PALMER WEST
Now 2nd Vice President

One of the biggest rains experienced in many years was dumped on Schleicher county over a 3½ day period last week, resulting in totals of 8 inches and up, from Thursday morning through Sunday.

It was a steady type of rain without lightning, wind, or hail. It went into the ground until the ground couldn't hold any more and then lakes began to appear in all the low places, and up against terraces.

It wasn't until Sunday afternoon that skies began to clear and people could get out and assess the full extent of the downpour.

Roads were under water between Eldorado & Menard. Dr. were up and running and the Mertzon road was blocked for a few hours at the Whitten draw.

Range land took the water in good shape, but for a lot of cultivated fields it was almost too much of a good thing.

Hundreds of acres of cotton and feed were standing in water and this was beginning to pose a problem. It is generally understood that feed crops can stand in water for a week and still snap out of it when the field dries up, but cotton will turn yellow and perhaps die out.

Some farmers are rigging up pumps and are reported pumping surplus water out of the fields into bar ditches, but it is likely that only a few are equipped to do this.

Bright sunshine has prevailed since Sunday, and as soon as it is dry enough to plow, the farmer will have a big grass and weed problem to cope with.

A number of people had their rani gauges run over before they got around to empty them, and it has been difficult to get an accurate report, but the majority report is 8 inches.

Here are a few totals, gathered at random:

Little League Games Resumed

Little League baseball games were halted last week due to the heavy rains, and it was not until Tuesday night that the grounds were dry enough for play to be resumed.

A double header was staged at that time, and the Tigers now emerge as the top team in the league—having won three games and lost none.

The first game Tuesday was between the Tigers and the Christoval Cougars and at the end of the 6th inning the score was tied 3 and 3. An extra inning was played and the Tigers managed to bring in the winning run, and the final score was 4 to 3.

Pitchers for the Tigers were Steve Whitten and Jay Halbert, and for the Cougars the pitchers were Robert Alcalá and Stanley Stafford.

Second Game

The second game started at 8:00 o'clock and was between the White Sox and Red Sox. The Whites took an early lead with five runs, but the Red Sox tied the score by the third inning, and then went on to stage a batting spree in the last inning. The game was called at 9:30 at the end of the 5th inning, and the totals stood: Red Sox 16, and the Whites 6.

Pitchers for the Red Sox were Johnny Mayo and Bill Whitten. White Sox pitcher was Stan Love.

Play Tonight

There are no games on Wednesday night, and play will be resumed tonight—Thursday.

Mrs. Barbara West Craig Marries John C. Francis

After a week's wedding trip, following their marriage in the First Presbyterian church in Junction Wednesday evening, June 14, Mr. and Mrs. John Cecil Francis will make their home in Junction.

The bride is the former Mrs. Barbara West Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie West of Eldorado. Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Francis of Midland are parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a champagne beige afternoon gown of imported pure silk organza over taffeta. The molded bodice featured a tailored V-neckline, accented by a row of tiny covered buttons down the front. Re-embroidered satin rose blossoms of twisted silk organza with an overlay of miniature rosebuds completed the ensemble. The bride's corsage was a single pink orchid clustered in matching organza tipped with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. James H Wright organist, and Mr. Robert Jones, soloist. Rev. Taft Lyon, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Brass urns of yellow calla lilies and gold and white mums decorated the altar. A cut glass bowl of yellow mums was on the piano.

Mike Moore visited here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore, last week end. He is attending summer school at TCU in Fort Worth.

decorated with flowers, Mrs. Vaughn noticed that some were being left untouched. When told that they were graves of Union soldiers, she asked that all graves, Union and Confederate alike, be decorated; and it is said that the magnanimous act, when reported in Northern newspapers, inspired Judge Francis M. Finch of New York to write his immortal poem, "The Blue and the Gray."

To further complicate matters, both Columbus, Miss., and Columbus, Ga., also claim to have originated Memorial Day. The ceremony at Columbus, Miss., was also held on April 26, but it came a year later than the one at Jackson. The date is believed to have been chosen by Mrs. Roswell Ellis, a woman who suggested that a day be set aside each year for the decoration of Civil War soldiers' graves, because it marked the anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Joseph E. Johnson's troops to Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman 17 days after Appomattox.

But in spite of these earlier observances in the South, May 30 is now a legal holiday in most states, having been made official by act of Congress in 1898.

Recommended Reading this week: "The Legacy of the Civil War," Robert Penn Warren's "meditations on the centennial" just released by Random House; and "Walt Whitman's Civil War," Alfred A. Knopfs collection of one of America's best-known poets' eyewitness account of the Civil War.

Most Americans celebrated Memorial Day recently largely unaware that the holiday is of Civil War origin and that there is still some controversy over the proper day for its observance.

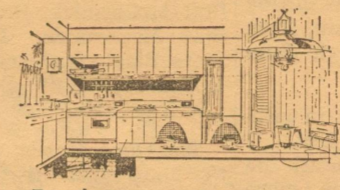

May 30, which most state observe, is actually a Yankee date commemorating the first Union memorial day services in 1863. General John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order for the decoration of the graves of Union soldiers and chose May 30, it is said, because it was on that date that the last Union Soldier was discharged.

But Gen. Logan evidently was inspired by earlier decoration days held in the South and therein lies the controversy. Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida all observe April 26 as Confederate Memorial Day, pointing out that it was on that date in 1865, just a little more than two weeks after Appomattox, that the custom got its start.

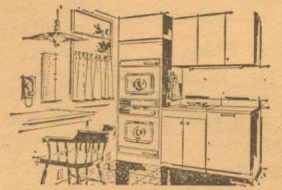

An inscription on the Confederate monument in Jackson, Miss., says that Memorial Day, called Decoration Day, was originated in that city by Sue Landon Vaughn on April 28, 1865. Mrs. Vaughn is said to have called together her friends and made what is believed to be the first organized pilgrimage to the cemetery to decorate the graves of Confederate soldiers. ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

Galaxie styling is inspiring more admiration (and imitation) than any other car on the road!

This is the look that started with Thunderbird—sired the Galaxie—and quickly became the styling success of the Sixties.

Many cars have tried to copy it. No car has succeeded. Incomparably beautiful, the 1961 Galaxie maintains its distinction—as originals always do.

Styling is only part of Galaxie's distinction: this is the car that's beautifully built to take care of itself. The '61 Ford goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications . . . 4,000 miles between oil changes. Brakes adjust automatically. The muffler is built to last three times as long as ordinary ones. The body is specially treated to resist rust and corrosion. The finish never needs waxing.

Wouldn't it make sense to STOP spending money on an old car that can never do for you what a new Ford can do?

SWAP right now while your Ford Dealer's sales are booming—and the swapping is easier than it's ever been before.

SAVE with the Ford that makes saving fun!

Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District News

District Now 20 Years Old

The Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District, which is composed of all of Schleicher county and that part of Tom Green county drained by the South Concho river, will be 20 years old Friday, June 23.

The board of supervisors, or governing body of the district elected by landowners living in the district are: J. Forrest Runge, chairman; B. E. Moore, vice chairman; Ben Hext, secretary; all of these in Schleicher county; and Doyle Johnson and M. G. Shurley representing the part of the district in Tom Green county. Runge and Moore have served as district supervisors for 20 years. All supervisors are farmers or ranchers and are vitally interested in soil, water, and plant conservation.

Soon after the district was organized the supervisors requested and received assistance from the Soil Conservation Service, with the work unit office at Eldorado working in Schleicher county, and the work unit office at San Angelo working in Tom Green county. The Soil Conservation Service was to assist farmers and ranchers of the district to plan and apply a well rounded soil, water and plant conservation plan on their place. The objective of the Soil Conservation Service is to assist every farmer and rancher to plan and apply a conservation plan on their land, whereby each acre of agricultural land treated in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

Farmers and ranchers demonstrated by their eagerness to plan and apply a conservation plan on their places, in that they recognized the need of soil, water and plant conservation. By June 24, 1942, after field work was started in March 1942, soil and water conservation plans had been developed on 42 Schleicher County farms and ranches, which totaled 10,000 acres. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961, nine farmers and ranchers were assisted in preparing a conservation plan for their place. Revision of conservation plans was made on 17 farms and ranches this year. Total conservation plans to date are 230 on 518,580 acres. Some of the conservation practices that were applied are: new lines contour farming, 660 acres; conservation crop rotation, 1623 acres; crop residue use, 8782 acres; cover crops, 3155 acres; and terraces, 11 miles. To date 597 miles of terraces and 27 miles of field diversion terraces have been constructed.

Rangeland practices applied in fiscal 1961 was 121,308 acres of proper range use, 66,619 acres of deferred grazing, 8022 acres of brush control, and 200 acres range seeding.

After 20 years and with the co-operation of a big percentage of the farmers and ranchers in the district, much progress has been made. However the job ahead remains a big one. The goal of the district and the Soil Conservation Service assisting the district is, every farmer and rancher a district co-operator and applying and maintaining the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices needed on their land.

Mrs. Charles Wimer was to have surgery today, Thursday, in St. John's hospital.

Plentiful Foods Listed For Month Of July

College Station.—Food buyers who shop the plentiful foods route have delectable July eating in store for them, reports the Agricultural Extension Service. The eight foods on the USDA's plentiful foods list are right in spirit with the month—July 4th, summer picnics and midsummer turkey time.

Turkeys and fresh peaches are the featured items. They are supported by a refreshing array of summer vegetables, fresh plums, watermelons, cantaloupes, eggs, and shrimp. All will be plentiful throughout July.

These items have been selected by the USDA's agricultural marketing service because supplies at Texas markets are expected to exceed normal demands. The list provides a good shopping guide, and consumers who buy and serve these items often stand to eat better and save more.

Turkeys of all sizes are plentiful. July marketings are expected to be 35 or 40 per cent larger than a year ago. Storage stocks on May 1 were at a record high. Liberal peach supplies from many Southern states and California will hit markets in July. Southeastern growers expect the largest crop since 1947.

The shrimp industry faces large inventories and depressed prices as the new shrimping season opens. That's your cue to serve shrimp often. It will be readily available in fresh, frozen and canned forms in many markets.

Birth & Death Certificate Fees To Increase Sept. 1

Beginning September 1, 1961, Texans will begin paying a higher fee for certified birth and death certificates according to Senate Bill 69 passed by the 57th Legislature. The law raises the fee for a certified copy from $1.00 to $1.50, to cover the increased cost for issuing such certificates.

The new law does not affect birth certificate copies requested before September 1.

The Records and Statistics Section of the State Health Department also made its annual summer plea for parents of children entering school for the first time to make application for certified birth copies as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush.

There is an added incentive this year, explained State Health authorities, because of the expected extra rush of requests seeking to beat the September fee increase.

Texas schools usually require proof of age for children entering school for the first time. A certified copy of a birth certificate is the best and most accurate proof, accepted by all Texas schools.

Certified copies may be obtained from county clerks and local registrars.

If not procured locally, a copy may be obtained for $1.00 from the Records and Statistics Section of the Texas State Department of Health in Austin until September 1, 1961—$1.50 after that date. The fee must accompany the certificate request.

Needed for a quick and positive search of records are the names of the child, both parents names, place of birth and date of birth. This information should be included with the request. Past experience proves that the earlier requests get quicker attention.

Another hint for parents with children beginning school, is to provide each child with a thorough physical check-up from a physician

ELDERS BACK FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elder have returned from an extensive trip through the northeast.

On June 10th their daughter, Nancy Jo, Mrs. DeWitt Patton, received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Pittsburg, Penn., and the Elders were there for the commencement exercises.

In Washington, D. C., the Elders visited Congressman O. C. Fisher who gave them passes to the galleries to watch John G. Tower sworn in the first Republican Senator from Texas since Reconstruction days. The oath was administered by Vice President Johnson, a Democrat.

The Elders arrived back to be pleasantly surprised by the news of the birth of a son to their daughter, Mrs. Dan McWhorter.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The 9th annual 4-H wool show saw Sue Edmiston and Joe Charles Christian winning a major share of first places. Placings of yearling ewe fleeces were: Sue Edmiston, 1st; 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, and Ricki Jones, 5th.

In the aged ewe class, Joe Charles Christian was 1st and 2nd, Kirk Jones 3rd and 5th, with Ricki Jones 4th.

The champion group of four fleeces was shown by Sue Edmiston, 2nd going to Joe Charles Christian and third to Kirk Jones. A total of $75.00 was given for premium money.

Bob Sims, county agent of Irion county, judged the show.

The grass identification team of the county 4-H representing district 7 at the annual 4-H club Round-Up, June 7-8, placed 5th in the state finals. Twenty-two teams were competing. Members of the team were John McGregor, David Whitten, George Draper, & Buz McCormick.

This team also placed 5th over all high at the Sonora wool show June 14-15. Range judging, wool and mohair, and livestock judging was included in this over-all event. Nineteen teams were entered.

A people that will settle for a soft life must be content with a hard future. This business of pleasure as usual will pay no dividends to a nation in chains.

For insects such as stinkbugs on fruit use wettable dielidrin and wettable sulfur 1 part to 6 parts. The sulfur will help control brown rot attacking twigs, leaves and stems. One tablespoonful of dielidrin and six of sulfur will make 5 gallons of spray.

We don't pretend to be a financial expert—or any other kind of expert, for that matter—but we do try to keep up with what's going on where money is involved.

If you're thinking of a purely riskless investment, about the best you can hope to do these days is around a 4% return. To get much more than that you have to go into something with at least a certain amount of risk.

Remember the income tax, too. If you're in the average brackets, your 4% return will be cut to 3 after you pay Federal taxes, unless you can find a good tax-exempt security; and that's a lot harder to do than it used to be.

About the next best thing to do is the Series E Savings Bond (paying 3 3/4%), where you can delay your taxation until you cash the bond. That could be after you're 65 and have more exemptions. It's possible you might even not have to pay any tax at all. Another thing to remember about Savings Bonds, you can exchange E bonds for current-income H's, and further delay the accumulated tax due on the E's. It's good to consider all angles.

Under Schleicher county conditions it is doubtful that you could obtain economic benefits by raising the organic matter content of any cultivated soil above that of virgin soil of the same type or classification. The low content of organic matter need not be cause for alarm, if liberal applications of residues, stubble, green crops, cotton burs, etc., is made at regular intervals for sustained yields.

Breeding studies made on face covering of angora does is highly heritable and can be solved thru selection. Too much face covering definitely effects fertility of does. There is a difference of 62.4% in kids dropped at 2 years and 28.5% difference in a life time records of does with open and closed faces.

The relationship between shorn body weight to breeding performance is the other factor to consider in breeding Angora does. A body weight of 50-55 pound does will give a 59.2% kid crop under range conditions while a 75-80 pound doe flock will produce a 95.3% kid crop.

Face covering and yearling doe size plus management are the three most important factors in Angora goat production.

One of the hardest secrets for man to keep is his opinion of himself.

TOO LATE TO CHANGE YOUR MIND

What if some gloo salesman signs you up for an encyclopedia, or a set of pots and pans. Next day you change your mind. Can you cancel the order? Chances are you can't.

The typical pattern runs thus: the salesman fast-talks poor Joyce Jones into signing an order for a set of cooking ware, silver, or what-have-you. She pays a nominal amount down, the balance to be over a long term. The price is high enough, plus a big carrying charge, but the installments run for a long time and at first look reasonable. When the shipment arrives, Joyce decides she doesn't want it, and can't afford it any now, so she refuses to accept it and tells the company she is cancelling the order.

But poor Joyce is out of luck. The company promptly tells her that they "sold" her installment contract to a bank or financial institution, and she must now deal with them, not the company. The company thus got its sale price in full, the salesman his commission, and the new owner of the contract expects his money in full. Sorry, but it is too late to cancel the order. This is not at all like buying from a local store, where you can usually return the goods if they are unsatisfactory or if you change your mind. If Joyce ships the merchandise back, the company will most likely refuse to accept it.

Moreover, the companies buying such contracts are hard-boiled about collections. If Joyce doesn't pay, they will not hesitate to report her to a credit rating agency, or even sue.

The moral is, be sure you know who you are dealing with, and be sure you know what you are signing and the consequences.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stewart and three children left Monday morning to return to Greensburg, Kansas, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wimer.

Not long ago a Coleman friend sent me a note containing a comparison of two distinguished Americans—Mr. Sam H. Gilliland of Coleman and Mr. Frank A. Mason of Clyde, Ohio. The former was born Dec. 14, 1858 and the latter was born five days later—on Dec. 19, 1858. That adds up to 103 years for each of them.

Aside from age, there are other comparisons. Gilliland, a Democrat, never scratched a Democratic ticket and never missed an election. Mason, an equally fervent Republican, never deviated and never missed an election.

Both of these centenarians have been active throughout their lives in their own communities. Mr. Gilliland, a life-long member of the Masonic order, now resides in Holiday Hill Home for Senior Citizens in Coleman.

And so today we salute both of these great Americans. It is quite certain that they have done more for the cause of good government and for the improvement of the lot of their fellow citizens than can be claimed by any of us. In fact, in their own quiet but active lives it is quite likely they have done a hundred times more than most of us.

A wise man once said: "A people that take no pride in the noble achievements of ancestors will never achieve anything worthy to be remembered with pride by their descendants."

Among recent guests in our office have been Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elder of Eldorado.

The McCulloch County singing convention will meet Sunday at 2:00 p.m. in the gospel tabernacle in Brady. Everyone invited, reports Mrs. A. C. Stewart.

Mrs. E. H. Nimitz returned Sunday night from a week's visit in Dallas.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

John Stigler presided at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions club. He presented Gerard Hartgraves with his certificate of membership.

There will be just one more meeting before the July 11 ladies night and installation of officers.

Committees for the ladies night announced by Mr. Stigler are:

Tables, Elton McGinnes, Dick Preston, Bill Rountree, and Dan Sebesta.

Decorating, T. P. Robinson, Jr., Gus Love, Charles Wimer, and Henry Speck, Jr.

Portable air conditioner, Ray Boyer, Don McCormick.

For the program yesterday, Wayne Black showed a film: "Rescue Breathing."

Editorial Comments From Our Neighbors

A General Sales Tax?

Recently the governor warned that unless the people of the state speak out, they are in peril of being saddled with one of the most odious and inequitable tax systems ever devised—the general sales tax.

It is admitted that sizeable additional tax revenues now are required if the state is to retire its deficit and finance the vastly increased expenditures called for in the legislative session just ended. But there are commanding reasons why these revenues should not be raised by the grossly unfair general sales tax.

This lobbyist-inspired tax idea is nothing in the world but the similarly-inspired transactions tax of Pappy O'Daniel's day. The people rejected it then, and we are convinced want no part of it now.

The fact is that if the general sales tax is adopted to raise the new money needed by the state, the overwhelming burden (the governor declares 90 per cent of it) will fall like an axe on the necks of those who are least able to pay—individuals and families with inadequate, marginal, or modest incomes.

At the same time, those most able to pay—individuals of great wealth and income, and the huge, profitable business complex—will escape with relatively small contributions.

Under the general sales tax, the poor man who must skimp and deny himself other needs to buy a pair of shoes for himself or his child pays the same levy as the millionaire who denies himself nothing to purchase the same item.

Over Texas there are 223,000 persons who somehow are existing—or attempting to—on old age pensions averaging $52.90 a month. There also are 63,000 dependent children receiving an average of $22.78 monthly. Some 6,400 blind persons get $58.52, and 6,500 totally and permanently disabled individuals receive $54.31.

Thousands more are trying to eke by on meager social security benefits, paltry retirement incomes, or, having neither of these, must depend on sons or daughters—many of them marginal income producers themselves—for their very lives.

Is it into the pockets of such as these that this state, with all its claims to grandeur and wealth, now must lower itself to reach? Must the state now take away with one hand the pittance it gives with the other. And must this be one while, as the governor charges, "gas pipeline companies, interstate and foreign corporations do not pay taxes on a basis comparable to our own domestic companies?"

God forbid. It is reported that special-interest lobbyists at the last session of the legislature virtually were crawling out of the woodwork in the state capitol, outnumbering the people's lawmakers at times 10 to 1, and maintaining with almost every breath that facts and figures now prove that Texas voters look with favor upon the sales tax.

It is perhaps understandable that the legislators, buttonholed and harassed at every opportunity by these operatives, and hearing so consistently but the one side of the issue, may have come to believe some of the pap promulgated.

But the public alone may speak authentically for itself. Only the voters themselves can give truthful information to public servants about their sentiments and can inform legislators that lobbyists' sales pitches, in the main, prove little but the old adage that, While figures can't lie, liars can figure.

We believe our public officials are, on the whole, honest and dedicated men desiring to do the just thing—in tax matters as well as others. But we urge you to contact or write your state representative, speaker of the House, state senator, lieutenant governor, and governor, and let them know your views on the sales tax before the legislature convenes again in special session July 10. —from the Corsicana Daily Sun, reprinted in the Texas Observer.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

Austin.—Texa's tax debate continues! Not as lively now as during the legislative session—but many voices are being heard.

It's sort of a "speak now or forever hold your peace" period. Some type of tax bill, undoubtedly the biggest in Texas history, will have to be passed in July or August, and those with something to say are rushing to get in their ticks.

Legislators report that the small scale "great debate" is proving very helpful in stirring up opinions from previously silent constituents. They're hoping to discover enough home district reaction to guide them to a swift, sure solution when they return for the special session July 10.

Eight Central Texas lawmakers, in a reply to Gov. Price Daniel's report to the people, say that raising $341,000,000 in new revenue will require a "broad coverage tax."

Although five of the eight voted with the governor during the session, several objected to a "hit and miss" tax approach.

Some say that people in their districts object to selective taxes on grounds that "it's not fair to tax my product and not my neighbor's."

In The Wind

A number of new approaches to tax plans already batted around during the regular session are being worked on by lawmakers during this interim. Among plans being considered are these:

1. By Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity (sponsor of the 2% sales tax passed by the House last session)—a new sales tax that would be linked, Siamese-twin fashion, with a corporation income tax.

2. By Rep. George T. Hinson of Mineola (a frequent sponsor of legislation favored by the governor)—a 2% tax on everything selling for $5.00 or more, with the usual food and drug exemptions.

3. By Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas—selective excise taxes of 2% on a long list of items, but generally exempting the bed rock necessities of life.

New Committee At Work

Governor Daniel's new tax study committee, made up mostly of the board chairmen for various state agencies, got off to a diplomatic soft-voiced start.

Several lawmakers took a dim view of having "another study group," recalling that the last one had come up with a payroll tax plan that never caught fire. Texas voters, they pointed out, selected their legislators to write the tax laws and will hold the legislators responsible for the outcome.

Members of the committee made it clear they don't intend to dictate to the Legislature. But they do hope to be able to indicate some possible paths of compromise among the various plans for which the legislators have shown favor.

Committee is to meet July 6 to write its report for the special session.

Down The Drain?

Some legislators are fretting over the loss in state revenue resulting from the Legislature's failure to pass a tax plan during the regular session.

Here is the way they see it:

1. Bills passed by a simple majority vote take effect 90 days after the close of the session. If a tax bill had been passed in the regular session, it would have taken effect the last of August and money from it would be accruing September 1 when the fiscal year begins.

2. If a bill is passed by a simple majority in the special session—say about August 10—it will not take effect until November 10.

3. A $340,000,000 tax bill covering the 24-month period would raise money at the rate of about $14,000,000 a month. But between September 1 and November 10, nothing would come in from the new bill. This waiting period of two months, would mean the loss of some $35,000,000 in state revenue which would have been raised if the new bill had been passed earlier.

Question that immediately arises is: Can the Legislature pass a tax bill by a two-thirds vote of both houses so that it will go into effect immediately? (As done in 1959.)

Today legislators are dubious.

As the new tax bill is expected to affect more items, many Legislators feel that it would be unfair to expect businessmen and store keepers to get ready overnight to charge all sorts of new taxes.

New Worlds To Conquer

With the election of John Tower as U. S. Senator, exultant leaders of the Texas Republican Party feel they have a foot solidly in the door.

Beyond the door, that they hope to swing wide, is a two-party Texas with the GOP sharing political power in Texas on a roughly equal basis.

New goals are being carefully considered. All but one (Travis) of Texas' big metropolitan counties went for Tower, as well as large sections of West Texas. In these areas, except where a very popular Democrat is entrenched, the Republicans can be expected to bid for places in Congress, the Legislature and even county jobs.

First test is due in Bexar county where Congressman Paul Kilday is due to resign to become judge of the Court of Military Appeals. Bexar county went for Tower last month.

Under the present law, Kilday's successor will be determined in a one-shot, high-man-wins special election, probably next fall. There is some talk of trying to get the Legislature, during its special session, to pass a law which would require a run-off in special congressional elections. This would reduce Republican chances.

Contempt Of Court

Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that a person cannot be held in contempt of court for an act committed outside the court room.

In the case in point, a district judge had held a man in contempt of court for assaulting him (the judge) at a filling station. Judge sentenced his assailant to 72 hours imprisonment and a $100 fine.

Nope, said the appeals court. Contempt of court has to take place in the court room.
