Welcome Rain Visits County Last Thursday

Large, black rain clouds began boiling in from all directions last Thursday evening, and at 8:00 p. m., just as the Little Leaguers were getting ready to play, the first shower hit Eldorado and sent everyone scurrying to their cars and home.

In a few minutes a full-scale, lashing rain was pouring down accompanied by a good deal of lightning. Included in the rain for a few minutes was a small amount of small hail stones, but not enough to cause damage. Rainfall continued until well into the night and by Friday morning rain gauges in town registered about 1.30 inches.

Most of the farmers agreed that it was "just what the doctor ordered," following as it did the May rains about two weeks ago and just when things were beginning to get dry again.

Milton Faught reported 2 inches of rain and some hail. He said that most of the May rains had missed his place and that things were getting pretty dry. Now he has a weed problem and a lot of hoeing to do and perhaps a small amount of re-planting.

Hail usually has a way of unloading itself on one place, and the farm this time was that of M. L. Potter. His crop was completely haled out and his fruit trees were stripped, but his house was spared from damage. Along with it all, the Potters got 2.60 inches of moisture, and are replanting their crop.

Fred Case reported 3.20 inches of rain and some hail; W. F. Edmiston, 3.70 inches and a little hail.

Examination Reveals No Further Clues On Mystery Skeleton

The sheriff's office in Eldorado has received a communication from the Identification and Criminal Records Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, regarding the skeleton found in this county last March.

As seen by the following letter, no new facts were added, to what will probably always remain a Schleicher county mystery.

Mr. Jack W. Jones
Sheriff's Office
Schleicher County
Eldorado, Texas

Dear Sir:
On April 12, 1961, you personally submitted skeletal remains found on the Howard Derrick Ranch for an examination to be made to determine identifying characteristics.

We have completed our examination and wish to report that the skeleton probably belonged to a white or Mexican male, approximately five feet and seven inches in height, and at the time of death approximately twenty-five years of age.

The teeth contained no fillings, and there were no bone peculiarities which might have served for identification.

Yours very truly,
Joel Tisdale, Chief

Individuals May Now Trap Deer To Re-Stock

Bill Works, game warden for Schleicher county, reports that new regulations recently adopted allow a land operator to trap deer in an overpopulated area and move said deer to an underpopulated area, although a permit must be obtained to do this. Further information and details on this new program may be obtained from Mr. Works.

Other new regulations now in effect are given in the following news release from the Texas Game and Fish Commission:

Austin—The recently completed Regular Session of the 57th Legislature saw the introduction of 108 bills pertaining to fish and game, of which 65 became laws.

Among the new laws of statewide interest is one permitting certain incapacitated persons to hunt from a vehicle (except from public roads), provided their incapacity is authenticated, in writing, by a licensed physician; a law requiring deer tags to bear the date and place of kill; one prohibiting the possession or transportation of live coypu (nutria) without written permission of the Game and Fish Commission, and a law classifying the sandhill crane as a game bird.

Washington county was removed from the list of counties under Regulatory Authority, but 165 counties were added to the 105 still participating in the program, to bring the net total to 121. In addition, Precinct 4 of Tyler county was placed under Regulatory Authority, as was that portion of Lake Texoma lying in Cooke and Grayson counties, and the Northeast portion of Matagorda Island. Also, the Commission was given regulatory responsibility over doe deer in San Saba county.

A Digest summarizing the general game and fish laws is being prepared for distribution early this fall.

Truck Wreck Hospitalizes Clovis Taylor

Clovis Taylor is in the Sonora hospital being treated for multiple injuries received in a truck wreck, which occurred early Tuesday morning on the Del Rio road, 17 miles south of Sonora.

Taylor, who is proprietor of the Phillips 66 station in Eldorado, also is engaged in oil field mud business. He was driving alone in a '49 GMC mud delivery truck and had a tire blow out just as he was approaching a small bridge. The truck went out of control, crashed into the bridge and turned over twice and skidded on its top.

When help arrived Taylor was taken to the Sonora hospital. His injuries include a broken shoulder bone, back injuries, and numerous cuts and bruises. Reports from the hospital yesterday indicate that he was resting comfortably and responding to treatment.

The truck was completely demolished.

Mrs. W. B. Silliman Dies

Funeral services were held Monday in Johnson's Funeral Chapel in San Angelo for Mrs. W. B. Silliman, 87, pioneer resident of this area and widow of one of the founders of Eldorado. She died Saturday afternoon in Memorials hospital.

The Rev. Wm. Harris officiated at the funeral and interment was made in the Christoval cemetery beside Mr. Silliman, who died in 1939.

Mrs. Silliman's family were residents of Southwest Texas since 1882. She and Mr. Silliman were married in 1898.

Her survivors include a son, Jack Silliman of Fort Stockton; a daughter, Mrs. Agnes Midkiff of Arlington; and a step-son, W. B. Silliman, Jr., of Fort Hancock. Also surviving are a large number of nieces and nephews. Mrs. Ed Hill of Eldorado is a niece.

Mrs. Silliman was a member of the Methodist church for 70 years. She was a charter member of the Methodist church here in Eldorado.

The Silliman family had ranching interests in the county in Eldorado's early days. The family home was the large frame house near the Presbyterian church which Bert Page gave to the church a few years ago. Long-time residents recall that the house had two large pine trees in the yard and that people came from miles around to see them.

Among those attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hill and daughters, Mrs. Sarah McGraw and Mrs. Margaret Whitten; and J. L. Neill.

Minor Changes Made in Postal Rates

The post office department has announced some changes in postal rates, but unless you've been carrying on correspondence with someone, say, in Brazil or Argentina, it is not going to hurt your pocketbook.

The department has been doing a lot of threshing around up in Washington, advocating increases in all rates, such as 5c for letter postage instead of 4c, but as of this time none of these changes have been adopted.

What they have come up with now is an increase in international rates, and that means countries outside of United States, Canada and Mexico. The regular 4c stamp will still take your letter to Christoval or Calgary, Canada, or Mexico City.

For letters going to other countries the new rate will be 11c for the first ounce, and 7c for each additional ounce. The old rate was 8c and 5c.

Post cards are still 3c going anywhere in Mexico, Canada and U. S. But for other countries the rate will be 7c, where it used to be 5c.

Air mail rates for domestic destinations will not be increased but the international rate will go up some. Rates on 2nd, 3rd and 4th class international mail will also be increased some, depending on the country it is going to.

The fee for a $5.00 money order will now cost you 20c, where it used to be 15c, which is about the only change that will effect folks locally.

The new rates will go into effect July 1st.

Fire Siren Signals

Some time ago the Eldorado Fire department adopted a fire siren signal system for the town by which citizens will be able to determine if the siren sounds to signal a fire or a tornado alert.

Several times in recent weeks Eldorado has been in a broad alerted area for severe weather and thunderstorms, and we are running the information in this Success issue as a public service. We urge everyone to cut out the box beside this column and paste inside their telephone directories for future reference.

Firemen are summoned by a rising and falling tone of the siren, while a long, continuous, and high-pitched blast means a tornado is imminent and all citizens take cover.

The long blast will be used only if Eldorado appears to be in the path of a tornado funnel. This alarm is not given whenever we are in a broad general area alerted for severe weather.

Firemen and townspeople generally hope that the tornado alert may never be necessary, but should a tornado funnel ever materialize to the southwest of Eldorado and appear headed toward our town, the long blast of one minute will be sounded to warn people to seek shelter.

Little League

Rain canceled out the official opening of the Little League season last Thursday night, and there was no game on Friday due to muddy condition of the field.

To make up for the postponement a double-header was played Saturday, and since then the season has been proceeding on schedule.

In the first game Saturday the Tigers defeated the Christoval Cougars 15 to 0; and in the second game the Red Sox defeated the White Sox 18 to 4.

In Monday night's game the Cougars beat the Red Sox 7 to 2. On Tuesday night the Tigers beat the White Sox 15 to 8.

Tonight

Tonight the Red Sox play the Tigers. The Tigers are undefeated so far this season, while the Reds have won one and lost one. This will be the Red Sox's chance to bring up their average and they'll be in there giving it a good try.

Friday night will see a contest between the Cougars and the White Sox. Good crowds have been in attendance at each game.

Task Force For Taxes

Gov. Price Daniel has named a 19-member committee to study Texas tax problems and recommend a plan for raising some $350,000,000 for the next 2 years.

All the 19 appointees are in positions causing them to have a strong interest in seeing sufficient money raised for coming state appropriations. They include the chairman of the governing boards of the state's educational, welfare, and hospital systems and officials of a number of school-connected associations.

Their report is to be ready prior to July 10, opening date of the special legislative session.

What's In A Name?

Pro-sales tax legislators declare that Governor Daniel is merely calling "a rose by another name" in his labeling of what is and what is not a sales tax.

Sen. Wardlaw Lane and four House members presented "their side of the story" in a formal answer to the governor's report to the people on the regular session failure to pass a tax bill.

Any $350,000,000 tax program, including the governor's, will have to run heavily to sales taxes, whatever they're called, said the lawmakers. They recommend "telling the truth about it."

Governor Daniel announced he had received a heavy volume of mail since his talk, with the sentiment running 6-to-1 in favor of his program.

Several legislators said this was contrary to the way their mail was running.

Troubles All Over

To make matters worse, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported that some of Texas' prime sources of tax revenue seem to be dwindling.

Oil production taxes for the nine months ending May 31 were $92,110,769, down by $3,000,000 from the same period a year ago and down $12,000,000 from the year before that.

Gasoline taxes, which have spiraled up at about 5% a year, have hit a slow down. They are expected to be about $129,000,000. This is identical to the same nine months period of a year ago.

Corporation franchise taxes were also down to $51,542,964 for this year, a drop of about $7,000,000 from last year.

One bright spot was in "sin taxes." Cigarette taxes brought in $7,821,931 during May compared with $6,310,562 for April. Taxes on alcoholic beverages (beer, wine and liquor) were up from $2,672,947 in April to $2,835,650 in May. But poll taxes were down from $2,318,527 in 1960, the Presidential election year, to only $1,827,574 for 1961.

Despite everything, the deficit in the state general revenue fund dropped in May to $78,848,137 from a high of $102,000,000 in April. Hopes are that it will go even lower, not to exceed $63,000,000 by August 31, the end of the fiscal year.

Some Changes Made

Despite the bog-down on tax bills, the Legislature did add quite a bit to the law of the land in its recent session. Among noteworthy changes:

1. Old age pensioners, beginning next January 1, can receive help with their hospital, doctor and nursing home expenses. Any state-licensed hospital or nursing home will be eligible for participation in the program.

2. Filing fee for candidates for statewide office will be $1,000. Previous fee for candidates in special statewide elections was $50. This brought out 71 candidates in the recent special senate race.

3. Persons who refuse to hang up when a party telephone line is needed for an emergency call will be subject to fine. Notice will be printed in this year's new telephone directories.

Not all these bills have been signed, but the governor has indicated no opposition.

Small Loan Law Urged

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has urged Governor Daniel to add loan company regulation to the list of subjects which may be considered in the upcoming special session.

At present the governor has limited the session to revenue and appropriations bills. Only subjects included in the governor's "call" may be considered in a special session.

Wilson said that, by beginning where the last session left off, lawmakers should be able to pass a loan bill quickly. A regulatory bill was passed by the House last session, but opposing forces came to a deadlock in the Senate.

Governor Daniel has evidenced coolness toward considering anything else until a revenue-and-appropriation agreement is reached—not even his pet escheat bill.

Also being asked for special session consideration is a bill to increase unemployment benefits which failed in the regular session. It passed on second reading in the House, but never got any further.

He's Still Judge

A district court conviction cannot be thrown out because the judge of the court had not paid his Bar dues, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled.

In the case at issue, the defendant was sentenced to 10 years for theft. He sought his freedom on grounds that the judge of the trial court, because of failure to pay dues, was not a member of the State Bar of Texas.

Appeals Court ruled that the judge was qualified for his office under the requirements of the Texas Constitution and the conviction was upheld.

Youth Takes Over

On the heels of the Legislature's departure, the Capitol was invaded by two new contingents of politicians—the youngest and most vigorous it sees from one year to the next.

They are the delegates to Boys State and Girls State, outstanding high school seniors who come to Austin each summer to gain experience in government. And they learn to do by doing. Each group (separately) forms political parties, nominates candidates, holds elections and sets up a state government—all with realistic zeal.

American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary sponsor the activity.

Short Snorts

Car-jammed Texas cities are getting sympathy and an offer of help from the Texas Highway Department. Commission announced that cities may use the space under elevated expressways for parking lots—to be operated by the cities or under contract by private parties.

Noting that the number of 1961 polio cases in Texas is up 9% above the same period last year, State Health Department is launching a new campaign for inoculations—especially for "babies and breadwinners."

"Moonshining" is not just a part of the colorful past. Texas Liquor Control Board reported that it seized eight illegal stills and confiscated 2,970 gallons of mash and 34 gallons of liquor in April.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

Austin.—See Texas first this summer. Texas Highway Department will help you plan a good time.

"Many Texans have never seen their own state through a tourist's eyes," says State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer. They're unaware of the pleasures immediately available to them via Texas' excellent highway system.

For example, Greer noted, Texas has:

1. One National Park (Big Bend).
2. Four National Forests.
3. More than 600 miles of coastline.
4. More than 50 mountains over 6,000 feet high.
5. Numerous scenic caverns, inland lakes, old cattle trails, restored forts, monuments and museums.
6. More than 50 state parks for outdoor recreation including water sports and camping.
7. Some 1,000 roadside parks where travelers may rest or picnic.

Highway Department will send maps and descriptive literature on points of interest and special events upon request without charge.

Of the more than 150 events listed in the little booklet issued recently by the Texas Civil War Centennial Commission, we have found the one which occurred on April 17, 1861 to be the most intriguing. It concerns the steamship "Star of the West" which played a major role in the early days of the War and which we have mentioned several times in this column.

It was the "Star of the West" which attempted to reposition and reinforce the federal garrison under the command of Major Robert Anderson at Fort Sumter in January of 1861, but was turned back by cannon shots fired by cadets from The Citadel, a military academy located in Charleston, South Carolina.

These cannon shots are regarded by many Civil War fans as being the first shots of the War while others regard the firing on Fort Sumter as the shot which set off the four-year-long conflict.

At any rate, after her failure to reach the troops in Fort Sumter with food and munitions, the "Star" disappeared from public attention until the following April. A few days after the fall of Fort Sumter, the "Star" drifted into the port at Indianola on the Texas coast where there was still a group of federal forces.

The hold of the "Star" was filled with United States Army provisions, but she was never to unload the supplies. On the night Apr. 17, 80 Texas volunteers under the command of Colonel Earl Van Dorn boarded and seized the ship and she was soon made into a receiving ship of the Confederate Navy at New Orleans.

When the original story about the firing on the "Star" by cadets of The Citadel appeared in this space some weeks ago, we wondered if this was the same ship mentioned in the Texas Civil War Centennial Program's chronology of events as having been captured by Texans in April of 1861.

After a lot of research, we have found that it was indeed the same ship and that after her capture, the "Star" remained in Confederate service until she was voluntarily scuttled in the Tallahatchie river under the parapet of Fort Pemberton, just above Greenwood, Mississippi. The "Star" was sunk to prevent the Union gunboats that had entered by way of Yazoo

Pass from moving out of the Tallahatchie up into the Yazoo river.

Prior to her voluntary sinking, the "Star" had a close call while on duty in the harbor at New Orleans. Admiral David D. Porter of the United States Navy conceived a plan to capture several Confederate ships then lying off the Louisiana coast, proceed to New Orleans flying the Confederate flag, and burn the "Star."

But somehow his plan went wrong and the "Star" remained in Confederate service for several more months.

We also added another answer to our controversial question "who fired the first shot of the Civil War?" In all probability the first hostile shot was fired by a man named Horace Miller who blasted away with a four-pounder at a U. S. vessel passing Vicksburg. The ship was supposed to be carrying a supply of arms and ammunition to New Orleans and was fired upon before either the firing on the "Star" by Citadel cadets, the firing on Confederate troops by Union soldiers at Fort Barrancas in Florida, or the shot at Fort Sumter in April of 1861.

Summer Jobs For Students

Many of Robert Lee's high school and college students have been earnestly looking for summer employment in and near Robert Lee without a great deal of success. It seems that most of them had the idea that the larger cities would have many openings for summer labor, but several students looking for jobs said that all the other students from small towns had the same thought.

One Robert Lee student told me that a Texas Employment official told her that he had 500 NEW APPLICANTS since the end of school for employment from surrounding towns in that city.

It seems to me that we are going to have to work harder to expand the facilities of our own town to provide the necessary employment for our OWN young people so that they will have an opportunity to lead useful lives in their home town and not depend on neighboring cities. —Robert Lee Observer.

Eleven District Arrests
For Income Tax Evasion

The Internal Revenue Service emphasizes voluntary compliance with our nation's tax laws. The tax folks collect billions with only a very small percent due to their enforcement activities. Most taxpayers never hear from the Internal Revenue folks except to receive a tax form in the mail. In spite of the success of voluntary compliance, the highly skilled tax men continue to work on enforcement to keep our tax system fair and just.

The arrest of Ralph L. Kirkpatrick of Sherman, Texas, on June 6, 1961, ran the total number of Dallas District taxpayers arrested for income tax evasion to eleven for 1961. Kirkpatrick was indicted on three counts covering the years 1954, 1955, and 1956. He is charged with having evaded $6,255.89 taxes for the three year period.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Garden club met yesterday morning at the Memorial Building with nine members present. Three news members were voted into the club, Mmes. Randolph, Cross, and Jess Thompson.

Mrs. Carroll Ratliff gave a program on Litterbug. The club meets on the second Wednesday of each month.

After 11 years of litigation following enactment by Congress of a law requiring the registration of Communists, that law was upheld last week by a 5 to 4 decision of the Supreme Court.

This is a bitter pill for the Commies to take. Gus Hall, the party's general secretary, said the ruling "asks the Communist Party to commit suicide. We are not going to co-operate."

Hall said officers of the party would prefer to spend the rest of their lives in jail rather than betray the trust of the membership by making their names public.

A better place for them to spend the rest of their lives can hardly be imagined.

As would be expected, Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Brennan, and Douglas dissented.

Upholding the law against the Communist conspiracy were, as would be expected, Justices Frankfurter, Harlan, Whittaker, Stewart and Clark.

Under the law now the Communist Party must register a list of its officers and members. It must account for the money it receives. It must list all printing presses and machines it owns or controls.

If it fails to do so within 30 days after final order is issued by the Subversive Activities Control Board, the Party can be fined $10,000 a day. Members who violate the act can be fined $10,000 and jailed for 5 years for each day they fail to register.

This is the second 5 to 4 decision against the Commies recently. Only two months ago the Court upheld convictions of two troublemakers with long Communist connections for contempt of Congress. They had defied the House Un-American Activities Committee when questioned about their Communism.

The same Justices dissented in that blow against the pro-Communist tactics—Warren, Douglas, Black and Brennan.

As a result of these and other decisions it begins to look as if the balance of power on that court has been tilted to the right, following a long series of pro-Communist decisions by a majority of the Justices.

Our report for the year: We have exchanged books with the Mertzon library and Menard library. We have donated a box of books to the high school library and two books to Big Spring Veterans Hospital. These were duplicate copies. This gives us some extra shelf room.

Eighty different people were in the library during National Library Week. Four news stories in the Success; 92 new readers, 334 books added, $30.41 for supplies, $66.35 from rent shell and fines, 6053 books were circulated.

Mrs. Nimitz and Mrs. Miller brought their first graders to visit the library just before the close of school. We hope that all of them will come back to the library, get a card and read several books this summer.

Gail Robinson donated a number of little Golden books recently. They are on the shelves and ready for the younger readers. —Ruth Baker, librarian.

Litterbug Drive Launched Here

Plans were made by the Garden club to sponsor a Litterbug Campaign. This campaign will be a continuous one throughout the year.

Mrs. Carroll Ratliff, litterbug chairman, brought the following report from the national organization, "Keep American Beautiful":

Litter prevention is a long term educational job. It involves a change in personal habits and attitudes.

During warm weather 80 million Americans take to the road. Last year each visitor to a National Park left an average of two pounds of litter per visit, all of which added more than 160 tons of litter every day during peak of summer season.

More than $50,000,000 is being spent annually for cleaning up primary highways. Also between 750 and 1,000 people are killed yearly in accidents as a result of cars hitting or swerving to avoid litter on the highway.

Besides being expensive, an eyesore and a menace to health, litter is a fire hazard. More than $10 million is spent annually for damages.

If we could stir the pride of our citizens in the appearance of our streets, homes, vacant lots, buildings and public places, we could contribute a great deal to its cleanliness and beauty. San Antonio won the grand national award last year for the cleanest town in America. It was done thru the united efforts of every club, organization and individual.

Three ideas will be stressed during the coming year in Eldorado:

1. Adequate collection and disposal facilities.
2. Adoption and proper enforcement of local legislation to penalize litterbugs.
3. A continuing public education and constructive beautification project.

A survey will be made by the members of the Garden Club to estimate the need of containers, the number and location. Mrs. Edwin Jackson, Sr., as chairman will work with the following:

Mmes. Joe Edens, W. R. Bearce, Buster Gunn, J. D. Huckaby, W. T. Whitten, Carl Stevens, Lige Chrestman, Thomas Baker, Ernest Hill, and Leslie Baker.

Mrs. Forrest Runge, as chairman will direct survey on alleys and plan methods for improvement. Those assisting will be: Mmes. Nolan McDonald, B. F. Hartgraves, Ed Meador, and P. S. Dudley.

Mrs. J. Tom Williams, chairman of the poster and sign committee, will be assisted by Mmes. L. L. Watson, C. H. Clark, Kenneth Cheek, Herman Walker, Jene Moore, and Joe Kreklow.

Mrs. Perry Mittel, chairman of cleaning and beautifying entrances to the town will be assisted by Mrs. W. O. Alexander and Mrs. Ernest Hill.

The Garden Club members urge your co-operation in this project to keep Eldorado beautiful.

Theme Song for campaign: LITTERBUG BEWARE!

(Tune to Auld Lang Syne)
We are the folks who hunt the bugs

That litter up the streets
With paper, bottles, old tin cans
And wrappers off their sweets.
We want to keep our town clean
Without a lot of fuss
Let's start today to do our share
No Litterbugs for us!
No Litterbugs, no Litterbugs
No Litterbugs for us!
Let's start today to do our share
No Litterbugs for us!

Farmers of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District that are participating in the Feed Grain program have an opportunity to improve the soil condition of land in the Grain Program this year. Fields in the Feed Grain Program can be planted in crops that will protect them from wind and water erosion and improve the soil condition.

District cooperators have experienced increased crop yields on fields when cover crops have been used. Clemens Sauer, district co-operator, living 16 miles west of Eldorado, received an increase of 170 pounds lint cotton per acre following barley used as cover crop in 1959. The cotton yield on Clemens place for 1959 was 63 bales, totaling 32,746 lbs. lint cotton. Sauer stated, "The main reason for the good yield was the conservation practices that have been applied and are maintained on the land I operate. The yield in 1959 was higher on an 80 acre field than on a 10-acre field due to a good cover crop of barley that was returned to the soil in 1958."

The best cotton yield in 1959 was in an 80-acre field that made 59 bales totaling 30,618 lbs. of lint cotton. The per acre yield of lint was 383 lbs. Part of the field was in the Acreage Reserve during the crop year of 1958. Barley was used as a cover crop and returned to the soil after good growth was made. Checks made on this part of the field by Sauer and Lloyd B. Johnson of the Soil Conservation Service, showed cotton following the cover crop to be 1800 lbs. seed cotton per acre. In the same field with cotton following barley that was combined in 1958, the per acre yield showed to be 1520 lbs. seed cotton. Good residue was left on the area and the volunteer barley was left as a cover crop until February of 1959 when it was returned to the soil.

The remaining 10 acres of cotton was in a field that was in combine maize in 1958. The maize was combined and the crop residue left on the field. The yield in 1959 on this field was 4 bales of cotton totaling 2128 lbs. of lint cotton. The yield per acre of lint cotton was 213 pounds.

The increase of 170 lbs. of lint cotton following the cover crop returned a gross income of $49.30 more per acre than the cotton following maize. Assuming that the maize produced 2000 lbs. per acre and brought $1.60 per hundred lbs., the increase in gross income exceeded the total gross income from the maize by $17.30 per acre.

With good moisture condition over most of the district, the chances of growing a good cover crop are good. Crops that can be planted now for soil improvement and protection are: guar, summer peas, sudan, and grain sorghums. To obtain maximum growth and benefits, cover crops should be planted as soon as possible. After good growth is made cover crop can be returned to the soil and the land prepared for next year's crop.

Cover crops for soil improvement and protection ranks high in the combination of soil and water conservation practices needed to treat each acre of cropland according to its needs. Cover crops used with other agronomic practices, is a means whereby cropland can be kept, as near as possible, in as good a condition as it was when first put into cultivation.

The objective of every good farmer is to make the most yield from each acre of land he farms. Good yields mean more income per acre which is the ultimate goal of every farmer. Plans must be made and carried out before these things can be accomplished. The planning and applying the needed soil and water conservation practices, is just as important as any needed farming practices used by good farmers.

See Texas First Says Highway Department

Austin.—Why not see Texas this year from a tourist's point of view?

That is the vacation suggestion offered to Texas residents by the State's official tourist agency, the Texas Highway Department.

"Many Texans have never seen their own State through a tourist's eyes," explained State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer. "Some Texas residents plan out-of-state vacations because they are unaware of the wonderful variety of scenery, recreation, and historical attractions in Texas."

Greer offered these vacation hints:

For more relaxation and enjoyment, plan your vacation early.

For help in planning it, write to the Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 31, Texas.

The Highway Department maintains a complete file of descriptive and informative literature on points of interest and special events throughout the state. This material, including Highway Department publications such as the 1961 Official Highway Travel Map, is available free of charge to prospective Texas vacationers.

TS&GRA Directors Schedule Meeting

San Angelo.—Directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association will return June 16-17 for their summer quarterly meeting to Del Rio, where the association was organized over 45 years ago in the old Princess Theater.

Headquarters for the two-day meeting will be the Roswell Hotel where registration will be taken and activities coordinated. The committees convene Friday afternoon in the High School Library Annex near the hotel and the General Session gets under way the next morning at 9 a.m. in the court house. A well planned program of entertainment for the benefit of those attending will include a reception Friday evening, eye opener breakfast Saturday morning and a barbecue at noon at the city park. The breakfast, emphasizing a Mexican atmosphere, will be held in the scenic patio of the Roswell Hotel.

One of the main reasons for organizing in 1915 was to combat sheep thefts which had plagued the growers over a period of several years. By placing State Rangers into the field with special commissions under the direction and pay of the Association, indictments were returned in several counties and by the early 1920's theft had been largely stamped out.

Since that time the problems of the growers have become more numerous and in addition to theft problems, they are now concerned with promotion, marketing, labor, animal health, tax, predatory animals and other matters. Through Committee work and discussions of the general business meeting, the directors consider solutions to industry problems. Policies are adopted to promote the wool and mohair industry at state and national levels.

RABIES BREAK OUT IN KIMBLE COUNTY

There has been an outbreak of rabies in Kimble county, according to Dr. Ted Holekamp. Cases of the disease in dogs, fox, cattle, goats and one horse have been found.

There is much danger of contamination of humans from animals. One symptom of the disease in cattle is the presence of something in the throat. Dr. Holekamp especially warns that no one put their hand in the mouth of an animal.

All dogs and cats should be vaccinated for rabies immediately in an effort to prevent the spread of the disease. —Junction Eagle.

Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen, accompanied by Kathy Sauer, took Kenneth Van Dusen to San Angelo Monday where he caught the bus will go to San Antonio for his basic training in the Air Force.

THREE BREAK-INS THURSDAY AT STERLING CITY

Early morning break-ins on Thursday were found at the Sterling City Lumber & Supply and the C. C. Ainsworth Service Station. It is surmised that the break-ins occurred at a short time before day break.

Also at the Mixon Dairy Hut the burglars forced open the back door and got money out of the nickelodeon and the cash register. Owner Ray Mixon said not more than $24 could have been taken there. Nothing else seemed disturbed.

At the lumber company the west door was broken and entry was gained that way. Two pocket knives, and a few tools were taken, said Frank Jackson, owner.

Between nine and ten dollars in silver (Clell's hunting money he was saving) was taken. They gained entrance through a back window at the station. —Sterling City News-Record.

COKE COUNTY VALUATIONS DOWN $1 1/2 MILLION

The Coke Commissioners Court board of tax equalization accepted the proposal of Thomas Y. Pickett and Company Incorporated, evaluation engineers, that the Coke county values for tax purposes be $24,483,615 for the year of 1961. This figure is $1,494,620 less than it was in 1960. —Bronte Enterprise

FORT STOCKTON MOTELS LIST 350 RENT UNITS

With the opening of the big Ramada Inn, a project to double the size of the West Wind and a continuing expansion of the Duncan, Fort Stockton today greets the traveler with 350 motel units.

All, according to the chamber of commerce, are air conditioned.

The Ramada's 66 units in twin two-story patterns pushed the figure past the 300-mark. It is the biggest in the city and its owners like it to be referred to as a roadside hotel. Fort Stockton Pioneer.

IF THE SHOE FITS . . .

The Sheriff's Office (in Van Horn) has the right shoe for the right person. Although the Sheriff hasn't gone into the shoe business he has the biggest assortment in town.

A passing tourist, rock hunting about 6 or 7 miles west of Van Horn last week, discovered four or five large boxes and bags of shoes. Altogether, there must be over 100 shoes of every size, style, color and make imaginable. But upon investigation by Highway Patrolman Bob Bigler and Kenneth Kent and Deputy Clive Acton, it was found that each one of the shoes was for the right foot—not a left in the bunch.

No shoe burglaries have been located, so local officers are left to assume that either a traveling shoe salesman "gave up" or his car and merchandise were stolen and the shoes discarded. —Van Horn Advocate.

A Bishop Looks At Life

By Everett H. Jones, Bishop of The Episcopal Diocese of West Texas

Are You A Father?

A while back there was a nation wide letter-writing contest on the topic of fatherhood. If you are a father, and if you are wondering as another Father's Day comes around just what qualities your children most appreciate in you, here is food for thought.

A seven year old Pennsylvania boy wrote as follows: "I love my daddy because he reads me stories. Then he carries me into bed and tickles me. I like it. He drives me to Sunday School. On the way back he gets me some gum. Sometimes he walks me to school. He plays soccer and baseball with me, and helps me to climb trees, too. He keeps on the hall light at night."

A sixteen year old girl from Georgia said this: "I often think back and remember the good times we have had. You have always been a real buddy to me. You used to take me outside at night to count the stars. These little things mean to such to me, and they are planted in my heart and soul. Ten years ago my biggest problem was a broken toy piano; today you listen to my problems with my latest heart-throb."

Another prize-winner wrote of his step-father: "No matter how tired he may be he never says 'no' to us if we want to play ball, or go somewhere. He is never too busy to study with us if we need him, and to explain any questions we may ask."

These letters are as significant for the things they do not say as for those they do say. There is little about providing the daily bread, or keeping a roof over the family, or getting the family a new car. Perhaps these things were taken for granted. But the really memorable things were small daily indications of love and interest, activities that made for companionship and shared experience. It's not enough, our children seem to say to us, to keep the wolf from the door: "Please," they seem to say, "help us climb trees, don't be too busy to study with us when we need you, take us outside at night to count the stars."
