence to the basic principles of our democracy: liberty of the individual, equality of opportunity, and freedom of competitive enterprise, and

Whereas its pioneering spirit has contributed to the prosperity of the people and the security of the nation, and

Whereas the men and women of oil are anticipating the economic and social challenges that they must meet in order to endow our children and our children's children with an even better way of life, and

Whereas the week of October 12 to 18, inclusive, has been designated as Oil Progress Week, a period during which the million and three-quarters oil men and women will give firsthand reports to their fellow townspeople on their progress, and hopes for the future,

Now, therefore, I, Rance McDonald do hereby proclaim the week of October 12-18 inclusive, as Eldorado Oil Progress Week, and do commend to the attention of the citizens of our community, the many and varied contributions of oilmen and oil companies to our increasingly higher standards of living, to the protection of our nation in these times of international tension, and to the enrichment of our future.

Air Strip, Pool Area, Now Black-Topped

Tax Payments Start Local Tax Offices

Tax payments got under way yesterday, October 1st in the three tax collecting offices in Eldorado — the school district, the city and the county.

In the Sheriff's office County Judge W. R. Bearce purchased the first two poll taxes, for himself and Mrs. Bearce.

Jud Brannan was the first to pay his state and county taxes. Poll tax payments for the coming year are also being taken.

Many people have the mistaken idea that failure to pay a poll tax exempts them from jury duty for that year, but this is wrong, officials emphasized. Residents of the county who are otherwise qualified, may be summoned for jury duty even though they do not pay their poll tax.

Deadline for paying of poll taxes is next January 31st.

All Set To Start PTA Adult Ed. Course Monday

Courses in Spanish, typing, business math, and parent education are to be featured in the adult education course which will be launched Monday night. The local Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring the courses which will be free, except for materials used in some subjects.

Each group will meet for two hours from 7:00 until 9:00 o'clock. The adult education courses have attracted much interest in the past, and a good crowd is expected at the organizational meetings on Monday night.

Urban Renewal Approved By Eldorado City Voters

By a resounding vote of 103 to 6, City of Eldorado voters approved the adoption of the Urban Renewal program, in an election held here Tuesday.

Preliminary steps are being taken toward the setting up of a workable program adapted to the needs of the town. The Urban Renewal Program calls for the appointing of a nine-man commission which will ascertain the needs and set up a master plan for the community.

It is expected that the question of the nine-man commission will come up at the regular meeting of the City Council on October 14th.

Funds for operating the Urban Renewal Program are provided by Congress through the Federal Housing Authority, on the basis of grants matching $2 for every $1 spent by the city, county, school or state governing agency within the city itself for improvements.

Most cities, large or small, which adopt the Urban Renewal Program, use the funds to develop parks, streets, water and sewer systems, and in some cases to remove deteriorated buildings and other structures to enhance the beauty of the community.

Building codes are adopted to prevent the recurrence of slum conditions, and the community is zoned for commercial and residential purposes.

Post Script

While the paving equipment has been here, George Humphrey took advantage of it and hired Reece Albert to do a black-topping job on the parking area around the Ford premises.

It makes a nice improvement and it might be an idea for others whose parking area needs surfacing.

TO GET ON JOB IN OCTOBER

San Angelo Firm Gets Schleicher Co. Road Job

Late last week the State Highway Department confirmed that contract for 11 miles of new Schleicher County highway had been awarded to Strain Brothers, Inc., of San Angelo.

The Angelo firm submitted the low bid of $490,962.83 on the project, which includes grading, structures, flexible base and two-course surface treatment from Eldorado on south to the Sutton county line, a distance of over 11 miles. According to District Highway Engineer J. A. Snell of San Angelo, it is expected to take 280 working days to complete the job.

In a phone call Monday to the office of Strain Bros., this newspaper was assured that dirt would be moving on this job before the end of October.

R. A. McCulloch, resident highway engineer at Sonora, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Deal Closed For Location For New Texaco Station

A deal that has been pending for some time, was closed this week when title was approved, and J. D. Burk of San Angelo became the owner of a 200-foot lot out of a McCartney block for $10,600.00.

The lots lie just south of Mund's Gulf Station and include land from which the old McCartney residence was recently removed.

It is understood that Mr. Burk has a contract calling for the construction of a new modern service station which will be leased to the Texaco Company. Mr. Burk reports that construction will be under way in a short time.

Another Project Ready To Go

About three months ago G. T. Trussler of San Angelo confirmed that he had purchased for $3,000.00 a lot across the street from the Java Junction cafe. The land was bought from the Gene Parker estate and the deal was made through W. T. Mills of Big Lake.

Mr. Trussler reported that he bought the lot as a location for a new modern Cactus Oil station. He has since reported that he will start construction just as soon as the highway work starts.

Other deals are pending and some are under way on the new highway route leading out of town to the south. Paul Haley, Delbert Taylor & T. Dempsey already have business establishments under construction. Lum Davis finds himself with several attractive locations, after the new highway split his field in two, and some major developments can be expected there.

Legion Meets Tonight

WAGLEY MOTORS SHOWING OLDSMOBILES HERE TOMORROW

Oldsmobile's distinctively styled and attractively different Dynamic '88' Holiday Sport Sedan for 1959 represents "family-sized" transportation luxury in sports car design. The thin roofline and rakish wrap-around rear window serve to accentuate the mobile appearance of Oldsmobile's "Linear Look" for 1959. Sweeping full-length along the body, the sculptured twin booms give the car a look of mobility even when parked. They also highlight Oldsmobile's unique two-tone styling for 1959. Recessed in the smart grille, the four-beam headlamps are located closer-to-the-road for improved nighttime visibility. The Sport Sedan body style also is available in the "98" and Super "88" series. Increased interior roominess is a feature of all 1959 Oldsmobiles.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

John McGregor and Farris Nixon will have charge of the program at the annual Soil Conservation supervisors election Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 2:30 p. m. at the Trickham pasture, J. F. Runge ranch, when Zone 5 will elect a soil conservation supervisor.

John and Farris attended the Annual Range School conducted by the Texas section of the American Society of Range Management held at Junction in August of this year. Only the top 35 boys in range and pasture studies of Texas are considered for this school.

The boys were shown how to conduct demonstration on range judging, water penetration under different vegetation covers, the proper amount of grass to graze, the amount of forage produced per acre, and the stocking rate for the particular area, and a comparison of deferred and continuous year long grazing. They were also shown how to make displays about different management practices. For their local areas and range management for each vegetative area of the state.

There were 25 range management specialists, research technicians, county agents and ranchers who had a part in this well rounded program. Farris and John were shown that livestock selection and range management had to be worked together as a ranch plan for best results and one without the other would not give the greatest income per ranch.

John and Farris were rated two of the top ten boys of the camp, turning in outstanding notebooks and herbarium, participating in all camp activities and showing much enthusiasm about range management. Outstanding leadership was demonstrated by both boys in the field of range management. For their efforts each was presented with a certificate of recognition, a nice billfold and a hand tooled belt.

The above information was taken from a letter of the youth committee, of The American Society of Range Management, addressed to Schleicher County 4-H club.

Land owners of zone 5 are encouraged to vote and take part in the fine program offered by these youths.

In case you have a rabid animal to bite a human being, the thing to do is to kill the animal without injuring the head. Cut the head off and seal in the smallest container possible, air tight by soldering. Place this can inside a larger one, pack with ice, and start for Austin.

In case the animal has bitten another animal or animals, kill the varment, place head in small container; seal air tight. Place small container in larger container and seal large container. In this case mail head to State Health Department, Rabies Control Unit, Austin, Texas.

Animals bitten should be placed in confinement. People bitten should see their local doctor immediately. Remember, in most cases there is enough time for the head of the animal to be diagnosed, either positive or negative, before rabies shots are started.

Efficient and profitable cotton production doesn't "just happen." It is the result of good management. Involved are such items as good land, a good seed bed, proper planting and spacing of a good variety, control of weeds, insect and diseases, good moisture management, and proper use of fertilizers.

With good management practices exhibited by cotton producers of the county, the rainfall received—causing cotton to slow in opening, the last step—the application of a good defoliant, will be used by irrigated farmers as soon as skies are clear.

Remember, there is no outward treatment for an inward condition.

Ranges are making rapid recovery. Cover will be over approximately 75-80% of all range land in the form of grass, provided a late frost is registered. Nature provides both protection and competition for the most valuable crop produced in the county: grass. In the spring of this year, we saw mostly annual weeds but not too much grass. Grass at this time was making repair of the root system and seedlings coming up—being protected by a cover of weeds. Rains continued. Now grass is taking over spreading and seeding rapidly. Next spring there will be weeds but not to the extent you saw in 1953. Grass is the hardier plant.

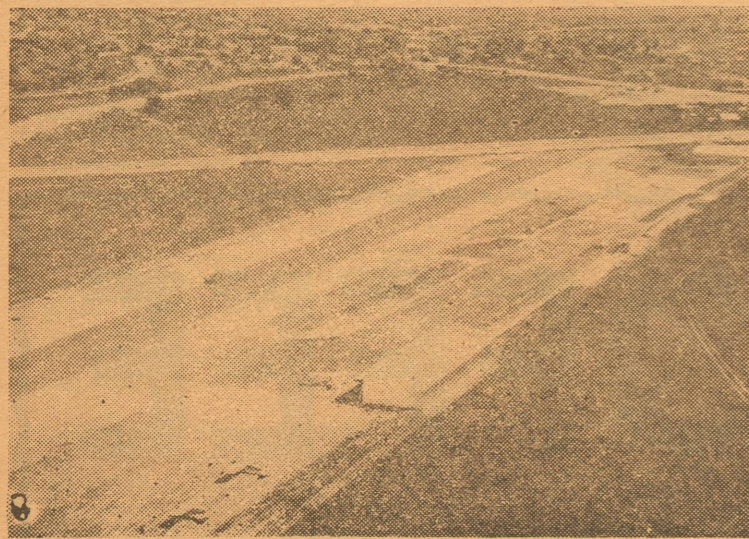

Ecologists call this plant succession. Plant succession takes place with overgrazed pastures, drouthy areas—downward—when vegetation is not balanced with proper grazing; poorer plants. When proper grazing; poorer plants. When proper grazing with rainfall is practiced in the same areas—upward—the better grasses, herbs and perennial weeds are predominant with high nutritive value.

Yes, it was intended that nature and man, through sound management, work together.

If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony of it is that if it is comfort or money that it values more, it will lose that too.

Airshow, Stunts, Barbecue To Highlight Sonora Airport Dedication October 12

All of Texas is invited to the official opening and dedication of the community airport in Sonora, Texas, on Sunday, October 12. This occasion will mark completion of the project constructed without governmental participation.

Almost everyone in this West Texas community has played a part in the construction of the 3,900-foot paved runway equipped with tie-down areas, office building, UNICOM, weather instruments, wind Tee, fuel service, and automatically controlled runway lights. Individuals and city and county officials combined their efforts to buy the location, raise funds, and furnish the labor and equipment necessary to complete the landing strip which has been described as the best small town field in the state.

Donations by private persons and business firms have ranged from a case of cokes from an interested teen-ager to the use of several thousand dollars worth of men and heavy construction equipment from a local contractor. The city and county governments have provided funds for purchasing the site which was offered at an extremely low price by a local ranchman, and equipment for actual construction.

The strip, which lies partly within the city limits, has been in operation since last October when city, county, and privately owned road construction machinery cleared, leveled and smoothed the site in less than two weeks to have it in use for Oil Progress Week.

Now Sonora and Sutton County invite all Texas to join them in celebrating the dedication of their unique accomplishment. Barbecue lunch will be served and exhibits, demonstrations and an air show will furnish entertainment.

VISITORS WELCOME

Our new cotton gin is now operating every day, weather permitting, and the public is cordially invited to visit and watch the plant in operation.

We respectfully ask that you remain back away from moving machinery and that children be accompanied by their parents.

It has been our purpose to provide Schleicher County with the best in modern ginning equipment and we believe that you will agree that we have succeeded.

Laying Hens Were Busy During July

College Station.—Rate of egg production per layer during July was 17.5 eggs, a record high for the month, reports Marshall Miller extension poultry marketing specialist. This compares with 17.5 eggs in July of 1957. The rate of lay on August 1 was 54.9 eggs per 100 layers, compared to 53.3 eggs on August 1 of last year.

The number of pullets in the U. S. not of laying age on August 1 was estimated at about 181 million—a nine percent increase over August 1, 1957, says Miller. The south central states, in which Texas is included, were up 12 percent from a year ago.

According to the Agricultural Marketing Service Crop Production report for August, 1958, Texas had 11,612,000 layers during July as compared to 11,780,000 during the same month in 1957. Eggs produced per 100 layers in July was 1621 compared to 1547 in July of 1957.

Beef Cattle Like Their Shade

College Station.—Research work in California has indicated that additional cattle gains may be obtained by the use of shade, reports U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman.

He points out that the work at the University of California dealt entirely with feedlot cattle but certainly has some application to cattle on pastures and ranges.

It was found that when body temperature rises—usually at an air temperature of 75 to 80 degrees for European breeds and 95 for Indian breeds—animals lost appetite and reduce feed intake. Naturally gains are affected.

One of the best shade materials studied was "brush arbors" says Thompson. Shades made from hay or brush break direct sun rays and allow direct air circulation.

For best results shades should be 16 to 20 feet wide, 10 to 12 feet high and whatever length is necessary to provide for the number of animals to use it, advises the husbandman. Their work indicated that sixty square feet per head is usually required in the feed lot.

The ELDORADO SUCCESS

Fort Worth — Figures just released this week by the USDA reveal that in 1956, cattle and calves put $424,325,000 in Texas stockmen's pockets. In 1957 the total was $426,298,000.

With cattle and calf prices at Fort Worth this week ranging from $3 to $4.83 to $4 up on fed steers and yearlings compared with a year ago, and other classes up even more, the results of 1958 indicate cattle and calves were a best bet for Texans.

Just a year ago this week, fat cows at Fort Worth sold for $13 to $15.50 and canners and cutters drew $8 to $13.50. Cows Monday sold for $13 to $22 here. Fat calves topped at $20, compared to $28 top today. Stocker calves at $24 on lights and $23 on heavies one year ago compare with $34 down today. The ten dollar rise in stocker calf prices is echoed in yearling rates. One year ago fancy yearlings drew $21.50 and that's or more shy of this year. Feeder cattle at $18 to $19 a year ago, compare with $26 feeders and down today. A few stocker cows sold from $10 to $15 last year at this time, comparable cows today would bring $18 to $25.

A climax for the good fall season in cattle prices will take place at Fort Worth October 16-17 when a special two-day stocker and feeder sale for all breeds of cattle will be held. The sale and show will be sponsored by the Market Institute.

Coming at a time when demand for stockers in the Southwest has seldom been greater, the sale offers stockmen in the Southwest an excellent opportunity to get set for winter.

In view of the higher prices for cattle and calves in 1958, farm income from that source should go far above the $500,000,000 mark this year.

Incidentally, one year ago this week top hogs closed at $19. Sows sold at $18 down a year ago. Fat lambs closed at $22 a year ago this week. Shorn lambs $21.50 down. Feeder lambs sold from $22 down.

The delayed action break in swine prices which featured the close of livestock trade at northern centers last week struck at Fort Worth Monday. After considerable delay in getting trading started, during which it was well past midmorning before any movement toward the scales started, salesmen were forced to yield.

At the close butcher hogs and packing sows were 50 cents to mostly $1 per hundred lower. Shippers took about a deck of choice hogs at $21 and the other choice hogs sold at $20.75. Medium to good butchers cashed at $19 to $20.50. Sows sold from $19 to $20.

Jr. Fire Marshals To Be Made Eligible Here

National Fire Prevention Week October 5-11 will mark the start of a year-long program of local Junior Fire Marshal activities in Eldorado, Ed Meador and Tom Ratliff, local insurance agents announce today.

Theme of the 1958 fall campaign for elementary grade school children in behalf of fire safety education will be "Fire Prevention Around the World," according to Mr. Meador. His agency sponsors the Junior Fire Marshal program here in cooperation with elementary schools and the Fire Department under Chief Palmer West.

"The Junior Fire Marshal program is of particular significance this year," Meador and Ratliff pointed out. "Last year, fire losses in the U. S. passed the $1-billion mark for the first time in our nation's history. For the first six months of 1958, property loss from fire is running about six per cent above that for a similar period last year."

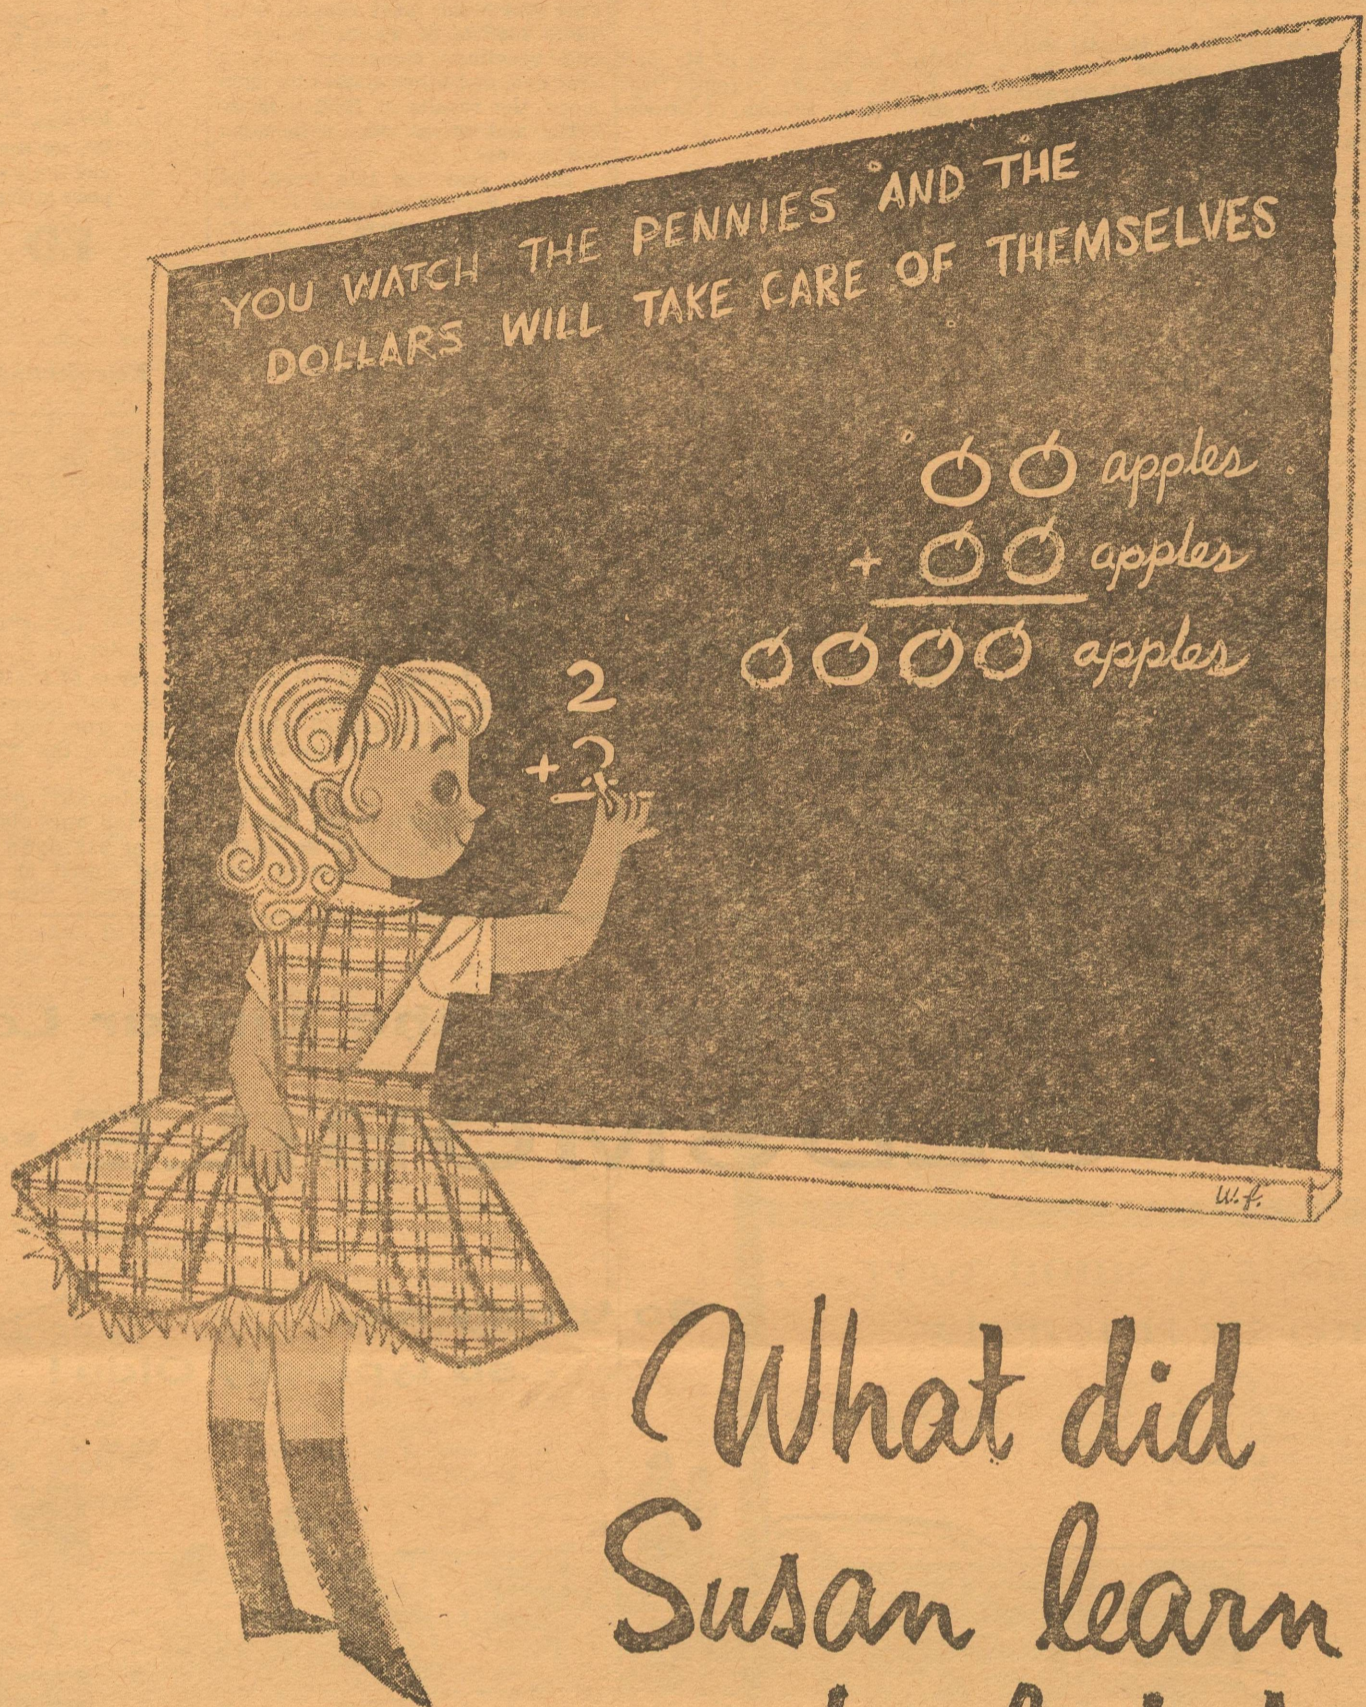

Sponsored nationally for the past 11 years by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company as a public service, the Junior Fire Marshal program this year will enroll more than four million children in the 49 states, Canada, Hawaii and the Philippines. To date some 24 million youngsters have qualified as Junior Fire Marshals.

"While special emphasis will be given during the coming year to a study of fire problems of other nations," Meador said, "the fundamentals of fire safety in the home will continue to be the basic part of our program."

"In addition, this fall for the first time our educational material will stress the fire dangers in homemade rockets. Boys and girls will be trained to discourage rocket construction not only as potential fire hazards but also because of their threat to life and property. By mid-summer of this year 20 persons had been killed or permanently maimed from homemade rockets."

Traditionally, the Junior Fire Marshal Fire Prevention Week campaign centers around a home inspection report. The report, which appears in the fall issue of the Junior Fire Marshal magazine, will be distributed by the Ed Meador Agency to school children here.

To qualify as Junior Fire Marshals, pupils must complete a fire hazard check of their own homes, fill in the home report, have it signed by a parent, and turn it in to their school teacher. Boys and girls who complete their home reports will receive official Junior Fire Marshal signet rings, and red plastic fire helmets.

Ordination Sunday For First Full-Time Minister Of Hope Lutheran

Candidate William Mitschke of Houston, Texas, is to be installed and ordained in the 7:00 p.m. worship service of Hope Lutheran church this Sunday in St. John Episcopal church, Sonora.

The Rev. Dr. Oliver R. Harms, pastor of Mr. Mitschke's home congregation, Trinity Lutheran church, Houston, will preach the sermon and perform the Rite of Ordination and Installation. Dr. Harms also serves as one of the vice-presidents of the two-million-member Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod. From 1926-1928 he served as pastor of Trinity Lutheran church at Eden, the congregation which was very instrumental in seeing the Hope Lutheran church organized and begun. Other pastors who will participate in this special service are: Luther Roehrs of Eden who began the congregation, Virgil Schuelein of Brady, and Arthur Pape of Eola.

Candidate William Mitschke graduated from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri, this past summer, where he completed the necessary education to enter the ministry of the Lutheran church. Mr. Mitschke was born in Houston April 16, 1933. In the spring of 1953 he graduated from Concordia College in Austin, and the fall of that year he entered the seminary. In June of 1955 he received his B. A. degree from the seminary.

While at Austin, Mr. Mitschke won varsity letters for his participation in football, basketball and tennis. At the seminary in St. Louis, Mitschke confined his varsity activity to tennis. However, during his second year of resident work at St. Louis, he was the recipient of the Buchheimer Award, which is awarded annually to the manager of the winning intramural team.

On September 20 of this year, Mr. Mitschke was joined in holy wedlock to Miss Joan Paffrath of Elizabeth, New Jersey, in that city. Mrs. Mitschke attended Concordia College in Bronxville, N. Y. These two met while Candidate Mitschke vicaried at St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Elizabeth in 1956 and

WILLIAM MITSCHKE

An older brother, Herman, is a pastor and is presently serving a congregation in San Diego, California. Two older sisters make their home in Houston.

Immediately after the rite of installation, Mr. Mitschke will assume the full duties as pastor of Hope Lutheran church and become its first full-time pastor. The public is invited to attend this service at 7:00 p.m., Sunday, October 5, at St. John Episcopal church in Sonora.

Soil And Water Loans Offered To Farm Owners

The Farmers Home Administration has a loan program to help eligible farmers carry out needed soil and water conservation measures which will raise the values of their farms and increase their incomes, reports Frank M. Barnett, county supervisor, and added that the practices most needed and most likely to be carried on through the agency's loans in this area include pasture improvement, drilling wells, developing farmstead water facilities, terracing and irrigation.

The making of soil and water conservation loans to farmers who are eligible is one of the functions of the agency's office, headquarters of which is the Cactus Hotel building, San Angelo. Local office day is held in Eldorado in the courthouse each Wednesday of the week. Each county has a 3-member county committee, and one of its duties is to determine whether or not an applicant is eligible for a loan. To be eligible, the applicant must be a farm owner or operator, with necessary experience, whose credit requirements for soil and water conservation improvements cannot be supplied through private or co-operative sources.

The agency has completed approximately four years of making soil and water conservation loans under the present program, Mr. Barnett said. During that time approximately 7,250 individual farm families throughout the nation, plus 141 associations serving approximately 5,200 families, have borrowed $43,100,000. About 80% of this total helped farmers develop farm water and irrigation systems. This included buying pumps, motors and piping, drilling wells, and constructing and repairing irrigation ditches and laterals. Farmers used the rest of the loan funds to develop livestock and household water systems and for soil conservation practices such as terracing, improved pastures, and drainage, clearing, and tree planting.

For the present fiscal year, Congress made $5,500,000 available for direct soil and water conservation loans. This is in addition to a larger amount which local banks or other private lenders may advance for this type of loan, with repayment in full insured by the Farmers Home Administration.

Local banks and other private lenders are increasing their stake in the Farmers Home Administration's program of long-term loans to qualified farmers to buy or improve family-type farms as well as to establish good soil and water conservation practices, said Mr. Barnett.

His agency is authorized to insure farm real estate loans that are made from funds advanced by banks, insurance companies, or other institutions having money to invest. Since the recent change in the money market, activity by investors has greatly increased. During the past 6 months, the national monthly volume of new insured loan business has risen from approximately $1,250,000 to $5,000,000 a month. The full guarantee and the money market change have put many local banks in position to contribute to a stronger local agriculture by helping farmers otherwise unable to buy or improve their farms, Mr. Barnett said.

Mrs. Kenneth Cheek was in San Antonio, visiting relatives the past week.
