Eagles Drop District Opener To Robert Lee 18 to 14

The Robert Lee Steers came back with 18 points in the second half last Friday night to beat the Eldorado Eagles 18 to 14 in the first district contest of the season. The Eagles completely dominated the first half, but only managed to get one score. The first time Eldorado had the ball, they moved 49 yards in 8 plays to score. Demetrio Bellman carried over from the 3 yard line. Dan Mittel ran over the extra point to make it 8-0.

In the 3rd quarter, a short punt gave Robert the ball on Eldorado's 25 yard line. Two roughing penalties gave Robert Lee the ball on the Eldorado 1 yard line. John Walker plunged for the touchdown. The point after attempt failed.

Early in the fourth quarter Melvin Duncan broke through from the Robert Lee 8 yd line to the Eldorado 35. The next play, Freddie McDonald was trapped 10 yds behind the line of scrimmage and reversed his field to go to the Eldorado eight. The following down, Jerry Tinkler passed to Paul Tinkler for the touchdown. Later in the fourth, McDonald broke loose from his own 35 to go all the way and make the score 18-8.

After the next kick-off Farris Nixon passed to Robbye Waldron on a play that covered 56 yards and provided Eldorado's second touchdown. The point after failed and the score was 18-14. The game ended with the Eagles trying desperately to score.

Federal Land Bank To Lend More On Properties

According to A. E. Prugal, secretary-treasurer of the Sonora National Farm Loan Association, the Federal Land Bank has adjusted its loan values upward and is now in a position to lend more on most properties. This added value is important to persons buying land and those who use long term credit on their farms and ranches.

The National Farm Loan Association of Sonora has approximately $5 million in loans in Crockett, Schleicher and Sutton counties.

The directors of this farmer-rancher owned corporation are Frank Bond, president, Sonora; P. T. Robison, vice president, Ozona; Chas. E. Davidson Jr., Ozona; B. E. Moore and James Williams, Eldorado.

Completes 25 Years With The Ohio Oil Company

W. H. (Buster) HALE

Receiving service award recently for 25 years of service with the Ohio Oil Company was W. H. Hale, who is chief clerk of the Eldorado district of the company.

Mr. Hale came to Eldorado when Ohio established their office here in March of 1951. The family moved to Eldorado in July of the same year after close of the school year in Iraan.

Starting with The Ohio in Tulsa, Oklahoma Division in 1933, Mr. Hale was transferred to Iraan in 1936.

The Hales have two sons, Billy Sam, a student at Texas Tech, and Michael, who is in the Eldorado grade school. Mrs. Hale is employed as school nurse in Eldorado, and also served as school and county nurse of Pecos county before coming to Eldorado.

The Hales live in a house they built a few years ago at 213 West Avenue, in the West addition of Eldorado. They are members of the Methodist church, and Mr. Hale is a former member of the Eldorado city council.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gunn were visitors in San Marcos the past week end where they visited their son Bobo and family.

Judge Joe L. Mays summoned the grand jury to consider the charges against the pair, then later heard their charges of guilty.

The pair were apprehended several days after the robbery.

New Co-Op Building Is Coming Along Nicely

Cotton Harvest Moving Faster While Sun Shines

With an absence of showers, the harvest of the Schleicher county cotton crop has gradually picked up momentum this week.

About 300 bales were ginned here from Wednesday of last week up to Wednesday of this week.

At 10:00 a. m., yesterday the gin yard was full of cotton trailers and the plant was running steadily. The season total at that hour was 612, compared to 327 last Wednesday. When everything is running under favorable conditions and with picked cotton, the gin can turn out about 5 bales in an hour's time. The cotton coming in now is about half picked cotton and the other half pulled.

Henry Moore, who has the largest number of braceros (100) reports that they have been picking about 15 bales a day, after getting a late start each morning. If the sun would stay out and the fields dry out good, his crew could gather 20 bales a day, Mr. Moore believed.

A report by Cecil Williams yesterday may be characteristic of many of the dry-land cotton farmers. He said that he had lots of good cotton open, but had only gathered eight bales ... was having trouble finding hands.

Most cotton men report that the grade of the present crop had not been damaged by the recent wet spell. That's the report as of yesterday

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Henderson spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. Allen Kuykendall. They were en route to his new station with the Air Force at Laredo.

I guess that I've been asked more often about the American exhibit at the worlds fair of Brussels than any other thing concerning our trip this last summer. "I've read so many controversial things concerning it, I can't seem to get a picture of the thing," has been said by a dozen or so people.

It is with regret that I must say that there was more than enough reason to start all the furor and that our exhibit was, to put it very mildly, disappointing. Now the exhibit only was a disappointment. The pavilion, as the building is called, is another story. The building was beautiful, exciting, exquisite, delicate, imaginative and placed to a wonderful advantage. The over powering and ponderous size of the Russian building, located next to ours only made the United States' look better.

But the exhibit could have and certainly should have, looked better. There was no coordination. The American way of life, as it was shown, left many foreign visitors as puzzled as they could be. I felt absolutely mute and helpless as I would watch a couple, man and his wife, from another land, try to figure something out. I couldn't explain anything to them—I couldn't even apologize for the confusion. For example: four power lawn mowers were shown. One exactly like the most of us use as casually as we do our cars. And how do you guess these mowers were displayed? On artificial grass in front of a picture of a lawn? No! An area had been covered with big, smooth rocks, about the size of grape fruit, and on the rocks were placed the lawn mowers! I'll have to admit that they did look a little like what the people thought they were—little rock crushers.

Then there was the case of the tumbleweeds. I guess that if there is one thing that everybody in paid Elmer F. Smith $75 for damages in full, to cotton, on rebuilding Highway 277.

Commissioners Court Holds Two Meetings

authorized travel expenses for sheriff or deputy to attend the Fingerprint School in Austin.

At their Oct. 1 meeting, the court:

moved to require a $5 deposit on any keys to the Memorial Building taken from the judge's office.

ordered an auditor employed to audit Schleicher county records for years 1956, 1957, and 1958.

Lions To Sponsor Girl Scouts; Plan Combined Finance Drive

PTA Scholarship Still Available

PTA President Mrs. M. H. Woodward reported this week that Keyes Robledo, the 1958 senior who received the PTA scholarship, did not accept it because he is not attending school this year.

This makes the scholarship available to someone else and any 1958 senior who is interested in it should write to Mrs. Woodward.

The scholarship is $200 given by the PTA to a graduate of the Eldorado school who is planning to be a teacher. Anyone who is interested in being considered for this award should write immediately as it will be made at the Oct. 21st meeting of the PTA.

Carroll Ratliff To Head RIAL Campaign

CARROLL RATLIFF

This year's Religion In American Life campaign here in Schleicher county is to be headed by Carroll Ratliff. Church attendance will be stressed in a special drive to be held during November.

Last year's campaign under direction of Edwin Jackson was considered a success by the Ministerial Alliance, and was the first RIAL campaign ever put on here.

Further plans in regard to this year's RIAL campaign are to be announced later.

At their meeting yesterday, members of the Eldorado Lions club voted to sponsor the local Girl Scout unit, and to combine the fund drives for the Girl Scout and Boy Scout organizations later on this month. The club voted on the recommendations of a special committee which was appointed last week.

During virtually all its 30 years of organization, the Eldorado Lions club has sponsored the Boy Scout troop, and more recently the Cub Scout pack. Official sponsorship of the Girl Scouts is still another step.

Joe M. Christian, who was appointed general chairman of the Boy Scout Council fund drive recently, reported this week that plans will continue to be made to hold the drive on October 21st, although now the drive will be for both the Girl Scout and Boy Scout organizations. It is expected that many of the Girl Scout workers will help with this year's drive.

Mr. Christian and his captains, along with any others interested in helping with the combined fund drive, are to meet next Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 in the Banquet room of the Memorial building to work out further plans.

Mrs. Kreklow, County H.D. Agent, Discusses American Exhibit Upon Her Return From The 1958 World's Fair At Brussels

Schleicher county is completely agreed upon, it is the opinion we have of the tumbleweed. Very near the main entrance of the American pavilion was a box containing 3 small tumble weeds. At least small by our standards. They were a little bigger than a great big pumpkin. Anyway, there they were. I was so surprised that I don't remember exactly what the nature of the box was—but I do remember that the weeds needed straightening out, they were bunched up in one corner, and I reached in the box and disentangled them. The card said in 4 languages that they were becoming a menace to the great Southwest. And Joe and I said they sure were.

From the tumble weed box we went to the potato stand. A stand such as a drug store might use as a display case for fountain pens was made out of clear, heavy lucite. The whole area was completely enclosed. A tray like affair was covered with blue velvet and on the velvet rested three slightly shriveled Irish potatoes. They were not especially big and as far as I could see, the only thing unusual about them was that they were getting too old to eat. I found a guide from the University of Texas and told him to see that those potatoes were changed the first thing the next morning. He said that he had his own troubles. It seems that the American food served in the pavilion is far from good and he has to keep on explaining to foreigners that a real good American pancake doesn't have to be cut with a knife, as a steak has to be. But the ones there do.

In the show of the typical American kitchen I began to realize that for the first time in my life I was losing international face. We had told Winfried Adolph, a 23-year-old student of the University of Berlin, that we would show him the American pavilion and tell him all about America. After all, it was going to be a fair swap because for about four weeks Winfried had driven us over several countries of Europe and told us about his native land, Germany. When he looked at the sink that had a dishwasher on each side, he asked with a great deal of malicious mischief, I thought, "Mrs. Kreklow, why must American have two of everything?" I told him that we didn't have two of everything, that most of us had barely one of anything. By that time I was getting a little stirred up about the way this once proud tour was going.

Finally someone had a bright idea that we'd all go to the typically American drug store and have a real American hot dog—and made with weiners flown over from America especially for the purpose. Joe and I didn't have a hot dog; we had a cup of American coffee; instant and weak. The hot dog was equally as frustrating—the sausage was so highly spiced that it could have come from Italy or Poland or Mexico or anywhere. All the boys and girls working in the drug store were local, that is local over there. They stood and chatted with the customers while the stack of dirty dishes got higher and higher in the back. The counter was so completely disorganized that I shuddered to think what Eldon Calk would say if his ever was allowed to get in the same shape.

The people were curious about the voting machines but I saw 8 come out of one at one time and I'm sure that the whole thing was confusing. Joe took Winfried in a booth to show him how it worked and they found a sample ballot to be worked out. It had such choices to make as whether Marilyn Monroe or Bennie Goodman would be more fun at the fair and other similar subjects to be voted upon. As they left the booth I heard Winfried ask, "Why do you have such expensive machines to vote on such silly subjects?" And yet that young man was a very intelligent young man. He had studied English for 8 years in public school—could speak French, Italian besides his English and German and enough Dutch to get us around. He simply missed our point with our exhibit.

I think our trouble is that we are accustomed to the terrific jobs the commercial concerns do with their job of selling to the American public. If the state fair of Texas did no better job of presenting what the manufacturers have to show to Texans than was done for the world in Brussels, there couldn't be a fair very long. We are spoiled by the result of professionals, using all the money they need selling the American public on everything from soap to cereals. The American presentation in Brussels was a non-commercial enterprise. A little at the time, the exhibit was put together by dozens of people. And it looked it. My point is that there was no giant concern, backed by millions, at the head of the planning. And we missed it—the world missed it. We talked to everybody who could understand us about the American exhibition. To a person they were all disappointed. Some were sympathetic and said that they were disappointed in their exhibits too—but that was showing us a little kindness. The way I was most certain that the people were disappointed was to watch their faces as they trailed from spot to spot; they couldn't believe it and we couldn't either.

But we learned one lesson. We learned that America doesn't always have to be first with the best. Sputnik really was the first to call our attention to that fact. But it seems we have to re-learn every time.

Most Recent 'Wet' Election Was 10 Years Ago Today

The most recent attempt to vote beer into Schleicher county was culminated in an election which was held just 10 years ago today, on Saturday, October 9, 1948. The election was ordered by Schleicher County commissioners after they were presented with a petition signed by the required number of voters, calling for the election.

So decisively beaten was the proposal, 517 voting against and 145 for, that the issue has not come up again for voters' consideration at any time over the intervening 10 years.

The nearly 4 to 1 margin to keep Schleicher "dry" reaffirmed a tradition of many years standing.

Schleicher county was organized in 1901, and for a year or two after its organization there were saloons in Eldorado. Much later beer was also sold for a short time at Red Top, in the Vermont locality, until it was voted out and the business moved away.

Incidentally, in the election of 10 years ago, the "wet" forces carried only one of the county's nine voting boxes. The Tisdale box had 6 votes for and none against, but at all other boxes, the voting went heavily against the proposal.

Said the Success in its issue following the election: "With dries out in full force, and the wet forces so lethargic that few more voted than had signed the petition, the county remained legally so decidedly dry that another vote will probably not be called for years, according to opinion expressed by those interested in the election trends."

That prophecy has been borne out by the intervening years.

Other items of interest in the Success of 10 years ago included: Henry Mittel started the county's first irrigation project, the dial telephone system was being energized, the Presbyterians started building their 2-story Sunday School annex, and the roof was being put on the Memorial Building.

J. Forrest Runge was elected supervisor of Zone 5 of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District after a barbecue, short range tour and election on the Runge ranch 13 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Land owners and operators in Zone 5 who were not present missed a good barbecue, informative program, and being able to walk around in climax grasses.

Following the barbecue the group made a short tour in Runge's Trickham pasture and identified different range plants. This part of the program was conducted by Farris Nixon Jr. who is a member of the local 4-H club and FFA chapter. Farris attended the range camp of the Texas section of range management at Junction this past summer. During this plant identification tour the group saw little bluestem, cane bluestem, silver bluestem, sideoats grama, nealley grama, hairy grama, green sprangletop, tall and meadow dryseed, native legumes, and bush sunflower, all seeding out in abundance.

After the plant identification tour, John McGregor, who is also a member of the local 4-H club and FFA chapter, and attended the range camp at Junction this summer, explained a range plot which had been marked off. John pointed out the degree of utilization, kind of site, range condition, and recommended treatment for the plot. During the explanation quite a discussion was held with the entire group taking part. The group concluded that this pasture was in a good condition where 50 to 75% of all the vegetation is a mixture of highly palatable climax perennial plants. The group also noticed and mentioned the absence of undesirable annual weeds and grasses growing in the climax perennial plants in this pasture.

The election of Mr. Runge as supervisor of this zone means that he will represent the land owners

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth, Oct. 6—Cattle prices were uneven. Hogs showed the first strength in more than a week. Sheep and goats were steady at Fort Worth Monday.

Offerings of cattle and calves were near 10,000 below a week earlier around the major market circle. Hogs at 12 major markets were 16,000 below a week earlier. Sheep numbers were up 2,500 around the circuit.

Cattle and calves were slow. The receipts included a big percentage of mixed grade and classes and one factor in the slow movement early in the day was the extensive sorting that was necessary.

Fed heaves were scarce and about steady. Cows faced lower offers from slaughter interests from the opening gong and averaged 25 to mostly 50 cents lower by the time a clearance was completed. Bulls were steady.

Slaughter classes ruled steady. Stocker and feeder classes were unevenly fully steady to somewhat lower. There was very strong demand from farmers of the area on types suitable for winter pasture operations but buyers with northern connections were talking lower prices following the $1 lower close in the north late last week. High grade stockers were relatively scarce.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $24 to $28, the higher figure for some baby beef type heavy calves of light yearling weights. Medium and lower grades sold from $23.50 down.

Fat cows sold mostly from $18.50 to $22 and canners and cutters drew $14 to $19. Bulls sold from $18 to $22.75.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold mostly from $24 to $28, with a few heavies higher. Cull, common and medium calves sold from $16 to $24.

Good to choice stocker calves cashed at $29 to $33 and heifer calves ranged from $30 downward. Stocker steer yearlings sold from $31.50 downward, with heavier yearlings $27.50 downward. Stocker cows sold from $18 to $21.50. Some weighty feeder steers sold from $22 to $25.50.

Oil News

Pan American will drill the No. 2-A Christena Mittel one location east in the three-well south area of the Neva West (Strawn) field of Schleicher County, 13 miles north of Eldorado. Location, on a 160-acre lease, is 476 feet from the south and west lines of the north-west quarter of 76-TT-T&CRR. Scheduled depth is 6,800 feet.

Dual Gasser

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. No. 8-A Virgil J. Powell in 2-A-AB&M, Ellenburger failure 7/8-mile north east of the Tillery multipay gas and oil field, five miles northwest of Fort McKavett, has assured gas production from the Strawn sand and lime.

From the Strawn lime, it flowed gas at the daily rate of 1,315,000 cubic feet per day through a 25/64 inch choke and perforations between 4345-349 feet and 4374-379 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

From the Strawn sand, it flowed gas natural at the daily rate of 1,465,000 cubic feet thru a 25/64-inch choke and perforations between 4003-11 feet.

The project, recently rescheduled to 4,700 feet to test the Ellenburger, was drilled to 4,672 feet in barren Ellenburger and plugged back to 4,397 feet.

Asks Gas Exchange

El Paso Natural Gas Co., last week asked power commission authority to exchange natural gas in Texas with Pioneer Gathering System. El Paso wants to build field facilities estimated to cost $649,000.

The company said it has gas reserves in the Vinegarone field in Val Verde county and that Pioneer has reserves committed to it in the Sonora area of Sutton county.

Under the exchange proposal, Pioneer would deliver certain volumes of gas to El Paso in the Sonora area and El Paso would deliver to Pioneer similar volumes from its Vinegarone reserves.

El Paso said the exchange would make its reserves available without construction of major facilities, which in large part would duplicate cante those of Pioneer.

Eden Barbecue Re-Set for Oct. 11

Due to continued unsettled weather the Eden Lions Club Sixth Annual Barbecue and Carnival that was to have been held last Saturday evening was postponed early that morning and the date of Saturday, Oct. 11 was selected by the directors for the revised dating.

So rain or shine (that is if it doesn't rain too much), the big event will be held Saturday, Oct. 11, and everyone in the area is urged to be on hand to join in for an evening of fun and fellowship that always prevails at these annual events.—The Eden Echo.

C of C Suggested For Sonora

The organization of a long needed Chamber of Commerce for Sonora came a step nearer reality Tuesday as members of the Lions Club indicated their wholehearted interest in such an undertaking. It was suggested that the post of city manager, vacant for the past several years, and Chamber of Commerce manager might be combined, with the city and businessmen sharing in financing the combination.—Devils River News.

Million Dollar Cotton Loss

Heavy rains, varying from flood to drizzle, struck Pecos County cotton farmers a staggering blow and left area ranchers delighted with winter prospects during the past seven days.

Totalling 3.90 inches in the period, rain destroyed or damaged an estimated $1 million of the county's record cotton crop as it brought harvest operations to a standstill.

Cotton experts estimated Wednesday that about 5,000 bales would be lost, with some of it under water in the Girvin area.

"Some will never be harvested and the grade will be lowered on more," they said.

County ginnings had reached 9,000 bales as of last Friday, first day of the prolonged showers, and approximately 25,000 bales were open in the fields.—Ft. Stockton Pioneer.

Menard Hospital Has Rush

Menard hospital swung into full operation last weekend as a deluge of medical, surgical and maternity patients ended the relative quiet of the hospital's first week.

As many as 12 patients were in the hospital at one time, and the operating room had been in use every day until Wednesday.

Three babies have been delivered since Sunday night.

The sudden rush of patients prompted Commissioners Court on Tuesday to include part of the apartment at the south end of the fourth floor in the hospital. Early plans had called for keeping the space available for staff living quarters.—The Menard News.

Rooster Rides Rods

One day last week L. G. (Polo) Calzada, who does quite a bit of trucking in these parts, left Sanderson early on a run to Junction and arrived in Sheffield, some 80 miles from here, at day break. As he and a companion left the truck for coffee, they heard a rooster let up a good-morning crow. After looking about the truck Polo found his pet rooster perched on a two-inch bar on the tire rack underneath the trailer.

The rooster had ridden the 80 miles of fast driving and didn't lose his foothold. Polo took the bird in the cab for the balance of the trip.—Sanderson Times.

Eggs Are Top Food; A Good Buy Anytime

College Station.—Since the early caveman learned to eat the egg of the wild jungle fowl, the egg has been one of the most popular foods of mankind. No other food of animal origin, according to Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialist, is eaten and relished by so many people the world over or served in any greater variety of ways.

Eggs, points out Miller, supply proteins of the highest quality—proteins which contain all of the required amino acids or body building nutrients so essential to good health. Eggs also contain vitamins and minerals which are needed for a balanced diet. These include vitamins A, E, and K, and all B vitamins including vitamin B-12. They are second to fish liver oils as a natural source of vitamin D and are especially recognized as a rich source of unsaturated fats, iron, phosphorus, and trace materials.

During this month of "Eggtober," the egg is coming in for a lot of attention, but Miller reminds food shoppers that eggs are a top buy anytime when compared on a pound for pound basis with other protein foods.

The Night Circle of WMU of the First Baptist church met in the home of Louise Kuykendall Monday night. A program "Oh for a Thousand Tongues to Sing," was given. Refreshments were served to circle members and four visitors.

Sparky says:

If Fire Strikes Your Home...

GET OUT of the house the minute you discover it or smell smoke!

ALWAYS be ready to use different escape routes from any room in your house!

TEST doors before opening. If doors are hot, block them with furniture or wet mattresses to keep out smoke and gases. Get out another way!

NEVER jump from upper-story windows except as a last resort! Wait for firemen.

HOLD your breath if you have to make a dash through smoke and flame!

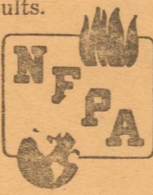

REMEMBER, the air is usually better near the floor in a smoke-filled room!

CALL the fire department at once! They know how to fight fire. Don't waste your time or your life trying to fight a fire, unless it's so small you're sure you can control it with the right extinguisher.

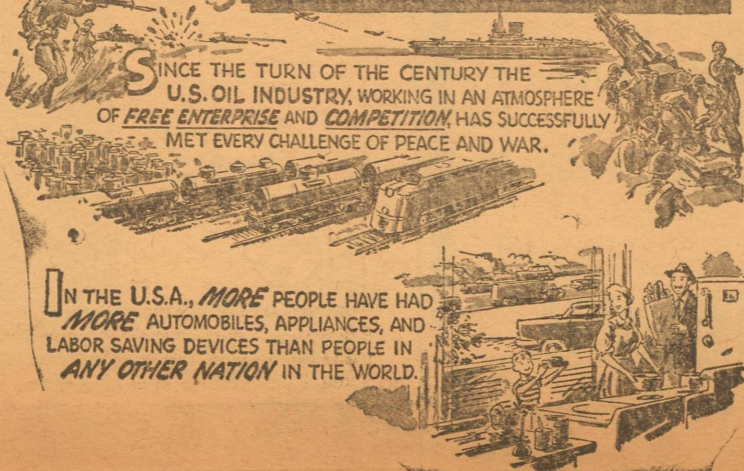

DON'T ever go back to a burning building for any reason! Smoke and fire gases from even the smallest fire can be deadly.

GET medical treatment at once, if you're burned or exposed to fire and smoke! Seemingly minor burns or smoke inhalation can have fatal results.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The effects of increased government spending and deficit financing will be one of the dominant influences in the nation's economy during coming months.

Federal expenditures for the 1959 fiscal year, ending June 30, 1959, are now estimated at $79.2 billion, the largest ever, during peacetime.

Compared with 1959, it is an increase of $7.3 billion, most of this being accounted for by these increases: National defense, $1.9 billion; agriculture, $1.9 billion; commerce and housing, $1.8 billion; labor and welfare, $1.0 billion.

Latest official estimates of revenue total $67 billion, a reduction of $7.4 billion from the January estimate. Anticipated sources of the revenue dollar:

Individual income taxes	46c
Corporation income taxes	21c
Borrowing	15c
Excise Taxes	11c
Custom & Other Receipts	07c

Increased spending and smaller revenues add up to a prospective $12.2 billion deficit. However, by comparison, total federal expenditures in 1939 were only $8.8 billion and 45% of the budget was debt-financed, compared to 15% of current expenditures.

Estimated expenditures of federal government in billions ending July 1, 1959:

National Security	46.8—59.1%
Interest	7.6—9.6%
Veterans	5.2—6.6%
Agriculture	6.4—8.1%
Labor & Welfare	4.3—5.4%
International	1.4—1.8%
Commerce & Housing	3.9—4.9%
General Government	1.7—2.1%

Natural Resources	1.7—2.1%
Allowance for contingencies	2—3
Totals	79.2—100%

Agriculture's share of this "expenditure" are loans which will ultimately be repaid. For instance, $4.9 billion in 1958 was repaid upon sale of products that are put on the market when cotton, oats, wheat, etc., reach 5% above parity price.

Then too, the school lunch program is charged to agriculture without any pay as your school lunch of turkey, chicken, beef and other items—no compensation—surplus but charged to agriculture.

Agriculture budget in millions: Soil Bank, programs 4,992—78.2% Ag. land & water 491—7.7% REA 376—5.9% Farm operation loans 235—3.7% Research & ag. services 279—4.4% Totals 6,373—100%

Tests conducted show that cattle treated with a systemic insecticide will gain from 1/10 to 1/4 pound more per day bringing on the market $1.23 to $6.42 more per head. This becomes a very important factor in a national effort to rid cattle of grubs. Then too, in the immediate future cattlemen may receive compensation from the packer of $1.00 per head on the cost of systemic insecticide treatment.

$155 million in hide damage, meat trim and loss of weight is what the cattle grub costs stockmen, annually.

Coral as a spray or trolene administered as a bolus (pill) by using a balling gun. Jess Koy, W. R. Bearce and Sam Henderson have used coral to control grubs and other insects.

A horse can't pull while kicking. This fact I merely mention and he can't kick while pulling, which is my chief contention. Let's imitate the good old horse and lead a life that's fitting; Just pull an honest load and then there'll be no time for kicking.

4-H and FFA boys have purchased and stored 125,000 pounds of grain sorghum, 600 bushels of oats, 600 bushels of barley, 200 bales of sudan hay, 200 bales of cane hay and a like amount of alfalfa hay.

We all know that the market on light lambs and calves is quite bullish. Lambs of the weight that the boys need are 24-26 cents per pound. In 90 to 110 days the sale of these lambs will bring 20-21 cents. Calves are playing on a like margin—which adds up to this—no profit in feeding from a feed lot basis.

True, boys feed livestock to learn and for the educational value—now days it is just as well to study markets and supplies and counsel with boys about livestock trends, as it is to go into a no-profit program at a tender age—promoting disillusion.

Then too, the stored feed will increase in price, so no loss is expected from the investment on feed.

Grain sorghum is the third largest crop in the U. S. in value, but is expected to cut heavily into the corn and wheat crop within the next few years.

Improved varieties, uses as a cereal and starch and other food products are in favor of grain sorghums. Grain sorghums can be grown with much less moisture and in a wider variety of soils than corn—corn the number one crop of the nation.

Within 4-5 years RS610 which outproduced 7078 maize 100 lbs per acre in the county, will be obsolete—cause there are other varieties being bred that will produce 40-50% more grain, that will be on the market as soon as seed can be grown and produced.

There is a reason for all things but many of us do not stop to reason.
